 guarantees where the designs of the Lord our God are concerned. For God is 17 not to be coerced as man is, nor is he, like mere man, to be cajoled. •Rather, as we wait patiently for him to save, let us plead with him to help us. He will hear our voice if such is his good pleasure.

18 'And indeed of recent times and still today there never' has been one tribe of ours, or family, or village, or town that has worshipped gods made with human 19 hands, as once was done, •and that was the reason why our ancestors were delivered over to sword and sack, and perished in misery at the hands of our 20 enemies. We for our part acknowledge no other God than him; and so we may hope he will not look on us disdainfully or desert our nation.

21 'If indeed they capture us, as you expect, then all Judaea will be captured too, and our holy places plundered, and we shall answer with our blood for their 22 profanation. •The slaughter of our brothers, the exile of our country, the unpeopling of our heritage, will recoil on our own heads among the nations whose slaves we will become, and our new masters will look down on us as an 23 outrage and a disgrace; •for our surrender will not reinstate us in their favour;
 24 no, the Lord our God will make it a thing to be ashamed of. •So now, brothers, let us set an example to our brothers, since their lives depend on us and our most sacred possessions—Temple and altar—rest on us.

25 'All this being so, let us rather give thanks to the Lord our God who, as he 26 tested our ancestors, is now testing us. •Remember how he treated Abraham, all 27 the ordeals of Isaac, all that happened to Jacob in Syrian Mesopotamia while he kept the sheep of Laban, his mother's brother. •For as these ordeals were intended by him to search their hearts, so now this is not vengeance God exacts against us, but a warning inflicted by the Lord on those who are near his heart.'

28 Uzziah replied, 'Everything you have said has been spoken from sincerity 29 of heart and no one will contradict a word of it. •Not that today is the first time your wisdom has been displayed; from your earliest years all the people have 30 known how shrewd you are and of how sound a heart. •But, parched with thirst, the people forced us to act as we had promised them and to bind ourselves 31 by an inviolable oath. •You are a devout woman; pray to the Lord, then, to 32 send us a downpour to fill our cisterns, so that our faintness may pass.'

33 Judith replied, 'Listen to me. I intend to do something, the memory of which 34 will be handed down to the children of our race from age to age. •Tonight you must be at the gate of the town: I shall make my way out with my attendant.
 35 Before the time fixed by you for surrendering the town to our enemies, the Lord 36 will make use of me to rescue Israel. •You must not ask what I intend to do;
 I will not tell you until I have done it.' •Uzziah and the chief man said, 'Go in peace. May the Lord show you a way to take revenge on our enemies.' •And leaving the upper room they went back to their posts.

Judith's prayer

1 Q Judith threw herself face to the ground, scattered ashes on her head, uncovered the sackcloth she was wearing and cried loudly to the Lord. At the same time in Jerusalem the evening incense was being offered in the Temple of God.
 Judith said:

2 'Lord, God of my father Simeon, you armed him with a sword to take vengeance on the foreigners who had undone a virgin's girdle to her shame,

8 a. The name means 'the Jewess'.

laid bare her thigh to her confusion, violated her womb to her dishonour,
 since though you said, "This must not be", they did it.
 For this you handed their leaders over to slaughter, 3 their bed, defiled by their deceit, to blood.
 You struck the slaves down with the chiefs and the chiefs with their servants.
 You left their wives to be carried off, 4 their daughters to be taken captive, 3 and their spoils to be shared out among the sons you loved,
 who had been so zealous for you,
 had loathed the stain put on their blood and called on you for help.

'God, my God,
 now hear this widow too;
 for you have made the past, 5 and what is happening now, and what will follow. 4
 What is, what will be, you have planned;
 what has been, you designed.
 Your purposes stood forward; 6
 "See, we are here!" they said.
 For all of your ways are prepared 5 and your judgements delivered with foreknowledge.

'See the Assyrians, boasting in their army, 7 glorying in their horses and their riders, 6 exulting in the strength of their infantry.
 Trust as they may in shield and spear, 9
 in bow and sling,
 in you they have not recognised 10
 the Lord, the shatterer of war;
 yours alone the title of Lord. 8

'Break their violence with your might, 11
 in your anger bring down their strength.
 For they plan to profane your holy places, to defile the tabernacle, the resting place of your glorious name,
 and to throw down with iron the horn of your altar.
 Observe their arrogance, 9 send your fury on their heads, 12
 give the needful courage to this widow's hand.
 By guile of my lips 10 strike slave down with master, and master with his servant.
 Break their pride 15
 by a woman's hand.

'Your strength does not lie in numbers, 11
 nor your might in violent men; 16
 since you are the God of the humble,
 the help of the oppressed,
 the support of the weak,
 the refuge of the forsaken,
 the saviour of the despairing.

12 Please, please, God of my father,
 God of the heritage of Israel,
 17 Master of heaven and earth,
 Creator of the waters,
 King of your whole creation,
 hear my prayer.
 13 Give me a beguiling tongue 18 to wound and kill those who have formed such cruel designs against your covenant, against your holy dwelling place,
 against Mount Zion, against the house belonging to your sons.
 14 And demonstrate to every nation, every tribe, 19 that you are Yahweh, God almighty, all-powerful, and that the race of Israel has you for sole protector.'

JUDITH AND HOLOFERNES

Judith goes to the camp of Holofernes

1 10 Thus Judith called on the God of Israel. When she had finished praying, 2 she rose from where she lay, summoned her attendant and went down into 3 the rooms which she used on sabbath days and feasts. •There she removed the sackcloth she was wearing and, taking off her widow's dress, she washed all over, anointed herself with costly perfumes, dressed her hair, wrapped a turban round it and put on the dress she used to wear on joyful occasions when her 4 husband Manasseh was alive. •She put sandals on her feet, put on her necklaces, bracelets, rings, earrings and all her jewellery, and made herself beautiful enough 5 to catch the eye of every man who saw her. •Then she handed her attendant a skin of wine and a flask of oil, filled a bag with barley girdle cakes, cakes of dried fruit and pure loaves, and wrapping all these provisions up gave them 6 to her as well. •They then went out, making for the town gate of Bethulia. There they found Uzziah waiting with the two elders of the town, Chabris and Charmis.
 7 When they saw Judith, her face so changed and her clothes so different, they were lost in admiration of her beauty. They said to her:

8 'May the God of our ancestors keep you in his favour!
 May he grant your purposes fulfilment to the glory of the sons of Israel, to the greater glory of Jerusalem!'

9 Judith worshipped God, and then she said, 'Have the town gate opened for me so that I can go out and make all your wishes come true'. They did as she asked 10 and gave orders to the young men to open the gate for her. •This done, Judith went out accompanied by her maid, while the men of the town watched her all the way down the mountain and across the valley, until they lost sight of her.

11 As the women were making straight through the valley, an advance unit of 12 Assyrians intercepted them, •and seizing Judith began questioning her. 'Which side are you on? Where do you come from? Where are you going?' 'I am a daughter of the Hebrews,' she replied 'and I am fleeing from them since they 13 will soon be your prey. •I am on my way to see Holofernes, the general of your army, to give him trustworthy information. I will show him the road to take if he wants to capture all the highlands without losing one man or one life.' 14 As the men listened to what she was saying, they stared in astonishment at the 15 sight of such a beautiful woman. •'It will prove the saving of you,' they said to her 'coming down to see our master of your own accord. You had better go to his tent; some of our men will escort you and hand you over to him. •Once you are in his presence do not be afraid. Tell him what you have just told us and you will be well treated.' •They then detailed a hundred of their men as escort for herself and her attendant, and these led them to the tent of Holofernes.

News of her coming had already spread through the tents, and there was a general stir in the camp. She was still outside the tent of Holofernes waiting to be announced, when a crowd began forming round her. •They were immensely impressed by her beauty and impressed with the Israelites because of her. 'Who could despise a people having women like this?' they kept saying. 'Better not leave one man of them alive; let any go and they would twist the whole world round their fingers!'

Then the bodyguard and adjutants of Holofernes came out and led Judith into the tent. •Holofernes was resting on his bed under a canopy of purple and gold studded with emeralds and precious stones. •The men announced her and he came out to the open part of the tent, with silver torches carried before him. When Judith confronted the general and his adjutant, the beauty of her face astonished them all. She fell on her face and did homage to him, but his servants raised her from the ground.

The first meeting of Judith with Holofernes

1 'Courage, woman,' Holofernes said 'do not be afraid. I have never hurt anyone who chose to serve Nebuchadnezzar, king of the whole world. Even now, if your nation of mountain dwellers had not insulted me, I would not have raised a spear against them. This was their fault, not mine. •But tell me, why have you fled from them and come to us?... Anyhow, this will prove the saving of you. Courage! You will live through this night, and many after. No one shall hurt you. No, you shall be treated as well as all those are who serve my lord King Nebuchadnezzar.'

Judith said, 'Please listen favourably to what your slave has to say. Permit your servant to speak in your presence. I will speak no word of a lie in my lord's presence tonight. •You have only to follow your servant's advice and God will bring your work to a successful conclusion; in what my lord undertakes he shall not fail. •Long life to Nebuchadnezzar, king of the whole world, who has sent you to set every living soul to rights; may his power endure! Since, thanks to you, he is served not only by men, but through your compulsion the wild animals themselves, the cattle, and the birds of the air are to live in the service of Nebuchadnezzar and his whole House.'

'We have indeed heard of your genius and adroitness of mind. It is known everywhere in the world that throughout the empire you have no rival for ability, wealth of experience and brilliance in waging war. •We have also heard what Achior said in his speech to your council. The men of Bethulia having spared him, he has told them everything that he said to you. •Now, master and lord, do not disregard what he said; keep it in your mind, since it is true; our nation will not be punished, the sword will indeed have no power over them, unless they sin against their God. •But as it is, my lord need expect no repulse or setback, since death is about to fall on their heads, for sin has gained a hold over them, provoking the anger of their God each time that they commit it. As they are short of food and their water is giving out, they have resolved to fall back on their cattle and decided to make use of all the things that God has, by his laws, forbidden them to eat. •Not only have they made up their minds to eat the first-fruits of corn and the tithes of wine and oil, though these have been consecrated by them and set apart for the priests who serve in Jerusalem in the presence of our God and may not, lawfully, even be touched by the people, •but they have even sent men to Jerusalem—where the inhabitants are doing much the same—to bring them back authorisation from the Council of 15 Elders. •Now this will be the outcome: when the permission arrives and they act on it, that very day they shall be delivered over to you for destruction.

13 'When I, your servant, came to know all this, I fled from them. God has sent me to do things with you at which the world will be astonished when it hears.

17 Your servant is a devout woman; she honours the God of heaven day and night.

14 I therefore propose, my lord, to stay with you. I, your servant, will go out every night into the valley and pray to God to let me know when they have committed their sin. •I will then come and tell you, so that you can march out with your whole army; and none of them will be able to resist you. •I will be your guide right across Judaea until you reach Jerusalem; there I will enthrone you in the very middle of the city. Then you shall lead them like sheep and never a dog dare open its mouth to bark at you. Foreknowledge tells me this; this has been foretold to me and I have been sent to reveal it to you.'

15 Her words pleased Holofernes and all his adjutants. Full of admiration at her wisdom they exclaimed, •'There is no woman like her from one end of the earth to the other, so lovely of face and so wise of speech!' •Holofernes said, 'God has done well to send you ahead of your people. Strength will be ours, and ruin theirs who have insulted my lord. •As for you, you are as beautiful as you are eloquent; if you do as you have promised, your god shall be my god, and you yourself shall make your home in the palace of King Nebuchadnezzar and be famous throughout the world.'

1 With that he had her brought in to where his silver dinner service was already laid, and had his own food served to her and his own wine poured out for her. •But Judith said, 'I would rather not eat this, in case I incur some fault. What I have brought will be enough for me.' •'Suppose your provisions run out,' Holofernes asked 'how could we get more of the same sort? We have no one belonging to your race here.' •'Never fear, my lord,' Judith answered 'the Lord will have used me to accomplish his plan, before your servant has finished these provisions.' •Then the adjutants of Holofernes took her to a tent where she slept till midnight. A little before the morning watch she rose. •She had already sent this request to Holofernes, 'Let my lord kindly give orders for your servant to be allowed to go out and pray', •and Holofernes had ordered his guards not to prevent her. She stayed in the camp for three days; she went out each night to the valley of Bethulia and washed at the spring where the picket had been posted. •As she came up again she prayed to the Lord God of Israel to guide her in her plan to relieve the children of her people. •Having purified herself, she would return and stay in her tent until her meal was brought her in the evening.

Judith at the banquet of Holofernes

10 On the fourth day Holofernes gave a banquet, inviting only his own staff and none of the other officers. •He said to Bagoas, the eunuch in charge of his personal affairs, 'Go and persuade that Hebrew woman you are looking after to come and join us and eat and drink in our company. •We shall be disgraced if we let a woman like this go without knowing her better. If we do not seduce her, everyone will laugh at us!' •Bagoas then left Holofernes and went to see Judith. 'Would this young and lovely woman condescend to come to my lord?' he asked. 'She shall occupy the seat of honour opposite him, drink the joyful wine with us and be treated today like one of the Assyrian ladies-in-waiting in the palace of Nebuchadnezzar. •'Who am I' Judith replied 'to resist my lord? I will not hesitate to do whatever he wishes, and doing this will be my joy to my dying day.'

15 At this she rose and put on her dress and all her feminine adornments. Her maid preceded her, and on the floor in front of Holofernes spread the fleece which Bagoas had given Judith for her daily use to lie on as she ate.

16 Judith entered and took her place. The heart of Holofernes was ravished at the sight; his very soul was stirred. He was seized with a violent desire to sleep with her; and indeed since the first day he saw her, he had been waiting for an opportunity to seduce her. •'Drink, drink!' Holofernes said 'Enjoy yourself 17 with us!' •'I am delighted to do so, Lord, for since my birth I have never felt 18 my life more worthwhile than today.' •She took what her maid had prepared, 19 and ate and drank facing him. •Holofernes was so enchanted with her that he 20 drank far more wine than he had drunk on any other day in his life.

13 It grew late and his staff hurried away. Bagoas closed the tent from the 1 outside, having shown out those who still lingered in his lord's presence. They went to their beds wearied with all their drinking, •and Judith was left 2,4 alone in the tent with Holofernes who had collapsed wine-sodden on his bed. Judith then told her maid to stay just outside the bedroom and wait for her to 3 come out, as she did every morning. She had let it be understood she would be 5 going out to her prayers and had also spoken of her intention to Bagoas.

By now everyone had left Holofernes and no one, either important or unim- 4 portant, was left in the bedroom. Standing beside the bed, Judith murmured 6 to herself:

'Lord God, to whom all strength belongs, 7 prosper what my hands are now to do for the greater glory of Jerusalem, now is the time to recover your heritage 5 and further my designs
to crush the enemies arrayed against us'.

With that she went up to the bedpost by Holofernes' head and took down his 6 scimitar; •coming closer to the bed she caught him by the hair and said, 'Make 7 me strong today, Lord God of Israel!' •Twice she struck at the nape of his neck 8 with all her strength and cut off his head. •She then rolled his body off the 9 bed and tore the canopy down from the bedposts. Soon after, she went out 11 and gave the head of Holofernes to her attendant •who put it in her food bag. 10 The two then left the camp together, as they always did when they went to pray. 12 Once they were out of the camp, they skirted the ravine, climbed the slope to Bethulia and made for the gates.

Judith brings the head of Holofernes to Bethulia

From a distance, Judith shouted to the guards on the gates, 'Open the gate! 11 Open! For the Lord our God is with us still, displaying his strength in Israel 13 and his might against our enemies, as he has today!' •Hearing her voice, the 12 townsmen hurried down to the town gate and summoned the elders. •Everyone, 14 great and small, came running down, since her arrival was unexpected. They 17 threw the gate open, welcomed the women, lit a fire to see by and crowded round them. •Then Judith raised her voice and said, 'Praise God! Praise him! 14 Praise the God who has not withdrawn his mercy from the House of Israel, 17.18 but has shattered our enemies by my hand tonight!' •She pulled the head out of the bag and held it for them to see. 'This is the head of Holofernes, general- 15 in-chief of the Assyrian army; here is the canopy under which he lay drunk! 19 The Lord has struck him down by the hand of a woman! •Glory to the Lord 16 who has protected me in the course I took! My face seduced him, only to his 20 own undoing; he committed no sin with me to shame me or disgrace me.'

Overcome with emotion, the people all fell on their knees and worshipped 17 God, exclaiming as one man, 'Blessings on you, O our God, for confounding 22 your people's enemies today!' •Uzziah then said to Judith: 18

'May you be blessed, my daughter, by God Most High, beyond all women on earth;
and may the Lord God be blessed, 24

the Creator of heaven and earth, by whose guidance you cut off the head of the leader of our enemies.
 19 The trust you have shown 23 shall not pass from the memories of men, but shall ever remind them of the power of God.
 20 God grant you to be always held in honour,
 and rewarded with blessings,
 since you did not consider your own life when our nation was brought to its knees, but warded off our ruin,
 walking undeterred before our God.’
 26 All the people answered, ‘Amen! Amen!’

TRIUMPH

The Jews attack the Assyrian camp

1 14 Judith said, ‘Listen to me, brothers. Take this head and hang it on your 2 battlements. •When morning comes and the sun is up, let every man take his arms and every able-bodied man leave the town. Appoint a leader for these, as if you meant to march down to the plain against the Assyrian advance post.
 3 But you must not do this. •The Assyrians will gather up their equipment, make 4 for their camp and wake up their commanders; they in turn will rush to the tent of Holofernes and not be able to find him. They will then be seized with 5 panic and flee at your advance. •All you and the others who live in the territory of Israel will have to do is to give chase and slaughter them as they retreat.
 5 ‘But before you do this, call me Achior the Ammonite for him to see the man who thought so meanly of the House of Israel and recognise this as the man
 6 who sent him to us as a man already doomed to die.’ (13)<sup>a</sup> So they had Achior 27,28 brought from the house of Uzziah. No sooner had he arrived and seen the 29 head of Holofernes held by a member of the people’s assembly than he fell 30 down on his face in a faint. •They lifted him up. He then threw himself at the feet of Judith, and prostrate before her exclaimed: 31 ‘May you be blessed in all the tents of Judah and in every nation;
 at the sound of your name
 men will be seized with dread.
 8 ‘Now tell me exactly what you have been doing in these past few days.’ And surrounded by all the people Judith told him everything she had done from the 9 day she left Bethulia, to the moment when she was speaking. •When she came to the end, the people cheered at the tops of their voices until the town echoed.
 10 (14) •Achior, recognising the mighty works of the God of Israel, believed 6 ardently in him and, accepting circumcision, was incorporated in the House of Israel forever.
 11 At daybreak they hung the head of Holofernes on the ramparts. Every man 7 took his arms and they all went out in groups to the slopes of the mountain.
 12 Seeing this, the Assyrians sent word to their leaders, who in turn reported to 8 the generals, the captains of thousands and all the other officers; •and these 9,11 in their turn reported to the tent of Holofernes. ‘Rouse our master,’ they said
 12 to his major-domo ‘these slaves have dared to march down on us to attack—14 and to be wiped out to a man!’ •Bagoas went inside and clapped his hands in front of the curtain dividing the tent, thinking that Holofernes was sleeping with Judith. •But as no one seemed to hear, he drew the curtain and went into the bedroom, to find him thrown down dead on the threshold and the head gone from his body. •He gave a great shout, wept, sobbed, shrieked and rent his clothes. •He then went into the tent which Judith had occupied and could not find her either. Then, rushing out to the men, he shouted, •‘Those slaves have duped us! One Hebrew woman has brought shame on the House of Nebuchadnezzar. Holofernes is lying dead on the ground, with his head cut off!’ When they heard this, the leaders of the Assyrian army tore their tunics in consternation, and the camp rang with their wild cries and their shouting.

15 When the men who were still in their tents heard the news they were appalled. •They were so gripped with panic and dread that no two men could keep together: the rout was complete. They fled along every track across the plain or through the mountains. •The men who had been bivouacking in the mountains round Bethulia were fleeing too. Then all the Israelite warriors charged down on them. •Uzziah sent messengers to Betomasthaim, Bessai, Choba, Kola and through all the highlands of Israel, to inform them of what had happened and to urge them all to hurl themselves on the enemy and annihilate them. •As soon as the Israelites heard the news, they fell on them as one man and massacred them all the way to Choba. The men of Jerusalem and the entire mountain country also rallied to them, once they had been informed of the events in the enemy camp. Then the men of Gilead and Galilee attacked them on the flank and struck at them fiercely till they neared Damascus and its territory. •The rest, who had stayed in Bethulia, fell upon the Assyrian camp and looted it to their great profit. •The Israelites returning from the slaughter seized what was left. The hamlets and villages of the mountain country and the plain also captured a great deal of booty, since there were vast stores of it.

Israel gives thanks

Joakim the high priest and the Council of Elders of Israel, who were in Jerusalem, came to gaze on the benefits that the Lord had lavished on Israel and to see Judith and congratulate her. •On coming to her house they blessed her with one accord, saying:

‘You are the glory of Jerusalem!
You are the great pride of Israel!
You are the highest honour of our race!’

‘By doing all this with your own hand
you have deserved well of Israel, and God has approved what you have done.

‘May you be blessed by the Lord Almighty in all the days to come!’

All the people answered, ‘Amen!’

The people looted the camp for thirty days. They gave Judith the tent of Holofernes, all his silver plate, his divans, his drinking bowls and all his furniture. She took this, loaded her mule, harnessed her carts and heaped the things into them. •All the women of Israel, hurrying to see her, formed choirs of dancers in her honour. Judith distributed branches to the women who accompanied her; she and her companions put on wreaths of olive. Then she took her place at the head of the procession and led the women as they danced. All the men of Israel, armed and garlanded, followed them, singing hymns. •With all Israel round her, Judith broke into this song of thanksgiving and the whole people sang this hymn aloud:

‘Praise my God with the tambourine, sing to the Lord with the cymbal,

let psalm and canticle mingle for him,
extol his name, invoke it!

<sub>3</sub>
4 For the Lord is a God who shatters war;
he has pitched his camp in the middle of his people to deliver me from the hands of my enemies.

<sub>3</sub> 'Assyria came down from the mountains of the north, came with tens of thousands of his army.
Their multitude blocked the wadis, their horses covered the hills.

<sub>6</sub> He promised to burn up my country, destroy my young men with the sword,
dash my sucklings to the ground,
make prey of my little ones,
carry off my maidens;

<sup>5</sup>
<sub>7</sub> but the Lord Almighty has thwarted them
by a woman's hand.

<sub>8</sub> For their hero did not fall at the young men's hands, it was not sons of Titans who struck him down,
no proud giants made that attack,
but Judith, the daughter of Merari, who disarmed him with the beauty of her face.

<sub>9</sub> She laid aside her widow's dress to rally those who were oppressed in Israel;
she anointed her face with perfume, bound her hair under a turban,
put on a linen gown to seduce him.

<sub>10</sub> Her sandal ravished his eye, her beauty took his soul prisoner . . .
and the scimitar cut through his neck!

<sub>11</sub> 'The Persians trembled at her boldness, the Medes were daunted by her daring.
These were struck with fear when my lowly ones shouted, these were seized with terror when my weak ones shouted louder,
and when they shouted loudest, these gave ground.

<sub>12</sub> The children of mere girls ran them through, pierced them like the offspring of deserters.
They perished in the battle of my Lord!

<sub>13</sub> 'I will sing a new song to my God.
Lord, you are great, you are glorious, wonderfully strong, unconquerable.
May your whole creation serve you!
For you spoke and things came into being,
you sent your breath and they were put together,
and no one can resist your voice.

<sub>15</sub> 'Should mountains topple to mingle with the waves, should rocks melt
like wax before your face, to those who fear you,
you would still be merciful.

<sup>13</sup>
<sub>16</sub> 'A little thing indeed is a sweetly smelling sacrifice, still less the fat burned for you in holocaust;

but whoever fears the Lord is great for ever.

'Woe to the nations 17
who rise against my race!
The Lord Almighty 20
will punish them on judgement day.
He will send fire and worms in their flesh 21
and they shall weep with pain for evermore.'

When they reached Jerusalem they fell on their faces before God and, once 18 the people were purified, they offered their holocausts and voluntary offerings 22 and gifts. •All Holofernes' property given her by the people and the canopy she 19 herself had stripped from his bed, Judith vowed to God as a dedicated offering. 23
For three months the people gave themselves up to rejoicings in Jerusalem before 20
the Temple, where Judith stayed with them. 24

Judith lives to old age. Her death

When this was over, everyone returned home. Judith went back to Bethulia 21 and lived on her estate; as long as she lived, she enjoyed a great reputation 23 throughout the country. •She had many suitors, but all her days, from the time 22 her husband Manasseh died and was gathered to his people, she never gave 26 herself to another man. •Her fame spread more and more the older she grew 23 in her husband's house; she lived to the age of a hundred and five years.<sup>a</sup> She 28 emancipated her maid, then died in Bethulia and was buried in the cave where 28
Manasseh her husband lay. •The House of Israel mourned her for seven days. 24
Before her death she had distributed her property among her own relations 29 and those of her husband Manasseh.

Never again during the lifetime of Judith, nor indeed for long after her death, 25
did anyone trouble the sons of Israel. 30

TOBIT

1 The tale of Tobit<sup>a</sup> son of Tobiel, son of Ananiel, son of Aduel, son of Gabael, 1 of the lineage of Asiel and tribe of Naphtali. •In the days of Shalmaneser, 2 king of Assyria, he was exiled from Thisbe, which is south of Kedesh-Naphtali in Upper Galilee, above Hazor, some distance to the west, north of Shephat.

TOBIT THE EXILE

I, Tobit, have walked in paths of truth and in good works all the days of my 3 life. I have given much in alms to my brothers and fellow countrymen, exiled 3 like me to Nineveh in the country of Assyria. •In my young days, when I still 4 was at home in the country of Israel, the whole tribe of Naphtali my ancestor 4 broke away from the House of David and from Jerusalem. Yet this was the city 4 chosen out of all the tribes of Israel for their sacrifices; in this the Temple—God's 4 dwelling place—had been built and hallowed for all generations to come. •But 5 all my brothers and the House of Naphtali offered sacrifice to the calf that 5 Jeroboam the king of Israel had made at Dan, on the mountains of Galilee.

Often I was quite alone in making the pilgrimage to Jerusalem, fulfilling the 6 law that binds all Israel perpetually. I would hurry to Jerusalem with the first 6 yield of fruits and beasts, the tithe of cattle and the sheep's first shearings. •I would 7 give these to the priests, the sons of Aaron, for the altar. To the Levites ministering at Jerusalem I would give my tithes of wine and corn, olives, pomegranates and other fruits. Six years in succession I took the second tithes in money and went and paid it at Jerusalem. •I gave the third to orphans and widows and to the strangers who live among the Israelites; I brought it them as a gift every three years. When we ate, we obeyed both the ordinances of the Law of Moses and the exhortations of Deborah, the mother of our father Ananiel; for my father had died and left me an orphan. •When I came to man's estate, I married a woman from our kinsmen whose name was Anna; she bore me a son whom I called Tobias.

<sup>10</sup> When the banishment into Assyria came, I was taken away and went to Nineveh. All my brothers and the men of my race ate the food of the heathen, but for my part I would not eat the food of the heathen.<sup>b</sup> •And because I had kept faith with my God with my whole heart, •the Most High granted me the favour of Shalmaneser, and I became the king's purveyor. •Until his death I used to travel to Mediā, where I transacted business on his behalf; and I deposited sacks of silver worth ten talents with Gabael, the brother of Gabrias, at Rhages in Media.

<sup>15</sup> On the death of Shalmaneser his son Sennacherib succeeded; the roads into Media were barred, and I could no longer go there. •In the days of Shalmaneser I had often given alms to the brothers of my race; •I gave my bread to the hungry and clothes to the naked; and I buried, when I saw them, the bodies of my countrymen thrown over the walls of Nineveh.

<sup>18</sup> I also buried those who were killed by Sennacherib (for when he retreated from Judaea in disorder, after the King of heaven had punished his blasphemies, in his anger Sennacherib killed a great number of Israelites). So I stole their bodies to bury them; Sennacherib looked for them and could not find them. <sup>19</sup> A Ninevite went and told the king it was I who had buried them secretly. When I knew that the king had been told about me and saw myself being hunted by men who would put me to death, I was afraid and fled. •All my goods were seized; they were all confiscated by the treasury; nothing was left me but my wife Anna and my son Tobias.

<sup>21</sup> Less than forty days after this, the king was murdered by his two sons, who then fled to the mountains of Ararat. His son Esarhaddon succeeded. Ahikar,<sup>c</sup> the son of my brother Anael, was appointed chancellor of the exchequer for the kingdom and given the main ordering of affairs. •Ahikar then interceded for me and I was allowed to return to Nineveh, since Ahikar had been chief cup-bearer, keeper of the signet, administrator and treasurer under Sennacherib, king of Assyria, and Esarhaddon had kept him in office. He was a relation of mine; he was my nephew.

TOBIT BLINDED

<sup>1</sup> 2 In the reign of Esarhaddon, therefore, I returned home, and my wife Anna was restored to me with my son Tobias. At our feast of Pentecost (the feast of Weeks) there was a good dinner. I took my place for the meal; •the table was brought to me and various dishes were brought. Then I said to my son Tobias, 'Go, my child, and seek out some poor, loyal-hearted man among our brothers exiled in Nineveh, and bring him to share my meal. I will wait until you come back, my child.' •So Tobias went out to look for some poor man among our brothers, but he came back again and said, 'Father!' I answered, 'What is it, my child?' He went on, 'Father, one of our nation has just been murdered; he has been strangled and then thrown down in the market place; he is there still'. •I sprang up at once, left my meal untouched, took the man from the market place and laid him in one of my rooms, waiting until sunset to bury him. •I came in again and washed myself and ate my bread in sorrow, remembering the words of the prophet Amos concerning Bethel:

Your feasts will be turned to mourning, and all your songs to lamentation.

And I wept. When the sun was down, I went and dug a grave and buried him. My neighbours laughed and said, 'See! He is not afraid any more.' (You must remember that a price had been set on my head earlier for this very thing.) 'The time before this he had to flee, yet here he is, beginning to bury the dead again.'

That night I took a bath; then I went into the courtyard and lay down by the courtyard wall. Since it was hot I left my face uncovered. •I did not know that there were sparrows in the wall above my head; their hot droppings fell into my eyes. White spots then formed, which I was obliged to have treated by the doctors. But the more ointments they tried me with, the more the spots blinded me, and in the end I became blind altogether. I remained without sight for four years; all my brothers were distressed; and Ahikar provided for my upkeep for two years, till he left for Elymais.

My wife Anna then undertook woman's work; she would spin wool and take cloth to weave; •she used to deliver whatever had been ordered from her and then receive payment. Now on March the seventh she finished a piece of work and delivered it to her customers. They paid her all that was due, and into the bargain presented her with a kid for a meal. •When the kid came into my house, it began to bleat. I called to my wife and said, 'Where does this creature come from? Suppose it has been stolen! Quick, let the owners have it back; we have no right to eat stolen goods.' •She said, 'No, it was a present given me over and above my wages'. I did not believe her, and told her to give it back to the owners (I blushed at this in her presence). Then she answered, 'What about your own alms? What about your own good works? Everyone knows what return you have had for them.' 3 Then, sad at heart, I sighed and wept, and began this prayer of lamentation:

'You are just, O Lord,
and just are all your works.
All your ways are grace and truth,
and you are the Judge of the world.

'Therefore, Lord,
remember me, look on me.
Do not punish me for my sins or for my heedless faults or for those of my fathers.

'For we have sinned against you and broken your commandments;
and you have given us over to be plundered,
to captivity and death,
to be the talk, the laughing-stock and scorn
of all the nations among whom you have dispersed us.

'Whereas all your decrees are true when you deal with me as my faults deserve, and those of my fathers,

since we have neither kept your commandments
 nor walked in truth before you; 6 so now, do with me as you will;
 be pleased to take my life from me;
 I desire to be delivered from earth and to become earth again.
 For death is better for me than life.
 I have been reviled without a cause and I am distressed beyond measure.
 'Lord, I wait for the sentence you will give to deliver me from this affliction.
 Let me go away to my everlasting home;
 do not turn your face from me, O Lord.
 For it is better to die than still to live in the face of trouble that knows no pity;
 I am weary of hearing myself traduced.'

SARAH

7 It chanced on the same day that Sarah the daughter of Raguel, who lived in 8 Media at Ecbatana, also heard insults from one of her father's maids. 'You must know that she had been given in marriage seven times, and that Asmodeus, that worst of demons, had killed her bridegrooms one after another before ever they had slept with her as man with wife. The servant-girl said, 'Yes, you kill your bridegrooms yourself. That makes seven already to whom you have been 9 given, and you have not once been in luck yet. 'Just because your bridegrooms have died, that is no reason for punishing us. Go and join them, and may we be 10 spared the sight of any child of yours!' 'That day, she grieved, she sobbed, and went up to her father's room intending to hang herself. But then she thought, 'Suppose they blamed my father! They will say, "You had an only daughter whom you loved, and now she has hanged herself for grief". I cannot cause my father a sorrow which would bring down his old age to the dwelling of the dead.
 I should do better not to hang myself, but to beg the Lord to let me die and 11 not live to hear any more insults.' 'And at this, by the window with outstretched arms she said this prayer:

'You are blessed, O God of mercy!
 May your name be blessed for ever,
 and may all things you have made bless you everlastingly.

12 'And now, I lift up my face
 14 and to you I turn my eyes.
 13 Let your word deliver me from earth;
 15 I can hear myself traduced no longer.

14 'O Lord, you know
 16 that I have remained pure;
 no man has touched me;
 I have not dishonoured your name or my father's name
 in this land of exile.

15 'I am my father's only daughter, 17 he has no other child as heir;
 he has no brother at his side,

nor has he any kinsman left for whom I ought to keep myself.

'Already I have lost seven husbands;
why should I live any longer?
If it does not please you to take my life,
then look on me with pity;
I can hear myself traduced no longer.'

This time the prayer of each of them found favour before the glory of God, and Raphael was sent to bring remedy to them both. He was to take the white spots from the eyes of Tobit, so that he might see God's light with his own eyes; and he was to give Sarah, the daughter of Raguel, as bride to Tobias son of Tobit, and to rid her of Asmodeus, that worst of demons. For it was to Tobias before all other suitors that she belonged by right. Tobit was coming back from the courtyard into the house at the same moment as Sarah, the daughter of Raguel, was coming down from the upper room. 16

TOBIAS

4 The same day, Tobit remembered the silver that he had left with Gabael 1 at Rhages in Media and thought, 'I have come to the point of praying for 2 death; I should do well to call my son Tobias and tell him about the money before I die'. He summoned his son Tobias and told him: 3

'When I die, give me an honourable burial. Honour your mother, and never abandon her all the days of your life. Do all that she wants, and give her no reason for sorrow. Remember, my child, all the risks she ran for your sake when you 4 were in her womb. And when she dies, bury her at my side in the same grave. 5

'My child, be faithful to the Lord all your days. Never entertain the will 6 to sin or to transgress his laws. Do good works all the days of your life, never follow ways that are not right; for if you act in truthfulness, you will be 6 successful in all your actions, as all men are if they practise what is right.

'Set aside part of your goods for almsgiving. Never turn your face from any 7 poor man and God will never turn his from you. Measure your alms by what 8 you have; if you have much, give more; if you have little, give less, but do not 9 be mean in giving alms. By doing so, you will lay up for yourself a great treasure 9 for the day of necessity. For almsgiving delivers from death and saves men 10 from passing down to darkness. Alms is a most effective offering for all those 11 who give it in the presence of the Most High. 12

'My child, avoid all loose conduct. Choose a wife of your father's stock. 12
Do not take a foreign wife outside your father's tribe, because we are the sons of the prophets. Remember Noah, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, our ancestors from the beginning. All of them took wives from their own kindred, and they were blessed in their children, and their race will inherit the earth. You, too, my child, 13 must prefer your own brothers; never presume to despise your brothers, the sons and daughters of your people; choose your wife from among them. For pride 14 brings ruin and much worry; idleness causes need and poverty, for the mother of famine is idleness.

'Do not keep back until next day the wages of those who work for you; pay 14 them at once. If you serve God you will be rewarded. Be careful, my child, 15 in all you do, well-disciplined in all your behaviour. Do to no one what you 15 would not want done to you. Do not drink wine to the point of drunkenness; 16 do not let excess be your travelling companion.

'Give your bread to those who are hungry, and your clothes to those who 16

are naked. Whatever you own in plenty, devote a proportion to almsgiving; and when you give alms, do not do it grudgingly. •Be generous with bread and wine on the graves of virtuous men, but not for the sinner.

18,19 19,20 'Ask advice of every wise person; never scorn any profitable advice. •Bless the Lord God in everything; beg him to guide your ways and bring your paths and purposes to their end. For wisdom is not given to every nation; the Lord himself gives all good things. At his will he lifts up or he casts down to the depths of the dwelling of the dead. So now, my child, remember these precepts and never let them fade from your heart.

20 21 22 'Now, my child, I must tell you I have left ten talents of silver with Gabael son of Gabrias, at Rhages in Media. •Do not be afraid, my child, if we have grown poor. You have great wealth if you fear God, if you shun every kind of sin and if you do what is pleasing to the Lord your God.'

THE FELLOW TRAVELLER OF TOBIAS

5 Tobias then answered his father Tobit, 'Father, I will do everything you have told me. •But how am I to recover the money from him? He does not know me, nor I him. What token am I to give him for him to believe me and hand me over the silver? And besides, I do not know what roads to take for this journey into Media.' •Then Tobit answered his son Tobias, 'Each of us set his signature to a note which I cut in two, so that each could keep half of it. I took one piece, and put the other with the silver. To think it was twenty years ago I left this silver in his keeping! And now, my child, find some trustworthy man to travel with you—we will pay him for his time until you arrive back—and then go and collect the money from Gabael.'

4 Tobias went out to look for a man who knew the way to go with him to Media. Outside he found Raphael the angel standing facing him (though he did not guess he was an angel of God). •He said, 'Where do you come from, friend?' The angel replied, 'I am one of your brother Israelites; I have come to these parts to look for work'. Tobias asked, 'Do you know the road to Media?' The other replied, 'Certainly I do. I have been there many times; I know all the ways by heart. I have often been to Media and stayed with Gabael, one of our kinsmen who lives at Rhages in Media. It usually takes two full days to get from Ecbatana to Rhages; Rhages lies in the mountains, and Ecbatana is in the middle of the plain.' •Tobias said, 'Wait for me, friend, while I go and tell my father; I need you to come with me; I will pay you for your time'. •The other replied, 'Good; I will wait; but do not be long'.

9 Tobias went in and told his father that he had found one of their brother Israelites. And the father said, 'Fetch him in; I want to find out about his family and tribe. I must see if he is going to be a reliable companion for you, my child.' So Tobias went out and called him. 'Friend,' he said 'my father wants you.'

10 The angel came into the house; Tobit greeted him, and the other answered, wishing him happiness. Tobit replied, 'Can I ever be happy again? I am a blind man; I no longer see the light of heaven; I am sunk in darkness like the dead who see the light no more. I am a man buried alive; I hear men speak but cannot see them.' The angel said, 'Take comfort; before long God will heal you. Take comfort.' Tobit said, 'My son Tobias wishes to go to Media. Will you join him as his guide? Brother, I will pay you.' He replied, 'I am willing to go with him; I know all the ways; I have often been to Media, I have crossed all its plains and mountains, and I know all the roads'. •Tobit said, 'Brother, what family and what tribe do you belong to? Will you tell me, brother?' •'What does my tribe matter to you?' the angel said. Tobit said, 'I want to be quite sure whose son you are and what your name is'. •The angel said, 'I am Azarias, son of the great Ananias, one of your kinsmen'. •'Welcome and greetings, brother! Do not be offended at my wanting to know the name of your family; I find you are my kinsman, of a good and honourable line. I know Ananias and Jathan, the two sons of the great Shemaiah. They used to go to Jerusalem with me; we have worshipped together there, and they have never strayed from the right path. Your brothers are worthy men; you come of good stock; welcome.'

He went on, 'I engage you at a drachma a day, with your expenses, like my own son. Complete the journey with my son, •and I will go beyond the agreed wage.' The angel replied, 'I will complete the journey with him. Do not be afraid. On the journey outward all will be well; on the journey back all will be well; the road is safe.' •Tobit said, 'Blessings on you, brother!' Then he turned to his son. 'My child,' he said 'prepare what you need for the journey, and set off with your brother. May God in heaven protect you abroad and bring you both back to me safe and sound! May his angel go with you and protect you, my child!'

Tobias left the house to set out and kissed his father and mother. Tobit said, 'A happy journey!' •His mother burst into tears and said to Tobit, 'Why must you send my child away? Is he not the staff of our hands, with his errands to and fro for us? •Surely money is not the only thing that matters? Surely it is not as precious as our child? •The way of life God had already given us was good enough.' •He said, 'Do not think such thoughts. Going away and coming back, all will be well with our child. On the day of his homecoming you will see for yourself how all is still well with him. Do not think such thoughts; do not worry on their account, my sister. •A good angel will go with him; he will have a good journey and come back to us well and happy. 6 And she dried her tears.

THE FISH

The boy left with the angel, and the dog followed behind. The two walked on, and when the first evening came they camped beside the Tigris. •The boy had gone down to the river to wash his feet, when a great fish leapt out of the water and all but swallowed his foot. The boy gave a shout •and the angel said, 'Catch the fish; do not let it go'. The boy mastered the fish and pulled it on to the bank. The angel said, 'Cut it open; take out the gall, the heart and the liver; set these aside and throw the entrails away, for the gall and heart and liver have curative properties'. •The boy cut the fish open and took out the gall and heart and liver. He fried part of the fish for his meal and kept some for salting. Then they walked on again together until they were nearly in Media.

Then the boy asked the angel this question, 'Brother Azarias, what can the fish's heart, liver and gall cure?' •He replied, 'You burn the fish's heart and liver, and their smoke is used in the case of a man or woman plagued by a demon or evil spirit; any such affliction disappears for good, leaving no trace. •As regards the gall, this is used as an eye ointment for anyone having white spots on his eyes; after using it, you only have to blow on the spots to cure them.'

They entered Media and had nearly reached Ecbatana •when Raphael said to the boy, 'Brother Tobias'. 'Yes?' he answered. The angel went on, 'Tonight we shall be staying with Raguel, who is a kinsman of yours. He has a daughter called Sarah, •but apart from Sarah he has no other son or daughter. Now you are her next of kin; she belongs to you before anyone else and you may claim her father's inheritance. She is a thoughtful, courageous and very lovely girl, and her father loves her dearly. •You have the right to marry her. Listen, brother; this very evening I will speak about the girl to her father and arrange for her to be betrothed to you, and when we come back from Rhages we can celebrate the marriage. I assure you, Raguel has no right whatever to refuse you or to betroth her to anyone else. That would be asking for death, as prescribed in the Book of Moses, once he was aware that kinship gives you the pre-eminent right to marry his daughter. So listen, brother. This very evening we will speak about the girl and ask for her hand in marriage. When we come back from Rhages we will fetch her and take her home with us.'

- 14 Tobias answered Raphael, 'Brother Azarias, I have been told that she has already been given in marriage seven times and that each time her bridegroom has died in the bridal room. He died the same night as he entered her room;
- 15 and I have heard people say it was a demon that killed them, and this makes me a little afraid. He does no harm to her, of course, because he loves her; but as soon as a man tries to approach her, he kills him. I am my father's only son, and I have no wish to die; I shrink from causing my father and mother a grief
- 16 that would bring them to the grave; they have no other son to bury them.' The angel said, 'Are you going to forget your father's advice? After all, he urged you to choose a wife from your father's family. Listen then, brother. Do not worry about the demon; take her. This very evening, I promise, she will be given
- 17 you as your wife. Then once you are in the bridal room, take the heart and liver of the fish and lay a little of it on the burning incense. The reek will rise,
- 18 the demon will smell it and flee, and there is no danger that he will ever be found near the girl again. Then, before you sleep together, first stand up, both of you, and pray. Ask the Lord of heaven to grant you his grace and protection. Do not be afraid; she was destined for you from the beginning, and it is you who will save her. She will follow you, and I pledge my word she will give you children who will be like brothers to you. Do not hesitate.' And when Tobias heard Raphael say this, when he understood that Sarah was his sister, a kinswoman of his father's family, he fell so deeply in love with her that he could no longer call his heart his own.

RAGUEL

- 1 7 As they entered Ecbatana, Tobias said, 'Brother Azarias, take me at once to our brother Raguel's'. And he showed him the way to the house of Raguel, whom they found sitting beside his courtyard door. They greeted him first, and he replied, 'Welcome and greetings, brothers'. And he took them into his house.
- 2 He said to his wife Edna, 'How like my brother Tobit this young man is!' Edna asked them where they came from; they said, 'We are sons of Naphtali exiled
- 3 in Nineveh'. 'Do you know our brother Tobit?' 'Yes.' 'How is he?' 'He is still alive and he is well.' And Tobias added, 'He is my father'. Raguel leapt
- 4 to his feet and kissed him and wept. Then finding words, he said, 'Blessings on you, child! You are the son of a noble father. How sad it is that someone so virtuous and full of good deeds should have gone blind!' He fell on the neck
- 5 of his kinsman Tobias and wept. And his wife Edna wept for him, and so did
- 6 his daughter Sarah. Raguel killed a sheep from the flock, and they gave them a warmhearted welcome.

- They washed and bathed and sat down to table. Then Tobias said to Raphael,
- 7 'Brother Azarias, will you ask Raguel to give me my sister Sarah?' Raguel overheard the words, and said to the young man, 'Eat and drink, and make the most of your evening; no one else has the right to take my daughter Sarah—no one but you, my brother. In any case I, for my own part, am not at liberty to give her to anyone else, since you are her next of kin. However, my boy, I must
- 8 be frank with you: I have tried to find a husband for her seven times among our kinsmen, and all of them have died the first evening, on going to her room. But for the present, my boy, eat and drink; the Lord will grant you his grace and peace.' Tobias spoke out, 'I will not hear of eating and drinking till you have come to a decision about me'. Raguel answered, 'Very well. Since, as prescribed by the Book of Moses, she is given to you, heaven itself decrees she shall be yours. I therefore entrust your sister to you. From now you are her brother and she is your sister. She is given to you from today for ever. The Lord of heaven favour you tonight, my child, and grant you his grace and peace.' Raguel called for his daughter Sarah, took her by the hand and gave her to Tobias with these words, 'I entrust her to you; the law and the ruling recorded in the Book of Moses assign her to you as your wife. Take her; take her home to your father's house with a good conscience. The God of heaven grant you a good journey in peace.' •Then he turned to her mother and asked her to fetch him writing paper. He drew up the marriage contract, how he gave his daughter as bride to Tobias according to the ordinance in the Law of Moses.

After this they began to eat and drink. •Raguel called his wife Edna and said, 'My sister, prepare the second room and take her there'. •She went and made the bed in this room as he had ordered, and took her daughter to it. She wept over her, then wiped away her tears and said, 'Courage, daughter! May the Lord of heaven turn your grief to joy! Courage, daughter!' And she went out.

THE GRAVE

Q When they had finished eating and drinking and it seemed time to go to bed, the young man was taken from the dining room to the bedroom. •Tobias remembered Raphael's advice; he went to his bag, took the fish's heart and liver out of it and put some on the burning incense. •The reek of the fish distressed the demon, who fled through the air to Egypt. Raphael pursued him there, and bound and shackled him at once.

The parents meanwhile had gone out and shut the door behind them. Tobias rose from the bed, and said to Sarah, 'Get up, my sister! You and I must pray and petition our Lord to win his grace and his protection.' •She stood up, and they began praying for protection, and this was how he began:

'You are blessed, O God of our fathers; blessed, too, is your name for ever and ever.
Let the heavens bless you and all things you have made for evermore.

It was you who created Adam,
you who created Eve his wife to be his help and support;
and from these two the human race was born.
It was you who said,
*"It is not good that the man should be alone;
let us make him a helpmate like himself"*.
And so I do not take my sister
for any lustful motive;
I do it in singleness of heart.
Be kind enough to have pity on her and on me and bring us to old age together.'

And together they said, 'Amen, Amen', •and lay down for the night.

But Raguel rose and called his servants, who came and helped him to dig a grave. •He had thought; 'Heaven grant he does not die! We should be overwhelmed with ridicule and shame.' •When the grave was finished, Raguel went back to the house, called his wife •and said, 'Will you send a maid to the room to see if Tobias is still alive? For if he is dead, we may be able to bury him without 13 anyone else knowing.' •The maid was called, the lamp lit and the door opened; 14 the maid went in. She found the two fast asleep; •she came out again and 15 whispered, 'He is not dead; all is well'. •Then Raguel blessed the God of heaven 16 with these words:

'You are blessed, my God,
 with every blessing that is pure;
 may you be blessed for evermore!

16 'You are blessed for having made me glad.
 What I feared has not happened;
 instead you have treated us with mercy beyond all measure.

17 'You are blessed for taking pity
 18 on this only son, this only daughter.
 Grant them, Master, your grace and your protection;
 let them live out their lives in happiness and in grace.'

18 And he made his servants fill the grave in before dawn broke.

20 He told his wife to make plenty of bread; he went to his flock, brought back
 19 two oxen and four sheep and gave orders for them to be cooked; and preparations 20 began. •He called Tobias and said, 'I will not hear of your leaving here for 21 a fortnight. You are to stay where you are, eating and drinking, with me. You 22 will make my daughter happy again after all her troubles. •After that, take away 23 a half of all I have, and go without let or hindrance back to your father. When 24 my wife and I are dead you will have the other half. Courage, my boy! I am your father, and Edna is your mother. We are your parents in future, as we are your sister's. Courage, my son!'

THE WEDDING FEAST

1 9 Then Tobias turned to Raphael. •'Brother Azarias,' he said 'take four servants 2 and two camels and leave for Rhages. •Go to Gabael's house, give him the receipt and see about the money; then invite him to come with you to my wedding 4 feast. •You know that my father must be counting the days and that I cannot 5 lose a single one without worrying him. •You see what Raguel has pledged 6 himself to do; I am bound by his oath.' So Raphael left for Rhages in Media
 7 showed him the receipt. He told him about the marriage of Tobias son of Tobit and gave him his invitation to the wedding feast. Gabael started counting out the sacks to him—the seals were intact—and they loaded them on to the camels.
 8 Early in the morning they set off together for the feast, and reached Raguel's 9 house where they found Tobias dining. He rose to greet Gabael, who burst into tears and blessed him with the words, 'Excellent son of a father beyond reproach, just and generous in his dealings! The Lord give heaven's blessing to you, to your wife, to the father and mother of your wife! Blessed be God for granting me the sight of this living image of my cousin Tobit!'

1 10 Every day, meanwhile, Tobit kept reckoning the days required for the 2 journey there and the journey back. The full number went by, and still his son had not come. •Then he thought, 'I hope he has not been delayed there!
 I hope Gabael is not dead! Perhaps no one was there to give him the money.'
 3 And he began to worry. •His wife Anna kept saying, 'My son is dead! He is no
 4 longer among the living!' And she began to weep and mourn over her son. She 5 kept saying, •'Alas! I let you leave me, my child, you, the light of my eyes.'
 6 And Tobit would reply, 'Hush, my sister! Do not think such thoughts. All is well with him. Something has happened there to delay them. His companion is someone we can trust, one of our kinsmen at that. Do not lose heart, my sister. He will be here soon.' •But she only said, 'Leave me alone; do not try to deceive me. My child is dead.' And every day she would go abruptly out to watch the road by which her son had left. She trusted no eyes but her own. Once the sun had set she would come home again, only to weep and moan all night, unable to sleep.

After the fourteen days of feasting that Raguel had sworn to keep for his daughter's marriage, Tobias came to him and said, 'Let me go now; my father and mother must have lost all hope of seeing me again. So I beg you, father, to let me return to my father's house; I have told you the plight he was in when I left him.' •Raguel said to Tobias, 'Stay, my son, stay with me. I will send messengers to your father Tobit to give him news of you.' •But Tobias pressed him, 'No. I ask your permission to go back to my father's house.' •Without more ado, Raguel committed Sarah his bride into his keeping. He gave Tobias half his wealth, menservants and maidservants, oxen and sheep, donkeys and camels, clothes and money and household things. •And so he let them leave happily. To Tobias he said these parting words, 'Good health, my son, and a happy journey! May the Lord of heaven be gracious to you and to your wife Sarah! I hope to see your children before I die.' •To his daughter Sarah he said, 'Go now to your father-in-law's house, since henceforward they are as much your parents as those who gave you life. Go in peace, my daughter, I hope to hear nothing but good of you, as long as I live.' He said goodbye to them and let them go.

Edna in her turn said to Tobias, 'Dear son and brother, may it please the Lord to bring you back again! I hope to live long enough to see the children of you and my daughter Sarah before I die. In the sight of the Lord I give my daughter into your keeping. Never make her unhappy as long as you live. Go in peace, my son. Henceforward I am your mother and Sarah is your sister. May we all live happily all the days of our lives!' And she kissed them both and saw them set out happily.

Tobias left Raguel's house with his mind at ease. In his gladness he blessed the Lord of heaven and earth, the King of all that is, for the happy issue of his travels. He gave this blessing to Raguel and his wife Edna, 'May it be my happiness to honour you all the days of my life!'

TOBIAS' SIGHT RESTORED

11 They were nearly at Kaserin, opposite Nineveh, •when Raphael said, 'You know the plight in which we left your father; •let us go on ahead of your wife and prepare the house ourselves while she travels behind with the others'. They went on together (Raphael had warned Tobias to take the gill with him) and the dog followed them.

Anna was sitting, watching the road by which her son would come. •She was sure at once it must be he and said to the father, 'Here comes your son, with his companion'.

Raphael said to Tobias before he reached his father, 'I give you my word that your father's eyes will open. •You must put the fish's gall to his eyes; the medicine will smart and will draw a filmy white skin off his eyes. And your father will be able to see and look on the light.'

The mother ran forward and threw her arms round her son's neck. 'Now I can die,' she said 'I have seen you again.' And she wept. •Tobit rose to his feet and stumbled across the courtyard through the door. Tobias came on towards him •(he had the fish's gall in his hand). He blew into his eyes and said, steadying him, 'Take courage, father!' With this he applied the medicine, left it there 12 a while, •then with both hands peeled away a filmy skin from the corners of his 14 eyes. •Then his father fell on his neck •and wept. He exclaimed, 'I can see, 13 my son, the light of my eyes!' And he said:

17                                    'Blessed be God!
                                       Blessed be his great name!
                                       Blessed be all his holy angels!
                                       Blessed be his great name
                                       for evermore!
 15                                    For he had scourged me and now has had pity on me and I see my son Tobias.'

Tobias went into the house, and with a loud voice joyfully blessed God. Then he told his father everything: how his journey had been successful and he had brought the silver back; how he had married Sarah, the daughter of Raguel; how she was following him now, close behind, and could not be far from the gates of Nineveh.

16       Tobit set off to the gates of Nineveh to meet his daughter-in-law, giving joyful 17 praise to God as he went. When the people of Nineveh saw him walking without a guide and stepping forward as briskly as of old, they were astonished. •Tobit described to them how God had taken pity on him and had opened his eyes. Then Tobit met Sarah, the bride of his son Tobias, and blessed her in these words, 'Welcome, daughter! Blessed be your God for sending you to us, my daughter. Blessings on your father, blessings on my son Tobias, blessings on yourself, my daughter. Welcome now to your own house in joyfulness and in blessedness. Come in, my daughter.' He held a feast that day for all the Jews of 18 Nineveh. •and his cousins Ahikar and Nadab came to share in Tobit's happiness.

RAPHAEL

1       12 When the feasting was over, Tobit called his son Tobias and said, 'My son, you ought to think about paying the amount due to your fellow traveller;
 2 give him more than the figure agreed on'. •'Father,' he replied 'how much am I to give him for his help? Even if I give him half the goods he brought back with 3 me, I shall not be the loser. •He has brought me back to you safe and sound, he has cured my wife, he has brought the money back too, and now he has 4 cured you as well. How much am I to give him for all this?' •Tobit said, 'He has 5 richly earned half of what he brought back'. •So Tobias called his companion and said, 'Take half of what you brought back, in payment for all you have done, and go in peace'.
 6       Then Raphael took them both aside and said, 'Bless God, utter his praise before all the living for all the favours he has given you. Bless and extol his name. Proclaim before all men the deeds of God as they deserve, and never tire 7 of giving him thanks. •It is right to keep the secret of a king, yet right to reveal and publish the works of God. Thank him worthily. Do what is good, and no evil can befall you.
 8       'Prayer with fasting and alms with right conduct are better than riches with 9 iniquity. Better to practise almsgiving than to hoard up gold. •Almsgiving saves from death and purges every kind of sin. Those who give alms have their fill 10 of days; •those who commit sin and do evil, bring harm on themselves.
 11       'I am going to tell you the whole truth, hiding nothing from you. I have already told you that it is right to keep the secret of a king, yet right too to reveal 12 in worthy fashion the works of God. •So you must know that when you and

Sarah were at prayer, it was I who offered your supplications before the glory of the Lord and who read them; so too when you were burying the dead. •When you did not hesitate to get up and leave the table to go and bury a dead man, I was sent to test your faith, •and at the same time God sent me to heal you and your daughter-in-law Sarah. •I am Raphael, one of the seven<sup>a</sup> angels who stand ever ready to enter the presence of the glory of the Lord.' 13 14 15

They were both overwhelmed with awe; they fell on their faces in terror. 16
But the angel said, 'Do not be afraid; peace be with you. Bless God for ever. 17
As far as I was concerned, when I was with you, my presence was not by any decision of mine, but by the will of God; it is he whom you must bless throughout your days, he that you must praise. •You thought you saw me eating, but that was appearance and no more. •Now bless the Lord on earth and give thanks to God. I am about to return to him above who sent me. Write down all that has happened.' And he rose in the air. •When they stood up again, he was no longer visible. They praised God with hymns; they thanked him for having performed such wonders; had not an angel of God appeared to them? 18 19 20 21,22

ZION

13 And he said: 1

'Blessed be God who lives for ever, for his reign endures throughout all ages!
By turns he punishes and pardons; 2
he sends men down to the depths of the underworld and draws them up from supreme Destruction;
no one can escape his hand.
Declare his praise before the nations, 3
you who are the sons of Israel!
For if he has scattered you among them, there too he has shown you his greatness. 4 Extol him before all the living;
he is our Master and he is our God and he is our Father and he is God for ever and ever.

'Though he punishes you for your iniquities, 5
he will take pity on you all;
he will gather you from every nation wherever you have been scattered.
If you return to him 6
with all your heart and all your soul, behaving honestly towards him,
then he will return to you and hide his face from you no longer.
Consider how well he has treated you;
loudly give him thanks.
Bless the Lord of justice and extol the King of the ages.
I for my part sing his praise 7
in the country of my exile;
I make his power and greatness known to a nation that has sinned.
Sinners, return to him; 8

let your conduct be upright before him;
perhaps he will be gracious to you and take pity on you.

9 I for my part extol God and my soul rejoices
in the King of heaven.

8 Let his greatness be in all men's mouths, his praises be sung in Jerusalem.

11 'Jerusalem, Holy City,
God scourged you for your handiwork yet still will take pity on the sons of the upright.
10 12 Thank the Lord as he deserves and bless the King of the ages, that your Temple may be rebuilt with joy within you and within you he may comfort every exile, and within you he may love all those who are distressed,
for all generations to come.

13 'A bright light shall shine over all the regions of the earth; 14 many nations shall come from far away, from all the ends of the earth,
to dwell close to the holy name of the Lord God,
with gifts in their hands for the King of heaven.
Within you, generation after generation shall proclaim their joy, and the name of her who is Elect shall endure through the generations to come.

16 'Cursed be any who affront you, cursed be any who destroy you,
who throw down your walls,
who raze your towers,
who burn your houses!
Blessed for ever be all who build you!
13
17 Then you will exult, and rejoice over the sons of the upright, for they will all have been gathered in and will bless the Lord of the ages.

18 'Happy are those who love you, happy those who rejoice over your peace, happy those who have mourned over all your punishment!
For they will soon rejoice within you, witnessing all your blessedness in days to come.
15
19 My soul blesses the Lord, the great King, 16 because Jerusalem shall be built anew and his house for ever and ever.

20 'What bliss if one of my blood is left to see your glory and praise the King of heaven!
21 The gates of Jerusalem shall be built of sapphire and of emerald, and all your walls of precious stone;

12 a. Only three are named in the Bible: Gabriel, Michael, Raphael.

the towers of Jerusalem shall be built of gold and their battlements of pure gold.
 The streets of Jerusalem shall be paved 17
 with ruby and with stones from Ophir;
 the gates of Jerusalem will resound with songs of exultation;
 and all her houses will say,
 "Alleluia! Blessed be the God of Israel." 23 Within you they will bless the holy name for ever and for ever.'

NINEVEH

Tobit died in peace when he was a hundred and twelve years old and received 2 an honourable burial in Nineveh. •He was sixty-two when he went blind; and 2 after his cure he lived from then on in comfort, practising almsgiving and 3 continually praising God and extolling his greatness. •When he was at the 4 point of death he summoned his son Tobias and gave him these instructions, 5
 'My son, take your children •and hurry away to Media, since I believe the word 4 of God pronounced over Nineveh by Nahum. Everything will come true, 6 everything happen that the emissaries of God, the prophets of Israel, have predicted against Assyria and Nineveh; not one of their words shall prove empty.
 It will all take place in due time. You will be safer in Media than in Assyria or in Babylonia. Since I for my part know and believe that everything God has said will come true; so it will be, and not a word of the prophecies shall fail.

'A census will be taken of our brothers living in the land of Israel and they will be exiled far from their own fair country. The entire territory of Israel will become a desert, and Samaria and Jerusalem will become a desert, and the house of God, for a time, will be laid waste and burnt. •Then once again God 5 will take pity on them and bring them back to the land of Israel. They will rebuild his house, although it will be less beautiful than the first, until the time has fully come. But after this, all will return from captivity and rebuild Jerusalem in all her glory, and the house of God will be rebuilt within her as the prophets of Israel have foretold. •And all the people of the whole earth will be converted 6 and will fear God with all sincerity. All will renounce their false gods who have led them astray into error, •and will bless the God of the ages by upright conduct. 7
 All the Israelites spared in those days will remember God in sincerity of heart.
 They will come and gather in Jerusalem and thereafter dwell securely in the land of Abraham, which shall be their own. And those who sincerely love God shall rejoice. And those who commit sin and wickedness shall vanish from the earth.

'And now, my children, I lay this duty on you: serve God sincerely, and do 8,10 what is pleasing to him. And lay on your children the obligation to behave 11 uprightly, to give alms, to keep God in mind and to bless his name always, sincerely and with all their might.

'So then, my son, leave Nineveh; do not stay here. •As soon as you have 9,10 buried your mother next to me, go the same day, whenever it may be, and do 12 not linger in this country where I see wickedness and perfidy unashamedly 13 triumphant. Consider, my child, all that Nadab did to his fosterfather Ahikar.
 Was he not forced to go underground, though still a living man? But God made the criminal pay for his outrage before the eyes of his victim, since Ahikar came back to the light of day, while Nadab went down to everlasting darkness in punishment for plotting against Ahikar's life. Because of his good works Ahikar escaped the deadly snare Nadab had laid for him, and Nadab fell into it to his own ruin. •So, my children, you see what comes of almsgiving, and what wickedness leads to, I mean to death. But now breath fails me.'

They laid him back on his bed; he died and was buried with honour.

When his mother died, Tobias buried her beside his father. Then he left for Media with his wife and children. He lived in Ecbatana with Raguel, his father-in-law. •He treated the aging parents of his wife with every care and respect, and later buried them in Ecbatana in Media. Tobias inherited the patrimony of Raguel besides that of his father Tobit. •Much honoured, he lived to the age of a hundred and seventeen years. •Before he died he witnessed the ruin of Nineveh. He saw the Ninevites taken prisoner and deported to Media by Cyaxares king of Media. He blessed God for everything he inflicted on the Ninevites and Assyrians. Before his death he had the opportunity of rejoicing over the fate of Nineveh, and he blessed the Lord God for ever and ever. Amen.

THE BOOK OF BARUCH

INTRODUCTION

Baruch and the Jews in Babylon

1 1 These are the words of the book written in Babylon by Baruch son of Neraiah,
2 son of Mahseiah, son of Zedekiah, son of Hasadiah, son of Hilkiah, •in the fifth year,<sup>a</sup> on the seventh day of the month, at the time when the Chaldeans captured Jerusalem and burned it down.

3 Baruch read the words of this book aloud to Jeconiah son of Jehoiakim,
4 king of Judah, and to all the people who had come to hear the reading, •to the nobles and the sons of the king, and to the elders; to the whole people, that is, least no less than greatest, to all who lived in Babylon beside the river Sud.

5 On hearing it they wept, fasted and prayed before the Lord; •and they collected
7 as much money as each could afford •and sent it to Jerusalem for the priest Jehoiakim son of Hilkiah, son of Shallum, and the other priests, and for as
8 many of the people as were with him in Jerusalem. •It was Baruch who on the tenth day of Sivan had recovered the utensils of the house of the Lord, which had been removed from the Temple, to take them back to the land of Judah: these were silver utensils which Zedekiah son of Josiah, king of Judah, had had 9 made •when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had deported Jeconiah from Jerusalem to Babylon, together with the princes, the metalworkers, the men of rank and the common people.

10 With this—they wrote—we are sending you money with which to pay for holocausts, offerings for sin, and incense; prepare oblations, and offer them on the altar
11 of the Lord our God. •Pray for the long life of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and of his son Belshazzar, and that their days on earth may endure as 'the 12 heavens; •pray that the Lord may give us strength and clear understanding so that we may lead our lives under the protection of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and of his son Belshazzar, and by our long service win their favour.
13 Also pray to the Lord our God for us, because we have sinned against him, and the anger, the fury of the Lord, has still not yet been turned away from us. Lastly, you are to read the book aloud which we send you with this and so make public confession in the house of the Lord on the feastday<sup>b</sup> and on days of solemn assembly. •You are to say:

THE PRAYER OF THE EXILES

Confession of sins

Integrity belongs to the Lord our God; to us the look of shame we wear today, to us, the people of Judah and the citizens of Jerusalem, •to our kings and princes, our priests, our prophets, as to our ancestors, •because we have sinned in the sight of the Lord, •have disobeyed him, and have not listened to the voice of the Lord our God telling us to follow the commandments which the Lord had ordained for us. •From the day when the Lord brought our ancestors out of the land of Egypt until today we have been disobedient to the Lord our God, we have been disloyal, refusing to listen to his voice. •And so the disasters, and the curse which the Lord pronounced through his servant Moses the day he brought our fathers out of Egypt to give us a land where milk and honey flow, have seized on us, disasters we experience today. •Despite all the words of those prophets whom he sent us, we have not listened to the voice of the Lord our God, •but, each following the dictates of his evil heart, we have taken to serving alien gods, and doing what is displeasing to the Lord our God.

2 And so the Lord has carried out the sentence which he passed on us, on our judges who governed Israel, on our kings and leaders, on the men of Israel and of Judah; •what he did to Jerusalem has never been paralleled under the wide heavens—all this in conformity with what was written in the Law of Moses; •we were all reduced to eating the flesh of our own sons and daughters. Furthermore, he has handed them over into the power of all the kingdoms that surround us, to be loathed and avoided by all the neighbouring nations among whom he scattered them. •Instead of being masters, they found themselves enslaved, because we had sinned against the Lord our God by not listening to his voice.

Integrity belongs to the Lord our God; to us the look of shame we wear today, to us, as to our ancestors. •All those disasters which the Lord pronounced against us have now happened to us. •And yet we have not tried to win the favour of the Lord by each one of us renouncing the dictates of his own wicked heart; •and so the Lord has watched for the right moment to bring disaster on us, since the Lord gives a just return for what we do of all that he has ordered us to do, •and we have not listened to his voice telling us to follow the commandments which the Lord had ordained for us.

The prayer

And now, Lord, God of Israel, who brought your people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, with signs and wonders, with great power and with outstretched arm, to win yourself a name renowned today, •we have sinned, we have been irreligious; Lord our God, we have broken all your commandments. •Let your anger turn from us since we are no more than a poor remnant among the nations where you have dispersed us. •Listen, Lord, to our prayer, to our entreaty; deliver us for the sake of your honour and grant us your favour for all our captors to see it, •so that the whole world may know that you are the Lord our God, since Israel and his descendants bear your name. •Look down, Lord, from your holy dwelling place and give a thought to us, take heed of us and listen, •look at us, Lord, and consider; the dead down in Sheol, whose breath has been taken from their bodies, are not the ones to give glory and due observance to the Lord; •the person overcome with affliction, who goes his way bowed down and frail, with failing eyes and hungering soul, he is the one to give you glory, Lord, and due observance.

19 We do not rely on the merits of our ancestors and of our kings to offer you 20 our humble plea, Lord our God. •No. You have sent down your anger and your 21 fury on us, as you promised through your servants the prophets when they said, 22 'The Lord says this: Bend your necks and submit to the king of Babylon, and you 23 will remain in the land which I gave your ancestors. •But if you do not listen to 24 the voice of the Lord and submit to the king of Babylon, •then I will silence the shouts of rejoicing and mirth and the voices of bridegroom and bride in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem, and the whole land will be reduced to desert, without inhabitants.' •But we did not listen to your voice and submit to the king of Babylon, and so you carried out what you had promised through your servants the prophets: that the bones of our kings and of our ancestors would be dragged 25 from their resting places. •They were indeed tossed out to the heat of the day and the frost of the night. And people died in dreadful agony, from famine, 26 sword and plague. •And so, because of the wickedness of the House of Israel and the House of Judah, you have made this House, that bears your name, what it is today.

27 And yet, Lord our God, you have treated us in a way worthy of all 28 your goodness and boundless tenderness, •just as you had promised through your servant Moses, the day you told him to write your Law in the presence of the 29 sons of Israel, and said this, •'If you do not listen to my voice, this great and innumerable multitude will certainly be reduced to a tiny few among the nations 30 among which I shall disperse them, •and I know very well that this people will not listen, it is so stubborn. But in the country of their exile they will take 31 all this to heart •and acknowledge that I am the Lord their God. I will give 32 them a heart and an attentive ear. •They will sing my praises in the country 33 of their exile, they will remember my name; •they will not be stubborn any more, but, remembering what became of their ancestors who sinned in the sight 34 of the Lord, will turn from their evil deeds. •Then I will bring them back to the land I promised on oath to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and make them 35 masters in it. I will increase their number: they shall not dwindle. •And I will make an everlasting covenant with them; I will be their God and they shall be my people. And I will never again drive my people Israel out of the land that I have given them.'

1 3 Almighty Lord, God of Israel, a soul in anguish, a troubled heart now cries
2 to you: •Listen and have pity, Lord, for we have sinned in your sight. •You 3 sit enthroned for ever, while we perish continually. •Almighty Lord, God of 4 Israel, hear the prayer of the dead of Israel,<sup>a</sup> of the sons of those who have sinned against you and have not listened to the voice of the Lord their God, 5 hence the disasters that have seized on us. •Do not call to mind the misdeeds
6 of our ancestors, but remember instead your power and your name. •You are 7 indeed the Lord our God and we long to praise you, Lord, •since you have put respect for you in our hearts to encourage us to call on your name. We long to praise you in our exile, for we have emptied our hearts of the evil inclin-8 ations of our ancestors who sinned against you. •Look on us today, still in exile where you have dispersed us as something execrable, accursed, condemned, in punishment for all the misdeeds of our ancestors who had abandoned the Lord our God.

WISDOM, THE PREROGATIVE OF ISRAEL

Listen, Israel, to commands that bring life;	9 hear, and learn what knowledge means.
Why, Israel, why are you in the country of your enemies,	10 growing older and older in an alien land, sharing defilement with the dead,	11 reckoned with those who go to Sheol?
Because you have forsaken the fountain of wisdom.	12
Had you walked in the way of God,	13
you would have lived in peace for ever.
Learn where knowledge is, where strength,	14
where understanding, and so learn where length of days is, where life, where the light of the eyes and where peace.
But who has found out where she lives,	15
who has entered her treasure house?
Where now are the leaders of the nations	16
and those who ruled even the beasts of earth, who had the birds of heaven at their beck and call,	17 who accumulated silver and gold on which mankind relies,
and whose possessions had no limits,
those who displayed such artistry in silver	18
that their masterpieces beggar imagination?
They have vanished, gone down to Sheol.	19
Others have risen to their places,
more recent generations have seen the day	20
and peopled the earth in their turn:
but the way of knowledge is something they have not known,
they have not recognised the paths she treads.	21
Nor have their sons had any grasp of her, remaining far from her way.
Nothing has been heard of her in Canaan,	22
nothing has been seen of her in Teman;
the sons of Hagar in search of worldly wisdom,	23
the merchants of Midian and Tema, the tale-spinners and the philosophers have none of them found the way to wisdom, or discovered the paths she treads.
How great, Israel, is the house of God,	24
how wide his domain, immeasurably wide,	25
infinitely lofty!
In it were born the giants, famous to us from antiquity,	26 immensely tall, expert in war;
God's choice did not fall on these,	27
he did not reveal the way to knowledge to them;
they perished for lack of wisdom,	28
perished in their own folly.
Who has ever climbed the sky and caught her	29
to bring her down from the clouds?
Who has ever crossed the ocean and found her	30
to bring her back in exchange for the finest gold?

31 No one knows the way to her,
no one can discover the path she treads.

32 But the One who knows all knows her,
he has grasped her with his own intellect, he has set the earth firm for ever and filled it with four-footed beasts,

33 he sends the light—and it goes,
he recalls it—and trembling it obeys;
34 the stars shine joyfully at their set times:
35 when he calls them, they answer, 'Here we are';
they gladly shine for their creator.

36 It is he who is our God,
no other can compare with him.

37 He has grasped the whole way of knowledge, and confided it to his servant Jacob,
to Israel his well-beloved;

38 so causing her to appear on earth and move among men.

1 4 This is the book of the commandments of God,
the Law that stands for ever;
those who keep her live,
those who desert her die.

2 Turn back, Jacob, seize her,
in her radiance make your way to light:

3 do not yield your glory to another,
your privilege to a people not your own.

4 Israel, blessed are we:
what pleases God has been revealed to us.

THE COMPLAINTS AND HOPES OF JERUSALEM

5 Take courage, my people, constant reminder of Israel."

6 You were sold to the nations, but not for extermination.
You provoked God;
and so were delivered to your enemies,

7 since you had angered your creator
by offering sacrifices to demons, not to God.

8 You had forgotten the eternal God who reared you.
You had also grieved Jerusalem who nursed you, 9 for when she saw the anger fall on you from God, she said:

Listen, you neighbours of Zion:
God has sent me great sorrow.

10 I have seen my sons and daughters taken into captivity,
to which they have been sentenced by the Eternal.

11 I had reared them joyfully;
in tears, in sorrow, I watched them go away.

12 Do not, any of you, exult over me, a widow, deserted by so many;
I suffer loneliness because of the sins of my own children,

4 a. i.e., of Jacob.

who turned away from the Law of God, who did not want to know his injunctions, 13
 and would not follow the ways of his precepts, or tread the paths of discipline as his justice directed.
 Let them come here, those neighbours of Zion. 14
 Let me remind you of the captivity of my sons and daughters
 to which they have been sentenced by the Eternal:
 how he brought a distant nation down on them, 15
 a ruthless nation speaking a foreign language, having neither respect for the aged,
 nor pity for the child;
 they carried off the widow's cherished sons, 16
 they left her quite alone, bereft of her daughters.
 For my part, how can I help you? 17
 He who brought those disasters down on you, 18
 he is the one to deliver you from the hands of your enemies.
 Go, my children, go your way! 19
 I must stay bereft and lonely;
 I have taken off the clothes of peacetime, 20
 and put on the sackcloth of entreaty;
 I will cry to the Eternal all my life.
 Take courage, my children, call on God: 21
 he will deliver you from tyranny, from the hands of your enemies;
 for I look to the Eternal for your rescue, 22 and joy has come to me from the Holy One at the mercy soon to reach you from your saviour, the Eternal.
 In sorrow and tears I watched you go away, 23
 but God will give you back to me in joy and gladness for ever.
 As the neighbours of Zion now witness your captivity, 24
 so will they soon see you rescued by God, who will intervene, in the great glory and splendour of the Eternal.
 My children, patiently bear the anger brought on you by God. 25
 Your enemy has persecuted you, but soon you will witness his destruction and set your foot on his neck.
 My favourite children have travelled by rough roads, 26 carried off like a flock by a marauding enemy.
 Take courage, my children, call on God: 27
 he who brought disaster on you will remember you.
 As by your will you first strayed away from God, 28
 so now turn back and search for him ten times as hard;
 for as he brought down those disasters on you, 29
 so will he rescue you and give you eternal joy.

Take courage, Jerusalem: 30
 he who gave you that name will console you.
 Trouble will come to all who have ill-treated you 31
 and gloated over your fall.
 Trouble will come to the cities where your children were slaves; 32 trouble will come to the city which received your sons, for just as she rejoiced at your fall 33
 and was happy to see you ruined,
 so shall she grieve over her own desolation.
 I will deprive her of that joy known to populous cities, 34 her boasting shall be turned into mourning,

- 35 fire from the Eternal will burn in her for many a day and demons will dwell in her for ages.
- 36 Jerusalem, turn your eyes to the east,
see the joy that is coming to you from God.
- 37 Look, the sons you watched go away are on their way home;
reassembled from east and west, they are on their way home at the command of the Holy One, jubilant at the glory of God.
- 1 5 Jerusalem, take off your dress of sorrow and distress, put on the beauty of the glory of God for ever,
2 wrap the cloak of the integrity of God around you, put the diadem of the glory of the Eternal on your head:
3 since God means to show your splendour to every nation under heaven, 4 since the name God gives you for ever will be,
'Peace through integrity, and honour through devotedness'.
5 Arise, Jerusalem, stand on the heights and turn your eyes to the east:
see your sons reassembled from west and east at the command of the Holy One, jubilant that God has remembered them.
- 6 Though they left you on foot,
with enemies for an escort,
now God brings them back to you like royal princes carried back in glory.
- 7 For God has decreed the flattening of each high mountain, of the everlasting hills,
the filling of the valleys to make the ground level
so that Israel can walk in safety under the glory of God.
8 And the forests and every fragrant tree will provide shade for Israel at the command of God; 9 for God will guide Israel in joy by the light of his glory with his mercy and integrity for escort.

THE LETTER OF JEREMIAH

A copy of the letter which Jeremiah sent to those about to be led captive to Babylon by the king of the Babylonians, to inform them of the instructions which God had given him.

- 1 6 Because of the sins you have committed before God you are to be deported
2 to Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar king of the Babylonians. •Once you have reached Babylon you will stay there for many years, as long as seven generations; 3 after which I shall bring you home in peace. •Now in Babylon you will see gods made of silver, of gold, of wood, being carried shoulder-high, and filling 4 the pagans with fear. •Be on your guard. Do not imitate the foreigners, do not 5 have any fear of their gods •as you watch their worshippers flocking before and behind them. Instead, say in your hearts, 'Master, it is you that we have to 6 worship'. •For my angel is with you; your lives will be in his care.
- 7 Plated with gold and silver, their tongues polished smooth by a craftsman, 8 they are counterfeit and have no power to speak. •As though for a girl fond of finery, these pagans take gold and make crowns for the heads of their gods.
9 Sometimes, the priests actually filch gold and silver from their gods to spend 10 themselves, even using it on presents for the temple prostitutes. •They dress up these gods of silver, gold and wood, in clothes, like human beings, although they cannot protect themselves either from tarnish or woodworm, 11 in spite of the purple cloaks they drape them in. Their faces even have to be dusted, owing to the dust of the temple which settles thick on them. •One holds 12 a sceptre like the governor of a province, yet is powerless to put anyone who offends him to death; •another holds sword and axe in his right hand, yet is 13 powerless to defend himself against war or thieves. •From this it is evident that 14 they are not gods; do not be afraid of them.

Just as a pot in common use becomes useless once it is broken, so are these 15 gods enshrined inside their temples. •Their eyes are full of dust raised by the 16 feet of those who enter. •Just as the doors are locked on all sides on the man 17 who has offended the king and is under sentence of death, so the priests secure the temples of these gods with gates and bolts and bars for fear of burglary.
 They light more lamps than for themselves, and the gods cannot see one of them. 18
 They are like one of the temple beams, gnawed away from within, so they say, 19 by termites which creep out of the ground and eat them, and their fine clothes too. They are unaware •that their faces are blackened by the smoke that rises 20 from the temple. •Bats, swallows, birds of every kind flutter over their bodies 21 and heads, and cats prowls there. •From all this you can see for yourselves that 22
 they are not gods: do not be afraid of them.

The gold with which they are plated is fine enough to look at, but if someone 23 does not rub off the tarnish, these gods will not do much shining on their own.
 They felt nothing while they were being cast. •However much was paid for them, 24
 there is still no breath of life in them. •Being unable to walk, they have to be carried 25 on men's shoulders, which shows how futile they are. It is humiliating for their worshippers, too, who have to stand them up again if they fall over. •Once they 26 have been stood up, they cannot move on their own; if they tilt askew, they cannot right themselves; offerings made to them might as well be made to dead men. •Whatever is sacrificed to them, the priests re-sell and pocket the profit; 27 while their wives salt down part of it, but give nothing to the poor or to the helpless. As to the sacrifices themselves, why, women during their periods and women in childbed are not afraid to touch them! •As you can see from these 28 examples that they are not gods, do not be afraid of them.

Indeed, how can they even be called gods, when women do the offering 29 to these gods of silver, gold and wood? •In their temples, the priests stay sitting 30 down, their garments torn, heads and beard shaved and with heads uncovered; they roar and shriek before their gods as people do at funeral feasts. •The 31 priests take the robes of the gods to clothe their own wives and children. •Whether 32 these gods are treated badly or well, they are incapable of paying back either 33 treatment; as incapable too of making or unmaking kings, •equally incapable 34 of distributing wealth or money. If anyone fails to honour a vow he has made to them, they cannot call him to account. •They can neither save a man from 35 death nor rescue the weak from the strong, •nor restore sight to the blind, nor 36 save someone in trouble, •nor take pity on a widow, nor be generous to an 37 orphan. •These wooden gods plated with gold and silver are about as much 38 use as rocks cut out of the mountain side. Humiliation awaits their worshippers.
 So how can anyone think or say that they are gods? 39

The Chaldaeans themselves do them no honour; if they find someone who 40 is dumb and cannot speak, they present him to Bel, entreating him for the gift of speech, as if he could hear them! •And they are incapable of drawing the 41 conclusion and abandoning those gods—such is their lack of commonsense.
 Women with strings round their waists sit in the streets, burning bran like incense; 42 when one of these has been picked up by a passer-by and been to bed with him, 43 she then twits her neighbour for not being singled out and for not having her string broken. •Everything going on anywhere near these gods is spurious. 44
 So how can anyone think or say that they are gods?

Made by woodworkers and goldsmiths, they are only what those workmen 45 decide to make them. •The makers have not long to live themselves, so how can 46
 the things they make be gods? •Their legacy to their descendants is nothing but 47

48 illusion and disappointment. •If war or disasters occur, the priests discuss where 49 best to hide themselves and these gods; •how can anyone fail to realise that they are not gods, if they cannot save themselves from war or from disasters?
50 And since in any case they are only made of wood plated with gold or silver, it must be obvious from all this that they are spurious; and plain to everyone, to nations as to kings, that they are not gods but the work of human hands, and 51 that there is no divine activity in them. •Can there be anyone still unconvinced that they are not gods?

52 They can neither appoint a king over a country, nor give rain to mankind, 53 nor regulate their own affairs, nor rescue anyone who suffers a wrong; they are 54 as helpless as crows between sky and ground. •If fire falls on the temple of these wooden gods plated with gold or silver, their priests fly to safety while they for 55 their part stay there like beams, to be burnt. •They cannot put up any resistance to a king or to enemies. •So how can anyone think or say that they are gods?

57 These wooden gods plated with gold or silver cannot evade thieves or marauders; violent men may rob them of their gold and silver and make off with the robes they are dressed in; yet they are powerless to help even themselves.
58 Better to be a king displaying his prowess, a household pot of use to its owner, than to be these false gods; or merely the door of a house, protecting what is inside, than these false gods; or a wooden pillar in a palace than these false gods.
59 The sun, the moon and the stars, which shine and have been given work to do, 60 are obedient; •similarly, the lightning, as it flashes, is a fine sight; in the same 61 way, the wind blows across every country, •the clouds execute the order God gives them to pass over the whole earth, and the fire, sent from above to consume 62 mountain and forest, carries out its orders. •Now these gods are not their 63 equal, either in beauty or in power. •So, no one can think or say that they are gods, powerless as they are to administer justice or to do men any good.
64 Therefore, knowing that they are not gods, do not be afraid of them.

67 better off than they are, being able to make for cover and look after themselves.
68 There is not the slightest shred of evidence that they are gods; do not be afraid of them!

69 Their wooden gods plated with gold and silver are like a scarecrow in a melon 70 patch—protecting nothing. •Again, their wooden gods plated with gold and silver are like a thornbush in a garden—any bird may perch on it—or like 71 a corpse thrown into the dark. •From the purple and fine linen rotting on their backs you will recognise that they are not gods; and in the end, eaten away 72 themselves, they will be a disgrace to the country. •Better, then, a virtuous man who has no idols; disgrace will never come near him.

THE NEW TESTAMENT

A

THE FOUNDATIONS OF THE CHRISTIAN FAITH

The most widely accepted date for the Crucifixion and Resurrection of Jesus Christ is A.D. 30. Yet it is very probable that the earliest part of the collection of writings which form the New Testament did not appear in the form in which we now know it until about A.D. 50. This means that there was a gap of something like twenty years, nearly a full generation, between the earthly ministry of Jesus Christ and the first written references to it in the New Testament. Furthermore, the first of the four Gospels did not reach the form in which we now have it until at least thirty-five years after the death of Jesus. So far as we know, Jesus himself left nothing in writing, and the earliest development of Christianity was based on oral traditions.

During the first period of its existence the Christian faith was transmitted by personal testimony, and those who became Christians gained their impressions of Jesus by direct contact with people who were already his followers. At first the new movement would hardly have been distinguishable from Judaism, which inspired a remarkably wide range of groups and institutions. The Temple and its worship, the Old Testament, the synagogues, and the rich religious concepts of Judaism were the natural medium in which the first Christians expressed their faith. But at the centre of the new group, the infant Church, were the men and women who had been with Jesus throughout his public ministry, and who had been witnesses of the Crucifixion and Resurrection.

In his ministry Jesus had concentrated to a very large extent (if the Gospels are at all accurate) on the education of the group of men whom he had gathered about him, and on preparing them for the responsibilities they would have to accept after the death of their Master. These men, the Apostles, were the foundations on which the new community was built. When one of their number committed suicide because he had been deeply involved in the arrest of Jesus by the Jewish authorities, he was replaced by one who had also been with the group from the beginning. Direct contact with Jesus, and being able to confirm that he was risen from the dead, were vital qualifications.

This intimate experience of living with Jesus for nearly three years, and of contact with him after his Resurrection, was confirmed and illuminated by the Apostles' experiences at Pentecost. By the power of the Spirit they were able to speak boldly and openly about the man whom they had followed; they were able to withstand opposition and suspicion from the Jewish leaders; and they were able to be the leaders of the new community of people who accepted Jesus Christ as their living Lord. The complex experience of living with Jesus, seeing him in action and listening to his teaching, fell into a clear pattern, and the Apostles were able to realise the significance of his earthly ministry and of his Crucifixion and Resurrection. In the years that followed this new understanding would be tested in their everyday lives, and they and their fellow Christians would realise that they were experiencing the same power, active amongst them, as they had known during the years when Jesus had been their visible leader.

A process such as this is the background for the Apostles' preaching. The structure of their preaching can be found in the reports of their sermons in the early chapters of the Acts of the Apostles. They told their audience that God's relationships with his world during the Old Testament period formed a pattern which had reached its climax in the life of Jesus Christ; the long, rich, Jewish experience of God was confirmed in everything that Jesus did or said. God's active involvement in the world he had made, drawing it back to himself, reached its perfection and its final stage in the Crucifixion and Resurrection, and so Christ's return to the Father was as Lord of Creation in an entirely new way. Through the Holy Spirit, this power of Christ was shared by the Christian community, and those who wished to draw on this power must renounce everything which hindered their new relationship with God and accept baptism. Their opportunity to respond to God's love was all too short, for soon God would bring the whole process to its completion in the second coming of Jesus Christ to judge the whole creation.

The evidence which the Apostles selected from the actions and teaching of Jesus, to support their preaching and to elucidate it, was to grow into the Gospels. The Gospels as we know them are material about Jesus Christ, selected, arranged and even, perhaps, expanded, with the pattern of the apostolic preaching as its basic framework.

During those early years of oral tradition it is safe to speculate that summaries of belief about Jesus emerged, which could be taught to converts or used within the context of worship as hymns or formulae. It would be rash to be too confident, but there are places where such summaries seem to be quoted in the letters of the New Testament, and some of these passages are given in the pages that follow: Galatians 1:3-4; Romans 10:8b-9; Romans 1:1b-4; and 1 Timothy 3:16. Then follow three of the sermons quoted by Luke in the Acts of the Apostles: Acts 2:22-39; Acts 3:13-26; and Acts 10:36-43. It is possible that these descriptions of preaching were invented by Luke, and strictly speaking it cannot be proved otherwise, but undoubtedly these sermons throw much light on the early stages of Christian belief, beyond which Luke himself had long passed. The next section contains passages which many scholars think were originally hymns used at the eucharistic meetings or, in the case of 1 Peter, at baptism: Colossians 1:15-20; Philippians 2:6-11; 1 Peter 1:3-5; 2:22-25a and 3:18-22. The Gospels contain many incidents from the life of Jesus. Twice in 1 Corinthians Paul quotes two of these which he had been taught himself (whether 'from the Lord', in the first passage, means without human mediation, is an open question, but it seems unlikely). The passages are 1 Corinthians 11:23-25 and 15:3-7. Finally, there is the most difficult section to assemble or illustrate, the collections of material about Jesus. That such collections existed, and were later used by the Gospel writers, is hardly to be doubted, particularly when the first three of the Gospels are analysed and compared. But it is impossible to say with any real confidence exactly what these collections contained. The examples given below are not collections of material which actually existed before the Gospels were written, they are only sections of two of the Gospels extracted to show what such collections might have contained. They consist of a collection of material typical of the teaching of Jesus, Matthew 5-7; a group of parables, Matthew 13:4-50; a collection of miracles, Matthew 8:1-17, 23-9:8, 18-23; material about the official opposition to Jesus, Matthew 23:1-33; the description of the Passion, Crucifixion and Resurrection (which was probably the first part of the Gospel to reach a fixed form), Mark 14:12-16:8; and material about the final end of the creation in the manifestation of Christ's supreme glory, Mark 13:5-37.

EARLY CHRISTIAN TRADITIONS

Summaries of the Christian Faith

GALATIANS 1:3-4

We wish you the grace and peace of God our Father and of the Lord Jesus Christ, who in order to rescue us from this present wicked world sacrificed himself for our sins, in accordance with the will of God our Father.

ROMANS 10:8b-9

The word, that is the faith we proclaim, is very near to you, it is on your lips and in your heart. If your lips confess that Jesus is Lord and if you believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, then you will be saved.

. . . the Good News that God promised long ago through his prophets in the scriptures.

This news is about the Son of God who, according to the human nature he took, was a descendant of David: it is about Jesus Christ our Lord who, in the order of the spirit, the spirit of holiness that was in him, was proclaimed Son of God in all his power through his resurrection from the dead.

I TIMOTHY 3:16

He was made visible in the flesh,
attested by the Spirit,
seen by angels,
proclaimed to the pagans,
believed in by the world,
taken up in glory.

Examples of the Apostolic Preaching

ACTS 2:22-39

'Men of Israel, listen to what I am going to say: Jesus the Nazarene was a man commended to you by God by the miracles and portents and signs that God worked through him when he was among you, as you all know. This man, who was put into your power by the deliberate intention and foreknowledge of God, you took and had crucified by men outside the Law.<sup>1</sup> You killed him, but God raised him to life, freeing him from the pangs of Hades; for it was impossible for him to be held in its power since, as David says of him:

*I saw the Lord before me always,
for with him at my right hand nothing can shake me.
So my heart was glad
and my tongue cried out with joy;
my body, too, will rest in the hope that you will not abandon my soul to Hades
nor allow your holy one to experience corruption.
You have made known the way of life to me,
you will fill me with gladness through your presence.<sup>2</sup>*

'Brothers, no one can deny that the patriarch David himself is dead and buried: his tomb is still with us. But since he was a prophet, and knew that God had sworn him an oath to make one of his descendants succeed him on the throne,<sup>3</sup> what he foresaw and spoke about was the resurrection of the Christ: he is the one who was not abandoned to Hades, and whose body did not experience corruption. God raised this man Jesus to life, and all of us are witnesses to that. Now raised to the heights by God's right hand, he has received from the Father the Holy Spirit, who was promised, and what you see and hear is the outpouring of that Spirit. For David himself never went up to heaven; and yet these words are his:

*The Lord said to my Lord:
Sit at my right hand
until I make your enemies
a footstool for you.<sup>4</sup>*

'For this reason the whole House of Israel can be certain that God has made this Jesus whom you crucified both Lord and Christ.'

Hearing this, they were cut to the heart and said to Peter and the apostles, 'What must we do, brothers?' 'You must repent,' Peter answered 'and every one of you must be baptised in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins, and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. The promise that was made is for you and your children, and for all those who are far away, for all those whom the Lord our God will call to himself.<sup>5</sup>

You are Israelites, and it is the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, the God of our ancestors, who has glorified his servant<sup>6</sup> Jesus, the same Jesus you handed over and then disowned in the presence of Pilate after Pilate had decided to release him. It was you who accuse the Holy One, the Just One, you who demanded the reprieve of a murderer while you killed the prince of life. God, however, raised him from the dead, and to that fact we are the witnesses; and it is the name of Jesus which, through our faith in it, has brought back the strength of this man whom you see here and who is well known to you. It is faith in that name that has restored this man to health, as you can all see.

'Now I know, brothers, that neither you nor your leaders had any idea what you were really doing; this was the way God carried out what he had foretold, when he said through all his prophets that his Christ would suffer. Now you must repent and turn to God, so that your sins may be wiped out, and so that the Lord may send the time of comfort. Then he will send you the Christ he has predestined, that is Jesus, whom heaven must keep till the universal restoration comes which God proclaimed, speaking through his holy prophets. Moses, for example, said: The Lord God will raise up a prophet like myself for you, from among your own brothers; you must listen to whatever he tells you. The man who does not listen to that prophet is to be cut off from the people.<sup>7</sup> In fact, all the prophets that have ever spoken, from Samuel onwards, have predicted these days.

'You are the heirs of the prophets, the heirs of the covenant God made with our ancestors when he told Abraham: in your offspring all the families of the earth will be blessed.<sup>8</sup> It was for you in the first place that God raised up his servant and sent him to bless you by turning every one of you from your wicked ways.'

'It is true, God sent his word to the people of Israel, and it was to them that the good news of peace was brought<sup>9</sup> by Jesus Christ—but Jesus Christ is Lord of all men. You must have heard about the recent happenings in Judaea; about Jesus of Nazareth and how he began in Galilee, after John had been preaching baptism. God had anointed him with the Holy Spirit<sup>10</sup> and with power, and because God was with him, Jesus went about doing good and curing all who had fallen into the power of the devil. Now I, and those with me, can witness to everything he did throughout the countryside of Judaea and in Jerusalem itself: and also to the fact that they killed him by hanging him on a tree, yet three days afterwards God raised him to life and allowed him to be seen, not by the whole people but only by certain witnesses God had chosen beforehand. Now we are those witnesses—we have eaten and drunk with him after his resurrection from the dead—and he has ordered us to proclaim this to his people and to tell them that God has appointed him to judge everyone, alive or dead. It is to him that all the prophets bear this witness: that all who believe in Jesus will have their sins forgiven through his name.'

Early Christian Hymns

COLOSSIANS 1:15-20

Christ is the head of all creation

He is the image of the unseen God
and the first-born of all creation,
for in him were created
all things in heaven and on earth:
everything visible and everything invisible,
Thrones, Dominations, Sovereignities, Powers—
all things were created through him and for him.
Before anything was created, he existed,
and he holds all things in unity.
Now the Church is his body,
he is its head.

As he is the Beginning,
he was first to be born from the dead,
so that he should be first in every way;
because God wanted all perfection
to be found in him
and all things to be reconciled through him and for him, everything in heaven and everything on earth,
when he made peace
by his death on the cross.

PHILIPPIANS 2:6-11

His state was divine,
yet he did not cling
to his equality with God
but emptied himself
to assume the condition of a slave,
and became as men are;
and being as all men are,
he was humbler yet,
even to accepting death,
death on a cross.
But God raised him high
and gave him the name
which is above all other names
so that all beings
in the heavens, on earth and in the underworld, should bend the knee at the name of Jesus
and that every tongue should acclaim
Jesus Christ as Lord,
to the glory of God the Father.

I PETER 1:3-5

Blessed be God the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who in his great mercy has given us a new birth as his sons, by raising Jesus Christ from the dead, so that we have a sure hope and the promise of an inheritance that can never be spoilt or soiled and never fade away, because it is being kept for you in the heavens. Through your faith, God's power will guard you until the salvation which has been prepared is revealed at the end of time.

I PETER 2:22-25a

He had not done anything wrong, and there had been no perjury in his mouth. He was insulted and did not retaliate with insults; when he was tortured he made no threats but he put his trust in the righteous judge. He was bearing our faults in his own body on the cross, so that we might die to our faults and live for holiness; through his wounds you have been healed.

I PETER 3:18-22

Why, Christ himself, innocent though he was, had died once for sins, died for the guilty, to lead us to God. In the body he was put to death, in the spirit he was raised to life, and, in the spirit, he went to preach to the spirits in prison. Now it was long ago, when Noah was still building that ark which saved only a small group of eight people 'by water', and when God was still waiting patiently, that these spirits refused to believe. That water is a type of the baptism which saves you now, and which is not the washing off of physical dirt but a pledge made to God from a good conscience, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, who has entered heaven and is at God's right hand, now that he has made the angels and Dominations and Powers his subjects.

Two Incidents from the Life of Jesus

I CORINTHIANS 11:23-25

For this is what I received from the Lord, and in turn passed on to you: that on the same night that he was betrayed, the Lord Jesus took some bread, and thanked God for it and broke it, and he said, 'This is my body, which is for you; do this as a memorial of me'. In the same way he took the cup after supper, and said, 'This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Whenever you drink it, do this as a memorial of me.'

I CORINTHIANS 15:3-7

Well then, in the first place, I taught you what I had been taught myself, namely that Christ died for our sins, in accordance with the scriptures; that he was buried; and that he was raised to life on the third day, in accordance with the scriptures; that he appeared first to Cephas and secondly to the Twelve. Next he appeared to more than five hundred of the brothers at the same time, most of whom are still alive, though some have died; then he appeared to James, and then to all the apostles.

Collections of Material about Jesus

A COLLECTION OF TEACHING MATERIAL

MATTHEW 5-7

The Beatitudes

Seeing the crowds, he went up the hill. There he sat down and was joined by his disciples. Then he began to speak. This is what he taught them:

‘How happy are the poor in spirit;
theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
Happy the gentle.<sup>1</sup>
they shall have the earth for their heritage.
Happy those who mourn:
they shall be comforted.
Happy those who hunger and thirst for what is right:
they shall be satisfied
Happy the merciful:
they shall have mercy shown them.
Happy the pure in heart:
they shall see God.
Happy the peacemakers:
they shall be called sons of God.
Happy those who are persecuted in the cause of right:
theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

‘Happy are you when people abuse you and persecute you and speak all kinds of calumny against you on my account. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward will be great in heaven; this is how they persecuted the prophets before you.

Salt of the earth and light of the world

'You are the light of the world. A city built on a hill-top cannot be hidden. No one lights a lamp to put it under a tub; they put it on the lamp-stand where it shines for everyone in the house. In the same way your light must shine in the sight of men, so that, seeing your good works, they may give the praise to your Father in heaven.

The fulfilment of the Law

'Do not imagine that I have come to abolish the Law or the Prophets. I have come not to abolish but to complete them. I tell you solemnly, till heaven and earth disappear, not one dot, not one little stroke, shall disappear from the Law until its purpose is achieved. Therefore, the man who infringes even one of the least of these commandments and teaches others to do the same will be considered the least in the kingdom of heaven; but the man who keeps them and teaches them will be considered great in the kingdom of heaven.

The new standard higher than the old

'For I tell you, if your virtue goes no deeper than that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never get into the kingdom of heaven.

'You have learnt how it was said to our ancestors: You must not kill;<sup>2</sup> and if anyone does kill he must answer for it before the court. But I say this to you: anyone who is angry with his brother will answer for it before the court; if a man calls his brother "Fool"<sup>3</sup> he will answer for it before the Sanhedrin;<sup>4</sup> and if a man calls him "Renegade"<sup>5</sup> he will answer for it in hell fire. So then, if you are bringing your offering to the altar and there remember that your brother has something against you, leave your offering there before the altar, go and be reconciled with your brother first, and then come back and present your offering. Come to terms with your opponent in good time while you are still on the way to the court with him, or he may hand you over to the judge and the judge to the officer, and you will be thrown into prison. I tell you solemnly, you will not get out till you have paid the last penny.

'You have learnt how it was said: You must not commit adultery.<sup>6</sup> But I say this to you: if a man looks at a woman lustfully, he has already committed adultery with her in his heart. If your right eye should cause you to sin, tear it out and throw it away; for it will do you less harm to lose one part of you than to have your whole body thrown into hell. And if your right hand should cause you to sin, cut it off and throw it away; for it will do you less harm to lose one part of you than to have your whole body go to hell.

'It has also been said: Anyone who divorces his wife must give her a writ of dismissal.<sup>7</sup> But I say this to you: everyone who divorces his wife, except for the case of fornication, makes her an adulteress; and anyone who marries a divorced woman commits adultery.

'Again, you have learnt how it was said to our ancestors: You must not break your oath, but must fulfil your oaths to the Lord.<sup>8</sup> But I say this to you: do not swear at all, either by heaven, since that is God's throne; or by the earth, since that is his footstool; or by Jerusalem, since that is the city of the great king. Do not swear by your own head either, since you cannot turn a single hair white or black. All you need say is “Yes” if you mean yes, “No” if you mean no; anything more than this comes from the evil one.

‘You have learnt how it was said: Eye for eye and tooth for tooth.<sup>9</sup> But I say this to you: offer the wicked man no resistance. On the contrary, if anyone hits you on the right cheek, offer him the other as well; if a man takes you to law and would have your tunic, let him have your cloak as well. And if anyone orders you to go one mile, go two miles with him. Give to anyone who asks, and if anyone wants to borrow, do not turn away.

‘You have learnt how it was said: You must love your neighbour and hate your enemy.<sup>10</sup> But I say this to you: love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you; in this way you will be sons of your Father in heaven, for he causes his sun to rise on bad men as well as good, and his rain to fall on honest and dishonest men alike. For if you love those who love you, what right have you to claim any credit? Even the tax collectors<sup>11</sup> do as much, do they not? And if you save your greetings for your brothers, are you doing anything exceptional? Even the pagans do as much, do they not? You must therefore be perfect just as your heavenly Father is perfect.

Almsgiving in secret

‘Be careful not to parade your good deeds before men to attract their notice; by doing this you will lose all reward from your Father in heaven. So when you give alms, do not have it trumpeted before you; this is what the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets to win men’s admiration. I tell you solemnly, they have had their reward. But when you give alms, your left hand must not know what your right is doing; your almsgiving must be secret, and your Father who sees all that is done in secret will reward you.

Prayer in secret

‘And when you pray, do not imitate the hypocrites: they love to say their prayers standing up in the synagogues and at the street corners for people to see them. I tell you solemnly, they have had their reward. But when you pray, go to your private room and, when you have shut your door, pray<sup>12</sup> to your Father who is in that secret place, and your Father who sees all that is done in secret will reward you.

How to pray. The Lord’s Prayer

‘In your prayers do not babble as the pagans do, for they think that by using many words they will make themselves heard. Do not be

<sup>10</sup> The quotation is from Lv 19:18; the second part of this commandment, not in the written Law, is an Aramic way of saying ‘You do not have to love your enemy’.

like them; your Father knows what you need before you ask him. So you should pray like this:

‘Our Father in heaven,
may your name be held holy,
your kingdom come,
your will be done,
on earth as in heaven.
Give us today our daily bread.
And forgive us our debts,
as we have forgiven those who are in debt to us.
And do not put us to the test,
but save us from the evil one.

Yes, if you forgive others their failings, your heavenly Father will forgive you yours; but if you do not forgive others, your Father will not forgive your failings either.

Fasting in secret

‘When you fast do not put on a gloomy look as the hypocrites do: they pull long faces to let men know they are fasting. I tell you solemnly, they have had their reward. But when you fast, put oil on your head and wash your face, so that no one will know you are fasting except your Father who sees all that is done in secret; and your Father who sees all that is done in secret will reward you.

True treasures

‘Do not store up treasures for yourselves on earth, where moths and woodworms destroy them and thieves can break in and steal. But store up treasures for yourselves in heaven, where neither moth nor woodworms destroy them and thieves cannot break in and steal. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

The eye, the lamp of the body

‘The lamp of the body is the eye. It follows that if your eye is sound, your whole body will be filled with light. But if your eye is diseased, your whole body will be all darkness. If then, the light inside you is darkness, what darkness that will be!

God and money

‘No one can be the slave of two masters: he will either hate the first and love the second, or treat the first with respect and the second with scorn. You cannot be the slave both of God and of money.

Trust in Providence

‘That is why I am telling you not to worry about your life and what you are to eat, nor about your body and how you are to clothe it. Surely life means more than food, and the body more than clothing! Look at the birds in the sky. They do not sow or reap or gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not worth much more than they are? Can any of you, for all his worrying, add one single cubit to his span of life? And why worry about clothing? Think of the flowers growing in the fields; they never have to work or spin; yet I assure you that not even Solomon in all his regalia was robed like one of these. Now if that is how God clothes the grass in the field which is there today and thrown into the furnace tomorrow, will he not much more look after you, you men of little faith? So do not worry; do not say, "What are we to eat? What are we to drink? How are we to be clothed?" It is the pagans who set their hearts on all these things. Your heavenly Father knows you need them all. Set your hearts on his kingdom first, and on his righteousness, and all these other things will be given you as well. So do not worry about tomorrow: tomorrow will take care of itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own.

Do not judge

'Do not judge, and you will not be judged; because the judgements you give are the judgements you will get, and the amount you measure out is the amount you will be given. Why do you observe the splinter in your brother's eye and never notice the plank in your own? How dare you say to your brother, "Let me take the splinter out of your eye", when all the time there is a plank in your own? Hypocrite! Take the plank out of your own eye first, and then you will see clearly enough to take the splinter out of your brother's eye.

Do not profane sacred things

'Do not give dogs what is holy;<sup>3</sup> and do not throw your pearls in front of pigs, or they may trample them and then turn on you and tear you to pieces.

Effective prayer

'Ask, and it will be given to you; search, and you will find; knock, and the door will be opened to you. For the one who asks always receives; the one who searches always finds; the one who knocks will always have the door opened to him. Is there a man among you who would hand his son a stone when he asked for bread? Or would hand him a snake when he asked for a fish? If you, then, who are evil, know how to give your children what is good, how much more will your Father in heaven give good things to those who ask him!

The golden rule

'So always treat others as you would like them to treat you; that is the meaning of the Law and the Prophets.

<sup>3</sup> The meat of animals which have been offered in sacrifice in the Temple; the application is to the parading of holy beliefs and practices in front of those who cannot understand them.

The two ways

'Enter by the narrow gate, since the road that leads to perdition is wide and spacious, and many take it; but it is a narrow gate and a hard road that leads to life, and only a few find it.

False prophets

'Beware of false prophets<sup>4</sup> who come to you disguised as sheep but underneath are ravenous wolves. You will be able to tell them by their fruits. Can people pick grapes from thorns, or figs from thistles? In the same way, a sound tree produces good fruit but a rotten tree bad fruit. A sound tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor a rotten tree bear good fruit. Any tree that does not produce good fruit is cut down and thrown on the fire. I repeat, you will be able to tell them by their fruits.

The true disciple

'It is not those who say to me, "Lord, Lord", who will enter the kingdom of heaven, but the person who does the will of my Father in heaven. When the day<sup>5</sup> comes many will say to me, "Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, cast out demons in your name, work many miracles in your name?" Then I shall tell them to their faces: I have never known you; away from me, you evil men!'

'Therefore, everyone who listens to these words of mine and acts on them will be like a sensible man who built his house on rock. Rain came down, floods rose, gales blew and hurled themselves against that house, and it did not fall: it was founded on rock. But everyone who listens to these words of mine and does not act on them will be like a stupid man who built his house on sand. Rain came down, floods rose, gales blew and struck that house, and it fell; and what a fall it had!

Jesus had now finished what he wanted to say, and his teaching made a deep impression on the people because he taught them with authority, and not like their own scribes.<sup>6</sup>

A COLLECTION OF PARABLES

MATTHEW 13:4-50

Parable of the sower

He said, 'Imagine a sower going out to sow. As he sowed, some seeds fell on the edge of the path, and the birds came and ate them up. Others fell on patches of rock where they found little soil and sprang up straight away, because there was no depth of earth; but as soon as the sun came up they were scorched and, not having any roots, they withered away. Others fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked them. Others fell on rich soil and produced their crop, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty. Listen, anyone who has ears!'

Why Jesus speaks in parables

Then the disciples went up to him and asked, 'Why do you talk to them in parables?' 'Because' he replied 'the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven are revealed to you, but they are not revealed to them. For anyone who has will be given more, and he will have more than enough; but from anyone who has not, even what he has will be taken away. The reason I talk to them in parables is that they look without seeing and listen without hearing or understanding. So in their case this prophecy of Isaiah is being fulfilled:

*You will listen and listen again, but not understand,
see and see again, but not perceive.
For the heart of this nation has grown coarse,
their ears are dull of hearing, and they have shut their eyes,
for fear they should see with their eyes,
hear with their ears,
understand with their heart,
and be converted
and be healed by me.<sup>1</sup>*

'But happy are your eyes because they see, your ears because they hear! I tell you solemnly, many prophets and holy men longed to see what you see, and never saw it; to hear what you hear, and never heard it.

The parable of the sower explained

'You, therefore, are to hear the parable of the sower. When anyone hears the word of the kingdom without understanding, the evil one comes and carries off what was sown in his heart: this is the man who received the seed on the edge of the path. The one who received it on patches of rock is the man who hears the word and welcomes it at once with joy. But he has no root in him, he does not last; let some trial come, or some persecution on account of the word, and he falls away at once. The one who received the seed in thorns is the man who hears the word, but the worries of this world and the lure of riches choke the word and so he produces nothing. And the one who received the seed in rich soil is the man who hears the word and understands it; he is the one who yields a harvest and produces now a hundredfold, now sixty, now thirty.'

Parable of the darnel

He put another parable before them, 'The kingdom of heaven may be compared to a man who sowed good seed in his field. While everybody was asleep his enemy came, sowed darnel all among the wheat, and made off. When the new wheat sprouted and ripened, the darnel appeared as well. The owner's servants went to him and said, "Sir, was it not good seed that you sowed in your field? If so, where does the darnel come from?" "Some enemy has done this" he answered. And the servants said, "Do you want us to go and weed it out?" But he said, "No, because when you weed out the darnel you might pull up the wheat with it. Let them both grow till the harvest; and at harvest time I shall say to the reapers: First collect the darnel and tie it in bundles to be burnt, then gather the wheat into my barn."'

Parable of the mustard seed

He put another parable before them, 'The kingdom of heaven is like a mustard seed which a man took and sowed in his field. It is the smallest of all the seeds, but when it has grown it is the biggest shrub of all and becomes a tree so that the birds of the air come and shelter in its branches.'

Parable of the yeast

He told them another parable, 'The kingdom of heaven is like the yeast a woman took and mixed in with three measures of flour till it was leavened all through'.

The people are taught only in parables

In all this Jesus spoke to the crowds in parables; indeed, he would never speak to them except in parables. This was to fulfil the prophecy:

*I will speak to you in parables
and expound things hidden since the foundation of the world.*<sup>2</sup>

The parable of the darnel explained

Then, leaving the crowds, he went to the house; and his disciples came to him and said, 'Explain the parable about the darnel in the field to us'. He said in reply, 'The sower of the good seed is the Son of Man. The field is the world; the good seed is the subjects of the kingdom; the darnel, the subjects of the evil one; the enemy who sowed them, the devil; the harvest is the end of the world; the reapers are the angels. Well then, just as the darnel is gathered up and burnt in the fire, so it will be at the end of time. The Son of Man will send his angels and they will gather out of his kingdom all things that provoke offences and all who do evil, and throw them into the blazing furnace, where there will be weeping and grinding of teeth. Then the virtuous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father.'<sup>3</sup> Listen, anyone who has ears!

Parables of the treasure and of the pearl

'The kingdom of heaven is like treasure hidden in a field which someone has found; he hides it again, goes off happy, sells everything he owns and buys the field.

'Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant looking for fine pearls; when he finds one of great value he goes and sells everything he owns and buys it.

Parable of the dragnet

'Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a dragnet cast into the sea that brings in a haul of all kinds. When it is full, the fishermen haul it ashore; then, sitting down, they collect the good ones in a basket and throw away those that are no use. This is how it will be at the end of time: the angels will appear and separate the wicked from the just to throw them into the blazing furnace where there will be weeping and grinding of teeth.

A COLLECTION OF TEN MIRACLES

MATTHEW 8:1-17, 23-9:8, 18-23

Cure of a leper

After he had come down from the mountain large crowds followed him. A leper now came up and bowed low in front of him. 'Sir,' he said 'if you want to, you can cure me.' Jesus stretched out his hand, touched him and said, 'Of course I want to! Be cured!' And his leprosy was cured at once. Then Jesus said to him, 'Mind you do not tell anyone, but go and show yourself to the priest and make the offering prescribed by Moses, as evidence for them'.

Cure of the centurion's servant

When he went into Capernaum a centurion came up and pleaded with him. 'Sir,' he said 'my servant is lying at home paralysed, and in great pain.' 'I will come myself and cure him' said Jesus. The centurion replied, 'Sir, I am not worthy to have you under my roof; just give the word and my servant will be cured. For I am under authority myself, and have soldiers under me; and I say to one man: Go, and he goes; to another: Come here, and he comes; to my servant: Do this, and he does it.' When Jesus heard this he was astonished and said to those following him, 'I tell you solemnly, nowhere in Israel have I found faith like this. And I tell you that many will come from east and west to take their places with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob at the feast in the kingdom of heaven; but the subjects of the kingdom will be turned out into the dark, where there will be weeping and grinding of teeth.' And to the centurion Jesus said, 'Go back, then; you have believed, so let this be done for you'. And the servant was cured at that moment.

Cure of Peter's mother-in-law

And going into Peter's house Jesus found Peter's mother-in-law in bed with fever. He touched her hand and the fever left her, and she got up and began to wait on him.

A number of cures

That evening they brought him many who were possessed by devils. He cast out the spirits with a word and cured all who were sick. This was to fulfil the prophecy of Isaiah:

He took our sicknesses away and carried our diseases for us.<sup>1</sup>

The calming of the storm

Then he got into the boat followed by his disciples. Without warning a storm broke over the lake, so violent that the waves were breaking right over the boat. But he was asleep. So they went to him and woke him saying, 'Save us, Lord, we are going down!' And he said to them, 'Why are you so frightened, you men of little faith?' And with that he stood up and rebuked the winds and the sea; and all was calm again. The men were astounded and said, 'Whatever kind of man is this? Even the winds and the sea obey him.'

The demoniacs of Gadara

When he reached the country of the Gadarenes on the other side, two demoniacs came towards him out of the tombs—creatures so fierce that no one could pass that way. They stood there shouting, 'What do you want with us, Son of God? Have you come here to torture us before the time?'<sup>2</sup> Now some distance away there was a large herd of pigs feeding, and the devils pleaded with Jesus, 'If you cast us out, send us into the herd of pigs'. And he said to them, 'Go then', and they came out and made for the pigs; and at that the whole herd charged down the cliff into the lake and perished in the water. The swineherds ran off and made for the town, where they told the whole story, including what had happened to the demoniacs. At this the whole town set out to meet Jesus; and as soon as they saw him they implored him to leave the neighbourhood.

Cure of a paralytic

He got back in the boat, crossed the water and came to his own town.<sup>3</sup> Then some people appeared, bringing him a paralytic stretched out on a bed. Seeing their faith, Jesus said to the paralytic, 'Courage, my child, your sins are forgiven'. And at this some scribes said to themselves, 'This man is blaspheming'. Knowing what was in their minds Jesus said, 'Why do you have such wicked thoughts in your hearts? Now, which of these is easier: to say, "Your sins are forgiven", or to say, "Get up and walk"? But to prove to you that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins,'—he said to the paralytic—'get up, and pick up your bed and go off home.' And the man got up and went home. A feeling of awe came over the crowd when they saw this, and they praised God for giving such power to men.

Cure of the woman with a haemorrhage. The official's daughter raised to life

While he was speaking to them, up came one of the officials, who bowed low in front of him and said, 'My daughter has just died, but come and lay your hand on her and her life will be saved'. Jesus rose and, with his disciples, followed him.

Then from behind him came a woman, who had suffered from a haemorrhage for twelve years, and she touched the fringe of his cloak, for she said to herself, 'If I can only touch his cloak I shall be well again'. Jesus turned round and saw her; and he said to her, 'Courage, my daughter, your faith has restored you to health'. And from that moment the woman was well again.

When Jesus reached the official's house and saw the flute-players, with the crowd making a commotion<sup>4</sup> he said, 'Get out of here; the little girl is not dead, she is asleep'. And they laughed at him. But when the people had been turned out he went inside and took the little girl by the hand; and she stood up. And the news spread all round the countryside.

Cure of two blind men

As Jesus went on his way two blind men followed him shouting, 'Take pity on us, Son of David'. And when Jesus reached the house the blind men came up with him and he said to them, 'Do you believe I can do this?' They said, 'Sir, we do'. Then he touched their eyes saying, 'Your faith deserves it, so let this be done for you'. And their sight returned. Then Jesus sternly warned them, 'Take care that no one learns about this'. But when they had gone, they talked about him all over the countryside.

Cure of a dumb demoniac

They had only just left when a man was brought to him, a dumb demoniac. And when the devil was cast out, the dumb man spoke and the people were amazed. 'Nothing like this has ever been seen in Israel' they said. But the Pharisees said, 'It is through the prince of devils that he casts out devils'.

Summary

Jesus made a tour through all the towns and villages, teaching in their synagogues, proclaiming the Good News of the kingdom and curing all kinds of diseases and sickness.

Material about the Scribes and Pharisees

MATTHEW 23:1-33

Then addressing the people and his disciples Jesus said, 'The scribes

<sup>1</sup> Phylacteries: containers for short texts taken from the Law; they were worn on the arm or the forehead in obedience to Ex 13:9, 16 and Dt 6:8. The tassels were sewn to the corners of the cloak.

and the Pharisees occupy the chair of Moses. You must therefore do what they tell you and listen to what they say; but do not be guided by what they do: since they do not practise what they preach. They tie up heavy burdens and lay them on men's shoulders, but will they lift a finger to move them? Not they! Everything they do is done to attract attention, like wearing broader phylacteries and longer tassels,<sup>1</sup> like wanting to take the place of honour at banquets and the front seats in the synagogues, being greeted obsequiously in the market squares and having people call them Rabbi.

'You, however, must not allow yourselves to be called Rabbi, since you have only one Master, and you are all brothers. You must call no one on earth your father, since you have only one Father, and he is in heaven. Nor must you allow yourselves to be called teachers, for you have only one Teacher, the Christ. The greatest among you must be your servant. Anyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and anyone who humbles himself will be exalted.

'Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You who shut up the kingdom of heaven in men's faces, neither going in yourselves nor allowing others to go in<sup>2</sup> who want to.

'Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You who travel over sea and land to make a single proselyte, and when you have him you make him twice as fit for hell as you are.

'Alas for you, blind guides! You who say, "If a man swears by the Temple, it has no force; but if a man swears by the gold of the Temple, he is bound". Fools and blind! For which is of greater worth, the gold or the Temple that makes the gold sacred? Or else, "If a man swears by the altar it has no force; but if a man swears by the offering that is on the altar, he is bound". You blind men! For which is of greater worth, the offering or the altar that makes the offering sacred? Therefore, when a man swears by the altar he is swearing by that and by everything on it. And when a man swears by the Temple he is swearing by that and by the One who dwells in it. And when a man swears by heaven he is swearing by the throne of God and by the One who is seated there.

'Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You who pay your tithe of mint and dill and cummin<sup>3</sup> and have neglected the weightier matters of the Law—justice, mercy, good faith! These you should have practised, without neglecting the others. You blind guides! Straining out gnats and swallowing camels!

'Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You who clean the outside of cup and dish and leave the inside full of extortion and intemperance. Blind Pharisee! Clean the inside of cup and dish first so that the outside may become clean as well.

'Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You who are like whitewashed tombs that look handsome on the outside, but inside are full of dead men's bones and every kind of corruption. In the same way you appear to people from the outside like good honest men, but inside you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness.

'Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You who build the sepulchres of the prophets and decorate the tombs of holy men, saying, "We would never have joined in shedding the blood of the prophets, had we lived in our fathers' day". So! Your own evidence tells against you! You are the sons of those who murdered the prophets! Very well then, finish off the work that your fathers began.

'Serpents, brood of vipers, how can you escape being condemned to hell?'

The Passion, Crucifixion and Resurrection of Jesus

MARK 14:12—16:8

Preparations for the Passover supper

On the first day of Unleavened Bread, when the Passover lamb was sacrificed, his disciples said to him, 'Where do you want us to go and make the preparations for you to eat the passover?' So he sent two of his disciples, saying to them, 'Go into the city and you will meet a man carrying a pitcher of water. Follow him, and say to the owner of the house which he enters, "The Master says: Where is my dining room in which I can eat the passover with my disciples?"' He will show you a large upper room furnished with couches, all prepared. Make the preparations for us there.' The disciples set out and went to the city and found everything as he had told them, and prepared the Passover.

The treachery of Judas foretold

When evening came he arrived with the Twelve. And while they were at table eating, Jesus said, 'I tell you solemnly, one of you is about to betray me, one of you eating with me'. They were distressed and asked him, one after another, 'Not I, surely?' He said to them, 'It is one of the Twelve, one who is dipping into the same dish with me. Yes, the Son of Man is going to his fate, as the scriptures say he will, but alas for that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed! Better for that man if he had never been born!'

The institution of the Eucharist

And as they were eating he took some bread, and when he had said the blessing he broke it and gave it to them. 'Take it,' he said 'this is my body.' Then he took a cup, and when he had returned thanks he gave it to them, and all drank from it, and he said to them, 'This is my blood, the blood of the covenant, which is to be poured out for many. I tell you solemnly, I shall not drink any more wine until the day I drink the new wine in the kingdom of God.'

Peter's denial foretold

After psalms had been sung they left for the Mount of Olives. And Jesus said to them, 'You will all lose faith, for the scripture says: I shall strike the shepherd and the sheep will be scattered,<sup>1</sup> however after my resurrection I shall go before you to Galilee'. Peter said, 'Even if all lose faith, I will not'. And Jesus said to him, 'I tell you solemnly, this day, this very night, before the cock crows twice, you will have disowned me three times'. But he repeated still more earnestly, 'If I have to die with you, I will never disown you'. And they all said the same.

Gethsemane

They came to a small estate called Gethsemane, and Jesus said to his disciples, 'Stay here while I pray'. Then he took Peter and James and John with him. And a sudden fear came over him, and great distress. And he said to them, 'My soul is sorrowful to the point of death. Wait here, and keep awake.' And going on a little further he threw himself on the ground and prayed that, if it were possible, this hour might pass him by. 'Abba (Father)!' he said 'Everything is possible for you. Take this cup away from me. But let it be as you, not I, would have it.' He came back and found them sleeping, and he said to Peter, 'Simon, are you asleep? Had you not the strength to keep awake one hour? You should be awake, and praying not to be put to the test. The spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak.' Again he went away and prayed, saying the same words. And once more he came back and found them sleeping, their eyes were so heavy; and they could find no answer for him. He came back a third time and said to them, 'You can sleep on now and take your rest. It is all over. The hour has come. Now the Son of Man is to be betrayed into the hands of sinners. Get up! Let us go! My betrayer is close at hand already.'

Even while he was still speaking, Judas, one of the Twelve, came up with a number of men armed with swords and clubs, sent by the chief priests and the scribes and the elders. Now the traitor had arranged a signal with them. 'The one I kiss,' he had said 'he is the man. Take him in charge, and see he is well guarded when you lead him away.' So when the traitor came, he went straight up to Jesus and said, 'Rabbi!' and kissed him. The others seized him and took him in charge. Then one of the bystanders drew his sword and struck out at the high priest's servant, and cut off his ear.

Then Jesus spoke. 'Am I a brigand' he said 'that you had to set out to capture me with swords and clubs? I was among you teaching in the Temple day after day and you never laid hands on me. But this is to fulfil the scriptures.' And they all deserted him and ran away. A young man who followed him had nothing on but a linen cloth. They caught hold of him, but he left the cloth in their hands and ran away naked.

Jesus before the Sanhedrin

They led Jesus off to the high priest; and all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes assembled there. Peter had followed him at a distance, right into the high priest's palace, and was sitting with the attendants warming himself at the fire.

The chief priests and the whole Sanhedrin were looking for evidence against Jesus on which they might pass the death-sentence. But they could not find any. Several, indeed, brought false evidence against him, but their evidence was conflicting. Some stood up and submitted this false evidence against him, 'We heard him say, "I am going to destroy this Temple made by human hands, and in three days build another, not made by human hands"'. But even on this point their evidence was conflicting. The high priest then stood up before the whole assembly and put this question to Jesus, 'Have you no answer to that? What is this evidence these men are bringing against you?' But he was silent and made no answer at all. The high priest put a second question to him, 'Are you the Christ,' he said 'the Son of the Blessed One?' 'I am,' said Jesus 'and you will see the Son of Man seated at the right hand of the Power and coming with the clouds of heaven.'<sup>2</sup> The high priest tore his robes, 'What need of witnesses have we now?' he said. 'You have heard the blasphemy. What is your finding?' And they all gave their verdict: he deserved to die.

Some of them started spitting at him and, blindfolding him, began hitting him with their fists and shouting, 'Play the prophet!' And the attendants rained blows on him.

Peter's denials

While Peter was down below in the courtyard, one of the high priest's servant-girls came up. She saw Peter warming himself there, stared at him and said, 'You too were with Jesus, the man from Nazareth'. But he denied it. 'I do not know, I do not understand, what you are talking about' he said. And he went out into the fore-court. The servant-girl saw him and again started telling the bystanders, 'This fellow is one of them'. But again he denied it. A little later the bystanders themselves said to Peter, 'You are one of them for sure! Why, you are a Galilean.' But he started calling down curses on himself and swearing, 'I do not know the man you speak of'. At that moment the cock crew for the second time, and Peter recalled how Jesus had said to him, 'Before the cock crows twice, you will have disowned me three times'. And he burst into tears.

Jesus before Pilate

First thing in the morning, the chief priests together with the elders and scribes, in short the whole Sanhedrin, had their plan ready. They had Jesus bound and took him away and handed him over to Pilate.

Pilate questioned him, 'Are you the king of the Jews?' 'It is you who say it' he answered. And the chief priests brought many accusations against him. Pilate questioned him again, 'Have you no reply at all? See how many accusations they are bringing against you!' But, to Pilate's amazement, Jesus made no further reply.

At festival time Pilate used to release a prisoner for them, anyone they asked for. Now a man called Barabbas was then in prison with the rioters who had committed murder during the uprising. When the crowd went up and began to ask Pilate the customary favour, Pilate answered them, 'Do you want me to release for you the king of the Jews?' For he realised it was out of jealousy that the chief priests had handed Jesus over. The chief priests, however, had incited the crowd to demand that he should release Barabbas for them instead. Then Pilate spoke again. 'But in that case,' he said to them 'what am I to do with the man you call king of the Jews?' They shouted back, 'Crucify him!' 'Why?' Pilate asked them 'What harm has he done?' But they shouted all the louder, 'Crucify him!' So Pilate, anxious to placate the crowd, released Barabbas for them and, having ordered Jesus to be scourged, handed him over to be crucified.

Jesus crowned with thorns

The soldiers led him away to the inner part of the palace, that is, the Praetorium, and called the whole cohort together. They dressed him up in purple, twisted some thorns into a crown and put it on him. And they began saluting him, 'Hail, king of the Jews!' They struck his head with a reed and spat on him; and they went down on their knees to do him homage. And when they had finished making fun of him, they took off the purple and dressed him in his own clothes.

The way of the cross

They led him out to crucify him. They enlisted a passer-by, Simon of Cyrene, father of Alexander and Rufus,<sup>3</sup> who was coming in from the country, to carry his cross. They brought Jesus to the place called Golgotha, which means the place of the skull.

The crucifixion

They offered him wine mixed with myrrh, but he refused it. Then they crucified him, and shared out his clothing, casting lots to decide what each should get. It was the third hour<sup>1</sup> when they crucified him. The inscription giving the charge against him read: 'The King of the Jews'. And they crucified two robbers with him, one on his right and one on his left.

The crucified Christ is mocked

The passers-by jeered at him; they shook their heads and said, 'Aha! So you would destroy the Temple and rebuild it in three days! Then save yourself: come down from the cross!' The chief priests and and the scribes mocked him among themselves in the same way.

'He saved others,' they said 'he cannot save himself. Let the Christ, the king of Israel, come down from the cross now, for us to see it and believe.' Even those who were crucified with him taunted him.

The death of Jesus

When the sixth hour came there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour. And at the ninth hour Jesus cried out in a loud voice, 'Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani?' which means, 'My God, my God, why have you deserted me?'<sup>2</sup> When some of those who stood by heard this, they said, 'Listen, he is calling on Elijah'. Someone ran and soaked a sponge in vinegar and, putting it on a reed, gave it him to drink saying, 'Wait and see if Eijah will come to take him down'. But Jesus gave a loud cry and breathed his last. And the veil of the Temple was torn in two from top to bottom. The centurion, who was standing in front of him, had seen how he had died, and he said, 'In truth this man was a son of God'.

The women on Calvary

There were some women watching from a distance. Among them were Mary of Magdala, Mary who was the mother of James the younger and Joset, and Salome. These used to follow him and look after him when he was in Galilee. And there were many other women there who had come up to Jerusalem with him.

The burial

It was now evening, and since it was Preparation Day (that is, the vigil of the sabbath) there came Joseph of Arimathaea, a prominent member of the Council, who himself lived in the hope of seeing the kingdom of God, and he boldly went to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus. Pilate, astonished that he should have died so soon, summoned the centurion and enquired if he was already dead. Having been assured of this by the centurion, he granted the corpse to Joseph who bought a shroud, took Jesus down from the cross, wrapped him in the shroud and laid him in a tomb which had been hewn out of the rock. He then rolled a stone against the entrance to the tomb. Mary of Magdala and Mary the mother of Joset were watching and took note of where he was laid.

The empty tomb. The angel's message

When the sabbath was over, Mary of Magdala, Mary the mother of James, and Salome, bought spices with which to go and anoint him. And very early in the morning on the first day of the week they went to the tomb, just as the sun was rising.

They had been saying to one another, 'Who will roll away the stone for us from the entrance to the tomb?' But when they looked they could see that the stone—which was very big—had already been rolled back. On entering the tomb they saw a young man in a white robe seated on the right-hand side, and they were struck with amazement. But he said to them, "There is no need for alarm. You are looking for Jesus of Nazareth, who was crucified: he has risen, he is not here. See, here is the place where they laid him. But you must go and tell his disciples and Peter, "He is going before you to Galilee; it is there you will see him, just as he told you".' And the women came out and ran away from the tomb because they were frightened out of their wits; and they said nothing to a soul, for they were afraid . . .

Eschatological Material: The Final Glory

The beginning of sorrows

Then Jesus began to tell them, "Take care that no one deceives you. Many will come using my name and saying, "I am he", and they will deceive many. When you hear of wars and rumours of wars, do not be alarmed, this is something that must happen, but the end will not be yet. For nation will fight against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be earthquakes here and there; there will be famines. This is the beginning of the birthpangs.

'Be on your guard: they will hand you over to sanhedrins; you will be beaten in synagogues; and you will stand before governors and kings for my sake, to bear witness before them, since the Good News must first be proclaimed to all the nations.

'And when they lead you away to hand you over, do not worry beforehand about what to say; no, say whatever is given to you when the time comes, because it is not you who will be speaking: it will be the Holy Spirit. Brother will betray brother to death, and the father his child; children will rise against their parents and have them put to death. You will be hated by all men on account of my name; but the man who stands firm to the end will be saved.

The great tribulation of Jerusalem

'When you see the disastrous abomination<sup>1</sup> set up where it ought not to be (let the reader understand), then those in Judaea must escape to the mountains; if a man is on the housetop, he must not come down to go into the house to collect any of his belongings; if a man is in the fields, he must not turn back to fetch his cloak. Alas for those with child, or with babies at the breast, when those days come! Pray that this may not be in winter. For in those days there will be such distress as, until now, has not been<sup>2</sup> equalled since the beginning when God created the world, nor ever will be again. And if the Lord had not shortened that time, no one would have survived; but he did shorten the time, for the sake of the elect whom he chose.

'And if anyone says to you then, "Look, here is the Christ" or, “Look, he is there”, do not believe it; for false Christs and false prophets will arise and produce signs and portents to deceive the elect, if that were possible. You therefore must be on your guard. I have forewarned you of everything.

The coming of the Son of Man

‘But in those days, after that time of distress, the sun will be darkened, the moon will lose its brightness, the stars will come falling from heaven and the powers in the heavens will be shaken. And then they will see the Son of Man coming in the clouds with great power and glory; then too he will send the angels to gather his chosen from the four winds, from the ends of the world to the ends of heaven.

The time of this coming

‘Take the fig tree as a parable: as soon as its twigs grow supple and its leaves come out, you know that summer is near. So with you when you see these things happening: know that he is near, at the very gates. I tell you solemnly, before this generation has passed away all these things will have taken place. Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away.

‘But as for that day or hour, nobody knows it, neither the angels of heaven, nor the Son; no one but the Father.

Be on the alert

‘Be on your guard, stay awake, because you never know when the time will come. It is like a man travelling abroad: he has gone from home, and left his servants in charge, each with his own task; and he has told the doorkeeper to stay awake. So stay awake, because you do not know when the master of the house is coming, evening, midnight, cockcrow, dawn; if he comes unexpectedly, he must not find you asleep. And what I say to you I say to all: Stay awake!’

B

THE BEGINNINGS OF THE CHRISTIAN COMMUNITY

The first Christians were convinced that they were personally united with Jesus Christ and shared in his risen life. As Lord of all creation, Christ had reconciled them with the Father, filled them with the power of the Holy Spirit and made it possible for them to reach the perfection for which God had made them. Baptism expressed the break with their old ways and beliefs which converts made, and the beginning of the new life available to them in Christ. They believed that their new relationship with God bound them all together into a new community, a new Israel, and they showed their unity by worshipping together and by sharing their property. They lived under the guidance and direction of the Apostles, who had been with Jesus from the beginning of his public ministry and chosen by him to lead the new community. As the number of Christians grew, the Apostles delegated some of their administrative duties to assistants, the Deacons, so that they could devote themselves to the more fundamental work of preaching and teaching.

During the early years, the closely knit Christian community expected the end of the world to come quickly, when their risen Lord would return in glory and bring to its completion the work which he had begun amongst them. The first Christians were Jews, and they continued to practise their Jewish religion during this brief interim period while they waited for God's plan for his creation to reach its climax. They expressed their new faith through the Eucharist, the 'breaking of bread', at their private meetings, while in public they continued to attend the services in the Temple in Jerusalem and in the synagogues. It did not occur to them that they might have to separate from the Judaism in which they had been brought up, and they remained faithful to the detailed requirements of the Mosaic law.

Several factors helped to change the situation. The claims which Christians made about Jesus Christ aroused indignation in the Jewish authorities, and this blazed into open persecution when Christians refused to modify their beliefs or to remain quiet about them. Six or seven years after the Crucifixion and Resurrection the stoning of Stephen marked the end of the first period of uneasy security during which the Christians had found it possible to practise their religion openly in Jerusalem. Many of them fled to the Jewish quarters of the towns near Palestine, particularly to Antioch in the north, and so came into closer contact with Greek and Roman ways of life and thought. During their visits to these scattered Christians, the Apostles also had the wider opportunities of the new faith forced upon them as non-Jews asked to be received into the Christian community. The problem of whether Christians had to be Jews could not be long delayed as more and more Gentiles were converted and baptised.

The conversion, and subsequent missionary achievements, of Paul brought the whole question of the Gentiles to a head. As a young and intensely loyal Pharisee trained in the great Jewish law school at Jerusalem, Paul (or Saul, as he was then known) was made responsible for arresting Christians and bringing them back to Jerusalem for examination and trial by the Jewish authorities. His background and training made it clear to Paul that the new Christian beliefs were incompatible with traditional Judaism. Later, when he had become a Christian himself and an Apostle, the same line of thought showed Paul that it was wrong to expect Gentile converts to accept Judaism along with their Christianity. For Christians, the experience of the people of the Old Testament was no more than a preparation for the coming of Christ, and now that Christ had come the preparation period was over. The Mosaic law and all the complexity of the Temple-centred Jewish culture, whatever its attractions might be, were no longer essential. Paul was prepared to oppose anyone, even Peter and the other Apostles, if the full significance of the new expansion amongst the Gentiles was not recognised.

The problem was already being felt before Paul began his main work as a Christian, but the first of Paul's missionary journeys brought in groups of Christians for whom a clear decision had to be made. In A.D. 49 Paul went to Jerusalem with Barnabas to take money given by the Christians outside Palestine for the relief of the Christians in Jerusalem during a period of famine. The Apostles took the opportunity to meet and discuss the problems of Gentile Christians, and come to a decision about them. The results are given in Acts 15. Gentile converts to Christianity should only be required to abstain from the practices specifically associated with the pagan religions which they were deserting. The way was clear for Christianity to advance and make its universal appeal without the hindrances of the Judaism in which it had been born.

The Acts of the Apostles was written long after the early years of the Christian community which it describes so vividly, and its proper theological contribution can only be fully appreciated when it is read as the continuation of Luke's Gospel. As such, it will be found printed in full immediately after Luke's Gospel in Section P. As 'The Bible's History of the Times' it is also used now and in other early sections to provide the setting for the New Testament letters written during the period which it describes.

The Letter of James is placed in this section because it reflects the attitudes and beliefs of the first Christian community which formed round the Apostles in Jerusalem. The letter provides Jewish converts to Christianity with ideas and arguments which would be familiar to them, particularly through the views expressed in the Wisdom writings of the Old Testament. If this latter seems to represent a narrow form of Christianity, it should be remembered that the people who expressed their faith in these terms were also able to see that Christianity offered universal hope to all men, and they welcomed them to an equal share in their fellowship no matter who they might be.

The Bible's History of the Times

Prologue

In my earlier work,<sup>1</sup> Theophilus, I dealt with everything Jesus had done and taught from the beginning until the day he gave his instructions to the apostles he had chosen through the Holy Spirit, and was taken up to heaven. He had shown himself alive to them after his Passion by many demonstrations: for forty days he had continued to appear to them and tell them about the kingdom of God. When he had been at table with them, he had told them not to leave Jerusalem, but to wait there for what the Father had promised. 'It is' he had said 'what you have heard me speak about: John baptised with water but you, not many days from now, will be baptised with the Holy Spirit.'

The ascension

Now having met together,<sup>2</sup> they asked him, 'Lord, has the time come? Are you going to restore the kingdom to Israel?' He replied, 'It is not for you to know times or dates that the Father has decided by his own authority, but you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes on you, and then you will be my witnesses not only in Jerusalem but throughout Judaea and Samaria, and indeed to the ends of the earth.'

As he said this he was lifted up while they looked on, and a cloud took him from their sight. They were still staring into the sky when suddenly two men in white were standing near them and they said, 'Why are you men from Galilee standing here looking into the sky? Jesus who has been taken up from you into heaven, this same Jesus will come back in the same way as you have seen him go there.'

THE JERUSALEM CHURCH

The group of apostles

So from the Mount of Olives, as it is called, they went back to Jerusalem, a short distance away, no more than a sabbath walk; and when they reached the city they went to the upper room where they were staying; there were Peter and John, James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James son of Alphaeus and Simon the Zealot, and Jude son of James.<sup>3</sup> All these joined in continuous prayer, together with several women, including Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brothers.<sup>4</sup>

The election of Matthias

One day Peter stood up to speak to the brothers<sup>5</sup>—there were about a hundred and twenty persons in the congregation: ‘Brothers, the passage of scripture had to be fulfilled in which the Holy Spirit, speaking through David, foretells the fate of Judas, who offered himself as a guide to the men who arrested Jesus—after having been one of our number and actually sharing this ministry of ours. As you know, he bought a field with the money he was paid for his crime. He fell headlong and burst open, and all his entrails poured out. Everybody in Jerusalem heard about it and the field came to be called the Bloody Acre, in their language Hakeldama. Now in the Book of Psalms it says:

*Let his camp be reduced to ruin,
Let there be no one to live in it.<sup>6</sup>*

And again:

Let someone else take his office.<sup>7</sup>

‘We must therefore choose someone who has been with us the whole time that the Lord Jesus was travelling round with us, someone who was with us right from the time when John was baptising until the day when he was taken up from us—and he can act with us as a witness to his resurrection.’

Having nominated two candidates, Joseph known as Barsabbas, whose surname was Justus, and Matthias, they prayed, ‘Lord, you can read everyone’s heart; show us therefore which of these two you have chosen to take over this ministry and apostolate, which Judas abandoned to go to his proper place’. They then drew lots for them, and as the lot fell to Matthias, he was listed as one of the twelve apostles.

Pentecost

When Pentecost day came round, they had all met in one room, when suddenly they heard what sounded like a powerful wind from heaven, the noise of which filled the entire house in which they were sitting; and something appeared to them that seemed like tongues of fire; these separated and came to rest on the head of each of them. They were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak foreign languages as the Spirit gave them the gift of speech.

Now there were devout men living in Jerusalem from every nation under heaven, and at this sound they all assembled, each one bewildered to hear these men speaking his own language. They were amazed and astonished. ‘Surely’ they said ‘all these men speaking are Galileans? How does it happen that each of us hears them in his own native language? Parthians, Medes and Elamites; people from Mesopotamia, Judaea and Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia, Phrygia and Pamphylia, Egypt and the parts of Libya round Cyrene; as well as visitors from Rome—Jews and proselytes<sup>8</sup> alike

—Cretans and Arabs; we hear them preaching in our own language about the marvels of God.' Everyone was amazed and unable to explain it; they asked one another what it all meant. Some, however, laughed it off. 'They have been drinking too much new wine' they said.

Peter's address to the crowd

Then Peter stood up with the Eleven and addressed them in a loud voice: 'Men of Judaea, and all you who live in Jerusalem, make no mistake about this, but listen carefully to what I say. These men are not drunk, as you imagine; why, it is only the third hour of the day.<sup>1</sup> On the contrary, this is what the prophet<sup>2</sup> spoke of:

*In the days to come—it is the Lord who speaks—
I will pour out my spirit on all mankind.
Their sons and daughters shall prophesy,
your young men shall see visions,
your old men shall dream dreams.
Even on my slaves, men and women,
in those days, I will pour out my spirit.
I will display portents in heaven above
and signs on earth below.
The sun will be turned into darkness
and the moon into blood
before the great Day of the Lord dawns.
All who call on the name of the Lord will be saved.*

'Men of Israel, listen to what I am going to say: Jesus the Nazarene was a man commended to you by God by the miracles and portents and signs that God worked through him when he was among you, as you all know. This man, who was put into your power by the deliberate intention and foreknowledge of God, you took and had crucified by men outside the Law.<sup>3</sup> You killed him, but God raised him to life, freeing him from the pangs of Hades; for it was impossible for him to be held in its power since, as David says of him:

*I saw the Lord before me always,
for with him at my right hand nothing can shake me.
So my heart was glad
and my tongue cried out with joy;
my body, too, will rest in the hope that you will not abandon my soul to Hades
nor allow your holy one to experience corruption.
You have made known the way of life to me,

'Brothers, no one can deny that the patriarch David himself is dead and buried: his tomb is still with us. But since he was a prophet, and knew that God had sworn him an oath to make one of his descendants succeed him on the

God raised this man Jesus to life, and all of us are witnesses to that. Now raised to the heights by God's right hand, he has received from the Father the Holy Spirit, who was promised, and what you see and hear is the outpouring of that Spirit. For David himself never went up to heaven; and yet these words are his:

*The Lord said to my Lord:
Sit at my right hand
until I make your enemies
a footstool for you.*<sup>6</sup>

'For this reason the whole House of Israel can be certain that God has made this Jesus whom you crucified both Lord and Christ.'

The first conversions

Hearing this, they were cut to the heart and said to Peter and the apostles, 'What must we do, brothers?' 'You must repent,' Peter answered 'and every one of you must be baptised in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins, and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. The promise that was made is for you and your children, and for all those who are far away, for all those whom the Lord our God will call to himself.'<sup>7</sup> He spoke to them for a long time using many arguments, and he urged them, 'Save yourselves from this perverse generation'. They were convinced by his arguments, and they accepted what he said and were baptised. That very day about three thousand were added to their number.

The early Christian community

These remained faithful to the teaching of the apostles, to the brotherhood, to the breaking of bread and to the prayers.

The many miracles and signs worked through the apostles made a deep impression on everyone.

The faithful all lived together and owned everything in common; they sold their goods and possessions and shared out the proceeds among themselves according to what each one needed.

They went as a body to the Temple every day but met in their houses for the breaking of bread; they shared their food gladly and generously; they praised God and were looked up to by everyone. Day by day the Lord added to their community those destined to be saved.

The cure of a lame man

Once, when Peter and John were going up to the Temple for the prayers at the ninth hour,<sup>8</sup> it happened that there was a man being carried past. He was a cripple from birth; and they used to put him down every day near the Temple entrance called the Beautiful Gate so that he could beg from the people going in. When this man saw Peter and John on their way into the Temple he begged from them. Both Peter and John looked straight at him and said, 'Look at us'. He turned to them expectantly, hoping to get something from them, but Peter said, 'I have neither silver nor gold, but I will give you what I have: in the name of Jesus Christ the Nazarene, walk!' Peter then took him by the hand and helped him to stand up. Instantly his feet and ankles became firm, he jumped up, stood, and began to walk, and he went with them into the Temple, walking and jumping and praising God. Everyone could see him walking and praising God, and they recognised him as the man who used to sit begging at the Beautiful Gate of the Temple. They were all astonished and unable to explain what had happened to him.

Peter's address to the people

Everyone came running towards them in great excitement, to the Portico of Solomon, as it is called, where the man was still clinging to Peter and John. When Peter saw the people he addressed them, 'Why are you so surprised at this? Why are you staring at us as though we had made this man walk by our own power or holiness? You are Israelites, and it is the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, the God of our ancestors, who has glorified his servant<sup>1</sup> Jesus, the same Jesus you handed over and then disowned in the presence of Pilate after Pilate had decided to release him. It was you who accused the Holy One, the Just One, you who demanded the reprieve of a murderer while you killed the prince of life. God, however, raised him from the dead, and to that fact we are the witnesses; and it is the name of Jesus which, through our faith in it, has brought back the strength of this man whom you see here and who is well known to you. It is faith in that name that has restored this man to health, as you can all see.

'Now I know, brothers, that neither you nor your leaders had any idea what you were really doing; this was the way God carried out what he had foretold, when he said through all his prophets that his Christ would suffer. Now you must repent and turn to God, so that your sins may be wiped out, and so that the Lord may send the time of comfort. Then he will send you the Christ he has predestined, that is Jesus, whom heaven must keep till the universal restoration comes which God proclaimed, speaking through his holy prophets. Moses, for example, said: The Lord God will raise up a prophet like myself for you, from among your own brothers; you must listen to whatever he tells you. The man who does not listen to that prophet is to be cut off from the people.<sup>2</sup> In fact, all the prophets that have ever spoken, from Samuel onwards, have predicted these days.

'You are the heirs of the prophets, the heirs of the covenant God made with our ancestors when he told Abraham: in your offspring all the families of the earth will be blessed.<sup>3</sup> It was for you in the first place that God raised up his servant and sent him to bless you by turning every one of you from your wicked ways.'

Peter and John before the Sanhedrin

While they were still talking to the people the priests came up to them, accompanied by the captain of the Temple and the Sadducees.<sup>4</sup> They were

extremely annoyed at their teaching the people the doctrine of the resurrection from the dead by proclaiming the resurrection of Jesus. They arrested them, but as it was already late, they held them till the next day. But many of those who had listened to their message became believers, the total number of whom had now risen to something like five thousand.

The next day the rulers, elders and scribes<sup>5</sup> had a meeting in Jerusalem with Annas the high priest, Caiaphas, Jonathan, Alexander and all the members of the high-priestly families. They made the prisoners stand in the middle and began to interrogate them, 'By what power, and by whose name have you men done this?' Then Peter, filled with the Holy Spirit, addressed them, 'Rulers of the people, and elders! If you are questioning us today about an act of kindness to a cripple, and asking us how he was healed, then I am glad to tell you all, and would indeed be glad to tell the whole people of Israel, that it was by the name of Jesus Christ the Nazarene, the one you crucified, whom God raised from the dead, by this name and by no other that this man is able to stand up perfectly healthy, here in your presence, today. This is the stone rejected by you the builders, but which has proved to be the keystone.<sup>6</sup> For of all the names in the world given to men, this is the only one by which we can be saved.'

They were astonished at the assurance shown by Peter and John, considering they were uneducated laymen; and they recognised them as associates of Jesus; but when they saw the man who had been cured standing by their side, they could find no answer. So they ordered them to stand outside while the Sanhedrin had a private discussion. 'What are we going to do with these men?' they asked. 'It is obvious to everybody in Jerusalem that a miracle has been worked through them in public, and we cannot deny it. But to stop the whole thing spreading any further among the people, let us caution them never to speak to anyone in this name again.'

So they called them in and gave them a warning on no account to make statements or to teach in the name of Jesus. But Peter and John retorted, 'You must judge whether in God's eyes it is right to listen to you and not to God. We cannot promise to stop proclaiming what we have seen and heard.' The court repeated the warnings and then released them; they could not think of any way to punish them, since all the people were giving glory to God for what had happened. The man who had been miraculously cured was over forty years old.

The apostles' prayer under persecution

As soon as they were released they went to the community and told them everything the chief priests and elders had said to them. When they heard it they lifted up their voice to God all together. 'Master,' they prayed 'it is you who made heaven and earth and sea, and everything in them; you it is who said through the Holy Spirit and speaking through our ancestor David, your servant:

*Why this arrogance among the nations,
these futile plots among the peoples?
Kings on earth setting out to war,
princes making an alliance,
against the Lord and against his Anointed.<sup>7</sup>*

'This is what has come true: in this very city Herod and Pontius Pilate made an alliance with the pagan nations and the peoples of Israel, against your holy servant Jesus whom you anointed,<sup>1</sup> but only to bring about the very thing that you in your strength and your wisdom had predetermined should happen. And now, Lord, take note of their threats and help your servants to proclaim your message with all boldness, by stretching out your hand to heal and to work miracles and marvels through the name of your holy servant Jesus.' As they prayed, the house where they were assembled rocked; they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to proclaim the word of God boldly.

The early Christian community

The whole group of believers was united, heart and soul; no one claimed for his own use anything that he had, as everything they owned was held in common.

The apostles continued to testify to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus with great power, and they were all given great respect.

None of their members was ever in want, as all those who owned land or houses would sell them, and bring the money from them, to present it to the apostles; it was then distributed to any members who might be in need.

The generosity of Barnabas

There was a Levite of Cypriot origin called Joseph whom the apostles surnamed Barnabas (which means 'son of encouragement'). He owned a piece of land and he sold it and brought the money, and presented it to the apostles.

The fraud of Ananias and Sapphira

There was another man, however, called Ananias. He and his wife, Sapphira, agreed to sell a property; but with his wife's connivance he kept back part of the proceeds, and brought the rest and presented it to the apostles. 'Ananias,' Peter said 'how can Satan have so possessed you that you should lie to the Holy Spirit and keep back part of the money from the land? While you still owned the land, wasn't it yours to keep, and after you had sold it wasn't the money yours to do with as you liked? What put this scheme into your mind? It is not to men that you have lied, but to God.' When he heard this Ananias fell down dead. This made a profound impression on everyone present. The younger men got up, wrapped the body in a sheet, carried it out and buried it.

About three hours later his wife came in, not knowing what had taken place. Peter challenged her, 'Tell me, was this the price you sold the land for?' 'Yes,' she said 'that was the price.' Peter then said, 'So you and your husband have agreed to put the Spirit of the Lord to the test! What made you do it? You hear those footsteps? They have just been to bury your husband; they will carry you out, too.' Instantly she dropped dead at his feet. When the young men came in they found she was dead, and they carried her out and buried her by the side of her husband. This made a profound impression on the whole Church and on all who heard it.

The general situation

They all used to meet by common consent in the Portico of Solomon. No one else ever dared to join them, but the people were loud in their praise and the numbers of men and women who came to believe in the Lord increased steadily. So many signs and wonders were worked among the people at the hands of the apostles that the sick were even taken out into the streets and laid on beds and sleeping-mats in the hope that at least the shadow of Peter might fall across some of them as he went past. People even came crowding in from the towns round about Jerusalem, bringing with them their sick and those tormented by unclean spirits, and all of them were cured.

The apostles' arrest and miraculous deliverance

Then the high priest intervened with all his supporters from the party of the Sadducees. Prompted by jealousy, they arrested the apostles and had them put in the common gaol.

But at night the angel of the Lord opened the prison gates and said as he led them out, 'Go and stand in the Temple, and tell the people all about this new Life'. They did as they were told; they went into the Temple at dawn and began to preach.

A summons to appear before the Sanhedrin

When the high priest arrived, he and his supporters convened the Sanhedrin—this was the full Senate of Israel—and sent to the gaol for them to be brought. But when the officials arrived at the prison they found they were not inside, so they went back and reported, 'We found the gaol securely locked and the warders on duty at the gates, but when we unlocked the door we found no one inside'. When the captain of the Temple and the chief priests heard this news they wondered what this could mean. Then a man arrived with fresh news. 'At this very moment' he said 'the men you imprisoned are in the Temple. They are standing there preaching to the people.' The captain went with his men and fetched them. They were afraid to use force in case the people stoned them.

When they had brought them in to face the Sanhedrin, the high priest demanded an explanation. 'We gave you a formal warning' he said 'not to preach in this name, and what have you done? You have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and seem determined to fix the guilt of this man's death on us.' In reply Peter and the apostles said, 'Obedience to God comes before obedience to men; it was the God of our ancestors who raised up Jesus, but it was you who had him executed by hanging on a tree.<sup>2</sup> By his own right hand God has now raised him up to be leader and saviour, to give repentance and forgiveness of sins through him to Israel. We are witnesses to all this, we and the Holy Spirit whom God has given to those who obey him.' This so infuriated them that they wanted to put them to death.

One member of the Sanhedrin, however, a Pharisee called Gamaliel, who was a doctor of the Law and respected by the whole people,<sup>1</sup> stood up and asked to have the men taken outside for a time. Then he addressed the Sanhedrin, 'Men of Israel, be careful how you deal with these people. There was Theudas who became notorious not so long ago. He claimed to be someone important, and he even collected about four hundred followers; but when he was killed, all his followers scattered and that was the end of them. And then there was Judas the Galilean, at the time of the census, who attracted crowds of supporters; but he got killed too, and all his followers dispersed. What I suggest, therefore, is that you leave these men alone and let them go. If this enterprise, this movement of theirs, is of human origin it will break up of its own accord; but if it does in fact come from God you will not only be unable to destroy them, but you might find yourselves fighting against God.'

His advice was accepted; and they had the apostles called in, gave orders for them to be flogged, warned them not to speak in the name of Jesus and released them. And so they left the presence of the Sanhedrin glad to have had the honour of suffering humiliation for the sake of the name.

They preached every day both in the Temple and in private houses, and their proclamation of the Good News of Christ Jesus was never interrupted.

THE EARLIEST MISSIONS

The institution of the Seven

About this time, when the number of disciples was increasing, the Hellenists made a complaint against the Hebrews:<sup>2</sup> in the daily distribution their own widows were being overlooked. So the Twelve called a full meeting of the disciples and addressed them, 'It would not be right for us to neglect the word of God so as to give out food; you, brothers, must select from among yourselves seven men of good reputation, filled with the Spirit and with wisdom; we will hand over this duty to them, and continue to devote ourselves to prayer and to the service of the word'. The whole assembly approved of this proposal and elected Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit, together with Philip, Prochorus, Nicanor, Timon, Parmenas, and Nicolaus of Antioch, a convert to Judaism. They presented these to the apostles, who prayed and laid their hands on them.<sup>3</sup>

The word of the Lord continued to spread: the number of disciples in Jerusalem was greatly increased, and a large group of priests made their submission to the faith.

Stephen's arrest

Stephen was filled with grace and power and began to work miracles and great signs among the people. But then certain people came forward to debate with Stephen, some from Cyrene and Alexandria who were members of the synagogue called the Synagogue of Freedmen,<sup>4</sup> and others from Cilicia and Asia. They found they could not get the better of him because of his wisdom, and because it was the Spirit that prompted what he said. So they procured some men to say, 'We heard him using blasphemous language against Moses and against God'. Having in this way turned the people against him as well as the elders and scribes, they took Stephen by surprise, and arrested him and brought him before the Sanhedrin. There they put up false witnesses to say, 'This man is always making speeches against this Holy Place and the Law. We have heard him say that Jesus the Nazarene is going to destroy this Place and alter the traditions that Moses handed down to us.' The members of the Sanhedrin all looked intently at Stephen, and his face appeared to them like the face of an angel.

Stephen's speech

The high priest asked, 'Is this true?' He replied, 'My brothers, my fathers, listen to what I have to say. The God of glory appeared to our ancestor Abraham, while he was in Mesopotamia before settling in Haran, and said to him, "Leave your country and your family and go to the land I will show you".<sup>5</sup> So he left Chaldea and settled in Haran; and after his father died God made him leave Haran and come to this land where you are living today. God did not give him a single square foot of this land to call his own, yet he promised to give it to him and after him to his descendants, childless<sup>6</sup> though he was. The actual words God used when he spoke to him are that his descendants would be exiles in a foreign land, where they would be slaves and oppressed for four hundred years. "But I will pass judgement on the nation that enslaves them" God said "and after this they will leave, and worship me in this place."<sup>7</sup> Then he made the covenant of circumcision: so when his son Isaac was born he circumcised him on the eighth day. Isaac did the same for Jacob, and Jacob for the twelve patriarchs.

'The patriarchs were jealous of Joseph and sold him into slavery in Egypt.<sup>8</sup> But God was with him,<sup>9</sup> and rescued him from all his miseries by making him wise enough to attract the attention of Pharaoh king of Egypt, who made him governor of Egypt<sup>10</sup> and put him in charge of the royal household. Then a famine came that caused much suffering throughout Egypt and Canaan, and our ancestors could find nothing to eat. When Jacob heard that there was grain for sale in Egypt, he sent our ancestors there on a first visit, but it was on the second that Joseph made himself known to his brothers, and told Pharaoh about his family. Joseph then sent for his father Jacob and his whole family, a total of seventy-five people. Jacob went down into Egypt and after he and our ancestors had died there, their bodies were brought back to Shechem and buried in the tomb that Abraham had bought and paid for from the sons of Hamor, the father of Shechem.

'As the time drew near for God to fulfil the promise he had solemnly made to Abraham, our nation in Egypt grew larger and larger, until a new king came to power in Egypt who knew nothing of<sup>1</sup> Joseph. He exploited our race, and ill-treated our ancestors, forcing them to expose their babies to prevent their surviving. It was at this period that Moses was born, a fine child and favoured by God. He was looked after for three months in his father's house, and after he had been exposed, Pharaoh's daughter adopted him and brought him up as her own son. So Moses was taught all the wisdom of the Egyptians and became a man with power both in his speech and his actions.

'At the age of forty he decided to visit his countrymen, the sons of Israel. When he saw one of them being ill-treated he went to his defence and rescued the man by killing the Egyptian. He thought his brothers realised that through him God would liberate them, but they did not. The next day, when he came across some of them fighting, he tried to reconcile them. 'Friends,' he said 'you are brothers; why are you hurting each other?' But the man who was attacking his fellow countryman pushed him aside. 'And who appointed you' he said 'to be our leader and judge? Do you intend to kill me as you killed the Egyptian yesterday?' Moses fled when he heard this<sup>2</sup> and he went to stay in the land of Midian, where he became the father of two sons.

'Forty years later, in the wilderness near Mount Sinai, an angel appeared to him in the flames of a bush that was on fire. Moses was amazed by what he saw. As he went nearer to look at it the voice of the Lord was heard, "I am the God of your ancestors, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob". Moses trembled and did not dare to look any more. The Lord said to him, "Take off your shoes; the place where you are standing is holy ground. I have seen the way my people are ill-treated in Egypt, I have heard their groans, and I have come down to liberate them. So come here and let me send you into Egypt."

'It was the same Moses that they had disowned when they said, "Who appointed you to be our leader and judge?" who was now sent to be both leader and redeemer through the angel who had appeared to him in the bush. It was Moses who, after performing miracles and signs in Egypt, led them out across the Red Sea and through the wilderness for forty years.<sup>3</sup> It was Moses who told the sons of Israel, "God will raise up a prophet like myself for you from among your own brothers".<sup>4</sup> When they held the assembly in the wilderness it was only through Moses that our ancestors could communicate with the angel who had spoken to him on Mount Sinai; it was he who was entrusted with words of life to hand on to us. This is the man that our ancestors refused to listen to: they pushed him aside, turned back to Egypt in their thoughts, and said to Aaron, "Make some gods to be our leaders; we do not understand what has come over this Moses who led us out of Egypt".<sup>5</sup> It was then that they made a bull calf and offered sacrifice to the idol. They were perfectly happy with something they had made for themselves. God turned away from them and abandoned them to the worship of the army of heaven,<sup>6</sup> as scripture says in the book of the prophets:

*Did you bring me victims and sacrifices in the wilderness
for all those forty years, you House of Israel?
No, you carried the tent of Moloch on your shoulders
and the star of the god Rephan,
those idols that you had made to adore.
So now I will exile you even further than Babylon.*<sup>7</sup>

'While they were in the desert our ancestors possessed the Tent of Testimony that had been constructed according to the instructions God gave Moses, telling him to make an exact copy of the pattern<sup>8</sup> he had been shown. It was handed down from one ancestor of ours to another until Joshua brought it into the country we had conquered from the nations which were driven out by God as we advanced. Here it stayed until the time of David. He won God's favour and asked permission to have a temple built for the House of Jacob, though it was Solomon who actually built God's house<sup>9</sup> for him. Even so the Most High does not live in a house that human hands have built: for as the prophet says:

*With heaven my throne and earth my footstool,
what house could you build me,
what place could you make for my rest?
Was not all this made by my hand?*<sup>10</sup>

'You stubborn people, with your pagan hearts and pagan ears. You are always resisting the Holy Spirit, just as your ancestors used to do. Can you name a single prophet your ancestors never persecuted? In the past they killed those who foretold the coming of the Just One, and now you have become his betrayers, his murderers. You who had the Law brought to you by angels are the very ones who have not kept it.'

They were infuriated when they heard this, and ground their teeth at him.

The stoning of Stephen. Saul as persecutor

But Stephen, filled with the Holy Spirit, gazed into heaven and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing at God's right hand. 'I can see heaven thrown open' he said 'and the Son of Man standing at the right hand of God.' At this all the members of the council shouted out and stopped their ears with their hands; then they all rushed at him, sent him out of the city and stoned him. The witnesses<sup>11</sup> put down their clothes at the feet of a young man called Saul. As they were stoning him, Stephen said in invocation, 'Lord Jesus, receive my spirit'. Then he knelt down and said aloud, 'Lord, do not hold this sin against them'; and with these words he fell asleep. Saul entirely approved of the killing.

That day a bitter persecution started against the church in Jerusalem, and everyone<sup>12</sup> except the apostles fled to the country districts of Judaea and Samaria.

There were some devout people, however, who buried Stephen and made great mourning for him.

Saul then worked for the total destruction of the Church; he went from house to house arresting both men and women and sending them to prison.

Philip in Samaria

Those who had escaped went from place to place preaching the Good News. One of them was Philip who went to a Samaritan town and proclaimed the Christ to them. The people united in welcoming the message Philip preached, either because they had heard of the miracles he worked or because they saw them for themselves. There were, for example, unclean spirits that came shrieking out of many who were possessed, and several paralytics and cripples were cured. As a result there was great rejoicing in that town.

Simon the magician

Now a man called Simon had already practised magic arts in the town and astounded the Samaritan people. He had given it out that he was someone momentous, and everyone believed what he said; eminent citizens and ordinary people alike had declared, 'He is the divine power that is called Great'. They had only been won over to him because of the long time he had spent working on them with his magic. But when they believed Philip's preaching of the Good News about the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptised, both men and women, and even Simon himself became a believer. After his baptism Simon, who went round constantly with Philip, was astonished when he saw the wonders and great miracles that took place.

When the apostles in Jerusalem heard that Samaria had accepted the word of God, they sent Peter and John to them, and they went down there, and prayed for the Samaritans to receive the Holy Spirit, for as yet he had not come down on any of them: they had only been baptised in the name of the Lord Jesus. Then they laid hands on them, and they received the Holy Spirit.

When Simon saw that the Spirit was given through the imposition of hands by the apostles, he offered them some money. 'Give me the same power' he said 'so that anyone I lay my hands on will receive the Holy Spirit.' Peter answered, 'May your silver be lost forever, and you with it, for thinking that money could buy what God has given for nothing! You have no share, no rights, in this: God can see how your heart is warped. Repent of this wickedness of yours, and pray to the Lord; you may still be forgiven for thinking as you did; it is plain to me that you are trapped in the bitterness of gall and the chains of sin.' 'Pray to the Lord for me yourselves' Simon replied 'so that none of the things you have spoken about may happen to me.'

Having given their testimony and proclaimed the word of the Lord, they went back to Jerusalem, preaching the Good News to a number of Samaritan villages.

Philip baptises a eunuch

The angel of the Lord spoke to Philip saying, 'Be ready to set out at noon along the road that goes from Jerusalem down to Gaza, the desert road'. So he set off on his journey. Now it happened that an Ethiopian had been on pilgrimage to Jerusalem; he was a eunuch and an officer at the court of the kandake, or queen, of Ethiopia, and was in fact her chief treasurer. He was now on his way home; and as he sat in his chariot he was reading the prophet Isaiah. The Spirit said to Philip, 'Go up and meet that chariot'. When Philip ran up, he heard him reading Isaiah the prophet and asked, 'Do you understand what you are reading?' 'How can I' he replied 'unless I have someone to guide me?' So he invited Philip to get in and sit by his side. Now the passage of scripture he was reading was this:

*Like a sheep that is led to the slaughter-house,
like a lamb that is dumb in front of its shearers,
like these he never opens his mouth.
He has been humiliated and has no one to defend him.
Who will ever talk about his descendants,
since his life on earth has been cut short!*

The eunuch turned to Philip and said, 'Tell me, is the prophet referring to himself or someone else?' Starting, therefore, with this text of scripture Philip proceeded to explain the Good News of Jesus to him.

Further along the road they came to some water, and the eunuch said, 'Look, there is some water here; is there anything to stop me being baptised?'<sup>2</sup> He ordered the chariot to stop, then Philip and the eunuch both went down into the water and Philip baptised him. But after they had come up out of the water again Philip was taken away by the Spirit of the Lord, and the eunuch never saw him again but went on his way rejoicing. Philip found that he had reached Azotus and continued his journey proclaiming the Good News in every town as far as Caesarea.

Meanwhile Saul was still breathing threats to slaughter the Lord's disciples. He had gone to the high priest and asked for letters addressed to the synagogues in Damascus, that would authorise him to arrest and take to Jerusalem any followers of the Way, men or women, that he could find.

Suddenly, while he was travelling to Damascus and just before he reached the city, there came a light from heaven all round him. He fell to the ground, and then he heard a voice saying, 'Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me?' 'Who are you, Lord?' he asked, and the voice answered, 'I am Jesus, and you are persecuting me. Get up now and go into the city, and you will be told what you have to do.' The men travelling with Saul stood there speechless, for though they heard the voice they could see no one. Saul got up from the ground, but even with his eyes wide open he could see nothing at all, and they had to lead him into Damascus by the hand. For three days he was without his sight, and took neither food nor drink.

A disciple called Ananias who lived in Damascus had a vision in which he heard the Lord say to him, 'Ananias!' When he replied, 'Here I am, Lord,' the Lord said, 'You must go to Straight Street and ask at the house of Judas for someone called Saul, who comes from Tarsus. At this moment he is praying, having had a vision of a man called Ananias coming in and laying hands on him to give him back his sight.'

When he heard that, Ananias said, 'Lord, several people have told me about this man and all the harm he has been doing to your saints in Jerusalem. He has only come here because he holds a warrant from the chief priests to arrest everybody who invokes your name.' The Lord replied, 'You must go all the same, because this man is my chosen instrument to bring my name before pagans and pagan kings and before the people of Israel; I myself will show him how much he himself must suffer for my name'. Then Ananias went. He entered the house, and at once laid his hands on Saul and said, 'Brother Saul, I have been sent by the Lord Jesus who appeared to you on your way here so that you may recover your sight and be filled with the Holy Spirit'. Immediately it was as though scales fell away from Saul's eyes and he could see again. So he was baptised there and then, and after taking some food he regained his strength.

Saul's preaching at Damascus

After he had spent only a few days with the disciples in Damascus, he began preaching in the synagogues, 'Jesus is the Son of God'. All his hearers were amazed. 'Surely' they said 'this is the man who organised the attack in Jerusalem against the people who invoke this name, and who came here for the sole purpose of arresting them to have them tried by the chief priests?' Saul's power increased steadily, and he was able to throw the Jewish colony at Damascus into complete confusion by the way he demonstrated that Jesus was the Christ.

Some time passed,<sup>1</sup> and the Jews worked out a plot to kill him, but news of it reached Saul. To make sure of killing him they kept watch on the gates day and night, but when it was dark the disciples took him and let him down from the top of the wall, lowering him in a basket.

Saul's visit to Jerusalem

When he got to Jerusalem he tried to join the disciples, but they were all afraid of him: they could not believe he was really a disciple. Barnabas, however, took charge of him, introduced him to the apostles, and explained how the Lord had appeared to Saul and spoken to him on his journey, and how he had preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus. Saul now started to go round with them in Jerusalem, preaching fearlessly in the name of the Lord. But after he had spoken to the Hellenists, and argued with them, they became determined to kill him. When the brothers knew, they took him to Caesarea, and sent him off from there to Tarsus.

A lull

The churches throughout Judaea, Galilee and Samaria were now left in peace, building themselves up, living in the fear of the Lord, and filled with the consolation of the Holy Spirit.

Peter cures a paralytic at Lydda

Peter visited one place after another and eventually came to the saints living down in Lydda. There he found a man called Aeneas, a paralytic who had been bedridden for eight years. Peter said to him, 'Aeneas, Jesus Christ cures you: get up and fold up your sleeping mat'. Aeneas got up immediately; everybody who lived in Lydda and Sharon saw him, and they were all converted to the Lord.

Peter raises a woman to life at Jaffa

At Jaffa there was a woman disciple called Tabitha, or Dorcas in Greek,<sup>2</sup> who never tired of doing good or giving in charity. But the time came when she got ill and died, and they washed her and laid her out in a room upstairs. Lydda is not far from Jaffa, so when the disciples heard that Peter was there, they sent two men with an urgent message for him, 'Come and visit us as soon as possible'.

Peter went back with them straightaway, and on his arrival they took him to the upstairs room, where all the widows stood round him in tears, showing him tunics and other clothes Dorcas had made when she was with them. Peter sent them all out of the room and knelt down and prayed. Then he turned to the dead woman and said, 'Tabitha, stand up'. She opened her eyes, looked at Peter and sat up. Peter helped her to her feet, then he called in the saints and widows and showed them she was alive. The whole of Jaffa heard about it and many believed in the Lord.

Peter stayed on some time in Jaffa, lodging with a leather-tanner called Simon.

Peter visits a Roman centurion

One of the centurions of the Italica cohort stationed in Caesarea was called Cornelius. He and the whole of his household were devout and God-fearing, and he gave generously to Jewish causes and prayed constantly to God.

One day at about the ninth hour he had a vision in which he distinctly saw the angel of God come into his house and call out to him, 'Cornelius!' He stared at the vision in terror and exclaimed, 'What is it, Lord?' 'Your offering of prayers and alms' the angel answered 'has been accepted by God. Now you must send someone to Jaffa and fetch a man called Simon, known as Peter, who is lodging with Simon the tanner whose house is by the sea.' When the angel who said this had gone, Cornelius called two of the slaves and a devout soldier of his staff, told them what had happened, and sent them off to Jaffa.

Next day, while they were still on their journey and had only a short distance to go before reaching Jaffa, Peter went to the housetop at about the sixth hour to pray. He felt hungry and was looking forward to his meal, but before it was ready he fell into a trance and saw heaven thrown open and something like a big sheet being let down to earth by its four corners; it contained every possible sort of animal and bird, walking, crawling or flying ones. A voice then said to him, 'Now, Peter; kill and eat!' But Peter answered, 'Certainly not, Lord; I have never yet eaten anything profane or unclean'. Again, a second time, the voice spoke to him, 'What God has made clean, you have no right to call profane'. This was repeated three times, and then suddenly the container was drawn up to heaven again.

Peter was still worrying over the meaning of the vision he had seen, when the men sent by Cornelius arrived. They had asked where Simon's house was and they were now standing at the door, calling out to know if the Simon known as Peter was lodging there. Peter's mind was still on the vision and the Spirit had to tell him, 'Some men have come to see you. Hurry down, and do not hesitate about going back with them; it was I who told them to come.' Peter went down and said to them, 'I am the man you are looking for; why have you come?' They said, 'The centurion Cornelius, who is an upright and God-fearing man, highly regarded by the entire Jewish people, was directed by a holy angel to send for you and bring you to his house and to listen to what you have to say'. So Peter asked them in and gave them lodging.

Next day, he was ready to go off with them, accompanied by some of the brothers from Jaffa. They reached Caesarea the following day, and Cornelius was waiting for them. He had asked his relations and close friends to be there, and as Peter reached the house Cornelius went out to meet him, knelt at his feet and prostrated himself. But Peter helped him up. 'Stand up,' he said 'I am only a man after all!' Talking together they went in to meet all the people assembled there, and Peter said to them, 'You know it is forbidden for Jews to mix with people of another race and visit them, but God has made it clear to me that I must not call anyone profane or unclean. That is why I made no objection to coming when I was sent for; but I should like to know exactly why you sent for me.' Cornelius replied, 'Three days ago I was praying in my house at the ninth hour, when I suddenly saw a man in front of me in shining robes. He said, "Cornelius, your prayer has been heard and your alms have been accepted as a sacrifice in the sight of God; so now you must send to Jaffa and fetch Simon known as Peter who is lodging in the house of Simon the tanner, by the sea". So I sent for you at once, and you have been kind enough to come. Here we all are, assembled in front of you to hear what message God has given you for us.'

Peter's address in the house of Cornelius

Then Peter addressed them: 'The truth I have now come to realise' he said 'is that God does not have favourites, but that anybody of any nationality who fears God and does what is right is acceptable to him.

'It is true, God sent his word to the people of Israel, and it was to them that the good news of peace was brought<sup>1</sup> by Jesus Christ—but Jesus Christ is Lord of all men. You must have heard about the recent happenings in Judaea; about Jesus of Nazareth and how he began in Galilee, after John had been preaching baptism. God had anointed him with the Holy Spirit<sup>2</sup> and with power, and because God was with him, Jesus went about doing good and curing all who had fallen into the power of the devil. Now I, and those with me, can witness to everything he did throughout the countryside of Judaea and in Jerusalem itself: and also to the fact that they killed him by hanging him on a tree, yet three days afterwards God raised him to life and allowed him to be seen, not by the whole people but only by certain witnesses God had chosen beforehand. Now we are those witnesses—we have eaten and drunk with him after his resurrection from the dead—and he has ordered us to proclaim this to his people and to tell them that God has appointed him to judge everyone, alive or dead. It is to him that all the prophets bear this witness: that all who believe in Jesus will have their sins forgiven through his name.'

Baptism of the first pagans

While Peter was still speaking the Holy Spirit came down on all the listeners. Jewish believers who had accompanied Peter were all astonished that the gift of the Holy Spirit should be poured out on the pagans too, since they could hear them speaking strange languages and proclaiming the greatness of God. Peter himself then said, 'Could anyone refuse the water of baptism to these people, now they have received the Holy Spirit just as much as we have?' He then gave orders for them to be baptised in the name of Jesus Christ. Afterwards they begged him to stay on for some days.

Jerusalem: Peter justifies his conduct

The apostles and the brothers in Judaea heard that the pagans too had accepted the word of God, and when Peter came up to Jerusalem the Jews criticised him and said, 'So you have been visiting the uncircumcised and eating with them, have you?' Peter in reply gave them the details point by point: 'One day, when I was in the town of Jaffa,' he began 'I fell into a trance as I was praying and had a vision of something like a big sheet being let down from heaven by its four corners. This sheet reached the ground quite close to me. I watched it intently and saw all sorts of animals and wild beasts—everything possible that could walk, crawl or fly. Then I heard a voice that said to me, "Now, Peter; kill and eat!" But I answered: Certainly not, Lord; nothing profane or unclean has ever crossed my lips. And a second time the voice spoke from heaven, "What God has made clean, you have no right to call profane". This was repeated three times, before the whole of it was drawn up to heaven again.

'Just at that moment, three men stopped outside the house where we were staying; they had been sent from Caesarea to fetch me, and the Spirit told me to have no hesitation about going back with them. The six brothers here came with me as well, and we entered the man's house. He told us he had seen an angel standing in his house who said, "Send to Jaffa and fetch Simon known as Peter; he has a message for you that will save you and your entire household".

'I had scarcely begun to speak when the Holy Spirit came down on them in the same way as it came on us at the beginning, and I remembered that the Lord had said, "John baptised with water, but you will be baptised with the Holy Spirit". I realised then that God was giving them the identical thing he gave to us when we believed in the Lord Jesus Christ; and who was I to stand in God's way?'

This account satisfied them, and they gave glory to God. 'God' they said 'can evidently grant even the pagans the repentance that leads to life.'

Foundation of the church of Antioch

Those who had escaped during the persecution that happened because of Stephen travelled as far as Phoenicia and Cyprus and Antioch,<sup>1</sup> but they usually proclaimed the message only to Jews. Some of them, however, who came from Cyprus and Cyrene, went to Antioch where they started preaching to the Greeks, proclaiming the Good News of the Lord Jesus to them as well. The Lord helped them, and a great number believed and were converted to the Lord.

The church in Jerusalem heard about this and they sent Barnabas to Antioch. There he could see for himself that God had given grace, and this pleased him, and he urged them all to remain faithful to the Lord with heartfelt devotion; for he was a good man, filled with the Holy Spirit and with faith. And a large number of people were won over to the Lord.

Barnabas then left for Tarsus to look for Saul, and when he found him he brought him to Antioch. As things turned out they were to live together in that church a whole year, instructing a large number of people. It was at Antioch that the disciples were first called 'Christians'.

Barnabas and Saul sent as deputies to Jerusalem

While they were there some prophets<sup>2</sup> came down to Antioch from Jerusalem, and one of them whose name was Agabus, seized by the Spirit, stood up and predicted that a famine would spread over the whole empire. This in fact happened before the reign of Claudius came to an end.<sup>3</sup> The disciples decided to send relief, each to contribute what he could afford, to the brothers living in Judaea. They did this and delivered their contributions to the elders in the care of Barnabas and Saul.

Peter's arrest and miraculous deliverance<sup>4</sup>

It was about this time that King Herod started persecuting certain members of the Church. He beheaded James the brother of John, and when he saw that this pleased the Jews he decided to arrest Peter as well. This was during the days of Unleavened Bread, and he put Peter in prison, assigning four squads of four soldiers each to guard him in turns. Herod meant to try Peter in public after the end of Passover week. All the time Peter was under guard the Church prayed to God for him unremittingly.

On the night before Herod was to try him, Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, fastened with double chains, while guards kept watch at the main entrance to the prison. Then suddenly the angel of the Lord stood there, and the cell was filled with light. He tapped Peter on the side and woke him. 'Get up!' he said 'Hurry!'—and the chains fell from his hands. The angel then said, 'Put on your belt and sandals'. After he had done this, the angel next said, 'Wrap your cloak round you and follow me'. Peter followed him, but had no idea that what the angel did was all happening in reality; he thought he was seeing a vision. They passed through two guard posts one after the other, and reached the iron gate leading to the city. This opened of its own accord; they went through it and had walked the whole length of one street when suddenly the angel left him. It was only then that Peter came to himself. 'Now I know it is all true' he said. 'The Lord really did send his angel and has saved me from Herod and from all that the Jewish people were so certain would happen to me.'

As soon as he realised this he went straight to the house of Mary the mother of John Mark,<sup>5</sup> where a number of people had assembled and were praying. He knocked at the outside door and a servant called Rhoda came to answer it. She recognised Peter's voice and was so overcome with joy that, instead of opening the door, she ran inside with the news that Peter was standing at the main entrance. They said to her, 'You are out of your mind', but she insisted that it was true. Then they said, 'It must be his angel!' Peter, meanwhile, was still knocking, so they opened the door and were amazed to see that it really was Peter himself. With a gesture of his hand he stopped them talking, and described to them how the Lord had led him out of prison. He added, 'Tell James and the brothers'. Then he left and went to another place.

When daylight came there was a great commotion among the soldiers, who could not imagine what had become of Peter. Herod put out an unsuccessful search for him; he had the guards questioned, and before leaving Judaea to take up residence in Caesarea he gave orders for their execution.

The death of the persecutor

Now Herod was on bad terms with the Tyrians and Sidonians. However, they sent a joint deputation which managed to enlist the support of Blastus, the king's chamberlain, and through him negotiated a treaty, since their country depended for its food supply on King Herod's territory. A day was fixed, and Herod, wearing his robes of state and enthroned on a dais, made a speech to them. The people acclaimed him with, 'It is a god speaking, not a man!', and at that moment the angel of the Lord struck him down, because he had not given the glory to God. He was eaten away with worms and died.

Barnabas and Saul return to Antioch

The word of God continued to spread and to gain followers. Barnabas and Saul completed their task and came back from Jerusalem, bringing John Mark with them.

THE MISSION OF BARNABAS AND PAUL
THE COUNCIL OF JERUSALEM

The mission sent out

In the church at Antioch the following were prophets and teachers: Barnabas, Simeon called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, Manaen, who had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. One day while they were offering worship to the Lord and keeping a fast, the Holy Spirit said, 'I want Barnabas and Saul set apart for the work to which I have called them'. So it was that after fasting and prayer they laid their hands on them and sent them off.

So these two, sent on their mission by the Holy Spirit, went down to Selucia and from there sailed to Cyprus. They landed at Salamis and proclaimed the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews; John acted as their assistant.

They travelled the whole length of the island, and at Paphos they came in contact with a Jewish magician called Bar-jesus. This false prophet was one of the attendants of the proconsul Sergius Paulus who was an extremely intelligent man. The proconsul summoned Barnabas and Saul and asked to hear the word of God, but Elymas Magos—as he was called in Greek—tried to stop them so as to prevent the proconsul's conversion to the faith. Then Saul, whose other name is Paul, looked him full in the face and said, 'You utter fraud, you impostor, you son of the devil, you enemy of all true religion, why don't you stop twisting the straightforward ways of the Lord? Now watch how the hand of the Lord will strike you: you will be blind, and for a time you will not see the sun.' That instant, everything went misty and dark for him, and he groped about to find someone to lead him by the hand. The proconsul, who had watched everything, became a believer, being astonished by what he had learnt about the Lord.

Paul and his friends went by sea from Paphos to Perga in Pamphylia where John left them to go back to Jerusalem. The others carried on from Perga till they reached Antioch in Pisidia. Here they went to synagogue on the sabbath and took their seats. After the lessons from the Law and the Prophets had been read, the presidents of the synagogue sent them a message: 'Brothers, if you would like to address some words of encouragement to the congregation, please do so'. Paul stood up, held up a hand for silence and began to speak:

Paul's preaching before the Jews

'Men of Israel, and fearers of God, listen! The God of our nation Israel chose our ancestors, and made our people great when they were living as foreigners in Egypt; then by divine power he led them out, and for about forty years took care of them in the wilderness. When he had destroyed seven nations in Canaan, he put them in possession<sup>1</sup> of their land for about four hundred and fifty years. After this he gave them judges, down to the prophet Samuel. Then they demanded a king, and God gave them Saul son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin. After forty years, he deposed him and made David their king, of whom he approved in these words, "I have selected David son of Jesse, a man after my own heart, who will carry out my whole purpose".<sup>2</sup> To keep his promise, God has raised up for Israel one of David's descendants, Jesus, as Saviour, whose coming was heralded by John when he proclaimed a baptism of repentance for the whole people of Israel. Before John ended his career he said, "I am not the one you imagine me to be; that one is coming after me and I am not fit to undo his sandal".

'My brothers, sons of Abraham's race, and all you who fear God, this message of salvation is meant for you. What the people of Jerusalem and their rulers did, though they did not realise it, was in fact to fulfil the prophecies read on every sabbath. Though they found nothing to justify his death, they condemned him and asked Pilate to have him executed. When they had carried out everything that scripture foretells about him they took him down from the tree and buried him in a tomb. But God raised him from the dead, and for many days he appeared to those who had accompanied him from Galilee to Jerusalem: and it is these same companions of his who are now his witnesses before our people.

'We have come here to tell you the Good News. It was to our ancestors that God made the promise but it is to us, their children, that he has fulfilled it, by raising Jesus from the dead. As scripture says in the first psalm: You are my son: today I have become your father. The fact that God raised him from the dead, never to return to corruption, is no more than what he had declared: To you I shall give the sure and holy things promised to David.<sup>3</sup> This is explained by another text: You will not allow your holy one to experience corruption.<sup>4</sup> Now when David in his own time had served God's purposes he died; he was buried with his ancestors and has certainly experienced corruption. The one whom God has raised up, however, has not experienced corruption.

'My brothers, I want you to realise that it is through him that forgiveness of your sins is proclaimed. Through him justification from all sins which the Law of Moses was unable to justify is offered to every believer.

'So be careful—or what the prophets say will happen to you.

*Cast your eyes around you, mockers;
be amazed, and perish!
For I am doing something in your own days
that you would not believe if you were to be told of it.*<sup>5</sup>

As they left they were asked to preach on the same theme the following sabbath. When the meeting broke up many Jews and devout converts joined Paul and Barnabas, and in their talks with them Paul and Barnabas urged them to remain faithful to the grace God had given them.

Paul and Barnabas preach to the pagans

The next sabbath almost the whole town assembled to hear the word of God. When they saw the crowds, the Jews, prompted by jealousy, used blasphemies and contradicted everything Paul said. Then Paul and Barnabas spoke out boldly. 'We had to proclaim the word of God to you first, but since you have rejected it, since you do not think yourselves worthy of eternal life, we must turn to the pagans. For this is what the Lord commanded us to do when he said:

*I have made you a light for the nations,
so that my salvation may reach the ends of the earth.*<sup>1</sup>

It made the pagans very happy to hear this and they thanked the Lord for his message; all who were destined for eternal life became believers. Thus the word of the Lord spread through the whole countryside.

But the Jews worked upon some of the devout women of the upper classes and the leading men of the city and persuaded them to turn against Paul and Barnabas and expel them from their territory. So they shook the dust from their feet in defiance and went off to Iconium; but the disciples were filled with joy and the Holy Spirit.

Iconium evangelised

At Iconium they went to the Jewish synagogue, as they had at Antioch, and they spoke so effectively that a great many Jews and Greeks became believers.

Some of the Jews, however, refused to believe, and they poisoned the minds of the pagans against the brothers.<sup>2</sup>

Accordingly Paul and Barnabas stayed on for some time, preaching fearlessly for the Lord; and the Lord supported all they said about his gift of grace, allowing signs and wonders to be performed by them.

The people in the city were divided, some supported the Jews, others the apostles, but eventually with the connivance of the authorities a move was made by pagans as well as Jews to make attacks on them and to stone them. When the apostles came to hear of this, they went off for safety to Lycaonia where, in the towns of Lystra and Derbe and in the surrounding country, they preached the Good News.

Healing of a cripple

A man sat there<sup>3</sup> who had never walked in his life, because his feet were crippled from birth; and as he listened to Paul preaching, he managed to catch his eye. Seeing that the man had the faith to be cured, Paul said in a loud voice, 'Get to your feet—stand up', and the cripple jumped up and began to walk.

When the crowd saw what Paul had done they shouted in the language of Lycaonia, 'These people are gods who have come down to us disguised as men'. They addressed Barnabas as Zeus, and since Paul was the principal speaker they called him Hermes.<sup>4</sup> The priests of Zeus-outside-the-Gate, proposing that all the people should offer sacrifice with them, brought garlanded oxen to the gates. When the apostles Barnabas and Paul heard what was happening they tore their clothes,<sup>5</sup> and rushed into the crowd, shouting, 'Friends, what do you think you are doing? We are only human beings like you. We have come with good news to make you turn from these empty idols to the living God who made heaven and earth and the sea and all that these hold. In the past he allowed each nation to go its own way; but even then he did not leave you without evidence of himself in the good things he does for you: he sends you rain from heaven, he makes your crops grow when they should, he gives you food and makes you happy.' Even this speech, however, was scarcely enough to stop the crowd offering them sacrifice.

The mission is disrupted

Then some Jews arrived from Antioch and Iconium, and turned the people against the apostles. They stoned Paul and dragged him outside the town, thinking he was dead. The disciples came crowding round him but, as they did so, he stood up and went back to the town. The next day he and Barnabas went off to Derbe.

Having preached the Good News in that town and made a considerable number of disciples, they went back through Lystra and Iconium to Antioch. They put fresh heart into the disciples, encouraging them to persevere in the faith. 'We all have to experience many hardships' they said 'before we enter the kingdom of God.' In each of these churches they appointed elders, and with prayer and fasting they commended them to the Lord in whom they had come to believe.

They passed through Pisidia and reached Pamphylia. Then after proclaiming the word at Perga they went down to Attalia and from there sailed for Antioch, where they had originally been commended to the grace of God for the work they had now completed.

On their arrival they assembled the church and gave an account of all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith to the pagans. They stayed there with the disciples for some time.

Controversy at Antioch

Then some men came down from Judaea<sup>6</sup> and taught the brothers, 'Unless you have yourselves circumcised in the tradition of Moses you cannot be saved'. This led to disagreement, and after Paul and Barnabas had had a long argument with these men it was arranged that Paul and Barnabas and others of the church should go up to Jerusalem and discuss the problem with the apostles and elders.

All the members of the church saw them off, and as they passed through Phoenicia and Samaria they told how the pagans had been converted, and this news was received with the greatest satisfaction by the brothers. When they arrived in Jerusalem they were welcomed by the church and by the apostles and elders, and gave an account of all that God had done with them.

Controversy at Jerusalem

But certain members of the Pharisees' party who had become believers objected, insisting that the pagans should be circumcised and instructed to keep the Law of Moses. The apostles and elders met to look into the matter, and after the discussion had gone on a long time, Peter stood up and addressed them.

Peter's speech

'My brothers,' he said 'you know perfectly well that in the early days God made his choice among you: the pagans were to learn the Good News from me and so become believers. In fact God, who can read everyone's heart, showed his approval of them by giving the Holy Spirit to them just as he had to us. God made no distinction between them and us, since he purified their hearts by faith. It would only provoke God's anger now, surely, if you imposed on the disciples the very burden that neither we nor our ancestors were strong enough to support? Remember, we believe that we are saved in the same way as they are: through the grace of the Lord Jesus.'

This silenced the entire assembly, and they listened to Barnabas and Paul describing all the signs and wonders God had worked through them among the pagans.

James' speech

When they had finished it was James who spoke. 'My brothers,' he said 'listen to me. Simeon<sup>1</sup> has described how God first arranged to enlist a people for his name out of the pagans. This is entirely in harmony with the words of the prophets, since the scriptures say:

*After that I shall return
and rebuild the fallen House of David;
I shall rebuild it from its ruins
and restore it.
Then the rest of mankind,
all the pagans who are consecrated to my name,
will look for the Lord,
says the Lord who made this known so long ago.<sup>2</sup>*

'I rule, then, that instead of making things more difficult for pagans who turn to God, we send them a letter telling them merely to abstain from anything polluted by idols,<sup>3</sup> from fornication,<sup>4</sup> from the meat of strangled animals and from blood. For Moses has always had his preachers in every town, and is read aloud in the synagogues every sabbath.'

The apostolic letter

Then the apostles and elders decided to choose delegates to send to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas; the whole church concurred with this.

They chose Judas known as Barsabbas and Silas,<sup>6</sup> both leading men in the brotherhood, and gave them this letter to take with them:

'The apostles and elders, your brothers, send greetings to the brothers of pagan birth in Antioch, Syria and Cilicia. We hear that some of our members have disturbed you with their demands and have unsettled your minds. They acted without any authority from us, and so we have decided unanimously to elect delegates and to send them to you with Barnabas and Paul, men we highly respect who have dedicated their lives to the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. Accordingly we are sending you Judas and Silas, who will confirm by word of mouth what we have written in this letter. It has been decided by the Holy Spirit and by ourselves not to saddle you with any burden beyond these essentials: you are to abstain from food sacrificed to idols, from blood, from the meat of strangled animals and from fornication. Avoid these, and you will do what is right. Farewell.'

The party left and went down to Antioch, where they summoned the whole community and delivered the letter. The community read it and were delighted with the encouragement it gave them. Judas and Silas, being themselves prophets, spoke for a long time, encouraging and strengthening the brothers. These two spent some time there, and then the brothers wished them peace and they went back to those who had sent them. Paul and Barnabas, however, stayed on in Antioch, and there with many others they taught and proclaimed the Good News, the word of the Lord.

THE LETTER OF JAMES

Address and greetings

1 From James, servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ. Greetings to the 12 twelve tribes of the Dispersion.<sup>a</sup>

Trials a privilege

My brothers, you will always have your trials but, when they come, try to treat 2 them as a happy privilege;<sup>b</sup> •you understand that your faith is only put to the 3 test to make you patient, •but patience too is to have its practical results so that 4 you will become fully-developed, complete, with nothing missing.

If there is any one of you who needs wisdom, he must ask God, who 5 gives to all freely and ungrudgingly; it will be given to him. •But he must ask 6 with faith, and no trace of doubt, because a person who has doubts is like the 7 waves thrown up in the sea when the wind drives. •That sort of person, in two 8 minds, wavering between going different ways, must not expect that the Lord will give him anything.

It is right for the poor brother to be proud of his high rank, •and the rich 9
one to be thankful that he has been humbled, because riches last no longer than 10
the flowers in the grass; •the scorching sun comes up, and the grass withers, the 11 flower falls;<sup>c</sup> what looked so beautiful now disappears. It is the same with the rich man: his business goes on; he himself perishes.

Happy the man who stands firm<sup>d</sup> when trials come. He has proved himself, 12 and will win the prize of life, the crown that the Lord has promised to those who love him.

Temptation

Never, when you have been tempted, say, 'God sent the temptation'; God 13 cannot be tempted to do anything wrong, and he does not tempt anybody.
Everyone who is tempted is attracted and seduced by his own wrong desire. 14
Then the desire conceives and gives birth to sin, and when sin is fully grown, it too 15 has a child, and the child is death.

Make no mistake about this, my dear brothers: •it is all that is good, 16 everything that is perfect, which is given us from above; it comes down from the 17
Father of all light; with him there is no such thing as alteration, no shadow of a change. •By his own choice he made us his children by the message of the truth 18 so that we should be a sort of first-fruits of all that he had created.

True religion

- 19 Remember this, my dear brothers: be quick to listen<sup>a</sup> but slow to speak and 20 slow to rouse your temper; •God's righteousness is never served by man's anger; 21 so do away with all the impurities and bad habits that are still left in you—accept and submit to the word which has been planted in you and can save your souls.
 22 But you must do what the word tells you, and not just listen to it and deceive
 23 yourselves. •To listen to the word and not obey is like looking at your own features 24 in a mirror and then, •after a quick look, going off and immediately forgetting 25 what you looked like. •But the man who looks steadily at the perfect law of freedom and makes that his habit—not listening and then forgetting, but actively putting it into practice—will be happy in all that he does.
 26 Nobody must imagine that he is religious while he still goes on deceiving himself and not keeping control over his tongue; anyone who does this has the 27 wrong idea of religion. •Pure, unspoilt religion, in the eyes of God our Father is this: coming to the help of orphans and widows when they need it, and keeping oneself uncontaminated by the world.

Respect for the poor

- 1 2 My brothers, do not try to combine faith in Jesus Christ, our glorified Lord, 2 with the making of distinctions between classes of people. •Now suppose a man comes into your synagogue,<sup>a</sup> beautifully dressed and with a gold ring on, and at 3 the same time a poor man comes in, in shabby clothes, •and you take notice of the well-dressed man, and say, 'Come this way to the best seats'; then you tell the 4 poor man, 'Stand over there' or 'You can sit on the floor by my foot-rest'. •Can't you see that you have used two different standards in your mind, and turned yourselves into judges, and corrupt judges at that?
 5 Listen, my dear brothers: it was those who are poor according to the world that God chose, to be rich in faith and to be the heirs to the kingdom which he 6 promised to those who love him. •In spite of this, you have no respect for anybody who is poor. Isn't it always the rich who are against you? Isn't it always their 7 doing when you are dragged before the court? •Aren't they the ones who insult 8 the honourable name to which you have been dedicated? •Well, the right thing to do is to keep the supreme law of scripture: you must love your neighbour as 9 yourself,<sup>b</sup> •but as soon as you make distinctions between classes of people, you are committing sin, and under condemnation for breaking the Law.
 10 You see, if a man keeps the whole of the Law, except for one small point 11 at which he fails, he is still guilty of breaking it all. •It was the same person who said, 'You must not commit adultery' and 'You must not kill'.<sup>c</sup> Now if you commit 12 murder, you do not have to commit adultery as well to become a breaker of the 13 Law. •Talk and behave like people who are going to be judged by the law of freedom, •because there will be judgement without mercy for those who have not been merciful themselves; but the merciful need have no fear of judgement.

Faith and good works

- 14 Take the case, my brothers, of someone who has never done a single good 15 act but claims that he has faith. Will that faith save him? •If one of the brothers or one of the sisters is in need of clothes and has not enough food to live on, 16 and one of you says to them, 'I wish you well; keep yourself warm and eat plenty', without giving them these bare necessities of life, then what good is 17 that? •Faith is like that: if good works do not go with it, it is quite dead.

1 a. In O.T. days the 'Dispersion' (diaspora) meant the Jews who had emigrated from their own country. The writer is using it here to mean the Jewish-Christians, living in the Graeco-Roman world. b. 'happy privilege' is a pun on the greeting formula in v. 1. c. Is 40:6-7 d. Dn 12:12 e. Si 5:11

2 a. Jewish Christians may still have been attending synagogues, or the writer may have adopted this word for the Christian assembly. b. Lv 19:18 c. Ex 20

This is the way to talk to people of that kind: 'You say you have faith and I have good deeds; I will prove to you that I have faith by showing you my good deeds—now you prove to me that you have faith without any good deeds to show. You believe in the one God—that is creditable enough, but the demons have the same belief, and they tremble with fear. •Do realise, you senseless man, that faith without good deeds is useless. •You surely know that Abraham our father was justified by his deed, because he offered his son Isaac on the altar?<sup>4</sup> •There you see it: faith and deeds were working together; his faith became perfect by what he did. This is what scripture really means when it says: Abraham put his faith in God, and this was counted as making him justified;<sup>4</sup> and that is why he was called 'the friend of God'.

You see now that it is by doing something good, and not only by believing, that a man is justified. •There is another example of the same kind: Rahab the prostitute, justified by her deeds because she welcomed the messengers and showed them a different way to leave. •A body dies when it is separated from the spirit, and in the same way faith is dead if it is separated from good deeds.

Uncontrolled language

3 Only a few of you, my brothers, should be teachers, bearing in mind that those of us who teach can expect a stricter judgement.

After all, every one of us does something wrong, over and over again; the only man who could reach perfection would be someone who never said anything wrong—he would be able to control every part of himself. •Once we put a bit into the horse's mouth, to make it do what we want, we have the whole animal under our control. •Or think of ships: no matter how big they are, even if a gale is driving them, the man at the helm can steer them anywhere he likes by controlling a tiny rudder. •So is the tongue only a tiny part of the body, but it can proudly claim that it does great things. Think how small a flame can set fire to a huge forest; •the tongue is a flame like that. Among all the parts of the body, the tongue is a whole wicked world in itself: it infects the whole body; catching fire itself from hell, it sets fire to the whole wheel of creation. •Wild animals and birds, reptiles and fish can all be tamed by man, and often are; •but nobody can tame the tongue—it is a pest that will not keep still, full of deadly poison. •We use it to bless the Lord and Father, but we also use it to curse men who are made in God's image: •the blessing and the curse come out of the same mouth. My brothers, this must be wrong—does any water supply give a flow of fresh water and salt water out of the same pipe? •Can a fig tree give you olives, my brothers, or a vine give figs? No more can sea water give you fresh water.

Real wisdom and its opposite

If there are any wise or learned men among you, let them show it by their good lives, with humility and wisdom in their actions. •But if at heart you have the bitterness of jealousy, or a self-seeking ambition, never make any claims for yourself or cover up the truth with lies —principles of this kind are not the wisdom that comes down from above: they are only earthly, animal and devilish. •Wherever you find jealousy and ambition, you find disharmony, and wicked things of every kind being done; •whereas the wisdom that comes down from above is essentially something pure; it also makes for peace, and is kindly and considerate; it is full of compassion and shows itself by doing good; nor is there any trace of partiality or hypocrisy in it. •Peacemakers, when they work for peace, sow the seeds which will bear fruit in holiness.

Disunity among Christians

4 Where do these wars and battles between yourselves first start? Isn't it precisely in the desires fighting inside your own selves? •You want something and you haven't got it; so you are prepared to kill. You have an ambition that you cannot satisfy; so you fight to get your way by force. Why you don't have what you want is because you don't pray for it; •when you do pray and don't get it, it is because you have not prayed properly, you have prayed for something to indulge your own desires.

You are as unfaithful as adulterous wives; don't you realise that making the world your friend is making God your enemy? Anyone who chooses the world for his friend turns himself into God's enemy. •Surely you don't think scripture is wrong when it says: the spirit which he sent to live in us wants us for himself alone? •But he has been even more generous to us, as scripture says: God opposes the proud but he gives generously to the humble. •Give in to God, then; resist the devil, and he will run away from you. •The nearer you go to God, the nearer he will come to you. Clean your hands, you sinners, and clear your minds, you waverers. •Look at your wretched condition, and weep for it in misery; be miserable instead of laughing, gloomy instead of happy. •Humble yourselves before the Lord and he will lift you up.

Brothers, do not slander one another. Anyone who slanders a brother, or condemns him, is speaking against the Law and condemning the Law. But if you condemn the Law, you have stopped keeping it and become a judge over it. There is only one lawgiver and he is the only judge and has the power to acquit or to sentence. Who are you to give a verdict on your neighbour?

A warning for the rich and the self-confident

Here is the answer for those of you who talk like this: 'Today or tomorrow, we are off to this or that town; we are going to spend a year there, trading, and make some money'. •You never know what will happen tomorrow: you are no more than a mist that is here for a little while and then disappears. •The most you should ever say is: 'If it is the Lord's will, we shall still be alive to do this or that'. •But how proud and sure of yourselves you are now! Pride of this kind is always wicked. •Everyone who knows what is the right thing to do and doesn't do it commits a sin.

Now an answer for the rich. Start crying, weep for the miseries that are coming to you. •Your wealth is all rotting, your clothes are all eaten up by moths. •All your gold and your silver are corroding away, and the same corrosion will be your own sentence, and eat into your body. It was a burning fire that you stored up as your treasure for the last days. •Labourers mowed your fields, and you cheated them—listen to the wages that you kept back, calling out; realise that the cries of the reapers have reached the ears of the Lord of hosts. •On earth you have had a life of comfort and luxury; in the time of slaughter you went on eating to your heart's content. •It was you who condemned the innocent and killed them; they offered you no resistance.

A final exhortation

Now be patient, brothers, until the Lord's coming. Think of a farmer: how patiently he waits for the precious fruit of the ground until it has had the autumn rains and the spring rains! •You too have to be patient; do not lose heart, because the Lord's coming will be soon. •Do not make complaints against one another, brothers, so as not to be brought to judgement yourselves; the Judge is already to be seen waiting at the gates. •For your example, brothers, in submitting with patience, take the prophets who spoke in the name of the Lord; remember it is those who had endurance that we say are the blessed ones. You have heard of the patience of Job, and understood the Lord's purpose, realising that the Lord is kind and compassionate.<sup>a</sup>

Above all, my brothers, do not swear by heaven or by the earth, or use any

2 d. Gn 22:9 e. Gn 15:6

5 a. Ps 103:8

oaths at all. If you mean 'yes', you must say 'yes'; if you mean 'no', say 'no'. Otherwise you make yourselves liable to judgement.

If any one of you is in trouble, he should pray; if anyone is feeling happy, he 13 should sing a psalm. •If one of you is ill, he should send for the elders 14 of the church, and they must anoint him with oil in the name of the Lord and pray over him. •The prayer of faith will save the sick man and the Lord will raise 15 him up again; and if he has committed any sins, he will be forgiven. •So confess 16 your sins to one another, and pray for one another, and this will cure you; the heartfelt prayer of a good man works very powerfully. •Elijah was a human 17 being like ourselves—he prayed hard for it not to rain, and no rain fell for three-and-a-half years; •then he prayed again and the sky gave rain and the earth 18 gave crops.

• My brothers, if one of you strays away from the truth, and another brings 19 him back to it, •he may be sure that anyone who can bring back a sinner from 20 the wrong way that he has taken will be saving a soul from death and covering up a great number of sins.<sup>b</sup>

C

THE LETTERS TO THE THESSALONIANS

After the account of the Council of Jerusalem in Acts 15 the rest of The Acts of the Apostles is entirely concerned with the activities of St. Paul until his arrival in Rome. It is important to remember that there were Christian communities in many places which are not mentioned in The Acts of the Apostles nor in any other part of the New Testament. But from the evidence which we have of the places which are mentioned it is clear that the scattered Christian communities shared a common body of belief, that they had similar patterns of worship, and that their Christianity involved clear moral obligations. The Christian traveller would find himself in familiar surroundings when he attended the meeting of the local Christian community on the first day of the week, the day following the Jewish Sabbath, when the Eucharist was celebrated.

Shortly after the meeting in Jerusalem in A.D. 49 Paul returned to Antioch and then set out to visit the Christian communities which he had founded in Asia Minor during the first of his missionary journeys. Travelling by land, Paul and his companions passed right through Asia Minor to the north-western port of Troas. In Troas Paul recognised the opportunities and needs in Europe, Acts mentions a vision, and he crossed to the eastern end of the Roman road which runs through Macedonia. There he passed through the main staging posts on the road, including Thessalonika, and founded Christian communities in each of them. In each place he followed the same pattern: he appealed first to the Jewish communities in each town, and only when they rejected what he had to tell them about Jesus Christ did he turn to the Gentile population. His preaching provoked considerable opposition amongst the Jewish inhabitants of the Macedonian towns and in the end he was driven along the Roman road by angry Jewish crowds, who turned on the newly converted Christians. Passing through Athens, where the people were unconvinced by his attempts to present Christianity in the language of the Greek poets and philosophers, Paul went on to Corinth and stayed there for eighteen months. From Corinth he returned to Jerusalem; he had been away for a little more than two years. Paul's stay at Corinth provides us with one of the rare opportunities of placing him in his historical context, for he was taken before the Roman Proconsul of Achaia, Gallio, and an inscription has been discovered which establishes that Gallio was Proconsul during the earlier part of A.D. 52.

Paul wrote his two Letters to the Thessalonians from Corinth. They were written to people under persecution, who were expecting the Second Coming of Jesus Christ at any moment. This expectation led some of them to give up their jobs, and some to puzzle about the effects that Christ's Second Coming would have on the General Resurrection. At this stage in Paul's thought, it seems clear, he and his fellow-Christians believed that the Second Coming of Jesus Christ would occur during their own lifetime. Some scholars have grave doubts about the authenticity of the Second Letter to the Thessalonians, mainly on the grounds that it would have to have been written very shortly after the first one, that the close similarities in vocabulary point to an imitator writing the second one, and some differences between the two letters in the teaching about the Second Coming. The differences between the two letters can, however, be explained easily by the circumstances in which Paul was writing and by the situation at Thessalonika. If the Thessalonians, living under the stress of persecution, had misunderstood Paul's teaching or developed it in an unsatisfactory way, two letters in quick succession might well have been necessary.

The Bible's History of the Times

Paul separates from Barnabas and recruits Silas

On a later occasion Paul said to Barnabas, 'Let us go back and visit all the towns where we preached the word of the Lord, so that we can see how the brothers are doing'. Barnabas suggested taking John Mark, but Paul was not in favour of taking along the very man who had deserted them in Pamphylia and had refused to share in their work.

After a violent quarrel they parted company, and Barnabas sailed off with Mark to Cyprus. Before Paul left, he chose Silas to accompany him and was commended by the brothers to the grace of God.

Lycaonia: Paul recruits Timothy

He travelled through Syria and Cilicia, consolidating the churches.

From there he went to Derbe, and then on to Lystra. Here there was a disciple called Timothy, whose mother was a Jewess who had become a believer; but his father was a Greek. The brothers at Lystra and Iconium spoke well of Timothy, and Paul, who wanted to have him as a travelling companion, had him circumcised. This was on account of the Jews in the locality where everyone knew his father was a Greek.

As they visited one town after another, they passed on the decisions reached by the apostles and elders in Jerusalem, with instructions to respect them.

So the churches grew strong in the faith, as well as growing daily in numbers.

The crossing into Asia Minor

They travelled through Phrygia and the Galatian country, having been told by the Holy Spirit not to preach the word in Asia. When they reached the frontier of Mysia they thought to cross it into Bithynia, but as the Spirit of Jesus would not allow them, they went through Mysia and came down to Troas.

One night Paul had a vision: a Macedonian appeared and appealed to him in these words, 'Come across to Macedonia and help us'. Once he had seen this vision we lost no time in arranging a passage to Macedonia, convinced that God had called us to bring them the Good News.

Arrival at Philippi

Sailing from Troas we made a straight run for Samothrace; the next day for Neapolis, and from there for Philippi, a Roman colony and the principal city of that particular district of Macedonia. After a few days in this city we went along the river outside the gates as it was the sabbath and this was a customary place for prayer.<sup>1</sup> We sat down and preached to the women who had come to the meeting. One of these women was called Lydia, a devout woman from the town of Thyatira who was in the purple-dye trade. She listened to us, and the Lord opened her heart to accept what Paul was saying. After she and her household had been baptised she sent us an invitation: 'If you really think me a true believer in the Lord,' she said 'come and stay with us'; and she would take no refusal.

Imprisonment of Paul and Silas

One day as we were going to prayer, we met a slave-girl who was a soothsayer and made a lot of money for her masters by telling fortunes. This girl started following Paul and the rest of us and shouting, 'Here are the servants of the Most High God; they have come to tell you how to be saved!' She did this every day afterwards until Paul lost his temper one day and turned round and said to the spirit, 'I order you in the name of Jesus Christ to leave that woman'. The spirit went out of her then and there.

When her masters saw that there was no hope of making any more money out of her, they seized Paul and Silas and dragged them to the law courts in the market place where they charged them before the magistrates and said, 'These people are causing a disturbance in our city. They are Jews and are advocating practices which it is unlawful for us as Romans to accept or follow.'<sup>2</sup> The crowd joined in and showed its hostility to them, so the magistrates had them stripped and ordered them to be flogged. They were given many lashes and then thrown into prison, and the gaoler was told to keep a close watch on them. So, following his instructions, he threw them into the inner prison and fastened their feet in the stocks.

The miraculous deliverance of Paul and Silas

Late that night Paul and Silas were praying and singing God's praises, while the other prisoners listened. Suddenly there was an earthquake that shook the prison to its foundations. All the doors flew open and the chains fell from all the prisoners. When the gaoler woke and saw the doors wide open he drew his sword and was about to commit suicide, presuming that the prisoners had escaped. But Paul shouted at the top of his voice, 'Don't do yourself any harm; we are all here'.

The gaoler called for lights, then rushed in, threw himself trembling at the feet of Paul and Silas, and escorted them out, saying, 'Sirs, what must I do to be saved?' They told him, 'Become a believer in the Lord Jesus, and you will be saved, and your household too'. Then they preached the word of the Lord to him and to all his family. Late as it was, he took them to wash their wounds, and was baptised then and there with all his household. Afterwards he took them home and gave them a meal, and the whole family celebrated their conversion to belief in God.

When it was daylight the magistrates sent the officers with the order: 'Release those men'. The gaoler reported the message to Paul, 'The magistrates have sent an order for your release; you can go now and be on your way'. 'What!' Paul replied 'They flog Roman citizens in public and without trial and throw us into prison, and then think they can push us out on the quiet! Oh no! They must come and escort us out themselves.'

The officers reported this to the magistrates, who were horrified to hear the men were Roman citizens. They came and begged them to leave the town. From the prison they went to Lydia's house where they saw all the brothers and gave them some encouragement; then they left.

Thessalonika: difficulties with the Jews

Passing through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they eventually reached Thessalonika, where there was a Jewish synagogue. Paul as usual introduced himself and for three consecutive sabbaths developed the arguments from scripture for them, explaining and proving how it was ordained that the Christ should suffer and rise from the dead. 'And the Christ' he said 'is this Jesus whom I am proclaiming to you.' Some of them were convinced and joined Paul and Silas, and so did a great many God-fearing people and Greeks, as well as a number of rich women.

The Jews, full of resentment, enlisted the help of a gang from the market place, stirring up a crowd, and soon had the whole city in an uproar. They made for Jason's house, hoping to find them there and drag them off to the People's Assembly; however, they only found Jason and some of the brothers, and these they dragged before the city council, shouting, 'The people who have been turning the whole world upside down have come here now; they have been staying at Jason's. They have broken every one of Caesar's edicts by claiming that there is another emperor, Jesus.' This accusation alarmed the citizens and the city councillors and they made Jason and the rest give security before setting them free.

Fresh difficulties at Beroea

When it was dark the brothers immediately sent Paul and Silas away to Beroea, where they visited the Jewish synagogue as soon as they arrived. Here the Jews were more open-minded than those in Thessalonika, and they welcomed the word very readily; every day they studied the scriptures to check whether it was true. Many Jews became believers, and so did many Greek women from the upper classes and a number of the men.

When the Jews of Thessalonika heard that the word of God was being preached by Paul in Beroea as well, they went there to make trouble and stir up the people. So the brothers arranged for Paul to go immediately as far as the coast, leaving Silas and Timothy behind. Paul's escort took him as far as Athens, and went back with instructions for Silas and Timothy to rejoin Paul as soon as they could.

Paul waited for them in Athens and there his whole soul was revolted at the sight of a city given over to idolatry. In the synagogue he held debates with the Jews and the God-fearing, but in the market place he had debates every day with anyone who would face him. Even a few Epicurean and Stoic philosophers argued with him. Some said, 'Does this parrot know what he's talking about?' And, because he was preaching about Jesus and the resurrection, others said, 'He sounds like a propagandist for some outlandish gods'.<sup>1</sup>

They invited him to accompany them to the Council of the Areopagus, where they said to him, 'How much of this new teaching you were speaking about are we allowed to know? Some of the things you said seemed startling to us and we would like to find out what they mean.' The one amusement the Athenians and the foreigners living there seem to have, apart from discussing the latest ideas, is listening to lectures about them.

So Paul stood before the whole Council of the Areopagus and made this speech:

'Men of Athens, I have seen for myself how extremely scrupulous you are in all religious matters, because I noticed, as I strolled round admiring your sacred monuments, that you had an altar inscribed: To An Unknown God. Well, the God whom I proclaim is in fact the one whom you already worship without knowing it.

'Since the God who made the world and everything in it is himself Lord of heaven and earth, he does not make his home in shrines made by human hands. Nor is he dependent on anything that human hands can do for him, since he can never be in need of anything; on the contrary, it is he who gives everything—including life and breath—to everyone. From one single stock he not only created the whole human race so that they could occupy the entire earth, but he decreed how long each nation should flourish and what the boundaries of its territory should be. And he did this so that all nations might seek the deity and, by feeling their way towards him, succeed in finding him. Yet in fact he is not far from any of us, since it is in him that we live, and move, and exist,<sup>2</sup> as indeed some of your own writers have said:

"We are all his children".<sup>3</sup>

'Since we are the children of God, we have no excuse for thinking that the deity looks like anything in gold, silver or stone that has been carved and designed by a man.

'God overlooked that sort of thing when men were ignorant, but now he is telling everyone everywhere that they must repent, because he has fixed a day when the whole world will be judged, and judged in righteousness, and he has appointed a man to be the judge. And God has publicly proved this by raising this man from the dead.'

At this mention of rising from the dead, some of them burst out laughing; others said, 'We would like to hear you talk about this again'. After that Paul left them, but there were some who attached themselves to him and became believers, among them Dionysius the Areopagite and a woman called Damaris, and others besides.

Foundation of the church of Corinth

After this Paul left Athens and went to Corinth, where he met a Jew called Aquila whose family came from Pontus. He and his wife Priscilla<sup>1</sup> had recently left Italy because an edict of Claudius had expelled all the Jews from Rome.<sup>2</sup> Paul went to visit them, and when he found they were tent-makers, of the same trade as himself, he lodged with them, and they worked together. Every sabbath he used to hold debates in the synagogues, trying to convert Jews as well as Greeks.

After Silas and Timothy had arrived from Macedonia, Paul devoted all his time to preaching, declaring to the Jews that Jesus was the Christ. When they turned against him and started to insult him, he took his cloak and shook it out in front of them, saying, 'Your blood be on your own heads; from now on I can go to the pagans with a clear conscience'. Then he left the synagogue and moved to the house next door that belonged to a worshipper of God called Justus. Crispus, president of the synagogue, and his whole household, all became believers in the Lord. A great many Corinthians who had heard him became believers and were baptised. One night the Lord spoke to Paul in a vision, 'Do not be afraid to speak out, nor allow yourself to be silenced: I am with you. I have so many people on my side in this city that no one will even attempt to hurt you.' So Paul stayed there preaching the word of God among them for eighteen months.

The Jews take Paul to court

But while Gallio was proconsul of Achaia,<sup>3</sup> the Jews made a concerted attack on Paul and brought him before the tribunal. 'We accuse this man' they said 'of persuading people to worship God in a way that breaks the Law.' Before Paul could open his mouth, Gallio said to the Jews, 'Listen, you Jews. If this were a misdemeanour or a crime, I would not hesitate to attend to you; but if it is only quibbles about words and names, and about your own Law, then you must deal with it yourselves—I have no intention of making legal decisions about things like that.' Then he sent them out of the court, and at once they all turned on Sosthenes, the synagogue president, and beat him in front of the court house. Gallio refused to take any notice at all.

THE FIRST LETTER OF PAUL TO THE CHURCH IN THESSALONIKA

Address

1 I From Paul, Silvanus and Timothy, to the Church in Thessalonika which is in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ; wishing you grace and peace.

Thanksgiving and congratulations

3 We always mention you in our prayers and thank God for you all, •and constantly remember before God our Father how you have shown your faith in action, worked for love and persevered through hope, in our Lord Jesus Christ.

4 We know, brothers, that God loves you and that you have been chosen,
5 because when we brought the Good News to you, it came to you not only as words, but as power and as the Holy Spirit and as utter conviction. And you observed the sort of life we lived when we were with you, which was for your 6 instruction, •and you were led to become imitators of us, and of the Lord; and it was with the joy of the Holy Spirit that you took to the gospel, in spite of the 7 great opposition all round you. •This has made you the great example to all
8 believers in Macedonia and Achaia •since it was from you that the word of the Lord started to spread—and not only throughout Macedonia and Achaia, for the news of your faith in God has spread everywhere. We do not need to tell other
9 people about it: •other people tell us how we started the work among you, how you broke with idolatry when you were converted to God and became servants
10 of the real, living God; •and how you are now waiting for Jesus, his Son, whom he raised from the dead, to come from heaven to save us from the retribution which is coming.

Paul's example in Thessalonika

1 2 You know yourselves, my brothers, that our visit to you has not proved ineffectual.

2 We had, as you know, been given rough treatment and been grossly insulted at Philippi, and it was our God who gave us the courage to proclaim his Good
3 News to you in the face of great opposition. •We have not taken to preaching
4 because we are deluded, or immoral, or trying to deceive anyone; •it was God who decided that we were fit to be entrusted with the Good News, and when we are speaking, we are not trying to please men but God, who can read our inmost
5 thoughts.<sup>a</sup> •You know very well, and we can swear it before God, that never at any time have our speeches been simply flattery, or a cover for trying to get money;
6 nor have we ever looked for any special honour from men, either from you or 7 anybody else, •when we could have imposed ourselves on you with full weight, as apostles of Christ.

Instead, we were unassuming. Like a mother feeding and looking after her own children, •we felt so devoted and protective towards you, and had come to love 8 you so much, that we were eager to hand over to you not only the Good News but our whole lives as well. •Let me remind you, brothers, how hard we used to 9 work, slaving night and day so as not to be a burden on any one of you while we were proclaiming God's Good News to you. •You are witnesses, and so 10 is God, that our treatment of you, since you became believers, has been impeccably right and fair. •You can remember how we treated every one of you as a father 11 treats his children, •teaching you what was right, encouraging you and appealing to you to live a life worthy of God, who is calling you to share the glory of his 12 kingdom.

The faith and the patience of the Thessalonians

Another reason why we constantly thank God for you is that as soon as you 13 heard the message that we brought you as God's message, you accepted it for what it really is, God's message and not some human thinking; and it is still a living 14 power among you who believe it. •For you, my brothers, have been like the churches of God in Christ Jesus which are in Judaea, in suffering the same 15 treatment from your own countrymen as they have suffered from the Jews, •the people who put the Lord Jesus to death, and the prophets too. And now they have been persecuting us, and acting in a way that cannot please God and makes them 16 the enemies of the whole human race, •because they are hindering us from preaching to the pagans and trying to save them. They never stop trying to finish off the sins they have begun,<sup>b</sup> but retribution is overtaking them at last.

Paul's anxiety

A short time after we had been separated from you—in body but never in 17 thought, brothers—we had an especially strong desire and longing to see you face to face again, •and we tried hard to come and visit you; I, Paul, tried more than 18 once, but Satan prevented us. •What do you think is our pride and our joy? You 19 are; and you will be the crown of which we shall be proudest in the presence of our Lord Jesus when he comes; •you are our pride and our joy. 20

Timothy's mission to Thessalonika

3 When we could not bear the waiting any longer, we decided it would be best 1 to be left without a companion at Athens, and •sent our brother Timothy, 2 who is God's helper in spreading the Good News of Christ, to keep you firm and strong in the faith •and prevent any of you from being unsettled by the present 3 troubles. As you know, these are bound to come our way: •when we were with 4 you, we warned you that we must expect to have persecutions to bear, and that is what has happened now, as you have found out. •That is why, when I could 5 not stand waiting any longer, I sent to assure myself of your faith: I was afraid the Tempter<sup>a</sup> might have tried you too hard, and all our work might have been wasted.

Paul thanks God for good reports of the Thessalonians

However, Timothy is now back from you and he has given us good news of 6 your faith and your love, telling us that you always remember us with pleasure and want to see us quite as much as we want to see you. •And so, brothers, your 7 faith has been a great comfort to us in the middle of our own troubles and sorrows;
 now we can breathe again, as you are still holding firm in the Lord. •How can we 8
 thank God enough for you, for all the joy we feel before our God on your account? 9
 We are earnestly praying night and day to be able to see you face to face again and 10 make up any shortcomings in your faith.

May God our Father himself, and our Lord Jesus Christ, make it easy for us 11 to come to you. •May the Lord be generous in increasing your love and make you 12 love one another and the whole human race as much as we love you. •And may 13

he so confirm your hearts in holiness that you may be blameless in the sight of our God and Father when our Lord Jesus Christ comes with all his saints.

Live in holiness and charity

- 1 4 Finally, brothers, we urge you and appeal to you in the Lord Jesus to make 2 more and more progress in the kind of life that you are meant to live: the life
 3 that God wants, as you learnt from us, and as you are already living it. •You
 4 have not forgotten the instructions we gave you on the authority of the Lord Jesus.
 5 What God wants is for you all to be holy. He wants you to keep away from 6 fornication, •and each one of you to know how to use the body that belongs to 7 him<sup>a</sup> in a way that is holy and honourable, •not giving way to selfish lust like the 8 pagans who do not know God.<sup>b</sup> •He wants nobody at all ever to sin by taking advantage 9 of a brother in these matters; the Lord always punishes sins of that sort, as 10 we told you before and assured you. •We have been called by God to be holy, 11 not to be immoral; •in other words, anyone who objects is not objecting to a 12 human authority, but to God, who gives you his Holy Spirit.<sup>c</sup>
 13 As for loving our brothers, there is no need for anyone to write to you about 14 that, since you have learnt from God yourselves to love one another, •and in fact 15 this is what you are doing with all the brothers throughout the whole of 16 Macedonia. However, we do urge you, brothers, to go on making even greater 17 progress •and to make a point of living quietly, attending to your own business 18 and earning your living, just as we told you to, •so that you are seen to be respectable by those outside the Church, though you do not have to depend on them.

The dead and the living at the time of the Lord's coming

- 13 We want you to be quite certain, brothers, about those who have died,<sup>d</sup> to make 14 sure that you do not grieve about them, like the other people who have no hope.
 15 We believe that Jesus died and rose again, and that it will be the same for those 16 who have died in Jesus: God will bring them with him. •We can tell you this from 17 the Lord's own teaching, that any of us who are left alive until the Lord's coming 18 will not have any advantage over those who have died. •At the trumpet of God, the voice of the archangel will call out the command and the Lord himself will come down from heaven; those who have died in Christ will be the first to rise, and then those of us who are still alive will be taken up in the clouds, together with them, to meet the Lord in the air. So we shall stay with the Lord for ever.
 With such thoughts as these you should comfort one another.

Watchfulness while awaiting the coming of the Lord

- 1 5 You will not be expecting us to write anything to you, brothers, about 'times
 2 and seasons', •since you know very well that the Day of the Lord is going to 3 come like a thief in the night. •It is when people are saying, 'How quiet and 4 peaceful it is' that the worst suddenly happens, as suddenly as labour pains come 5 on a pregnant woman; and there will be no way for anybody to evade it.
 6 But it is not as if you live in the dark, my brothers, for that Day to overtake
 7 you like a thief. •No, you are all sons of light and sons of the day: we do not belong
 8 to the night or to darkness, •so we should not go on sleeping, as everyone else 9 does, but stay wide awake and sober. •Night is the time for sleepers to sleep and drunkards to be drunk, •but we belong to the day and we should be sober; let us put on faith and love for a breastplate, and the hope of salvation for a helmet.
 God never meant us to experience the Retribution, but to win salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, •who died for us so that, alive or dead, we should still live 10 united to him. •So give encouragement to each other, and keep strengthening one 11 another, as you do already.

Some demands made by life in community

We appeal to you, my brothers, to be considerate to those who are working 12 amongst you and are above you in the Lord as your teachers. •Have the greatest 13 respect and affection for them because of their work.

Be at peace among yourselves. •And this is what we ask you to do, brothers: 14 warn the idlers, give courage to those who are apprehensive, care for the weak and 15 be patient with everyone. •Make sure that people do not try to take revenge; 16 you must all think of what is best for each other and for the community. •Be 17 happy at all times; •pray constantly; •and for all things give thanks to God, 18 because this is what God expects you to do in Christ Jesus.

 Never try to suppress the Spirit •or treat the gift of prophecy with contempt; 19 think before you do anything—hold on to what is good •and avoid every form of 20
evil. 21 22

Closing prayer and farewell

May the God of peace make you perfect and holy; and may you all be kept 23 safe and blameless, spirit, soul and body, for the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.
 God has called you and he will not fail you. 24

Pray for us, my brothers. 25

Greet all the brothers with the holy kiss. •My orders, in the Lord's name, 26 are that this letter is to be read to all the brothers. 27

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. 28

THE SECOND LETTER OF PAUL TO THE CHURCH IN THESSALONIKA

Address

1 From Paul, Silvanus and Timothy, to the Church in Thessalonika which is in 1
 God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ; •wishing you grace and peace 2 from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Thanksgiving and encouragement. The Last Judgement

We feel we must be continually thanking God for you, brothers; quite rightly, 3 because your faith is growing so wonderfully and the love that you have for one 4 another never stops increasing; •and among the churches of God we can take 5 special pride in you for your constancy and faith under all the persecutions and 6 troubles you have to bear. •It all shows that God's judgement is just, and the 7 purpose of it is that you may be found worthy of the kingdom of God; it is for the 8 sake of this that you are suffering now.

God will very rightly repay with injury those who are injuring you, •and reward 9
 you, who are suffering now, with the same peace as he will give us, when the Lord 10
 Jesus appears from heaven with the angels of his power. •He will come in flaming 11
fire to impose the penalty on all who do not acknowledge God<sup>a</sup> and refuse to accept 12
the Good News of our Lord Jesus. •It will be their punishment to be lost eter- 13 nally, excluded from the presence of the Lord and from the glory of his strength 14 on that day when he comes to be glorified among his saints and seen in his glory<sup>b</sup> 15 by all who believe in him; and you are believers, through our witness.

- 11 Knowing this, we pray continually that our God will make you worthy of his call, and by his power fulfil all your desires for goodness and complete all that 12 you have been doing through faith; •because in this way the name of our Lord Jesus Christ will be glorified in you and you in him, by the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

The coming of the Lord and the prelude to it

- 1 2 To turn now, brothers, to the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and how we 2 shall all be gathered round him: •please do not get excited too soon or alarmed by any prediction or rumour or any letter claiming to come from us, 3 implying that the Day of the Lord has already arrived. •Never let anyone deceive you in this way

- It cannot happen until the Great Revolt has taken place and the Rebel, the 4 Lost One, has appeared. •This is the Enemy, the one who claims to be so much greater than all that men call 'god', so much greater than anything that is worshipped, that he enthrones himself in God's sanctuary and claims that he is God.
 5 Surely you remember me telling you about this when I was with you? •And you know, too, what is still holding him back from appearing before his appointed 7 time. •Rebellion is at its work already, but in secret, and the one who is holding 8 it back has first to be removed •before the Rebel appears openly. The Lord will kill him with the breath of his mouth<sup>a</sup> and will annihilate him with his glorious appearance at his coming.

- 9 But when the Rebel comes, Satan will set to work: there will be all kinds of 10 miracles and a deceptive show of signs and portents, •and everything evil that can deceive those who are bound for destruction because they would not grasp 11 the love of the truth which could have saved them. •The reason why God 12 is sending a power to delude them and make them believe what is untrue •is to condemn all who refused to believe in the truth and chose wickedness instead.

Encouragement to persevere

- 13 But we feel that we must be continually thanking God for you, brothers whom the Lord loves, because God chose you from the beginning to be saved by the 14 sanctifying Spirit and by faith in the truth. •Through the Good News that we brought he called you to this so that you should share the glory of our Lord Jesus 15 Christ. •Stand firm, then, brothers, and keep the traditions that we taught you, 16 whether by word of mouth or by letter. •May our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father who has given us his love and, through his grace, such inexhaust-17 ible comfort and such sure hope, •comfort you and strengthen you in everything good that you do or say.

- 1 3 Finally, brothers, pray for us; pray that the Lord's message may spread 2 quickly, and be received with honour as it was among you; •and pray that we may be preserved from the interference of bigoted and evil people, for faith is not 3 given to everyone. •But the Lord is faithful, and he will give you strength and 4 guard you from the evil one, •and we, in the Lord, have every confidence that 5 you are doing and will go on doing all that we tell you. •May the Lord turn your hearts towards the love of God and the fortitude of Christ.

Against idleness and disunity

- 6 In the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, we urge you, brothers, to keep away from any of the brothers who refuses to work or to live according to the tradition we passed on to you.
 7 You know how you are supposed to imitate us: now we were not idle when

1 a. God's coming in fire is quoted from Is 66:15; the penalty on those who do not acknowledge him is a quotation from Jr 10:25. b. Quotations from Is 2:10-17; 49:3; 66:5.

we were with you, nor did we ever have our meals at anyone's table without 8 paying for them; no, we worked night and day, slaving and straining, so as not to be a burden on any of you. •This was not because we had no right to be, but in 9 order to make ourselves an example for you to follow.

We gave you a rule when we were with you: not to let anyone have any food if 10 he refused to do any work. •Now we hear that there are some of you who are living in idleness, doing no work themselves but interfering with everyone else's. 11
In the Lord Jesus Christ, we order and call on people of this kind to go on quietly 12 working and earning the food that they eat.

My brothers, never grow tired of doing what is right. •If anyone refuses to obey 13 what I have written in this letter, take note of him and have nothing to do with 14 him, so that he will feel that he is in the wrong; •though you are not to regard him 15 as an enemy but as a brother in need of correction.

Prayer and farewell wishes

May the Lord of peace himself give you peace all the time and in every way. 16
The Lord be with you all.

From me, PAUL, these greetings in my own handwriting, which is the mark 17 of genuineness in every letter; this is my own writing. •May the grace of our Lord 18
Jesus Christ be with you all.

THE LETTER TO THE GALATIANS

After his long stay in Corinth Paul left by a ship crossing the Aegean Sea to Ephesus, where he visited the Jewish synagogue and entered into discussions with its members. They urged him to stay but Paul was anxious to return to his home base at Antioch in Syria. He sailed from Ephesus to Caesarea, the Roman administrative centre on the coast of Palestine, and he may have paid a short visit to Jerusalem before returning to Antioch.

Very soon he began the third of his missionary journeys, north from Antioch through what is now southern Turkey, where he visited the churches of Galatia which he had founded during his first missionary journey. Meanwhile, a Christian Jew from Alexandria, Apollos, had been travelling through the area teaching a form of Christianity. Apollos seems to have derived his teaching from John the Baptist rather than from the Apostles, for he taught that baptism was only an expression of the penitence of the people who were baptised, and not that it had power to change their lives. The fuller teaching of the Gospels and the Letters of St. Paul associates baptism with receiving the Holy Spirit, and with a union with Jesus Christ that enables the baptised penitent to share in his death and resurrection. After a short stay at Ephesus Apollos had crossed to Corinth.

Apollos's stay at Corinth was one of the causes of the tensions which developed in the Corinthian church, which Paul refers to in 1 Corinthians.

Paul probably reached Ephesus some time early in A.D. 55 and stayed for a little more than two years. As usual he began by teaching in the synagogue, and when this aroused bitter opposition moved to a private lecture room. A small Christian community already existed in the city, founded on the teaching which Apollos had given; Paul expanded and corrected this teaching, and introduced the full form of Christian baptism.

This seems the best period in which to place the Letter to the Galatians, for it is the first of Paul's writings in which the question of the obligations of Christians towards the Jewish law emerges.

It is an angry letter. It appears that men had followed Paul through the churches of Galatia teaching the people that they could not be Christians unless they first became Jews and kept all the regulations of the Mosaic Law, including circumcision. It is not possible to identify these men; if they were associated with the Christian church in Jerusalem, whose members were already Jews, they may have used that church's authority while distorting its teachings. It also seems probable that they made a personal attack on Paul himself, in which they asserted that he was not a full Apostle. As a consequence Paul's letter to the Galatians contains two chapters of valuable biographical material, with which he defends himself as a Apostle. The teaching about Christ as the only Saviour, and Christian faith and freedom, is later developed further by Paul in the Letter to the Romans.

The Bible's History of the Times

Return to Antioch and departure for the third journey

After staying on for some time, Paul took leave of the brothers and sailed for Syria,<sup>1</sup> accompanied by Priscilla and Aquila. At Cenchreae he had his hair cut off, because of a vow he had made.

When they reached Ephesus, he left them, but first he went alone to the synagogue to debate with the Jews. They asked him to stay longer but he declined, though when he left he said, 'I will come back another time, God willing'. Then he sailed from Ephesus.

He landed at Caesarea, and went up to greet the church. Then he came down to Antioch where he spent a short time before continuing his journey through the Galatian country and then through Phrygia, encouraging all the followers.

Apollos

An Alexandrian Jew named Apollos now arrived in Ephesus. He was an eloquent man, with a sound knowledge of the scriptures, and yet, though he had been given instruction in the Way of the Lord and preached with great spiritual earnestness and was accurate in all the details he taught about Jesus, he had only experienced the baptism of John. When Priscilla and Aquila heard him speak boldly in the synagogue, they took an interest in him and gave him further instruction about the Way.

When Apollos thought of crossing over to Achaia, the brothers encouraged him and wrote asking the disciples to welcome him. When he arrived there he was able by God's grace to help the believers considerably by the energetic way he refuted the Jews in public and demonstrated from the scriptures that Jesus was the Christ.

The disciples of John at Ephesus

While Apollos was in Corinth, Paul made his way overland as far as Ephesus, where he found a number of disciples. When he asked, 'Did you receive the Holy Spirit when you became believers?' they answered, 'No, we were never even told there was such a thing as a Holy Spirit'. 'Then how were you baptised?' he asked. 'With John's baptism' they replied. 'John's baptism' said Paul 'was a baptism of repentance; but he insisted that the people should believe in the one who was to come after him—in other words Jesus.' When they heard this, they were baptised in the name of the Lord Jesus, and the moment Paul had laid hands on them the Holy Spirit came down on them, and they began to speak with tongues and to prophesy. There were about twelve of these men.

Foundation of the church of Ephesus

He began by going to the synagogue, where he spoke out boldly and argued persuasively about the kingdom of God. He did this for three months, till the attitude of some of the congregation hardened into unbelief. As soon as they began attacking the Way in front of the others, he broke with them and took his disciples apart to hold daily discussions in the lecture room of Tyrannus. This went on for two years, with the result that people from all over Asia,<sup>2</sup> both Jews and Greeks, were able to hear the word of the Lord.

The Jewish exorcists

So remarkable were the miracles worked by God at Paul's hands that handkerchiefs or aprons which had touched him were taken to the sick, and they were cured of their illnesses, and the evil spirits came out of them.

But some itinerant Jewish exorcists tried pronouncing the name of the Lord Jesus over people who were possessed by evil spirits; they used to say, 'I command you by the Jesus whose spokesman is Paul'. Among those who did this were seven sons of Sceva, a Jewish chief priest. The evil spirit replied, 'Jesus I recognise, and I know who Paul is, but who are you?' and the man with the evil spirit hurled himself at them and overpowered first one and then another, and handled them so violently that they fled from that house naked and badly mauled. Everybody in Ephesus, both Jews and Greeks, heard about this episode; they were all greatly impressed, and the name of the Lord Jesus came to be held in great honour.

Some believers, too, came forward to admit in detail how they had used spells and a number of them who had practised magic collected their books and made a bonfire of them in public. The value of these was calculated to be fifty thousand silver pieces.

In this impressive way the word of the Lord spread more and more widely and successfully.

THE LETTER OF PAUL TO THE CHURCH IN GALATIA

Address

1 From Paul to the churches of Galatia, and from all the brothers who are here 1 2 with me, an apostle who does not owe his authority to men or his appointment to any human being but who has been appointed by Jesus Christ and by God the Father who raised Jesus from the dead. •We wish you the grace and peace of 3
God our Father and of the Lord Jesus Christ, •who in order to rescue us from 4 this present wicked world sacrificed himself for our sins, in accordance with the will of God our Father, •to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen. 5

A warning

I am astonished at the promptness with which you have turned away from the 6 one who called you and have decided to follow a different version of the Good News. •Not that there can be more than one Good News; it is merely that some 7 troublemakers among you want to change the Good News of Christ; •and let 8 me warn you that if anyone preaches a version of the Good News different from the one we have already preached to you, whether it be ourselves or an angel from heaven, he is to be condemned. •I am only repeating what we told you 9 before: if anyone preaches a version of the Good News different from the one you have already heard, he is to be condemned. •So now whom am I trying to 10 please—man, or God? Would you say it is men's approval I am looking for?<sup>a</sup> If I still wanted that, I should not be what I am—a servant of Christ.

PAUL'S APOLOGIA

God's call

The fact is, brothers, and I want you to realise this, the Good News I 11 preached is not a human message •that I was given by men, it is something 12
I learnt only through a revelation of Jesus Christ. •You must have heard of 13 my career as a practising Jew, how merciless I was in persecuting the Church of God, how much damage I did to it, •how I stood out among other Jews of my 14 generation, and how enthusiastic I was for the traditions of my ancestors.

Then God, who had specially chosen me while I was still in my mother's 15
womb,<sup>b</sup> called me through his grace and chose •to reveal his Son in me, so that 16
I might preach the Good News about him to the pagans. I did not stop to discuss this with any human being, •nor did I go up to Jerusalem to see those who were 17 already apostles before me, but I went off to Arabia<sup>c</sup> at once and later went straight back from there to Damascus. •Even when after three years I went up 18 to Jerusalem to visit Cephas and stayed with him for fifteen days, •I did not see 19 any of the other apostles; I only saw James, the brother of the Lord, •and I 20 21 swear before God that what I have just written is the literal truth. •After that 22 I went to Syria and Cilicia, •and was still not known by sight to the churches of 23 Christ in Judaea, •who had heard nothing except that their one-time persecutor 24 was now preaching the faith he had previously tried to destroy; •and they gave glory to God for me.

The meeting at Jerusalem

1 2 It was not till fourteen years had passed that I went up to Jerusalem again.
 2 I went with Barnabas and took Titus with me. •I went there as the result of a revelation, and privately I laid before the leading men the Good News as I proclaim it among the pagans; I did so for fear the course I was adopting or had 3 already adopted would not be allowed. •And what happened? Even though Titus 4 who had come with me is a Greek, he was not obliged to be circumcised. •The question came up only because some who do not really belong to the brotherhood have furtively crept in to spy on the liberty we enjoy in Christ Jesus, and want 5 to reduce us all to slavery. •I was so determined to safeguard for you the true meaning of the Good News, that I refused even out of deference to yield to 6 such people for one moment. •As a result, these people who are acknowledged leaders—not that their importance matters to me, since God has no favourites—7 these leaders, as I say, had nothing to add to the Good News as I preach it. •On the contrary, they recognised that I had been commissioned to preach the Good News to the uncircumcised just as Peter had been commissioned to preach it to 8 the circumcised. •The same person whose action had made Peter the apostle of 9 the circumcised had given me a similar mission to the pagans. •So, James, Cephas and John, these leaders, these pillars, shook hands with Barnabas and me as a sign of partnership: we were to go to the pagans and they to the 10 circumcised.<sup>a</sup> •The only thing they insisted on was that we should remember to help the poor, as indeed I was anxious to do.

Peter and Paul at Antioch

11 When Cephas came to Antioch, however, I opposed him to his face, since 12 he was manifestly in the wrong. •His custom had been to eat with the pagans,<sup>b</sup> but after certain friends of James arrived he stopped doing this and kept away 13 from them altogether for fear of the group that insisted on circumcision. •The other Jews joined him in this pretence, and even Barnabas felt himself obliged to copy their behaviour.
 14 When I saw they were not respecting the true meaning of the Good News, I said to Cephas in front of everyone, 'In spite of being a Jew, you live like the pagans and not like the Jews, so you have no right to make the pagans copy Jewish ways'.

The Good News as proclaimed by Paul

15 16 •Though we were born Jews and not pagan sinners, •we acknowledge that what makes a man righteous is not obedience to the Law, but faith in Jesus Christ. We had to become believers in Christ Jesus no less than you had, and now we hold that faith in Christ rather than fidelity to the Law is what justifies 17 us, and that no one can be justified<sup>c</sup> by keeping the Law. •Now if we were to admit that the result of looking to Christ to justify us is to make us sinners like the rest, it would follow that Christ had induced us to sin, which would be 18 absurd. •If I were to return to a position I had already abandoned, I should be 19 admitting I had done something wrong. •In other words, through the Law I am

1 a. Probably a rejoinder to an accusation by the judaisers that Paul was trying to make the pagans' conversion easy by not insisting on circumcision. b. Is. 49:1 c. Probably the kingdom of the Nabataean Arabs, to the S. of Damascus.

2 a. The distinction is geographical rather than racial; when Paul went among the Gentiles the resident Jews were his first concern. b. Converts from paganism. c. Ps 143:2

dead to the Law, so that now I can live for God. I have been crucified with Christ, and I live now not with my own life but with the life of Christ who lives in me. The life I now live in this body I live in faith: faith in the Son of God who loved me and who sacrificed himself for my sake. I cannot bring myself to give up God's gift: if the Law can justify us, there is no point in the death of Christ.'

DOCTRINAL MATTERS

Justification by faith

3 Are you people in Galatia mad? Has someone put a spell on you, in spite 1 of the plain explanation you have had of the crucifixion of Jesus Christ? 20
Let me ask you one question: was it because you practised the Law that you 2 received the Spirit, or because you believed what was preached to you? Are you 3 foolish enough to end in outward observances what you began in the Spirit? 4 Have all the favours you received been wasted? And if this were so, they would 5 most certainly have been wasted. Does God give you the Spirit so freely and 6 work miracles among you because you practise the Law, or because you believed 7 what was preached to you? 8

Take Abraham for example: he put his faith in God, and this faith was 6 considered as justifying him.<sup>a</sup> Don't you see that it is those who rely on faith who 7 are the sons of Abraham? Scripture foresaw that God was going to use faith 8 to justify the pagans, and proclaimed the Good News long ago when Abraham 9 was told: In you all the pagans will be blessed.<sup>b</sup> Those therefore who rely on 9 faith receive the same blessing as Abraham, the man of faith.

The curse brought by the Law

On the other hand, those who rely on the keeping of the Law are under a 10 curse, since scripture says: Cursed be everyone who does not persevere in observing 10 everything prescribed in the book of the Law.<sup>c</sup> The Law will not justify anyone 11 in the sight of God, because we are told: the righteous man finds life through faith.<sup>d</sup>
The Law is not even based on faith, since we are told: The man who practises 12 these precepts finds life through practising them.<sup>e</sup> Christ redeemed us from the 13 curse of the Law by being cursed for our sake, since scripture says: Cursed be 14 everyone who is hanged on a tree.<sup>f</sup> This was done so that in Christ Jesus the 15 blessing of Abraham might include the pagans, and so that through faith we might 16 receive the promised Spirit.

The Law did not cancel the promise

Compare this, brothers, with what happens in ordinary life. If a will has 15 been drawn up in due form, no one is allowed to disregard it or add to it. Now 16 the promises were addressed to Abraham and to his descendants—notice, in 17 passing, that scripture does not use a plural word as if there were several 18 descendants, it uses the singular: to his posterity, which is Christ. But my 19 point is this: once God had expressed his will in due form, no law that came 20 four hundred and thirty years later could cancel that and make the promise 21 meaningless. If you inherit something as a legal right, it does not come to you as the result of a promise, and it was precisely in the form of a promise that God made his gift to Abraham.

The purpose of the Law

What then was the purpose of adding the Law? This was done to specify 19 crimes, until the posterity came to whom the promise was addressed. The Law 20 was promulgated by angels,<sup>g</sup> assisted by an intermediary. Now there can only 21 be an intermediary between two parties, yet God is one. Does this mean that there is opposition between the Law and the promises of God? Of course not.

22 We could have been justified by the Law if the Law we were given had been capable of giving life, •but it is not: scripture makes no exceptions when it says that sin is master everywhere. In this way the promise can only be given through faith in Jesus Christ and can only be given to those who have this faith.

The coming of faith

23 Before faith came, we were allowed no freedom by the Law; we were being 24 looked after till faith was revealed. •The Law was to be our guardian until the 25 Christ came and we could be justified by faith. •Now that that time has come 26 we are no longer under that guardian, •and you are, all of you, sons of God
27 through faith in Christ Jesus. •All baptised in Christ, you have all clothed 28 yourselves in Christ, •and there are no more distinctions between Jew and 29 Greek, slave and free, male and female, but all of you are one in Christ Jesus.
Merely by belonging to Christ you are the posterity of Abraham, the heirs he was promised.

Sons of God

1 4 Let me put this another way: an heir, even if he has actually inherited everything, is no different from a slave for as long as he remains a child.
2 He is under the control of guardians and administrators until he reaches the 3 age fixed by his father. •Now before we came of age we were as good as slaves to 4 the elemental principles of this world,<sup>a</sup> •but when the appointed time came,
5 God sent his Son, born of a woman, born a subject of the Law, •to redeem the 6 subjects of the Law and to enable us to be adopted as sons. •The proof that you
7 are sons is that God has sent the Spirit of his Son into our hearts: the Spirit that cries, 'Abba, Father', •and it is this that makes you a son, you are not a slave any more; and if God has made you son, then he has made you heir.
8 Once you were ignorant of God, and enslaved to 'gods' who are not really 9 gods at all; •but now that you have come to acknowledge God—or rather, now
10 that God has acknowledged you—how can you want to go back to elemental 11 things like these, that can do nothing and give nothing, and be their slaves? •You and your special days and months and seasons and years! •You make me feel I have wasted my time with you.

A personal appeal

12 Brothers, all I ask is that you should copy me as I copied you. You have 13 never treated me in an unfriendly way before; •even at the beginning, when that 14 illness gave me the opportunity to preach the Good News to you, •you never showed the least sign of being revolted or disgusted by my disease that was such 15 a trial to you; instead you welcomed me as an angel of God, as if I were Christ
16 Jesus himself. •What has become of this enthusiasm you had? I swear that you 17 would even have gone so far as to pluck out your eyes and give them to me. •Is it telling you the truth that has made me your enemy? •The blame lies in the way 18 they have tried to win you over: by separating you from me, they want to win 19 you over to themselves. •It is always a good thing to win people over—and I do not have to be there with you—but it must be for a good purpose, •my children! I must go through the pain of giving birth to you all over again, until 20 Christ is formed in you. •I wish I were with you now so that I could know exactly what to say; as it is, I have no idea what to do for the best.

The two covenants: Hagar and Sarah

21 21 You want to be subject to the Law? Then listen to what the Law says. •It
22 says, if you remember, that Abraham had two sons, one by the slave-girl, and one

3 a. Gn 15:6 b. Gn 12:3 c. Dt 27:26 d. Hab 2:4 e. Lv 18:5 f. Dt 21:23 g. In Jewish tradition angels were present at Sinai; the 'intermediary' is Moses.

4 a. The principles that make up the physical universe: Paul has related the Law to 'outward observances', 3:3.

by his free-born wife. •The child of the slave-girl was born in the ordinary way; 23
 the child of the free woman was born as the result of a promise. •This can be 24 regarded as an allegory: the women stand for the two covenants. The first who 25 comes from Mount Sinai, and whose children are slaves, is Hagar—•since Sinai 25 is in Arabia—and she corresponds to the present Jerusalem that is a slave like 26 her children. •The Jerusalem above, however, is free and is our mother, •since 27 scripture says: Shout for joy, you barren women who bore no children! Break into 26
shouts of joy and gladness, you who were never in labour. For there are more sons of 27 the forsaken one than sons of the wedded wife.<sup>b</sup> •Now you, my brothers, like Isaac, 28 are children of the promise, •and as at that time the child born in the ordinary 29 way persecuted the child born in the Spirit's way, so also now. •Does not 30 scripture say: Drive away that slave-girl and her son; this slave-girl's son is not to 31
share the inheritance with the son<sup>c</sup> of the free woman? •So, my brothers, we are 31 the children, not of the slave-girl, but of the free-born wife.

EXHORTATION

Christian liberty

5 When Christ freed us, he meant us to remain free. Stand firm, therefore, 1 and do not submit again to the yoke of slavery. •It is I, Paul, who tell you 2 this: if you allow yourselves to be circumcised, Christ will be of no benefit to 3 you at all. •With all solemnity I repeat my warning: Everyone who accepts 3 circumcision is obliged to keep the whole Law. •But if you do look to the Law 4 to make you justified, then you have separated yourselves from Christ, and have 4 fallen from grace. •Christians are told by the Spirit to look to faith for those 5 rewards that righteousness hopes for, •since in Christ Jesus whether you are 6 circumcised or not makes no difference—what matters is faith that makes its 6 power felt through love.

You began your race well: who made you less anxious to obey the truth? 7
 You were not prompted by him who called you! •The yeast seems to be spreading 8 through the whole batch of you. •I feel sure that, united in the Lord, you will 9 agree with me, and anybody who troubles you in future will be condemned, 10 no matter who he is. •As for me, my brothers, if I still preach circumcision,<sup>d</sup> 11 why am I still persecuted? If I did that now, would there be any scandal of the 11 cross? •Tell those who are disturbing you I would like to see the knife slip. 12

Liberty and charity

My brothers, you were called, as you know, to liberty; but be careful, or this 13 liberty will provide an opening for self-indulgence. Serve one another, rather, in 13 works of love, •since the whole of the Law is summarised in a single command: 14
Love your neighbour as yourself.<sup>b</sup> •If you go snapping at each other and tearing 15 each other to pieces, you had better watch or you will destroy the whole 15 community.

Let me put it like this: if you are guided by the Spirit you will be in no danger 16 of yielding to self-indulgence, •since self-indulgence is the opposite of the Spirit, 17
 the Spirit is totally against such a thing, and it is precisely because the two are 17 so opposed that you do not always carry out your good intentions. •If you are 18 led by the Spirit, no law can touch you. •When self-indulgence is at work the 19 results are obvious: fornication, gross indecency and sexual irresponsibility; 19 idolatry and sorcery; feuds and wrangling, jealousy, bad temper and quarrels; 20 disagreements, factions, •envy; drunkenness, orgies and similar things. I warn 21 you now, as I warned you before: those who behave like this will not inherit the 21 kingdom of God. •What the Spirit brings is very different: love, joy, peace, 22 patience, kindness, goodness, trustfulness, •gentleness and self-control. There 23

24 can be no law against things like that, of course. •You cannot belong to Christ Jesus unless you crucify all self-indulgent passions and desires.

25 Since the Spirit is our life, let us be directed by the Spirit. •We must stop 26 being conceited, provocative and envious.

On kindness and perseverance

1 6 Brothers, if one of you misbehaves, the more spiritual of you who set him right should do so in a spirit of gentleness, not forgetting that you may be
2 tempted yourselves. •You should carry each other's troubles and fulfil the 3 law of Christ. •It is the people who are not important who often make the 4 mistake of thinking that they are. •Let each of you examine his own conduct; if you find anything to boast about, it will at least be something of your own, not 5 just something better than your neighbour has. •Everyone has his own burden to carry.

6 People under instruction should always contribute something to the support of the man who is instructing them.

7 Don't delude yourself into thinking God can be cheated: where a man sows,
8 there he reaps: •if he sows in the field of self-indulgence he will get a harvest of corruption out of it; if he sows in the field of the Spirit he will get from it a 9 harvest of eternal life. •We must never get tired of doing good because if we 10 don't give up the struggle we shall get our harvest at the proper time. •While we have the chance, we must do good to all, and especially to our brothers in the faith.

Epilogue

11 Take good note of what I am adding in my own handwriting and in large 12 letters. •It is only self-interest that makes them want to force circumcision on 13 you—they want to escape persecution for the cross of Christ—they accept 14 circumcision but do not keep the Law themselves; they only want you to be 15 circumcised so that they can boast of the fact. •As for me, the only thing I can 16 boast about is the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom the world is 17 crucified to me, and I to the world. •It does not matter if a person is circumcised
18 or not; what matters is for him to become an altogether new creature. •Peace and mercy to all who follow this rule, who form the Israel of God.

17 I want no more trouble from anybody after this; the marks on my body are 18 those of Jesus. •The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit, my brothers. Amen.

E

THE FIRST LETTER TO THE CORINTHIANS

During his stay at Ephesus Paul wrote the First Letter to the Corinthians. The New Testament contains no more than a fraction of the many letters which Paul must have written to the Christian communities of his time, and there was at least one earlier letter to the church in Corinth, for it is mentioned in 1 Corinthians 5:9-13. News of the church in Corinth reached Paul at Ephesus through travellers, for Ephesus was an important port, and through official messengers sent to him by the Christians in Corinth.

An agent of a prominent member of the Corinthian church informed Paul that parties had formed which were endangering the unity of the Christian community. Paul wrote to the Corinthians to warn them of the terrible consequences which could follow if their factions led to a split in their church, and he went on to rebuke them for other disorders which had grown amongst them. It must be remembered that Corinth was a major seaport and that the city's main religion was a fertility cult, to which many members of the Corinthian church must once have belonged. Half-way through his letter Paul turned to the questions and problems which the Corinthians had sent to him through their three messengers, who are mentioned in 1 Corinthians 16:17. These are questions of marriage and virginity, of the problems caused by buying or eating food which has been dedicated to a pagan god, matters arising from public worship, and questions about the Resurrection.

THE FIRST LETTER OF PAUL TO THE CHURCH AT CORINTH

INTRODUCTION

Address and greetings. Thanksgiving

1 I, Paul, appointed by God to be an apostle, together with brother Sosthenes, 1 send greetings •to the church of God in Corinth, to the holy people of Jesus 2 Christ, who are called to take their place among all the saints everywhere who pray to our Lord Jesus Christ; for he is their Lord no less than ours. •May God 3 our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ send you grace and peace.

I never stop thanking God for all the graces you have received through 4
Jesus Christ. •I thank him that you have been enriched in so many ways, especial- 5
ly in your teachers and preachers; •the witness to Christ has indeed been strong 6
among you •so that you will not be without any of the gifts of the Spirit while 7
you are waiting for our Lord Jesus Christ to be revealed; •and he will keep you 8 steady and without blame until the last day, the day of our Lord Jesus Christ, because God by calling you has joined you to his Son, Jesus Christ; and God 9 is faithful.

DIVISIONS AND SCANDALS

FACTIONS IN THE CORINTHIAN CHURCH

Dissensions among the faithful

All the same, I do appeal to you, brothers, for the sake of our Lord Jesus 10
Christ, to make up the differences between you, and instead of disagreeing among yourselves, to be united again in your belief and practice. •From what 11
Chloe's people have been telling me, my dear brothers, it is clear that there are serious differences among you. •What I mean are all these slogans that you have, 12 like: 'I am for Paul', 'I am for Apollos', 'I am for Cephas',<sup>a</sup> 'I am for Christ'.
Has Christ been parcelled out? Was it Paul that was crucified for you? Were you 13 baptised in the name of Paul? •I am thankful that I never baptised any of you after Crispus and Gaius •so none of you can say he was baptised in my name. 15
Then there was the family of Stephanas, of course, that I baptised too, but no one 16 else as far as I can remember.

The true wisdom and the false

For Christ did not send me to baptise, but to preach the Good News, and 17 not to preach that in the terms of philosophy<sup>b</sup> in which the crucifixion of Christ cannot be expressed. •The language of the cross may be illogical to those who 18

are not on the way to salvation, but those of us who are on the way see it as God's 19 power to save. •As scripture says: I shall destroy the wisdom of the wise and bring 20 to nothing all the learning of the learned. •Where are the philosophers now? Where are the scribes?<sup>c</sup> Where are any of our thinkers today? Do you see now how God 21 has shown up the foolishness of human wisdom? •If it was God's wisdom that human wisdom should not know God, it was because God wanted to save those who have faith through the foolishness of the message that we preach.
 22 And so, while the Jews demand miracles and the Greeks look for wisdom, •here 23 are we preaching a crucified Christ; to the Jews an obstacle that they cannot 24 get over, to the pagans madness, •but to those who have been called, whether 25 they are Jews or Greeks, a Christ who is the power and the wisdom of God. •For God's foolishness is wiser than human wisdom, and God's weakness is stronger than human strength.

26 Take yourselves for instance, brothers, at the time when you were called:
 how many of you were wise in the ordinary sense of the word, how many were 27 influential people, or came from noble families? •No, it was to shame the wise that God chose what is foolish by human reckoning, and to shame what is strong 28 that he chose what is weak by human reckoning; •those whom the world thinks common and contemptible are the ones that God has chosen—those who are 29 nothing at all to show up those who are everything. •The human race has nothing 30 to boast about to God, •but you God has made members of Christ Jesus and by God's doing he has become our wisdom, and our virtue, and our holiness, and 31 our freedom. •As scripture says: if anyone wants to boast, let him boast about the Lord.<sup>d</sup>

1 2 As for me, brothers, when I came to you, it was not with any show of oratory 2 or philosophy, but simply to tell you what God had guaranteed. •During my stay with you, the only knowledge I claimed to have was about Jesus, and 3 only about him as the crucified Christ. •Far from relying on any power of my 4 own, I came among you in great 'fear and trembling'<sup>e</sup> •and in my speeches and the sermons that I gave, there were none of the arguments that belong to philo-5 sophy; only a demonstration of the power of the Spirit. •And I did this so that your faith should not depend on human philosophy but on the power of God.

6 But still we have a wisdom to offer those who have reached maturity: not a philosophy of our age, it is true, still less of the masters of our age, which 7 are coming to their end. •The hidden wisdom of God which we teach in our mysteries is the wisdom that God predestined to be for our glory before the ages 8 began. •It is a wisdom that none of the masters of this age have ever known, or 9 they would not have crucified the Lord of Glory; •we teach what scripture calls:
the things that no eye has seen and no ear has heard, things beyond the mind of man,
all that God has prepared for those who love him.<sup>b</sup>

10 These are the very things that God has revealed to us through the Spirit, for 11 the Spirit reaches the depths of everything, even the depths of God. •After all, the depths of a man can only be known by his own spirit, not by any other man, and in the same way the depths of God can only be known by the Spirit of God.
 12 Now instead of the spirit of the world, we have received the Spirit that comes 13 from God, to teach us to understand the gifts that he has given us. •Therefore we teach, not in the way in which philosophy is taught, but in the way that the 14 Spirit teaches us: we teach spiritual things spiritually. •An unspiritual person is one who does not accept anything of the Spirit of God: he sees it all as nonsense; it is beyond his understanding because it can only be understood by means of the 15 Spirit. •A spiritual man, on the other hand, is able to judge the value of everything, 16 and his own value is not to be judged by other men. •As scripture says: Who

1 a. Peter. b. 'wisdom', the term used by Paul for the human wisdom of philosophy and rhetoric. c. Quotations from Is 29:14, Ps 33:10 and Is 33:18 (LXX). d. Jr 9:22-23

2 a. A scriptural cliché frequently used by Paul. b. A free combination of Is 64:3 and Jr 3:16.

can know the mind of the Lord, so who can teach him?<sup>c</sup> But we are those who have the mind of Christ.

3 Brothers, I myself was unable to speak to you as people of the Spirit: I treated 1 you as sensual men, still infants in Christ. •What I fed you with was milk, 2 not solid food, for you were not ready for it; and indeed, you are still not ready 3 for it •since you are still unspiritual. Isn't that obvious from all the jealousy 3 and wrangling that there is among you, from the way that you go on behaving 4 like ordinary people? •What could be more unspiritual than your slogans, 'I am 4 for Paul' and 'I am for Apollos'?

The place of the Christian preacher

After all, what is Apollos and what is Paul? They are servants who brought 5 the faith to you. Even the different ways in which they brought it were assigned 6 to them by the Lord. •I did the planting, Apollos did the watering, but God 6 made things grow. •Neither the planter nor the waterer matters: only God, who 7 makes things grow. •It is all one who does the planting and who does the watering, 8 and each will duly be paid according to his share in the work. •We are fellow 9 workers with God; you are God's farm, God's building.

By the grace God gave me, I succeeded as an architect and laid the foundations, 10 on which someone else is doing the building. Everyone doing the building must 11 work carefully. •For the foundation, nobody can lay any other than the one 11 which has already been laid, that is Jesus Christ. •On this foundation you can 12 build in gold, silver and jewels, or in wood, grass and straw, •but whatever the 13 material, the work of each builder is going to be clearly revealed when the day 13 comes. That day will begin with fire, and the fire will test the quality of each man's 14 work. •If his structure stands up to it, he will get his wages; •if it is burnt down, 15 he will be the loser, and though he is saved himself, it will be as one who has gone 15 through fire.

Didn't you realise that you were God's temple and that the Spirit of God was 16 living among you? •If anybody should destroy the temple of God, God 17 will destroy him, because the temple of God is sacred; and you are, that temple.

Conclusions

Make no mistake about it: if any one of you thinks of himself as wise, in the 18 ordinary sense of the word, then he must learn to be a fool before he really can be 19 wise. •Why? Because the wisdom of this world is foolishness to God. As scripture 19 says: The Lord knows wise men's thoughts: he knows how useless they are:<sup>a</sup> or again: God is not convinced by the arguments of the wise.<sup>b</sup> •So there is 20 nothing to boast about in anything human: •Paul, Apollos, Cephas, the world, 21 life and death, the present and the future, are all your servants; •but you belong 22 to Christ and Christ belongs to God. 23

4 People must think of us as Christ's servants, stewards entrusted with the 1 mysteries of God. •What is expected of stewards is that each one should be 2 found worthy of his trust. •Not that it makes the slightest difference to me 3 whether you, or indeed any human tribunal, find me worthy or not. I will not 4 even pass judgement on myself. •True, my conscience does not reproach me at 4 all, but that does not prove that I am acquitted: the Lord alone is my judge.
There must be no passing of premature judgement. Leave that until the Lord 5 comes: he will light up all that is hidden in the dark and reveal the secret intentions 6 of men's hearts. Then will be the time for each one to have whatever praise he 7 deserves, from God.

Now in everything I have said here, brothers, I have taken Apollos and 6 myself as an example (remember the maxim: 'Keep to what is written'); it is not 7 for you, so full of your own importance, to go taking sides for one man against 8 another. •In any case, brother, has anybody given you some special right? What 9 do you have that was not given to you? And if it was given, how can you boast

8 as though it were not? •Is it that you have everything you want—that you are 9 rich already, in possession of your kingdom, with us left outside? Indeed I wish 10 you were really kings, and we could be kings with you! •But instead, it seems to 11 me, God has put us apostles at the end of his parade, with the men sentenced 12 to death; it is true—we have been put on show in front of the whole universe, 13 angels as well as men. •Here we are, fools for the sake of Christ, while you are 14 the learned men in Christ; we have no power, but you are influential; you are 15 celebrities, we are nobodies. •To this day, we go without food and drink and 16 clothes; we are beaten and have no homes; •we work for our living with our own 17 hands. When we are cursed, we answer with a blessing; when we are hounded, 18 we put up with it; •we are insulted and we answer politely. We are treated as 19 the offal of the world, still to this day, the scum of the earth.

An appeal

14 I am saying all this not just to make you ashamed but to bring you, as my 15 dearest children, to your senses. •You might have thousands of guardians in 16 Christ, but not more than one father and it was I who begot you in Christ Jesus 17 by preaching the Good News. •That is why I beg you to copy me •and why I have 18 sent you Timothy, my dear and faithful son in the Lord: he will remind you of the 19 way that I live in Christ, as I teach it everywhere in all the churches.
 20 When it seemed that I was not coming to visit you, some of you became self-21 important, •but I will be visiting you soon, the Lord willing, and then I shall want to know not what these self-important people have to say, but what they can do, •since the kingdom of God is not just words, it is power. •It is for you to decide: do I come with a stick in my hand or in a spirit of love and goodwill?

INCEST IN CORINTH

1 5 I have been told as an undoubted fact that one of you is living with his father's 2 wife.<sup>a</sup> This is a case of sexual immorality among you that must be unparal-3 leled even among pagans. •How can you be so proud of yourselves? You should 4 be in mourning. A man who does a thing like that ought to have been expelled
 5 from the community. •Though I am far away in body, I am with you in spirit, 6 and have already condemned the man who did this thing as if I were actually 7 present. •When you are assembled together in the name of the Lord Jesus, 8 and I am spiritually present with you, then with the power of our Lord Jesus 9 he is to be handed over to Satan so that his sensual body may be destroyed and 10 his spirit saved on the day of the Lord.

11 The pride that you take in yourselves is hardly to your credit. You must know 12 how even a small amount of yeast is enough to leaven all the dough, •so get rid 13 of all the old yeast, and make yourselves into a completely new batch of bread, 14 unleavened as you are meant to be. Christ, our passover, has been sacrificed;
 15 let us celebrate the feast, then, by getting rid of all the old yeast of evil and wick-
 16 edness, having only the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.<sup>b</sup>

17 When I wrote in my letter to you not to associate with people living immoral
 18 lives, •I was not meaning to include all the people in the world who are sexually 19 immoral, any more than I meant to include all usurers and swindlers or idol-20 worshippers. To do that, you would have to withdraw from the world altogether.
 21 What I wrote was that you should not associate with a brother Christian who is leading an immoral life, or is a usurer, or idolatrous, or a slanderer, or a drunkard, or is dishonest; you should not even eat a meal with people like that. •It is not my business to pass judgement on those outside. Of those who are inside, you can surely be the judges. •But of those who are outside, God is the judge. 13

You must drive out this evil-doer from among you.<sup>c</sup>

RECOURSE TO THE PAGAN COURTS

6 How dare one of your members take up a complaint against another in the 1 lawcourts of the unjust<sup>a</sup> instead of before the saints? •As you know, it is the 2 saints who are to 'judge the world'; and if the world is to be judged by you, how can you be unfit to judge trifling cases? •Since we are also to judge angels, it follows 3 that we can judge matters of everyday life; •but when you have had cases of that 4 kind, the people you appointed to try them were not even respected in the Church. •You should be ashamed: is there really not one reliable man among 5 you to settle differences between brothers •and so one brother brings a court 6 case against another in front of unbelievers? •It is bad enough for you to have 7 lawsuits at all against one another: oughtn't you to let yourselves be wronged, and let yourselves be cheated? •But you are doing the wronging and the cheating, 8 and to your own brothers.

You know perfectly well that people who do wrong will not inherit the 9 kingdom of God: people of immoral lives, idolaters, adulterers, catamites, sodomites, •thieves, usurers, drunkards, slanderers and swindlers will never 10 inherit the kingdom of God. •These are the sort of people some of you were 11 once, but now you have been washed clean, and sanctified, and justified through the name of the Lord Jesus Christ and through the Spirit of our God.

FORNICATION

'For me there are no forbidden things';<sup>b</sup> maybe, but not everything does good. 12
 I agree there are no forbidden things for me, but I am not going to let anything dominate me. •Food is only meant for the stomach, and the stomach for food; 13 yes, and God is going to do away with both of them. But the body—this is not meant for fornication; it is for the Lord, and the Lord for the body. •God, 14 who raised the Lord from the dead, will by his power raise us up too.

You know, surely, that your bodies are members making up the body of 15
 Christ; do you think I can take parts of Christ's body and join them to the body of a prostitute? Never! •As you know, a man who goes with a prostitute is one 16 body with her, since the two, as it is said, become one flesh. •But anyone who is 17 joined to the Lord is one spirit with him.

Keep away from fornication. All the other sins are committed outside the 18 body; but to fornicate is to sin against your own body. •Your body, you know, 19 is the temple of the Holy Spirit, who is in you since you received him from God.
 You are not your own property; •you have been bought and paid for. That is 20
 why you should use your body for the glory of God.

ANSWERS TO VARIOUS QUESTIONS

MARRIAGE AND VIRGINITY

7 Now for the questions about which you wrote. Yes, it is a good thing for 1 a man not to touch a woman; •but since sex is always a danger, let each 2 man have his own wife and each woman her own husband. •The husband must 3 give his wife what she has the right to expect, and so too the wife to the husband.
 The wife has no rights over her own body; it is the husband who has them. In the 4 same way, the husband has no rights over his body; the wife has them. •Do not 5 refuse each other except by mutual consent, and then only for an agreed time, to leave yourselves free for prayer; then come together again in case Satan should

- 6 take advantage of your weakness to tempt you. •This is a suggestion, not a rule:
 7 I should like everyone to be like me, but everybody has his own particular gifts from God, one with a gift for one thing and another with a gift for the opposite.
 8 There is something I want to add for the sake of widows and those who are 9 not married: it is a good thing for them to stay as they are, like me, •but if they cannot control the sexual urges, they should get married, since it is better to be married than to be tortured.
- 10 For the married I have something to say, and this is not from me but from 11 the Lord: a wife must not leave her husband — or if she does leave him, she must either remain unmarried or else make it up with her husband—nor must a husband send his wife away.
- 12 The rest is from me and not from the Lord. If a brother has a wife who is an unbeliever, and she is content to live with him, he must not send her away;
 13 and if a woman has an unbeliever for her husband, and he is content to live with 14 her, she must not leave him. •This is because the unbelieving husband is made one with the saints through his wife, and the unbelieving wife is made one with the saints through her husband. If this were not so, your children would be 15 unclean, whereas in fact they are holy. •However, if the unbelieving partner does not consent, they may separate: in these circumstances, the brother or 16 sister is not tied: God has called you to a life of peace. •If you are a wife, it may be your part to save your husband, for all you know; if a husband, for all you know, it may be your part to save your wife.
- 17 For the rest, what each one has is what the Lord has given him and he should continue as he was when God's call reached him. This is the ruling that I give 18 in all the churches. •If anyone had already been circumcised at the time of his call, he need not disguise it, and anyone who was uncircumcised at 19 the time of his call need not be circumcised; •because to be circumcised or uncircumcised means nothing: what does matter is to keep the commandments 20 of God. •Let everyone stay as he was at the time of his call. •If, when you were 21 called, you were a slave, do not let this bother you; but if you should have the chance of being free, accept it. •A slave, when he is called in the Lord, becomes 22 the Lord's freedman, and a freeman called in the Lord becomes Christ's slave.
- 23 You have all been bought and paid for; do not be slaves of other men. •Each 24 one of you, my brothers, should stay as he was before God at the time of his call.
- 25 About remaining celibate, I have no directions from the Lord but give my 26 own opinion as one who, by the Lord's mercy, has stayed faithful. •Well then,
 I believe that in these present times of stress this is right: that it is good for a man 27 to stay as he is. •If you are tied to a wife, do not look for freedom; if you are 28 free of a wife, then do not look for one. •But if you marry, it is no sin, and it is not a sin for a young girl to get married. They will have their troubles, though, in their married life, and I should like to spare you that.
- 29 Brothers, this is what I mean: our time is growing short. Those who have 30 wives should live as though they had none, •and those who mourn should live as though they had nothing to mourn for; those who are enjoying life should live as though there were nothing to laugh about; those whose life is buying things 31 should live as though they had nothing of their own; •and those who have to deal with the world should not become engrossed in it. I say this because the world as we know it is passing away.
- 32 I would like to see you free from all worry. An unmarried man can devote 33 himself to the Lord's affairs, all he need worry about is pleasing the Lord; •but a married man has to bother about the world's affairs and devote himself to

5 c. Dt 13:6

6 a. The pagan magistrates of Corinth. b. Probably one of Paul's own sayings which has been misapplied by false teachers: this section of the letter is directed against the libertines, who had been teaching that sexual intercourse was as necessary for the body as food and drink.

pleasing his wife: •he is torn two ways. In the same way an unmarried woman, 34 like a young girl, can devote herself to the Lord's affairs; all she need worry about is being holy in body and spirit. The married woman, on the other hand, has to worry about the world's affairs and devote herself to pleasing her husband.
I say this only to help you, not to put a halter round your necks, but simply to 35 make sure that everything is as it should be, and that you give your undivided attention to the Lord.

Still, if there is anyone who feels that it would not be fair to his daughter to 36 let her grow too old for marriage, and that he should do something about it, he is free to do as he likes: he is not sinning if there is a marriage. •On the other 37 hand, if someone has firmly made his mind up, without any compulsion and in complete freedom of choice, to keep his daughter as she is, he will be doing a good thing. •In other words, the man who sees that his daughter is married 38 has done a good thing but the man who keeps his daughter unmarried has done something even better.ª

A wife is tied as long as her husband is alive. But if the husband dies, she is 39 free to marry anybody she likes, only it must be in the Lord. •She would be 40 happier, in my opinion, if she stayed as she is—and I too have the Spirit of God, I think.

FOOD OFFERED TO IDOLS

General principles

8 Now about food sacrificed to idols. 'We all have knowledge'; yes, that is so, 1 but knowledge gives self-importance—it is love that makes the building grow.
A man may imagine he understands something, but still not understand anything 2 in the way that he ought to. •But any man who loves God is known by him. 3
Well then, about eating food sacrificed to idols:ª we know that idols do not really 4 exist in the world and that there is no god but the One. •And even if there were 5 things called gods, either in the sky or on earth—where there certainly seem to be 'gods' and 'lords' in plenty—•still for us there is one God, the Father, from 6 whom all things come and for whom we exist; and there is one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom all things come and through whom we exist.

The claims of love

Some people, however, do not have this knowledge. There are some who 7 have been so long used to idols that they eat this food as though it really had been sacrificed to the idol, and their conscience, being weak, is defiled by it. •Food, of course, cannot bring us in touch with God: we lose nothing 8
if we refuse to eat, we gain nothing if we eat. •Only be careful that you 9 do not make use of this freedom in a way that proves a pitfall for the weak.
Suppose someone sees you, a man who understands, eating in some temple 10 of an idol; his own conscience, even if it is weak, may encourage him to eat food which has been offered to idols. •In this way your knowledge 11 could become the ruin of someone weak, of a brother for whom Christ died. •By sinning in this way against your brothers, and injuring their weak 12 consciences, it would be Christ against whom you sinned. •That is why, 13 since food can be the occasion of my brother's downfall, I shall never eat meat again in case I am the cause of a brother's downfall.

Paul invokes his own example

9 I, personally, am free: I am an apostle and I have seen Jesus our Lord. You 1 are all my work in the Lord. •Even if I were not an apostle to others, I should 2 still be an apostle to you who are the seal of my apostolate in the Lord. •My 3 answer to those who want to interrogate me is this: •Have we not every right 4 to eat and drink?ª •And the right to take a Christian woman round with us, 5 like all the other apostles and the brothers of the Lord and Cephas?

8 Are Barnabas and I the only ones who are not allowed to stop working? •Nobody ever paid money to stay in the army, and nobody ever planted a vineyard and refused to eat the fruit of it. Who has there ever been that kept a flock and did not feed on the milk from his flock?

9 These may be only human comparisons, but does not the Law itself say the same thing? •It is written in the Law of Moses: You must not put a muzzle on the ox when it is treading out the corn.<sup>b</sup> Is it about oxen that God is concerned, •or is there not an obvious reference to ourselves? Clearly this was written for our sake to show that the ploughman ought to plough in expectation, and the thrasher to thresh in the expectation of getting his share. •If we have sown spiritual things for you, why should you be surprised if we harvest your material things? •Others are allowed these rights over you and our right is surely greater? In fact we have never exercised this right. On the contrary we have put up with anything rather than obstruct the Good News of Christ in any way. •Remember that the ministers serving in the Temple get their food from the Temple and those serving at the altar can claim their share from the altar itself. •In the same sort of way the Lord directed that those who preach the gospel should get their living from the gospel.

15 However, I have not exercised any of these rights, and I am not writing all this to secure this treatment for myself. I would rather die than let anyone take away something that I can boast of. •Not that I do boast of preaching the gospel, since it is a duty which has been laid on me; I should be punished if I did not preach it! •If I had chosen this work myself, I might have been paid for it, but as I have not, it is a responsibility which has been put into my hands. •Do you know what my reward is? It is this: in my preaching, to be able to offer the Good News free, and not insist on the rights which the gospel gives me.

19 So though I am not a slave of any man I have made myself the slave of everyone so as to win as many as I could. •I made myself a Jew to the Jews, to win the Jews; that is, I who am not a subject of the Law made myself a subject of the Law to those who are the subjects of the Law, to win those who are subject to the Law. •To those who have no Law, I was free of the Law myself (though not free from God's law, being under the law of Christ) to win those who have no Law. •For the weak I made myself weak. I made myself all things to all men in order to save some at any cost; •and I still do this, for the sake of the gospel, to have a share in its blessings.

24 All the runners at the stadium are trying to win, but only one of them gets the prize. You must run in the same way, meaning to win. •All the fighters at the games go into strict training; they do this just to win a wreath that will wither away, but we do it for a wreath that will never wither. •That is how I run, intent on winning; that is how I fight, not beating the air. •I treat my body hard and make it obey me, for, having been an announcer myself, I should not want to be disqualified.

A warning, and the lessons of Israel's history

1 10 I want to remind you, brothers, how our fathers were all guided by a cloud
2 above them and how they all passed through the sea. •They were all
3 baptised into Moses in this cloud and in this sea; •all ate the same spiritual 4 food •and all drank the same spiritual drink, since they all drank from the 5 spiritual rock that followed them as they went, and that rock was Christ. •In spite of this, most of them failed to please God and their corpses littered the desert.

7 a. 'daughter' is not the only possible word; this passage has been read as alluding to the practice of a man and a woman living together under vows of chastity; a practice for which there is evidence of a later date.

8 a. At feasts and public ceremonies, portions of the food were 'sacrificed' and went to the gods, the priests and the donors; the whole of the food was regarded as dedicated, whether it was eaten at a ceremonial meal or part of it sold in the markets.

9 a. At the expense of the Christian congregations.    b. Dt 25:4

These things all happened as warnings<sup>d</sup> for us, not to have the wicked lusts 6 for forbidden things that they had. •Do not become idolaters as some of them 7 did, for scripture says: After sitting down to eat and drink, the people got up to amuse themselves.<sup>b</sup> •We must never fall into sexual immorality: some of them did, 8 and twenty-three thousand met their downfall in one day. •We are not to put 9 the Lord to the test: some of them did, and they were killed by snakes. •You 10 must never complain: some of them did, and they were killed by the Destroyer.

All this happened to them as a warning, and it was written down to be a lesson 11 for us who are living at the end of the age. •The man who thinks he is safe must 12 be careful that he does not fall. •The trials that you have had to bear are no 13 more than people normally have. You can trust God not to let you be tried beyond your strength, and with any trial he will give you a way out of it and the strength to bear it.

Sacrificial feasts. No compromise with idolatry

This is the reason, my dear brothers, why you must keep clear of idolatry. 14
I say to you as sensible people: judge for yourselves what I am saying. •The 15 blessing-cup that we bless is a communion with the blood of Christ, and the 16 bread that we break is a communion with the body of Christ. •The fact that there 17 is only one loaf means that, though there are many of us, we form a single body because we all have a share in this one loaf. •Look at the other Israel, the race, 18 where those who eat the sacrifices are in communion with the altar. •Does this 19 mean that the food sacrificed to idols has a real value, or that the idol itself is real? •Not at all. It simply means that the sacrifices that they offer they sacrifice to 20 demons who are not God.<sup>c</sup> I have no desire to see you in communion with demons. •You cannot drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of demons. You 21 cannot take your share at the table of the Lord and at the table of demons. •Do 22 we want to make the Lord angry; are we stronger than he is?

Food sacrificed to idols. Practical solutions

‘For me there are no forbidden things’, but not everything does good. True, 23 there are no forbidden things, but it is not everything that helps the building to grow. •Nobody should be looking for his own advantage, but everybody for the 24 other man’s. •Do not hesitate to eat anything that is sold in butchers’ shops: 25
there is no need to raise questions of conscience; •for the earth and everything that is in it belong to the Lord.<sup>d</sup> •If an unbeliever invites you to his house, go if 27 you want to, and eat whatever is put in front of you, without asking questions just to satisfy conscience. •But if someone says to you, ‘This food was offered 28 in sacrifice’, then, out of consideration for the man that told you, you should not eat it, for the sake of his scruples; •his scruples, you see, not your own. Why 29 should my freedom depend on somebody else’s conscience? •If I take my share 30 with thankfulness, why should I be blamed for food for which I have thanked God?

Conclusion

Whatever you eat, whatever you drink, whatever you do at all, do it for the 31 glory of God. •Never do anything offensive to anyone—to Jews or Greeks or to 32
the Church of God; •just as I try to be helpful to everyone at all times, not 33 anxious for my own advantage but for the advantage of everybody else, so that they may be saved.

11

Take me for your model, as I take Christ.

DECORUM IN PUBLIC WORSHIP

Women’s behaviour at services

You have done well in remembering me so constantly and in maintaining 2 the traditions just as I passed them on to you. •However, what I want you to 3 understand is that Christ is the head of every man, man is the head of woman, 4 and God is the head of Christ. •For a man to pray or prophesy with his head

 5 covered is a sign of disrespect to his head.<sup>d</sup> •For a woman, however, it is a sign of disrespect to her head<sup>e</sup> if she prays or prophesies unveiled; she might as well 6 have her hair shaved off. •In fact, a woman who will not wear a veil ought to have her hair cut off. If a woman is ashamed to have her hair cut off or shaved, she ought to wear a veil.

7 A man should certainly not cover his head, since he is the image of God and 8 reflects God's glory; but woman is the reflection of man's glory. •For man did 9 not come from woman; no, woman came from man; •and man was not created 10 for the sake of woman, but woman was created for the sake of man. •That is the argument for women's covering their heads with a symbol of the authority 11 over them, out of respect for the angels.<sup>f</sup> •However, though woman cannot do 12 without man, neither can man do without woman, in the Lord; •woman may come from man, but man is born of woman—both come from God.

13 Ask yourselves if it is fitting for a woman to pray to God without a veil;
 14 and whether nature itself does not tell you that long hair on a man is nothing 15 to be admired, •while a woman, who was given her hair as a covering, thinks long hair her glory?

16 To anyone who might still want to argue: it is not the custom with us, nor in the churches of God.

The Lord's Supper

17 Now that I am on the subject of instructions, I cannot say that you have done
 18 well in holding meetings that do you more harm than good. •In the first place,
 I hear that when you all come together as a community, there are separate 19 factions among you, and I half believe it—•since there must no doubt be separate 20 groups among you, to distinguish those who are to be trusted. •The point is, when you hold these meetings, it is not the Lord's Supper<sup>g</sup> that you are eating, 21 since when the time comes to eat, everyone is in such a hurry to start his own 22 supper that one person goes hungry while another is getting drunk. •Surely you have homes for eating and drinking in? Surely you have enough respect for the community of God not to make poor people embarrassed? What am I to say to you? Congratulate you? I cannot congratulate you on this.

23 For this is what I received from the Lord, and in turn passed on to you: that 24 on the same night that he was betrayed, the Lord Jesus took some bread, •and thanked God for it and broke it, and he said, 'This is my body, which is for you; 25 do this as a memorial of me'. •In the same way he took the cup after supper, and said, 'This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Whenever you drink it, do 26 this as a memorial of me.' •Until the Lord comes, therefore, every time you eat 27 this bread and drink this cup, you are proclaiming his death, •and so anyone who eats the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord unworthily will be behaving unworthily towards the body and blood of the Lord.

28 Everyone is to recollect himself before eating this bread and drinking this 29 cup; •because a person who eats and drinks without recognising the Body
 30 is eating and drinking his own condemnation. •In fact that is why many of you 31 are weak and ill and some of you have died. •If only we recollected ourselves, 32 we should not be punished like that. •But when the Lord does punish us like that, it is to correct us and stop us from being condemned with the world.

33 So to sum up, my dear brothers, when you meet for the Meal, wait for one 34 another. •Anyone who is hungry should eat at home, and then your meeting will not bring your condemnation. The other matters I shall adjust when I come.

Spiritual gifts

12 Now my dear brothers, I want to clear up a wrong impression about 1 spiritual gifts. •You remember that, when you were pagans, whenever 2 you felt irresistibly drawn, it was towards dumb idols? •It is for that reason that 3
 I want you to understand that on the one hand no one can be speaking under the influence of the Holy Spirit and say, 'Curse Jesus', and on the other hand, no one can say, 'Jesus is Lord' unless he is under the influence of the Holy Spirit.

The variety and the unity of gifts

There is a variety of gifts but always the same Spirit; •there are all sorts of 4 service to be done, but always to the same Lord; •working in all sorts of different 5 ways in different people, it is the same God who is working in all of them. •The 6 particular way in which the Spirit is given to each person is for a good purpose. 7
 One may have the gift of preaching with wisdom given him by the Spirit; another 8 may have the gift of preaching instruction given him by the same Spirit; •and 9 another the gift of faith given by the same Spirit; another again the gift of healing, through this one Spirit; •one, the power of miracles; another, prophecy; 10 another the gift of recognising spirits; another the gift of tongues and another the ability to interpret them. •All these are the work of one and the same Spirit, 11 who distributes different gifts to different people just as he chooses.

The analogy of the body

Just as a human body, though it is made up of many parts, is a single unit 12 because all these parts, though many, make one body, so it is with Christ. •In 13 the one Spirit we were all baptised, Jews as well as Greeks, slaves as well as citizens, and one Spirit was given to us all to drink.

Nor is the body to be identified with any one of its many parts. •If the foot 14 were to say, 'I am not a hand and so I do not belong to the body', would that 15 mean that it stopped being part of the body? •If the ear were to say, 'I am not 16 an eye, and so I do not belong to the body', would that mean that it was not a part of the body? •If your whole body was just one eye, how would you hear anything? 17
 If it was just one ear, how would you smell anything?

Instead of that, God put all the separate parts into the body on purpose. •If 18
 all the parts were the same, how could it be a body? •As it is, the parts are many 19 but the body is one. •The eye cannot say to the hand, 'I do not need you', nor can 20
 the head say to the feet, 'I do not need you'. 21

What is more, it is precisely the parts of the body that seem to be the weakest 22 which are the indispensable ones; •and it is the least honourable parts of the 23 body that we clothe with the greatest care. So our more improper parts get decorated •in a way that our more proper parts do not need. God has arranged 24 the body so that more dignity is given to the parts which are without it, •and so 25 that there may not be disagreements inside the body, but that each part may be equally concerned for all the others. •If one part is hurt, all parts are hurt with 26
 it. If one part is given special honour, all parts enjoy it.

Now you together are Christ's body; but each of you is a different part of it. 27
 In the Church, God has given the first place to apostles, the second to prophets, 28 the third to teachers; after them, miracles, and after them the gift of healing; helpers, good leaders, those with many languages. •Are all of them apostles, 29 or all of them prophets, or all of them teachers? Do they all have the gift of miracles, •or all have the gift of healing? Do all speak strange languages, and 30 all interpret them?

The order of importance in spiritual gifts. Love

Be ambitious for the higher gifts. And I am going to show you a way that is 31 better than any of them.

1 13 If I have all the eloquence of men or of angels, but speak without love, 2 I am simply a gong booming or a cymbal clashing. •If I have the gift of prophecy, understanding all the mysteries there are, and knowing everything, and if I have faith in all its fulness, to move mountains, but without love, then 3 I am nothing at all. •If I give away all that I possess, piece by piece, and if I even let them take my body to burn it, but am without love, it will do me no good whatever.

4 Love is always patient and kind; it is never jealous; love is never boastful
 5 or conceited; •it is never rude or selfish; it does not take offence, and is not 6 resentful. •Love takes no pleasure in other people's sins but delights in the truth;
 7 it is always ready to excuse, to trust, to hope, and to endure whatever comes.

8 Love does not come to an end. But if there are gifts of prophecy, the time will come when they must fail; or the gift of languages, it will not continue for ever; and knowledge—for this, too, the time will come when it must fail.
 9 For our knowledge is imperfect and our prophesying is imperfect; •but once
 10 perfection comes, all imperfect things will disappear. •When I was a child, I used
 11 to talk like a child, and think like a child, and argue like a child, but now I am 12 a man, all childish ways are put behind me. •Now we are seeing a dim reflection in a mirror; but then we shall be seeing face to face. The knowledge that I have now is imperfect; but then I shall know as fully as I am known.

13 In short, there are three things that last: faith, hope and love; and the greatest of these is love.

Spiritual gifts: their respective importance in the community

1 14 You must want love more than anything else; but still hope for the spiritual 2 gifts as well, especially prophecy. •Anybody with the gift of tongues speaks to God, but not to other people; because nobody understands him when he 3 talks in the spirit about mysterious things. •On the other hand, the man who prophesies does talk to other people, to their improvement, their encouragement 4 and their consolation. •The one with the gift of tongues talks for his own benefit, but the man who prophesies does so for the benefit of the community.
 5 While I should like you all to have the gift of tongues, I would much rather you could prophesy, since the man who prophesies is of greater importance than the man with the gift of tongues, unless of course the latter offers an interpretation so that the church may get some benefit.

6 Now suppose, my dear brothers, I am someone with the gift of tongues, and I come to visit you, what use shall I be if all my talking reveals nothing new, tells 7 you nothing, and neither inspires you nor instructs you? •Think of a musical instrument, a flute or a harp: if one note on it cannot be distinguished 8 from another, how can you tell what tune is being played? •Or if no one can be sure which call the trumpet has sounded, who will be ready for the attack?
 9 It is the same with you: if your tongue does not produce intelligible speech, how 10 can anyone know what you are saying? You will be talking to the air. •There are any number of different languages in the world, and not one of them is meaning-11 less, •but if I am ignorant of what the sounds mean, I am a savage to the man 12 who is speaking, and he is a savage to me. •It is the same in your own case: since you aspire to spiritual gifts, concentrate on those which will grow to benefit the community.

13 That is why anybody who has the gift of tongues must pray for the power
 14 of interpreting them. •For if I use this gift in my prayers, my spirit may be praying 15 but my mind is left barren. •What is the answer to that? Surely I should pray not only with the spirit but with the mind as well? And sing praises not only with 16 the spirit but with the mind as well? •Any uninitiated person will never be able to say Amen to your thanksgiving, if you only bless God with the spirit, for he 17 will have no idea what you are saying. •However well you make your thanks-18 giving, the other gets no benefit from it. •I thank God that I have a greater gift of tongues than all of you, •but when I am in the presence of the community 19

I would rather say five words that mean something than ten thousand words in a tongue.

Brothers, you are not to be childish in your outlook. You can be babies as 20 far as wickedness is concerned, but mentally you must be adult. •In the written 21 Law it says: Through men speaking strange languages and through the lips of foreigners, I shall talk to the nation, and still they will not listen to me, says the Lord.• You see then, that the strange languages are meant to be a sign not for 22 believers but for unbelievers, while on the other hand, prophecy is a sign not for unbelievers but for believers. •So that any uninitiated people or unbelievers, 23 coming into a meeting of the whole church where everybody was speaking in tongues, would say you were all mad; •but if you were all prophesying and a 24 unbeliever or uninitiated person came in, he would find himself analysed and judged by everyone speaking; •he would find his secret thoughts laid bare, 25 and then fall on his face and worship God, declaring that God is among you indeed.<sup>b</sup>

Regulating spiritual gifts

So, my dear brothers, what conclusion is to be drawn? At all your meetings, 26 let everyone be ready with a psalm or a sermon or a revelation, or ready to use his gift of tongues or to give an interpretation; but it must always be for the common good. •If there are people present with the gift of tongues, let only two or 27 three, at the most, be allowed to use it, and only one at a time, and there must be someone to interpret. •If there is no interpreter present, they must keep quiet 28 in church and speak only to themselves and to God. •As for prophets, let two 29 or three of them speak, and the others attend to them. •If one of the listeners 30 receives a revelation, then the man who is already speaking should stop. •For 31 you can all prophesy in turn, so that everybody will learn something and everybody will be encouraged. •Prophets can always control their prophetic 32 spirits, •since God is not a God of disorder but of peace. 33

As in all the churches of the saints, •women are to remain quiet at meetings 34 since they have no permission to speak; they must keep in the background as the Law itself lays it down. •If they have any questions to ask, they should ask 35 their husbands at home: it does not seem right for a woman to raise her voice at meetings.

Do you think the word of God came out of yourselves? Or that it has come 36 only to you? •Anyone who claims to be a prophet or inspired ought to recognise 37 that what I am writing to you is a command from the Lord. •Unless he recognises 38 this, you should not recognise him.

And so, my dear brothers, by all means be ambitious to prophesy, do not 39 suppress the gift of tongues, •but let everything be done with propriety and in order. 40

THE RESURRECTION OF THE DEAD

The fact of the resurrection

15 Brothers, I want to remind you of the gospel I preached to you, the gospel 1 that you received and in which you are firmly established; •because the 2 gospel will save you only if you keep believing exactly what I preached to you—believing anything else will not lead to anything.

Well then, in the first place, I taught you what I had been taught myself, 3 namely that Christ died for our sins, in accordance with the scriptures; •that he 4 was buried; and that he was raised to life on the third day, in accordance with the scriptures; •that he appeared first to Cephas and secondly to the Twelve. 5 Next he appeared to more than five hundred of the brothers at the same time, 6
most of whom are still alive, though some have died; •then he appeared to 7

- 8 James, and then to all the apostles; •and last of all he appeared to me too; it was as though I was born when no one expected it.
- 9 I am the least of the apostles; in fact, since I persecuted the Church of God,
- 10 I hardly deserve the name apostle; •but by God's grace that is what I am, and the grace that he gave me has not been fruitless. On the contrary, I, or rather
- 11 the grace of God that is with me, have worked harder than any of the others; •but what matters is that I preach what they preach, and this is what you all believed.
- 12 Now if Christ raised from the dead is what has been preached, how can
- 13 some of you be saying that there is no resurrection of the dead? •If there is no resurrection of the dead, Christ himself cannot have been raised, •and if Christ has not been raised then our preaching is useless and your believing it is useless;
- 15 indeed, we are shown up as witnesses who have committed perjury before God, because we swore in evidence before God that he had raised Christ to life. •For
- 16 if the dead are not raised, Christ has not been raised, •and if Christ has not been raised, you are still in your sins. •And what is more serious, all who have died in
- 19 Christ have perished. •If our hope in Christ has been for this life only, we are the most unfortunate of all people.
- 20 But Christ has in fact been raised from the dead, the first-fruits of all who
- 21 have fallen asleep. •Death came through one man and in the same way the resurrection of the dead has come through one man. •Just as all men die in Adam,
- 23 so all men will be brought to life in Christ; •but all of them in their proper order: Christ as the first-fruits and then, after the coming of Christ, those who belong
- 24 to him. •After that will come the end, when he hands over the kingdom to God the Father, having done away with every sovereignty, authority and power.
- 25 For he must be king until he has put all his enemies under his feet<sup>a</sup> •and the last
- 26 of the enemies to be destroyed is death, for everything is to be put under his feet.
- 27 —Though when it is said that everything is subjected, this clearly cannot include
- 28 the One who subjected everything to him. •And when everything is subjected to him, then the Son himself will be subject in his turn to the One who subjected all things to him, so that God may be all in all.
- 29 If this were not true, what do people hope to gain by being baptised for the dead? If the dead are not ever going to be raised, why be baptised on their
- 30 behalf? •What about ourselves? Why are we living under a constant threat?
- 31 I face death every day, brothers, and I can swear it by the pride that I take in you
- 32 in Christ Jesus our Lord. •If my motives were only human ones, what good would it do me to fight the wild animals at Ephesus? •You say: Let us eat and drink today; tomorrow we shall be dead.<sup>b</sup> You must stop being led astray: 'Bad friends
- 33 ruin the noblest people'.<sup>c</sup> •Come to your senses, behave properly; and leave sin alone; there are some of you who seem not to know God at all; you should be ashamed.

The manner of the resurrection

- 35 Someone may ask, 'How are dead people raised, and what sort of body do they have when they come back?' •They are stupid questions. Whatever you sow in the
- 37 ground has to die before it is given new life •and the thing that you sow is not what is going to come; you sow a bare grain, say of wheat or something like that,
- 38 and then God gives it the sort of body that he has chosen: each sort of seed gets its own sort of body.
- 39 Everything that is flesh is not the same flesh: there is human flesh, animals'
- 40 flesh, the flesh of birds and the flesh of fish. •Then there are heavenly bodies and there are earthly bodies; but the heavenly bodies have a beauty of their own and
- 41 the earthly bodies a different one. •The sun has its brightness, the moon a different brightness, and the stars a different brightness, and the stars differ from each other in brightness. •It is the same with the resurrection of the dead: the thing 42 that is sown is perishable but what is raised is imperishable; •the thing that is 43 sown is contemptible but what is raised is glorious; the thing that is sown is weak but what is raised is powerful; •when it is sown it embodies the soul, when it is 44 raised it embodies the spirit.

14 a. A free version of Is 28:11-12. b. Is 45:14

15 a. Ps 110:1 b. Is 22:13 c. This quotation from Menander's Thais may have become a proverb.

If the soul has its own embodiment, so does the spirit have its own embodiment.
The first man, Adam, as scripture says, became a living soul; but the last Adam 45 has become a life-giving spirit. •That is, first the one with the soul, not the spirit, 46 and after that, the one with the spirit. •The first man, being from the earth, is 47 earthly by nature; the second man is from heaven. •As this earthy man was, so 48 are we on earth; and as the heavenly man is, so are we in heaven. •And we, who 49 have been modelled on the earthly man, will be modelled on the heavenly man.

Or else, brothers, put it this way: flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom 50 of God: and the perishable cannot inherit what lasts for ever. •I will tell you 51 something that has been secret: that we are not all going to die, but we shall all be changed. •This will be instantaneous, in the twinkling of an eye, when the 52 last trumpet sounds. It will sound, and the dead will be raised, imperishable, and we shall be changed as well, •because our present perishable nature must 53 put on imperishability and this mortal nature must put on immortality.

A hymn of triumph. Conclusion

When this perishable nature has put on imperishability, and when this 54 mortal nature has put on immortality, then the words of scripture will come true: Death is swallowed up in victory. •Death, where is your victory? Death, where 55 is your sting? •Now the sting of death is sin, and sin gets its power from the Law. 56
So let us thank God for giving us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. 57

Never give in then, my dear brothers, never admit defeat; keep on working 58 at the Lord's work always, knowing that, in the Lord, you cannot be labouring in vain.

CONCLUSION

Commendations. Greetings

16 Now about the collection made for the saints: you are to do as I told the 1 churches in Galatia to do. •Every Sunday, each one of you must put 2 aside what he can afford, so that collections need not be made after I have come.
When I am with you, I will send your offering to Jerusalem by the hand 3 of whatever men you give letters of reference to; •if it seems worth while for me 4 to go too, they can travel with me.

I shall be coming to you after I have passed through Macedonia—and I am 5 doing no more than pass through Macedonia—•and I may be staying with you, 6 perhaps even passing the winter, to make sure that it is you who send me on my way wherever my travels take me. •As you see, I do not want to make it only 7 a passing visit to you and I hope to spend some time with you, the Lord permitting. •In any case I shall be staying at Ephesus until Pentecost •because a big 8 and important door has opened for my work and there is a great deal 9 of opposition.

If Timothy comes, show him that he has nothing to be afraid of in you: like 10 me, he is doing the Lord's work, •and nobody is to be scornful of him. Send him happily on his way to come back to me; the brothers and I are waiting for 11
him. •As for our brother Apollos, I begged him to come to you with the brothers 12 but he was quite firm that he did not want to go yet and he will come as soon as he can.

Be awake to all the dangers; stay firm in the faith; be brave and be strong. 13
Let everything you do be done in love. 14

- 15 There is something else to ask you, brothers. You know how the Stephanas 16 family, who were the first-fruits of Achaia, have really worked hard to help the 17 saints. •Well, I want you in your turn to put yourselves at the service of people 18 like this, and anyone who helps and works with them. •I am delighted that 19 Stephanas, Fortunatus and Achaicus have arrived; they make up for your 20 absence. •They have settled my mind, and yours too; I hope you appreciate men 21 like this.
- 19 All the churches of Asia send you greetings. Aquila and Prisca, with the 20 church that meets at their house, send you their warmest wishes, in the Lord.
21 All the brothers send you their greetings. Greet one another with a holy kiss.
22 This greeting is in my own hand—Paul.
23 If anyone does not love the Lord, a curse on him. 'Maran atha.'<sup>a</sup>
24 The grace of the Lord Jesus be with you.
25 My love is with you all in Christ Jesus.

THE SECOND LETTER TO THE CORINTHIANS

The sequence of events in the interval between the writing of the First Letter to the Corinthians and the Second Letter to the Corinthians is very obscure. From The Acts of the Apostles it seems clear that Paul left Ephesus because he had decided it was time for him to return to Jerusalem, and he decided to travel by way of Macedonia and Greece to pay short visits to the churches which he had founded in those areas. Towards the end of his stay in Ephesus a disturbance broke out because the citizens feared that the growth of the Christian community in Ephesus would threaten the trade in statues of the goddess Diana, object of the city's principal religious cult. Paul waited until the disturbance was over before leaving the city.

There are passages in the opening two chapters of 2 Corinthians which suggest that Paul might have made a quick visit to Corinth during his stay at Ephesus in order to reassert his authority in the Corinthian church, and there are references to a severe letter from Paul to Corinth which may not have survived. There are breaks in the argument and inconsistencies at a number of places in the Second Letter to the Corinthians, which may suggest that this letter is perhaps no more than a collection of fragments of the apostle's writings. One or more of these fragments may be part of the severe letter. On the other hand, during this period when Paul's relationship with the Christian community in Corinth was so strained, the inconsistencies in 2 Corinthians could easily have been caused by his acute anxiety. The simplest possible explanation for the course of events is that after he sent 1 Corinthians word reached Paul, possibly through Timothy, that the situation in Corinth was so bad that his first letter to them might well provoke them into making a complete break with him. He then sent Titus, possibly with a letter which has not survived, to reason with the Corinthians, and restore their respect and affection for Paul.

In the end Paul could no longer bear to wait for Titus to return so he set off along the road on which Titus would be travelling, in the hope that he would meet him on the way. At Troas, the port in Asia Minor nearest to Europe, a great opportunity opened for Paul to spread the gospel, but his anxiety was so acute that he ignored it, crossed to Macedonia, and travelled along the Roman road looking for Titus. When they met, Titus told Paul that his good relationships with the church in Corinth had been restored. Paul then wrote the Second Letter to the Corinthians in a state of great relief and sent it on ahead of him to Corinth by Titus, while he himself followed on at a more leisurely speed, and possibly visited some of the Christian communities in Macedonia.

The main characteristics of 2 Corinthians are an exploration of the Christian experience of suffering, relating it to the sufferings of Christ, and a further discussion of all that is involved in being an Apostle. Whatever conclusions are accepted about the composition of 2 Corinthians, its contents can only be understood against the background of Paul's acute anxiety for the members of the church in Corinth. The letter is an important stage in the development of Paul's thought, for he wrote his Letter to the Romans shortly afterwards.

Paul's plans

When all this was over Paul made up his mind to go back to Jerusalem through Macedonia and Achaia. 'After I have been there' he said 'I must go on to see Rome as well.' So he sent two of his helpers, Timothy and Erastus, ahead of him to Macedonia, while he remained for a time in Asia.

Ephesus: the silversmiths' riot

It was during this time that a rather serious disturbance broke out in connection with the Way. A silversmith called Demetrius, who employed a large number of craftsmen making silver shrines of Diana, called a general meeting of his own men with others in the same trade. 'As you men know,' he said 'it is on this industry that we depend for our prosperity. Now you must have seen and heard how, not just in Ephesus but nearly everywhere in Asia, this man Paul has persuaded and converted a great number of people with his argument that gods made by hand are not gods at all. This threatens not only to discredit our trade, but also to reduce the sanctuary of the great goddess Diana to unimportance. It could end up by taking away all the prestige of a goddess venerated all over Asia, yes, and everywhere in the civilised world.' This speech roused them to fury, and they started to shout, 'Great is Diana of the Ephesians!' The whole town was in an uproar and the mob rushed to the theatre dragging along two of Paul's Macedonian travelling companions, Gaius and Aristarchus. Paul wanted to make an appeal to the people, but the disciples refused to let him; in fact, some of the Asiarchs,<sup>1</sup> who were friends of his, sent messages imploring him not to take the risk of going into the theatre.

By now everybody was shouting different things till the assembly itself had no idea what was going on; most of them did not even know why they had been summoned. The Jews pushed Alexander to the front, and when some of the crowd shouted encouragement he raised his hand for silence in the hope of being able to explain things to the people. When they realised he was a Jew, they all started shouting in unison, 'Great is Diana of the Ephesians!' and they kept this up for two hours. When the town clerk eventually succeeded in calming the crowd, he said, 'Citizens of Ephesus! Is there anybody alive who does not know that the city of the Ephesians is the guardian of the temple of great Diana and of her statue that fell from heaven? Nobody can contradict this and there is no need for you to get excited or do anything rash. These men you have brought here are not guilty of any sacrilege or blasphemy against our goddess. If Demetrius and the craftsmen he has with him want to complain about anyone, there are the assizes and the proconsuls; let them take the case to court. And if you want to ask any more questions you must raise them in the regular assembly. We could easily be charged with rioting for today's happenings: there was no ground for it all, and we can give no reason for this gathering.' When he had finished this speech he dismissed the assembly.

Paul leaves Ephesus

When the disturbance was over, Paul sent for the disciples and, after speaking words of encouragement to them, said good-bye and set out for Macedonia.

THE SECOND LETTER OF PAUL TO THE CHURCH AT CORINTH

INTRODUCTION

Address and greetings. Thanksgiving

1 From Paul, appointed by God to be an apostle of Christ Jesus, and from Timothy, one of the brothers, to the church of God at Corinth and to all the saints in the whole of Achaia. •Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. 2

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, a gentle Father and the God of all consolation, •who comforts us in all our sorrows, so that we can offer others, in their sorrows, the consolation that we have received from God ourselves. •Indeed, as the sufferings of Christ overflow to us, so, through Christ, does our consolation overflow. •When we are made to suffer, it is for your consolation and salvation. When, instead, we are comforted, this should be a consolation to you, supporting you in patiently bearing the same sufferings as we bear. •And our hope for you is confident, since we know that, sharing our sufferings, you will also share our consolations. 7

For we should like you to realise, brothers, that the things we had to undergo in Asia were more of a burden than we could carry, so that we despaired of coming through alive. •Yes, we were carrying our own death warrant with us, and it has taught us not to rely on ourselves but only on God, who raises the dead to life. •And he saved us from dying, as he will save us again; yes, that is our firm hope in him, that in the future he will save us again. •You must all join in the prayers for us: the more people there are asking for help for us, the more will be granted thanks when it is granted to us. 11

SOME RECENT EVENTS REVIEWED

Why Paul changed his plans

There is one thing we are proud of, and our conscience tells us it is true: that we have always treated everybody, and especially you, with the reverence and sincerity which come from God, and by the grace of God we have done this without ulterior motives. •There are no hidden meanings in our letters besides what you can read for yourselves and understand. •And I hope that, although you do not know us very well yet, you will have come to recognise, when the day of our Lord Jesus comes, that you can be as proud of us as we are of you. 14

Because I was so sure of this, I had meant to come to you first, so that you would benefit doubly; •staying with you before going to Macedonia and coming back to you again on the way back from Macedonia, for you to see me on my way to Judaea. •Do you think I was not sure of my own intentions when I planned this? Do you really think that when I am making my plans, my motives are 17 ordinary human ones, and that I say Yes, yes, and No, no, at the same time?

18 I swear by God's truth, there is no Yes and No about what we say to you. •The 19 Son of God, the Christ Jesus that we proclaimed among you— I mean Silvanus 20 and Timothy and I—was never Yes and No: with him it was always Yes, •and however many the promises God made, the Yes to them all is in him. That is 21 why it is 'through him' that we answer Amen to the praise of God. •Remember it is God himself who assures us all, and you, of our standing in Christ, and has 22 anointed us, •marking us with his seal and giving us the pledge, the Spirit, that we carry in our hearts.

23 By my life, I call God to witness that the reason why I did not come to Corinth 24 after all was to spare your feelings. •We are not dictators over your faith, but are fellow workers with you for your happiness; in the faith you are steady enough.
1 2 Well then, I made up my mind not to pay you a second distressing visit.
2 I may have hurt you, but if so I have hurt the only people who could give me any 3 pleasure. •I wrote as I did to make sure that, when I came, I should not be distressed by the very people who should have made me happy. I am sure you all 4 know that I could never be happy unless you were. •When I wrote to you, in deep distress and anguish of mind, and in tears, it was not to make you feel hurt but to let you know how much love I have for you.

5 Someone has been the cause of pain; and the cause of pain not to me, but to 6 some degree—not to overstate it—to all of you. •The punishment already imposed 7 by the majority on the man in question is enough; •and the best thing now is to give him your forgiveness and encouragement, or he might break down from so 8 much misery. •So I am asking you to give some definite proof of your love for 9 him. •What I really wrote for, after all, was to test you and see whether you are 10 completely obedient. •Anybody that you forgive, I forgive; and as for my forgiving anything—if there has been anything to be forgiven, I have forgiven 11 it for your sake in the presence of Christ. •And so we will not be outwitted by Satan—we know well enough what his intentions are.

From Troas to Macedonia. The apostolate: its importance

12 When I went up to Troas to preach the Good News of Christ, and the door 13 was wide open for my work there in the Lord, •I was so continually uneasy in mind at not meeting brother Titus there, I said good-bye to them and went on to Macedonia.

14 Thanks be to God who, wherever he goes, makes us, in Christ, partners of his triumph,<sup>a</sup> and through us is spreading the knowledge of himself, like a sweet smell, 15 everywhere. •We are Christ's incense to God for those who are being saved and 16 for those who are not; •for the last, the smell of death that leads to death, for the first the sweet smell of life that leads to life. And who could be qualified for work 17 like this? •At least we do not go round offering the word of God for sale, as many other people do. In Christ, we speak as men of sincerity, as envoys of God and in God's presence.

1 3 Does this sound like a new attempt to commend ourselves to you? Unlike 2 other people, we need no letters of recommendation either to you or from you, •because you are yourselves our letter, written in our hearts, that anybody 3 can see and read, •and it is plain that you are a letter from Christ, drawn up by us, and written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on stone tablets but on the tablets of your living hearts.

4 Before God, we are confident of this through Christ: •not that we are qualified in ourselves to claim anything as our own work: all our qualifications come from 6 God. •He is the one who has given us the qualifications to be the administrators of this new covenant, which is not a covenant of written letters but of the Spirit:
the written letters bring death, but the Spirit gives life. •Now if the administering

2 a. Like a victorious general making his ceremonial entry into Rome.

of death, in the written letters engraved on stones, was accompanied by such a brightness that the Israelites could not bear looking at the face of Moses, though it was a brightness that faded, •then how much greater will be the brightness that surrounds the administering of the Spirit! •For if there was any splendour in administering condemnation, there must be very much greater splendour in administering justification. •In fact, compared with this greater splendour, the thing that used to have such splendour now seems to have none; •and if what was so temporary had any splendour, there must be much more in what is going to last for ever.

Having this hope, we can be quite confident; •not like Moses, who put a veil over his face so that the Israelites would not notice the ending of what had to fade.<sup>a</sup> •And anyway, their minds had been dulled; indeed, to this very day, that same veil is still there when the old covenant is being read, a veil never lifted, since Christ alone can remove it. •Yes, even today, whenever Moses is read, the veil is over their minds. •It will not be removed until they turn to the Lord. •Now this Lord is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom. •And we, with our unveiled faces reflecting like mirrors the brightness of the Lord, all grow brighter and brighter as we are turned into the image that we reflect; this is the work of the Lord who is Spirit.

4 Since we have by an act of mercy been entrusted with this work of administration, there is no weakening on our part. •On the contrary, we will have none of the reticence of those who are ashamed, no deceitfulness or watering down the word of God; but the way we commend ourselves to every human being with a conscience is by stating the truth openly in the sight of God. •If our gospel does not penetrate the veil, then the veil is on those who are not on the way to salvation; •the unbelievers whose minds the god of this world has blinded, to stop them seeing the light shed by the Good News of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God. •For it is not ourselves that we are preaching, but Christ Jesus as the Lord, and ourselves as your servants for Jesus' sake. •It is the same God that said, 'Let there be light shining out of darkness', who has shone in our minds to radiate the light of the knowledge of God's glory, the glory on the face of Christ.

The trials and hopes of the apostolate

We are only the earthenware jars that hold this treasure, to make it clear that such an overwhelming power comes from God and not from us. •We are in difficulties on all sides, but never cornered; we see no answer to our problems, but never despair; •we have been persecuted, but never deserted; knocked down, but never killed; •always, wherever we may be, we carry with us in our body the death of Jesus, so that the life of Jesus, too, may always be seen in our body. Indeed, while we are still alive, we are consigned to our death every day, for the sake of Jesus, so that in our mortal flesh the life of Jesus, too, may be openly shown. •So death is at work in us, but life in you.

But as we have the same spirit of faith that is mentioned in scripture—I believed, and therefore I spoke<sup>a</sup>—we too believe and therefore we too speak, knowing that he who raised the Lord Jesus to life will raise us with Jesus in our turn, and put us by his side and you with us. •You see, all this is for your benefit, so that the more grace is multiplied among people, the more thanksgiving there will be, to the glory of God.

That is why there is no weakening on our part, and instead, though this outer man of ours may be falling into decay, the inner man is renewed day by day. Yes, the troubles which are soon over, though they weigh little, train us for the carrying of a weight of eternal glory which is out of all proportion to them. •And so we have no eyes for things that are visible, but only for things that are invisible; for visible things last only for a time, and the invisible things are eternal.

1 S For we know that when the tent that we live in on earth is folded up, there
 2 is a house built by God for us, an everlasting home not made by human hands,
 3 in the heavens. •In this present state, it is true, we groan as we wait with longing
 4 to put on our heavenly home over the other; •we should like to be found wearing 5 clothes and not without them. •Yes, we groan and find it a burden being still 6 in this tent, not that we want to strip it off, but to put the second garment over it
 7 and to have what must die taken up into life. •This is the purpose for which 8 God made us, and he has given us the pledge of the Spirit.

9 We are always full of confidence, then, when we remember that to live in the 10 body means to be exiled from the Lord, •going as we do by faith and not by sight
 11 we are full of confidence, I say, and actually want to be exiled from the body
 12 and make our home with the Lord. •Whether we are living in the body or exiled 13 from it, we are intent on pleasing him. •For all the truth about us will be brought 14 out in the law court of Christ, and each of us will get what he deserves for the 15 things he did in the body, good or bad.

The apostolate in action

16 And so it is with the fear of the Lord in mind that we try to win people over.
 17 God knows us for what we really are, and I hope that in your consciences you 18 know us too. •This is not another attempt to commend ourselves to you: we are 19 simply giving you reasons to be proud of us, so that you will have an answer ready 20 for the people who can boast more about what they seem than what they are.
 21 If we seemed out of our senses, it was for God; but if we are being reasonable
 22 now, it is for your sake. •And this is because the love of Christ overwhelms us 23 when we reflect that if one man has died for all, then all men should be dead; 24 and the reason he died for all was so that living men should live no longer for 25 themselves, but for him who died and was raised to life for them.

26 From now onwards, therefore, we do not judge anyone by the standards of the 27 flesh. Even if we did once know Christ in the flesh, that is not how we know him
 28 now. •And for anyone who is in Christ, there is a new creation; the old creation 29 has gone, and now the new one is here. •It is all God's work. It was God who 30 reconciled us to himself through Christ and gave us the work of handing on this 31 reconciliation. •In other words, God in Christ was reconciling the world to 32 himself, not holding men's faults against them, and he has entrusted to us the 33 news that they are reconciled. •So we are ambassadors for Christ; it is as though 34 God were appealing through us, and the appeal that we make in Christ's name
 35 is: be reconciled to God. •For our sake God made the sinless one into sin, so 36 that in him we might become the goodness of God. 6 As his fellow workers, we 37 beg you once again not to neglect the grace of God that you have received. •For 38 he says: At the favourable time, I have listened to you; on the day of salvation
 39 I came to your help.<sup>a</sup> Well, now is the favourable time; this is the day of salvation.

40 We do nothing that people might object to, so as not to bring discredit on our 41 function as God's servants. •Instead, we prove we are servants of God by great 42 fortitude in times of suffering: in times of hardship and distress; •when we are 43 flogged, or sent to prison, or mobbed; labouring, sleepless, starving. •We prove 44 we are God's servants by our purity, knowledge, patience and kindness; by a 45 spirit of holiness, by a love free from affectation; •by the word of truth and by 46 the power of God; by being armed with the weapons of righteousness in the right
 47 hand and in the left, •prepared for honour or disgrace, for blame or praise; taken 48 for impostors while we are genuine; •obscure yet famous; said to be dying and 49 here are we alive; rumoured to be executed before we are sentenced; •thought 50 most miserable and yet we are always rejoicing; taken for paupers though we make 51 others rich, for people having nothing though we have everything.

Paul opens his heart. A warning

Corinthians, we have spoken to you very frankly; our mind has been opened 11 in front of you. •Any constraint that you feel is not on our side; the constraint 12 is in your own selves. •I speak as if to children of mine: as a fair exchange, open 13 your minds in the same way.

Do not harness yourselves in an uneven team with unbelievers. Virtue is no 14 companion for crime. Light and darkness have nothing in common. •Christ is 15 not the ally of Beliar, nor has a believer anything to share with an unbeliever.
The temple of God has no common ground with idols, and that is what we 16 are—the temple of the living God. We have God's word for it: I will make my home among them and live with them; I will be their God and they shall be my people.<sup>b</sup> •Then come away from them and keep aloof, says the Lord. Touch nothing 17
that is unclean,<sup>c</sup> and I will welcome you •and be your father, and you shall be my 18 sons and daughters, says the Almighty Lord.<sup>d</sup>

7 With promises like these made to us, dear brothers, let us wash off all that 1 can soil either body or spirit, to reach perfection of holiness in the fear of God.

Keep a place for us in your hearts. We have not injured anyone, or ruined 2 anyone, or exploited anyone. •I am not saying this to put any blame on you; 3 as I have already told you, you are in our hearts—together we live or together we die. •I have the very greatest confidence in you, and I am so proud of you that 4 in all our trouble I am filled with consolation and my joy is overflowing.

Paul in Macedonia; he is joined by Titus

Even after we had come to Macedonia, however, there was no rest for this 5 body of ours. Far from it; we found trouble on all sides: quarrels outside, mis- 6 givings inside. •But God comforts the miserable, and he comforted us, by the 6 arrival of Titus, •and not only by his arrival but also by the comfort which he 7 had gained from you. He has told us all about how you want to see me, how sorry 7 you were, and how concerned for me, and so I am happier now than I was before.

But to tell the truth, even if I distressed you by my letter, I do not regret it. 8
I did regret it before, and I see that that letter did distress you, at least for a time; 8 but I am happy now—not because I made you suffer, but because your suffering 9 led to your repentance. Yours has been a kind of suffering that God approves, 9 and so you have come to no kind of harm from us. •To suffer in God's way 10 means changing for the better and leaves no regrets, but to suffer as the world 10 knows suffering brings death. •Just look at what suffering in God's way has 11 brought you: what keenness, what explanations, what indignation, what alarm!
Yes, and what aching to see me, what concern for me, and what justice done!
In every way you have shown yourselves blameless in this affair. •So then, though 12
I wrote the letter to you, it was not written for the sake either of the offender 12 or of the one offended; it was to make you realise, in the sight of God, your own 12 concern for us. •That is what we have found so encouraging. 13

With this encouragement, too, we had the even greater happiness of finding 13
Titus so happy; thanks to you all, he has no more worries; •I had rather boasted 14 to him about you, and now I have not been made to look foolish; in fact, our boasting to Titus has proved to be as true as anything that we ever said to you.
His own personal affection for you is all the greater when he remembers how 15 willing you have all been, and with what deep respect you welcomed him. •I am 16 very happy knowing that I can rely on you so completely.

ORGANISATION OF THE COLLECTION

Why the Corinthians should be generous

8 Now here, brothers, is the news of the grace of God which was given in the 1
8 churches in Macedonia; •and of how, throughout great trials by suffering, 2 their constant cheerfulness and their intense poverty have overflowed in a wealth

 3 of generosity. •I can swear that they gave not only as much as they could afford,
 4 but far more, and quite spontaneously, •begging and begging us for the favour 5 of sharing in this service to the saints •and, what was quite unexpected, they offered their own selves first to God and, under God, to us.

6 Because of this, we have asked Titus, since he has already made a beginning, 7 to bring this work of mercy to the same point of success among you. •You always have the most of everything—of faith, of eloquence, of understanding, of keenness for any cause, and the biggest share of our affection—so we expect 8 you to put the most into this work of mercy too. •It is not an order that I am giving you; I am just testing the genuineness of your love against the keenness of 9 others. •Remember how generous the Lord Jesus was: he was rich, but he 10 became poor for your sake, to make you rich out of his poverty. •As I say, I am only making a suggestion; it is only fair to you, since you were the first, a year 11 ago, not only in taking action but even in deciding to. •So now finish the work and let the results be worthy, as far as you can afford it, of the decision you made 12 so promptly. •As long as the readiness is there, a man is acceptable with whatever 13 he can afford; never mind what is beyond his means. •This does not mean that to give relief to others you ought to make things difficult for yourselves: it is 14 a question of balancing •what happens to be your surplus now against their present need, and one day they may have something to spare that will supply 15 your own need. That is how we strike a balance: •as scripture says: The man who gathered much had none too much, the man who gathered little did not go short.<sup>a</sup>

The delegates recommended to the Corinthians

16 I thank God for putting into Titus' heart the same concern for you that I have 17 myself. •He did what we asked him; indeed he is more concerned than ever, and 18 is visiting you on his own initiative. •As his companion we are sending the 19 brother who is famous in all the churches for spreading the gospel. •More than that, he happens to be the same brother who has been elected by the churches to be our companion on this errand of mercy that, for the glory of God, we have 20 undertaken to satisfy our impatience to help. •We hope that in this way there 21 will be no accusations made about our administering such a large fund; •for we 22 are trying to do right not only in the sight of God but also in the sight of men.<sup>b</sup> •To accompany these, we are sending a third brother, of whose keenness we have often had proof in many different ways, and who is particularly keen about this, 23 because he has great confidence in you. •Titus, perhaps I should add, is my own colleague and fellow worker in your interests; the other two brothers, who are 24 delegates of the churches, are a real glory to Christ. •So then, in front of all the churches, give them a proof of your love, and prove to them that we are right to be proud of you.

1 9 There is really no need for me to write to you on the subject of offering 2 your services to the saints, •since I know how anxious you are to help; in fact, I boast about you to the Macedonians, telling them, 'Achaia has been ready 3 since last year'. So your zeal has been a spur to many more. •I am sending the brothers all the same, to make sure that our boasting about you does not prove to have been empty this time, and that you really are ready as I said you would 4 be. •If some of the Macedonians who are coming with me found you unprepared, we should be humiliated—to say nothing of yourselves—after being so confident.
 5 That is why I have thought it necessary to ask these brothers to go on to you ahead of us, and make sure in advance that the gift you promised is all ready, and that it all comes as a gift out of your generosity and not by being extorted from you.

Blessings to be expected from the collection

Do not forget: thin sowing means thin reaping; the more you sow, the more 6 you reap. •Each one should give what he has decided in his own mind, not 7 grudgingly or because he is made to, for God loves a cheerful giver.<sup>a</sup> •And there 8 is no limit to the blessings which God can send you—he will make sure that you will always have all you need for yourselves in every possible circumstance, and still have something to spare for all sorts of good works. •As scripture says: He 9 was free in almsgiving, and gave to the poor: his good deeds will never be forgotten.<sup>b</sup>

The one who provides seed for the sower and bread for food will provide you with 10 all the seed you want and make the harvest of your good deeds a larger one, •and, 11 made richer in every way, you will be able to do all the generous things which, through us, are the cause of thanksgiving to God. •For doing this holy service 12 is not only supplying all the needs of the saints, but it is also increasing the amount of thanksgiving that God receives. •By offering this service, you show 13 them what you are, and that makes them give glory to God for the way you accept and profess the gospel of Christ, and for your sympathetic generosity to them and to all. •And their prayers for you, too, show how they are drawn to you on 14 account of all the grace that God has given you. •Thanks be to God for his inex- 15 pressible gift!

PAUL'S APOLOGIA*Paul's reply to accusations of weakness

10 This is a personal matter; this is Paul himself appealing to you by the 1 gentleness and patience of Christ—I, the man who is so humble when he 2 is facing you, but bullies you when he is at a distance. •I only ask that I do not 3 have to bully you when I come, with all the confident assurance I mean to show when I come face to face with people I could name who think we go by ordinary 4 human motives. •We live in the flesh, of course, but the muscles that we fight 5 with are not flesh. •Our war is not fought with weapons of flesh, yet they are 6 strong enough, in God's cause, to demolish fortresses. We demolish sophistries, and the arrogance that tries to resist the knowledge of God; every thought is 7 our prisoner, captured to be brought into obedience to Christ. •Once you have 8 given your complete obedience, we are prepared to punish any disobedience.

Face plain facts. Anybody who is convinced that he belongs to Christ must 9 go on to reflect that we all belong to Christ no less than he does. •Maybe I do 10 boast rather too much about our authority, but the Lord gave it to me for building you up and not for pulling you down, and I shall not be ashamed of it. •I do not 11 want you to think of me as someone who only frightens you by letter. •Someone said, 'He writes powerful and strongly-worded letters but when he is with you 12 you see only half a man and no preacher at all'. •The man who said that can remember this: whatever we are like in the words of our letters when we are 13 absent, that is what we shall be like in our actions when we are present.

His reply to the accusation of ambition

We are not being so bold as to rank ourselves, or invite comparison, with 14 certain people who write their own references. Measuring themselves against themselves, and comparing themselves to themselves, they are simply foolish. 15
We, on the other hand, are not going to boast without a standard to measure against: taking for our measure the yardstick which God gave us to measure 16 with, which is long enough to reach to you. •We are not stretching further than we ought; otherwise we should not have reached you, as we did come all the way to you with the gospel of Christ. •So we are not boasting without any measure, about work that was done by other people; in fact, we trust that, as your faith grows, we shall get taller and taller, when judged by our own standard. •I mean, we shall be carrying the gospel to places far beyond you, without encroaching on 17 anyone else's field, not boasting of the work already done. •If anyone wants to 18 boast, let him boast of the Lord.• It is not the man who commends himself that can be accepted, but the man who is commended by the Lord.

Paul is driven to sound his own praises

1 I I only wish you were able to tolerate a little foolishness from me. But of 2 course: you are tolerant towards me. •You see, the jealousy that I feel for you is God's own jealousy: I arranged for you to marry Christ so that I might 3 give you away as a chaste virgin to this one husband. •But the serpent, with his cunning, seduced Eve, and I am afraid that in the same way your ideas may get 4 corrupted and turned away from simple devotion to Christ. •Because any newcomer has only to proclaim a new Jesus, different from the one that we preached, or you have only to receive a new spirit, different from the one you have already received, or a new gospel, different from the one you have already accepted—and 5 you welcome it with open arms. •As far as I can tell, these arch-apostles have 6 nothing more than I have. •I may not be a polished speechmaker, but as for knowledge, that is a different matter; surely we have made this plain, speaking on every subject in front of all of you.

7 Or was I wrong, lowering myself so as to lift you high, by preaching the 8 gospel of God to you and taking no fee for it? •I was robbing other churches 9 living on them so that I could serve you. •When I was with you and ran out of money, I was no burden to anyone; the brothers who came from Macedonia provided me with everything I wanted. I was very careful, and I always shall be, 10 not to be a burden to you in any way, •and by Christ's truth in me, this cause 11 of boasting will never be taken from me in the regions of Achaia. •Would I do that 12 if I did not love you? God knows I do. •I intend to go on doing what I am doing now—leaving no opportunity for those people who are looking for an opportunity 13 to claim equality with us in what they boast of. •These people are counterfeit 14 apostles, they are dishonest workmen disguised as apostles of Christ. •There is nothing unexpected about that; if Satan himself goes disguised as an angel of light, 15 there is no need to be surprised when his servants, too, disguise themselves as the servants of righteousness. They will come to the end that they deserve.

16 As I said before, let no one take me for a fool; but if you must, then treat me
 17 as a fool and let me do a little boasting of my own. •What I am going to say now is not prompted by the Lord, but said as if in a fit of folly, in the certainty that 18 I have something to boast about. •So many others have been boasting of their 19 worldly achievements, that I will boast myself. •You are all wise men and can 20 cheerfully tolerate fools, •yes, even to tolerating somebody who makes slaves of you, makes you feed him, imposes on you, orders you about and slaps you in the 21 face. •I hope you are ashamed of us for being weak with you instead!

But if anyone wants some brazen speaking—I am still talking as a fool—then 22 I can be as brazen as any of them, and about the same things. •Hebrews, are they?
 23 So am I. Israelites? So am I. Descendants of Abraham? So am I. •The servants of Christ? I must be mad to say this, but so am I, and more than they: more, because I have worked harder, I have been sent to prison more often, and whipped 24 so many times more, often almost to death. •Five times I had the thirty-nine 25 lashes from the Jews; •three times I have been beaten with sticks; once I was stoned; three times I have been shipwrecked and once adrift in the open sea for 26 a night and a day. •Constantly travelling, I have been in danger from rivers and in danger from brigands, in danger from my own people and in danger from pagans; in danger in the towns, in danger in the open country, danger at sea and 27 danger from so-called brothers. •I have worked and laboured, often without sleep; I have been hungry and thirsty and often starving; I have been in the cold

9 a. Pr 22:8 (LXX) b. Ps 112:9

10 a. Jr 9:23

without clothes. •And, to leave out much more, there is my daily preoccupation: 28 my anxiety for all the churches. •When any man has had scruples, I have had 29 scruples with him; when any man is made to fall, I am tortured.

If I am to boast, then let me boast of my own feebleness. •The God and Father 30 of the Lord Jesus—bless him for ever—knows that I am not lying. •When I was 32 in Damascus, the ethnarch of King Aretas put guards round the city to catch me, •and I had to be let down over the wall in a hamper, through a window, in 33 order to escape.

12 Must I go on boasting, though there is nothing to be gained by it? But 1
I will move on to the visions and revelations I have had from the Lord.
I know a man in Christ who, fourteen years ago, was caught up—whether still in 2
the body or out of the body, I do not know; God knows—right into the third heaven.<sup>a</sup> •I do know, however, that this same person—whether in the body or 3 out of the body, I do not know; God knows—•was caught up into paradise and 4 heard things which must not and cannot be put into human language. •I will 5 boast about a man like that, but not about anything of my own except my weaknesses. •If I should decide to boast, I should not be made to look foolish, because 6
I should only be speaking the truth; but I am not going to, in case anyone should begin to think I am better than he can actually see and hear me to be.

In view of the extraordinary nature of these revelations, to stop me from 7 getting too proud I was given a thorn in the flesh, an angel of Satan to beat me and stop me from getting too proud! •About this thing, I have pleaded with the 8 Lord three times for it to leave me, •but he has said, 'My grace is enough for 9 you: my power is at its best in weakness'. So I shall be very happy to make my weaknesses my special boast so that the power of Christ may stay over me, •and 10 that is why I am quite content with my weaknesses, and with insults, hardships, persecutions, and the agonies I go through for Christ's sake. For it is when I am weak that I am strong.

I have been talking like a fool, but you forced me to do it: you are the ones 11 who should have been commending me. Though I am a nobody, there is not a thing these arch-apostles have that I do not have as well. •You have seen done 12 among you all the things that mark the true apostle, unfailingly produced: the signs, the marvels, the miracles. •Is there anything of which you have had less than 13 the other churches have had, except that I have not myself been a burden on you? For this unfairness, please forgive me. •I am all prepared now to come to 14 you for the third time, and I am not going to be a burden on you: it is you I want, not your possessions. Children are not expected to save up for their parents, but parents for children. •I am perfectly willing to spend what I have, and to be 15 expended, in the interests of your souls. Because I love you more, must I be loved the less?

All very well, you say: I personally put no pressure on you, but like the cunning 16 fellow that I am, I took you in by a trick. •So we exploited you, did we, through 17 one of the men that I have sent to you? •Well, Titus went at my urging, and I sent 18 the brother that came with him. Can Titus have exploited you? You know that he and I have always been guided by the same spirit and trodden in the same tracks.

Paul's fears and anxieties

All this time you have been thinking that our defence is addressed to you, 19 but it is before God that we, in Christ, are speaking; and it is all, my dear brothers, for your benefit. •What I am afraid of is that when I come I may find 20 you different from what I want you to be, and you may find that I am not as you would like me to be; and then there will be wrangling, jealousy, and tempers roused, intrigues and backbiting and gossip, obstinacies and disorder. •I am 21 afraid that on my next visit, my God may make me ashamed on your account and I shall be grieving over all those who sinned before and have still not repented of the impurities, fornication and debauchery they committed.

- 1 13 This will be the third time I have come to you. The evidence of three, or at 2 least two, witnesses is necessary to sustain the charge.<sup>a</sup> •I gave warning when I was with you the second time and I give warning now, too, before I come, to those who sinned before and to any others, that when I come again, I shall have 3 no mercy. •You want proof, you say, that it is Christ speaking in me: you have 4 known him not as a weakling, but as a power among you? •Yes, but he was crucified through weakness, and still he lives now through the power of God.
 So then, we are weak, as he was, but we shall live with him, through the power of God, for your benefit.
- 5 Examine yourselves to make sure you are in the faith; test yourselves. Do you acknowledge that Jesus Christ is really in you? If not, you have failed the 6 test, •but we, as I hope you will come to see, have not failed it. •We pray to God
 7 that you will do nothing wrong: not that we want to appear as the ones who have 8 been successful—we would rather that you did well even though we failed. •We 9 have no power to resist the truth; only to further it. •We are only too glad to be weak provided you are strong. What we ask in our prayers is for you to be made 10 perfect. •That is why I am writing this from a distance, so that when I am with you I shall not need to be strict, with the authority which the Lord gave me for building up and not for destroying.

CONCLUSION

Recommendations. Greetings. Final good wishes

- 11 In the meantime, brothers, we wish you happiness; try to grow perfect; help one another. Be united; live in peace, and the God of love and peace will be with you.
- 12 Greet one another with the holy kiss. All the saints send you greetings.
- 13 The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with you all.

THE LETTER TO THE ROMANS

The Letter to the Romans was written by Paul from Corinth some time during his stay in A.D. 57-58, in the period of calm which followed when the tension between Paul and the Christian community at Corinth was resolved. It is the last letter which Paul wrote before his imprisonment and journey to Rome.

All the other letters written by Paul or attributed to him belong to a particular situation or are concerned with a particular problem. The Letter to the Romans differs from all of them, for it was written to a church which Paul had not yet visited, and in it Paul set out the gospel which he preached. In the Letter to the Galatians he made it clear that this gospel was not something which he himself had invented, for at one point he had travelled specially to Jerusalem to consult the leading Apostles, and find whether his gospel was the authentic Christian message. There is ample evidence for this in the Letter to the Romans as well, for Paul is able to assume that his readers in Rome, although most of them had never met him, had been taught the same gospel as he himself had received, and that they used similar language about it.

The main thread which runs right through the letter is the relationship of the Christian gospel to Judaism, but although this is the central problem of the letter it is still no more than a thread on which all the important points of the Christian faith can be strung. The letter is a careful and calm theological explanation of God's love towards his world, and of man's response to that initiative in love. Parts of the letter seem to be proceeding by the same kind of narrow, detailed argument as was employed by the Jewish rabbis, but Paul uses this technique to direct attention to the uniqueness of the Christian gospel, to the utter generosity of God as he acts to draw all mankind back to himself again, and to the nature of the response which he seeks to evoke in man so that the relationship of love may be effectively restored.

The main argument of the letter is contained in chapters 1-8, but the theme of the relationship of traditional Judaism to the new Christianity finds a natural development in chapters 9-11, which consider the position of the Jews. Finally, the letter moves into a section of exhortation and greeting. The unity of the letter has been questioned, but the disjunctions in it are entirely consistent with the natural divisions of the subject which Paul is discussing, and with the kind of breaks which would be likely in the course of dictation to a secretary. Although Paul had not yet visited Rome, he would certainly have met a number of residents of Rome in the course of his wide travels along the network of roads fanning out from the empire's hub. The final chapter of the letter contains Paul's greetings to some of these friends, and also contains a glimpse of the man who took down the letter at Paul's dictation.

THE LETTER OF PAUL TO THE CHURCH IN ROME

Address

1 I From Paul, a servant of Christ Jesus who has been called to be an apostle,
2 and specially chosen to preach the Good News that God •promised long ago through his prophets in the scriptures.

3 This news is about the Son of God who, according to the human nature he
4 took, was a descendant of David: •it is about Jesus Christ our Lord who, in the order of the spirit, the spirit of holiness that was in him, was proclaimed Son
5 of God in all his power through his resurrection from the dead. •Through him we received grace and our apostolic mission to preach the obedience of faith
6 to all pagan nations in honour of his name. •You are one of these nations, and 7 by his call belong to Jesus Christ. •To you all, then, who are God's beloved in Rome, called to be saints, may God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ send grace and peace.

Thanksgiving and prayer

8 First I thank my God through Jesus Christ for all of you and for the way in 9 which your faith is spoken of all over the world. •The God I worship spiritually by preaching the Good News of his Son knows that I never fail to mention you
10 in my prayers, •and to ask to be allowed at long last the opportunity to visit 11 you, if he so wills. •For I am longing to see you either to strengthen you by 12 sharing a spiritual gift with you, •or what is better, to find encouragement
13 among you from our common faith. •I want you to know, brothers, that I have often planned to visit you—though until now I have always been prevented—
14 in the hope that I might work as fruitfully among you as I have done among the 15 other pagans. •I owe a duty to Greeks“ just as much as to barbarians, to the educated just as much as to the uneducated, •and it is this that makes me want to bring the Good News to you too in Rome.

SALVATION BY FAITH JUSTIFICATION

The theme stated

16 For I am not ashamed of the Good News: it is the power of God saving all 17 who have faith—Jews first, but Greeks as well—•since this is what reveals the justice of God to us: it shows how faith leads to faith, or as scripture says:
The upright man finds life through faith.<sup>b</sup>

1 a. When contrasted with 'barbarians' (as here), 'Greeks' means the inhabitants of the hellenic world, including the Romans; when contrasted with 'Jews', it means the pagans in general. b. Hab 2:4

GOD'S ANGER AGAINST PAGAN AND JEW

God's anger against the pagans

The anger of God is being revealed from heaven against all the impiety and depravity of men who keep truth imprisoned in their wickedness. •For what can be known about God is perfectly plain to them since God himself has made it plain. •Ever since God created the world his everlasting power and deity— however invisible—have been there for the mind to see in the things he has made. That is why such people are without excuse: •they knew God and yet refused to honour him as God or to thank him; instead, they made nonsense out of logic and their empty minds were darkened. •The more they called themselves philosophers, the more stupid they grew, •until they exchanged the glory of the immortal God for a worthless imitation, for the image of mortal man, of birds, of quadrupeds and reptiles. •That is why God left them to their filthy enjoyments and the practices with which they dishonour their own bodies, since they have given up divine truth for a lie and have worshipped and served creatures instead of the creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen!

That is why God has abandoned them to degrading passions: why their women have turned from natural intercourse to unnatural practices •and why their menfolk have given up natural intercourse to be consumed with passion for each other, men doing shameless things with men and getting an appropriate reward for their perversion.

In other words, since they refused to see it was rational to acknowledge God, God has left them to their own irrational ideas and to their monstrous behaviour. And so they are steeped in all sorts of depravity, rottenness, greed and malice, and addicted to envy, murder, wrangling, treachery and spite. •Libellers, slanderers, enemies of God, rude, arrogant and boastful, enterprising in sin, rebellious to parents, •without brains, honour, love or pity. •They know what God's verdict is: that those who behave like this deserve to die—and yet they do it; and what is worse, encourage others to do the same.

The Jews are not exempt from God's anger

2 So no matter who you are, if you pass judgement you have no excuse. 1
In judging others you condemn yourself, since you behave no differently from those you judge. •We know that God condemns that sort of behaviour 2 impartially: •and when you judge those who behave like this while you are 3 doing exactly the same, do you think you will escape God's judgement? •Or are 4 you abusing his abundant goodness, patience and toleration, not realising that 5 this goodness of God is meant to lead you to repentance? •Your stubborn refusal 6 to repent is only adding to the anger God will have towards you on that day of 7 anger when his just judgements will be made known. •He will repay each one as 8 his works deserve." •For those who sought renown and honour and immortality 9 by always doing good there will be eternal life; •for the unsubmitive who 10 refused to take truth for their guide and took depravity instead, there will be 11 anger and fury. •Pain and suffering will come to every human being who employs 12 himself in evil—Jews first, but Greeks as well; •renown, honour and peace will 13 come to everyone who does good—Jews first, but Greeks as well. •God has 14 no favourites. 15

The Law will not save them

Sinners who were not subject to the Law will perish all the same, without that Law; sinners who were under the Law will have that Law to judge them. It is not listening to the Law but keeping it that will make people holy in the sight of God. •For instance, pagans who never heard of the Law but are led by reason to do what the Law commands, may not actually 'possess' the Law, but they can be said to 'be' the Law. •They can point to the substance of the Law engraved on their hearts—they can call a witness, that is, their own conscience—they have accusation and defence, that is, their own inner mental dialogue.<sup>b</sup> . . . on the day when, according to the Good News I preach, God, through Jesus Christ, judges the secrets of mankind.

If you call yourself a Jew, if you really trust in the Law and are proud of your God, •if you know God's will through the Law and can tell what is right, if you are convinced you can guide the blind and be a beacon to those in the dark, •if you can teach the ignorant and instruct the unlearned because your Law embodies all knowledge and truth, •then why not teach yourself as well as the others? You preach against stealing, yet you steal; •you forbid adultery, yet you commit adultery; you despise idols, yet you rob their temples. •By boasting about the Law and then disobeying it, you bring God into contempt. •As scripture says: It is your fault that the name of God is blasphemed among the pagans.

Circumcision will not save them

It is a good thing to be circumcised if you keep the Law; but if you break the Law, you might as well have stayed uncircumcised. •If a man, who is not circumcised obeys the commandments of the Law, surely that makes up for not being circumcised? •More than that, the man who keeps the Law, even though he has not been physically circumcised, is a living condemnation of the way you disobey the Law in spite of being circumcised and having it all written down. To be a Jew is not just to look like a Jew, and circumcision is more than a physical operation. •The real Jew is the one who is inwardly a Jew, and the real circumcision is in the heart—something not of the letter but of the spirit. A Jew like that may not be praised by man, but he will be praised by God.

God's promises will not save them

3 Well then, is a Jew any better off? Is there any advantage in being circumcised? •A great advantage in every way. First, the Jews are the people to whom God's message was entrusted. •What if some of them were unfaithful? Will their lack of fidelity cancel God's fidelity? •That would be absurd. God will always be true even though everyone proves to be false;<sup>a</sup> so scripture says: In all you say your justice shows, and when you are judged you win your case.<sup>b</sup> •But if our lack of holiness makes God demonstrate his integrity, how can we say God is unjust when—to use a human analogy—he gets angry with us in return? •That would be absurd, it would mean God could never judge the world. •You might as well say that since my untruthfulness makes God demonstrate his truthfulness and thus gives him glory, I should not be judged to be a sinner at all. •That would be the same as saying: Do evil as a means to good. Some slanderers have accused us of teaching this, but they are justly condemned.

All are guilty

Well: are we any better off? Not at all: as we said before, Jews and Greeks are all under sin's dominion. •As scripture says:

*There is not a good man left, no, not one;
there is not one who understands,
not one who looks for God.*

All have turned aside, tainted all alike;

there is not one good man left, not a single one.

Their throats are yawning graves;

their tongues are full of deceit.

Vipers' venom is on their lips,

bitter curses fill their mouths.

1 c. Ps 106:20

2 a. Ps 6:12 b. This verse follows on from v.13

3 a. Ps 116:11 b. Ps 51:4 (LXX)

Their feet are swift when blood is to be shed, 15
wherever they go there is havoc and ruin. 16
They know nothing of the way of peace, 17
there is no fear of God before their eyes.<sup>c</sup> 18

Now all this that the Law says is said, as we know, for the benefit of those 19 who are subject to the Law, but it is meant to silence everyone and to lay the whole world open to God's judgement; •and this is because no one can be justified 20 in the sight of<sup>d</sup> God by keeping the Law: all that law does is to tell us what is sinful.

FAITH AND THE JUSTICE OF GOD

The revelation of God's justice

God's justice that was made known through the Law and the Prophets has 21 now been revealed outside the Law, •since it is the same justice of God that 22 comes through faith to everyone, Jew and pagan alike, who believes in Jesus Christ. •Both Jew and pagan sinned and forfeited God's glory, •and both are 23 justified through the free gift of his grace by being redeemed in Christ Jesus 24 who was appointed by God to sacrifice his life so as to win reconciliation through 25 faith. In this way God makes his justice known; first, for the past, when sins went unpunished because he held his hand, •then, for the present age, by showing 26 positively that he is just, and that he justifies everyone who believes in Jesus.

What faith does

So what becomes of our boasts? There is no room for them. What sort of 27 law excludes them? The sort of law that tells us what to do? On the contrary, it is the law of faith, •since, as we see it, a man is justified by faith and not 28
 by doing something the Law tells him to do. •Is God the God of Jews alone and 29 not of the pagans too? Of the pagans too, most certainly, •since there is only one 30
 God, and he is the one who will justify the circumcised because of their faith and justify the uncircumcised through their faith. •Do we mean that faith makes 31 the Law pointless? Not at all: we are giving the Law its true value.

THE EXAMPLE OF ABRAHAM

Abraham justified by faith

4 Apply this to Abraham, the ancestor from whom we are all descended. 1
 If Abraham was justified as a reward for doing something, he would really 2 have had something to boast about, though not in God's sight •because scripture 3 says: Abraham put his faith in God, and this faith was considered as justifying him.<sup>a</sup>
 If a man has work to show, his wages are not considered as a favour but as his 4 due; •but when a man has nothing to show except faith in the one who justifies 5 sinners, then his faith is considered as justifying him. •And David says the same: 6 a man is happy if God considers him righteous, irrespective of good deeds:

Happy those whose crimes are forgiven, 7
whose sins are blotted out;
happy the man whom the Lord considers sinless.<sup>b</sup> 8

Justified before circumcision

Is this happiness meant only for the circumcised, or is it meant for others as 9 well? Think of Abraham again: his faith, we say, was considered as justifying him, but when was this done? When he was already circumcised or before he had been 10

11 circumcised? It was before he had been circumcised, not after; •and when he was circumcised later it was only as a sign and guarantee that the faith he had before his circumcision justified him. In this way Abraham became the ancestor of all 12 uncircumcised believers, so that they too might be considered righteous; •and ancestor, also, of those who though circumcised do not rely on that fact alone, but follow our ancestor Abraham along the path of faith he trod before he had been circumcised.

Not justified by obedience to the Law

13 The promise of inheriting the world was not made to Abraham and his descendants on account of any law but on account of the righteousness which 14 consists in faith. •If the world is only to be inherited by those who submit to the Law, then faith is pointless and the promise worth nothing. •Law 15 involves the possibility of punishment for breaking the law—only where there is no law can that be avoided. •That is why what fulfils the promise depends on 16 faith, so that it may be a free gift and be available to all of Abraham's descendants, not only those who belong to the Law but also those who belong 17 to the faith of Abraham who is the father of all of us. •As scripture says: I have made you the ancestor of many nations<sup>c</sup>—Abraham is our father in the eyes of God, in whom he put his faith, and who brings the dead to life and calls into being what does not exist.

Abraham's faith, a model of Christian faith

18 Though it seemed Abraham's hope could not be fulfilled, he hoped and he believed, and through doing so he did become the father of many nations exactly 19 as he had been promised: Your descendants will be as many as the stars.<sup>d</sup> •Even the thought that his body was past fatherhood—he was about a hundred years 20 old—and Sarah too old to become a mother, did not shake his belief. •Since God had promised it, Abraham refused either to deny it or even to doubt it, but drew 21 strength from faith and gave glory to God, •convinced that God had power 22 to do what he had promised. •This is the faith that was 'considered as justi- fyng him'. •Scripture however does not refer only to him but to us as well 23 when it says that his faith was thus 'considered'; •our faith too will be 'considered' 25 if we believe in him who raised Jesus our Lord from the dead, •Jesus who was put to death for our sins<sup>e</sup> and raised to life to justify us.

SALVATION

Faith guarantees salvation

1 So far then we have seen that, through our Lord Jesus Christ, by faith we are 2 judged righteous and at peace with God, •since it is by faith and through Jesus that we have entered this state of grace in which we can boast about 3 looking forward to God's glory. •But that is not all we can boast about; we can 4 boast about our sufferings. These sufferings bring patience, as we know, •and 5 patience brings perseverance, and perseverance brings hope, •and this hope is not deceptive, because the love of God has been poured into our hearts by the 6 Holy Spirit which has been given us. •We were still helpless when at his appointed 7 moment Christ died for sinful men. •It is not easy to die even for a good man—though of course for someone really worthy, a man might be prepared to die—
 8 but what proves that God loves us is that Christ died for us while we were still 9 sinners. •Having died to make us righteous, is it likely that he would now fail 10 to save us from God's anger? •When we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, we were still enemies; now that we have been reconciled, surely we may count on being saved by the life of his Son? •Not merely because we have been reconciled but because we are filled with joyful trust in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have already gained our reconciliation. 11

DELIVERANCE FROM SIN AND DEATH AND LAW

Adam and Jesus Christ

Well then, sin entered the world through one man, and through sin death, and thus death has spread through the whole human race because everyone has sinned. •Sin existed in the world long before the Law was given. There was no law and so no one could be accused of the sin of 'law-breaking', •yet death reigned over all from Adam to Moses, even though their sin, unlike that of Adam, was not a matter of breaking a law. 12

Adam prefigured the One to come, •but the gift itself considerably outweighed the fall. If it is certain that through one man's fall so many died, it is even more certain that divine grace, coming through the one man, Jesus Christ, came to so many as an abundant free gift. •The results of the gift also outweigh the results of one man's sin: for after one single fall came judgement with a verdict of condemnation, now after many falls comes grace with its verdict of acquittal. •If it is certain that death reigned over everyone as the consequence of one man's fall, it is even more certain that one man, Jesus Christ, will cause everyone to reign in life who receives the free gift that he does not deserve, of being made righteous. Again, as one man's fall brought condemnation on everyone, so the good act of one man brings everyone life and makes them justified. •As by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by one man's obedience many will be made righteous. •When law came, it was to multiply the opportunities of falling, but however great the number of sins committed, grace was even greater; •and so, just as sin reigned wherever there was death, so grace will reign to bring eternal life thanks to the righteousness that comes through Jesus Christ our Lord. 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21

Baptism

Does it follow that we should remain in sin so as to let grace have greater scope? •Of course not. We are dead to sin, so how can we continue to live in it? •You have been taught that when we were baptised in Christ Jesus we were baptised in his death; •in other words, when we were baptised we went into the tomb with him and joined him in death, so that as Christ was raised from the dead by the Father's glory, we too might live a new life. 1 2 3 4

If in union with Christ we have imitated his death, we shall also imitate him in his resurrection. •We must realise that our former selves have been crucified with him to destroy this sinful body and to free us from the slavery of sin. •When a man dies, of course, he has finished with sin. 5 6 7

But we believe that having died with Christ we shall return to life with him: Christ, as we know, having been raised from the dead will never die again. Death has no power over him any more. •When he died, he died, once for all, to sin, so his life now is life with God; •and in that way, you too must consider yourselves to be dead to sin but alive for God in Christ Jesus. 8 9 10 11

Holiness, not sin, to be the master

That is why you must not let sin reign in your mortal bodies or command your obedience to bodily passions, •why you must not let any part of your body turn into an unholy weapon fighting on the side of sin; you should, instead, offer yourselves to God, and consider yourselves dead men brought back to life; you should make every part of your body into a weapon fighting on the side of God; •and then sin will no longer dominate your life, since you are living by grace and not by law. 12 13 14

The Christian is freed from the slavery of sin

15 Does the fact that we are living by grace and not by law mean that we are 16 free to sin? Of course not. •You know that if you agree to serve and obey a master you become his slaves. You cannot be slaves of sin that leads to death 17 and at the same time slaves of obedience that leads to righteousness. •You were once slaves of sin, but thank God you submitted without reservation to the 18 creed you were taught. •You may have been freed from the slavery of sin, but only 19 to become 'slaves' of righteousness. •If I may use human terms to help your natural weakness: as once you put your bodies at the service of vice and immorality, so now you must put them at the service of righteousness for your sanctification.

The reward of sin and the reward of holiness

20 When you were slaves of sin, you felt no obligation to righteousness, •and 21 what did you get from this? Nothing but experiences that now make you blush, 22 since that sort of behaviour ends in death. •Now, however, you have been set free from sin, you have been made slaves of God, and you get a reward leading 23 to your sanctification and ending in eternal life. •For the wage paid by sin is death; the present given by God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

The Christian is not bound by the Law

1 7 Brothers, those of you who have studied law will know that laws affect 2 a person only during his lifetime. •A married woman, for instance, has legal obligations to her husband while he is alive, but all these obligations come to 3 an end if the husband dies. •So if she gives herself to another man while her husband is still alive, she is legally an adulteress; but after her husband is dead her legal obligations come to an end, and she can marry someone else without 4 becoming an adulteress. •That is why you, my brothers, who through the body of Christ are now dead to the Law, can now give yourselves to another husband, 5 to him who rose from the dead to make us productive for God. •Before our conversion<sup>a</sup> our sinful passions, quite unsubdued by the Law, fertilised our 6 bodies to make them give birth to death. •But now we are rid of the Law, freed by death from our imprisonment, free to serve in the new spiritual way and not the old way of a written law.

The function of the Law

7 Does it follow that the Law itself is sin? Of course not. What I mean is that I should not have known what sin was except for the Law. I should not for instance have known what it means to covet if the Law had not said You shall 8 not covet. •But it was this commandment that sin took advantage of to produce all kinds of covetousness in me, for when there is no Law, sin is dead.

9 Once, when there was no Law, I<sup>b</sup> was alive; but when the commandment 10 came, sin came to life •and I died: the commandment was meant to lead me to life but it turned out to mean death for me, •because sin took advantage of the commandment to mislead me, and so sin, through that commandment, killed me.

12 The Law is sacred, and what it commands is sacred, just and good. •Does 13 that mean that something good killed me? Of course not. But sin, to show itself in its true colours, used that good thing to kill me; and thus sin, thanks to the commandment, was able to exercise all its sinful power.

The inward struggle

14 The Law, of course, as we all know, is spiritual; but I am unspiritual; I have 15 been sold as a slave to sin. •I cannot understand my own behaviour. I fail to carry 16 out the things I want to do, and I find myself doing the very things I hate. •When

7 a. 'While we were in the flesh'. b. Rhetorical figure; Paul speaks in the person of mankind.

I act against my own will, that means I have a self that acknowledges that the Law is good, and so the thing behaving in that way is not my self but sin living in me. The fact is, I know of nothing good living in me—living, that is, in my unspiritual self—for though the will to do what is good is in me, the performance is not, with the result that instead of doing the good things I want to do, I carry out the sinful things I do not want. When I act against my will, then, it is not my true self doing it, but sin which lives in me.

In fact, this seems to be the rule, that every single time I want to do good it is something evil that comes to hand. In my inmost self I dearly love God's Law, but I can see that my body follows a different law that battles against the law which my reason dictates. This is what makes me a prisoner of that law of sin which lives inside my body.

What a wretched man I am! Who will rescue me from this body doomed to death? Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord!

In short, it is I who with my reason serve the Law of God, and no less I who serve in my unspiritual self the law of sin.

THE CHRISTIAN'S SPIRITUAL LIFE

The life of the spirit

The reason, therefore, why those who are in Christ Jesus are not condemned, is that the law of the spirit of life in Christ Jesus has set you free from the law of sin and death. God has done what the Law, because of our unspiritual nature, was unable to do. God dealt with sin by sending his own Son in a body as physical as any sinful body, and in that body God condemned sin. He did this in order that the Law's just demands might be satisfied in us, who behave not as our unspiritual nature but as the spirit dictates.

The unspiritual are interested only in what is unspiritual, but the spiritual are interested in spiritual things. It is death to limit oneself to what is unspiritual; life and peace can only come with concern for the spiritual. That is because to limit oneself to what is unspiritual is to be at enmity with God: such a limitation never could and never does submit to God's law. People who are interested only in unspiritual things can never be pleasing to God. Your interests, however, are not in the unspiritual, but in the spiritual, since the Spirit of God has made his home in you. In fact, unless you possessed the Spirit of Christ you would not belong to him. Though your body may be dead it is because of sin, but if Christ is in you then your spirit is life itself because you have been justified; and if the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead is living in you, then he who raised Jesus from the dead will give life to your own mortal bodies through his Spirit living in you.

So then, my brothers, there is no necessity for us to obey our unspiritual selves or to live unspiritual lives. If you do live in that way, you are doomed to die; but if by the Spirit you put an end to the misdeeds of the body you will live.

Children of God

Everyone moved by the Spirit is a son of God. The spirit you received is not the spirit of slaves bringing fear into your lives again; it is the spirit of sons, and it makes us cry out, 'Abba, Father!'<sup>b</sup> The Spirit himself and our spirit bear united witness that we are children of God. And if we are children we are heirs as well: heirs of God and coheirs with Christ, sharing his sufferings so as to share his glory.

Glory as our destiny

I think that what we suffer in this life can never be compared to the glory, as yet unrevealed, which is waiting for us. The whole creation is eagerly

20 waiting for God to reveal his sons. •It was not for any fault on the part of 21 creation that it was made unable to attain its purpose, it was made so by God; 22 but creation still retains the hope •of being freed, like us, from its slavery to 23 decadence, to enjoy the same freedom and glory as the children of God. •From 24 the beginning till now the entire creation, as we know, has been groaning in 25 one great act of giving birth; •and not only creation, but all of us who possess
 26 the first-fruits of the Spirit, we too groan inwardly as we wait for our bodies 27 to be set free. •For we must be content to hope that we shall be saved—our 28 salvation is not in sight, we should not have to be hoping for it if it were—•but,
 29 as I say, we must hope to be saved since we are not saved yet—it is something 30 we must wait for with patience.

26 The Spirit too comes to help us in our weakness. For when we cannot choose words in order to pray properly, the Spirit himself expresses our plea in a way 27 that could never be put into words, •and God who knows everything in our hearts knows perfectly well what he means, and that the pleas of the saints expressed by the Spirit are according to the mind of God.

God has called us to share his glory

28 We know that by turning everything to their good God co-operates with all those who love him, with all those that he has called according to his purpose.
 29 They are the ones he chose specially long ago and intended to become true 30 images of his Son, so that his Son might be the eldest of many brothers. •He called those he intended for this; those he called he justified, and with those he justified he shared his glory.

A hymn to God's love

31 After saying this, what can we add? With God on our side who can be against 32 us? •Since God did not spare his own Son, but gave him up to benefit us all, we may be certain, after such a gift, that he will not refuse anything he can give.

33 Could anyone accuse those that God has chosen? When God acquits, •could 34 anyone condemn? Could Christ Jesus? No! He not only died for us—he rose from the dead, and there at God's right hand he stands and pleads for us.

35 Nothing therefore can come between us and the love of Christ, even if we are troubled or worried, or being persecuted, or lacking food or clothes, or being 36 threatened or even attacked. •As scripture promised: For your sake we are being 37 massacred daily, and reckoned as sheep for the slaughter.<sup>c</sup> •These are the trials through which we triumph, by the power of him who loved us.

38 For I am certain of this: neither death nor life, no angel, no prince, nothing 39 that exists, nothing still to come, not any power, •or height or depth,<sup>d</sup> nor any created thing, can ever come between us and the love of God made visible in Christ Jesus our Lord.

THE PLACE OF ISRAEL

The privileges of Israel

1 9 What I want to say now is no pretence; I say it in union with Christ—it is the truth—my conscience in union with the Holy Spirit assures me of it too.
 2 What I want to say is this: my sorrow is so great, my mental anguish so endless,
 3 I would willingly be condemned<sup>a</sup> and be cut off from Christ if it could help my 4 brothers of Israel, my own flesh and blood. •They were adopted as sons, they were given the glory and the covenants; the Law and the ritual were drawn up

 and 'depths' are probably cosmic forces hostile to mankind.

for them, and the promises were made to them. •They are descended from the patriarchs and from their flesh and blood came Christ who is above all, God for ever blessed! Amen.

God has kept his promise

Does this mean that God has failed to keep his promise? Of course not. Not all those who descend from Israel are Israel; •not all the descendants of Abraham are his true children. Remember: It is through Isaac that your name will be carried on,<sup>b</sup> •which means that it is not physical descent that decides who are the children of God; it is only the children of the promise who will count as the true descendants. •The actual words in which the promise was made were: I shall visit you at such and such a time, and Sarah will have a son.<sup>c</sup> •Even more to the point is what was said to Rebecca when she was pregnant by our ancestor Isaac, but before her twin children were born and before either had done good or evil. In order to stress that God's choice is free, •since it depends on the one who calls, not on human merit, Rebecca was told: the elder shall serve the younger,<sup>d</sup> or as scripture says elsewhere: I showed my love for Jacob and my hatred for Esau.<sup>e</sup>

God is not unjust

Does it follow that God is unjust? Of course not. •Take what God said to Moses: I have mercy on whom I will, and I show pity to whom I please.<sup>f</sup> •In other words, the only thing that counts is not what human beings want or try to do, but the mercy of God. •For in scripture he says to Pharaoh: It was for this I raised you up, to use you as a means of showing my power and to make my name known throughout the world.<sup>g</sup> •In other words, when God wants to show mercy he does, and when he wants to harden someone's heart he does so.

You will ask me, 'In that case, how can God ever blame anyone, since no one can oppose his will?' •But what right have you, a human being, to cross-examine God? The pot has no right to say to the potter: Why did you make me this shape?<sup>h</sup> Surely a potter can do what he likes with the clay? It is surely for him to decide whether he will use a particular lump of clay to make a special pot or an ordinary one?

Or else imagine that although God is ready to show his anger and display his power, yet he patiently puts up with the people who make him angry, however much they deserve to be destroyed. •He puts up with them for the sake of those other people, to whom he wants to be merciful, to whom he wants to reveal the richness of his glory, people he had prepared for this glory long ago. Well, we are those people; whether we were Jews or pagans we are the ones he has called.

All has been foretold in the Old Testament

That is exactly what God says in Hosea: I shall say to a people that was not mine, 'You are my people', and to a nation I never loved, 'I love you'. •Instead of being told, 'You are no people of mine', they will now be called the sons of the living God.<sup>i</sup> •Referring to Israel Isaiah had this to say: Though Israel should have as many descendants as there are grains of sand on the seashore, only a remnant will be saved, •for without hesitation or delay the Lord will execute his sentence on the earth.<sup>j</sup> •As Isaiah foretold: Had the Lord of hosts not left us some descendants we should now be like Sodom, we should be like Gomorrah.<sup>k</sup>

From this it follows that the pagans who were not looking for righteousness found it all the same, a righteousness that comes of faith, •while Israel, looking for a righteousness derived from law failed to do what that law required. •Why did they fail? Because they relied on good deeds instead of trusting in faith. In other words, they stumbled over the stumbling-stone<sup>l</sup> •mentioned in scripture: See how I lay in Zion a stone to stumble over, a rock to trip men up—only those who believe in him will have no cause for shame.<sup>m</sup>

Israel fails to see that it is God who makes us holy

1 10 Brothers, I have the very warmest love for the Jews, and I pray to God for 2 them to be saved. •I can swear to their fervour for God, but their zeal is 3 misguided. •Failing to recognise the righteousness that comes from God, they 4 try to promote their own idea of it, instead of submitting to the righteousness of 5 God. •But now the Law has come to an end with Christ, and everyone who has 6 faith may be justified.

The testimony of Moses

7 When Moses refers to being justified by the Law, he writes: those who keep
 8 the Law will draw life from it.<sup>9</sup> •But the righteousness that comes from faith says 9 this: Do not tell yourself you have to bring Christ down—as in the text: Who 10 will go up to heaven?<sup>10</sup> •or that you have to bring Christ back from the dead—as 11 in the text: Who will go down to the underworld?<sup>11</sup> •On the positive side it says:
 12 The word, that is the faith we proclaim, is very near to you, it is on your lips and 13 in your heart. •If your lips confess that Jesus is Lord and if you believe in your 14 heart that God raised him from the dead, then you will be saved. •By believing 15 from the heart you are made righteous; by confessing with your lips you are 16 saved. •When scripture says: those who believe in him will have no cause for shame,<sup>12</sup> 17 it makes no distinction between Jew and Greek: all belong to the same Lord who 18 is rich enough, however many ask his help, for everyone who calls on the name
 19 of the Lord will be saved.<sup>13</sup>

Israel has no excuse

20 But they will not ask his help unless they believe in him, and they will not 21 believe in him unless they have heard of him, and they will not hear of him unless 22 they get a preacher, •and they will never have a preacher unless one is sent, but 23 as scripture says: The footsteps of those who bring good news is a welcome sound.<sup>14</sup> 24 Not everyone, of course, listens to the Good News. As Isaiah says: Lord, how many 25 believed what we proclaimed?<sup>15</sup> •So faith comes from what is preached, and what is 26 preached comes from the word of Christ.
 27 Let me put the question: is it possible that they did not hear? Indeed they 28 did; in the words of the psalm, their voice has gone out through all the earth, and 29 their message to the ends of the world.<sup>16</sup> •A second question: is it possible that Israel 30 did not understand? Moses answered this long ago: I will make you jealous of 31 people who are not even a nation; I will make you angry with an irreligious people.<sup>17</sup> 32 Isaiah said more clearly: I have been found by those who did not seek me, and have 33 revealed myself to those who did not consult me;<sup>18</sup> •and referring to Israel he goes 34 on: Each day I stretched out my hand to a disobedient and rebellious people.

The remnant of Israel

35 11 Let me put a further question then: is it possible that God has rejected his 36 people?<sup>19</sup> Of course not. I, an Israelite, descended from Abraham through 37 the tribe of Benjamin, •could never agree that God had rejected his people, the 38 people he chose specially long ago. Do you remember what scripture says of 39 Elijah—how he complained to God about Israel's behaviour? •Lord, they have 40 killed your prophets and broken down your altars. I, and I only, remain, and they 41 want to kill me.<sup>20</sup> •What did God say to that? I have kept for myself seven
 42 thousand men who have not bent the knee to Baal.<sup>21</sup> •Today the same thing
 43 has happened: there is a remnant, chosen by grace. •By grace, you notice, nothing 44 therefore to do with good deeds, or grace would not be grace at all!
 45 What follows? It was not Israel as a whole that found what it was seeking, but only the chosen few. The rest were not allowed to see the truth; •as scripture 8 says: God has given them a sluggish spirit, unseeing eyes and inattentive ears, and 9

they are still like that today.<sup>d</sup> •And David says: May their own table prove a trap 9 for them, a snare and a pitfall—let that be their punishment; •may their eyes be 10 struck incurably blind, their backs bend for ever.<sup>e</sup>

The Jews to be restored in the future

Let me put another question then: have the Jews fallen for ever, or have they 11 just stumbled? Obviously they have not fallen for ever: their fall, though, has 12 saved the pagans in a way the Jews may now well emulate. •Think of the extent 12 to which the world, the pagan world, has benefited from their fall and defection— 13 then think how much more it will benefit from the conversion of them all. •Let 13 me tell you pagans' this: I have been sent to the pagans as their apostle, and I am 14 proud of being sent, •but the purpose of it is to make my own people envious 14 of you, and in this way save some of them. •Since their rejection meant the 15 reconciliation of the world, do you know what their admission will mean? Nothing 15 less than a resurrection from the dead!

The Jews are still the chosen people

A whole batch of bread is made holy if the first handful of dough is made 16 holy; all the branches are holy if the root is holy. •No doubt some of the branches 17 have been cut off, and, like shoots of wild olive, you have been grafted among 18
the rest to share with them the rich sap provided by the olive tree itself, •but still, 18 even if you think yourself superior to the other branches, remember that you do 19 not support the root; it is the root that supports you. •You will say, 'Those 19 branches were cut off on purpose to let me be grafted in!' True, •they were cut off, 20 but through their unbelief; if you still hold firm, it is only thanks to your faith. 20 Rather than making you proud, that should make you afraid. •God did not 21 spare the natural branches, and he is not likely to spare you. •Do not forget 22 that God can be severe as well as kind: he is severe to those who fell, and he is 22 kind to you, but only for as long as he chooses to be, otherwise you will find 23 yourself cut off too, •and the Jews, if they give up their unbelief, grafted back in 23 your place. God is perfectly able to graft them back again; •after all, if you were 24 cut from your natural wild olive to be grafted unnaturally on to a cultivated olive, 24 it will be much easier for them, the natural branches, to be grafted back on the 25 tree they came from.

The conversion of the Jews

There is a hidden reason for all this, brothers, of which I do not want you 25 to be ignorant, in case you think you know more than you do. One section of 26 Israel has become blind, but this will last only until the whole pagan world has 26 entered, •and then after this the rest of Israel will be saved as well. As scripture 26 says: The liberator will come from Zion, he will banish godlessness from Jacob. 27
And this is the covenant I will make with them when I take their sins away.<sup>f</sup> 27

The Jews are enemies of God only with regard to the Good News, and 28 enemies only for your sake; but as the chosen people, they are still loved by God, 28 loved for the sake of their ancestors. •God never takes back his gifts or revokes 29 his choice.

Just as you changed from being disobedient to God, and now enjoy mercy 30 because of their disobedience, •so those who are disobedient now—and only 31 because of the mercy shown to you—will also enjoy mercy eventually. •God has 32 imprisoned all men in their own disobedience only to show mercy to all mankind.

A hymn to God's mercy and wisdom

How rich are the depths of God—how deep his wisdom and knowledge— 33 and how impossible to penetrate his motives or understand his methods!

<sup>34</sup> Who could ever know the mind of the Lord? Who could ever be his counsellor? • Who <sup>35</sup> *could ever give him anything or lend him anything?**<sup>a</sup> • All that exists comes from him;
<sup>36</sup> all is by him and for him. To him be glory for ever! Amen.

EXHORTATION

Spiritual worship

1 12 Think of God's mercy, my brothers, and worship him, I beg you, in a way
 2 that is worthy of thinking beings, by offering your living bodies as a holy 3 sacrifice, truly pleasing to God. • Do not model yourselves on the behaviour 4 of the world around you, but let your behaviour change, modelled by your new 5 mind. This is the only way to discover the will of God and know what is good,
 6 what it is that God wants, what is the perfect thing to do.

Humility and charity

1 In the light of the grace I have received I want to urge each one among you 2 not to exaggerate his real importance. Each of you must judge himself soberly by 3 the standard of the faith God has given him. • Just as each of our bodies has 4 several parts and each part has a separate function, • so all of us, in union with 5 Christ, form one body, and as parts of it we belong to each other. • Our gifts 6 differ according to the grace given us. If your gift is prophecy, then use it as your 7 faith suggests; • if administration, then use it for administration; if teaching, 8 then use it for teaching. • Let the preachers deliver sermons, the almsgivers give 9 freely, the officials be diligent, and those who do works of mercy do them 10 cheerfully.

11 Do not let your love be a pretence, but sincerely prefer good to evil. • Love
 12 each other as much as brothers should, and have a profound respect for each 13 other. • Work for the Lord with untiring effort and with great earnestness of 14 spirit. • If you have hope, this will make you cheerful. Do not give up if trials 15 come; and keep on praying. • If any of the saints are in need you must share with 16 them; and you should make hospitality your special care.

Charity to everyone, including enemies

17 Bless those who persecute you: never curse them, bless them. • Rejoice with 18 those who rejoice and be sad with those in sorrow. • Treat everyone with equal 19 kindness; never be condescending but make real friends with the poor. Do not 20 allow yourself to become self-satisfied. • Never repay evil with evil but let everyone 21 see that you are interested only in the highest ideals. • Do all you can to live at 22 peace with everyone. • Never try to get revenge; leave that, my friends, to God's 23 anger. As scripture says: vengeance is mine—I will pay them back,<sup>a</sup> the Lord 24 promises. • But there is more: If your enemy is hungry, you should give him food,
 25 and if he is thirsty, let him drink. Thus you heap red-hot coals on his head.<sup>b</sup> • Resist 26 evil and conquer it with good.

Submission to civil authority

1 13 You must all obey the governing authorities. Since all government comes 2 from God, the civil authorities were appointed by God, • and so anyone who 3 resists authority is rebelling against God's decision, and such an act is bound
 4 to be punished. • Good behaviour is not afraid of magistrates; only criminals
 5 have anything to fear. If you want to live without being afraid of authority, you 6 must live honestly and authority may even honour you. • The state is there to 7 serve God for your benefit. If you break the law, however, you may well have

11 d. Is 29:10 e. Ps 69:22f f. Converts from paganism. g. Is 27:9 h. Is 40:13
 12 a. Dt 32:35 b. Pr 25:21-22

fear: the bearing of the sword has its significance. The authorities are there to serve God: they carry out God's revenge by punishing wrongdoers. •You must obey, therefore, not only because you are afraid of being punished, but also for conscience' sake. •This is also the reason why you must pay taxes, since all government officials are God's officers. They serve God by collecting taxes. Pay every government official what he has a right to ask—whether it be direct tax or indirect, fear or honour.

Love and law

Avoid getting into debt, except the debt of mutual love. If you love your fellow men you have carried out your obligations. •All the commandments: You shall not commit adultery, you shall not kill, you shall not steal, you shall not covet,<sup>a</sup> and so on, are summed up in this single command: You must love your neighbour as yourself.<sup>b</sup> •Love is the one thing that cannot hurt your neighbour; that is why it is the answer to every one of the commandments.

Children of the light

Besides, you know 'the time' has come: you must wake up now: our salvation is even nearer than it was when we were converted. •The night is almost over, it will be daylight soon—let us give up all the things we prefer to do under cover of the dark; let us arm ourselves and appear in the light. •Let us live decently as people do in the daytime: no drunken orgies, no promiscuity or licentiousness, and no wrangling or jealousy. •Let your armour be the Lord Jesus Christ; forget about satisfying your bodies with all their cravings.

Charity towards the scrupulous

14 If a person's faith is not strong enough, welcome him all the same without starting an argument. •People range from those who believe they may eat any sort of meat to those whose faith is so weak they dare not eat anything except vegetables. •Meat-eaters must not despise the scrupulous. On the other hand, the scrupulous must not condemn those who feel free to eat anything they choose, since God has welcomed them. •It is not for you to condemn someone else's servant: whether he stands or falls it is his own master's business; he will stand, you may be sure, because the Lord has power to make him stand. •If one man keeps certain days as holier than others, and another considers all days to be equally holy, each must be left free to hold his own opinion. •The one who observes special days does so in honour of the Lord. The one who eats meat also does so in honour of the Lord, since he gives thanks to God; but then the man who abstains does that too in honour of the Lord, and so he also gives God thanks. The life and death of each of us has its influence on others; •if we live, we live for the Lord; and if we die, we die for the Lord, so that alive or dead we belong to the Lord. •This explains why Christ both died and came to life, it was so that he might be Lord both of the dead and of the living. •This is also why you should never pass judgement on a brother or treat him with contempt, as some of you have done. We shall all have to stand before the judgement seat of God; •as scripture says: By my life—it is the Lord who speaks—every knee shall bend before me, and every tongue shall praise God.<sup>a</sup> •It is to God, therefore, that each of us must give an account of himself.

Far from passing judgement on each other, therefore, you should make up your mind never to be the cause of your brother tripping or falling. •Now I am perfectly well aware, of course, and I speak for the Lord Jesus, that no food is unclean in itself; however, if someone thinks that a particular food is unclean, then it is unclean for him. •And indeed if your attitude to food is upsetting your brother, then you are hardly being guided by charity. You are certainly not free to eat what you like if that means the downfall of someone for whom Christ died.

In short, you must not compromise your privilege, •because the kingdom of God does not mean eating or drinking this or that, it means righteousness and 18 peace and joy brought by the Holy Spirit. •If you serve Christ in this way you 19 will please God and be respected by men. •So let us adopt any custom that leads 20 to peace and our mutual improvement; •do not wreck God's work over a 21 question of food. Of course all food is clean, but it becomes evil if by eating it you make somebody else fall away. •In such cases the best course is to abstain from meat and wine and anything else that would make your brother trip or fall or weaken in any way.

22 Hold on to your own belief, as between yourself and God—and consider the man fortunate who can make his decision without going against his conscience.
 23 But anybody who eats in a state of doubt is condemned, because he is not in good faith; and every act done in bad faith is a sin.

1 15 We who are strong have a duty to put up with the qualms of the weak
 2 without thinking of ourselves. •Each of us should think of his neighbours and 3 help them to become stronger Christians. •Christ did not think of himself: the words 4 of scripture—the insults of those who insult you fall on me<sup>a</sup>—apply to him. •And indeed everything that was written long ago in the scriptures was meant to teach us something about hope from the examples scripture gives of how people who 5 did not give up were helped by God. •And may he who helps us when we refuse to give up, help you all to be tolerant with each other, following the example 6 of Christ Jesus, •so that united in mind and voice you may give glory to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

An appeal for unity

7 It can only be to God's glory, then, for you to treat each other in the same 8 friendly way as Christ treated you. •The reason Christ became the servant of circumcised Jews was not only so that God could faithfully carry out the promises 9 made to the patriarchs, •it was also to get the pagans to give glory to God for his mercy, as scripture says in one place: For this I shall praise you among the 10 pagans and sing to your name.<sup>b</sup> •And in another place: Rejoice, pagans, with his 11 people,<sup>c</sup> •and in a third place: Let all the pagans praise the Lord, let all the peoples
 12 sing his praises.<sup>d</sup> •Isaiah too has this to say: The root of Jesse will appear, rising up to rule the pagans, and in him the pagans will put their hope.<sup>e</sup> 13 May the God of hope bring you such joy and peace in your faith that the power of the Holy Spirit will remove all bounds to hope.

EPILOGUE

Paul's ministry

14 It is not because I have any doubts about you, my brothers; on the contrary
 I am quite certain that you are full of good intentions, perfectly well instructed 15 and able to advise each other. •The reason why I have written to you, and put some things rather strongly, is to refresh your memories, since God has given me 16 this special position. •He has appointed me as a priest of Jesus Christ, and I am to carry out my priestly duty by bringing the Good News from God to the pagans, and so make them acceptable as an offering, made holy by the Holy Spirit.

17 I think I have some reason to be proud of what I, in union with Christ Jesus, 18 have been able to do for God. •What I am presuming to speak of, of course, is only what Christ himself has done to win the allegiance of the pagans, using 19 what I have said and done •by the power of signs and wonders, by the power of the Holy Spirit. Thus, all the way along, from Jerusalem to Illyricum,<sup>f</sup> I have preached Christ's Good News to the utmost of my capacity. •I have always, 20 however, made it an unbroken rule never to preach where Christ's name has already been heard. The reason for that was that I had no wish to build on other men's foundations; •on the contrary, my chief concern has been to fulfil the 21 text: Those who have never been told about him will see him, and those who have never heard about him w.'ll understand.<sup>9</sup>

Paul's plans

That is the reason why I have been kept from visiting you so long, •though 22 for many years I have been longing to pay you a visit. Now, however, having 23 no more work to do here, •I hope to see you on my way to Spain and, after 24 enjoying a little of your company, to complete the rest of the journey with your good wishes. •First, however, I must take a present of money to the saints in 25 Jerusalem, •since Macedonia and Achaia have decided to send a generous 26 contribution to the poor among the saints at Jerusalem. •A generous contribution 27 as it should be, since it is really repaying a debt: the pagans who share the spiritual possessions of these poor people have a duty to help them with temporal possessions. •So when I have done this and officially handed over what has been raised, 28
 I shall set out for Spain and visit you on the way. •I know that when I reach you 29
 I shall arrive with rich blessings from Christ.

But I beg you, brothers, by our Lord Jesus Christ and the love of the Spirit, 30 to help me through my dangers by praying to God for me. •Pray that I may 31 escape the unbelievers in Judaea, and that the aid I carry to Jerusalem may be accepted by the saints. •Then, if God wills, I shall be feeling very happy when 32
 I come to enjoy a period of rest among you. •May the God of peace be with you 33 all! Amen.

Greetings and good wishes

16 I commend to you our sister Phoebe,<sup>a</sup> a deaconess of the church at 1 Cenchraeae. •Give her, in union with the Lord, a welcome worthy of saints, 2 and help her with anything she needs: she has looked after a great many people, myself included.

My greetings to Prisca and Aquila, my fellow workers in Christ Jesus, •who 3 risked death to save my life:<sup>b</sup> I am not the only one to owe them a debt 4 of gratitude, all the churches among the pagans do as well. •My greetings also 5 to the church that meets at their house.

Greetings to my friend Epaenetus, the first of Asia's gifts to Christ; •greetings 6 to Mary who worked so hard for you; •to those outstanding apostles Andronicus 7 and Junias, my compatriots and fellow prisoners who became Christians before me; •to Ampliatus, my friend in the Lord; •to Urban, my fellow worker in 8 Christ; to my friend Stachys; •to Apelles who has gone through so much for 9 Christ; to everyone who belongs to the household of Aristobulus; •to my 10 compatriot Herodion; to those in the household of Narcissus who belong to the 11
 Lord; •to Tryphaena and Tryphosa, who work hard for the Lord; to my friend 12
 Persis who has done so much for the Lord; •to Rufus, a chosen servant of 13
 the Lord, and to his mother who has been a mother to me too. •Greetings to 14 Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermes, Patrobas, Hermas, and all the brothers who are with them; •to Philologus and Julia, Nereus and his sister, and Olympas and all 15 the saints who are with them. •Greet each other with a holy kiss. All the churches 16 of Christ send greetings.

A warning and first postscript

I implore you, brothers, be on your guard against anybody who encourages 17 trouble or puts difficulties in the way of the doctrine you have been taught. Avoid them. •People like that are not slaves of Jesus Christ, they are slaves of their 18 own appetites, confusing the simple-minded with their pious and persuasive arguments. •Your fidelity to Christ, anyway, is famous everywhere, and that 19 20 makes me very happy about you. I only hope that you are also wise in what is good, and innocent of what is bad. •The God of peace will soon crush Satan beneath your feet. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

Last greetings and second postscript

21 Timothy, who is working with me, sends his greetings; so do my compatriots, 22 Jason and Sosipater. •I, Tertius, who wrote out this letter, greet you in the Lord.
23 Greetings from Gaius, who is entertaining me and from the whole church that meets in his house. Erastus, the city treasurer, sends his greetings; so does our brother Quartus.

Doxology

25 Glory to him who is able to give you the strength to live according to the 26 Good News I preach, and in which I proclaim Jesus Christ, the revelation of a 27 mystery kept secret for endless ages, •but now so clear that it must be broadcast to pagans everywhere to bring them to the obedience of faith. This is only what scripture has predicted, and it is all part of the way the eternal God wants things to be. •He alone is wisdom; give glory therefore to him through Jesus Christ for ever and ever. Amen.

LETTERS FROM PRISON

After his three months' stay in Corinth Paul began the journey back to Palestine by way of Macedonia. There he took ship from Philippi and made his way by stages to Jerusalem, warned on the way that trouble awaited him on his arrival. Within days Paul was the centre of a riot in the Temple in Jerusalem, caused by the rumour that he had taken a Gentile into the area reserved for Jews, and he was then arrested by the Roman Guard on the suspicion that he was the leader of a recent revolt. An assassination plot against him led to his being taken by the Romans to the administrative centre at Caesarea on the coast of the Mediterranean, for he was a Roman citizen and any injury to him whilst he was under arrest would cause trouble for his Roman guards. He remained in protective custody at Caesarea for two years, until in desperation he exercised his Roman citizen's right of appeal to the Emperor in Rome. The Roman authorities sent him under escort to Rome, and although storm and shipwreck forced him to winter in Malta, he reached Rome in A.D. 61.

During his imprisonment in Rome Paul wrote the Letters to Philemon, the Colossians and the Ephesians, and probably the Letter to the Philippians as well. There are some doubts about the dating of the Letter to the Philippians, and some scholars assign it to the year A.D. 56 when Paul was staying at Ephesus. This group of letters is known as the captivity letters, because each of them contains passages indicating that it was written by Paul while he was in prison.

The Letter to Philemon is the shortest of Paul's letters, written to a friend at Colossae, from whom a slave, Onesimus, had escaped and fled to Rome. Onesimus had come into contact with Paul in Rome and had been converted to Christianity. The letter urges Philemon to take Onesimus back into his service, and to recognise that he was now a fellow Christian and a person who had served Paul well during his imprisonment.

The Letter to the Philippians, the Christian church in the town of Philippi in Macedonia, is a typically affectionate letter of Paul's, written to a group of people who had been particularly helpful to him, and of whom he was very fond. It is notable for the section in chapter 2 in which Paul quotes a Christian hymn in use in the church in Philippi. Paul uses the hymn to exhort the Philippians to show the pattern of Christ's humility in their lives, and the hymn shows that the beliefs about Jesus Christ had already reached a high stage of development.

The Letters to the Colossians and to the Ephesians both reflect Paul's concern for the Christians living in the hinterland behind Ephesus in Asia Minor, whose faith was threatened by a new philosophical and religious movement. This movement was to develop into Gnosticism, a patchwork of beliefs and practices taken from a wide range of religions and philosophies, in which one of the main features was the belief that salvation could be attained by being initiated into a system of secret knowledge. Adherents believed that Jesus Christ was only one of many forces which influenced the universe, and that the soul on its passage from death to God had to pass through many spheres of influence before it could reach its destination. The secret knowledge enabled the soul to pass the guardians of these intermediate spheres.

Both letters, in their opening chapters, quote from the oral teaching in which the early Christians expressed their beliefs about Jesus Christ, or from early hymns. They are highly sophisticated statements which place Jesus Christ firmly in the centre of the continual creative activity of God, and which relate his redemptive work to his involvement in the processes of creation. The phrase in the opening words of the Letter to the Ephesians which addresses this letter to the Christian church in Ephesus, is missing from some of the oldest manuscripts. It is possible that the letter was written for a number of Christian communities, and that Ephesus was only one of them, but the problems and situation with which the letter is concerned are similar to the ones discussed in the Letter to the Colossians. The two cities were situated in the same area of Roman Asia.

The Bible's History of the Times

ACTS 20:3b—28:31

He was leaving by ship for Syria<sup>1</sup> when a plot organised against him by the Jews made him decide to go back by way of Macedonia. He was accompanied by Sopater, son of Pyrrhus, who came from Beroea; Aristarchus and Secundus who came from Thessalonika; Gaius from Doberus, and Timothy, as well as Tychicus and Trophimus who were from Asia. They all went on to Troas where they waited for us. We ourselves left Philippi by ship after the days of Unleavened Bread and met them five days later at Troas, where we stopped for a week.

Troas: Paul raises a dead man to life

On the first day of the week<sup>2</sup> we met to break bread. Paul was due to leave the next day, and he preached a sermon that went on till the middle of the night. A number of lamps were lit in the upstairs room where we were assembled, and as Paul went on and on, a young man called Eutychus who was sitting on the window-sill grew drowsy and was overcome by sleep and fell to the ground three floors below. He was picked up dead. Paul went down and stooped to clasp the boy to him. 'There is no need to worry,' he said 'there is still life in him.' Then he went back upstairs where he broke bread and ate and carried on talking till he left at daybreak. They took the boy away alive, and were greatly encouraged.

From Troas to Miletus

We were now to go on ahead by sea, so we set sail for Assos, where we were to take Paul on board; this was what he had arranged, for he wanted to go by road. When he rejoined us at Assos we took him aboard and went on to Mitylene. The next day we sailed from there and arrived opposite Chios. The second day we touched at Samos and, after stopping at Trogyllium, made Miletus the next day. Paul had decided to pass wide of Ephesus so as to avoid spending time in Asia, since he was anxious to be in Jerusalem, if possible, for the day of Pentecost.

Farewell to the elders of Ephesus

From Miletus he sent for the elders of the church of Ephesus. When they arrived he addressed these words to them:

<sup>2</sup> The day was reckoned in the Jewish fashion; the Lord's day began on the evening of Saturday and it was then that this meeting was held.

'You know what my way of life has been ever since the first day I set foot among you in Asia, how I have served the Lord in all humility, with all the sorrows and trials that came to me through the plots of the Jews. I have not hesitated to do anything that would be helpful to you; I have preached to you, and instructed you both in public and in your homes, urging both Jews and Greeks to turn to God and to believe in our Lord Jesus.

'And now you see me a prisoner already in spirit; I am on my way to Jerusalem, but have no idea what will happen to me there, except that the Holy Spirit, in town after town, has made it clear enough that imprisonment and persecution await me. But life to me is not a thing to waste words on, provided that when I finish my race I have carried out the mission the Lord Jesus gave me—and that was to bear witness to the Good News of God's grace.

'I now feel sure that none of you among whom I have gone about proclaiming the kingdom will ever see my face again. And so here and now I swear that my conscience is clear as far as all of you are concerned, for I have without faltering put before you the whole of God's purpose.

'Be on your guard for yourselves and for all the flock of which the Holy Spirit has made you the overseers, to feed the Church of God which he bought with his own blood. I know quite well that when I have gone fierce wolves will invade you and will have no mercy on the flock. Even from your own ranks there will be men coming forward with a travesty of the truth on their lips to induce the disciples to follow them. So be on your guard, remembering how night and day for three years I never failed to keep you right, shedding tears over each one of you. And now I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace that has power to build you up and to give you your inheritance among all the sanctified.

'I have never asked anyone for money or clothes; you know for yourselves that the work I did earned enough to meet my needs and those of my companions. I did this to show you that this is how we must exert ourselves to support the weak, remembering the words of the Lord Jesus, who himself said, "There is more happiness in giving than in receiving".'

When he had finished speaking he knelt down with them all and prayed. By now they were all in tears; they put their arms round Paul's neck and kissed him; what saddened them most was his saying they would never see his face again. Then they escorted him to the ship.

The journey to Jerusalem

When we had at last torn ourselves away from them and put to sea, we set a straight course and arrived at Cos; the next day we reached Rhodes, and from there went on to Patara. Here we found a ship bound for Phoenicia, so we went on board and sailed in her. After sighting Cyprus and leaving it to port, we sailed to Syria and put in at Tyre, since the ship was to unload her cargo there. We sought out the disciples and stayed there a week. Speaking in the Spirit, they kept telling Paul not to go on to Jerusalem, but when our time was up we set off. Together with the women and children they all escorted us on our way till we were out of the town. When we reached the beach, we knelt down and prayed; then, after saying good-bye to each other, we went aboard and they returned home.

The end of our voyage from Tyre came when we landed at Ptolemais, where we greeted the brothers and stayed one day with them. The next day we left and came to Caesarea. Here we called on Philip the evangelist, one of the Seven, and stayed with him. He had four virgin daughters who were prophets. When we had been there several days a prophet called Agabus arrived from Judaea to see us. He took Paul's girdle, and tied up his own feet and hands, and said, 'This is what the Holy Spirit says, "The man this girdle belongs to will be bound like this by the Jews in Jerusalem, and handed over to the pagans"'. When we heard this, we and everybody there implored Paul not to go on to Jerusalem. To this he replied, 'What are you trying to do—weaken my resolution by your tears? For my part, I am ready not only to be tied up but even to die in Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.' And so, as he would not be persuaded, we gave up the attempt, saying, 'The Lord's will be done'.

Paul's arrival in Jerusalem

After this we packed and went on up to Jerusalem. Some of the disciples from Caesarea accompanied us and took us to the house of a Cypriot with whom we were to lodge; he was called Mnason and had been one of the earliest disciples.

On our arrival in Jerusalem the brothers gave us a very warm welcome. The next day Paul went with us to visit James, and all the elders were present. After greeting them he gave a detailed account of all that God had done among the pagans through his ministry. They gave glory to God when they heard this. 'But you see, brother,' they said 'how thousands of Jews have now become believers, all of them staunch upholders of the Law, and they have heard that you instruct all Jews living among the pagans to break away from Moses, authorising them not to circumcise their children or to follow the customary practices. What is to be done? Inevitably there will be a meeting of the whole body, since they are bound to hear that you have come. So do as we suggest. We have four men here who are under a vow; take these men along and be purified with them and pay all the expenses connected with the shaving of their heads.<sup>1</sup> This will let everyone know there is no truth in the reports they have heard about you and that you still regularly observe the Law. The pagans who have become believers, as we wrote when we told them our decisions, must abstain from things sacrificed to idols, from blood, from the meat of strangled animals and from fornication.'

So the next day Paul took the men along and was purified with them, and he visited the Temple to give notice of the time when the period of purification would be over and the offering would have to be presented on behalf of each of them.

Paul's arrest

The seven days were nearly over when some Jews from Asia caught sight

of him in the Temple and stirred up the crowd and seized him, shouting, 'Men of Israel, help! This is the man who preaches to everyone everywhere against our people, against the Law and against this place. Now he has profaned this Holy Place by bringing Greeks into the Temple.' They had, in fact, previously seen Trophimus the Ephesian in the city with him, and thought that Paul had brought him into the Temple.

This roused the whole city; people came running from all sides; they seized Paul and dragged him out of the Temple, and the gates were closed behind them. They would have killed him if a report had not reached the tribune of the cohort<sup>2</sup> that there was rioting all over Jerusalem. He immediately called out soldiers and centurions, and charged down on the crowd, who stopped beating Paul when they saw the tribune and the soldiers. When the tribune came up he arrested Paul, had him bound with two chains and enquired who he was and what he had done. People in the crowd called out different things, and since the noise made it impossible for him to get any positive information, the tribune ordered Paul to be taken into the fortress. When Paul reached the steps, the crowd became so violent that he had to be carried by the soldiers; and indeed the whole mob was after them, shouting, 'Kill him!'

Just as Paul was being taken into the fortress, he asked the tribune if he could have a word with him. The tribune said, 'You speak Greek, then? So you are not the Egyptian who started the recent revolt and led those four thousand cutthroats<sup>3</sup> out into the desert?' 'I?' said Paul 'I am a Jew and a citizen of the well-known city of Tarsus in Cilicia. Please give me permission to speak to the people.' The man gave his consent and Paul, standing at the top of the steps, gestured to the people with his hand. When all was quiet again he spoke to them in Hebrew.<sup>4</sup>

Paul's address to the Jews of Jerusalem

'My brothers, my fathers, listen to what I have to say to you in my defence.' When they realised he was speaking in Hebrew, the silence was even greater than before. 'I am a Jew,' Paul said 'and was born at Tarsus in Cilicia. I was brought up here in this city. I studied under Gamaliel and was taught the exact observance of the Law of our ancestors. In fact, I was as full of duty towards God as you are today. I even persecuted this Way to the death, and sent women as well as men to prison in chains as the high priest and the whole council of elders can testify, since they even sent me with letters to their brothers in Damascus. When I set off it was with the intention of bringing prisoners back from there to Jerusalem for punishment.

'I was on that journey and nearly at Damascus when about midday a bright light from heaven suddenly shone round me. I fell to the ground and heard a voice saying, "Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me?" I answered: Who are you, Lord? and he said to me, "I am Jesus the Nazarene, and you are persecuting me". The people with me saw the light but did not hear his voice as he spoke to me. I said: What am I to do, Lord? The Lord answered, "Stand up and go into Damascus, and there you will be told what you have been appointed to do". The light had been so dazzling that I was blind and my companions had to take me by the hand; and so I came to Damascus.

'Someone called Ananias, a devout follower of the Law and highly thought of by all the Jews living there, came to see me; he stood beside me and said, "Brother Saul, receive your sight". Instantly my sight came back and I was able to see him. Then he said, "The God of our ancestors has chosen you to know his will, to see the Just One and hear his own voice speaking, because you are to be his witness before all mankind, testifying to what you have seen and heard. And now why delay? It is time you were baptised and had your sins washed away while invoking his name."

'Once, after I had got back to Jerusalem, when I was praying in the Temple, I fell into a trance and then I saw him. "Hurry," he said "leave Jerusalem at once; they will not accept the testimony you are giving about me." Lord, I answered, it is because they know that I used to go from synagogue to synagogue, imprisoning and flogging those who believed in you; and that when the blood of your witness<sup>1</sup> Stephen was being shed, I was standing by in full agreement with his murderers, and minding their clothes. Then he said to me, "Go! I am sending you out to the pagans far away".'

Paul the Roman citizen

So far they had listened to him, but at these words they began to shout, 'Rid the earth of the man! He is not fit to live!' They were yelling, waving their cloaks and throwing dust into the air, and so the tribune had him brought into the fortress and ordered him to be examined under the lash, to find out the reason for the outcry against him. But when they had strapped him down Paul said to the centurion on duty, 'Is it legal for you to flog a man who is a Roman citizen and has not been brought to trial?' When he heard this the centurion went and told the tribune; 'Do you realise what you are doing?' he said. 'This man is a Roman citizen.' So the tribune came and asked him, 'Tell me, are you a Roman citizen?' 'I am' Paul said. The tribune replied, 'It cost me a large sum to acquire this citizenship'. 'But I was born to it' said Paul. Then those who were about to examine him hurriedly withdrew, and the tribune himself was alarmed when he realised that he had put a Roman citizen in chains.

His appearance before the Sanhedrin

The next day, since he wanted to know what precise charge the Jews were bringing, he freed Paul and gave orders for a meeting of the chief priests and the entire Sanhedrin; then he brought Paul down and stood him in front of them.

Paul looked steadily at the Sanhedrin and began to speak, 'My brothers, to this day I have conducted myself before God with a perfectly clear conscience'. At this the high priest Ananias ordered his attendants to strike him on the mouth. Then Paul said to him, 'God will surely strike you, you whitewashed wall! How can you sit there to judge me according to the Law, and then break the Law by ordering a man to strike me?' The attendants said, 'It is God's high priest you are insulting!' Paul answered, 'Brothers, I did not realise it was the high priest, for scripture says: You must not curse a ruler of your people.<sup>2</sup>

Now Paul was well aware that one section was made up of Sadducees and the other of Pharisees, so he called out in the Sanhedrin, 'Brothers, I am a Pharisee and the son of Pharisees. It is for our hope in the resurrection of the dead that I am on trial.' As soon as he said this a dispute broke out between the Pharisees and Sadducees, and the assembly was split between the two parties. For the Sadducees say there is neither resurrection, nor angel, nor spirit, while the Pharisees accept all three. The shouting grew louder, and some of the scribes from the Pharisees' party stood up and protested strongly, 'We find nothing wrong with this man. Suppose a spirit has spoken to him, or an angel?' Feeling was running high, and the tribune, afraid that they would tear Paul to pieces, ordered his troops to go down and haul him out and bring him into the fortress.

Next night, the Lord appeared to him and said, 'Courage! You have borne witness for me in Jerusalem, now you must do the same in Rome.'

The conspiracy of the Jews against Paul

When it was day, the Jews held a secret meeting at which they made a vow not to eat or drink until they had killed Paul. There were more than forty who took part in this conspiracy, and they went to the chief priests and elders, and told them, 'We have made a solemn vow to let nothing pass our lips until we have killed Paul. Now it is up to you and the Sanhedrin together to apply to the tribune to bring him down to you, as though you meant to examine his case more closely; we, on our side, are prepared to dispose of him before he reaches you.'

But the son of Paul's sister heard of the ambush they were laying and made his way into the fortress and told Paul, who called one of the centurions and said, 'Take this young man to the tribune; he has something to tell him'. So the man took him to the tribune, and reported, 'The prisoner Paul summoned me and requested me to bring this young man to you; he has something to tell you'. Then the tribune took him by the hand and drew him aside and asked, 'What is it you have to tell me?' He replied, 'The Jews have made a plan to ask you to take Paul down to the Sanhedrin tomorrow, as though they meant to inquire more closely into his case. Do not let them persuade you. There are more than forty of them lying in wait for him, and they have vowed not to eat or drink until they have got rid of him. They are ready now and only waiting for your order to be given.' The tribune let the young man go with this caution, 'Tell no one that you have given me this information'.

Paul transferred to Caesarea

Then he summoned two of the centurions and said, 'Get two hundred soldiers ready to leave for Caesarea by the third hour of the night with seventy cavalry and two hundred auxiliaries; provide horses for Paul, and deliver him unharmed to Felix the governor'.<sup>3</sup> He also wrote a letter in these terms: 'Claudius Lysias to his Excellency the governor Felix, greetings. This man had been seized by the Jews and would have been murdered by them but I came on the scene with my troops and got him away, having discovered that he was a Roman citizen. Wanting to find out what charge they were making against him, I brought him before their Sanhedrin. I found that the accusation concerned disputed points of their Law, but that there was no charge deserving death or imprisonment. My information is that there is a conspiracy against the man, so I hasten to send him to you, and have notified his accusers that they must state their case against him in your presence.'

The soldiers carried out their orders; they took Paul and escorted him by night to Antipatris. Next day they left the mounted escort to go on with him and returned to the fortress. On arriving at Caesarea the escort delivered the letter to the governor and handed Paul over to him. The governor read the letter and asked him what province he came from. Learning that he was from Cilicia he said, 'I will hear your case as soon as your accusers are here too'. Then he ordered him to be held in Herod's praetorium.

The case before Felix

Five days later the high priest Ananias came down with some of the elders and an advocate named Tertullus, and they laid information against Paul before the governor. Paul was called, and Tertullus opened for the prosecution, 'Your Excellency, Felix, the unbroken peace we enjoy and the reforms this nation owes to your foresight are matters we accept, always and everywhere, with all gratitude. I do not want to take up too much of your time, but I beg you to give us a brief hearing. The plain truth is that we find this man a perfect pest; he stirs up trouble among Jews the world over, and is a ringleader of the Nazarene sect. He has even attempted to profane the Temple. We placed him under arrest, intending to judge him according to our Law, but the tribune Lysias intervened and took him out of our hands by force, ordering his accusers to appear before you; if you ask him<sup>1</sup> you can find out for yourself the truth of all our accusations against this man.' The Jews supported him, asserting that these were the facts.

When the governor motioned him to speak, Paul answered:

Paul's speech before the Roman governor

'I know that you have administered justice over this nation for many years, and I can therefore speak with confidence in my defence. As you can verify for yourself, it is no more than twelve days since I went up to Jerusalem on pilgrimage, and it is not true that they ever found me arguing with anyone or stirring up the mob, either in the Temple, in the synagogues, or about the town; neither can they prove any of the accusations they are making against me now.

'What I do admit to you is this: it is according to the Way which they describe as a sect that I worship the God of my ancestors, retaining my belief in all points of the Law and in what is written in the prophets; and I hold the same hope in God as they do that there will be a resurrection of good men and bad men alike. In these things, I, as much as they, do my best to keep a clear conscience at all times before God and man.

'After several years I came to bring alms to my nation and to make offerings; it was in connection with these that they found me in the Temple; I had been purified, and there was no crowd involved, and no disturbance. But some Jews from Asia . . . —these are the ones who should have appeared before you and accused me of whatever they had against me. At least let those who are present say what crime they found me guilty of when I stood before the Sanhedrin, unless it were to do with this single outburst, when I stood up among them and called out: It is about the resurrection of the dead that I am on trial before you today.'

Paul's captivity at Caesarea

At this, Felix, who knew more about the Way than most people, adjourned the case, saying, 'When Lysias the tribune has come down I will go into your case'. He then gave orders to the centurion that Paul should be kept under arrest but free from restriction, and that none of his own people should be prevented from seeing to his needs.

Some days later Felix came with his wife Drusilla who was a Jewess.<sup>2</sup> He sent for Paul and gave him a hearing on the subject of faith in Christ Jesus. But when he began to treat of righteousness, self-control and the coming Judgement, Felix took fright and said, 'You may go for the present; I will send for you when I find it convenient'. At the same time he had hopes of receiving money from Paul, and for this reason he sent for him frequently and had talks with him.

When the two years<sup>3</sup> came to an end, Felix was succeeded by Porcius Festus and, being anxious to gain favour with the Jews, Felix left Paul in custody.

Paul appeals to Caesar

Three days after his arrival in the province, Festus went up to Jerusalem from Caesarea. The chief priests and leaders of the Jews informed him of the case against Paul, urgently asking him to support them rather than Paul, and to have him transferred to Jerusalem. They were, in fact, preparing an ambush to murder him on the way. But Festus replied that Paul would remain in custody in Caesarea, and that he would be going back there shortly himself. 'Let your authorities come down with me' he said 'and if there is anything wrong about the man, they can bring a charge against him.'

After staying with them for eight or ten days at the most, he went down to Caesarea and the next day he took his seat on the tribunal and had Paul brought in. As soon as Paul appeared, the Jews who had come down from Jerusalem surrounded him, making many serious accusations which they were unable to substantiate. Paul's defence was this, 'I have committed no offence whatever against either Jewish law, or the Temple, or Caesar'. Festus was anxious to gain favour with the Jews, so he said to Paul, 'Are you willing to go up to Jerusalem and be tried on these charges before me there?' But Paul replied, 'I am standing before the tribunal of Caesar and this is where I should be tried. I have done the Jews no wrong, as you very well know. If I am guilty of committing any capital crime, I do not ask to be spared the death penalty. But if there is no substance in the accusations these persons bring against me, no one has a right to surrender me to them. I appeal to Caesar.' Then Festus conferred with his advisers and replied, 'You have appealed to Caesar; to Caesar you shall go'.

Paul appears before King Agrippa

Some days later King Agrippa and Bernice<sup>1</sup> arrived in Caesarea and paid their respects to Festus. Their visit lasted several days, and Festus put Paul's case before the king. 'There is a man here' he said 'whom Felix left behind in custody, and while I was in Jerusalem the chief priests and elders of the Jews laid information against him, demanding his condemnation. But I told them that Romans are not in the habit of surrendering any man, until the accused confronts his accusers and is given an opportunity to defend himself against the charge. So they came here with me, and I wasted no time but took my seat on the tribunal the very next day and had the man brought in. When confronted with him, his accusers did not charge him with any of the crimes I had expected; but they had some argument or other with him about their own religion and about a dead man called Jesus whom Paul alleged to be alive. Not feeling qualified to deal with questions of this sort, I asked him if he would be willing to go to Jerusalem to be tried there on this issue. But Paul put in an appeal for his case to be reserved for the judgement of the august emperor, so I ordered him to be remanded until I could send him to Caesar.' Agrippa said to Festus, 'I should like to hear the man myself'. 'Tomorrow' he answered 'you shall hear him.'

So the next day Agrippa and Bernice arrived in great state and entered the audience chamber attended by the tribunes and the city notables; and Festus ordered Paul to be brought in. Then Festus said, 'King Agrippa, and all here present with us, you see before you the man about whom the whole Jewish community has petitioned me, both in Jerusalem and here, loudly protesting that he ought not to be allowed to remain alive. For my own part I am satisfied that he has committed no capital crime, but when he himself appealed to the august emperor I decided to send him. But I have nothing definite that I can write to his Imperial Majesty about him; that is why I have produced him before you all, and before you in particular, King Agrippa, so that after the examination I may have something to write. It seems to me pointless to send a prisoner without indicating the charges against him.'

Then Agrippa said to Paul, 'You have leave to speak on your own behalf'. And Paul held up his hand and began his defence:

Paul's speech before King Agrippa

'I consider myself fortunate, King Agrippa, in that it is before you I am to answer today all the charges made against me by the Jews, the more so because you are an expert in matters of custom and controversy among the Jews. So I beg you to listen to me patiently.

'My manner of life from my youth, a life spent from the beginning among my own people and in Jerusalem, is common knowledge among the Jews. They have known me for a long time and could testify, if they would, that I followed the strictest party in our religion and lived as a Pharisee. And now it is for my hope in the promise made by God to our ancestors that I am on trial, the promise that our twelve tribes, constant in worship night and day, hope to attain. For that hope, Sire, I am actually put on trial by Jews! Why does it seem incredible to you that God should raise the dead?

'As for me, I once thought it was my duty to use every means to oppose the name of Jesus the Nazarene. This I did in Jerusalem; I myself threw many of the saints into prison, acting on authority from the chief priests, and when they were sentenced to death I cast my vote against them. I often went round the synagogues inflicting penalties, trying in this way to force them to renounce their faith; my fury against them was so extreme that I even pursued them into foreign cities.

'On one such expedition I was going to Damascus, armed with full powers and a commission from the chief priests, and at midday as I was on my way, your Majesty, I saw a light brighter than the sun come down from heaven. It shone brilliantly round me and my fellow travellers. We all fell to the ground, and I heard a voice saying to me in Hebrew, "Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me? It is hard for you, kicking like this against the goad."<sup>2</sup> Then I said: Who are you, Lord? And the Lord answered, "I am Jesus, and you are persecuting me. But get up and stand on your feet, for I have appeared to you for this reason: to appoint you as my servant and as witness of this vision in which you have seen me, and of others in which I shall appear to you. I shall deliver you from the people and from the pagans, to whom I am sending you to open their eyes, so that they may turn from darkness to light,<sup>3</sup> from the dominion of Satan to God, and receive, through faith in me, forgiveness of their sins and a share in the inheritance of the sanctified."

'After that, King Agrippa, I could not disobey the heavenly vision. On the contrary I started preaching, first to the people of Damascus, then to those of Jerusalem and all the countryside of Judaea, and also to the pagans, urging them to repent and turn to God, proving their change of heart by their deeds. This was why the Jews laid hands on me in the Temple and tried to do away with me. But I was blessed with God's help, and so I have stood firm to this day, testifying to great and small alike, saying nothing more than what the prophets and Moses himself said would happen: that the Christ was to suffer and that, as the first to rise from the dead, he was to proclaim that light now shone for our people and for the pagans too.'

His hearers' reactions

He had reached this point in his defence when Festus shouted out, 'Paul, you are out of your mind; all that learning of yours is driving you mad'. 'Festus, your Excellency,' answered Paul 'I am not mad: I am speaking nothing but the sober truth. The king understands these matters, and to him

I now speak with assurance, confident that nothing of all this is lost on him; after all, these things were not done in a corner. King Agrippa, do you believe in the prophets? I know you do.' At this Agrippa said to Paul, 'A little more, and your arguments would make a Christian of me'. 'Little or more,' Paul replied 'I wish before God that not only you but all who have heard me today would come to be as I am—except for these chains.'

At this the king rose to his feet, with the governor and Bernice and those who sat there with them. When they had retired they talked together and agreed, 'This man is doing nothing that deserves death or imprisonment'. And Agrippa remarked to Festus, 'The man could have been set free if he had not appealed to Caesar'.

The departure for Rome

When it had been decided that we should sail for Italy, Paul and some other prisoners were handed over to a centurion called Julius, of the Augustan cohort. We boarded a vessel from Adramyttium bound for ports on the Asiatic coast, and put to sea; we had Aristarchus with us, a Macedonian of Thessalonika. Next day we put in at Sidon, and Julius was considerate enough to allow Paul to go to his friends to be looked after.

From there we put to sea again, but as the winds were against us we sailed under the lee of Cyprus, then across the open sea off Cilicia and Pamphylia, taking a fortnight to reach Myra in Lycia. There the centurion found an Alexandrian ship leaving for Italy and put us aboard.

For some days we made little headway, and we had difficulty in making Cnidus. The wind would not allow us to touch there, so we sailed under the lee of Crete off Cape Salmone and struggled along the coast until we came to a place called Fair Havens, near the town of Lasea.

Storm and shipwreck

A great deal of time had been lost, and navigation was already hazardous since it was now well after the time of the Fast,<sup>1</sup> so Paul gave them this warning, 'Friends, I can see this voyage will be dangerous and that we run the risk of losing not only the cargo and the ship but also our lives as well'. But the centurion took more notice of the captain and the ship's owner than of what Paul was saying; and since the harbour was unsuitable for wintering, the majority were for putting out from there in the hope of wintering at Phoenix—a harbour in Crete, facing south-west and north-west.

A southerly breeze sprang up and, thinking their objective as good as reached, they weighed anchor and began to sail past Crete, close inshore. But it was not long before a hurricane, the 'north-easter' as they call it, burst on them from across the island. The ship was caught and could not be turned head-on to the wind, so we had to give way to it and let ourselves be driven. We ran under the lee of a small island called Cauda and managed with some difficulty to bring the ship's boat under control. They hoisted it aboard and with the help of tackle bound cables round the ship; then, afraid of running aground on the Syrtis banks, they floated out the sea-anchor and so let themselves drift. As we were making very heavy weather of it, the next day they began to jettison the cargo, and the third day they threw the ship's gear overboard with their own hands. For a number of days both the sun and the stars were invisible and the storm raged unabated until at last we gave up all hope of surviving.

Then, when they had been without food for a long time, Paul stood up among the men. 'Friends,' he said 'if you had listened to me and not put out from Crete, you would have spared yourselves all this damage and loss. But now I ask you not to give way to despair. There will be no loss of life at all, only of the ship. Last night there was standing beside me an angel of the God to whom I belong and whom I serve, and he said, "Do not be afraid, Paul. You are destined to appear before Caesar, and for this reason God grants you the safety of all who are sailing with you." So take courage, friends; I trust in God that things will turn out just as I was told; but we are to be stranded on some island.'

On the fourteenth night we were being driven one way and another in the Adriatic,<sup>2</sup> when about midnight the crew sensed that land of some sort was near. They took soundings and found twenty fathoms; after a short interval they sounded again and found fifteen fathoms. Then, afraid that we might run aground somewhere on a reef, they dropped four anchors from the stern and prayed for daylight. When some of the crew tried to escape from the ship and lowered the ship's boat into the sea as though to lay out anchors from the bows, Paul said to the centurion and his men, 'Unless those men stay on board you cannot hope to be saved'. So the soldiers cut the boat's ropes and let it drop away.

Just before daybreak Paul urged them all to have something to eat. 'For fourteen days' he said 'you have been in suspense, going hungry and eating nothing. Let me persuade you to have something to eat; your safety is not in doubt. Not a hair of your heads will be lost.' With these words he took some bread, gave thanks to God in front of them all, broke it and began to eat. Then they all plucked up courage and took something to eat themselves. We were in all two hundred and seventy-six souls on board that ship. When they had eaten what they wanted they lightened the ship by throwing the corn overboard into the sea.

When day came they did not recognise the land, but they could make out a kind of bay with a beach; they planned to run the ship aground on this if they could. They slipped the anchors and left them to the sea, and at the same time loosened the lashings of the rudders; then, hoisting the foresail to the wind, they headed for the beach. But the cross-currents carried them into a shoal and the vessel ran aground. The bows were wedged in and stuck fast, while the stern began to break up with the pounding of the waves.

The soldiers planned to kill the prisoners for fear that any should swim off and escape. But the centurion was determined to bring Paul safely through, and would not let them do what they intended. He gave orders that those who could swim should jump overboard first and so get ashore, and the rest follow either on planks or on pieces of wreckage. In this way all came safe and sound to land.

Waiting in Malta

Once we had come safely through, we discovered that the island was called Malta. The inhabitants treated us with unusual kindness. They made us all welcome, and they lit a huge fire because it had started to rain and the weather was cold. Paul had collected a bundle of sticks and was putting them on the fire when a viper brought out by the heat attached itself to his hand. When the natives saw the creature hanging from his hand they said to one another, 'That man must be a murderer; he may have escaped the sea, but divine vengeance would not let him live'. However, he shook the creature off into the fire and came to no harm, although they were expecting him at any moment to swell up or drop dead on the spot. After they had waited a long time without seeing anything out of the ordinary happen to him, they changed their minds and began to say he was a god.

In that neighbourhood there were estates belonging to the prefect of the island, whose name was Publius. He received us and entertained us hospitably for three days. It so happened that Publius' father was in bed, suffering from feverish attacks and dysentery. Paul went in to see him, and after a prayer he laid his hands on the man and healed him. When this happened, the other sick people on the island came as well and were cured; they honoured us with many marks of respect, and when we sailed they put on board the provisions we needed.

From Malta to Rome

At the end of three months we set sail in a ship that had wintered in the island; she came from Alexandria and her figurehead was the Twins. We put in at Syracuse and spent three days there; from there we followed the coast up to Rhegium. After one day there a south wind sprang up and on the second day we made Puteoli,<sup>1</sup> where we found some brothers and were much rewarded by staying a week with them. And so we came to Rome.

When the brothers there heard of our arrival they came to meet us, as far as the Forum of Appius and the Three Taverns. When Paul saw them he thanked God and took courage. On our arrival in Rome Paul was allowed to stay in lodgings of his own with the soldier who guarded him.

Paul makes contact with the Roman Jews

After three days he called together the leading Jews. When they had assembled, he said to them, 'Brothers, although I have done nothing against our people or the customs of our ancestors, I was arrested in Jerusalem and handed over to the Romans. They examined me and would have set me free, since they found me guilty of nothing involving the death penalty; but the Jews lodged an objection, and I was forced to appeal to Caesar, not that I had any accusation to make against my own nation. That is why I have asked to see you and talk to you, for it is on account of the hope of Israel that I wear this chain.'

They answered, 'We have received no letters from Judaea about you, nor has any countryman of yours arrived here with any report or story of anything to your discredit. We think it would be as well to hear your own account of your position; all we know about this sect is that opinion everywhere condemns it.'

Paul's declaration to the Roman Jews

So they arranged a day with him and a large number of them visited him at his lodgings. He put his case to them, testifying to the kingdom of God and trying to persuade them about Jesus, arguing from the Law of Moses and the prophets. This went on from early morning until evening, and some were convinced by what he said, while the rest were sceptical. So they disagreed among themselves and, as they went away, Paul had one last thing to say to them, 'How aptly the Holy Spirit spoke when he told your ancestors through the prophet Isaiah:

*Go to this nation and say:
You will hear and hear again but not understand,
see and see again, but not perceive.
For the heart of this nation has grown coarse,
their ears are dull of hearing and they have shut their eyes,
for fear they should see with their eyes,
hear with their ears,
understand with their heart,
and be converted
and be healed by me.<sup>2</sup>*

'Understand, then, that this salvation of God has been sent to the pagans; they will listen to it.'

Epilogue

Paul spent the whole of the two years<sup>3</sup> in his own rented lodging. He welcomed all who came to visit him, proclaiming the kingdom of God and teaching the truth about the Lord Jesus Christ with complete freedom and without hindrance from anyone.

THE LETTER FROM PAUL TO PHILEMON

Address

From Paul, a prisoner of Christ Jesus and from our brother Timothy; to our 1
dear fellow worker Philemon, •our sister Apphia, our fellow soldier Archippus 2 and the church that meets in your house; •wishing you the grace and the peace 3 of God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Thanksgiving and prayer

I always mention you in my prayers and thank God for you, •because I hear 4 of the love and the faith which you have for the Lord Jesus and for all the saints. 5
I pray that this faith will give rise to a sense of fellowship that will show you all 6 the good things that we are able to do for Christ. •I am so delighted, and com- 7 forted, to know of your love; they tell me, brother, how you have put new heart into the saints.

The request about Onesimus

Now, although in Christ I can have no diffidence about telling you to do 8 whatever is your duty, •I am appealing to your love instead, reminding you that 9 this is Paul writing, an old man now and, what is more, still a prisoner of Christ 10
Jesus. •I am appealing to you for a child of mine, whose father I became while 11 wearing these chains: I mean Onesimus. •He was of no use to you before, but he 12 will be useful to you now, as he has been to me. •I am sending him back to you, 13 and with him—I could say—a part of my own self. •I should have liked to keep 14 him with me; he could have been a substitute for you, to help me while I am in the 15 chains that the Good News has brought me. •However, I did not want to do 16 anything without your consent; it would have been forcing your act of kindness, 17 which should be spontaneous. •I know you have been deprived of Onesimus for 18 a time, but it was only so that you could have him back for ever, •not as a slave 19 any more, but something much better than a slave, a dear brother; especially 20
dear to me, but how much more to you, as a blood-brother as well as a brother 21 in the Lord. •So if all that we have in common means anything to you, welcome him as you would me; •but if he has wronged you in any way or owes you anything, then let me pay for it. •I am writing this in my own handwriting:
I, Paul, shall pay it back—I will not add any mention of your own debt to me, which is yourself. •Well then, brother, I am counting on you, in the Lord; put new heart into me, in Christ. •I am writing with complete confidence in your compliance, sure that you will do even more than I ask.

A personal request. Good wishes

There is another thing: will you get a place ready for me to stay in? I am hoping 22 through your prayers to be restored to you.

Epaphras, a prisoner with me in Christ Jesus, sends his greetings; •so do my 23 colleagues Mark, Aristarchus, Demas and Luke. 24

May the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. 25

THE LETTER OF PAUL TO THE CHURCH AT PHILIPPI

Address

1 I From Paul and Timothy, servants of Christ Jesus, to all the saints in Christ
2 Jesus, together with their presiding elders and deacons. •We wish you the grace and peace of God our Father and of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Thanksgiving and prayer

3 I thank my God whenever I think of you; and •every time I pray for all of you, I
4 pray with joy, •remembering how you have helped to spread the Good News
5 from the day you first heard it right up to the present. •I am quite certain that 6 the One who began this good work in you will see that it is finished when the Day
7 of Christ Jesus comes. •It is only natural that I should feel like this towards 8 you all, since you have shared the privileges which have been mine: both my 9 chains and my work defending and establishing the gospel. You have a permanent 10 place in my heart, •and God knows how much I miss you all, loving you as Christ 11 Jesus loves you. •My prayer is that your love for each other may increase more and more and never stop improving your knowledge and deepening your 12 perception •so that you can always recognise what is best. This will help you to 13 become pure and blameless, and prepare you for the Day of Christ, •when you will reach the perfect goodness which Jesus Christ produces in us for the glory and praise of God.

Paul's own circumstances

12 I am glad to tell you, brothers, that the things that happened to me have actually been a help to the Good News.
13 My chains, in Christ, have become famous not only all over the Praetorium but 14 everywhere, •and most of the brothers have taken courage in the Lord from these chains of mine and are getting more and more daring in announcing the Message 15 without any fear. •It is true that some of them are doing it just out of rivalry 16 and competition, but the rest preach Christ with the right intention, •out of nothing but love, as they know that this is my invariable way of defending the 17 gospel. •The others, who proclaim Christ for jealous or selfish motives, do not 18 mind if they make my chains heavier to bear. •But does it matter? Whether from dishonest motives or in sincerity, Christ is proclaimed; and that makes me 19 happy; •and I shall continue being happy, because I know this will help to save me, thanks to your prayers and to the help which will be given to me by the 20 Spirit of Jesus. •My one hope and trust is that I shall never have to admit defeat, but that now as always I shall have the courage for Christ to be glorified in my 21 body, whether by my life or by my death. •Life to me, of course, is Christ, but 22 then death would bring me something more; •but then again, if living in this body means doing work which is having good results—I do not know what 23 I should choose. •I am caught in this dilemma: I want to be gone and be with 24 Christ, which would be very much the better, •but for me to stay alive in this 25 body is a more urgent need for your sake. •This weighs with me so much that I feel sure I shall survive and stay with you all, and help you to progress in the faith 26 and even increase your joy in it; •and so you will have another reason to give praise to Christ Jesus on my account when I am with you again.

a. A pun—'Onesimus' means 'useful'.

1 a. Jb 13:16 (LXX)

Fight for the faith

Avoid anything in your everyday lives that would be unworthy of the gospel of Christ, so that, whether I come to you and see for myself, or stay at a distance and only hear about you, I shall know that you are unanimous in meeting the attack with firm resistance, united by your love for the faith of the gospel and quite unshaken by your enemies. This would be the sure sign that they will lose and you will be saved. It would be a sign from God that he has given you the privilege not only of believing in Christ, but of suffering for him as well. You and I are together in the same fight as you saw me fighting before and, as you will have heard, I am fighting still.

Preserve unity in humility

If our life in Christ means anything to you, if love can persuade at all, or the Spirit that we have in common, or any tenderness and sympathy, then be united in your convictions and unite in your love, with a common purpose and a common mind. That is the one thing which would make me completely happy. There must be no competition among you, no conceit; but everybody is to be self-effacing. Always consider the other person to be better than yourself, so that nobody thinks of his own interests first but everybody thinks of other people's interests instead. In your minds you must be the same as Christ Jesus:

His state was divine,
 yet he did not cling
 to his equality with God
 but emptied himself
 to assume the condition of a slave,
 and became as men are;
 and being as all men are,
 he was humbler yet,
 even to accepting death,
 death on a cross.
 But God raised him high
 and gave him the name
 which is above all other names
 so that all beings
 in the heavens, on earth and in the underworld,
should bend the knee at the name of Jesus
 and that every tongue should acclaim
 Jesus Christ as Lord,
 to the glory of God the Father.

Work for salvation

So then, my dear friends, continue to do as I tell you, as you always have; not only as you did when I was there with you, but even more now that I am no longer there; and work for your salvation 'in fear and trembling'. It is God, for his own loving purpose, who puts both the will and the action into you. Do all that has to be done without complaining or arguing and then you will be innocent and genuine, perfect children of God among a deceitful and underhand brood, and you will shine in the world like bright stars because you are offering it the word of life. This would give me something to be proud of for the Day of Christ, and would mean that I had not run in the race and exhausted myself for nothing. And then, if my blood has to be shed as part of your own sacrifice and offering—which is your faith—I shall still be happy and rejoice with all of you, and you must be just as happy and rejoice with me.

The mission of Timothy and Epaphroditus

I hope, in the Lord Jesus, to send Timothy to you soon, and I shall be 20 reassured by having news of you. •I have nobody else like him here; as whole-21 heartedly concerned for your welfare: •all the rest seem more interested in 22 themselves than in Jesus Christ. •But you know how he has proved himself by working with me on behalf of the Good News like a son helping his father.

 23 That is why he is the one that I am hoping to send you, as soon as 24 I know something definite about my fate. •But I continue to trust, in the Lord, that I shall be coming soon myself.

25 It is essential, I think, to send brother Epaphroditus back to you. He was sent as your representative to help me when I needed someone to be my companion 26 in working and battling, •but he misses you all and is worried because you heard 27 about his illness. •It is true that he has been ill, and almost died, but God took pity on him, and on me as well as him, and spared me what would have been one 28 grief on top of another. •So I shall send him back as promptly as I can; you will 29 be happy to see him again, and that will make me less sorry. •Give him a most 30 hearty welcome, in the Lord; people like him are to be honoured. •It was for Christ's work that he came so near to dying, and he risked his life to give me the help that you were not able to give me yourselves.

1 3 Finally, my brothers, rejoice in the Lord.<sup>a</sup>

The true way of Christian salvation

It is no trouble to me to repeat what I have already written to you, and as far 2 as you are concerned, it will make for safety. •Beware of dogs! Watch out for 3 the people who are making mischief. Watch out for the cutters.<sup>b</sup> •We are the real people of the circumcision, we who worship in accordance with the Spirit of God; we have our own glory from Christ Jesus without having to rely on a 4 physical operation. •If it came to relying on physical evidence, I should be fully qualified myself. Take any man who thinks he can rely on what is physical: I am 5 even better qualified. •I was born of the race of Israel and of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew born of Hebrew parents, and I was circumcised when I was eight days 6 old. As for the Law, I was a Pharisee; •as for working for religion, I was a persecutor of the Church; as far as the Law can make you perfect, I was faultless.
 7 But because of Christ, I have come to consider all these advantages that I had 8 as disadvantages. •Not only that, but I believe nothing can happen that will outweigh the supreme advantage of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For him I have accepted the loss of everything, and I look on everything as so much rubbish 9 if only I can have Christ •and be given a place in him. I am no longer trying for perfection by my own efforts, the perfection that comes from the Law, but I want only the perfection that comes through faith in Christ, and is from God and 10 based on faith. •All I want is to know Christ and the power of his resurrection 11 and to share his sufferings by reproducing the pattern of his death. •That is the 12 way I can hope to take my place in the resurrection of the dead. •Not that I have become perfect yet: I have not yet won, but I am still running, trying to capture 13 the prize for which Christ Jesus captured me. •I can assure you my brothers, I am far from thinking that I have already won. All I can say is that I forget the 14 past and I strain ahead for what is still to come; •I am racing for the finish, for 15 the prize to which God calls us upwards to receive in Christ Jesus. •We who are called 'perfect' must all think in this way. If there is some point on which you 16 see things differently, God will make it clear to you; •meanwhile, let us go forward on the road that has brought us to where we are.

17 My brothers, be united in following my rule of life. Take as your models everybody who is already doing this and study them as you used to study us.
 18 I have told you often, and I repeat it today with tears, there are many who are

2 a. Vv. 6-11 are a hymn, though whether composed or only quoted by Paul is uncertain.
 b. Is 45:23 c. Dt 32:5 d. Libations were common to Greek and Jewish sacrifices.

3 a. Paul's conclusion is interrupted by a long postscript. b. A contemptuous reference to the circumcisers comparing circumcision with self-inflicted gashes in pagan cults.

behaving as the enemies of the cross of Christ. •They are destined to be lost. 19
 They make foods into their god and they are proudest of something they ought to think shameful; the things they think important are earthly things. •For us, 20 our homeland is in heaven, and from heaven comes the saviour we are waiting for, the Lord Jesus Christ, •and he will transfigure these wretched bodies of ours 21 into copies of his glorious body. He will do that by the same power with which he can subdue the whole universe.

4 So then, my brothers and dear friends, do not give way but remain faithful 1 in the Lord. I miss you very much, dear friends; you are my joy and my crown.

Last advice

I appeal to Evodia and I appeal to Syntyche to come to agreement with each 2 other, in the Lord; •and I ask you, Syzygus,<sup>a</sup> to be truly a 'companion' and to 3 help them in this. These women were a help to me when I was fighting to defend the Good News—and so, at the same time, were Clement and the others who worked with me. Their names are written in the book of life.

I want you to be happy, always happy in the Lord; I repeat, what I want is 4 your happiness. •Let your tolerance be evident to everyone: the Lord is very 5 near. •There is no need to worry; but if there is anything you need, pray for it, 6 asking God for it with prayer and thanksgiving, •and that peace of God, which 7 is so much greater than we can understand, will guard your hearts and your thoughts, in Christ Jesus. •Finally, brothers, fill your minds with everything that 8 is true, everything that is noble, everything that is good and pure, everything that we love and honour, and everything that can be thought virtuous or worthy of praise. •Keep doing all the things that you learnt from me and have been 9 taught by me and have heard or seen that I do. Then the God of peace will be with you.

Thanks for help received

It is a great joy to me, in the Lord, that at last you have shown some concern 10 for me again; though of course you were concerned before, and only lacked an opportunity. •I am not talking about shortage of money: I have learnt to manage 11 on whatever I have, •I know how to be poor and I know how to be rich too. 12
 I have been through my initiation and now I am ready for anything anywhere:
 full stomach or empty stomach, poverty or plenty. •There is nothing I cannot 13 master with the help of the One who gives me strength. •All the same, it was 14 good of you to share with me in my hardships. •In the early days of the 15 Good News, as you people of Philippi well know, when I left Macedonia, no other church helped me with gifts of money. You were the only ones; •and twice 16 since my stay in Thessalonika you have sent me what I needed. •It is not your 17 gift that I value; what is valuable to me is the interest that is mounting up in your account. •Now for the time being I have everything that I need and more: 18
 I am fully provided now that I have received from Epaphroditus the offering that you sent, a sweet fragrance—the sacrifice that God accepts and finds 19 pleasing. •In return my God will fulfil all your needs, in Christ Jesus, as lavishly as only God can. •Glory to God, our Father, for ever and ever. Amen. 20

Greetings and final wish

My greetings to every one of the saints in Christ Jesus. The brothers who are 21 with me send their greetings. •All the saints send their greetings, especially those 22 of the imperial household.<sup>b</sup> •May the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with 23 your spirit.

THE LETTER OF PAUL TO THE CHURCH AT COLOSSAE

PREFACE

Address

1 1 From Paul, appointed by God to be an apostle of Christ Jesus, and from our 2 brother Timothy •to the saints in Colossae, our faithful brothers in Christ:
Grace and peace to you from God our Father.

Thanksgiving and prayer

3 We have never failed to remember you in our prayers and to give thanks for 4 you to God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, •ever since we heard about 5 your faith in Christ Jesus and the love that you show towards all the saints 6 because of the hope which is stored up for you in heaven. It is only recently that 7 you heard of this, when it was announced in the message of the truth. The Good 8 News •which has reached you is spreading all over the world and producing the 9 same results as it has among you ever since the day when you heard about God's 10 grace and understood what this really is. •Epaphras, who taught you, is one of 11 our closest fellow workers and a faithful deputy for us as Christ's servant, •and 12 it was he who told us all about your love in the Spirit.

13 That will explain why, ever since the day he told us, we have never failed to 14 pray for you, and what we ask God is that through perfect wisdom and spiritual 15 understanding you should reach the fullest knowledge of his will. •So you will 16 be able to lead the kind of life which the Lord expects of you, a life acceptable 17 to him in all its aspects; showing the results in all the good actions you do and 18 increasing your knowledge of God. •You will have in you the strength, based on 19 his own glorious power, never to give in, but to bear anything joyfully, •thanking 20 the Father who has made it possible for you to join the saints and with them 21 to inherit the light.

22 Because that is what he has done: he has taken us out of the power of darkness
23 and created a place for us in the kingdom of the Son that he loves, •and in him, 24 we gain our freedom, the forgiveness of our sins.

FORMAL INSTRUCTION

Christ is the head of all creation

15 He is the image of the unseen God
16 and the first-born of all creation,
17 for in him were created
18 all things in heaven and on earth:
19 everything visible and everything invisible,
20 Thrones, Dominations, Sovereignities, Powers—
21 all things were created through him and for him.
22 Before anything was created, he existed,
23 and he holds all things in unity.
24 Now the Church is his body,
25 he is its head.

4 a. 'Companion' is the meaning of the proper name Syzygus. b. I.e. in the service of the emperor.

As he is the Beginning,
 he was first to be born from the dead,
 so that he should be first in every way;
 because God wanted all perfection 19
 to be found in him
 and all things to be reconciled through him and for him, 20
 everything in heaven and everything on earth,
 when he made peace
 by his death on the cross.

The Colossians have their share in salvation

Not long ago, you were foreigners and enemies, in the way that you used to 21 think and the evil things that you did; •but now he has reconciled you, by his 22 death and in that mortal body. Now you are able to appear before him holy, pure and blameless—•as long as you persevere and stand firm on the solid base 23 of the faith, never letting yourselves drift away from the hope promised by the Good News, which you have heard, which has been preached to the whole human race, and of which I, Paul, have become the servant.

Paul's labours in the service of the pagans

It makes me happy to suffer for you, as I am suffering now, and in my own 24 body to do what I can to make up all that has still to be undergone by Christ for the sake of his body, the Church. •I became the servant of the Church when God 25 made me responsible for delivering God's message to you, •the message which 26 was a mystery hidden for generations and centuries and has now been revealed to his saints. •It was God's purpose to reveal it to them and to show all the rich glory 27 of this mystery to pagans. The mystery is Christ among you, your hope of glory:
 this is the Christ we proclaim, this is the wisdom in which we thoroughly train 28 everyone and instruct everyone, to make them all perfect in Christ. •It is for 29
 this I struggle wearily on, helped only by his power driving me irresistibly.

Paul's concern for the Colossians' faith

2 Yes, I want you to know that I do have to struggle hard for you, and for 1 those in Laodicea, and for so many others who have never seen me face to 2 face. •It is all to bind you together in love and to stir your minds, so that your understanding may come to full development, until you really know God's 3 secret •in which all the jewels of wisdom and knowledge are hidden.

I say this to make sure that no one deceives you with specious arguments. 4
 I may be absent in body, but in spirit I am there among you, delighted to find you 5 all in harmony and to see how firm your faith in Christ is.

A WARNING AGAINST SOME ERRORS

Live according to the true faith in Christ, not according to false teaching

You must live your whole life according to the Christ you have received— 6
 Jesus the Lord; •you must be rooted in him and built on him and held firm by the 7 faith you have been taught, and full of thanksgiving.

Make sure that no one traps you and deprives you of your freedom by some 8 secondhand, empty, rational philosophy based on the principles of this world instead of on Christ.

Christ alone is the true head of men and angels

In his body lives the fullness of divinity, •and in him you too find your own 9 fulfilment, in the one who is the head of every Sovereignty and Power.<sup>a</sup> 10

In him you have been circumcised, with a circumcision not performed by 11

human hand, but by the complete stripping of your body of flesh. This is circumcision according to Christ. •You have been buried with him, when you were baptised; and by baptism, too, you have been raised up with him through your belief in the power of God who raised him from the dead. •You were dead, because you were sinners and had not been circumcised: he<sup>b</sup> has brought you to life with him, he has forgiven us all our sins.

14 He has overridden the Law, and cancelled every record of the debt that we had to pay; he has done away with it by nailing it to the cross;<sup>c</sup> •and so he got rid of the Sovereignities and the Powers, and paraded them in public, behind him in his triumphal procession.<sup>d</sup>

Against the false asceticism based on 'the principles of this world'

16 From now onwards, never let anyone else decide what you should eat or drink, or whether you are to observe annual festivals, New Moons or sabbaths. •These were only pale reflections of what was coming: the reality is Christ. •Do not be taken in by people who like grovelling to angels and worshipping them; people like that are always going on about some vision they have had, inflating themselves to a false importance with their worldly outlook. •A man of this sort is not united to the head, and it is the head that adds strength and holds the whole body together, with all its joints and sinews—and this is the only way in which it can reach its full growth in God.

20 If you have really died with Christ to the principles of this world, why do you still let rules dictate to you, as though you were still living in the world? •'It is forbidden to pick up this, it is forbidden to taste that, it is forbidden to touch something else'; •all these prohibitions are only concerned with things that perish by their very use—an example of human doctrines and regulations!<sup>e</sup>
23 It may be argued that true wisdom is to be found in these, with their self-imposed devotions, their self-abasement, and their severe treatment of the body; but once the flesh starts to protest, they are no use at all.

Life-giving union with the glorified Christ

1 3 Since you have been brought back to true life with Christ, you must look for the things that are in heaven, where Christ is, sitting at God's right hand.
2 Let your thoughts be on heavenly things, not on the things that are on the earth,
3 because you have died, and now the life you have is hidden with Christ in God.
4 But when Christ is revealed—and he is your life—you too will be revealed in all your glory with him.

EXHORTATION

General rules of Christian behaviour

5 That is why you must kill everything in you that belongs only to earthly life: fornication, impurity, guilty passion, evil desires and especially greed, which is the same thing as worshipping a false god; •all this is the sort of behaviour that makes God angry. •And it is the way in which you used to live when you were surrounded by people doing the same thing, •but now you, of all people, must give all these things up: getting angry, being bad-tempered, spitefulness, abusive language and dirty talk; •and never tell each other lies. You have stripped off your old behaviour with your old self, •and you have put on a new self which will progress towards true knowledge the more it is renewed in the image of its creator; •and in that image there is no room for distinction between Greek

2 a. I.e. over the highest orders of angels. b. God the Father. c. Destroying our death warrant. d. The tradition was that the Law was brought down to Moses by angels. e. Is 29:13 and Jew, between the circumcised or the uncircumcised, or between barbarian and Scythian, slave and free man. There is only Christ: he is everything and he is in everything.

You are God's chosen race, his saints; he loves you, and you should be clothed in sincere compassion, in kindness and humility, gentleness and patience. •Bear with one another; forgive each other as soon as a quarrel begins. The Lord has forgiven you; now you must do the same. •Over all these clothes, to keep them together and complete them, put on love. •And may the peace of Christ reign in your hearts, because it is for this that you were called together as parts of one body. Always be thankful.

Let the message of Christ, in all its richness, find a home with you. Teach each other, and advise each other, in all wisdom. With gratitude in your hearts sing psalms and hymns and inspired songs to God; •and never say or do anything except in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him.

The morals of the home and household

Wives, give way to your husbands, as you should in the Lord. •Husbands, love your wives and treat them with gentleness. •Children, be obedient to your parents always, because that is what will please the Lord. •Parents, never drive your children to resentment or you will make them feel frustrated.

Slaves, be obedient to the men who are called your masters in this world; not only when you are under their eye, as if you had only to please men, but wholeheartedly, out of respect for the Master. •Whatever your work is, put your heart into it as if it were for the Lord and not for men, •knowing that the Lord will repay you by making you his heirs. It is Christ the Lord that you are serving; •anyone who does wrong will be repaid in kind and he does not favour one person more than another. 4 Masters, make sure that your slaves are given what is just and fair, knowing that you too have a Master in heaven.

The apostolic spirit

Be persevering in your prayers and be thankful as you stay awake to pray. Pray for us especially, asking God to show us opportunities for announcing the message and proclaiming the mystery of Christ, for the sake of which I am in chains; •pray that I may proclaim it as clearly as I ought.

Be tactful with those who are not Christians and be sure you make the best use of your time with them. •Talk to them agreeably and with a flavour of wit, and try to fit your answers to the needs of each one.

Personal news

Tychicus will tell you all the news about me. He is a brother I love very much, and a loyal helper and companion in the service of the Lord. •I am sending him to you precisely for this purpose: to give you news about us and to reassure you. With him I am sending Onesimus, that dear and faithful brother who is a fellow citizen of yours. They will tell you everything that is happening here.

Greetings and final wishes

Aristarchus, who is here in prison with me, sends his greetings, and so does Mark, the cousin of Barnabas—you were sent some instructions about him; if he comes to you, give him a warm welcome—and Jesus Justus adds his greetings. Of all those who have come over from the Circumcision, these are the only ones actually working with me for the kingdom of God. They have been a great comfort to me. •Epaphras, your fellow citizen, sends his greetings; this servant of Christ Jesus never stops battling for you, praying that you will never lapse but always hold perfectly and securely to the will of God. •I can testify for him that he works hard for you, as well as for those at Laodicea and Hierapolis. •Greetings from my dear friend Luke, the doctor, and also from Demas.

15 Please give my greetings to the brothers at Laodicea and to Nympha and the 16 church which meets in her house. •After this letter has been read among you, send it on to be read in the church of the Laodiceans; and get the letter from 17 Laodicea for you to read yourselves. •Give Archippus this message, 'Remember the service that the Lord wants you to do, and try to carry it out'.

18 Here is a greeting in my own handwriting—PAUL. Remember the chains I wear. Grace be with you.

THE LETTER OF PAUL TO THE CHURCH AT EPHESUS

Address and Greetings

1 I From Paul, appointed by God to be an apostle of Christ Jesus, to the saints
 2 who are faithful to Christ Jesus: •Grace and peace to you from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

THE MYSTERY OF SALVATION AND OF THE CHURCH

God's plan of salvation

3 Blessed be God the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has blessed us with all the spiritual blessings of heaven in Christ.
 4 Before the world was made, he chose us, chose us in Christ, to be holy and spotless, and to live through love in his presence, 5 determining that we should become his adopted sons, through Jesus Christ
 for his own kind purposes, 6 to make us praise the glory of his grace,
 his free gift to us in the Beloved, 7 in whom, through his blood, we gain our freedom, the forgiveness of our sins.
 Such is the richness of the grace 8 which he has showered on us in all wisdom and insight.
 9 He has let us know the mystery of his purpose, the hidden plan he so kindly made in Christ from the beginning 10 to act upon when the times had run their course to the end:
 that he would bring everything together under Christ, as head, everything in the heavens and everything on earth.
 11 And it is in him that we were claimed as God's own, chosen from the beginning,
 under the predetermined plan of the one who guides all things as he decides by his own will; 12 chosen to be,
 for his greater glory,
 the people who would put their hopes in Christ before he came.
 13 Now you too, in him, have heard the message of the truth and the good news of your salvation,
 and have believed it;

and you too have been stamped with the seal of the Holy Spirit of the Promise,

the pledge of our inheritance 14 which brings freedom for those whom God has taken for his own,
to make his glory praised.

The triumph and the supremacy of Christ

That will explain why I, having once heard about your faith in the Lord Jesus, 15 and the love that you show towards all the saints, •have never failed to remember 16 you in my prayers and to thank God for you. •May the God of our Lord 17
Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, give you a spirit of wisdom and perception of what is revealed, to bring you to full knowledge of him. •May he enlighten 18 the eyes of your mind so that you can see what hope his call holds for you, what rich glories he has promised the saints will inherit •and how infinitely great is 19 the power that he has exercised for us believers. This you can tell from the strength of his power •at work in Christ, when he used it to raise him from the dead and 20 to make him sit at his right hand, in heaven, •far above every Sovereignty, 21 Authority, Power, or Domination,<sup>a</sup> or any other name that can be named, not only in this age but also in the age to come. •He has put all things under his feet,<sup>b</sup> 22 and made him, as the ruler of everything, the head of the Church; •which is his 23 body, the fullness of him who fills the whole creation.

Salvation in Christ a free gift

2 And you were dead, through the crimes and the sins •in which you used to live 2 when you were following the way of this world, obeying the ruler who governs the air,<sup>a</sup> the spirit who is at work in the rebellious. •We all were among them 3 too in the past, living sensual lives, ruled entirely by our own physical desires and our own ideas; so that by nature we were as much under God's anger as the rest of the world. •But God loved us with so much love that he was generous 4 with his mercy: •when we were dead through our sins, he brought us to life 5 with Christ—it is through grace that you have been saved—and raised us up 6 with him and gave us a place with him in heaven, in Christ Jesus.

This was to show for all ages to come, through his goodness towards us in 7
Christ Jesus, how infinitely rich he is in grace. •Because it is by grace that you 8 have been saved, through faith; not by anything of your own, but by a gift from God; •not by anything that you have done, so that nobody can claim the credit. 9
We are God's work of art, created in Christ Jesus to live the good life as from the 10 beginning he had meant us to live it.

Reconciliation of the Jews and the pagans with each other and with God

Do not forget, then, that there was a time when you who were pagans 11 physically, termed the Uncircumcised by those who speak of themselves as the Circumcision by reason of a physical operation, •do not forget, I say, that 12 you had no Christ and were excluded from membership of Israel, aliens with no part in the covenants with their Promise; you were immersed in this world, without hope and without God. •But now in Christ Jesus, you that used to be 13 so far apart from us have been brought very close, by the blood of Christ.
For he is the peace between us, and has made the two into one and broken 14 down the barrier which used to keep them apart, actually destroying in his own person the hostility •caused by the rules and decrees of the Law. This 15 was to create one single New Man in himself out of the two of them and by restoring peace •through the cross, to unite them both in a single Body and 16 reconcile them with God. In his own person he killed the hostility. •Later he came 17 to bring the good news of peace, peace to you who were far away and peace to those who were near at hand.<sup>b</sup> •Through him, both of us have in the one Spirit 18 our way to come to the Father.

So you are no longer aliens or foreign visitors: you are citizens like all the 19

20 saints, and part of God's household. •You are part of a building that has the apostles and prophets<sup>c</sup> for its foundations, and Christ Jesus himself for its main 21 cornerstone. •As every structure is aligned on him, all grow into one holy temple 22 in the Lord; •and you too, in him, are being built into a house where God lives, in the Spirit.

Paul, a servant of the mystery

1 2 3 So I, Paul, a prisoner of Christ Jesus for the sake of you pagans...•You have probably heard how I have been entrusted by God with the grace he meant 3 for you, •and that it was by a revelation that I was given the knowledge of the 4 mystery, as I have just described it very shortly. •If you read my words, you will 5 have some idea of the depths that I see in the mystery of Christ. •This mystery that has now been revealed through the Spirit to his holy apostles and prophets 6 was unknown to any men in past generations; •it means that pagans now share the same inheritance, that they are parts of the same body, and that the same 7 promise has been made to them, in Christ Jesus, through the gospel. •I have been made the servant of that gospel by a gift of grace from God who gave it to 8 me by his own power. •I, who am less than the least of all the saints, have been entrusted with this special grace, not only of proclaiming to the pagans the 9 infinite treasure of Christ •but also of explaining how the mystery is to be dispensed. Through all the ages, this has been kept hidden in God, the creator 10 of everything. Why? •So that the Sovereignities and Powers should learn only now, through the Church, how comprehensive God's wisdom really is, 11 exactly according to the plan which he had had from all eternity in Christ Jesus
 12 our Lord. •This is why we are bold enough to approach God in complete 13 confidence, through our faith in him; •so, I beg you, never lose confidence just because of the trials that I go through on your account: they are your glory.

Paul's prayer

14 15 This, then, is what I pray, kneeling before the Father, •from whom every family,<sup>a</sup> whether spiritual or natural, takes its name:
 16 Out of his infinite glory, may he give you the power through his Spirit
 17 for your hidden self to grow strong, •so that Christ may live in your hearts 18 through faith, and then, planted in love and built on love, •you will with all the saints have strength to grasp the breadth and the length, the height and 19 the depth; •until, knowing the love of Christ, which is beyond all knowledge, you are filled with the utter fullness of God.
 20 Glory be to him whose power, working in us, can do infinitely more than we 21 can ask or imagine; •glory be to him from generation to generation in the Church and in Christ Jesus for ever and ever. Amen.

EXHORTATION

A call to unity

1
 2 4 I, the prisoner in the Lord, implore you therefore to lead a life worthy of your
 3 vocation. •Bear with one another charitably, in complete selflessness, 4 gentleness and patience. •Do all you can to preserve the unity of the Spirit by the 5 peace that binds you together. •There is one Body, one Spirit, just as you were all 6 called into one and the same hope when you were called. •There is one Lord, one faith, one baptism, •and one God who is Father of all, over all, through all and within all.

1 a. Orders of the angelic hierarchy in Jewish literature. b. Ps 8:6

2 a. Satan. b. Is 57:19 c. The N.T. prophets.

3 a. A pun on the words 'Father' and 'family' (clan or tribe) is lost in translation; traces of it survive in paternity and patriotism.

Each one of us, however, has been given his own share of grace, given as 7
Christ allotted it. •It was said that he would: 8

When he ascended to the height, he captured prisoners, he gave gifts to men.<sup>a</sup>

When it says, 'he ascended', what can it mean if not that he descended right 9 down to the lower regions of the earth? •The one who rose higher than all the 10 heavens to fill all things is none other than the one who descended. •And to 11 some, his gift was that they should be apostles; to some, prophets; to some, evangelists; to some, pastors and teachers; •so that the saints together make 12 a unity in the work of service, building up the body of Christ. •In this way we 13 are all to come to unity in our faith and in our knowledge of the Son of God, until we become the perfect Man, fully mature with the fullness of Christ himself.

Then we shall not be children any longer, or tossed one way and another and 14 carried along by every wind of doctrine, at the mercy of all the tricks men play and their cleverness in practising deceit. •If we live by the truth and in love, we 15 shall grow in all ways into Christ, who is the head •by whom the whole body 16 is fitted and joined together, every joint adding its own strength, for each separate part to work according to its function. So the body grows until it has built itself up, in love.

The new life in Christ

In particular, I want to urge you in the name of the Lord, not to go on living 17
the aimless kind of life that pagans live. •Intellectually they are in the dark, 18 and they are estranged from the life of God, without knowledge because they have shut their hearts to it. •Their sense of right and wrong once dulled, they 19 have abandoned themselves to sexuality and eagerly pursue a career of indecency of every kind. •Now that is hardly the way you have learnt from Christ, •unless 20 you failed to hear him properly when you were taught what the truth is in Jesus. 21
You must give up your old way of life; you must put aside your old self, which gets corrupted by following illusory desires. •Your mind must be renewed by a 22 spiritual revolution •so that you can put on the new self that has been created in 23
God's way, in the goodness and holiness of the truth. 24

So from now on, there must be no more lies: *You must speak the truth to one 25 another,<sup>b</sup> since we are all parts of one another. •Even if you are angry, you must not 26 sin:<sup>c</sup> never let the sun set on your anger •or else you will give the devil a foothold. 27
Anyone who was a thief must stop stealing; he should try to find some useful 28 manual work instead, and be able to do some good by helping others that are in need. •Guard against foul talk; let your words be for the improvement of 29 others, as occasion offers, and do good to your listeners, •otherwise you will 30 only be grieving the Holy Spirit of God who has marked you with his seal for you to be set free when the day comes. •Never have grudges against others, or 31 lose your temper, or raise your voice to anybody, or call each other names, or allow any sort of spitefulness. •Be friends with one another, and kind, 32 forgiving each other as readily as God forgave you in Christ.*

5 Try, then, to imitate God, as children of his that he loves, •and follow Christ 1 by loving as he loved you, giving himself up in our place as a fragrant offering 2 and a sacrifice to God.<sup>a</sup> •Among you there must be not even a mention of 3 fornication or impurity in any of its forms, or promiscuity; this would hardly become the saints! •There must be no coarseness, or salacious talk and 4 jokes—all this is wrong for you; raise your voices in thanksgiving instead. •For 5 you can be quite certain that nobody who actually indulges in fornication or impurity or promiscuity—which is worshipping a false god—can inherit anything of the kingdom of God. •Do not let anyone deceive you with empty 6 arguments: it is for this loose living that God's anger comes down on those who rebel against him. •Make sure that you are not included with them. •You were 7 8

9 darkness once, but now you are light in the Lord; be like children of light, •for the effects of the light are seen in complete goodness and right living and truth.
 10 Try to discover what the Lord wants of you, •having nothing to do with the futile
 11 works of darkness but exposing them by contrast. •The things which are done
 12 in secret are things that people are ashamed even to speak of; •but anything 13 exposed by the light will be illuminated and anything illuminated turns into 14 light. •That is why it is said:<sup>b</sup>

Wake up from your sleep,
 rise from the dead,
 and Christ will shine on you.

15 So be very careful about the sort of lives you lead, like intelligent and not like 16 senseless people. •This may be a wicked age, but your lives should redeem it.
 17 And do not be thoughtless but recognise what is the will of the Lord. •Do not 18 drug yourselves with wine, this is simply dissipation; be filled with the Spirit.
 19 Sing the words and tunes of the psalms and hymns when you are together, 20 and go on singing and chanting to the Lord in your hearts, •so that always and everywhere you are giving thanks to God who is our Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

The morals of the home

21 Give way to one another in obedience to Christ. •Wives should regard their 22 husbands as they regard the Lord, •since as Christ is head of the Church and 23 saves the whole body, so is a husband the head of his wife; •and as the Church
 24 submits to Christ, so should wives to their husbands, in everything. •Husbands
 25 should love their wives just as Christ loved the Church and sacrificed himself
 26 for her •to make her holy. He made her clean by washing her in water with a form 27 of words, •so that when he took her to himself she would be glorious, with no 28 speck or wrinkle or anything like that, but holy and faultless. •In the same way, husbands must love their wives as they love their own bodies; for a man to love 29 his wife is for him to love himself. •A man never hates his own body, but he feeds 30 it and looks after it; and that is the way Christ treats the Church, •because it is 31 his body—and we are its living parts. •For this reason, a man must leave his father 32 and mother and be joined to his wife, and the two will become one body.<sup>c</sup> •This mystery has many implications; but I am saying it applies to Christ and the 33 Church. •To sum up; you too, each one of you, must love his wife as he loves himself; and let every wife respect her husband.

<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> Children, be obedient to your parents in the Lord—that is your duty. •The first commandment that has a promise attached to it is: Honour your father 3 and mother, •and the promise is: and you will prosper and have a long life in the land.<sup>a</sup>
 4 And parents, never drive your children to resentment but in bringing them up correct them and guide them as the Lord does.

5 Slaves, be obedient to the men who are called your masters in this world,
 6 with deep respect and sincere loyalty, as you are obedient to Christ: •not only when you are under their eye, as if you had only to please men, but because you 7 are slaves of Christ and wholeheartedly do the will of God. •Work hard and 8 willingly, but do it for the sake of the Lord and not for the sake of men. •You can be sure that everyone, whether a slave or a free man, will be properly rewarded 9 by the Lord for whatever work he has done well. •And those of you who are employers, treat your slaves in the same spirit; do without threats, remembering that they and you have the same Master in heaven and he is not impressed by one person more than by another.

The spiritual war

Finally, grow strong in the Lord, with the strength of his power. •Put God's 10
 armour on so as to be able to resist the devil's tactics. •For it is not against human 11 enemies that we have to struggle, but against the Sovereignities and the Powers 12 who originate the darkness in this world, the spiritual army of evil in the heavens.
 That is why you must rely on God's armour, or you will not be able to put up any 13 resistance when the worst happens, or have enough resources to hold your ground.

So stand your ground, with truth buckled round your waist, and integrity 14
for a breastplate,<sup>b</sup> •wearing for shoes on your feet the eagerness to spread the 15 gospel of peace• and always carrying the shield of faith so that you can use it to 16 put out the burning arrows of the evil one. •And then you must accept salvation 17 from God to be your helmet and receive the word of God from the Spirit to use as a sword.

Pray all the time, asking for what you need, praying in the Spirit, on every 18 possible occasion. Never get tired of staying awake to pray for all the saints; and pray for me to be given an opportunity to open my mouth and speak 19 without fear and give out the mystery of the gospel •of which I am an ambassador 20 in chains; pray that in proclaiming it I may speak as boldly as I ought to.

Personal news and final salutation

• I should like you to know, as well, what is happening to me and what I am 21 doing; my dear brother Tychicus, my loyal helper in the Lord, will tell you everything. •I am sending him to you precisely for this purpose, to give you 22 news about us and reassure you.

May God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ grant peace, love and faith to 23 all the brothers. •May grace and eternal life be with all who love our Lord 24
 Jesus Christ.

THE FIRST LETTER OF PETER

The First Letter of Peter, unlike the Second Letter, has always been accepted as the work of the Apostle Peter, at least until the nineteenth century. Some of the ideas and the language in which they are expressed are similar to those of Paul, but this may be accounted for by the help given in the writing of the letter by Silvanus, a companion of Paul's: 1 Peter 5:12 states that the letter was written through Silvanus. It is addressed to Christians living in Asia Minor who found themselves surrounded by pagan neighbours, and, much as Jews living away from Palestine, having to contend with the criticism of the people amongst whom they had chosen to settle.

The greater part of the letter, from 1:3 to 4:11, is concerned with Baptism, and it is at least probable that this letter is an example of the instruction received by a convert during the period when he or she was being prepared for Baptism, and the sermon which the bishop would preach to a congregation assembled for a Baptism. The second part of the letter, from 4:12 to 5:10, deals with the theme of persecution. There has been much discussion about the kind of persecution to which the author is referring, for there is no evidence of any official persecution by the state before the death of Peter, and some have thought that this throws doubts on the authorship of the letter. But it is very probable that the persecution referred to is the kind to which a Christian might be exposed by his pagan neighbours through their resentment of the Christian morality.

The letter is best dated about A.D. 64 in Rome, and as such is valuable evidence, together with the captivity letters written in Rome by Paul, for the kind of teaching being given in Rome just before the emergence of the first of the Gospels, Mark. There is strong evidence for accepting that Mark's Gospel was written in Rome under the influence of Peter, and that it reached its final form about the year A.D. 65.

THE FIRST LETTER OF PETER

Address. Greetings

1 Peter, apostle of Jesus Christ, sends greetings to all those living among 1 foreigners in the Dispersion of Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia and 2 Bithynia, who have been chosen, •by the provident purpose of God the Father, 2 to be made holy by the Spirit, obedient to Jesus Christ and sprinkled with his blood. Grace and peace be with you more and more.

Introduction. The salvation of Christians

Blessed be God the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who in his great mercy 3 has given us a new birth as his sons, by raising Jesus Christ from the dead, so that 4
we have a sure hope •and the promise of an inheritance that can never be spoilt 4 or soiled and never fade away, because it is being kept for you in the heavens.
Through your faith, God's power will guard you until the salvation which has 5 been prepared is revealed at the end of time. •This is a cause of great joy for you, 6
even though you may for a short time have to bear being plagued by all sorts of 6 trials; •so that, when Jesus Christ is revealed, your faith will have been tested and 7 proved like gold—only it is more precious than gold, which is corruptible even 7 though it bears testing by fire—and then you will have praise and glory and 7 honour. •You did not see him, yet you love him; and still without seeing him, 8 you are already filled with a joy so glorious that it cannot be described, because 8
you believe; •and you are sure of the end to which your faith looks forward, that 9 is, the salvation of your souls. 9

The hope of the prophets

It was this salvation that the prophets were looking and searching so hard for; 10
their prophecies were about the grace which was to come to you. •The Spirit of 11 Christ which was in them foretold the sufferings of Christ and the glories that would come after them, and they tried to find out at what time and in 11
what circumstances all this was to be expected. •It was revealed to them that the 12 news they brought of all the things which have now been announced to you, by those who preached to you the Good News through the Holy Spirit sent from heaven, was for you and not for themselves. Even the angels long to catch a glimpse of these things.

A call to sanctity and watchfulness

Free your minds, then, of encumbrances; control them, and put your trust 13 in nothing but the grace that will be given you when Jesus Christ is revealed.
Do not behave in the way that you liked to before you learnt the truth; make 14
a habit of obedience: •be holy in all you do, since it is the Holy One who has 15 called you, •and scripture says: Be holy, for I am holy.<sup>a</sup> 16

If you are acknowledging as your Father one who has no favourites and judges 17
everyone according to what he has done, you must be scrupulously careful as long 17

18 as you are living away from your home. •Remember, the ransom that was paid
 19 to free you<sup>b</sup> from the useless way of life your ancestors handed down was not paid 20 in anything corruptible, neither in silver nor gold, •but in the precious blood of a 21 lamb without spot or stain, namely Christ; •who, though known since before the world was made, has been revealed only in our time, the end of the ages, for your sake. •Through him you now have faith in God, who raised him from the dead and gave him glory for that very reason—so that you would have faith and hope in God.

Love

22 You have been obedient to the truth and purified your souls until you can 23 love like brothers, in sincerity; let your love for each other be real and from the 24 heart—your new birth was not from any mortal seed but from the everlasting 25 word of the living and eternal God. •All flesh is grass and its glory like the wild flower's. The grass withers, the flower falls, •but the word of the Lord remains for ever.<sup>c</sup> What is this word? It is the Good News that has been brought to you.

Integrity

1 2 Be sure, then, you are never spiteful, or deceitful, or hypocritical, or envious
 2 and critical of each other. •You are new born, and, like babies, you should be hungry for nothing but milk—the spiritual honesty which will help you to 3 grow up to salvation—•now that you have tasted the goodness of the Lord.<sup>a</sup>

The new priesthood

4 He is the living stone, rejected by men but chosen by God and precious to him;
 5 set yourselves close to him •so that you too, the holy priesthood that offers the spiritual sacrifices which Jesus Christ has made acceptable to God, may be living 6 stones making a spiritual house. •As scripture says: *See how I lay in Zion a precious
 7 cornerstone that I have chosen and the man who rests his trust on it will not be disap-
 8 pointed.*<sup>b</sup> •That means that for you who are believers, it is precious; but for 9 unbelievers, the stone rejected by the builders has proved to be the keystone,<sup>c</sup> •a stone to stumble over, a rock to bring men down.<sup>d</sup> They stumble over it because they do not believe in the word; it was the fate in store for them.

9 But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a consecrated nation, a people set 10 apart<sup>e</sup> to sing the praises of God who called you out of the darkness into his wonderful light. •Once you were not a people<sup>f</sup> at all and now you are the People of God; once you were outside the mercy and now you have been given mercy.

The obligations of Christians: towards pagans

11 I urge you, my dear people, while you are visitors and pilgrims<sup>g</sup> to keep your-12 selves free from the selfish passions that attack the soul. •Always behave honourably among pagans so that they can see your good works for themselves and, when the day of reckoning comes, give thanks to God for the things which now make them denounce you as criminals.

Towards civil authority

13 For the sake of the Lord, accept the authority of every social institution: the 14 emperor, as the supreme authority, •and the governors as commissioned by him
 15 to punish criminals and praise good citizenship. •God wants you to be good 16 citizens, so as to silence what fools are saying in their ignorance. •You are slaves of no one except God, so behave like free men, and never use your freedom as an 17 excuse for wickedness. •Have respect for everyone and love for our community;
 fear God and honour the emperor.

Towards masters

Slaves must be respectful and obedient to their masters, not only when they are kind and gentle but also when they are unfair. •You see, there is some merit in putting up with the pains of unearned punishment if it is done for the sake of God •but there is nothing meritorious in taking a beating patiently if you have done something wrong to deserve it. The merit, in the sight of God, is in bearing it patiently when you are punished after doing your duty.

This, in fact, is what you were called to do, because Christ suffered for you and left an example for you to follow the way he took. •He had not done anything wrong, and there had been no perjury in his mouth.<sup>b</sup> •He was insulted and did not retaliate with insults; when he was tortured he made no threats but he put his trust in the righteous judge. •He was bearing our faults in his own body on the cross, so that we might die to our faults and live for holiness; through his wounds you have been healed. •You had gone astray like sheep but now you have come back to the shepherd and guardian<sup>i</sup> of your souls.

In marriage

3 In the same way, wives should be obedient to their husbands. Then, if there are some husbands who have not yet obeyed the word, they may find themselves won over, without a word spoken, by the way their wives behave, •when they see how faithful and conscientious they are. •Do not dress up for show: doing up your hair, wearing gold bracelets and fine clothes; •all this should be inside, in a person's heart, imperishable: the ornament of a sweet and gentle disposition—this is what is precious in the sight of God. •That was how the holy women of the past dressed themselves attractively—they hoped in God and were tender and obedient to their husbands; •like Sarah, who was obedient to Abraham, and called him her lord. You are now her children, as long as you live good lives and do not give way to fear or worry.

In the same way, husbands must always treat their wives with consideration in their life together, respecting a woman as one who, though she may be the weaker partner, is equally an heir to the life of grace. This will stop anything from coming in the way of your prayers.

Towards the brothers

Finally: you should all agree among yourselves and be sympathetic; love the brothers, have compassion and be self-effacing. •Never pay back one wrong with another, or an angry word with another one; instead, pay back with a blessing. That is what you are called to do, so that you inherit a blessing yourself. Remember: Anyone who wants to have a happy life and to enjoy prosperity must banish malice from his tongue, deceitful conversation from his lips; •he must never yield to evil but must practise good; he must seek peace and pursue it. •Because the face of the Lord frowns on evil men, but the eyes of the Lord are turned towards the virtuous.<sup>d</sup>

In persecution

No one can hurt you if you are determined to do only what is right; •if you do have to suffer for being good, you will count it a blessing. There is no need to be afraid or to worry about them.<sup>b</sup> •Simply revere the Lord<sup>c</sup> Christ in your hearts, and always have your answer ready for people who ask you the reason for the hope that you all have. •But give it with courtesy and respect and with a clear conscience, so that those who slander you when you are living a good life in Christ may be proved wrong in the accusations that they bring. •And if it is the will of God that you should suffer, it is better to suffer for doing right than for doing wrong.

The resurrection and 'the descent into hell'

18 Why, Christ himself, innocent though he was, had died once for sins, died for 19 the guilty, to lead us to God. In the body he was put to death, in the spirit he was 20 raised to life, and, in the spirit, he went to preach to the spirits in prison.
 21 Now it was long ago, when Noah was still building that ark which saved only a 22 small group of eight people 'by water', and when God was still waiting patiently, 23 that these spirits refused to believe. That water is a type of the baptism which 24 saves you now, and which is not the washing off of physical dirt but a pledge 25 made to God from a good conscience, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, 26 who has entered heaven and is at God's right hand, now that he has made the 27 angels and Dominations and Powers his subjects.

1 4 Think of what Christ suffered in this life, and then arm yourselves with the 2 same resolution that he had: anyone who in this life has bodily suffering has 3 broken with sin, because for the rest of his life on earth he is not ruled by human 4 passions but only by the will of God. You spent quite long enough in the past 5 living the sort of life that pagans live, behaving indecently, giving way to your 6 passions, drinking all the time, having wild parties and drunken orgies and 7 degrading yourselves by following false gods. So people cannot understand why 8 you no longer hurry off with them to join this flood which is rushing down to 9 ruin, and then they begin to spread libels about you. They will have to answer 10 for it in front of the judge who is ready to judge the living and the dead. And 11 because he is their judge too, the dead had to be told the Good News as well, so 12 that though, in their life on earth, they had been through the judgement that 13 comes to all humanity, they might come to God's life in the spirit.

The revelation of Christ is close

7 Everything will soon come to an end, so, to pray better, keep a calm and sober
 8 mind. Above all, never let your love for each other grow insincere, since love
 9 covers over many a sin.<sup>o</sup> Welcome each other into your houses without grumbling.
 10 Each one of you has received a special grace, so, like good stewards responsible 11 for all these different graces of God, put yourselves at the service of others. If 12 you are a speaker, speak in words which seem to come from God; if you are a 13 helper, help as though every action was done at God's orders; so that in 14 everything God may receive the glory, through Jesus Christ, since to him alone 15 belong all glory and power for ever and ever. Amen.

Recapitulation

12 My dear people, you must not think it unaccountable that you should be tested 13 by fire. There is nothing extraordinary in what has happened to you. If you can 14 have some share in the sufferings of Christ, be glad, because you will enjoy a much 15 greater gladness when his glory is revealed. It is a blessing for you when they 16 insult you for bearing the name of Christ, because it means that you have the 17 Spirit of glory, the Spirit of God resting on you. None of you should ever deserve
 18 to suffer for being a murderer, a thief, a criminal or an informer; but if anyone 19 of you should suffer for being a Christian, then he is not to be ashamed of it; he 20 should thank God that he has been called one. The time has come for the judge-21 ment to begin at the household of God; and if what we know now is only the 22 beginning, what will it be when it comes down to those who refuse to believe God's 23 Good News? If it is hard for a good man to be saved, what will happen to the wicked
 24 and to sinners?<sup>o</sup> So even those whom God allows to suffer must trust themselves 25 to the constancy of the creator and go on doing good.

Instructions: to the elders

5 Now I have something to tell your elders: I am an elder myself, and a witness 1 to the sufferings of Christ, and with you I have a share in the glory that is 2 to be revealed. •Be the shepherds of the flock of God that is entrusted to you: 3 watch over it, not simply as a duty but gladly, because God wants it; not for 4 sordid money, but because you are eager to do it. •Never be a dictator over any 5 group that is put in your charge, but be an example that the whole flock can 6 follow. •When the chief shepherd appears, you will be given the crown of 7 unfading glory. 8

To the faithful

To the rest of you I say: do what the elders tell you, and all wrap yourselves 5 in humility to be servants of each other, because God refuses the proud and will 6 always favour the humble.<sup>a</sup> •Bow down, then, before the power of God now, and he 7 will raise you up on the appointed day; •unload all your worries on to him,<sup>b</sup> since 8 he is looking after you. •Be calm but vigilant, because your enemy the devil is 9 prowling round like a roaring lion, looking for someone to eat. •Stand up to him, 10 strong in faith and in the knowledge that your brothers all over the world are 11 suffering the same things. •You will have to suffer only for a little while: the God of 12 all grace who called you to eternal glory in Christ will see that all is well again: he 13 will confirm, strengthen and support you. •His power lasts for ever and ever. Amen. 14

Last words. Greetings

I write these few words to you through Silvanus, who is a brother I know I can 12 trust, to encourage you never to let go this true grace of God to which I bear 13 witness. 14

Your sister in Babylon, who is with you among the chosen, sends you 13 greetings; so does my son, Mark. 14

Greet one another with a kiss of love. 14

Peace to you all who are in Christ. 14

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MARK

It is now widely accepted that The Gospel according to Mark is the first of the four Gospels to reach the form in which we now have them, and that Matthew and Luke drew on Mark when they were putting their Gospels into their present form. But the situations within which the Gospels were formed, and the purpose for which they were written, are more important than the relationships between them. They are not biographies, nor are they journals of the more important parts of the life of Jesus Christ; they are intimately connected with the preaching and teaching situation in the first generation of Christians, centred on the Apostles' experience of living with Jesus Christ. The raw materials of the Gospels consist of sayings of Jesus Christ and events, actions and incidents from his life, but these are selected and arranged by each Gospel author to bring out their significance and relate them to the saving activity of God. The Good News, which is what Gospel means, is that God has acted decisively for the salvation of mankind through the life, death and resurrection of his Son Jesus Christ.

As the Apostles preached the good news, and taught those who accepted it, they selected from their experience of Jesus Christ the items which would best express the significance of his life and death which their preaching and teaching aimed to convey. These items were then arranged in ways which best brought out their significance. As the gospel was preached in different places, the events and sayings of Jesus might be presented in different sequences and forms, according to the various places and circumstances where they were used. There may have been collections of this supporting material about Jesus Christ in the Christian communities of the first generation, and some of these collections may have reached written form. If so the Gospel writers would be able to draw on them for their work, but even if they had not reached written form the oral tradition would preserve and transmit them with great accuracy, round the framework of the Apostles' preaching about Jesus Christ. The tradition that Mark wrote his Gospel in Rome, drawing on the information which Peter had used to support his preaching, dates back to the early part of the second century A.D., and there is no reason why this should be doubted.

Nearly a third of the whole of the Gospel is devoted to the last week of the earthly life of Jesus Christ, for it was during this last week that the decisive events occurred which pointed to the significance of everything that Jesus Christ had said or done. All the other material in the Gospel is arranged so as to point to the significance of the events of the last week, the sufferings of Christ, his death on the cross, and the Resurrection from the dead.

The purpose of Mark's Gospel is stated in the opening words. It is to give the good news about Jesus Christ the Son of God. The selection and arrangement of the material is made entirely from the public ministry of Jesus Christ, and the Gospel begins with a description of John the Baptist's preaching and of his baptism of Jesus. There is then a section on the Galilean ministry, followed by a section arranged in the form of journeys. Chapters 11-16 are concerned with the Jerusalem ministry of Jesus Christ during his last week. The latter part of chapter 16, verses 9-20, is generally thought to be a little later than the rest, for a number of ancient manuscripts do not contain these verses.

The nature of the kingdom of God which Jesus Christ has inaugurated, is a major theme in the Gospel, but this has to be understood from Christ's point of view, rather than related to the popular expectations of the Messiah. The education of the Apostles is a major theme running right through the Gospel, as Jesus teaches them about himself and prepares them for the events of the last week culminating in the Crucifixion and Resurrection. In a number of places the Apostles and others who accept Jesus as Messiah are commanded to be silent about it until after the Resurrection, for the popular expectations about the Messiah had political overtones which Jesus was not prepared to accept.

It should be remembered that this Gospel, like the other Gospels, was not written to be read alone. It was written within the context of a Christian community whose members believed that they were experiencing the power of Jesus Christ in their lives, who had been instructed in the Christian beliefs about Jesus Christ, who at least had contact with people who had known Jesus during his earthly life, and who were expecting that he would return at any moment to complete the work which he had begun.

PRELUDE TO THE PUBLIC MINISTRY OF JESUS

The preaching of John the Baptist

<sup>1</sup>
<sup>2</sup> I The beginning of the Good News about Jesus Christ, the Son of God. •It is written in the book of the prophet Isaiah:

*Look, I am going to send my messenger before you;
he will prepare your way.*

<sup>3</sup> *A voice cries in the wilderness:
Prepare a way for the Lord,
make his paths straight,*"

<sup>4</sup> and so it was that John the Baptist appeared in the wilderness, proclaiming <sup>5</sup> a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins. •All Judaea and all the people of Jerusalem made their way to him, and as they were baptised by him in the river
<sup>7</sup> he lived on locusts and wild honey. •In the course of his preaching he said,
'Someone is following me, someone who is more powerful than I am, and I am <sup>8</sup> not fit to kneel down and undo the strap of his sandals. •I have baptised you with water, but he will baptise you with the Holy Spirit.'

Jesus is baptised

<sup>9</sup> It was at this time that Jesus came from Nazareth in Galilee and was baptised <sup>10</sup> in the Jordan by John. •No sooner had he come up out of the water than he saw the heavens torn apart and the Spirit, like a dove, descending on him.
<sup>11</sup> And a voice came from heaven, 'You are my Son, the Beloved; my favour rests on you'.

Temptation in the wilderness

<sup>12</sup>
<sup>13</sup> Immediately afterwards the Spirit drove him out into the wilderness •and he remained there for forty days, and was tempted by Satan. He was with the wild beasts, and the angels looked after him.

THE GALILEAN MINISTRY

Jesus begins to preach

<sup>14</sup> After John had been arrested, Jesus went into Galilee. There he proclaimed <sup>15</sup> the Good News from God. •'The time has come' he said 'and the kingdom of God is close at hand. Repent, and believe the Good News.'

The first four disciples are called

<sup>16</sup> As he was walking along by the Sea of Galilee he saw Simon and his brother <sup>17</sup> Andrew casting a net in the lake — for they were fishermen. •And Jesus said to them, 'Follow me and I will make you into fishers of men'. •And at once they 18 left their nets and followed him.

Going on a little further, he saw James son of Zebedee and his brother John; 19 they too were in their boat, mending their nets. •He called them at once and, 20 leaving their father Zebedee in the boat with the men he employed, they went after him.

Jesus teaches in Capernaum and cures a demoniac

They went as far as Capernaum, and as soon as the sabbath came he went 21 to the synagogue and began to teach. •And his teaching made a deep impression 22 on them because, unlike the scribes, he taught them with authority.

In their synagogue just then there was a man possessed by an unclean spirit, 23 and it shouted, 'What do you want with us, Jesus of Nazareth? Have you come 24 to destroy us? I know who you are: the Holy One of God.' •But Jesus said 25 sharply, 'Be quiet! Come out of him!' •And the unclean spirit threw the man into 26 convulsions and with a loud cry went out of him. •The people were so astonished 27 that they started asking each other what it all meant. 'Here is a teaching that is new' they said 'and with authority behind it: he gives orders even to unclean 28 spirits and they obey him.' •And his reputation rapidly spread everywhere, through all the surrounding Galilean countryside.

Cure of Simon's mother-in-law

On leaving the synagogue, he went with James and John straight to the house 29 of Simon and Andrew. •Now Simon's mother-in-law had gone to bed with fever, 30 and they told him about her straightaway. •He went to her, took her by the hand 31 and helped her up. And the fever left her and she began to wait on them.

A number of cures

That evening, after sunset, they brought to him all who were sick and those 32 who were possessed by devils. •The whole town came crowding round the door, 33 and he cured many who were suffering from diseases of one kind or another; 34 he also cast out many devils, but he would not allow them to speak, because they knew who he was.<sup>b</sup>

Jesus quietly leaves Capernaum and travels through Galilee

In the morning, long before dawn, he got up and left the house, and went 35 off to a lonely place and prayed there. •Simon and his companions set out in 36 search of him, •and when they found him they said, 'Everybody is looking for you'. 37 •He answered, 'Let us go elsewhere, to the neighbouring country towns, 38 so that I can preach there too, because that is why I came'. •And he went all 39 through Galilee, preaching in their synagogues and casting out devils.

Cure of a leper

A leper came to him and pleaded on his knees: 'If you want to' he said 'you 40 can cure me'. •Feeling sorry for him, Jesus stretched out his hand and touched 41 him. 'Of course I want to!' he said. 'Be cured!' •And the leprosy left him at once 42 and he was cured. •Jesus immediately sent him away and sternly ordered him, 43 'Mind you say nothing to anyone, but go and show yourself to the priest, and 44 make the offering for your healing prescribed by Moses as evidence of your recovery'. 45 •The man went away, but then started talking about it freely and telling the story everywhere, so that Jesus could no longer go openly into any town, but had to stay outside in places where nobody lived. Even so, people from all around would come to him.

Cure of a paralytic

2 When he returned to Capernaum some time later, word went round that he 1 was back; •and so many people collected that there was no room left, even 2

3 in front of the door. He was preaching the word to them •when some people
 4 came bringing him a paralytic carried by four men, •but as the crowd made it impossible to get the man to him, they stripped the roof over the place where Jesus was; and when they had made an opening, they lowered the stretcher on 5 which the paralytic lay. •Seeing their faith, Jesus said to the paralytic, 'My child,
 6 your sins are forgiven'. •Now some scribes were sitting there, and they thought
 7 to themselves, 'How can this man talk like that? He is blaspheming. Who can 8 forgive sins but God?' •Jesus, inwardly aware that this was what they were thinking, said to them, 'Why do you have these thoughts in your hearts?
 9 Which of these is easier: to say to the paralytic, "Your sins are forgiven" or to 10 say, "Get up, pick up your stretcher and walk"? •But to prove to you that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins,'—he said to the paralytic—
 11 'I order you: get up, pick up your stretcher, and go off home.' •And the man 12 got up, picked up his stretcher at once and walked out in front of everyone, so that they were all astounded and praised God saying, 'We have never seen anything like this'.

The call of Levi

13 He went out again to the shore of the lake;<sup>a</sup> and all the people came to him, 14 and he taught them. •As he was walking on he saw Levi the son of Alphaeus, sitting by the customs house, and he said to him, 'Follow me'. And he got up and followed him.

Eating with sinners

15 When Jesus was at dinner in his house, a number of tax collectors and sinners were also sitting at the table with Jesus and his disciples; for there were many of 16 them among his followers. •When the scribes of the Pharisee party saw him eating with sinners and tax collectors, they said to his disciples, 'Why does he eat with 17 tax collectors and sinners?' •When Jesus heard this he said to them, 'It is not the healthy who need the doctor, but the sick. I did not come to call the virtuous, but sinners.'

A discussion on fasting

18 One day when John's disciples and the Pharisees were fasting, some people came and said to him, 'Why is it that John's disciples and the disciples of the 19 Pharisees fast, but your disciples do not?' •Jesus replied, 'Surely the bridegroom's attendants would never think of fasting while the bridegroom is still with them?
 As long as they have the bridegroom with them, they could not think of fasting.
 20 But the time will come for the bridegroom to be taken away from them, and then,
 21 on that day, they will fast. •No one sews a piece of unshrunk cloth on an old cloak; if he does, the patch pulls away from it, the new from the old, and the tear 22 gets worse. •And nobody puts new wine into old wineskins; if he does, the wine will burst the skins, and the wine is lost and the skins too. No! New wine, fresh skins!'

Picking corn on the sabbath

23 One sabbath day he happened to be taking a walk through the cornfields, and 24 his disciples began to pick ears of corn as they went along. •And the Pharisees said to him, 'Look, why are they doing something on the sabbath day that is 25 forbidden?' •And he replied, 'Did you never read what David did in his time of 26 need when he and his followers were hungry—how he went into the house of God when Abiathar<sup>a</sup> was high priest, and ate the loaves of offering which only

1 b. Throughout this gospel, Jesus never explicitly claims to be the Messiah and he forbids others to speak of the fact.

2 a. Tiberias, the 'Sea of Galilee'. b. See 1 S 21:1-7. Abiathar was the better known as high priest in David's reign, but Ahimelech is named in this source.

the priests are allowed to eat, and how he also gave some to the men with him?" 27

And he said to them, 'The sabbath was made for man, not man for the sabbath; so the Son of Man is master even of the sabbath'. 28

Cure of the man with a withered hand

3 He went again into a synagogue, and there was a man there who had a withered 1 hand. And they were watching him to see if he would cure him on the sabbath 2 day, hoping for something to use against him. He said to the man with the 3 withered hand, 'Stand up out in the middle!' Then he said to them, 'Is it 4 against the law on the sabbath day to do good, or to do evil; to save life, or to 5 kill?' But they said nothing. Then, grieved to find them so obstinate, he looked 5 angrily round at them, and said to the man, 'Stretch out your hand'. He stretched 6 it out and his hand was better. The Pharisees went out and at once began to 6 plot with the Herodians against him, discussing how to destroy him.

The crowds follow Jesus

Jesus withdrew with his disciples to the lakeside, and great crowds from 7 Galilee followed him. From Judaea, Jerusalem, Idumaea, Transjordania and 8 the region of Tyre and Sidon, great numbers who had heard of all he was doing 9 came to him. And he asked his disciples to have a boat ready for him because 9 of the crowd, to keep him from being crushed. For he had cured so many that all 10 who were afflicted in any way were crowding forward to touch him. And the 11 unclean spirits, whenever they saw him, would fall down before him and shout, 11
'You are the Son of God!' But he warned them strongly not to make him known. 12

The appointment of the Twelve

He now went up into the hills and summoned those he wanted. So they came 13 to him and he appointed twelve; they were to be his companions and to be sent 14 out to preach, with power to cast out devils. And so he appointed the Twelve: 15 Simon to whom he gave the name Peter, James the son of Zebedee and John 16 the brother of James, to whom he gave the name Boanerges or 'Sons of Thunder'; 17 then Andrew, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, James the son of 18 Alphaeus, Thaddaeus, Simon the Zealot and Judas Iscariot, the man who 19 was to betray him.

His relatives are concerned about Jesus

He went home again, and once more such a crowd collected that they could 20 not even have a meal. When his relatives heard of this, they set out to take 21 charge of him, convinced he was out of his mind.

Allegations of the scribes

The scribes who had come down from Jerusalem were saying, 'Beelzebul is 22 in him' and, 'It is through the prince of devils that he casts devils out'. So he called 23 them to him and spoke to them in parables, 'How can Satan cast out Satan?
If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot last. And if 24 a household is divided against itself, that household can never stand. Now if 25 Satan has rebelled against himself and is divided, he cannot stand either—it is 26 the end of him. But no one can make his way into a strong man's house and 27 burgle his property unless he has tied up the strong man first. Only then can he 27 burgle his house.

'I tell you solemnly, all men's sins will be forgiven, and all their 28
blasphemies; but let anyone blaspheme against the Holy Spirit and he will never 29 have forgiveness: he is guilty of an eternal sin.' This was because they were 30 saying, 'An unclean spirit is in him'.

The true kinsmen of Jesus

His mother and brothers now arrived and, standing outside, sent in a message 31

- 32 asking for him. •A crowd was sitting round him at the time the message was passed to him, 'Your mother and brothers and sisters are outside asking for you'.
 33 He replied, 'Who are my mother and my brothers?' •And looking round at 34 those sitting in a circle about him, he said, 'Here are my mother and my brothers.
 35 Anyone who does the will of God, that person is my brother and sister and mother.'

Parable of the sower

- 1 4 Again he began to teach by the lakeside, but such a huge crowd gathered round him that he got into a boat on the lake and sat there. The people were 2 all along the shore, at the water's edge. •He taught them many things in parables,
 3 and in the course of his teaching he said to them, •'Listen! Imagine a sower
 4 going out to sow. •Now it happened that, as he sowed, some of the seed fell on 5 the edge of the path, and the birds came and ate it up. •Some seed fell on rocky 6 ground where it found little soil and sprang up straightaway, because there was 7 no depth of earth; •and when the sun came up it was scorched and, not having 8 any roots, it withered away. •Some seed fell into thorns, and the thorns 9 grew up and choked it, and it produced no crop. •And some seeds fell into rich soil and, growing tall and strong, produced crop; and yielded thirty, sixty,
 9 even a hundredfold.' •And he said, 'Listen, anyone who has ears to hear!'

Why Jesus speaks in parables

- 10 When he was alone, the Twelve, together with the others who formed his 11 company, asked what the parables meant. •He told them, 'The secret of the kingdom of God is given to you, but to those who are outside everything comes 12 in parables, •so that they may see and see again, but not perceive; may hear and hear again, but not understand; otherwise they might be converted and be forgiven'.<sup>a</sup>

The parable of the sower explained

- 13 He said to them, 'Do you not understand this parable? Then how will you 14 understand any of the parables? •What the sower is sowing is the word. •Those 15 on the edge of the path where the word is sown are people who have no sooner heard it than Satan comes and carries away the word that was sown in them.
 16 Similarly, those who receive the seed on patches of rock are people who, when 17 first they hear the word, welcome it at once with joy. •But they have no root 18 in them, they do not last; should some trial come, or some persecution on 19 account of the word, they fall away at once. •Then there are others who receive 20 the seed in thorns. These have heard the word, •but the worries of this world, the lure of riches and all the other passions come in to choke the word, and so 20 it produces nothing. •And there are those who have received the seed in rich soil: they hear the word and accept it and yield a harvest, thirty and sixty and a hundredfold.'

Parable of the lamp

- 21 He also said to them, 'Would you bring in a lamp to put it under a tub or 22 under the bed? Surely you will put it on the lamp-stand? •For there is nothing hidden but it must be disclosed, nothing kept secret except to be brought to light.
 23 If anyone has ears to hear, let him listen to this.'

Parable of the measure

- 24 He also said to them, 'Take notice of what you are hearing. The amount you 25 measure out is the amount you will be given—and more besides; •for the man who has will be given more; from the man who has not, even what he has will be taken away.'

Parable of the seed growing by itself

He also said, 'This is what the kingdom of God is like. A man throws seed on 26 the land. •Night and day, while he sleeps, when he is awake, the seed is sprouting 27 and growing; how, he does not know. •Of its own accord the land produces first 28
the shoot, then the ear, then the full grain in the ear. •And when the crop is ready, 29 he loses no time: he starts to reap because the harvest has come.'

Parable of the mustard seed

He also said, 'What can we say the kingdom of God is like? What parable can 30 we find for it? •It is like a mustard seed which at the time of its sowing in the 31 soil is the smallest of all the seeds on earth; •yet once it is sown it grows into the 32 biggest shrub of them all and puts out big branches so that the birds of the air can shelter in its shade.'

The use of parables

Using many parables like these, he spoke the word to them, so far as they were 33 capable of understanding it. •He would not speak to them except in parables, 34 but he explained everything to his disciples when they were alone.

The calming of the storm

With the coming of evening that same day, he said to them, 'Let us cross over 35 to the other side'. •And leaving the crowd behind they took him, just as he was, 36 in the boat; and there were other boats with him. •Then it began to blow a gale 37 and the waves were breaking into the boat so that it was almost swamped. •But 38
he was in the stern, his head on the cushion, asleep. •They woke him and said 39 to him, 'Master, do you not care? We are going down!' And he woke up and rebuked the wind and said to the sea, 'Quiet now! Be calm!' And the wind dropped, and all was calm again. •Then he said to them, 'Why are you so 40 frightened? How is it that you have no faith?' •They were filled with awe and said 41 to one another, 'Who can this be? Even the wind and the sea obey him.'

The Gerasene demoniac

S They reached the country of the Gerasenes<sup>a</sup> on the other side of the lake, •and 1/2 no sooner had he left the boat than a man with an unclean spirit came out from the tombs towards him. •The man lived in the tombs and no one could 3 secure him any more, even with a chain; •because he had often been secured 4 with fetters and chains but had snapped the chains and broken the fetters, and no one had the strength to control him. •All night and all day, among the tombs 5 and in the mountains, he would howl and gash himself with stones. •Catching 6 sight of Jesus from a distance, he ran up and fell at his feet •and shouted at the 7 top of his voice, 'What do you want with me, Jesus, son of the Most High God?
Swear by God you will not torture me!'—For Jesus had been saying to him, 8
'Come out of the man, unclean spirit'. •'What is your name?' Jesus asked. 'My 9 name is legion,' he answered 'for there are many of us.' •And he begged him 10 earnestly not to send them out of the district. •Now there was there on the 11 mountainside a great herd of pigs feeding, •and the unclean spirits begged 12 him, 'Send us to the pigs, let us go into them'. •So he gave them leave. With that, 13 the unclean spirits came out and went into the pigs, and the herd of about two thousand pigs charged down the cliff into the lake, and there they were drowned.
The swineherds ran off and told their story in the town and in the country round 14 about; and the people came to see what had really happened. •They came to 15 Jesus and saw the demoniac sitting there, clothed and in his full senses—the very man who had had the legion in him before—and they were afraid. •And those 16 who had witnessed it reported what had happened to the demoniac and what had become of the pigs. •Then they began to implore Jesus to leave the neighbourhood. 17
As he was getting into the boat, the man who had been possessed begged to be 18

- 19 allowed to stay with him. •Jesus would not let him but said to him, 'Go home to your people and tell them all that the Lord in his mercy has done for you'.
 20 So the man went off and proceeded to spread throughout the Decapolis all that Jesus had done for him. And everyone was amazed.

Cure of the woman with a haemorrhage. The daughter of Jairus raised to life

- 21 When Jesus had crossed again in the boat to the other side, a large crowd
 22 gathered round him and he stayed by the lakeside. •Then one of the synagogue 23 officials came up, Jairus by name, and seeing him, fell at his feet •and pleaded with him earnestly, saying, 'My little daughter is desperately sick. Do come and 24 lay your hands on her to make her better and save her life.' •Jesus went with him and a large crowd followed him; they were pressing all round him.

- 25 Now there was a woman who had suffered from a haemorrhage for 26 twelve years; •after long and painful treatment under various doctors, she had spent all she had without being any the better for it, in fact, she was getting 27 worse. •She had heard about Jesus, and she came up behind him through the crowd
 28 and touched his cloak. •'If I can touch even his clothes,' she had told herself 29 'I shall be well again.' •And the source of the bleeding dried up instantly, and she 30 felt in herself that she was cured of her complaint. •Immediately aware that power had gone out from him, Jesus turned round in the crowd and said, 'Who 31 touched my clothes?' •His disciples said to him, 'You see how the crowd is 32 pressing round you and yet you say, "Who touched me?"' •But he continued 33 to look all round to see who had done it. •Then the woman came forward, frightened and trembling<sup>b</sup> because she knew what had happened to her, and she 34 fell at his feet and told him the whole truth. •'My daughter,' he said 'your faith has restored you to health; go in peace and be free from your complaint.'

- 35 While he was still speaking some people arrived from the house of the synagogue official to say, 'Your daughter is dead: why put the Master to any 36 further trouble?' •But Jesus had overheard this remark of theirs and he said to 37 the official, 'Do not be afraid; only have faith'. •And he allowed no one to go 38 with him except Peter and James and John the brother of James. •So they came to the official's house and Jesus noticed all the commotion, with people weeping 39 and wailing unrestrainedly. •He went in and said to them, 'Why all this 40 commotion and crying? The child is not dead, but asleep.' •But they laughed at him. So he turned them all out and, taking with him the child's father and mother and his own companions, he went into the place where the child lay.
 41 And taking the child by the hand he said to her, 'Talitha, kum!' which means, 42 'Little girl, I tell you to get up'. •The little girl got up at once and began to walk about, for she was twelve years old. At this they were overcome with astonishment, 43 and he ordered them strictly not to let anyone know about it, and told them to give her something to eat.

A visit to Nazareth

- 1 6 Going from that district, he went to his home town and his disciples accompa-
 2 nied him. •With the coming of the sabbath he began teaching in the synagogue and most of them were astonished when they heard him. They said, 'Where did 3 the man get all this? What is this wisdom that has been granted him, and these miracles that are worked through him? •This is the carpenter, surely, the son of Mary, the brother of James and Joset and Jude and Simon? His sisters, too, are 4 they not here with us?' And they would not accept him. •And Jesus said to them,
 'A prophet is only despised in his own country, among his own relations and 5 in his own house'; •and he could work no miracle there, though he cured a few
 6 sick people by laying his hands on them. •He was amazed at their lack of faith.

5 a. 'Gadarenes' in some versions. b. According to the Law, she was unclean, and to be touched by her would be defilement.

The mission of the Twelve

He made a tour round the villages, teaching. •Then he summoned the Twelve 7 and began to send them out in pairs giving them authority over the unclean spirits.
And he instructed them to take nothing for the journey except a staff—no bread, 8 no haversack, no coppers for their purses. •They were to wear sandals but, he 9 added, 'Do not take a spare tunic'. •And he said to them, 'If you enter a house 10 anywhere, stay there until you leave the district. •And if any place does not 11 welcome you and people refuse to listen to you, as you walk away shake off the dust from under your feet as a sign to them.' •So they set off to preach 12 repentance; •and they cast out many devils, and anointed many sick people with 13 oil and cured them.

Herod and Jesus

Meanwhile King Herod had heard about him, since by now his name was well- 14 known. Some were saying, 'John the Baptist has risen from the dead, and that is why miraculous powers are at work in him'. •Others said, 'He is Elijah'; 15 others again, 'He is a prophet, like the prophets we used to have'. •But when 16 Herod heard this he said, 'It is John whose head I cut off; he has risen from the dead'.

John the Baptist beheaded

Now it was this same Herod who had sent to have John arrested, and had 17 him chained up in prison because of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife whom he had married. •For John had told Herod, 'It is against the law for you to have 18 your brother's wife'. •As for Herodias, she was furious with him and wanted to 19 kill him; but she was not able to, •because Herod was afraid of John, knowing 20 him to be a good and holy man, and gave him his protection. When he had heard him speak he was greatly perplexed, and yet he liked to listen to him.

An opportunity came on Herod's birthday when he gave a banquet for the 21 nobles of his court, for his army officers and for the leading figures in Galilee.
When the daughter of this same Herodias came in and danced, she delighted 22
Herod and his guests; so the king said to the girl, 'Ask me anything you like and I will give it you'. •And he swore her an oath, 'I will give you anything you 23 ask, even half my kingdom'. •She went out and said to her mother, 'What shall 24
I ask for?' She replied, 'The head of John the Baptist'. •The girl hurried straight 25 back to the king and made her request, 'I want you to give me John the Baptist's head, here and now, on a dish'. •The king was deeply distressed but, thinking 26 of the oaths he had sworn and of his guests, he was reluctant to break his word to her. •So the king at once sent one of the bodyguard with orders to bring 27
John's head. •The man went off and beheaded him in prison; then he brought 28
the head on a dish and gave it to the girl, and the girl gave it to her mother.
When John's disciples heard about this, they came and took his body and laid 29 it in a tomb.

First miracle of the loaves

The apostles rejoined Jesus and told him all they had done and taught. 30
Then he said to them, 'You must come away to some lonely place all by yourselves and rest for a while'; for there were so many coming and going that the apostles 31 had no time even to eat. •So they went off in a boat to a lonely place where they 32 could be by themselves. •But people saw them going, and many could guess where; 33 and from every town they all hurried to the place on foot and reached it before them. •So as he stepped ashore he saw a large crowd; and he took pity on them 34 because they were like sheep without a shepherd, and he set himself to teach them at some length. •By now it was getting very late, and his disciples came up to him 35 and said, 'This is a lonely place and it is getting very late, •so send them away, 36 and they can go to the farms and villages round about, to buy themselves something to eat'. •He replied, 'Give them something to eat yourselves'. They answered, 'Are we to go and spend two hundred denarii on bread for them to eat?' •'How many loaves have you?' he asked. 'Go and see.' And when they had found out they said, 'Five, and two fish'. •Then he ordered them to get all the people together in groups on the green grass, •and they sat down on the ground in squares of hundreds and fifties. •Then he took the five loaves and the two fish, raised his eyes to heaven and said the blessing; then he broke the loaves and handed them to his disciples to distribute among the people. He also shared out the two fish among them all. •They all ate as much as they wanted. •They collected twelve basketfuls of scraps of bread and pieces of fish. •Those who had eaten the loaves numbered five thousand men.

Jesus walks on the water

Directly after this he made his disciples get into the boat and go on ahead to Bethsaida, while he himself sent the crowd away. •After saying good-bye to them he went off into the hills to pray. •When evening came, the boat was far out on the lake, and he was alone on the land. •He could see they were worn out with rowing, for the wind was against them; and about the fourth watch of the night he came towards them, walking on the lake. He was going to pass them by, but when they saw him walking on the lake they thought it was a ghost and cried out; •for they had all seen him and were terrified. But he at once spoke to them, and said, 'Courage! It is I! Do not be afraid.' •Then he got into the boat with them, and the wind dropped. They were utterly and completely dumbfounded, •because they had not seen what the miracle of the loaves meant; their minds were closed.

Cures at Gennesaret

Having made the crossing, they came to land at Gennesaret and tied up. •No sooner had they stepped out of the boat than people recognised him, •and started hurrying all through the countryside and brought the sick on stretchers to wherever they heard he was. •And wherever he went, to village, or town, or farm, they laid down the sick in the open spaces, begging him to let them touch even the fringe of his cloak. And all those who touched him were cured.

The traditions of the Pharisees

7 The Pharisees and some of the scribes who had come from Jerusalem gathered round him, •and they noticed that some of his disciples were eating with unclean hands, that is, without washing them. •For the Pharisees, and the Jews in general, follow the tradition of the elders and never eat without washing their arms as far as the elbow; •and on returning from the market place they never eat without first sprinkling themselves. There are also many other observances which have been handed down to them concerning the washing of cups and pots and bronze dishes. •So these Pharisees and scribes asked him, 'Why do your disciples not respect the tradition of the elders but eat their food with unclean hands?' •He answered, 'It was of you hypocrites that Isaiah so rightly prophesied in this passage of scripture:

*This people honours me only with lip-service,
while their hearts are far from me.*

7 *The worship they offer me is worthless,
the doctrines they teach are only human regulations."*

8 You put aside the commandment of God to cling to human traditions.' •And he said to them, 'How ingeniously you get round the commandment of God in order to preserve your own tradition! •For Moses said: Do your duty to your father and your mother, and, Anyone who curses father or mother must be put to death. •But you say, “If a man says to his father or mother: Anything I have 11 that I might have used to help you is Corban<sup>b</sup> (that is, dedicated to God), •then 12 he is forbidden from that moment to do anything for his father or mother”.

In this way you make God’s word null and void for the sake of your tradition 13 which you have handed down. And you do many other things like this.’

On clean and unclean

He called the people to him again and said, ‘Listen to me, all of you, and 14 understand. •Nothing that goes into a man from outside can make him unclean; 15 it is the things that come out of a man that make him unclean. •If anyone has 16 ears to hear, let him listen to this.’

When he had gone back into the house, away from the crowd, his disciples 17 questioned him about the parable. •He said to them, ‘Do you not understand 18 either? Can you not see that whatever goes into a man from outside cannot make him unclean, •because it does not go into his heart but through his stomach 19 and passes out into the sewer?’ (Thus he pronounced all foods clean.) •And he 20 went on, ‘It is what comes out of a man that makes him unclean. •For it is from 21 within, from men’s hearts, that evil intentions emerge: fornication, theft, murder, adultery, •avarice, malice, deceit, indecency, envy, slander, pride, folly. •All these 22 evil things come from within and make a man unclean.’ 23

JOURNEYS OUTSIDE GALILEE

The daughter of the Syrophenician woman healed

He left that place and set out for the territory of Tyre. There he went into 24 a house and did not want anyone to know he was there, but he could not pass 25 unrecognised. •A woman whose little daughter had an unclean spirit heard about 26 him straightaway and came and fell at his feet. •Now the woman was a pagan, by birth a Syrophenician, and she begged him to cast the devil out of her 27 daughter. •And he said to her, ‘The children should be fed first, because it is not 28 fair to take the children’s food and throw it to the house-dogs’. •But she spoke up: ‘Ah yes, sir,’ she replied ‘but the house-dogs under the table can eat the 29 children’s scraps’. •And he said to her, ‘For saying this, you may go home happy:
the devil has gone out of your daughter’. •So she went off to her home and found 30
the child lying on the bed and the devil gone.

Healing of the deaf man

Returning from the district of Tyre, he went by way of Sidon towards the Sea 31 of Galilee, right through the Decapolis region. •And they brought him a deaf 32 man who had an impediment in his speech; and they asked him to lay his hand on him. •He took him aside in private, away from the crowd, put his fingers into the 33 man’s ears and touched his tongue with spittle. •Then looking up to heaven he 34 sighed; and he said to him, ‘Ephphatha’, that is, ‘Be opened’. •And his ears were 35 opened, and the ligament of his tongue was loosened and he spoke clearly.
And Jesus ordered them to tell no one about it, but the more he insisted, the 36 more widely they published it. •Their admiration was unbounded. ‘He has done 37 all things well,’ they said ‘he makes the deaf hear and the dumb speak.’

Second miracle of the loaves

8 And now once again a great crowd had gathered, and they had nothing to eat. 1 8 So he called his disciples to him and said to them, •‘I feel sorry for all these 2 people; they have been with me for three days now and have nothing to eat.
If I send them off home hungry they will collapse on the way; some have come 3 a great distance.’ •His disciples replied, ‘Where could anyone get bread to feed 4 these people in a deserted place like this?’ •He asked them, ‘How many loaves 5

6 have you?' 'Seven' they said. •Then he instructed the crowd to sit down on the ground, and he took the seven loaves, and after giving thanks he broke them and handed them to his disciples to distribute; and they distributed them among the crowd. •They had a few small fish as well, and over these he said a blessing and ordered them to be distributed also. •They ate as much as they wanted, and they collected seven basketfuls of the scraps left over. •Now there had been about four thousand people. He sent them away •and immediately, getting into the boat with his disciples, went to the region of Dalmanutha.

The Pharisees ask for a sign from heaven

11 The Pharisees came up and started a discussion with him; they demanded of him a sign from heaven, to test him. •And with a sigh that came straight from the heart he said, 'Why does this generation demand a sign? I tell you solemnly, no sign shall be given to this generation.' •And leaving them again and re-embarking he went away to the opposite shore.

The yeast of the Pharisees and of Herod

14 The disciples had forgotten to take any food and they had only one loaf with them in the boat. •Then he gave them this warning, 'Keep your eyes open; be on your guard against the yeast of the Pharisees and the yeast of Herod'. •And they said to one another, 'It is because we have no bread'. •And Jesus knew it, and he said to them, 'Why are you talking about having no bread? Do you not yet understand? Have you no perception? Are your minds closed? •Have you not eyes that do not see, ears that do not hear?'<sup>a</sup> Or do you not remember? •When I broke the five loaves among the five thousand, how many baskets full of scraps did you collect?' They answered, 'Twelve'. •'And when I broke the seven loaves for the four thousand, how many baskets full of scraps did you collect?' And they answered, 'Seven'. •Then he said to them, 'Are you still without perception?'

Cure of a blind man at Bethsaida

22 They came to Bethsaida, and some people brought to him a blind man whom they begged him to touch. •He took the blind man by the hand and led him outside the village. Then putting spittle on his eyes and laying his hands on him, he asked, 'Can you see anything?' •The man, who was beginning to see, replied, 'I can see people; they look like trees to me, but they are walking about'. •Then he laid his hands on the man's eyes again and he saw clearly; he was cured, and he could see everything plainly and distinctly. •And Jesus sent him home, saying, 'Do not even go into the village'.

Peter's profession of faith

27 Jesus and his disciples left for the villages round Caesarea Philippi. On the way he put this question to his disciples, 'Who do people say I am?' •And they told him. 'John the Baptist,' they said 'others Elijah; others again, one of the prophets.' •'But you,' he asked 'who do you say I am?' Peter spoke up and said to him, 'You are the Christ'. •And he gave them strict orders not to tell anyone about him.

First prophecy of the Passion

31 And he began to teach them that the Son of Man was destined to suffer grievously, to be rejected by the elders and the chief priests and the scribes, and to be put to death, and after three days to rise again; •and he said all this quite openly. Then, taking him aside, Peter started to remonstrate with him. •But, turning and seeing his disciples, he rebuked Peter and said to him, 'Get behind me, Satan! Because the way you think is not God's way but man's.'

The condition of following Christ

He called the people and his disciples to him and said, 'If anyone wants to be 34 a follower of mine, let him renounce himself and take up his cross and follow me. •For anyone who wants to save his life will lose it; but anyone who loses his 35 life for my sake, and for the sake of the gospel, will save it. •What gain, then, is 36
it for a man to win the whole world and ruin his life? •And indeed what can 37 a man offer in exchange for his life? •For if anyone in this adulterous and sinful 38 generation is ashamed of me and of my words, the Son of Man will also be ashamed of him when he comes in the glory of his Father with the holy angels.'

9 And he said to them, 'I tell you solemnly, there are some standing here who 1 will not taste death before they see the kingdom of God come with power'.

The transfiguration

Six days later, Jesus took with him Peter and James and John and led them 2 up a high mountain where they could be alone by themselves. There in their presence he was transfigured: •his clothes became dazzlingly white, whiter 3 than any earthly bleacher could make them. •Elijah appeared to them with 4 Moses; and they were talking with Jesus. •Then Peter spoke to Jesus: 'Rabbi,' 5 he said 'it is wonderful for us to be here; so let us make three tents, one for you, one for Moses and one for Elijah'. •He did not know what to say; they were 6 so frightened. •And a cloud came, covering them in shadow; and there came 7 a voice from the cloud, 'This is my Son, the Beloved. Listen to him.' •Then 8 suddenly, when they looked round, they saw no one with them any more but only Jesus.

The question about Elijah

As they came down from the mountain he warned them to tell no one 9 what they had seen, until after the Son of Man had risen from the dead.
They observed the warning faithfully, though among themselves they discussed 10
what 'rising from the dead' could mean. •And they put this question to him, 11
'Why do the scribes say that Elijah has to come first?' •'True,' he said 'Elijah 12 is to come first and to see that everything is as it should be; yet how is it that the scriptures say about the Son of Man that he is to suffer grievously and be treated with contempt? •However, I tell you that Elijah has come and they have 13 treated him as they pleased, just as the scriptures say about him.'

The epileptic demoniac

When they rejoined the disciples they saw a large crowd round them and 14 some scribes arguing with them. •The moment they saw him the whole crowd were struck with amazement and ran to greet him. •'What are you arguing about 16 with them?' he asked. •A man answered him from the crowd, 'Master, I have 17 brought my son to you; there is a spirit of dumbness in him, •and when it 18 takes hold of him it throws him to the ground, and he foams at the mouth and grinds his teeth and goes rigid. And I asked your disciples to cast it out and they were unable to.' •'You faithless generation' he said to them in reply. 'How 19 much longer must I be with you? How much longer must I put up with you?
Bring him to me.' •They brought the boy to him, and as soon as the spirit 20 saw Jesus it threw the boy into convulsions, and he fell to the ground and lay writhing there, foaming at the mouth. •Jesus asked the father, 'How 21 long has this been happening to him?' 'From childhood,' he replied •and it 22 has often thrown him into the fire and into the water, in order to destroy him.
But if you can do anything, have pity on us and help us.' •'If you can?' retorted 23
Jesus. 'Everything is possible for anyone who has faith.' •Immediately the 24 father of the boy cried out, 'I do have faith. Help the little faith I have!' •And 25 when Jesus saw how many people were pressing round him, he rebuked the unclean spirit. 'Deaf and dumb spirit,' he said 'I command you: come out of him

26 and never enter him again.' •Then throwing the boy into violent convulsions it 27 came out shouting, and the boy lay there so like a corpse that most of them 28 said, 'He is dead'. •But Jesus took him by the hand and helped him up, and he 29 was able to stand. •When he had gone indoors his disciples asked him privately, 30 'Why were we unable to cast it out?' •'This is the kind' he answered 'that can only be driven out by prayer.'

Second prophecy of the Passion

30 After leaving that place they made their way through Galilee; and he did 31 not want anyone to know, •because he was instructing his disciples; he was telling them, 'The Son of Man will be delivered into the hands of men; they will put him to death; and three days after he has been put to death he will rise again'.
 32 But they did not understand what he said and were afraid to ask him.

Who is the greatest?

33 They came to Capernaum, and when he was in the house he asked them, 34 'What were you arguing about on the road?' •They said nothing because they 35 had been arguing which of them was the greatest. •So he sat down, called the Twelve to him and said, 'If anyone wants to be first, he must make himself last 36 of all and servant of all'. •He then took a little child, set him in front of them, 37 put his arms round him, and said to them, •'Anyone who welcomes one of these little children in my name, welcomes me; and anyone who welcomes me welcomes not me but the one who sent me'.

On using the name of Jesus

38 John said to him, 'Master, we saw a man who is not one of us casting out devils in your name; and because he was not one of us we tried to stop him'.
 39 But Jesus said, 'You must not stop him: no one who works a miracle in my name 40 is likely to speak evil of me. •Anyone who is not against us is for us.

Charity shown to Christ's disciples

41 'If anyone gives you a cup of water to drink just because you belong to Christ, then I tell you solemnly, he will most certainly not lose his reward.

On leading others astray

42 'But anyone who is an obstacle to bring down one of these little ones who have faith, would be better thrown into the sea with a great millstone round 43 his neck. •And if your hand should cause you to sin, cut it off; it is better for you to enter into life crippled, than to have two hands and go to hell, into the fire that 45 cannot be put out. •And if your foot should cause you to sin, cut it off; it is better for you to enter into life lame, than to have two feet and be thrown into 47 hell. •And if your eye should cause you to sin, tear it out; it is better for you to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, than to have two eyes and be thrown 48 into hell •where their worm does not die nor their fire go out.<sup>a</sup> •For everyone will 49 be salted with fire. •Salt is a good thing, but if salt has become insipid, how can 50 you season it again? Have salt in yourselves and be at peace with one another.'

The question about divorce

1 10 Leaving there, he came to the district of Judaea and the far side of the 2 Jordan. And again crowds gathered round him, and again he taught them, 3 as his custom was. •Some Pharisees approached him and asked, 'Is it against 4 the law for a man to divorce his wife?' They were testing him. •He answered
 5 them, 'What did Moses command you?' •'Moses allowed us' they said 'to draw up a writ of dismissal and so to divorce.' •Then Jesus said to them, 'It was because you were so unteachable that he wrote this commandment for you. But from the beginning of creation God made them male and female. •This is why a man must leave father and mother, •and the two become one body.<sup>6</sup> They are no longer two, therefore, but one body.<sup>7</sup> •So then, what God has united, man must not divide.<sup>8</sup> •Back in the house the disciples questioned him again about this, •and he said to them, 'The man who divorces his wife and marries another is guilty of adultery against her. •And if a woman divorces her husband and marries another she is guilty of adultery too.'<sup>9</sup>

<sup>10</sup>
<sup>11</sup>

Jesus and the children

People were bringing little children to him, for him to touch them. The disciples turned them away, •but when Jesus saw this he was indignant and said to them, 'Let the little children come to me; do not stop them; for it is to such as these that the kingdom of God belongs. •I tell you solemnly, anyone who does not welcome the kingdom of God like a little child will never enter it.'<sup>13</sup>
<sup>14</sup>
<sup>15</sup>
<sup>16</sup> Then he put his arms round them, laid his hands on them and gave them his blessing.

The rich young man

He was setting out on a journey when a man ran up, knelt before him and put this question to him, 'Good master, what must I do to inherit eternal life?' Jesus said to him, 'Why do you call me good? No one is good but God alone. You know the commandments: You must not kill; You must not commit adultery; You must not steal; You must not bring false witness; You must not defraud; Honour your father and mother.' •And he said to him, 'Master, I have kept all these from my earliest days'. •Jesus looked steadily at him and loved him, and he said, 'There is one thing you lack. Go and sell everything you own and give the money to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; then come, follow me.' •But his face fell at these words and he went away sad, for he was a man of great wealth.<sup>17</sup>
<sup>18</sup>
<sup>19</sup>
<sup>20</sup>
<sup>21</sup>

The danger of riches

Jesus looked round and said to his disciples, 'How hard it is for those who have riches to enter the kingdom of God!' •The disciples were astounded by these words, but Jesus insisted, 'My children,' he said to them 'how hard it is to enter the kingdom of God! •It is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God.' •They were more astonished than ever. 'In that case' they said to one another 'who can be saved?' Jesus gazed at them. 'For men' he said 'it is impossible, but not for God: because everything is possible for God.'<sup>23</sup>
<sup>24</sup>
<sup>25</sup>
<sup>26</sup>
<sup>27</sup>

The reward of renunciation

Peter took this up. 'What about us?' he asked him. 'We have left everything and followed you.' •Jesus said, 'I tell you solemnly, there is no one who has left house, brothers, sisters, father, children or land for my sake and for the sake of the gospel •who will not be repaid a hundred times over, houses, brothers, sisters, mothers, children and land—not without persecutions—now in this present time and, in the world to come, eternal life.'<sup>28</sup>
<sup>29</sup>
<sup>30</sup>
<sup>31</sup> 'Many who are first will be last, and the last first.'

Third prophecy of the Passion

They were on the road, going up to Jerusalem; Jesus was walking on ahead of them; they were in a daze, and those who followed were apprehensive. Once more taking the Twelve aside he began to tell them what was going to happen to him: •'Now we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man is about to be handed over to the chief priests and the scribes. They will condemn him<sup>32</sup>

34 to death and will hand him over to the pagans, •who will mock him and spit at him and scourge him and put him to death; and after three days he will rise again.'

The sons of Zebedee make their request

35 James and John, the sons of Zebedee, approached him. 'Master,' they said
36 to him 'we want you to do us a favour.' •He said to them, 'What is it you want 37 me to do for you?' •They said to him, 'Allow us to sit one at your right hand 38 and the other at your left in your glory'. •'You do not know what you are asking'
Jesus said to them. 'Can you drink the cup that I must drink, or be baptised 39 with the baptism with which I must be baptised?' •They replied, 'We can'.
Jesus said to them, 'The cup that I must drink you shall drink, and with the 40 baptism with which I must be baptised you shall be baptised, •but as for seats at my right hand or my left, these are not mine to grant; they belong to those to whom they have been allotted'.

Leadership with service

41 When the other ten heard this they began to feel indignant with James and 42 John, •so Jesus called them to him and said to them, 'You know that among the pagans their so-called rulers lord it over them, and their great men make their 43 authority felt. •This is not to happen among you. No; anyone who wants to become 44 great among you must be your servant, •and anyone who wants to be first 45 among you must be slave to all. •For the Son of Man himself did not come to be served but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many.'

The blind man of Jericho

46 They reached Jericho; and as he left Jericho with his disciples and a large crowd, Bartimaeus (that is, the son of Timaeus), a blind beggar, was sitting at the 47 side of the road. •When he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to shout 48 and to say, 'Son of David, Jesus, have pity on me'. •And many of them scolded him and told him to keep quiet, but he only shouted all the louder, 'Son of David, 49 have pity on me'. •Jesus stopped and said, 'Call him here'. So they called the 50 blind man. 'Courage,' they said 'get up; he is calling you.' •So throwing off his cloak, he jumped up and went to Jesus. •Then Jesus spoke, 'What do you want 51 me to do for you?' 'Rabbuni,' the blind man said to him 'Master, let me see 52 again.' •Jesus said to him, 'Go; your faith has saved you'. And immediately his sight returned and he followed him along the road.

THE JERUSALEM MINISTRY

The Messiah enters Jerusalem

1 11 When they were approaching Jerusalem, in sight of Bethphage and Bethany,
2 close by the Mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples •and said to them,
'Go off to the village facing you, and as soon as you enter it you will find a tethered 3 colt that no one has yet ridden. Untie it and bring it here. •If anyone says to you, "What are you doing?" say, "The Master needs it and will send 4 it back here directly"'. •They went off and found a colt tethered near a door in 5 the open street. As they untied it, •some men standing there said, 'What are you 6 doing, untying that colt?' •They gave the answer Jesus had told them, and the 7 men let them go. •Then they took the colt to Jesus and threw their cloaks on its 8 back, and he sat on it. •Many people spread their cloaks on the road, others green-9 ery which they had cut in the fields. •And those who went in front and those who followed were all shouting, 'Hosanna! Blessings on him who comes in the name of the Lord!<sup>12</sup> •Blessings on the coming kingdom of our father David! Hosanna 10 in the highest heavens!' •He entered Jerusalem and went into the Temple. He 11 looked all round him, but as it was now late, he went out to Bethany with the Twelve.

10 a. Gn 1:27; 2:24 b. Aramaic: 'My master'.

The barren fig tree

Next day as they were leaving Bethany, he felt hungry. •Seeing a fig tree in 12 leaf some distance away, he went to see if he could find any fruit on it, but when 13 he came up to it he found nothing but leaves; for it was not the season for figs. And he addressed the fig tree. 'May no one ever eat fruit from you again' he 14 said. And his disciples heard him say this.

The expulsion of the dealers from the Temple

So they reached Jerusalem and he went into the Temple and began driving 15 out those who were selling and buying there; he upset the tables of the money changers and the chairs of those who were selling pigeons. •Nor would he allow 16 anyone to carry anything through the Temple. •And he taught them and said, 17 'Does not scripture say: My house will be called a house of prayer for all the peoples?<sup>20</sup> But you have turned it into a robbers' den.'<sup>c</sup> •This came to the ears 18 of the chief priests and the scribes, and they tried to find some way of doing away with him; they were afraid of him because the people were carried away 19 by his teaching. •And when evening came he went out of the city.

The fig tree withered. Faith and prayer

Next morning, as they passed by, they saw the fig tree withered to the roots. 20 Peter remembered. 'Look, Rabbi,' he said to Jesus 'the fig tree you cursed has 21 withered away.' •Jesus answered, 'Have faith in God. •I tell you solemnly, 22 if anyone says to this mountain, "Get up and throw yourself into the sea", with no 23 hesitation in his heart but believing that what he says will happen, it will be done for him. •I tell you therefore: everything you ask and pray for, believe that you 24 have it already, and it will be yours. •And when you stand in prayer, forgive 25 whatever you have against anybody, so that your Father in heaven may forgive your failings too.'

The authority of Jesus is questioned

They came to Jerusalem again, and as Jesus was walking in the Temple, the 27 chief priests and the scribes and the elders came to him, •and they said to him, 28 'What authority have you for acting like this? Or who gave you authority to do these things?' •Jesus said to them, 'I will ask you a question, only one; answer 29 me and I will tell you my authority for acting like this. •John's baptism: did it 30 come from heaven, or from man? Answer me that.' •And they argued it out 31 this way among themselves: 'If we say from heaven, he will say, "Then why did you refuse to believe him?" •But dare we say from man?"—they had the people 32 to fear, for everyone held that John was a real prophet. •So their reply to Jesus 33 was, 'We do not know'. And Jesus said to them, 'Nor will I tell you my authority for acting like this'.

Parable of the wicked husbandmen

12 He went on to speak to them in parables, 'A man planted a vineyard; he 1 fenced it round, dug out a trough for the winepress and built a tower; then he leased it to tenants and went abroad. •When the time came, he sent a servant 2 to the tenants to collect from them his share of the produce from the vineyard. But they seized the man, thrashed him and sent him away empty-handed. •Next 3 he sent another servant to them; him they beat about the head and treated 4

5 shamefully. •And he sent another and him they killed; then a number of others,
6 and they thrashed some and killed the rest. •He had still someone left: his beloved 7 son. He sent him to them last of all. "They will respect my son" he said. •But 8 those tenants said to each other, "This is the heir. Come on, let us kill him, and the 9 inheritance will be ours." •So they seized him and killed him and threw him out 10 of the vineyard. •Now what will the owner of the vineyard do? He will come and make an end of the tenants and give the vineyard to others. •Have you not read this text of scripture:

*It was the stone rejected by the builders
that became the keystone.
This was the Lord's doing and it is wonderful to see?<sup>a</sup>*

11 12 And they would have liked to arrest him, because they realised that the parable was aimed at them, but they were afraid of the crowds. So they left him alone and went away.

On tribute to Caesar

13 Next they sent to him some Pharisees and some Herodians to catch him out 14 in what he said. •These came and said to him, 'Master, we know you are an honest man, that you are not afraid of anyone, because a man's rank means nothing to you, and that you teach the way of God in all honesty. Is it permissible to 15 pay taxes to Caesar or not? Should we pay, yes or no?' •Seeing through their hypocrisy he said to them, 'Why do you set this trap for me? Hand me a 16 denarius and let me see it.' •They handed him one and he said, 'Whose head 17 is this? Whose name?' 'Caesar's' they told him. •Jesus said to them, 'Give back to Caesar what belongs to Caesar—and to God what belongs to God'. This reply took them completely by surprise.

The resurrection of the dead

18 Then some Sadducees—who deny that there is a resurrection—came to 19 him and they put this question to him, 'Master, we have it from Moses in writing, if a man's brother dies leaving a wife but no child, the man must 20 marry the widow to raise up children for his brother. •Now there were seven 21 brothers. The first married a wife and then died leaving no children. •The second married the widow, and he too died leaving no children; with the third it was 22 the same, •and none of the seven left any children. Last of all the woman herself 23 died. •Now at the resurrection, when they rise again, whose wife will she be, since she had been married to all seven?'
24 Jesus said to them, 'Is not the reason why you go wrong, that you understand 25 neither the scriptures nor the power of God? •For when they rise from the dead, 26 men and women do not marry; no, they are like the angels in heaven. •Now about the dead rising again, have you never read in the Book of Moses, in the passage about the Bush, how God spoke to him and said: I am the God of 27 Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob?•He is God, not of the dead, but of the living. You are very much mistaken.'

The greatest commandment of all

28 One of the scribes who had listened to them debating and had observed how well Jesus had answered them, now came up and put a question to him, 'Which 29 is the first of all the commandments?' •Jesus replied, 'This is the first: Listen, 30 Israel, the Lord our God is the one Lord, •and you must love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, with all your mind and with all your strength.<sup>c</sup> 31 The second is this: You must love your neighbour as yourself.<sup>d</sup>There is no com-32 mandment greater than these.' •The scribe said to him, 'Well spoken, Master;

11 a. Ps 118:25-26 b. Is 56:7 c. Jr 7:11

12 a. Ps 118:22-23 b. Ex 3:6 c. Dt 6:4-5 d. Lv 19:18

what you have said is true: that he is one and there is no other. •To love him with 33 all your heart, with all your understanding and strength, and to love your neighbour as yourself, this is far more important than any holocaust or sacrifice.’
Jesus, seeing how wisely he had spoken, said, ‘You are not far from the kingdom 34 of God’. And after that no one dared to question him any more.

Christ not only son but also Lord of David

Later, while teaching in the Temple, Jesus said, ‘How can the scribes maintain 35 that the Christ is the son of David? •David himself, moved by the Holy Spirit, 36 said:

*The Lord said to my Lord:
Sit at my right hand
and I will put your enemies
under your feet.’*

David himself calls him Lord, in what way then can he be his son?’ And the 37 great majority of the people heard this with delight.

The scribes condemned by Jesus

In his teaching he said, ‘Beware of the scribes who like to walk about 38 in long robes, to be greeted obsequiously in the market squares, •to take 39 the front seats in the synagogues and the places of honour at banquets; •these 40 are the men who swallow the property of widows, while making a show of lengthy prayers. The more severe will be the sentence they receive.’

The widow’s mite

He sat down opposite the treasury and watched the people putting money 41 into the treasury, and many of the rich put in a great deal. •A poor widow came 42 and put in two small coins, the equivalent of a penny. •Then he called 43 his disciples and said to them, ‘I tell you solemnly, this poor widow has put more in than all who have contributed to the treasury; •for they have all put 44 in money they had over, but she from the little she had has put in everything she possessed, all she had to live on’.

The eschatological discourse: introduction

13 As he was leaving the Temple one of his disciples said to him, ‘Look at the 1 size of those stones, Master! Look at the size of those buildings!’ •And 2 Jesus said to him, ‘You see these great buildings? Not a single stone will be left on another: everything will be destroyed.’

And while he was sitting facing the Temple, on the Mount of Olives, Peter, 3
James, John and Andrew questioned him privately, •‘Tell us, when is this going 4 to happen, and what sign will there be that all this is about to be fulfilled?’

The beginning of sorrows

Then Jesus began to tell them, ‘Take care that no one deceives you. •Many will 5 come using my name and saying, “I am he”, and they will deceive many. •When 6 you hear of wars and rumours of wars, do not be alarmed, this is something that must happen, but the end will not be yet. •For nation will fight against nation, 8 and kingdom against kingdom. There will be earthquakes here and there; there will be famines. This is the beginning of the birthpangs.

•Be on your guard: they will hand you over to sanhedrins; you will be beaten 9 in synagogues; and you will stand before governors and kings for my sake, to bear witness before them, •since the Good News must first be proclaimed 10 to all the nations.

•And when they lead you away to hand you over, do not worry beforehand 11 about what to say; no, say whatever is given to you when the time comes, because it is not you who will be speaking: it will be the Holy Spirit. •Brother will betray 12

brother to death, and the father his child; children will rise against their parents 13 and have them put to death. •You will be hated by all men on account of my name; but the man who stands firm to the end will be saved.

The great tribulation of Jerusalem

14 'When you see the disastrous abomination<sup>a</sup> set up where it ought not to be (let the reader understand), then those in Judaea must escape to the mountains;
 15 if a man is on the housetop, he must not come down to go into the house to 16 collect any of his belongings; •if a man is in the fields, he must not turn back 17 to fetch his cloak. •Alas for those with child, or with babies at the breast, when 18 those days come! •Pray that this may not be in winter. •For in those days there 19 will be such distress as, until now, has not been<sup>b</sup> equalled since the beginning when 20 God created the world, nor ever will be again. •And if the Lord had not shortened that time, no one would have survived; but he did shorten the time, for the sake of the elect whom he chose.
 21 'And if anyone says to you then, "Look, here is the Christ" or, "Look, he 22 is there", do not believe it; •for false Christs and false prophets will arise and 23 produce signs and portents to deceive the elect, if that were possible. •You therefore must be on your guard. I have forewarned you of everything.

The coming of the Son of Man

24 'But in those days, after that time of distress, the sun will be darkened, the 25 moon will lose its brightness, •the stars will come falling from heaven and the 26 powers in the heavens will be shaken. •And then they will see the Son of Man 27 coming in the clouds with great power and glory; •then too he will send the angels to gather his chosen from the four winds, from the ends of the world to the ends of heaven.

The time of this coming

28 'Take the fig tree as a parable: as soon as its twigs grow supple and its leaves
 29 come out, you know that summer is near. •So with you when you see these things 30 happening: know that he is near, at the very gates. •I tell you solemnly, before this generation has passed away all these things will have taken 31 place. •Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away.
 32 'But as for that day or hour, nobody knows it, neither the angels of heaven, nor the Son; no one but the Father.

Be on the alert

33 'Be on your guard, stay awake, because you never know when the time will 34 come. •It is like a man travelling abroad: he has gone from home, and left his servants in charge, each with his own task; and he has told the doorkeeper to 35 stay awake. •So stay awake, because you do not know when the master of the 36 house is coming, evening, midnight, cockcrow, dawn; •if he comes unexpectedly, 37 he must not find you asleep. •And what I say to you I say to all: Stay awake!'

PASSION AND RESURRECTION

The conspiracy against Jesus

1 14 It was two days before the Passover and the feast of Unleavened Bread, and the chief priests and the scribes were looking for a way to arrest Jesus by 2 some trick and have him put to death. •For they said, 'It must not be during the festivities, or there will be a disturbance among the people'.

12 e. Ps 110:1

13 a. Dn 9:27, and ch. 11,12 b. Dn 12:1

The anointing at Bethany

Jesus was at Bethany in the house of Simon the leper; he was at dinner when 3 a woman came in with an alabaster jar of very costly ointment, pure nard. She 4 broke the jar and poured the ointment on his head. •Some who were there said 4 to one another indignantly, 'Why this waste of ointment? •Ointment like this 5 could have been sold for over three hundred denarii and the money given to the 6 poor'; and they were angry with her. •But Jesus said, 'Leave her alone. Why 6 are you upsetting her? What she has done for me is one of the good works. 7
 You have the poor with you always, and you can be kind to them whenever you 7 wish, but you will not always have me. •She has done what was in her power to 8 do: she has anointed my body beforehand for its burial. •I tell you solemnly, 9 wherever throughout all the world the Good News is proclaimed, what she has 9 done will be told also, in remembrance of her.'

Judas betrays Jesus

Judas Iscariot, one of the Twelve, approached the chief priests with an offer 10 to hand Jesus over to them. •They were delighted to hear it, and promised to 11 give him money; and he looked for a way of betraying him when the opportunity 11 should occur.

Preparations for the Passover supper

On the first day of Unleavened Bread, when the Passover lamb was sacrificed, 12 his disciples said to him, 'Where do you want us to go and make the preparations 12 for you to eat the passover?' •So he sent two of his disciples, saying to them, 13
 'Go into the city and you will meet a man carrying a pitcher of water. Follow him, 14 and say to the owner of the house which he enters, "The Master says: Where 14 is my dining room in which I can eat the passover with my disciples?" •He will 15 show you a large upper room furnished with couches, all prepared. Make the 15 preparations for us there.' •The disciples set out and went to the city and 16 found everything as he had told them, and prepared the Passover.

The treachery of Judas foretold

When evening came he arrived with the Twelve. •And while they were at 17
 table eating, Jesus said, 'I tell you solemnly, one of you is about to betray 18 me, one of you eating with me'. •They were distressed and asked him, one after 19 another, 'Not I, surely?' •He said to them, 'It is one of the Twelve, one who is 20 dipping into the same dish with me. •Yes, the Son of Man is going to his fate, 21 as the scriptures say he will, but alas for that man by whom the Son of Man 21 is betrayed! Better for that man if he had never been born!'

The institution of the Eucharist

And as they were eating he took some bread, and when he had said the blessing 22 he broke it and gave it to them. 'Take it,' he said 'this is my body.' •Then he took 23
 a cup, and when he had returned thanks he gave it to them, and all drank from 23
 it, •and he said to them, 'This is my blood, the blood of the covenant, which is 24 to be poured out for many. •I tell you solemnly, I shall not drink any more wine 25 until the day I drink the new wine in the kingdom of God.'

Peter's denial foretold

After psalms had been sung they left for the Mount of Olives. •And Jesus 26 said to them, 'You will all lose faith, for the scripture says: I shall strike 27
the shepherd and the sheep will be scattered,' •however after my resurrection I shall 28 go before you to Galilee'. •Peter said, 'Even if all lose faith, I will not'. •And 29
 Jesus said to him, 'I tell you solemnly, this day, this very night, before 30 the cock crows twice, you will have disowned me three times'. •But he repeated 31 still more earnestly, 'If I have to die with you, I will never disown you'. And they all said the same.

Gethsemane

32 They came to a small estate called Gethsemane, and Jesus said to his disciples, 33 'Stay here while I pray'. •Then he took Peter and James and John with him.
 34 And a sudden fear came over him, and great distress. •And he said to them, 'My 35 soul is sorrowful to the point of death. Wait here, and keep awake.' •And going 36 on a little further he threw himself on the ground and prayed that, if it were 36 possible, this hour might pass him by. •'Abba (Father)!' he said 'Everything is possible for you. Take this cup away from me. But let it be as you, not I, would 37 have it.' •He came back and found them sleeping, and he said to Peter, 'Simon, 38 are you asleep? Had you not the strength to keep awake one hour? •You should be awake, and praying not to be put to the test. The spirit is willing, but the flesh 39 is weak.' •Again he went away and prayed, saying the same words. •And 40 once more he came back and found them sleeping, their eyes were so heavy; and 41 they could find no answer for him. •He came back a third time and said to them,
 'You can sleep on now and take your rest. It is all over. The hour has come. Now 42 the Son of Man is to be betrayed into the hands of sinners. •Get up! Let us go!
 My betrayer is close at hand already.'

The arrest

43 Even while he was still speaking, Judas, one of the Twelve, came up with a number of men armed with swords and clubs, sent by the chief priests and 44 the scribes and the elders. •Now the traitor had arranged a signal with them.
 'The one I kiss,' he had said 'he is the man. Take him in charge, and see he is 45 well guarded when you lead him away.' •So when the traitor came, he went 46 straight up to Jesus and said, 'Rabbi!' and kissed him. •The others seized him 47 and took him in charge. •Then one of the bystanders drew his sword and struck out at the high priest's servant, and cut off his ear.
 48 Then Jesus spoke. 'Am I a brigand' he said 'that you had to set out to 49 capture me with swords and clubs? •I was among you teaching in the Temple day after day and you never laid hands on me. But this is to fulfil the scriptures.'
 50 And they all deserted him and ran away. •A young man who followed him had 51 nothing on but a linen cloth. They caught hold of him, •but he left the cloth 52 in their hands and ran away naked.

Jesus before the Sanhedrin

53 They led Jesus off to the high priest; and all the chief priests and the elders 54 and the scribes assembled there. •Peter had followed him at a distance, right into the high priest's palace, and was sitting with the attendants warming himself at the fire.
 55 The chief priests and the whole Sanhedrin were looking for evidence against Jesus on which they might pass the death-sentence. But they could not find any.
 56 Several, indeed, brought false evidence against him, but their evidence was 57 conflicting. •Some stood up and submitted this false evidence against him, 58 'We heard him say, "I am going to destroy this Temple made by human hands, 59 and in three days build another, not made by human hands" '. •But even on 60 this point their evidence was conflicting. •The high priest then stood up before the whole assembly and put this question to Jesus, 'Have you no answer to that?
 61 What is this evidence these men are bringing against you?' •But he was silent and made no answer at all. The high priest put a second question to him, 'Are 62 you the Christ,' he said 'the Son of the Blessed One?' •'I am,' said Jesus 'and 63 you will see the Son of Man seated at the right hand of the Power and coming with the clouds of heaven.'<sup>b</sup> •The high priest tore his robes, 'What need of witnesses have we now?' he said. •'You heard the blasphemy. What is your finding?' And they 64 all gave their verdict: he deserved to die.

Some of them started spitting at him and, blindfolding him, began hitting 65 him with their fists and shouting, 'Play the prophet!' And the attendants rained blows on him.

Peter's denials

While Peter was down below in the courtyard, one of the high priest's 66 servant-girls came up. •She saw Peter warming himself there, stared at him and 67 said, 'You too were with Jesus, the man from Nazareth'. •But he denied it. 68
'I do not know, I do not understand, what you are talking about' he said. And he went out into the forecourt. •The servant-girl saw him and again started 69 telling the bystanders, 'This fellow is one of them'. •But again he denied it. 70
A little later the bystanders themselves said to Peter, 'You are one of them for sure! Why, you are a Galilean.' •But he started calling down curses on himself 71 and swearing, 'I do not know the man you speak of'. •At that moment the 72 cock crew for the second time, and Peter recalled how Jesus had said to him, 'Before the cock crows twice, you will have disowned me three times'. And he burst into tears.

Jesus before Pilate

15 First thing in the morning, the chief priests together with the elders and 1 scribes, in short the whole Sanhedrin, had their plan ready. They had Jesus bound and took him away and handed him over to Pilate.

Pilate questioned him, 'Are you the king of the Jews?' 'It is you who say it' 2
he answered. •And the chief priests brought many accusations against him. 3 Pilate questioned him again, 'Have you no reply at all? See how many accusations they are bringing against you!' •But, to Pilate's amazement, Jesus made no 5 further reply.

At festival time Pilate used to release a prisoner for them, anyone they asked 6 for. •Now a man called Barabbas was then in prison with the rioters who had committed murder during the uprising. •When the crowd went up and began to 8 ask Pilate the customary favour, •Pilate answered them, 'Do you want me to release for you the king of the Jews?' •For he realised it was out of jealousy that 10 the chief priests had handed Jesus over. •The chief priests, however, had incited the crowd to demand that he should release Barabbas for them instead. •Then 12 Pilate spoke again. 'But in that case,' he said to them 'what am I to do with the man you call king of the Jews?' •They shouted back, 'Crucify him!' •'Why?' Pilate 13 asked them. 'What harm has he done?' But they shouted all the louder, 'Crucify 14 him!' •So Pilate, anxious to placate the crowd, released Barabbas for them and, 15 having ordered Jesus to be scourged, handed him over to be crucified.

Jesus crowned with thorns

The soldiers led him away to the inner part of the palace, that is, the Prae- 16
torium, and called the whole cohort together. •They dressed him up in purple, 17 twisted some thorns into a crown and put it on him. •And they began saluting him, 'Hail, king of the Jews!' •They struck his head with a reed and spat on him; 19 and they went down on their knees to do him homage. •And when they had 20 finished making fun of him, they took off the purple and dressed him in his own clothes.

The way of the cross

They led him out to crucify him. •They enlisted a passer-by, Simon of Cyrene, 21 father of Alexander and Rufus,<sup>a</sup> who was coming in from the country, to carry his cross. •They brought Jesus to the place called Golgotha, which means the 22 place of the skull.

The crucifixion

23 They offered him wine mixed with myrrh, but he refused it. •Then they 24 crucified him, and shared out his clothing, casting lots to decide what each should 25 get. •It was the third hour<sup>b</sup> when they crucified him. •The inscription giving the 26 charge against him read: 'The King of the Jews'. •And they crucified two robbers 27 with him, one on his right and one on his left.

The crucified Christ is mocked

29 The passers-by jeered at him; they shook their heads and said, 'Aha! So you 30 would destroy the Temple and rebuild it in three days! •Then save yourself:
31 come down from the cross!' •The chief priests and the scribes mocked him among themselves in the same way. 'He saved others,' they said 'he cannot save 32 himself. •Let the Christ, the king of Israel, come down from the cross now, for us to see it and believe.' Even those who were crucified with him taunted him.

The death of Jesus

33 When the sixth hour came there was darkness over the whole land until the 34 ninth hour. •And at the ninth hour Jesus cried out in a loud voice, 'Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani?' which means, 'My God, my God, why have you deserted me?'<sup>c</sup> 35 When some of those who stood by heard this, they said, 'Listen, he is calling on 36 Elijah'. •Someone ran and soaked a sponge in vinegar and, putting it on a reed, gave it him to drink saying, 'Wait and see if Elijah will come to take him down'.
37 But Jesus gave a loud cry and breathed his last. •And the veil of the Temple was 38 torn in two from top to bottom. •The centurion, who was standing in front of 39 him, had seen how he had died, and he said, 'In truth this man was a son of God'.

The women on Calvary

40 There were some women watching from a distance. Among them were Mary of Magdala, Mary who was the mother of James the younger and Joset, and 41 Salome. •These used to follow him and look after him when he was in Galilee.
And there were many other women there who had come up to Jerusalem with him.

The burial

42 It was now evening, and since it was Preparation Day (that is, the vigil of the 43 sabbath), •there came Joseph of Arimathaea, a prominent member of the Council, who himself lived in the hope of seeing the kingdom of God, and he 44 boldly went to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus. •Pilate, astonished that he should have died so soon, summoned the centurion and enquired if he was 45 already dead. •Having been assured of this by the centurion, he granted the 46 corpse to Joseph •who bought a shroud, took Jesus down from the cross, wrapped him in the shroud and laid him in a tomb which had been hewn out 47 of the rock. He then rolled a stone against the entrance to the tomb. •Mary of Magdala and Mary the mother of Joset were watching and took note of where he was laid.

The empty tomb. The angel's message

1 16 When the sabbath was over, Mary of Magdala, Mary the mother of James,
2 and Salome, bought spices with which to go and anoint him. •And very early in the morning on the first day of the week they went to the tomb, just as the sun was rising.
3 They had been saying to one another, 'Who will roll away the stone for us

15 a. Alexander and Rufus were doubtless known to the Roman circle in which Mark wrote his gospel. Cf. Rm 16:13. b. 9 a.m. c. Ps 22:1

from the entrance to the tomb?' •But when they looked they could see that the 4 stone—which was very big—had already been rolled back. •On entering the 5 tomb they saw a young man in a white robe seated on the right-hand side, and they were struck with amazement. •But he said to them, 'There is no need for 6 alarm. You are looking for Jesus of Nazareth, who was crucified: he has risen, he is not here. See, here is the place where they laid him. •But you must go and 7 tell his disciples and Peter, "He is going before you to Galilee; it is there you will see him, just as he told you".' •And the women came out and ran away 8 from the tomb because they were frightened out of their wits; and they said nothing to a soul, for they were afraid. . .

Appearances of the risen Christ<sup>a</sup>

Having risen in the morning on the first day of the week, he appeared first to 9
Mary of Magdala from whom he had cast out seven devils. •She then went to those 10 who had been his companions, and who were mourning and in tears, and told them. •But they did not believe her when they heard her say that he was alive 11 and that she had seen him.

After this, he showed himself under another form to two of them as they 12 were on their way into the country. •These went back and told the others, who 13 did not believe them either.

Lastly, he showed himself to the Eleven themselves while they were at table. 14
He reproached them for their incredulity and obstinacy, because they had refused to believe those who had seen him after he had risen. •And he said to them, 15
'Go out to the whole world; proclaim the Good News to all creation. •He who 16 believes and is baptised will be saved; he who does not believe will be condemned.
These are the signs that will be associated with believers: in my name they will cast 17 out devils; they will have the gift of tongues; •they will pick up snakes in their 18 hands, and be unharmed should they drink deadly poison; they will lay their hands on the sick, who will recover.'

And so the Lord Jesus, after he had spoken to them, was taken up into heaven: 19
there at the right hand of God he took his place, •while they, going out, preached 20 everywhere, the Lord working with them and confirming the word by the signs that accompanied it.

16 a. Many MSS omit vv. 9-20 and this ending to the gospel may not have been written by Mark, though it is old enough.

THE PASTORAL LETTERS

Three of the letters attributed to Paul, The First Letter to Timothy, The Letter to Titus and The Second Letter to Timothy, are called the pastoral epistles, because they are concerned with the problems which face the leader of a Christian community. There is considerable doubt about their authorship. The Acts of the Apostles ends with the arrival of Paul in Rome, and although early tradition held that he was executed by the Emperor Nero during the persecutions which arose after the burning of Rome in A.D. 64, there is no firm evidence about this. It is possible that Paul was released after that first imprisonment, for the crimes of which he was accused were solely against the Jewish law, and there was nothing in Roman law which would merit his execution. He had expressed the desire to travel westward to Spain; it is possible that he went on further journeys after a release which is not recorded in the Acts of the Apostles, and that he wrote the three letters in this section to give advice to the men whom he had appointed to take charge of some of the churches which he had founded. According to the last of these three letters, The Second Letter to Timothy, Paul was again in prison and this time under a more rigorous form of imprisonment than one would expect from the captivity letters.

The most interesting feature of the letters for a modern reader is that they presuppose a more organised form of church life than the earlier letters, and there are now presbyters and overseers who are more recognisable as the priests and bishops of our own day. These officials are responsible for the purity of Christian doctrine, for teaching converts and for the preaching, as well as for the more mundane administrative responsibilities which arise in any community. The importance of the tradition is emphasised, particularly in making sure that it is not diluted by speculation, as it is passed on to new converts in the course of their instruction in the Christian faith.

If these letters are not by Paul, they are probably by an author who has drawn on fragments or reports of Paul's teaching, as examples of the kind of advice he would give to someone with pastoral responsibilities in one of the new Christian communities.

THE FIRST LETTER FROM PAUL TO TIMOTHY

Address

1 From Paul, apostle of Christ Jesus appointed by the command of God our 2 saviour and of Christ Jesus our hope, •to Timothy, true child of mine in the 3 faith; wishing you grace, mercy and peace from God the Father and from Christ
4 Jesus our Lord.

Suppress the false teachers

5 As I asked you when I was leaving for Macedonia, please stay at Ephesus, to 6 insist that certain people stop teaching strange doctrines •and taking notice of 7 myths and endless genealogies; these things are only likely to raise irrelevant
8 doubts instead of furthering the designs of God which are revealed in faith.
9 The only purpose of this instruction is that there should be love, coming out
10 of a pure heart, a clear conscience and a sincere faith. •There are some people
11 who have gone off the straight course and taken a road that leads to empty 12 speculation; •they claim to be doctors of the Law but they understand neither 13 the arguments they are using nor the opinions they are upholding.

The purpose of the Law

14 We know, of course, that the Law is good, but only provided it is treated 15 like any law, •in the understanding that laws are not framed for people who 16 are good. On the contrary, they are for criminals and revolutionaries, for the 17 irreligious and the wicked, for the sacrilegious and the irreverent; they are for 18 people who kill their fathers or mothers and for murderers, •for those who are 19 immoral with women or with boys or with men, for liars and for perjurers—and 20 for everything else that is contrary to the sound teaching •that goes with the 21 Good News of the glory of the blessed God, the gospel that was entrusted to me.

Paul on his own calling

22 I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who has given me strength, and who judged 23 me faithful enough to call me into his service •even though I used to be 24 a blasphemer and did all I could to injure and discredit the faith. Mercy, however,
25 was shown me, because until I became a believer I had been acting in ignorance;
26 and the grace of our Lord filled me with faith and with the love that is in Christ
27 Jesus. •Here is a saying that you can rely on and nobody should doubt: that 28 Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners. I myself am the greatest of them;
29 and if mercy has been shown to me, it is because Jesus Christ meant to make 30 me the greatest evidence of his inexhaustible patience for all the other people
31 who would later have to trust in him to come to eternal life. •To the eternal 32 King, the undying, invisible and only God, be honour and glory for ever and 33 ever. Amen.

Timothy's responsibility

18 Timothy, my son, these are the instructions that I am giving you: I ask you 19 to remember the words once spoken over you by the prophets, and taking them 20 to heart to fight like a good soldier •with faith and a good conscience for your weapons. Some people have put conscience aside and wrecked their faith in consequence. •I mean men like Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I have handed over to Satan to teach them not to be blasphemous.

Liturgical prayer

1 2 My advice is that, first of all, there should be prayers offered for everyone
 2 —petitions, intercessions and thanksgiving—and especially for kings and others in authority, so that we may be able to live religious and reverent lives 3 in peace and quiet. •To do this is right, and will please God our saviour: •he 4 wants everyone to be saved and reach full knowledge of the truth. •For there
 5 is only one God, and there is only one mediator between God and mankind, 6 himself a man, Christ Jesus, •who sacrificed himself as a ransom for them all.
 7 He is the evidence of this, sent at the appointed time, and •I have been named a herald and apostle of it—and I am telling the truth and no lie—a teacher of the faith and the truth to the pagans.
 8 In every place, then, I want the men to lift their hands up reverently in prayer, with no anger or argument.

Women in the assembly

9 Similarly, I direct that women are to wear suitable clothes and to be dressed quietly and modestly, without braided hair or gold and jewellery or expensive 10 clothes; their adornment is •to do the sort of good works that are proper for 11 women who profess to be religious. •During instruction, a woman should be 12 quiet and respectful. •I am not giving permission for a woman to teach or to 13 tell a man what to do. A woman ought not to speak, •because Adam was 14 formed first and Eve afterwards, •and it was not Adam who was led astray but 15 the woman who was led astray and fell into sin. •Nevertheless, she will be saved by childbearing, provided she lives a modest life and is constant in faith and love and holiness.

The elder-in-charge

1 3 Here is a saying that you can rely on: To want to be a presiding elder<sup>a</sup> is to 2 want to do a noble work. •That is why the president must have an impeccable character. He must not have been married more than once, and he must be 3 temperate, discreet and courteous, hospitable and a good teacher; •not a heavy drinker, nor hot-tempered, but kind and peaceable. He must not be a lover of 4 money. •He must be a man who manages his own family well and brings his 5 children up to obey him and be well-behaved: •how can any man who does not understand how to manage his own family have responsibility for the church
 6 of God? •He should not be a new convert, in case pride might turn his head 7 and then he might be condemned as the devil was condemned. •It is also necessary that people outside the Church should speak well of him, so that he never gets a bad reputation and falls into the devil's trap.

Deacons

8 In the same way, deacons must be respectable men whose word can be trusted, moderate in the amount of wine they drink and with no squalid greed 9 for money. •They must be conscientious believers in the mystery of the faith.
 10 They are to be examined first, and only admitted to serve as deacons if there 11 is nothing against them. •In the same way, the women must be respectable,

3 a. The word episcopus used here by Paul had not yet acquired the same meaning as 'bishop'.

not gossips but sober and quite reliable. •Deacons must not have been married 12 more than once, and must be men who manage their children and families 13 well. • Those of them who carry out their duties well as deacons will earn a 13 high standing for themselves and be rewarded with great assurance in their work for the faith in Christ Jesus.

The Church and the mystery of the spiritual life

At the moment of writing to you, I am hoping that I may be with you soon; 14 but in case I should be delayed, I wanted you to know how people ought to behave 15 in God's family—that is, in the Church of the living God, which upholds the truth and keeps it safe. •Without any doubt, the mystery of our religion is very 16 deep indeed:

He was made visible in the flesh,
attested by the Spirit,
seen by angels,
proclaimed to the pagans,
believed in by the world,
taken up in glory.

False teachers

4 The Spirit has explicitly said that during the last times there will be some 1 who will desert the faith and choose to listen to deceitful spirits and doctrines 2 that come from the devils; •and the cause of this is the lies told by hypocrites 2 whose consciences are branded as though with a red-hot iron:<sup>a</sup> •they will say 3 marriage is forbidden, and lay down rules about abstaining from foods which 3 God created to be accepted with thanksgiving by all who believe and who know 4 the truth.<sup>b</sup> •Everything God has created is good, and no food is to be rejected, 4 provided grace is said for it: •the word of God and the prayer make it holy. 5
If you put all this to the brothers, you will be a good servant of Christ Jesus and 6 show that you have really digested the teaching of the faith and the good doctrine 6 which you have always followed. •Have nothing to do with godless myths and 7 old wives' tales. Train yourself spiritually. •'Physical exercises are useful enough, 8 but the usefulness of spirituality is unlimited, since it holds out the reward of 8 life here and now and of the future life as well'; •that is a saying that you can 9 rely on and nobody should doubt it. •I mean that the point of all our toiling and 9 battling is that we have put our trust in the living God and he is the saviour of 10 the whole human race but particularly of all believers. •This is what you are to 11 enforce in your teaching.

Do not let people disregard you because you are young, but be an example 12 to all the believers in the way you speak and behave, and in your love, your faith 12 and your purity. •Make use of the time until I arrive by reading to the people, 13 preaching and teaching. •You have in you a spiritual gift which was given to 14 you when the prophets spoke and the body of elders laid their hands on you; 14 do not let it lie unused. •Think hard about all this, and put it into practice, and 15 everyone will be able to see how you are advancing. •Take great care about what 16 you do and what you teach; always do this, and in this way you will save both yourself and those who listen to you.

Pastoral practice

5 Do not speak harshly to a man older than yourself, but advise him as you 1 would your own father; treat the younger men as brothers •and older women 2 as you would your mother. Always treat young women with propriety, as if they were sisters.

Widows

Be considerate to widows; I mean those who are truly widows. •If a widow 3 has children or grandchildren, they are to learn first of all to do their duty to 4 their own families and repay their debt to their parents, because this is what 5 pleases God. •But a woman who is really widowed and left without anybody can give herself up to God and consecrate all her days and nights to petitions 6 and prayer. •The one who thinks only of pleasure is already dead while she 7 is still alive: •remind them of all this, too, so that their lives may be blameless.

 8 Anyone who does not look after his own relations, especially if they are living with him, has rejected the faith and is worse than an unbeliever.

9 Enrolment as a widow is permissible only for a woman at least sixty years
 10 old who has had only one husband. •She must be a woman known for her good works and for the way in which she has brought up her children, shown hospitality to strangers and washed the saints' feet, helped people who are in trouble 11 and been active in all kinds of good work. •Do not accept young widows because if their natural desires get stronger than their dedication to Christ, they want 12 to marry again, •and then people condemn them for being unfaithful to their 13 original promise. •Besides, they learn how to be idle and go round from house to house; and then, not merely idle, they learn to be gossips and meddlers in other people's affairs, and to chatter when they would be better keeping quiet.
 14 I think it is best for young widows to marry again and have children and a home to look after, and not give the enemy any chance to raise a scandal about them;
 15 there are already some who have left us to follow Satan. •If a Christian woman 16 has widowed relatives, she should support them and not make the Church bear the expense but enable it to support those who are genuinely widows.

The elders

17 The elders who do their work well while they are in charge are to be given double consideration, especially those who are assiduous in preaching and 18 teaching. •As scripture says: You must not muzzle an ox when it is treading out
 19 the corn;<sup>a</sup> and again: The worker deserves his pay.<sup>b</sup> •Never accept any accusation 20 brought against an elder unless it is supported by two or three witnesses. •If any 21 of them are at fault, reprimand them publicly, as a warning to the rest. •Before God, and before Jesus Christ and the angels he has chosen, I put it to you as a duty to keep these rules impartially and never to be influenced by favouritism.
 22 Do not be too quick to lay hands on any man, and never make yourself an accomplice in anybody else's sin; keep yourself pure.

23 You should give up drinking only water and have a little wine for the sake of your digestion and the frequent bouts of illness that you have.

24 The faults of some people are obvious long before anyone makes any complaint about them, while others have faults that are not discovered until 25 afterwards. •In the same way, the good that people do can be obvious; but even when it is not, it cannot be hidden for ever.

Slaves

1 6 All slaves 'under the yoke' must have unqualified respect for their masters, so that the name of God and our teaching are not brought into disrepute.
 2 Slaves whose masters are believers are not to think any the less of them because they are brothers; on the contrary, they should serve them all the better, since those who have the benefit of their services are believers and dear to God.

The true teacher and the false teacher

This is what you are to teach them to believe and persuade them to do.
 3 Anyone who teaches anything different, and does not keep to the sound teaching

4 a. Like runaway slaves. b. The rejection of marriage was to be one of the hallmarks of Gnosticism; dietary regulations were more specifically Jewish.

5 a. Dt 25:4 b. Not traceable in the O.T.; but this is also to be found in Lk 10:7 where, again, it may be a quotation.

which is that of our Lord Jesus Christ, the doctrine which is in accordance with true religion, •is simply ignorant and must be full of self-conceit—with a craze 4 for questioning everything and arguing about words. All that can come of this 5 is jealousy, contention, abuse and wicked mistrust of one another; •and unending 6 disputes by people who are neither rational nor informed and imagine that 7 religion is a way of making a profit. •Religion, of course, does bring 8 large profits, but only to those who are content with what they have. •We brought 9 nothing into the world, and we can take nothing out of it; •but as long as we 10 have food and clothing, let us be content with that. •People who long to be rich are a prey to temptation; they get trapped into all sorts of foolish and dangerous ambitions which eventually plunge them into ruin and destruction. •‘The love of money is the root of all evils’ and there are some who, pursuing it, have wandered away from the faith, and so given their souls any number of fatal wounds.

Timothy’s vocation recalled

But, as a man dedicated to God, you must avoid all that. You must aim to 11 be saintly and religious, filled with faith and love, patient and gentle. •Fight the 12 good fight of the faith and win for yourself the eternal life to which you were called when you made your profession and spoke up for the truth in front of many witnesses. •Now, before God the source of all life and before Jesus Christ, 13 who spoke up as a witness for the truth in front of Pontius Pilate, I put to you the duty •of doing all that you have been told, with no faults or failures, until 14
the Appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ, who at the due time will be revealed 15

by God, the blessed and only Ruler of all, the King of kings and the Lord of lords, who alone is immortal, 16
whose home is in inaccessible light, whom no man has seen and no man is able to see:
to him be honour and everlasting power. Amen.

Rich Christians

Warn those who are rich in this world’s goods that they are not to look down 17 on other people; and not to set their hopes on money, which is untrustworthy, but on God who, out of his riches, gives us all that we need for our happiness.
Tell them that they are to do good, and be rich in good works, to be generous 18 and willing to share—this is the way they can save up a good capital sum for 19 the future if they want to make sure of the only life that is real.

Final warning and conclusion

My dear Timothy, take great care of all that has been entrusted to you. Have 20 nothing to do with the pointless philosophical discussions and antagonistic beliefs of the ‘knowledge’ which is not knowledge at all; •by adopting this, some 21 have gone right away from the faith. Grace be with you.

THE LETTER FROM PAUL TO TITUS

Address

1 From Paul, servant of God, an apostle of Jesus Christ to bring those whom 1
God has chosen to faith and to the knowledge of the truth that leads to true religion; •and to give them the hope of the eternal life that was promised so long 2 ago by God. He does not lie •and so, at the appointed time, he revealed his decision, and, by the command of God our saviour, I have been commissioned to proclaim it. •To Titus, true child of mine in the faith that we share, wishing you grace and peace from God the Father and from Christ Jesus our saviour.

The appointment of elders

The reason I left you behind in Crete was for you to get everything organised there and appoint elders in every town, in the way that I told you: •that is, each of them must be a man of irreproachable character; he must not have been married more than once, and his children must be believers and not uncontrollable or liable to be charged with disorderly conduct. •Since, as president, he will be God's representative, he must be irreproachable: never an arrogant or hot-tempered man, nor a heavy drinker or violent, nor out to make money; •but a man who is hospitable and a friend of all that is good; sensible, moral, devout and self-controlled; •and he must have a firm grasp of the unchanging message of the tradition, so that he can be counted on for both expounding the sound doctrine and refuting those who argue against it.

Opposing the false teachers

And in fact you have there a great many people who need to be disciplined, who talk nonsense and try to make others believe it, particularly among those of the Circumcision. •They have got to be silenced: men of this kind ruin whole families, by teaching things that they ought not to, and doing it with the vile motive of making money. •It was one of themselves, one of their own prophets, who said,<sup>a</sup> 'Cretans were never anything but liars, dangerous animals and lazy'; •and that is a true statement. So you will have to be severe in correcting them, and make them sound in the faith •so that they stop taking notice of Jewish myths and doing what they are told to do by people who are no longer interested in the truth.

To all who are pure themselves, everything is pure; but to those who have been corrupted and lack faith, nothing can be pure—the corruption is both in their minds and in their consciences. •They claim to have knowledge of God but the things they do are nothing but a denial of him; they are outrageously rebellious and quite incapable of doing good.

Some specific moral instruction

It is for you, then, to preach the behaviour which goes with healthy doctrine. The older men should be reserved, dignified, moderate, sound in faith and love and constancy. •Similarly, the older women should behave as though they were religious, with no scandalmongering and no habitual wine-drinking—they are to be the teachers of the right behaviour •and show the younger women how they should love their husbands and love their children, •how they are to be sensible and chaste, and how to work in their homes, and be gentle, and do as their husbands tell them, so that the message of God is never disgraced. •In the same way, you have got to persuade the younger men to be moderate •and in everything you do make yourself an example to them of working for good: when you are teaching, be an example to them in your sincerity and earnestness •and in keeping all that you say so wholesome that nobody can make objections to it; and then any opponent will be at a loss, with no accusation to make against us. Tell the slaves that they are to be obedient to their masters and always do what they want without any argument; •and there must be no petty thieving—they must show complete honesty at all times, so that they are in every way a credit to the teaching of God our saviour.

The basis of the Christian moral life

You see, God's grace has been revealed, and it has made salvation possible for the whole human race and taught us that what we have to do is to give up every- thing that does not lead to God, and all our worldly ambitions; we must be self-restrained and live good and religious lives here in this present world, while we are waiting in hope for the blessing which will come with the Appearing of the glory of our great God and saviour Christ Jesus.<sup>a</sup> He sacrificed himself for us in order to set us free from all wickedness<sup>b</sup> and to purify a people so that it could be his very own<sup>c</sup> and would have no ambition except to do good.

Now this is what you are to say, whether you are giving instruction or correcting errors; you can do so with full authority, and no one is to question it.

General instruction for believers

3 Remind them that it is their duty to be obedient to the officials and represent- 1 atives of the government; to be ready to do good at every opportunity; not 2 to go slandering other people or picking quarrels, but to be courteous and always polite to all kinds of people. Remember, there was a time when we too were 3 ignorant, disobedient and misled and enslaved by different passions and luxuries;
we lived then in wickedness and ill-will, hating each other and hateful ourselves.

But when the kindness and love of God our saviour for mankind were revealed, 4 it was not because he was concerned with any righteous actions we might have 5 done ourselves; it was for no reason except his own compassion that he saved us, by means of the cleansing water of rebirth and by renewing us with the Holy Spirit which he has so generously poured over us through Jesus Christ our saviour. 6
He did this so that we should be justified by his grace, to become heirs looking 7 forward to inheriting eternal life. This is doctrine that you can rely on. 8

Personal advice to Titus

I want you to be quite uncompromising in teaching all this, so that those who now believe in God may keep their minds constantly occupied in doing good works. All this is good, and will do nothing but good to everybody. But avoid 9 pointless speculations, and those genealogies, and the quibbles and disputes about the Law—these are useless and can do no good to anyone. If a man disputes 10 what you teach, then after a first and a second warning, have no more to do with him: you will know that any man of that sort has already lapsed and condemned 11 himself as a sinner.

Practical recommendations, farewells and good wishes

As soon as I have sent Artemas or Tychicus to you, lose no time in joining 12 me at Nicopolis, where I have decided to spend the winter. See to all the travelling 13 arrangements for Zenas the lawyer and Apollos, and make sure they have everything they need. All our people are to learn to occupy themselves in doing good 14 works for their practical needs as well, and not to be entirely unproductive.

All those who are with me send their greetings. Greetings to those who love 15 us in the faith. Grace be with you all.

THE SECOND LETTER FROM PAUL TO TIMOTHY

Greeting and thanksgiving

1 From Paul, appointed by God to be an apostle of Christ Jesus in his design 1 to promise life in Christ Jesus; to Timothy, dear child of mine, wishing you 2

grace, mercy and peace from God the Father and from Christ Jesus our Lord.

- 3 Night and day I thank God, keeping my conscience clear and remembering my duty to him as my ancestors did, and always I remember you in my prayers;
4 I remember your tears •and long to see you again to complete my happiness.
5 Then I am reminded of the sincere faith which you have; it came first to live in your grandmother Lois, and your mother Eunice, and I have no doubt that it is the same faith in you as well.

The gifts that Timothy has received

- 6 That is why I am reminding you now to fan into a flame the gift that God
7 gave you when I laid my hands on you. •God's gift was not a spirit of timidity, 8 but the Spirit of power, and love, and self-control. •So you are never to be ashamed of witnessing to the Lord, or ashamed of me for being his prisoner; but with me, bear the hardships for the sake of the Good News, relying on the 9 power of God •who has saved us and called us to be holy—not because of anything we ourselves have done but for his own purpose and by his own grace.
This grace had already been granted to us, in Christ Jesus, before the beginning 10 of time, •but it has only been revealed by the Appearing of our saviour Christ Jesus. He abolished death, and he has proclaimed life and immortality through 11 the Good News; •and I have been named its herald, its apostle and its teacher.
12 It is only on account of this that I am experiencing fresh hardships here now;<sup>a</sup> but I have not lost confidence, because I know who it is that I have put my trust in, and I have no doubt at all that he is able to take care of all that I have entrusted to him until that Day.

- 13 Keep as your pattern the sound teaching you have heard from me, in the 14 faith and love that are in Christ Jesus. •You have been trusted to look after something precious; guard it with the help of the Holy Spirit who lives in us.
15 As you know, Phygelus and Hermogenes and all the others from Asia refuse 16 to have anything more to do with me. •I hope the Lord will be kind to all the family of Onesiphorus, because he has often been a comfort to me and has never 17 been ashamed of my chains. •On the contrary, as soon as he reached Rome, he 18 really searched hard for me and found out where I was. •May it be the Lord's will that he shall find the Lord's mercy on that Day. You know better than anyone else how much he helped me at Ephesus.

How Timothy should face hardships

- 1 2 Accept the strength, my dear son, that comes from the grace of Christ Jesus.
2 You have heard everything that I teach in public; hand it on to reliable people so that they in turn will be able to teach others.
3 Put up with your share of difficulties, like a good soldier of Christ Jesus.
4 In the army, no soldier gets himself mixed up in civilian life, because he must 5 be at the disposal of the man who enlisted him; •or take an athlete—he cannot 6 win any crown unless he has kept all the rules of the contest; •and again, it is 7 the working farmer who has the first claim on any crop that is harvested. •Think over what I have said, and the Lord will show you how to understand it all.
8 Remember the Good News that I carry, 'Jesus Christ risen from the dead, 9 sprung from the race of David'; •it is on account of this that I have my own hardships to bear, even to being chained like a criminal—but they cannot chain 10 up God's news. •So I bear it all for the sake of those who are chosen, so that in the end they may have the salvation that is in Christ Jesus and the eternal glory that comes with it.
11 Here is a saying that you can rely on:

If we have died with him, then we shall live with him.

- 12 If we hold firm, then we shall reign with him.

2 a. Or 'our great God and our saviour, Christ Jesus'. b. Ps 130:8 c. Ex 19:5

1 a. The second imprisonment at Rome.

If we disown him, then he will disown us.

We may be unfaithful, but he is always faithful,
for he cannot disown his own self.

13

The struggle against the immediate danger from false teachers

Remind them of this; and tell them in the name of God that there is to be 14 no wrangling about words: all that this ever achieves is the destruction of those 15 who are listening. •Do all you can to present yourself in front of God as a man 16 who has come through his trials, and a man who has no cause to be ashamed 17 of his life's work and has kept a straight course with the message of the truth. 18
Have nothing to do with pointless philosophical discussions—they only lead 19 further and further away from true religion. •Talk of this kind corrodes like 20 gangrene, as in the case of Hymenaeus and Philetus, •the men who have gone 21 right away from the truth and claim that the resurrection has already taken 22 place. Some people's faith cannot stand up to them.

However, God's solid foundation stone is still in position, and this is the 23 inscription on it: 'The Lord knows those who are his own'<sup>a</sup> and 'All who call on 24 the name of the Lord'<sup>b</sup> must avoid sin'.

Not all the dishes in a large house are made of gold and silver; some are 25 made of wood or earthenware: some are kept for special occasions and others 26 are for ordinary purposes. •Now, to avoid these faults that I am speaking about 27 is the way for anyone to become a vessel for special occasions, fit for the Master 28 himself to use, and kept ready for any good work.

Instead of giving in to your impulses like a young man, fasten your attention 29 on holiness, faith, love and peace, in union with all those who call on the Lord 30 with pure minds. •Avoid these futile and silly speculations, understanding that 31 they only give rise to quarrels; •and a servant of the Lord is not to 32 engage in quarrels, but has to be kind to everyone, a good teacher, and patient. 33
He has to be gentle when he corrects people who dispute what he says, never 34 forgetting that God may give them a change of mind so that they recognise the 35 truth and •come to their senses, once out of the trap where the devil caught 36 them and kept them enslaved.

The dangers of the last days

3 You may be quite sure that in the last days there are going to be 1 some difficult times. •People will be self-centred and grasping; boastful, 2 arrogant and rude; disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, irreligious; •heartless 3 and unappeasable; they will be slanderers, profligates, savages and enemies of 4 everything that is good; •they will be treacherous and reckless and demented 5 by pride, preferring their own pleasure to God. •They will keep up the outward 6 appearance of religion but will have rejected the inner power of it. Have nothing 7 to do with people like that.

Of the same kind, too, are those men who insinuate themselves into families 8 in order to get influence over silly women who are obsessed with their sins and 9 follow one craze after another •in the attempt to educate themselves, but can 10 never come to knowledge of the truth. •Men like this defy the truth just as 11 Jannes and Jambres defied Moses:<sup>c</sup> their minds are corrupt and their faith 12 spurious. •But they will not be able to go on any longer: their foolishness, like 13 that of the other two, must become obvious to everybody.

You know, though, what I have taught, how I have lived, what I have aimed 14 at; you know my faith, my patience and my love; my constancy •and the 15 persecutions and hardships that came to me in places like Antioch, Iconium and 16 Lystra—all the persecutions I have endured; and the Lord has rescued me from 17 every one of them. •You are well aware, then, that anybody who tries to live 18 in devotion to Christ is certain to be attacked; •while these wicked impostors 19 will go from bad to worse, deceiving others and deceived themselves.

14 You must keep to what you have been taught and know to be true; remember 15 who your teachers were, •and how, ever since you were a child, you have known the holy scriptures—from these you can learn the wisdom that leads to salvation 16 through faith in Christ Jesus. •All scripture is inspired by God and can profitably be used for teaching, for refuting error, for guiding people's lives and 17 teaching them to be holy. •This is how the man who is dedicated to God becomes fully equipped and ready for any good work.

A solemn charge

1 4 Before God and before Christ Jesus who is to be judge of the living and the dead, I put this duty to you, in the name of his Appearing and of his kingdom:
 2 proclaim the message and, welcome or unwelcome, insist on it. Refute falsehood, correct error, call to obedience—but do all with patience and with the intention 3 of teaching. •The time is sure to come when, far from being content with sound teaching, people will be avid for the latest novelty and collect themselves a whole 4 series of teachers according to their own tastes; •and then, instead of listening
 5 to the truth, they will turn to myths. •Be careful always to choose the right course; be brave under trials; make the preaching of the Good News your life's work, in thoroughgoing service.

Paul in the evening of his life

6 As for me, my life is already being poured away as a libation, and the time
 7 has come for me to be gone. •I have fought the good fight to the end; I have run 8 the race to the finish; I have kept the faith; •all there is to come now is the crown of righteousness reserved for me, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will give to me on that Day; and not only to me but to all those who have longed for his Appearing.

Final advice

9 Do your best to come and see me as soon as you can. •As it is, Demas has 10 deserted me for love of this life and gone to Thessalonika, Crescens has gone 11 to Galatia and Titus to Dalmatia; •only Luke is with me. Get Mark to come 12 and bring him with you; I find him a useful helper in my work. •I have sent 13 Tychicus to Ephesus. •When you come, bring the cloak I left with Carpus in 14 Troas, and the scrolls, especially the parchment ones. •Alexander the coppersmith has done me a lot of harm; the Lord will repay him for what he has done.<sup>a</sup> 15 Be on your guard against him yourself, because he has been bitterly contesting everything that we say.

16 The first time I had to present my defence, there was not a single witness to support me. Every one of them deserted me—may they not be held accountable 17 for it. •But the Lord stood by me and gave me power, so that through me the whole message might be proclaimed for all the pagans to hear; and so I was 18 rescued from the lion's mouth.<sup>b</sup> •The Lord will rescue me from all evil attempts on me, and bring me safely to his heavenly kingdom. To him be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

Farewells and final good wishes

19 Greetings to Prisca and Aquila, and the family of Onesiphorus. •Erastus 21 remained at Corinth, and I left Trophimus ill at Miletus. •Do your best to come before the winter.

22 Greetings to you from Eubulus, Pudens, Linus, Claudia and all the brothers.
 The Lord be with your spirit. Grace be with you.

THE LETTER OF JUDE

The brief Letter of Jude is a general letter written to those who are in danger of being misled by false teachers. The Christian faith, as it is handed on to new believers, is already clear and precise and must be guarded against false additions to it. The letter does not say what the false teaching was, but warns that the people who are spreading it are a danger to the Christian community and must be avoided.

Contemporary Writing

THE LETTER OF JUDE

Address

From Jude, servant of Jesus Christ and brother of James; to those who are called, to those who are dear to God the Father and kept safe for Jesus Christ, wishing you all mercy and peace and love.

The reason for this letter

My dear friends, at a time when I was eagerly looking forward to writing to you about the salvation that we all share, I have been forced to write to you now and appeal to you to fight hard for the faith which has been once and for all entrusted to the saints. •Certain people have infiltrated among you, and they are the ones you had a warning about, in writing, long ago, when they were condemned for denying all religion, turning the grace of our God into immorality, and rejecting our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.

The false teachers: the certainty of their punishment

I should like to remind you—though you have already learnt it once and for all—how the Lord rescued the nation from Egypt, but afterwards he still destroyed the men who did not trust him. •Next let me remind you of the angels who had supreme authority but did not keep it and left their appointed sphere;• he has kept them down in the dark, in spiritual chains, to be judged on the great day. •The fornication of Sodom and Gomorrah and the other nearby towns was equally unnatural, and it is a warning to us that they are paying for their crimes in eternal fire.

Their violent language

Nevertheless, these people are doing the same: in their delusions they not only defile their bodies and disregard authority, but abuse the glorious angels as well. •Not even the archangel Michael, when he was engaged in argument with the devil about the corpse of Moses, dared to denounce him in the language of abuse; all he said was, 'Let the Lord correct you'. •But these people abuse anything they do not understand; and the only things they do understand—just by nature like unreasoning animals—will turn out to be fatal to them.

Their vicious behaviour

May they get what they deserve, because they have followed Cain; they have rushed to make the same mistake as Balaam and for the same reward; they have rebelled just as Korah did—and share the same fate. •They are a dangerous obstacle to your community meals, coming for the food and quite shamelessly only looking after themselves. They are like clouds blown about by the winds and bringing no rain, or like barren trees which are then uprooted in the winter and so 13 are twice dead; •like wild sea waves capped with shame as if with foam; or like 14 shooting stars bound for an eternity of black darkness. •It was with them in mind that Enoch, the seventh patriarch from Adam, made his prophecy when he said, 'I tell you, the Lord will come with his saints in their tens of thousands, 15 to pronounce judgement on all mankind and to sentence the wicked for all the wicked things they have done, and for all the defiant things said against him by 16 irreligious sinners'. •They are mischief-makers, grumblers governed only by their own desires, with mouths full of boastful talk, ready with flattery for other people when they see some advantage in it.

A warning

17 But remember, my dear friends, what the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ 18 told you to expect. •'At the end of time,' they told you 'there are going to be people who sneer at religion and follow nothing but their own desires for 19 wickedness.' •These unspiritual and selfish people are nothing but mischief-makers.

The duties of love

20 But you, my dear friends, must use your most holy faith as your foundation
 21 and build on that, praying in the Holy Spirit; •keep yourselves within the love of God and wait for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ to give you eternal life.
 22 When there are some who have doubts, reassure them; •when there are some 23 to be saved from the fire, pull them out; but there are others to whom you must be kind with great caution, keeping your distance even from outside clothing which is contaminated by vice.

Doxology

24 Glory be to him who can keep you from falling and bring you safe to his 25 glorious presence, innocent and happy. •To God, the only God, who saves us through Jesus Christ our Lord, be the glory, majesty, authority and power, which he had before time began, now and for ever. Amen.

THE SECOND LETTER OF PETER

Although the Second Letter of Peter opens with the statement that it is from Simon Peter, the servant and apostle of Jesus Christ, there have been considerable doubts about the Petrine authorship from very early times. Both the style and the vocabulary are very different from the First Letter of Peter and part of this letter uses a considerable part of the Letter of Jude. The people to whom it is written, who are not named, seem to be worried about the delay in the Second Coming of Jesus Christ, and the author of this letter assures them that although he has not yet come the second coming is quite certain, and that they are living in the days which immediately precede it.

THE SECOND LETTER OF PETER

Greetings

1 From Simeon Peter, servant and apostle of Jesus Christ; to all who treasure <sup>1</sup> the same faith as ourselves, given through the righteousness of our God and saviour Jesus Christ. •May you have more and more grace and peace as you <sup>2</sup> come to know our Lord more and more.

A call to Christian living, and its reward

By his divine power, he has given us all the things that we need for life and for <sup>3</sup> true devotion, bringing us to know God himself, who has called us by his own glory and goodness. •In making these gifts, he has given us the guarantee of <sup>4</sup> something very great and wonderful to come: through them you will be able to share the divine nature and to escape corruption in a world that is sunk in vice.
But to attain this, you will have to do your utmost yourselves, adding goodness <sup>5</sup> to the faith that you have, understanding to your goodness, •self-control to your <sup>6</sup> understanding, patience to your self-control, true devotion to your patience, kindness towards your fellow men to your devotion, and, to this kindness, love. <sup>7</sup>
If you have a generous supply of these, they will not leave you ineffectual or <sup>8</sup> unproductive: they will bring you to a real knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.
But without them a man is blind or else short-sighted; he has forgotten how <sup>9</sup> his past sins were washed away. •Brothers, you have been called and chosen: work <sup>10</sup> all the harder to justify it. If you do all these things there is no danger that you will ever fall away. •In this way you will be granted admittance into the eternal <sup>11</sup> kingdom of our Lord and saviour Jesus Christ.

The apostolic witness

That is why I am continually recalling the same truths to you, even though you <sup>12</sup> already know them and firmly hold them. •I am sure it is my duty, as long as <sup>13</sup>
I am in this tent, to keep stirring you up with reminders, •since I know the time <sup>14</sup> for taking off this tent is coming soon, as our Lord Jesus Christ foretold to me.
And I shall take great care that after my own departure you will still have a <sup>15</sup> means to recall these things to memory.

It was not any cleverly invented myths that we were repeating when we <sup>16</sup> brought you the knowledge of the power and the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ;
we had seen his majesty for ourselves. •He was honoured and glorified by God <sup>17</sup>
the Father, when the Sublime Glory itself spoke to him and said, 'This is my Son, the Beloved; he enjoys my favour'. •We heard this ourselves, spoken from heaven, <sup>18</sup>
when we were with him on the holy mountain.<sup>a</sup>

The value of prophecy

So we have confirmation of what was said in prophecies; and you will be <sup>19</sup> right to depend on prophecy and take it as a lamp for lighting a way through the dark until the dawn comes and the morning star rises in your minds.
At the same time, we must be most careful to remember that the interpretation <sup>20</sup> of scriptural prophecy is never a matter for the individual. •Why? Because no <sup>21</sup> prophecy ever came from man's initiative. When men spoke for God it was the Holy Spirit that moved them.

False teachers

1 2 As there were false prophets in the past history of our people, so you too will 2 have your false teachers, who will insinuate their own disruptive views and 3 disown the Master who purchased their freedom. They will destroy themselves 4 very quickly; •but there will be many who copy their shameful behaviour and the 5 Way of Truth will be brought into disrepute on their account. •They will eagerly 6 try to buy you for themselves with insidious speeches, but for them the Condemnation, 7 pronounced so long ago, is at its work already, and Destruction is not 8 asleep. •When angels sinned, God did not spare them: he sent them down to the 9 underworld and consigned them to the dark underground caves to be held there 10 till the day of Judgement. •Nor did he spare the world in ancient times: it was 11 only Noah he saved, the preacher of righteousness, along with seven others, when 12 he sent the Flood over a disobedient world. •The cities of Sodom and Gomorrah, 13 these too he condemned and reduced to ashes; he destroyed them completely, as 14 a warning to anybody lacking reverence in the future; •he rescued Lot, however,
 15 a holy man who had been sickened by the shameless way in which these vile people
 16 behaved—•for that holy man, lying among them, was outraged in his good soul
 17 by the crimes that he saw and heard of every day. •These are all examples of how 18 the Lord can rescue the good from the ordeal, and hold the wicked for their 19 punishment until the day of Judgement, •especially those who are governed by 20 their corrupt bodily desires and have no respect for authority.

The punishment to come

Such self-willed people with no reverence are not afraid of offending against 11 the glorious ones, •but the angels in their greater strength and power make no 12 complaint or accusation against them in front of the Lord. •All the same, these 13 people who only insult anything that they do not understand are not reasoning 14 beings, but simply animals born to be caught and killed, and they will quite 15 certainly destroy themselves by their own work of destruction, •and get their 16 reward of evil for the evil that they do. They are unsightly blots on your society:
 17 men whose only object is dissipation all day long, and they amuse themselves 18 deceiving you even when they are your guests at a meal; •with their eyes always 19 looking for adultery; men with an infinite capacity for sinning, they will seduce
 20 any soul which is at all unstable. Greed is the one lesson their minds have learnt.
 21 They are under a curse. •They have left the right path and wandered off to follow 22 the path of Balaam son of Beor, who thought he could profit best by sinning, until he was called to order for his faults. The dumb donkey put a stop to that prophet's madness when it talked like a man. •People like this are dried-up rivers, fogs swirling in the wind, and the dark underworld is the place reserved for them.
 18 With their high-flown talk, which is all hollow, they tempt back the ones who have only just escaped from paganism, playing on their bodily desires with 19 debaucheries. •They may promise freedom but they themselves are slaves, slaves to corruption; because if anyone lets himself be dominated by anything, then 20 he is a slave to it; •and anyone who has escaped the pollution of the world once by coming to know our Lord and saviour Jesus Christ, and who then allows himself to be entangled by it a second time and mastered, will end up in a worse 21 state than he began in. •It would even have been better for him never to have learnt the way of holiness, than to know it and afterwards desert the holy rule 22 that was entrusted to him. •What he has done is exactly as the proverb rightly says: The dog goes back to his own vomit<sup>a</sup> and: When the sow has been washed, it wallows in the mud.

The Day of the Lord; the prophets and the apostles

3 My friends, this is my second letter to you, and in both of them I have tried 1 2 to awaken a true understanding in you by giving you a reminder: •recalling to 2 you what was said in the past by the holy prophets and the commandments of the Lord and saviour which you were given by the apostles.

We must be careful to remember that during the last days there are bound 3 to be people who will be scornful, the kind who always please themselves what 4 they do, and they will make fun of the promise •and ask, 'Well, where is this 4 coming? Everything goes on as it has since the Fathers died, as it has since it 5 began at the creation.' •They are choosing to forget that there were heavens 5 at the beginning, and that the earth was formed by the word of God out of water and between the waters, •so that the world of that time was destroyed by 6 being flooded by water. •But by the same word, the present sky and earth are 7 destined for fire, and are only being reserved until Judgement day so that all sinners may be destroyed.

But there is one thing, my friends, that you must never forget: that with the 8
 Lord, 'a day' can mean a thousand years, and a thousand years is like a day.<sup>a</sup>
 The Lord is not being slow to carry out his promises, as anybody else might be 9 called slow; but he is being patient with you all, wanting nobody to be lost and everybody to be brought to change his ways. •The Day of the Lord will come 10 like a thief, and then with a roar the sky will vanish, the elements will catch fire and fall apart, the earth and all that it contains will be burnt up.

Conclusion and doxology

Since everything is coming to an end like this, you should be living holy and 11 saintly lives •while you wait and long for the Day of God to come, when the sky 12 will dissolve in flames and the elements melt in the heat. •What we are waiting 13 for is what he promised: the new heavens and new earth, the place where righteousness will be at home. •So then, my friends, while you are waiting, do your 14 best to live lives without spot or stain so that he will find you at peace. •Think of 15 our Lord's patience as your opportunity to be saved: our brother Paul, who is so dear to us, told you this when he wrote to you with the wisdom that is his special gift. •He always writes like this when he deals with this sort of subject, and this 16 makes some points in his letter hard to understand; these are the points that uneducated and unbalanced people distort, in the same way as they distort the rest of scripture—a fatal thing for them to do. •You have been warned about this, 17 my friends; be careful not to get carried away by the errors of unprincipled people, from the firm ground that you are standing on. •Instead, go on growing 18 in the grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory, in time and in eternity. Amen.

THE LETTER TO THE HEBREWS

Whoever the author of The Letter to the Hebrews was, almost certainly it was not Paul. Both the style and the vocabulary are very different from Paul's, as is also the way of thinking, and from the earliest days the Pauline authorship of this letter has been cast in doubt.

The author of The Letter to the Hebrews examines the life and work of Jesus Christ, using the traditional Old Testament concepts of sacrifice to explain the continuing work of Jesus Christ as he mediates in heaven between man and God. If the author's allusions to the Temple in Jerusalem mean that the Temple had not yet been destroyed by the Romans, then the letter was written before A.D. 70.

During the early years of Christianity, Jewish converts continued to use Jewish worship and, if they lived in Jerusalem, to attend the Temple services and sacrifices. This letter seems to have been written for such people, whether they were resident in Jerusalem, or had moved to outlying towns but still thought of the worship at the Temple in Jerusalem as the centre of their relationship with God. They were then exposed to some kind of persecution for being Christians, and there was a danger that they would abandon their Christianity and revert to Judaism again. This letter was written to strengthen their faith, and to reassure them that Jesus Christ their Saviour had fulfilled all the Old Testament covenant and sacrifices, and was now the one perfect priest who replaced all earlier forms of priesthood.

The Old Testament view of history as the record of God's saving acts, and in particular the escape from Egypt as the clearest indication of his presence in power amongst his chosen people, are the main ideas which the author of this letter uses to talk about Jesus Christ. Christ's triumphal re-entry into heaven, and his glorification, are the new Exodus, shared by those who believe in Christ. Christian worship can then be seen as participation in the sacrifice which Christ now offers to the Father in heaven.

THE LETTER TO THE HEBREWS

A LETTER ADDRESSED TO A JEWISH-CHRISTIAN COMMUNITY

PROLOGUE

The greatness of the incarnate Son of God

1 At various times in the past and in various different ways, God spoke to our ancestors through the prophets; but •in our own time, the last days, he has spoken to us through his Son, the Son that he has appointed to inherit everything and through whom he made everything there is. •He is the radiant light of God's glory and the perfect copy of his nature, sustaining the universe by his powerful command; and now that he has destroyed the defilement of sin, he has gone to take his place in heaven at the right hand of divine Majesty. •So he is now as far above the angels as the title which he has inherited is higher than their own name.

THE SON IS GREATER THAN THE ANGELS

Proof from the scriptures

God has never said to any angel: You are my Son, today I have become your father:<sup>a</sup> or: I will be a father to him and he a son to me.<sup>b</sup> •Again, when he brings the First-born into the world, he says: Let all the angels of God worship him.<sup>c</sup> •About the angels, he says: He makes his angels winds and his servants flames of fire,<sup>d</sup> •but to his Son he says: God, your throne shall last for ever and ever; and: his royal sceptre is the sceptre of virtue; •virtue you love as much as you hate wickedness.
This is why God, your God, has anointed you with the oil of gladness, above all your rivals.<sup>e</sup> •And again: It is you, Lord, who laid earth's foundations in the beginning, the heavens are the work of your hands; •all will vanish, though you remain, all wear out like a garment; •you will roll them up like a cloak, and like a garment they will be changed. But yourself, you never change and your years are unending.<sup>f</sup> God has never said to any angel: Sit at my right hand and I will make your enemies
a footstool for you.<sup>g</sup> •The truth is they are all spirits whose work is service, sent to help those who will be the heirs of salvation.

An exhortation

2 We ought, then, to turn our minds more attentively than before to what we have been taught, so that we do not drift away. •If a promise that was made through angels<sup>a</sup> proved to be so true that every infringement and disobedience

- 3 brought its own proper punishment, •then we shall certainly not go unpunished if we neglect this salvation that is promised to us. The promise was first announced by the Lord himself, and is guaranteed to us by those who heard him;
4 God himself confirmed their witness with signs and marvels and miracles of all kinds, and by freely giving the gifts of the Holy Spirit.

Redemption brought by Christ, not by angels

- 5 He did not appoint angels to be rulers of the world to come, and that world is what we are talking about. •Somewhere there is a passage that shows us this. It runs: What is man that you should spare a thought for him, the son of man that you should care for him? •For a short while you made him lower than the angels; you crowned him with glory and splendour. •You have put him in command of everything.<sup>1</sup> Well then, if he has put him in command of everything, he has left nothing which is not under his command. At present, it is true, we are not able to see that 9 everything has been put under his command, •but we do see in Jesus one who was for a short while made lower than the angels and is now crowned with glory and splendour because he submitted to death; by God's grace he had to experience death for all mankind.
10 As it was his purpose to bring a great many of his sons into glory, it was appropriate that God, for whom everything exists and through whom everything exists, should make perfect, through suffering, the leader who would take them to their 11 salvation. •For the one who sanctifies, and the ones who are sanctified, are of the same stock; that is why he openly calls them brothers •in the text: I shall announce your name to my brothers, praise you in full assembly;<sup>2</sup> •or the text: In him I hope; or the text: Here I am with the children whom God has given me.<sup>4</sup>
14 Since all the children share the same blood and flesh, he too shared equally in it, so that by his death he could take away all the power of the devil, who had power over death, •and set free all those who had been held in slavery all their 15 lives by the fear of death. •For it was not the angels that he took to himself; he took to himself descent from Abraham.<sup>5</sup> •It was essential that he should in this way become completely like his brothers so that he could be a compassionate and 16 trustworthy high priest of God's religion, able to atone for human sins. •That is, because he has himself been through temptation he is able to help others who are tempted.

JESUS THE FAITHFUL AND MERCIFUL HIGH PRIEST

Christ higher than Moses

- 1 3 That is why all you who are holy brothers and have had the same heavenly call should turn your minds to Jesus, the apostle and the high priest of our
2 religion. •He was faithful to the one who appointed him, just like Moses, who stayed faithful in all his house; •but he has been found to deserve a greater glory than Moses. It is the difference between the honour given to the man that built
4 the house and to the house itself. •Every house is built by someone, of course; but God built everything that exists. •It is true that Moses was faithful in the house of God, as a servant, acting as witness to the things which were to be 6 divulged later; •but Christ was faithful as a son, and as the master in the house. And we are his house, as long as we cling to our hope with the confidence that we glory in.

How to reach God's land of rest

The Holy Spirit says: If only you would listen to him today; do not harden your hearts, as happened in the Rebellion, on the Day of Temptation in the wilderness, when your ancestors challenged me and tested me, though they had seen what I could do for forty years. That was why I was angry with that generation and said: How unreliable these people who refuse to grasp my ways! And so, in anger, I swore that not one would reach the place of rest I had for them.<sup>a</sup> Take care, brothers, that there is not in any one of your community a wicked mind, so unbelieving as to turn away from the living God. Every day, as long as this 'today' lasts, keep encouraging one another so that none of you is hardened by the lure of sin, because we shall remain co-heirs with Christ only if we keep a grasp on our first confidence right to the end. In this saying: If only you would listen to him today; do not harden your hearts, as happened in the Rebellion, those who rebelled after they had listened were all the people who were brought out of Egypt by Moses. And those who made God angry for forty years were the ones who sinned and whose dead bodies were left lying in the wilderness.<sup>b</sup> Those that he swore would never reach the place of rest he had for them were those who had been disobedient. We see, then, that it was because they were unfaithful that they were not able to reach it.

4 Be careful, then: the promise of reaching the place of rest he had for them still holds good, and none of you must think that he has come too late for it. We received the Good News exactly as they did; but hearing the message did them no good because they did not share the faith of those who listened. We, however, who have faith, shall reach a place of rest, as in the text: And so, in anger, I swore that not one would reach the place of rest I had for them. God's work was undoubtedly all finished at the beginning of the world; as one text says, referring to the seventh day: After all his work God rested on the seventh day.<sup>c</sup> The text we are considering says: They shall not reach the place of rest I had for them. It is established, then, that there would be some people who would reach it, and since those who first heard the Good News failed to reach it through their disobedience, God fixed another day when, much later, he said 'today' through David in the text already quoted: If only you would listen to him today; do not harden your hearts. If Joshua had led them into this place of rest, God would not later on have spoken so much of another day. There must still be, therefore, a place of rest reserved for God's people, the seventh-day rest, since to reach the place of rest is to rest after your work, as God did after his. We must therefore do everything we can to reach this place of rest, or some of you might copy this example of disobedience and be lost.

The word of God and Christ the priest

The word of God is something alive and active: it cuts like any double-edged sword but more finely: it can slip through the place where the soul is divided from the spirit, or joints from the marrow; it can judge the secret emotions and thoughts. No created thing can hide from him; everything is uncovered and open to the eyes of the one to whom we must give account of ourselves.

Since in Jesus, the Son of God, we have the supreme high priest who has gone through to the highest heaven, we must never let go of the faith that we have professed. For it is not as if we had a high priest who was incapable of feeling our weaknesses with us; but we have one who has been tempted in every way that we are, though he is without sin. Let us be confident, then, in approaching the throne of grace, that we shall have mercy from him and find grace when we are in need of help.

Jesus the compassionate high priest

5 Every high priest has been taken out of mankind and is appointed to act for men in their relations with God, to offer gifts and sacrifices for sins; and so

2 he can sympathise with those who are ignorant or uncertain because he too lives
 3 in the limitations of weakness. •That is why he has to make sin offerings for 4 himself as well as for the people. •No one takes this honour on himself, but each 5 one is called by God, as Aaron was. •Nor did Christ give himself the glory of 6 becoming high priest, but he had it from the one who said to him: You are my 7 son, today I have become your father,<sup>a</sup> •and in another text: You are a priest of 8 the order of Melchizedek, and for ever.<sup>b</sup> •During his life on earth, he offered up 9 prayer and entreaty, aloud and in silent tears, to the one who had the power to 10 save him out of death, and he submitted so humbly that his prayer was heard.
 11 Although he was Son, he learnt to obey through suffering; •but having been 12 made perfect, he became for all who obey him the source of eternal salvation 13 and was acclaimed by God with the title of high priest of the order of Melchizedek.

THE AUTHENTIC PRIESTHOOD OF JESUS CHRIST

Christian life and theology

11 On this subject we have many things to say, and they are difficult to explain 12 because you have grown so slow at understanding. •Really, when you should by 13 this time have become masters, you need someone to teach you all over again the 14 elementary principles of interpreting God's oracles; you have gone back to needing 15 milk, and not solid food. •Truly, anyone who is still living on milk cannot digest
 16 the doctrine of righteousness because he is still a baby. •Solid food is for mature 17 men with minds trained by practice to distinguish between good and bad.

The author explains his intention

1 6 Let us leave behind us then all the elementary teaching about Christ and 2 concentrate on its completion, without going over the fundamental doctrines
 3 again: the turning away from dead actions and towards faith in God; •the teaching
 4 about baptisms and the laying-on of hands; the teaching about the resurrection
 5 of the dead and eternal judgement. •This, God willing, is what we propose to do.

6 As for those people who were once brought into the light, and tasted the gift
 7 from heaven, and received a share of the Holy Spirit, •and appreciated the good 8 message of God and the powers of the world to come •and yet in spite of this 9 have fallen away—it is impossible for them to be renewed a second time. They 10 cannot be repentant if they have wilfully crucified the Son of God and openly 11 mocked him. •A field that has been well watered by frequent rain, and gives the 12 crops that are wanted by the owners who grew them, is given God's blessing; 13 but one that grows brambles and thistles is abandoned, and practically cursed.
 14 It will end by being burnt.

Words of hope and encouragement

9 But you, my dear people—in spite of what we have just said, we are sure you
 10 are in a better state and on the way to salvation. •God would not be so unjust
 11 as to forget all you have done, the love that you have for his name or the services 12 you have done, and are still doing, for the saints.<sup>a</sup> •Our one desire is that every 13 one of you should go on showing the same earnestness to the end, to the perfect 14 fulfilment of our hopes, •never growing careless, but imitating those who have the 15 faith and the perseverance to inherit the promises.

16 When God made the promise to Abraham, he swore by his own self, since it 17 was impossible for him to swear by anyone greater: •I will shower blessings on

3 a. Ps 95 b. Nb 14:29

4 a. Gn 2:2

5 a. Ps 2:7 b. Ps 110:4

6 a. The same phrase is used in Rm and 2 Co about a collection of money made for the church in Jerusalem.

you and give you many descendants.<sup>b</sup> •Because of that, Abraham persevered and 15 saw the promise fulfilled. •Men, of course, swear an oath by something greater 16 than themselves, and between men, confirmation by an oath puts an end to all dispute. •In the same way, when God wanted to make the heirs to the promise 17 thoroughly realise that his purpose was unalterable, he conveyed this by an oath;
 so that there would be two unalterable things in which it was impossible for God 18 to be lying, and so that we, now we have found safety, should have a strong encouragement to take a firm grip on the hope that is held out to us. •Here we 19 have an anchor for our soul, as sure as it is firm, and reaching right through beyond the veil<sup>c</sup> •where Jesus has entered before us and on our behalf, to become 20 a high priest of the order of Melchizedek, and for ever.

CHRIST'S PRIESTHOOD HIGHER THAN LEVITICAL PRIESTHOOD

Melchizedek<sup>a</sup>

7 You remember that Melchizedek, king of Salem, a priest of God Most High, 1 went to meet Abraham who was on his way back after defeating the kings, and blessed him; •and also that it was to him that Abraham gave a tenth of all that 2 he had. By the interpretation of his name, he is, first, 'king of righteousness' and also king of Salem, that is, 'king of peace'; •he has no father, mother or ancestry, 3 and his life has no beginning or ending; he is like the Son of God. He remains a priest for ever.

Melchizedek accepted tithes from Abraham

Now think how great this man must have been, if the patriarch Abraham paid 4 him a tenth of the treasure he had captured.<sup>b</sup> •We know that any of the descendants 5 of Levi who are admitted to the priesthood are obliged by the Law to take tithes from the people, and this is taking them from their own brothers although they 6 too are descended from Abraham. •But this man, who was not of the same descent, took his tenth from Abraham, and he gave his blessing to the holder of 7 the promises. •Now it is indisputable that a blessing is given by a superior to an inferior. •Further, in the one case it is ordinary mortal men who receive the 8 tithes, and in the other, someone who is declared to be still alive. •It could be said 9 that Levi himself, who receives tithes, actually paid them, in the person of Abraham, •because he was still in the loins of his ancestor when Melchizedek 10 came to meet him.

From levitical priesthood to the priesthood of Melchizedek

Now if perfection had been reached through the levitical priesthood because 11 the Law given to the nation rests on it, why was it still necessary for a new priesthood to arise, one of the same order as Melchizedek<sup>c</sup> not counted as being 12
 'of the same order as' Aaron? •But any change in the priesthood must mean a change in the Law as well.

So our Lord, of whom these things were said, belonged to a different tribe, 13
 the members of which have never done service at the altar; •everyone knows he 14 came from Judah, a tribe which Moses did not even mention when dealing with priests.

The abrogation of the old Law

This<sup>d</sup> becomes even more clearly evident when there appears a second 15
 Melchizedek, who is a priest •not by virtue of a law about physical descent, but 16 by the power of an indestructible life. •For it was about him that the prophecy 17 was made: You are a priest of the order of Melchizedek, and for ever. •The 18 earlier commandment is thus abolished, because it was neither effective nor useful, since the Law could not make anyone perfect; but now this commandment is replaced by something better—the hope that brings us nearer to God.

Christ's priesthood is unchanging

What is more, this was not done without the taking of an oath. The others, indeed, were made priests without any oath; •but he with an oath sworn by the one who declared to him: The Lord has sworn an oath which he will never retract: you are a priest, and for ever.<sup>c</sup> •And it follows that it is a greater covenant for which Jesus has become our guarantee. •Then there used to be a great number of those other priests, because death put an end to each one of them; •but this one, because he remains for ever, can never lose his priesthood. •It follows, then, that his power to save is utterly certain, since he is living for ever to intercede for all who come to God through him.

The perfection of the heavenly high priest

To suit us, the ideal high priest would have to be holy, innocent and uncontaminated, beyond the influence of sinners, and raised up above the heavens; •one who would not need to offer sacrifices every day, as the other high priests do for their own sins and then for those of the people, because he has done this once and for all by offering himself. •The Law appoints high priests who are men subject to weakness; but the promise on oath, which came after the Law, appointed the Son who is made perfect for ever.

THE SUPERIORITY OF THE WORSHIP,
THE SANCTUARY AND THE MEDIATION PROVIDED BY CHRIST THE PRIEST

The new priesthood and the new sanctuary

8 The great point of all that we have said is that we have a high priest of exactly this kind. He has his place at the right of the throne of divine Majesty in the heavens, •and he is the minister of the sanctuary and of the true Tent of Meeting which the Lord, and not any man, set up.<sup>a</sup> •It is the duty of every high priest to offer gifts and sacrifices, and so this one too must have something to offer. •In fact, if he were on earth, he would not be a priest at all, since there are others who make the offerings laid down by the Law •and these only maintain the service of a model or a reflection of the heavenly realities. For Moses, when he had the Tent to build, was warned by God who said: See that you make everything according to the pattern shown you on the mountain.<sup>b</sup>

Christ is the mediator of a greater covenant

We have seen that he has been given a ministry of a far higher order, and to the same degree it is a better covenant of which he is the mediator, founded on better promises. •If that first covenant had been without a fault, there would have been no need for a second one to replace it. •And in fact God does find fault with them; he says:

*See, the days are coming—it is the Lord who speaks—
when I will establish a new covenant with the House of Israel and the House of Judah,*

6 b. Gn 22 c. Lv 16:2

7 a. Gn 14, from which the following quotation is made, is silent about any ancestors or descendants of Melchizedek, and about 'the beginning and ending' of his life. b. The regular tithe paid to levitical priests was a tenth. c. Ps 110:4 d. What has been said in v. 12. e. Ps 110:4

but not a covenant like the one I made with their ancestors 9 on the day I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt.
They abandoned that covenant of mine, and so I on my side deserted them. It is the Lord who speaks.
No, this is the covenant I will make 10
with the House of Israel
when those days arrive—it is the Lord who speaks.
I will put my laws into their minds and write them on their hearts.
Then I will be their God
and they shall be my people.
There will be no further need for neighbour to try to teach neighbour, 11 or brother to say to brother,
'Learn to know the Lord'.
No, they will all know me,
the least no less than the greatest,
since I will forgive their iniquities
and never call their sins to mind.<sup>c</sup>

By speaking of a new covenant, he implies that the first one is already old. Now anything old only gets more antiquated until in the end it disappears.

Christ enters the heavenly sanctuary

9 The first covenant also had its laws governing worship, and its sanctuary, 1 a sanctuary on this earth. •There was a tent which comprised two 2 compartments: the first, in which the lamp-stand, the table and the presentation loaves were kept, was called the Holy Place; •then beyond the second veil, an 3 innermost part which was called the Holy of Holies •to which belonged the gold 4 altar of incense, and the ark of the covenant, plated all over with gold. In this were kept the gold jar containing the manna, Aaron's branch that grew the buds, and the stone tablets of the covenant. •On top of it was the throne of mercy, and 5 outspread over it were the glorious cherubs. This is not the time to go into greater detail about this.

Under these provisions, priests are constantly going into the outer tent to 6 carry out their acts of worship, •but the second tent is entered only once a year, and then only by the high priest who must go in by himself and take the blood to 7 offer for his own faults and the people's. •By this, the Holy Spirit is showing that 8 no one has the right to go into the sanctuary as long as the outer tent remains standing; •it is a symbol for this present time. None of the gifts and sacrifices 9 offered under these regulations can possibly bring any worshipper to perfection in his inner self; •they are rules about the outward life, connected with foods and 10 drinks and washing at various times, intended to be in force only until it should be time to reform them.

But now Christ has come, as the high priest of all the blessings which were to 11 come. He has passed through the greater, the more perfect tent, which is better than the one made by men's hands because it is not of this created order; •and he 12 has entered the sanctuary once and for all, taking with him not the blood of goats and bull calves, but his own blood, having won an eternal redemption for us.
 The blood of goats and bulls and the ashes of a heifer are sprinkled on those who 13 have incurred defilement and they restore the holiness of their outward lives;
 how much more effectively the blood of Christ, who offered himself as the 14 perfect sacrifice to God through the eternal Spirit, can purify our inner self from dead actions so that we do our service to the living God.

Christ seals the new covenant with his blood

He brings a new covenant, as the mediator, only so that the people who were 15

called to an eternal inheritance may actually receive what was promised: his death 16 took place to cancel the sins that infringed the earlier covenant. •Now wherever 17 a will is in question, the death of the testator must be established; •indeed, it only becomes valid with that death, since it is not meant to have any effect while the 18 testator is still alive. •That explains why even the earlier covenant needed 19 something to be killed in order to take effect, •and why, after Moses had announced all the commandments of the Law to the people, he took the calves' blood, the goats' blood and some water, and with these he sprinkled the book 20 itself and all the people, using scarlet wool and hyssop; •saying as he did so: This 21 is the blood of the covenant that God has laid down for you.<sup>a</sup> •After that, he sprinkled 22 the tent and all the liturgical vessels with blood in the same way. •In fact, according to the Law almost everything has to be purified<sup>b</sup> with blood; and if 23 there is no shedding of blood, there is no remission. •Obviously, only the copies of heavenly things can be purified in this way, and the heavenly things themselves 24 have to be purified by a higher sort of sacrifice than this. •It is not as though Christ had entered a man-made sanctuary which was only modelled on the real one; but it was heaven itself, so that he could appear in the actual presence of God 25 on our behalf. •And he does not have to offer himself again and again, like the high priest going into the sanctuary year after year with the blood that is not his 26 own, •or else he would have had to suffer over and over again since the world began. Instead of that, he has made his appearance once and for all, now at the 27 end of the last age, to do away with sin by sacrificing himself. •Since men only 28 die once, and after that comes judgement, •so Christ, too, offers himself only once to take the faults of many on himself;<sup>c</sup> and when he appears a second time, it will not be to deal with sin but to reward with salvation those who are waiting for him.

SUMMARY: CHRIST'S SACRIFICE SUPERIOR TO THE SACRIFICES OF THE MOSAIC LAW

The old sacrifices ineffective

1 10 So, since the Law has no more than a reflection of these realities, and no finished picture of them, it is quite incapable of bringing the worshippers to 2 perfection, with the same sacrifices repeatedly offered year after year. •Otherwise, the offering of them would have stopped, because the worshippers, when they had 3 been purified once, would have no awareness of sins. •Instead of that, the sins are 4 recalled year after year in the sacrifices. •Bulls' blood and goats' blood are useless
 5 for taking away sins, •and this is what he said, on coming into the world:

You who wanted no sacrifice or oblation, prepared a body for me.

6 *You took no pleasure in holocausts or sacrifices for sin;
 7 then I said,
 just as I was commanded in the scroll of the book,
 'God, here I am! I am coming to obey your will.'*<sup>a</sup>

8 Notice that he says first: You did not want what the Law lays down as the things to be offered, that is: the sacrifices, the oblations, the holocausts and the sacrifices 9 for sin, and you took no pleasure in them; •and then he says: Here I am! I am coming to obey your will. He is abolishing the first sort to replace it with the 10 second. •And this will was for us to be made holy by the offering of his body made once and for all by Jesus Christ.

<sup>8</sup> c. Jr 31:31-34

<sup>9</sup> a. Ex 24:8 b. Many instances are given in Lv. c. Is 53:12

<sup>10</sup> a. Ps 40:6-8 (LXX)

The efficacy of Christ's sacrifice

All the priests stand at their duties every day, offering over and over again the same sacrifices which are quite incapable of taking sins away. •He, on the other hand, has offered one single sacrifice for sins, and then taken his place for ever, at the right hand of God, •where he is now waiting until his enemies are made into a footstool for him.<sup>b</sup> •By virtue of that one single offering, he has achieved the eternal perfection of all whom he is sanctifying. •The Holy Spirit assures us of this; for he says, first:

This is the covenant I will make with them when those days arrive;<sup>c</sup>

and the Lord then goes on to say:

*I will put my laws into their hearts and write them on their minds.
I will never call their sins to mind,
or their offences.*

When all sins have been forgiven, there can be no more sin offerings.

PERSEVERING FAITH*The Christian opportunity

In other words, brothers, through the blood of Jesus we have the right to enter the sanctuary, •by a new way which he has opened for us, a living opening through the curtain, that is to say, his body. •And we have the supreme high priest over all the house of God. •So as we go in, let us be sincere in heart and filled with faith, our minds sprinkled and free from any trace of bad conscience and our bodies washed with pure water. •Let us keep firm in the hope we profess, because the one who made the promise is faithful. •Let us be concerned for each other, to stir a response in love and good works. •Do not stay away from the meetings of the community, as some do, but encourage each other to go; the more so as you see the Day drawing near.

The danger of apostasy

If, after we have been given knowledge of the truth, we should deliberately commit any sins, then there is no longer any sacrifice for them. •There will be left only the dreadful prospect of judgement and of the raging fire that is to burn rebels.<sup>d</sup> •Anyone who disregards the Law of Moses is ruthlessly put to death on the word of two witnesses or three;<sup>e</sup> •and you may be sure that anyone who tramples on the Son of God, and who treats the blood of the covenant which sanctified him as if it were not holy, and who insults the Spirit of grace, will be condemned to a far severer punishment. •We are all aware who it was that said: Vengeance is mine; I will repay.<sup>f</sup> And again: The Lord will judge his people. •It is a dreadful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

Motives for perseverance

Remember all the sufferings that you had to meet after you received the light, in earlier days; •sometimes by being yourselves publicly exposed to insults and violence, and sometimes as associates of others who were treated in the same way. •For you not only shared in the sufferings of those who were in prison, but you happily accepted being stripped of your belongings, knowing that you owned something that was better and lasting. •Be as confident now, then, since the reward is so great. •You will need endurance to do God's will and gain what he has promised.

Only a little while now, a very little while,

and the one that is coming will have come; he will not delay.<sup>g</sup>

38 The righteous man will live by faith, but if he draws back, my soul will take no pleasure in him.<sup>h</sup>

39 You and I are not the sort of people who draw back, and are lost by it; we are the sort who keep faithful until our souls are saved.

The exemplary faith of our ancestors

1 I Only faith can guarantee the blessings that we hope for, or prove the 2 existence of the realities that at present remain unseen. •It was for faith that our ancestors were commended.

3 It is by faith that we understand that the world was created by one word from God, so that no apparent cause can account for the things we can see.

4 It was because of his faith that Abel offered God a better sacrifice than Cain, and for that he was declared to be righteous when God made acknowledgement of his offerings. Though he is dead, he still speaks by faith.

5 It was because of his faith that Enoch was taken up and did not have to experience death: he was not to be found because God had taken him.<sup>a</sup> This was because before his assumption it is attested that he had pleased God. •Now it is impossible to please God without faith, since anyone who comes to him must believe that he exists and rewards those who try to find him.

7 It was through his faith that Noah, when he had been warned by God of something that had never been seen before, felt a holy fear and built an ark to save his family. By his faith the world was convicted, and he was able to claim the righteousness which is the reward of faith.

8 It was by faith that Abraham obeyed the call to set out for a country that was the inheritance given to him and his descendants, and that he set out without knowing where he was going. •By faith he arrived, as a foreigner, in the Promised Land, and lived there as if in a strange country, with Isaac and Jacob, who were heirs with him of the same promise. •They lived there in tents while he looked forward to a city founded, designed and built by God.

11 It was equally by faith that Sarah, in spite of being past the age, was made able to conceive, because she believed that he who had made the promise would be faithful to it. •Because of this, there came from one man, and one who was already as good as dead himself, more descendants than could be counted, as many as the stars of heaven or the grains of sand on the seashore.<sup>b</sup>

13 All these died in faith, before receiving any of the things that had been promised, but they saw them in the far distance and welcomed them, recognising that they were only strangers and nomads on earth. •People who use such terms about themselves make it quite plain that they are in search of their real homeland. They can hardly have meant the country they came from, since they had the opportunity to go back to it; •but in fact they were longing for a better homeland, their heavenly homeland. That is why God is not ashamed to be called their God, since he has founded the city for them.

17 It was by faith that Abraham, when put to the test, offered up Isaac.<sup>c</sup> He offered to sacrifice his only son even though the promises had been made to him •and he had been told: It is through Isaac that your name will be carried on.<sup>d</sup> •He was confident that God had the power even to raise the dead; and so, figuratively speaking, he was given back Isaac from the dead.

20 It was by faith that this same Isaac gave his blessing to Jacob and Esau for the still distant future. •By faith Jacob, when he was dying, blessed each of Joseph's sons, leaning on the end of his stick as though bowing to pray.<sup>e</sup> •It was by faith that,

10 b. Ps 110 c. From the long quotation from Jr 31 made in ch. 8. d. Is 26:11 (LXX)
e. Dt 17:6 f. Dt 32:35-36 g. Is 26:20 (LXX) h. Hab 2:3-4 (LXX)

11 a. Gn 5:24 b. Gn 22:17, also quoted in Ex 32. c. Gn 22:1-14 d. Gn 21:12 e. Gn 47:31

when he was about to die, Joseph recalled the Exodus of the Israelites and made the arrangements for his own burial.

It was by faith that Moses, when he was born, was hidden by his parents for three months; they defied the royal edict when they saw he was such a fine child. It was by faith that, when he grew to manhood, Moses refused to be known as the son of Pharaoh's daughter and chose to be ill-treated in company with God's people rather than to enjoy for a time the pleasures of sin. He considered that the insults offered to the Anointed were something more precious than all the treasures of Egypt, because he had his eyes fixed on the reward. It was by faith that he left Egypt and was not afraid of the king's anger; he held to his purpose like a man who could see the Invisible. It was by faith that he kept the Passover and sprinkled the blood to prevent the Destroyer from touching any of the first-born sons of Israel. It was by faith they crossed the Red Sea as easily as dry land, while the Egyptians, trying to do the same, were drowned.

It was through faith that the walls of Jericho fell down when the people had been round them for seven days. It was by faith that Rahab the prostitute welcomed the spies and so was not killed with the unbelievers.

Is there any need to say more? There is not time for me to give an account of Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephthah, or of David, Samuel and the prophets. These were men who through faith conquered kingdoms, did what is right and earned the promises. They could keep a lion's mouth shut, put out blazing fires and emerge unscathed from battle. They were weak people who were given strength, to be brave in war and drive back foreign invaders. Some came back to their wives from the dead, by resurrection; and others submitted to torture, refusing release so that they would rise again to a better life. Some had to bear being pilloried and flogged, or even chained up in prison. They were stoned, or sawn in half, or beheaded; they were homeless, and dressed in the skins of sheep and goats; they were penniless and were given nothing but ill-treatment. They were too good for the world and they went out to live in deserts and mountains and in caves and ravines. These are all heroes of faith, but they did not receive what was promised, since God had made provision for us to have something better, and they were not to reach perfection except with us.

The example of Jesus Christ

12 With so many witnesses in a great cloud on every side of us, we too, then, should throw off everything that hinders us, especially the sin that clings so easily, and keep running steadily in the race we have started. Let us not lose sight of Jesus, who leads us in our faith and brings it to perfection: for the sake of the joy which was still in the future, he endured the cross, disregarding the shameful-ness of it, and from now on has taken his place at the right of God's throne. Think of the way he stood such opposition from sinners and then you will not give up for want of courage. In the fight against sin, you have not yet had to keep fighting to the point of death.

God's fatherly instruction

Have you forgotten that encouraging text in which you are addressed as sons? My son, when the Lord corrects you, do not treat it lightly; but do not get discouraged when he reprimands you. For the Lord trains the ones that he loves and he punishes all those that he acknowledges as his sons. Suffering is part of your training; God is treating you as his sons. Has there ever been any son whose father did not train him? If you were not getting this training, as all of you are, then you would not be sons but bastards. Besides, we have all had our human fathers who punished us, and we respected them for it; we ought to be even more willing to submit ourselves to our spiritual Father, to be given life. Our human fathers were thinking of this short life when they punished us, and could only do what they thought best; but he does it all for our own good, so that we may share his

11 own holiness. •Of course, any punishment is most painful at the time, and far 12 from pleasant; but later, in those on whom it has been used, it bears fruit in peace 13 and goodness. •So hold up your limp arms and steady your trembling knees<sup>9</sup> and smooth out the path you tread;<sup>c</sup> then the injured limb will not be wrenched, it will grow strong again.

Unfaithfulness is punished

14 Always be wanting peace<sup>d</sup> with all people, and the holiness without which no
 15 one can ever see the Lord. •Be careful that no one is deprived of the grace of God and that no root of bitterness should begin to grow and make trouble;<sup>e</sup> this can poison 16 a whole community. •And be careful that there is no immorality, or that any of you does not degrade religion like Esau, who sold his birthright for one single 17 meal. •As you know, when he wanted to obtain the blessing afterwards, he was rejected and, though he pleaded for it with tears, he was unable to elicit a change of heart.

The two covenants

18 What you have come to is nothing known to the senses: not a blazing fire,<sup>f</sup> 19 or a gloom turning to total darkness, or a storm; •or trumpeting thunder or the great voice speaking which made everyone that heard it beg that no more should 20 be said to them. •They were appalled at the order that was given: If even an animal
 21 touches the mountain, it must be stoned. •The whole scene was so terrible that 22 Moses said: I am afraid,<sup>g</sup> and was trembling with fright. •But what you have come to is Mount Zion and the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem where the 23 millions of angels have gathered for the festival, •with the whole Church in which everyone is a 'first-born son' and a citizen of heaven. You have come to God himself, the supreme Judge, and been placed with the spirits of the saints who have 24 been made perfect; •and to Jesus, the mediator who brings a new covenant and a 25 blood for purification which pleads more insistently than Abel's. •Make sure that you never refuse to listen when he speaks. The people who refused to listen to the warning from a voice on earth could not escape their punishment, and how shall 26 we escape if we turn away from a voice that warns us from heaven? •That time his voice made the earth shake, but now he has given us this promise: I shall make 27 the earth shake once<sup>h</sup> more and not only the earth but heaven as well.<sup>h</sup> •The words once more show that since the things being shaken are created things, they are 28 going to be changed, so that the unshakeable things will be left. •We have been given possession of an unshakeable kingdom. Let us therefore hold on to the grace that we have been given and use it to worship God in the way that he finds 29 acceptable, in reverence and fear. •For our God is a consuming fire.<sup>i</sup>

APPENDIX

Final recommendations

1 13 Continue to love each other like brothers, •and remember always to 2 welcome strangers, for by doing this, some people have entertained angels
 3 without knowing it. •Keep in mind those who are in prison, as though you were 4 in prison with them; and those who are being badly treated, since you too are in 5 the one body. •Marriage is to be honoured by all, and marriages are to be kept 6 undefiled, because fornicators and adulterers will come under God's judgement.
 Put greed out of your lives and be content with whatever you have; God himself
 7 has said: I will not fail you or desert you,<sup>a</sup> •and so we can say with confidence:
With the Lord to help me, I fear nothing: what can man do to me?<sup>b</sup>

Faithfulness

Remember your leaders, who preached the word of God to you, and as you 7 reflect on the outcome of their lives, imitate their faith. •Jesus Christ is the same 8 today as he was yesterday and as he will be for ever. •Do not let yourselves 9 be led astray by all sorts of strange doctrines: it is better to rely on grace for inner strength than on dietary laws which have done no good to those who kept them.
 We have our own altar from which those who serve the tabernacle have no right 10 to eat. •The bodies of the animals whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the 11 high priest for the atonement of sin are burnt outside the camp,<sup>c</sup> •and so Jesus too 12 suffered outside the gate to sanctify the people with his own blood. •Let us go to 13 him, then, outside the camp, and share his degradation. •For there is no eternal 14 city for us in this life but we look for one in the life to come. •Through him, 15
let us offer God an unending sacrifice of praise,<sup>d</sup> a verbal sacrifice that is offered every time we acknowledge his name. •Keep doing good works and sharing your 16 resources, for these are sacrifices that please God.

Obedience to religious leaders

Obey your leaders and do as they tell you, because they must give an account 17 of the way they look after your souls; make this a joy for them to do, and not a 18 grief—you yourselves would be the losers. •We are sure that our own conscience 18 is clear and we are certainly determined to behave honourably in everything we do; pray for us. •I ask you very particularly to pray that I may come back to you 19 all the sooner.

EPILOGUE*News, good wishes and greetings

I pray that the God of peace, who brought our Lord Jesus back<sup>e</sup> from the dead 20 to become the great Shepherd of the sheep<sup>f</sup> by the blood that sealed an eternal 21 covenant,<sup>g</sup> •may make you ready to do his will in any kind of good action; and 21 turn us all into whatever is acceptable to himself through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory for ever and ever, Amen.

I do ask you, brothers, to take these words of advice kindly; that is why I have 22 written to you so briefly.

I want you to know that our brother Timothy has been set free. If he arrives 23 in time, he will be with me when I see you. •Greetings to all your leaders and to 24 all the saints. The saints of Italy send you greetings. •Grace be with you all. 25

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MATTHEW

Until recent times it was accepted that the author of The Gospel according to Matthew was the Apostle Matthew, that this was the first of the four Gospels to be written, and that the other Gospels drew on the information which it contained. This view has been very seriously questioned and the majority of scholars now believe that Matthew is later than Mark, and that it uses Mark as its framework for all the narrative passages.

The simplest view is that Matthew uses as his sources first of all Mark, then a source for material which he shares with Luke, and a source which only he uses. An author in the second century A.D. records that Matthew made a collection of the sayings of Jesus in Aramaic and that this collection then formed the basis for Matthew's Gospel and for the other Gospels. Unfortunately, the present form of Matthew's Gospel shows no clear trace of having been translated from Aramaic or from Hebrew, and although it is very probable that such a collection of the sayings of Jesus existed in Aramaic, as material in support of the Apostles' preaching in Jerusalem and Palestine, there is little to suggest that this collection was the basis of St. Matthew's Gospel. In particular, all the quotations from the Old Testament seem to have been taken from the Greek translation of the Old Testament, the Septuagint, which was in use amongst Greek-speaking Jews. The Gospel is now usually dated after the destruction of Jerusalem in A.D. 70, for Matthew 22:7 suggests that the destruction of the city has already taken place.

The Gospel according to Matthew is directed towards Jewish Christians, for it mentions Jewish customs which are not mentioned in the other Gospels, it shows particular interest in the relationship of Jesus to the Law, and it stresses that the first object of the mission of Jesus was towards the Jews.

The grouping of material into the kind of collections which would be useful for a preacher is particularly marked in Matthew in such passages as the Sermon on the Mount in chapters 5-7, and in chapters 10, 13, 18 and 24-25. There is a strong suggestion in the Gospel that Jesus is a second Moses, who modifies the old Mosaic Law and gives his followers a new teaching about God's relationship with his world which reaches its climax in the Crucifixion and Resurrection. In the genealogy at the beginning of the Gospel Matthew lays particular emphasis on Abraham and David, in a way which would appeal to Jews, and his use of Old Testament quotation presupposes that those for whom he is writing accept the Old Testament as the authoritative revelation of God. The kingdom of God is an important idea in the Gospel, and Matthew identifies it with the Church.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO SAINT MATTHEW

THE BIRTH AND INFANCY OF JESUS

The ancestry of Jesus

- 1 1 A genealogy of Jesus Christ, son of David, son of Abraham:<sup>a</sup>
- 2 Abraham was the father of Isaac,
Isaac the father of Jacob,
3 Jacob the father of Judah and his brothers,
4 Judah was the father of Perez and Zerah, Tamar being their mother, Perez was the father of Hezron,
Hezron the father of Ram,
5 Ram was the father of Amminadab, Amminadab the father of Nahshon,
Nahshon the father of Salmon,
6 Salmon was the father of Boaz, Rahab being his mother,
Boaz was the father of Obed, Ruth being his mother, Obed was the father of Jesse;
and Jesse was the father of King David.
- 7 David was the father of Solomon, whose mother had been Uriah's wife,
- 8 Solomon was the father of Rehoboam, Rehoboam the father of Abijah, Abijah the father of Asa,
9 Asa was the father of Jehoshaphat, Jehoshaphat the father of Joram,
Joram the father of Azariah,
10 Azariah was the father of Jotham, Jotham the father of Ahaz,
Ahaz the father of Hezekiah,
11 Hezekiah was the father of Manasseh,
Manasseh the father of Amon, Amon the father of Josiah;
and Josiah was the father of Jechoniah and his brothers.
Then the deportation to Babylon took place.
- 12 After the deportation to Babylon:
Jechoniah was the father of Shealtiel,
Shealtiel the father of Zerubbabel,
13 Zerubbabel was the father of Abiud,

<sup>1 a</sup>. Showing the descent of Joseph, legally the father of Jesus, from Abraham and David, to whom the messianic promises were made.

Abiud the father of Eliakim,
 Eliakim the father of Azor,
 Azor was the father of Zadok, 14
 Zadok the father of Achim,
 Achim the father of Eliud,
 Eliud was the father of Eleazar, 15
 Eleazar the father of Matthan, Matthan the father of Jacob;
 and Jacob was the father of Joseph the husband of Mary; 16 of her was born Jesus who is called Christ.

The sum of generations is therefore: fourteen from Abraham to David; 17 fourteen from David to the Babylonian deportation; and fourteen from the Babylonian deportation to Christ.

The virginal conception of Christ

This is how Jesus Christ came to be born. His mother Mary was betrothed 18 to Joseph;<sup>b</sup> but before they came to live together she was found to be with child through the Holy Spirit. •Her husband Joseph, being a man of honour and 19 wanting to spare her publicity, decided to divorce her informally. •He had 20 made up his mind to do this when the angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream and said, 'Joseph son of David, do not be afraid to take Mary home as your wife, because she has conceived what is in her by the Holy Spirit. •She 21 will give birth to a son and you must name him Jesus, because he is the one who is to save<sup>c</sup> his people from their sins.' •Now all this took place to fulfil the words 22 spoken by the Lord through the prophet:

The virgin will conceive and give birth to a son 23 and they will call him Immanuel,<sup>d</sup>

a name which means 'God-is-with-us'. •When Joseph woke up he did what the 24 angel of the Lord had told him to do: he took his wife to his home •and, though 25
 he had not had intercourse with her, she gave birth to a son; and he named him Jesus.

The visit of the Magi

2 After Jesus had been born at Bethlehem in Judaea during the reign of King 1 Herod,<sup>e</sup> some wise men came to Jerusalem from the east. •'Where is the infant 2 king of the Jews?' they asked. 'We saw his star as it rose' and have come to do him homage.' •When King Herod heard this he was perturbed, and so was the whole 3 of Jerusalem. •He called together all the chief priests and the scribes of the people, 4 and enquired of them where the Christ was to be born. •'At Bethlehem in Judaea,' 5 they told him 'for this is what the prophet wrote:

*And you, Bethlehem, in the land of Judah, 6
 you are by no means least among the leaders of Judah, for out of you will come a leader who will shepherd my people Israel'.<sup>c</sup>*

Then Herod summoned the wise men to see him privately. He asked them the 7 exact date on which the star had appeared, •and sent them on to Bethlehem. 8
 'Go and find out all about the child,' he said 'and when you have found him, let me know, so that I too may go and do him homage.' •Having listened to 9 what the king had to say, they set out. And there in front of them was the star they had seen rising; it went forward and halted over the place where the child 10 was. •The sight of the star filled them with delight, •and going into the house 11 they saw the child with his mother Mary, and falling to their knees they did him homage. Then, opening their treasures, they offered him gifts of gold and frankincense and myrrh.<sup>d</sup> •But they were warned in a dream not to go back to 12 Herod, and returned to their own country by a different way.

The flight into Egypt. The massacre of the Innocents

- 13 After they had left, the angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream and said, 'Get up, take the child and his mother with you, and escape into Egypt, and stay there until I tell you, because Herod intends to search for the child and 14 do away with him'. •So Joseph got up and, taking the child and his mother 15 with him, left that night for Egypt, •where he stayed until Herod was dead. This was to fulfil what the Lord had spoken through the prophet:

I called my son out of Egypt.<sup>c</sup>

- 16 Herod was furious when he realised that he had been outwitted by the wise men, and in Bethlehem and its surrounding district he had all the male children killed who were two years old or under, reckoning by the date he 17 had been careful to ask the wise men. •It was then that the words spoken through the prophet Jeremiah were fulfilled:

- 18 *A voice was heard in Ramah, sobbing and loudly lamenting:
it was Rachel weeping for her children, refusing to be comforted
because they were no more.<sup>f</sup>*

From Egypt to Nazareth

- 19 After Herod's death, the angel of the Lord appeared in a dream to Joseph in 20 Egypt •and said, 'Get up, take the child and his mother with you and go back to 21 the land of Israel, for those who wanted to kill the child are dead'. •So Joseph got up and, taking the child and his mother with him, went back to the land of Israel.
22 But when he learnt that Archelaus<sup>g</sup> had succeeded his father Herod as ruler of Judaea he was afraid to go there, and being warned in a dream he left for the 23 region of Galilee.<sup>h</sup> •There he settled in a town called Nazareth. In this way the words spoken through the prophets were to be fulfilled:

He will be called a Nazarene.

THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN PROCLAIMED*NARRATIVE SECTION*The preaching of John the Baptist

- 1 3 In due course John the Baptist appeared; he preached in the wilderness of 2 Judaea and this was his message: •'Repent, for the kingdom of heaven<sup>a</sup> is 3 close at hand'. •This was the man the prophet Isaiah spoke of when he said:

*A voice cries in the wilderness:
Prepare a way for the Lord,
make his paths straight.<sup>b</sup>*

- 4 This man John wore a garment made of camel-hair with a leather belt round his 5 waist, and his food was locusts and wild honey. •Then Jerusalem and all Judaea
6 and the whole Jordan district made their way to him, •and as they were baptised by him in the river Jordan they confessed their sins. •But when he saw a number of Pharisees and Sadducees<sup>c</sup> coming for baptism he said to them, 'Brood of vipers, who warned you to fly from the retribution that is coming? But if you are repentant, produce the appropriate fruit, •and do not presume to tell yourselves, "We have Abraham for our father", because, I tell you, God can raise children for Abraham from these stones. •Even now the axe is laid to the roots of the trees, so that any tree which fails to produce good fruit will be cut down and thrown on the fire. •I baptise you in water for repentance, but the one who follows me is more powerful than I am, and I am not fit to carry his sandals; he will baptise you with the Holy Spirit and fire. •His winnowing-fan is in his hand; he will clear his threshing-floor and gather his wheat into the barn; but the chaff he will burn in a fire that will never go out.'

Jesus is baptised

Then Jesus appeared: he came from Galilee to the Jordan to be baptised by John. •John tried to dissuade him. 'It is I who need baptism from you' he said 'and yet you come to me!' •But Jesus replied, 'Leave it like this for the time being; it is fitting that we should, in this way, do all that righteousness demands'. At this, John gave in to him.

As soon as Jesus was baptised he came up from the water, and suddenly the heavens opened and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and coming down on him. •And a voice spoke from heaven, 'This is my Son, the Beloved; my favour rests on him'.

Temptation in the wilderness

4 Then Jesus was led by the Spirit out into the wilderness to be tempted by the devil. •He fasted for forty days and forty nights, after which he was very hungry, •and the tempter came and said to him, 'If you are the Son of God, tell these stones to turn into loaves'. •But he replied, 'Scripture says:

Man does not live on bread alone but on every word that comes from the mouth of God'.<sup>a</sup>

The devil then took him to the holy city and made him stand on the parapet of the Temple. •'If you are the Son of God' he said 'throw yourself down; for scripture says:

He will put you in his angels' charge, and they will support you on their hands in case you hurt your foot against a stone.'<sup>b</sup>

Jesus said to him, 'Scripture also says:

You must not put the Lord your God to the test'.<sup>c</sup>

Next, taking him to a very high mountain, the devil showed him all the kingdoms of the world and their splendour. •'I will give you all these' he said, 'if you fall at my feet and worship me.' •Then Jesus replied, 'Be off, Satan! For scripture says:

*You must worship the Lord your God,
and serve him alone.'<sup>d</sup>*

Then the devil left him, and angels appeared and looked after him.

Return to Galilee

Hearing that John had been arrested he went back to Galilee, •and leaving Nazareth he went and settled in Capernaum, a lakeside town on the borders of Zebulun and Naphtali. •In this way the prophecy of Isaiah was to be fulfilled:

*Land of Zebulun! Land of Naphtali!
Way of the sea on the far side of Jordan,*

Galilee of the nations!

- 16 *The people that lived in darkness
has seen a great light;
on those who dwell in the land and shadow of death
a light has dawned.<sup>c</sup>*

- 17 From that moment Jesus began his preaching with the message, 'Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is close at hand'.

The first four disciples are called

- 18 As he was walking by the Sea of Galilee he saw two brothers, Simon, who was called Peter, and his brother Andrew; they were making a cast in the lake with their net, for they were fishermen. •And he said to them, 'Follow me and I will make you fishers of men'. •And they left their nets at once and followed him.
- 20 Going on from there he saw another pair of brothers, James son of Zebedee and his brother John; they were in their boat with their father Zebedee, mending their nets, and he called them. •At once, leaving the boat and their father, they followed him.

Jesus preaches and heals the sick

- 23 He went round the whole of Galilee teaching in their synagogues, proclaiming the Good News of the kingdom and curing all kinds of diseases and sickness among the people. •His fame spread throughout Syria,<sup>f</sup> and those who were suffering from diseases and painful complaints of one kind or another, the possessed, epileptics, the paralysed, were all brought to him, and he cured them.
- 25 Large crowds followed him, coming from Galilee, the Decapolis,<sup>g</sup> Jerusalem, Judaea and Transjordania.

THE SERMON ON THE MOUNT<sup>a</sup>

The Beatitudes

- 1 5 Seeing the crowds, he went up the hill. There he sat down and was joined by 2 his disciples. •Then he began to speak. This is what he taught them:
- 3 'How happy are the poor in spirit;
theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
- 4 *Happy the gentle:<sup>b</sup>
they shall have the earth for their heritage.*
- 5 Happy those who mourn:
they shall be comforted.
- 6 Happy those who hunger and thirst for what is right:
they shall be satisfied.
- 7 Happy the merciful:
they shall have mercy shown them.
- 8 Happy the pure in heart:
they shall see God.
- 9 Happy the peacemakers:
they shall be called sons of God.
- 10 Happy those who are persecuted in the cause of right:
theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

3 c. Pharisees: members of a Jewish sect known for its strict observance of the Law as it was interpreted and developed by their rabbis. Sadducees: conservatives who observed the written form of the Law in the scriptures.

4 a. Dt 8:3 b. Ps 91:11-12 c. Dt 6:16 d. Dt 6:13 e. Is 8:23-9:1 f. I.e. Galilee and the districts listed in v. 25. g. The 'ten towns', a region south-east of Galilee.

5 a. In this discourse, which occupies three ch. of this gospel, Mt has included sayings which probably originated on other occasions (cf. their parallels in Lk). b. Or 'the lowly'; the word comes from the Greek version of Ps 37.

'Happy are you when people abuse you and persecute you and speak all kinds of calumny against you on my account. •Rejoice and be glad, for your reward will be great in heaven; this is how they persecuted the prophets before you.

Salt of the earth and light of the world

'You are the salt of the earth. But if salt becomes tasteless, what can make it salty again? It is good for nothing, and can only be thrown out to be trampled underfoot by men.

'You are the light of the world. A city built on a hill-top cannot be hidden. No one lights a lamp to put it under a tub; they put it on the lamp-stand where it shines for everyone in the house. •In the same way your light must shine in the sight of men, so that, seeing your good works, they may give the praise to your Father in heaven.

The fulfilment of the Law

'Do not imagine that I have come to abolish the Law or the Prophets. I have come not to abolish but to complete them. •I tell you solemnly, till heaven and earth disappear, not one dot, not one little stroke, shall disappear from the Law until its purpose is achieved. •Therefore, the man who infringes even one of the least of these commandments and teaches others to do the same will be considered the least in the kingdom of heaven; but the man who keeps them and teaches them will be considered great in the kingdom of heaven.

The new standard higher than the old

'For I tell you, if your virtue goes no deeper than that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never get into the kingdom of heaven.

'You have learnt how it was said to our ancestors: You must not kill;<sup>c</sup> and if anyone does kill he must answer for it before the court. •But I say this to you: anyone who is angry with his brother will answer for it before the court; if a man calls his brother "Fool"<sup>d</sup> he will answer for it before the Sanhedrin;<sup>e</sup> and if a man calls him "Renegade"<sup>f</sup> he will answer for it in hell fire. •So then, if you are bringing your offering to the altar and there remember that your brother has something against you, •leave your offering there before the altar, go and be reconciled with your brother first, and then come back and present your offering. •Come to terms with your opponent in good time while you are still on the way to the court with him, or he may hand you over to the judge and the judge to the officer, and you will be thrown into prison. •I tell you solemnly, you will not get out till you have paid the last penny.

'You have learnt how it was said: You must not commit adultery.<sup>g</sup> •But I say this to you: if a man looks at a woman lustfully, he has already committed adultery with her in his heart. •If your right eye should cause you to sin, tear it out and throw it away; for it will do you less harm to lose one part of you than to have your whole body thrown into hell. •And if your right hand should cause you to sin, cut it off and throw it away; for it will do you less harm to lose one part of you than to have your whole body go to hell.

'It has also been said: Anyone who divorces his wife must give her a writ of dismissal.<sup>h</sup> •But I say this to you: everyone who divorces his wife, except for the case of fornication, makes her an adulteress; and anyone who marries a divorced woman commits adultery.

'Again, you have learnt how it was said to our ancestors: You must not break your oath, but must fulfil your oaths to the Lord.<sup>i</sup> •But I say this to you: do not swear at all, either by heaven, since that is God's throne; -or by the earth, since that is his footstool; or by Jerusalem, since that is the city of the great king. •Do not swear by your own head either, since you cannot turn a single hair white or black. All you need say is "Yes" if you mean yes, "No" if you mean no; anything more than this comes from the evil one.

38 'You have learnt how it was said: Eye for eye and tooth for tooth.' •But I say 39 this to you: offer the wicked man no resistance. On the contrary, if anyone hits 40 you on the right cheek, offer him the other as well; •if a man takes you to law
 41 and would have your tunic, let him have your cloak as well. •And if anyone 42 orders you to go one mile, go two miles with him. •Give to anyone who asks, and if anyone wants to borrow, do not turn away.
 43 'You have learnt how it was said: You must love your neighbour and hate your 44 enemy.' •But I say this to you: love your enemies and pray for those who 45 persecute you; •in this way you will be sons of your Father in heaven, for he causes his sun to rise on bad men as well as good, and his rain to fall on honest 46 and dishonest men alike. •For if you love those who love you, what right have 47 you to claim any credit? Even the tax collectors' do as much, do they not? •And if you save your greetings for your brothers, are you doing anything exceptional?
 48 Even the pagans do as much, do they not? •You must therefore be perfect just as your heavenly Father is perfect.

Almsgiving in secret

1 6 'Be careful not to parade your good deeds before men to attract their notice;
 2 by doing this you will lose all reward from your Father in heaven. •So when you give alms, do not have it trumpeted before you; this is what the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets to win men's admiration. I tell you 3 solemnly, they have had their reward. •But when you give alms, your left hand 4 must not know what your right is doing; •your almsgiving must be secret, and your Father who sees all that is done in secret will reward you.

Prayer in secret

5 'And when you pray, do not imitate the hypocrites: they love to say their prayers standing up in the synagogues and at the street corners for people to see 6 them. I tell you solemnly, they have had their reward. •But when you pray, go to your private room and, when you have shut your door, pray<sup>a</sup> to your Father who is in that secret place, and your Father who sees all that is done in secret will reward you.

How to pray. The Lord's Prayer

7 'In your prayers do not babble as the pagans do, for they think that by using 8 many words they will make themselves heard. •Do not be like them; your Father 9 knows what you need before you ask him. •So you should pray like this:

'Our Father in heaven,
 may your name be held holy,
 your kingdom come,
 your will be done,
 on earth as in heaven.
 Give us today our daily bread.
 And forgive us our debts,
 as we have forgiven those who are in debt to us.
 And do not put us to the test,
 but save us from the evil one.

14 Yes, if you forgive others their failings, your heavenly Father will forgive you 15 yours; •but if you do not forgive others, your Father will not forgive your failings either.

 l. They were employed by the occupying power and this earned them popular contempt.

6 a. Not a direct quotation but an allusion to the practice common in the O.T., see 2 K 4:33.

Fasting in secret

'When you fast do not put on a gloomy look as the hypocrites do: they pull 16 long faces to let men know they are fasting. I tell you solemnly, they have had their reward. •But when you fast, put oil on your head and wash your face, 17 so that no one will know you are fasting except your Father who sees all that is 18 done in secret; and your Father who sees all that is done in secret will reward you.

True treasures

'Do not store up treasures for yourselves on earth, where moths and 19 woodworms destroy them and thieves can break in and steal. •But store up 20 treasures for yourselves in heaven, where neither moth nor woodworms destroy them and thieves cannot break in and steal. •For where your treasure is, there 21 will your heart be also.

The eye, the lamp of the body

'The lamp of the body is the eye. It follows that if your eye is sound, your 22 whole body will be filled with light. •But if your eye is diseased, your whole body 23 will be all darkness. If then, the light inside you is darkness, what darkness that will be!

God and money

'No one can be the slave of two masters: he will either hate the first and love 24 the second, or treat the first with respect and the second with scorn. You cannot be the slave both of God and of money.

Trust in Providence

'That is why I am telling you not to worry about your life and what you are to 25 eat, nor about your body and how you are to clothe it. Surely life means more than food, and the body more than clothing! •Look at the birds in the sky. They do not 26 sow or reap or gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not worth much more than they are? •Can any of you, for all his worrying, add 27 one single cubit to his span of life? •And why worry about clothing? Think of the 28 flowers growing in the fields; they never have to work or spin; •yet I assure you 29 that not even Solomon in all his regalia was robed like one of these. •Now if that 30 is how God clothes the grass in the field which is there today and thrown into the furnace tomorrow, will he not much more look after you, you men of little faith?
So do not worry; do not say, "What are we to eat? What are we to drink? How 31 are we to be clothed?" •It is the pagans who set their hearts on all these things. 32
Your heavenly Father knows you need them all. •Set your hearts on his kingdom 33 first, and on his righteousness, and all these other things will be given you as well.
So do not worry about tomorrow: tomorrow will take care of itself. Each day 34 has enough trouble of its own.

Do not judge

7 'Do not judge, and you will not be judged; •because the judgements you give 1 are the judgements you will get, and the amount you measure out is the 2 amount you will be given. •Why do you observe the splinter in your brother's 3 eye and never notice the plank in your own? •How dare you say to your brother, 4
"Let me take the splinter out of your eye", when all the time there is a plank in your own? •Hypocrite! Take the plank out of your own eye first, and then you 5 will see clearly enough to take the splinter out of your brother's eye.

Do not profane sacred things

'Do not give dogs what is holy;" and do not throw your pearls in front of pigs, 6 or they may trample them and then turn on you and tear you to pieces.

Effective prayer

7 'Ask, and it will be given to you; search, and you will find; knock, and the 8 door will be opened to you. •For the one who asks always receives; the one who searches always finds; the one who knocks will always have the door opened to 9 him. •Is there a man among you who would hand his son a stone when he asked 10 for bread? •Or would hand him a snake when he asked for a fish? •If you, then, 11 who are evil, know how to give your children what is good, how much more will your Father in heaven give good things to those who ask him!

The golden rule

12 'So always treat others as you would like them to treat you; that is the meaning of the Law and the Prophets.

The two ways

13 'Enter by the narrow gate, since the road that leads to perdition is wide and 14 spacious, and many take it; •but it is a narrow gate and a hard road that leads to life, and only a few find it.

False prophets

15 'Beware of false prophets<sup>b</sup> who come to you disguised as sheep but underneath
 16 are ravenous wolves. •You will be able to tell them by their fruits. Can people
 17 pick grapes from thorns, or figs from thistles? •In the same way, a sound tree
 18 produces good fruit but a rotten tree bad fruit. •A sound tree cannot bear bad
 19 fruit, nor a rotten tree bear good fruit. •Any tree that does not produce good 20 fruit is cut down and thrown on the fire. •I repeat, you will be able to tell them by their fruits.

The true disciple

21 'It is not those who say to me, "Lord, Lord", who will enter the kingdom of 22 heaven, but the person who does the will of my Father in heaven. •When the day<sup>c</sup> comes many will say to me, "Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, 23 cast out demons in your name, work many miracles in your name?" •Then
 I shall tell them to their faces: I have never known you; away from me, you evil men!'

24 'Therefore, everyone who listens to these words of mine and acts on them 25 will be like a sensible man who built his house on rock. •Rain came down, floods rose, gales blew and hurled themselves against that house, and it did not fall:
 26 it was founded on rock. •But everyone who listens to these words of mine and does 27 not act on them will be like a stupid man who built his house on sand. •Rain came down, floods rose, gales blew and struck that house, and it fell; and what a fall it had!

The amazement of the crowds

28 Jesus had now finished what he wanted to say, and his teaching made a deep 29 impression on the people •because he taught them with authority, and not like their own scribes.<sup>d</sup>

7 a. The meat of animals which have been offered in sacrifice in the Temple; the application is to the parading of holy beliefs and practices in front of those who cannot understand them.
 b. Lying teachers of religion. c. The day of Judgement. d. Doctors of the law, who buttressed their teaching by quotation from the scriptures and traditions.

THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN IS PREACHED

NARRATIVE SECTION: TEN MIRACLES

Cure of a leper

8 After he had come down from the mountain large crowds followed him. 1 8 A leper now came up and bowed low in front of him. 'Sir,' he said 'if you want 2 to, you can cure me.' •Jesus stretched out his hand, touched him and said, 'Of 3 course I want to! Be cured!' And his leprosy was cured at once. •Then Jesus said 4 to him, 'Mind you do not tell anyone, but go and show yourself to the priest and make the offering prescribed by Moses, as evidence for them'.

Cure of the centurion's servant

When he went into Capernaum a centurion came up and pleaded with him. 5
 'Sir,' he said 'my servant is lying at home paralysed, and in great pain.' •'I will 6 come myself and cure him' said Jesus. •The centurion replied, 'Sir, I am not 8 worthy to have you under my roof; just give the word and my servant will be cured. •For I am under authority myself, and have soldiers under me; and I say 9 to one man: Go, and he goes; to another: Come here, and he comes; to my servant: Do this, and he does it.' •When Jesus heard this he was astonished and 10 said to those following him, 'I tell you solemnly, nowhere in Israel have I found faith like this. •And I tell you that many will come from east and west 11, to take their places with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob at the feast in the kingdom of heaven; •but the subjects of the kingdom' will be turned out into the dark, 12 where there will be weeping and grinding of teeth.' •And to the centurion Jesus 13 said, 'Go back, then; you have believed, so let this be done for you'. And the servant was cured at that moment.

Cure of Peter's mother-in-law

And going into Peter's house Jesus found Peter's mother-in-law in bed with 14 fever. •He touched her hand and the fever left her, and she got up and began 15 to wait on him.

A number of cures

That evening they brought him many who were possessed by devils. He cast 16 out the spirits with a word and cured all who were sick. •This was to fulfil the 17 prophecy of Isaiah:

He took our sicknesses away and carried our diseases for us.<sup>b</sup>

Hardships of the apostolic calling

When Jesus saw the great crowds all about him he gave orders to leave for the 18 other side. •One of the scribes then came up and said to him, 'Master, I will 19 follow you wherever you go'. •Jesus replied, 'Foxes have holes and the birds 20 of the air have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head'.

Another man, one of his disciples, said to him, 'Sir, let me go and bury my 21 father first'. •But Jesus replied, 'Follow me, and leave the dead to bury their dead'. 22

The calming of the storm

Then he got into the boat followed by his disciples. •Without warning 23 a storm broke over the lake, so violent that the waves were breaking right over 24 the boat. But he was asleep. •So they went to him and woke him saying, 'Save us, 25
 Lord, we are going down!' •And he said to them, 'Why are you so frightened, you 26 men of little faith?' And with that he stood up and rebuked the winds and the sea; and all was calm again. •The men were astounded and said, 'Whatever kind 27 of man is this? Even the winds and the sea obey him.'

The demoniacs of Gadara

28 When he reached the country of the Gadarenes on the other side, two 29 demoniacs came towards him out of the tombs—creatures so fierce that no one 30 could pass that way. •They stood there shouting, ‘What do you want with us, 31 Son of God? Have you come here to torture us before the time?’<sup>d</sup> •Now some 32 distance away there was a large herd of pigs feeding, •and the devils pleaded 33 with Jesus, ‘If you cast us out, send us into the herd of pigs’. •And he said to them, 34 ‘Go then’, and they came out and made for the pigs; and at that the whole herd charged down the cliff into the lake and perished in the water. •The swineherds ran off and made for the town, where they told the whole story, including what had happened to the demoniacs. •At this the whole town set out to meet Jesus; and as soon as they saw him they implored him to leave the neighbourhood.

Cure of a paralytic

<sup>1</sup>
 2 9 He got back in the boat, crossed the water and came to his own town.<sup>a</sup> •Then some people appeared, bringing him a paralytic stretched out on a bed. Seeing their faith, Jesus said to the paralytic, ‘Courage, my child, your sins are forgiven’.
 3 4 And at this some scribes said to themselves, ‘This man is blaspheming’. •Knowing what was in their minds Jesus said, ‘Why do you have such wicked thoughts in 5 your hearts? •Now, which of these is easier: to say, “Your sins are forgiven”, 6 or to say, “Get up and walk”? •But to prove to you that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins,—he said to the paralytic—‘get up, and pick up 7 your bed and go off home.’ •And the man got up and went home. •A feeling of 8 awe came over the crowd when they saw this, and they praised God for giving such power to men.

The call of Matthew

9 As Jesus was walking on from there he saw a man named Matthew<sup>b</sup> sitting<sup>c</sup> by the customs house, and he said to him, ‘Follow me’. And he got up and followed him.

Eating with sinners

10 While he was at dinner in the house it happened that a number of tax collectors 11 and sinners<sup>c</sup> came to sit at the table with Jesus and his disciples. •When the Pharisees saw this, they said to his disciples, ‘Why does your master eat with 12 tax collectors and sinners?’ •When he heard this he replied, ‘It is not the healthy 13 who need the doctor, but the sick. •Go and learn the meaning of the words:
What I want is mercy, not sacrifice.<sup>d</sup> And indeed I did not come to call the virtuous,
 but sinners.’

A discussion on fasting

14 Then John’s<sup>e</sup> disciples came to him and said, ‘Why is it that we and the 15 Pharisees fast, but your disciples do not?’ •Jesus replied, ‘Surely the bridegroom’s attendants would never think of mourning as long as the bridegroom is still with them? But the time will come for the bridegroom to be taken away from them, 16 and then they will fast. •No one puts a piece of unshrunk cloth on to an old 17 cloak, because the patch pulls away from the cloak and the tear gets worse. •Nor do people put new wine into old wineskins; if they do, the skins burst, the wine runs out, and the skins are lost. No; they put new wine into fresh skins and both are preserved.’<sup>f</sup>

Cure of the woman with a haemorrhage. The official's daughter raised to life

While he was speaking to them, up came one of the officials, who bowed low 18 in front of him and said, 'My daughter has just died, but come and lay your hand on her and her life will be saved'. •Jesus rose and, with his disciples, followed him. 19

Then from behind him came a woman, who had suffered from a haemorrhage 20 for twelve years, and she touched the fringe of his cloak, •for she said to herself, 21
'If I can only touch his cloak I shall be well again'. •Jesus turned round and saw 22 her; and he said to her, 'Courage, my daughter, your faith has restored you to health'. And from that moment the woman was well again.

When Jesus reached the official's house and saw the flute-players, with the 23 crowd making a commotion<sup>s</sup> •he said, 'Get out of here; the little girl is not dead, 24 she is asleep'. And they laughed at him. •But when the people had been turned 25 out he went inside and took the little girl by the hand; and she stood up. •And the 26 news spread all round the countryside.

Cure of two blind men

As Jesus went on his way two blind men followed him shouting, 'Take pity 27 on us, Son of David'. •And when Jesus reached the house the blind men came 28 up with him and he said to them, 'Do you believe I can do this?' They said, 'Sir, we do'. •Then he touched their eyes saying, 'Your faith deserves it, so let this 29 be done for you'. •And their sight returned. Then Jesus sternly warned them, 30
'Take care that no one learns about this'. •But when they had gone, they talked 31 about him all over the countryside.

Cure of a dumb demoniac

They had only just left when a man was brought to him, a dumb demoniac. 32
And when the devil was cast out, the dumb man spoke and the people were 33 amazed. 'Nothing like this has ever been seen in Israel' they said. •But the 34 Pharisees said, 'It is through the prince of devils that he casts out devils'.

The distress of the crowds

Jesus made a tour through all the towns and villages, teaching in their 35 synagogues, proclaiming the Good News of the kingdom and curing all kinds of diseases and sickness.

And when he saw the crowds he felt sorry for them because they were harassed 36 and dejected, like sheep without a shepherd. •Then he said to his disciples, 37
'The harvest is rich but the labourers are few, •so ask the Lord of the harvest to 38 send labourers to his harvest'.

THE INSTRUCTION OF THE APOSTLES*The mission of the Twelve

10 He summoned his twelve disciples, and gave them authority over unclean 1 spirits with power to cast them out and to cure all kinds of diseases and sickness.

These are the names of the twelve apostles: first, Simon who is called Peter, 2 and his brother Andrew; James the son of Zebedee, and his brother John; •Philip 3 and Bartholomew; Thomas, and Matthew the tax collector; James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddeus; •Simon the Zealot and Judas Iscariot, the one who 4 was to betray him. •These twelve Jesus sent out, instructing them as follows: 5

'Do not turn your steps to pagan territory, and do not enter any Samaritan 6 town; •go rather to the lost sheep of the House of Israel. •And as you go, 7 proclaim that the kingdom of heaven is close at hand. •Cure the sick, raise the 8 dead, cleanse the lepers, cast out devils. You received without charge, give without charge. •Provide yourselves with no gold or silver, not even with a few coppers 9

10 for your purses, •with no haversack for the journey or spare tunic or footwear or a staff, for the workman deserves his keep.

11 'Whatever town or village you go into, ask for someone trustworthy and stay
12 with him until you leave. •As you enter his house, salute it, •and if the house
13 deserves it, let your peace descend upon it; if it does not, let your peace come back
14 to you. •And if anyone does not welcome you or listen to what you have to say, 15 as you walk out of the house or town shake the dust from your feet. •I tell you solemnly, on the day of Judgement it will not go as hard with the land of 16 Sodom and Gomorrah as with that town. •Remember, I am sending you out like sheep among wolves; so be cunning as serpents and yet as harmless as doves.

The missionaries will be persecuted<sup>a</sup>

17 'Beware of men: they will hand you over to sanhedrins and scourge you in 18 their synagogues. •You will be dragged before governors and kings for my sake, 19 to bear witness before them and the pagans. •But when they hand you over, do not worry about how to speak or what to say; what you are to say will be given to 20 you when the time comes; •because it is not you who will be speaking; the Spirit of your Father will be speaking in you.

21 'Brother will betray brother to death, and the father his child; children will 22 rise against their parents and have them put to death. •You will be hated by all men on account of my name; but the man who stands firm to the end will be saved.
23 If they persecute you in one town, take refuge in the next; and if they persecute you in that, take refuge in another. I tell you solemnly, you will not have gone the round of the towns of Israel before the Son of Man comes.

24 'The disciple is not superior to his teacher, nor the slave to his master. •It is 25 enough for the disciple that he should grow to be like his teacher, and the slave like his master. If they have called the master of the house Beelzebul, what will they not say of his household?

Open and fearless speech

26 'Do not be afraid of them therefore. For everything that is now covered will 27 be uncovered, and everything now hidden will be made clear. •What I say to you in the dark, tell in the daylight; what you hear in whispers, proclaim from the housetops.

28 'Do not be afraid of those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul; fear him
29 rather who can destroy both body and soul in hell. •Can you not buy two sparrows for a penny? And yet not one falls to the ground without your Father
30 knowing. •Why, every hair on your head has been counted. •So there is no 31 need to be afraid; you are worth more than hundreds of sparrows.

32 'So if anyone declares himself for me in the presence of men, I will declare my-33 self for him in the presence of my Father in heaven. •But the one who disowns me in the presence of men, I will disown in the presence of my Father in heaven.

Jesus, the cause of dissension

34 'Do not suppose that I have come to bring peace to the earth: it is not peace I 35 have come to bring, but a sword. •For I have come to set a man against his father, a daughter against her mother, a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.
36 A man's enemies will be those of his own household.<sup>b</sup>

Renouncing self to follow Jesus

37 'Anyone who prefers father or mother to me is not worthy of me. Anyone 38 who prefers son or daughter to me is not worthy of me. •Anyone who does not

9 g. The loud wailing of the oriental mourner.

10 a. The conditions described in vv. 17-39 are those of a later time than this first mission of the Twelve. b. Mi 7:6

take his cross and follow in my footsteps is not worthy of me. •Anyone who finds his life will lose it; anyone who loses his life for my sake will find it.

Conclusion

•Anyone who welcomes you welcomes me; and those who welcome me welcome the one who sent me.

•Anyone who welcomes a prophet because he is a prophet will have a prophet's reward; and anyone who welcomes a holy man because he is a holy man will have a holy man's reward.

•If anyone gives so much as a cup of cold water to one of these little ones because he is a disciple, then I tell you solemnly, he will most certainly not lose his reward.'

THE MYSTERY OF THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN

NARRATIVE SECTION

11 When Jesus had finished instructing his twelve disciples he moved on from there to teach and preach in their towns.<sup>a</sup>

The Baptist's question. Jesus commends him

Now John in his prison had heard what Christ was doing and he sent his disciples to ask him, •Are you the one who is to come, or have we got to wait for someone else?' •Jesus answered, 'Go back and tell John what you hear and see; the blind see again, and the lame walk, lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised to life and the Good News is proclaimed to the poor;<sup>b</sup> and happy is the man who does not lose faith in me'.<sup>c</sup>

As the messengers were leaving, Jesus began to talk to the people about John: 'What did you go out into the wilderness to see? A reed swaying in the breeze? No? •Then what did you go out to see? A man wearing fine clothes? Oh no, those who wear fine clothes are to be found in palaces. •Then what did you go out for? To see a prophet? Yes, I tell you, and much more than a prophet: •he is the one of whom scripture says:

*Look, I am going to send my messenger before you;
he will prepare your way before you.<sup>c</sup>*

•I tell you solemnly, of all the children born of women, a greater than John the Baptist has never been seen; yet the least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he is. •Since John the Baptist came, up to this present time, the kingdom of heaven has been subjected to violence and the violent are taking it by storm. •Because it was towards John that all the prophecies of the prophets and of the Law were leading; •and he, if you will believe me, is the Elijah who was to return.<sup>d</sup> •If anyone has ears to hear, let him listen!

Jesus condemns his contemporaries

•What description can I find for this generation? It is like children shouting to each other as they sit in the market place:

*"We played the pipes for you,
and you wouldn't dance;
we sang dirges,
and you wouldn't be mourners".*

For John came, neither eating nor drinking, and they say, "He is possessed". The Son of Man came, eating and drinking, and they say, "Look, a glutton and a drunkard, a friend of tax collectors and sinners". Yet wisdom has been proved right by her actions.'

Lament over the lake-towns

- 20 Then he began to reproach the towns in which most of his miracles had been worked, because they refused to repent.
- 21 'Alas for you, Chorazin! Alas for you, Bethsaida! For if the miracles done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes. •And still, I tell you that it will not go as hard on Judgement day with Tyre and Sidon as with you. •And as for you, Capernaum, did you want to be exalted as high as heaven? You shall be thrown down to hell! For if the miracles done in you had been done in Sodom, it would have been standing yet.
- 24 And still, I tell you that it will not go as hard with the land of Sodom on Judgement day as with you.'

The Good News revealed to the simple. The Father and the Son

- 25 At that time Jesus exclaimed, 'I bless you, Father, Lord of heaven and of earth, for hiding these things from the learned and the clever and revealing them to mere children. •Yes, Father, for that is what it pleased you to do. •Everything has been entrusted to me by my Father; and no one knows the Son except the Father, just as no one knows the Father except the Son and those to whom the Son chooses to reveal him.

The gentle mastery of Christ

- 28 'Come to me, all you who labour and are overburdened, and I will give you rest. •Shoulder my yoke and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart, 30 and you will find rest for your souls! •Yes, my yoke is easy and my burden light.'

Picking corn on the sabbath

- 1 12 At that time Jesus took a walk one sabbath day through the cornfields. His disciples were hungry and began to pick ears of corn and eat them.
- 2 The Pharisees noticed it and said to him, 'Look, your disciples are doing something that is forbidden on the sabbath'. •But he said to them, 'Have you not read what David did when he and his followers were hungry—•how he went into the house of God and how they ate the loaves of offering which neither he nor his followers were allowed to eat, but which were for the priests alone?
- 5 Or again, have you not read in the Law that on the sabbath day the Temple priests break the sabbath without being blamed for it? •Now here, I tell you, 7 is something greater than the Temple. •And if you had understood the meaning of the words: What I want is mercy, not sacrifice, you would not have condemned 8 the blameless. •For the Son of Man is master of the sabbath.'

Cure of the man with a withered hand

- 9 He moved on from there and went to their synagogue, •and a man was there at the time who had a withered hand. They asked him, 'Is it against the law to cure a man on the sabbath day?' hoping for something to use against him. •But he said to them, 'If any one of you here had only one sheep and it fell down a hole on the sabbath day, would he not get hold of it and lift it out? •Now a man is far more important than a sheep, so it follows that it is permitted to do good on the sabbath day.' •Then he said to the man, 'Stretch out your hand'. He stretched it out and his hand was better, as sound as the other one. •At this the Pharisees went out and began to plot against him, discussing how to destroy him.

Jesus the 'servant of Yahweh'

- 15 Jesus knew this and withdrew from the district. Many followed him and he 16 cured them all, •but warned them not to make him known. •This was to fulfil 17 the prophecy of Isaiah:

11 a. I.e. the Jews' towns. b. These are signs of the messianic age in the prophecies of Isaiah. c. Mt 3:1 d. According to the last of the prophets, Mt 3:23. e. Is 14 f. Jr 6:16

*Here is my servant whom I have chosen, my beloved, the favourite of my soul.
I will endow him with my spirit,
and he will proclaim the true faith to the nations.
He will not brawl or shout,
nor will anyone hear his voice in the streets.
He will not break the crushed reed, nor put out the smouldering wick till he has led the truth to victory:
in his name the nations will put their hope.<sup>a</sup>*

Jesus and Beelzebul

Then they brought to him a blind and dumb demoniac; and he cured him, so that the dumb man could speak and see. •All the people were astounded and said, 'Can this be the Son of David?' •But when the Pharisees heard this they said, 'The man casts out devils only through Beelzebul,<sup>b</sup> the prince of devils'.

Knowing what was in their minds he said to them, 'Every kingdom divided against itself is heading for ruin; and no town, no household divided against itself can stand. •Now if Satan casts out Satan, he is divided against himself; so how can his kingdom stand? •And if it is through Beelzebul that I cast out devils, through whom do your own experts cast them out? Let them be your judges, then. •But if it is through the Spirit of God that I cast devils out, then know that the kingdom of God has overtaken you.

'Or again, how can anyone make his way into a strong man's house and burgle his property unless he has tied up the strong man first? Only then can he burgle his house.

'He who is not with me is against me, and he who does not gather with me scatters. •And so I tell you, every one of men's sins and blasphemies will be forgiven, but blasphemy against the Spirit will not be forgiven. •And anyone who says a word against the Son of Man will be forgiven; but let anyone speak against the Holy Spirit and he will not be forgiven either in this world or in the next.

Words betray the heart

'Make a tree sound and its fruit will be sound; make a tree rotten and its fruit will be rotten. For the tree can be told by its fruit. •Brood of vipers, how can your speech be good when you are evil? For a man's words flow out of what fills his heart. •A good man draws good things from his store of goodness; a bad man draws bad things from his store of badness. •So I tell you this, that for every unfounded word men utter they will answer on Judgement day, •since it is by your words you will be acquitted, and by your words condemned.'

The sign of Jonah

Then some of the scribes and Pharisees spoke up. 'Master,' they said 'we should like to see a sign<sup>c</sup> from you.' •He replied, 'It is an evil and unfaithful generation that asks for a sign! The only sign it will be given is the sign of the prophet Jonah. •For as Jonah was in the belly of the sea-monster for three days and three nights,<sup>d</sup> so will the Son of Man be in the heart of the earth for three days and three nights. •On Judgement day the men of Nineveh will stand up with this generation and condemn it, because when Jonah preached they repented; and there is something greater than Jonah here. •On Judgement day the Queen of the South will rise up with this generation and condemn it, because she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and there is something greater than Solomon here.

The return of the unclean spirit

'When an unclean spirit goes out of a man it wanders through waterless country looking for a place to rest, and cannot find one. •Then it says, "I will return to the home I came from". But on arrival, finding it unoccupied, swept and 45 tidied, -it then goes off and collects seven other spirits more evil than itself, and they go in and set up house there, so that the man ends up by being worse than he was before. That is what will happen to this evil generation.'

The true kinsmen of Jesus

46 He was still speaking to the crowds when his mother and his brothers<sup>c</sup> appeared; they were standing outside and were anxious to have a word with 48 him. -But to the man who told him this Jesus replied, 'Who is my mother?
 49 Who are my brothers?' -And stretching out his hand towards his disciples he said, 50 'Here are my mother and my brothers. -Anyone who does the will of my Father in heaven, he is my brother and sister and mother.'

THE SERMON OF PARABLES

Introduction

1 13 That same day, Jesus left the house and sat by the lakeside, -but such crowds gathered round him that he got into a boat and sat there. The people 3 all stood on the beach, -and he told them many things in parables.

Parable of the sower

4 He said, 'Imagine a sower going out to sow. -As he sowed, some seeds fell 5 on the edge of the path, and the birds came and ate them up. -Others fell on patches of rock where they found little soil and sprang up straight away, because 6 there was no depth of earth; -but as soon as the sun came up they were scorched 7 and, not having any roots, they withered away. -Others fell among thorns, and 8 the thorns grew up and choked them. -Others fell on rich soil and produced their 9 crop, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty. -Listen, anyone who has ears!'

Why Jesus speaks in parables

10 Then the disciples went up to him and asked, 'Why do you talk to them in 11 parables?' -'Because' he replied 'the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven are 12 revealed to you, but they are not revealed to them. -For anyone who has will be given more, and he will have more than enough; but from anyone who has not, 13 even what he has will be taken away. -The reason I talk to them in parables is 14 that they look without seeing and listen without hearing or understanding. -So in their case this prophecy of Isaiah is being fulfilled:

*You will listen and listen again, but not understand,
 see and see again, but not perceive.*

15 *For the heart of this nation has grown coarse,
 their ears are dull of hearing, and they have shut their eyes,
 for fear they should see with their eyes,
 hear with their ears,
 understand with their heart,
 and be converted
 and be healed by me.<sup>a</sup>*

16 'But happy are your eyes because they see, your ears because they hear!
 17 I tell you solemnly, many prophets and holy men longed to see what you see, and never saw it; to hear what you hear, and never heard it.

12 a. Is 42:1-4. b. 'prince Baal' often contemptuously changed (e.g. 2 K 1:2f) to 'Beelzebub'
 'Lord of the flies'. c. A miracle to prove his authority. d. Jon 2:1 e. In Hebr. and Aramaic (and many other languages), 'brothers' is the word used for cousins or even more distant relations of the same generation.

13 a. Is 6:9-10

The parable of the sower explained

'You, therefore, are to hear the parable of the sower. •When anyone hears <sup>18</sup>
the word of the kingdom without understanding, the evil one comes and carries <sup>19</sup> off what was sown in his heart: this is the man who received the seed on the edge of the path. •The one who received it on patches of rock is the man who hears <sup>20</sup>
the word and welcomes it at once with joy. •But he has no root in him, he does <sup>21</sup> not last; let some trial come, or some persecution on account of the word, and he falls away at once. •The one who received the seed in thorns is the man who <sup>22</sup> hears the word, but the worries of this world and the lure of riches choke the word and so he produces nothing. •And the one who received the seed in rich soil is the <sup>23</sup> man who hears the word and understands it; he is the one who yields a harvest and produces now a hundredfold, now sixty, now thirty.'

Parable of the darnel

He put another parable before them, 'The kingdom of heaven may be <sup>24</sup> compared to a man who sowed good seed in his field. •While everybody was <sup>25</sup> asleep his enemy came, sowed darnel all among the wheat, and made off. •When <sup>26</sup> the new wheat sprouted and ripened, the darnel appeared as well. •The owner's <sup>27</sup> servants went to him and said, "Sir, was it not good seed that you sowed in your field? If so, where does the darnel come from?" •"Some enemy has done this" <sup>28</sup> he answered. And the servants said, "Do you want us to go and weed it out?"
But he said, "No, because when you weed out the darnel you might pull up the <sup>29</sup> wheat with it. •Let them both grow till the harvest; and at harvest time I shall <sup>30</sup> say to the reapers: First collect the darnel and tie it in bundles to be burnt, then gather the wheat into my barn."'

Parable of the mustard seed

He put another parable before them, 'The kingdom of heaven is like a mustard <sup>31</sup> seed which a man took and sowed in his field. •It is the smallest of all the seeds, <sup>32</sup> but when it has grown it is the biggest shrub of all and becomes a tree so that the birds of the air come and shelter in its branches.'

Parable of the yeast

He told them another parable, 'The kingdom of heaven is like the yeast <sup>33</sup> a woman took and mixed in with three measures of flour till it was leavened all through'.

The people are taught only in parables

In all this Jesus spoke to the crowds in parables; indeed, he would never speak <sup>34</sup> to them except in parables. •This was to fulfil the prophecy: <sup>35</sup>

*I will speak to you in parables
and expound things hidden since the foundation of the world.<sup>b</sup>*

The parable of the darnel explained

Then, leaving the crowds, he went to the house; and his disciples came to <sup>36</sup> him and said, 'Explain the parable about the darnel in the field to us'. •He said <sup>37</sup> in reply, 'The sower of the good seed is the Son of Man. •The field is the world; <sup>38</sup> the good seed is the subjects of the kingdom; the darnel, the subjects of the evil one; •the enemy who sowed them, the devil; the harvest is the end of the world; <sup>39</sup>
the reapers are the angels. •Well then, just as the darnel is gathered up and burnt <sup>40</sup> in the fire, so it will be at the end of time. •The Son of Man will send his angels <sup>41</sup> and they will gather out of his kingdom all things that provoke offences and all who do evil, •and throw them into the blazing furnace, where there will be <sup>42</sup> weeping and grinding of teeth. •Then the virtuous will shine like the sun in the <sup>43</sup> kingdom of their Father.' Listen, anyone who has ears!

Parables of the treasure and of the pearl

- 44 'The kingdom of heaven is like treasure hidden in a field which someone has found; he hides it again, goes off happy, sells everything he owns and buys the field.
- 45 'Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant looking for fine pearls;
- 46 when he finds one of great value he goes and sells everything he owns and buys it.

Parable of the dragnet

- 47 'Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a dragnet cast into the sea that brings
- 48 in a haul of all kinds. •When it is full, the fishermen haul it ashore; then, sitting down, they collect the good ones in a basket and throw away those that are no
- 49 use. •This is how it will be at the end of time: the angels will appear and separate
- 50 the wicked from the just •to throw them into the blazing furnace where there will be weeping and grinding of teeth.

Conclusion

- 51 'Have you understood all this?' They said, 'Yes'. •And he said to them,
- 52 'Well then, every scribe who becomes a disciple of the kingdom of heaven is like a householder who brings out from his storeroom things both new and old'.<sup>d</sup>

THE CHURCH, FIRST-FRUITS OF THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN

NARRATIVE SECTION

A visit to Nazareth

- 53 When Jesus had finished these parables he left the district; •and, coming
- 54 to his home town,<sup>e</sup> he taught the people in their synagogue in such a way that they were astonished and said, 'Where did the man get this wisdom and these
- 55 miraculous powers? •This is the carpenter's son, surely? Is not his mother the woman called Mary, and his brothers James and Joseph and Simon and Jude?
- 56 His sisters, too, are they not all here with us? So where did the man get it all?'
- 57 And they would not accept him. But Jesus said to them, 'A prophet is only
- 58 despised in his own country and in his own house', •and he did not work many miracles there because of their lack of faith.

Herod and Jesus

- <sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> 14 At that time Herod the tetrarch heard about the reputation of Jesus, •and said to his court, 'This is John the Baptist himself; he has risen from the dead, and that is why miraculous powers are at work in him'.

John the Baptist beheaded

- 3 Now it was Herod who had arrested John, chained him up and put him in
- 4 prison because of Herodias, his brother Philip's<sup>a</sup> wife. •For John had told him,
- 5 'It is against the Law for you to have her'. •He had wanted to kill him but
- 6 was afraid of the people, who regarded John as a prophet. •Then, during the celebrations for Herod's birthday, the daughter of Herodias<sup>b</sup> danced before the
- 7 company, and so delighted Herod •that he promised on oath to give her anything
- 8 she asked. •Prompted by her mother she said, 'Give me John the Baptist's head,
- 9 here, on a dish'. •The king was distressed but, thinking of the oaths he had

d. Perhaps a saying of particular significance to Mt, a 'scribe who became a disciple'.

sworn and of his guests, he ordered it to be given her, and sent and had John beheaded in the prison. The head was brought in on a dish and given to the girl who took it to her mother. John's disciples came and took the body and buried it; then they went off to tell Jesus.

First miracle of the loaves

When Jesus received this news he withdrew by boat to a lonely place where they could be by themselves. But the people heard of this and, leaving the towns, went after him on foot. So as he stepped ashore he saw a large crowd; and he took pity on them and healed their sick.

When evening came, the disciples went to him and said, 'This is a lonely place, and the time has slipped by; so send the people away, and they can go to the villages to buy themselves some food'. Jesus replied, 'There is no need for them to go: give them something to eat yourselves'. But they answered, 'All we have with us is five loaves and two fish'. 'Bring them here to me' he said. He gave orders that the people were to sit down on the grass; then he took the five loaves and the two fish, raised his eyes to heaven and said the blessing. And breaking the loaves he handed them to his disciples who gave them to the crowds. They all ate as much as they wanted, and they collected the scraps remaining, twelve baskets full. Those who ate numbered about five thousand men, to say nothing of women and children.

Jesus walks on the water and, with him, Peter

Directly after this he made the disciples get into the boat and go on ahead to the other side while he would send the crowds away. After sending the crowds away he went up into the hills by himself to pray. When evening came, he was there alone, while the boat, by now far out on the lake, was battling with a heavy sea, for there was a head-wind. In the fourth watch of the night he went towards them, walking on the lake, and when the disciples saw him walking on the lake they were terrified. 'It is a ghost' they said, and cried out in fear. But at once Jesus called out to them, saying, 'Courage! It is I! Do not be afraid.' It was Peter who answered. 'Lord,' he said 'if it is you, tell me to come to you across the water.' 'Come' said Jesus. Then Peter got out of the boat and started walking towards Jesus across the water, but as soon as he felt the force of the wind, he took fright and began to sink. 'Lord! Save me!' he cried. Jesus put out his hand at once and held him. 'Man of little faith,' he said 'why did you doubt?' And as they got into the boat the wind dropped. The men in the boat bowed down before him and said, 'Truly, you are the Son of God'.

Cures at Gennesaret

Having made the crossing, they came to land at Gennesaret. When the local people recognised him they spread the news through the whole neighbourhood and took all that were sick to him, begging him just to let them touch the fringe of his cloak. And all those who touched it were completely cured.

The traditions of the Pharisees

15 Pharisees and scribes from Jerusalem then came to Jesus and said, 'Why do your disciples break away from the tradition of the elders? They do not wash their hands when they eat food.' 'And why do you' he answered 'break away from the commandment of God for the sake of your tradition? For God said: Do your duty to<sup>b</sup> your father and mother and: Anyone who curses father or mother must be put to death.<sup>c</sup> But you say, "If anyone says to his father or mother: Anything I have that I might have used to help you is dedicated to God", he is rid of his duty to father or mother.<sup>d</sup> In this way you have made God's word null and void by means of your tradition. Hypocrites! It was you Isaiah meant when he so rightly prophesied:

- 8 *This people honours me only with lip-service,
while their hearts are far from me.*
9 *The worship they offer me is worthless;
the doctrines they teach are only human regulations.'*

On clean and unclean

- 10 He called the people to him and said, 'Listen, and understand. •What goes 11 into the mouth does not make a man unclean; it is what comes out of the mouth that makes him unclean.'
12 Then the disciples came to him and said, 'Do you know that the Pharisees 13 were shocked when they heard what you said?' •He replied, 'Any plant my 14 heavenly Father has not planted will be pulled up by the roots. •Leave them alone. They are blind men leading blind men; and if one blind man leads another, both will fall into a pit.'
15 At this, Peter said to him, 'Explain the parable for us.' •Jesus replied, 'Do 16 even you not yet understand? •Can you not see that whatever goes into the 17 mouth passes through the stomach and is discharged into the sewer? •But the 18 things that come out of the mouth come from the heart, and it is these that make 19 a man unclean. •For from the heart come evil intentions: murder, adultery, 20 fornication, theft, perjury, slander. •These are the things that make a man unclean. But to eat with unwashed hands does not make a man unclean.'

The daughter of the Canaanite woman healed

- 21 Jesus left that place and withdrew to the region of Tyre and Sidon. •Then 22 out came a Canaanite woman from that district and started shouting, 'Sir, Son of David, take pity on me. My daughter is tormented by a devil.' •But he 23 answered her not a word. And his disciples went and pleaded with him. 'Give her what she wants,' they said 'because she is shouting after us.' •He said in 24 reply, 'I was sent only to the lost sheep of the House of Israel.' •But the woman
25 had come up and was kneeling at his feet. 'Lord,' she said 'help me.' •He replied, 26 'It is not fair to take the children's food and throw it to the house-dogs'. •She retorted, 'Ah yes, sir; but even house-dogs can eat the scraps that fall from their 27 master's table'. •Then Jesus answered her, 'Woman, you have great faith. Let 28 your wish be granted.' And from that moment her daughter was well again.

Cures near the lake

- 29 Jesus went on from there and reached the shores of the Sea of Galilee, and 30 he went up into the hills. He sat there, •and large crowds came to him bringing the lame, the crippled, the blind, the dumb and many others; these they put 31 down at his feet, and he cured them. •The crowds were astonished to see the dumb speaking, the cripples whole again, the lame walking and the blind with their sight, and they praised the God of Israel.

Second miracle of the loaves

- 32 But Jesus called his disciples to him and said, 'I feel sorry for all these people;
they have been with me for three days now and have nothing to eat. I do not 33 want to send them off hungry, they might collapse on the way.' •The disciples said to him, 'Where could we get enough bread in this deserted place 34 to feed such a crowd?' •Jesus said to them, 'How many loaves have you?' 'Seven' 35 they said 'and a few small fish.' •Then he instructed the crowd to sit down on the 36 ground, •and he took the seven loaves and the fish, and he gave thanks and broke them and handed them to the disciples who gave them to the crowds.

14 c. 3 to 6 a.m.

15 a. The traditional teaching, including many additions to and extensions of the Law.
b. Often translated 'honour', but the word implies a respect expressed in practical ways, Ex 20:12. c. Lv 20:9 d. Property dedicated in this way could not be passed to another person. e. Is 29:13

They all ate as much as they wanted, and they collected what was left of the scraps, seven baskets full. •Now four thousand men had eaten, to say nothing of women and children. •And when he had sent the crowds away he got into the boat and went to the district of Magadan.

The Pharisees ask for a sign from heaven

16 The Pharisees and Sadducees came, and to test him they asked if he would show them a sign from heaven. •He replied, 'In the evening you say, "It will be fine; there is a red sky", •and in the morning, "Stormy weather today; the sky is red and overcast". You know how to read the face of the sky, but you cannot read the signs of the times. •It is an evil and unfaithful generation that asks for a sign! The only sign it will be given is the sign of Jonah.' And leaving them standing there, he went away.

The yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees

The disciples, having crossed to the other shore, had forgotten to take any food. Jesus said to them, 'Keep your eyes open, and be on your guard against the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees'. •And they said to themselves, 'It is because we have not brought any bread'. •Jesus knew it, and he said, 'Men of little faith, why are you talking among yourselves about having no bread? •Do you not yet understand? Do you not remember the five loaves for the five thousand and the number of baskets you collected? •Or the seven loaves for the four thousand and the number of baskets you collected? •How could you fail to understand that I was not talking about bread? What I said was: Beware of the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees.' •Then they understood that he was telling them to be on their guard, not against the yeast for making bread, but against the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees."

Peter's profession of faith; his pre-eminence

When Jesus came to the region of Caesarea Philippi he put this question to his disciples, 'Who do people say the Son of Man is?' •And they said, 'Some say he is John the Baptist, some Elijah, and others Jeremiah or one of the prophets'. •'But you,' he said 'who do you say I am?' •Then Simon Peter spoke up, 'You are the Christ,' he said 'the Son of the living God'. •Jesus replied, 'Simon son of Jonah, you are a happy man! Because it was not flesh and blood that revealed this to you but my Father in heaven. •So I now say to you: You are Peter' and on this rock I will build my Church. And the gates of the underworld' can never hold out against it. •I will give you the keys of the kingdom of heaven: whatever you bind on earth shall be considered bound in heaven; whatever you loose on earth shall be considered loosed in heaven.'<sup>d</sup> •Then he gave the disciples strict orders not to tell anyone that he was the Christ.

First prophecy of the Passion

From that time Jesus began to make it clear to his disciples that he was destined to go to Jerusalem and suffer grievously at the hands of the elders and chief priests and scribes, to be put to death and to be raised up on the third day. Then, taking him aside, Peter started to remonstrate with him. 'Heaven preserve you, Lord;' he said 'this must not happen to you'. •But he turned and said to Peter, 'Get behind me, Satan! You are an obstacle in my path, because the way you think is not God's way but man's.'

The condition of following Christ

Then Jesus said to his disciples, 'If anyone wants to be a follower of mine, let him renounce himself and take up his cross and follow me. •For anyone who wants to save his life will lose it; but anyone who loses his life for my sake will find it. •What, then, will a man gain if he wins the whole world and ruins his life? Or what has a man to offer in exchange for his life?'

- 27 'For the Son of Man is going to come in the glory of his Father with his angels, and, when he does, he will reward each one according to his behaviour.
28 I tell you solemnly, there are some of these standing here who will not taste death before they see the Son of Man coming with his kingdom.'

The transfiguration

- 1 17 Six days later, Jesus took with him Peter and James and his brother John 2 and led them up a high mountain where they could be alone. 'There in 3 their presence he was transfigured: his face shone like the sun and his clothes
4 became as white as the light. 'Suddenly Moses and Elijah<sup>d</sup> appeared to them;
5 they were talking with him. 'Then Peter spoke to Jesus. 'Lord,' he said 'it
6 is wonderful for us to be here; if you wish, I will make three tents here, one for 7 you, one for Moses and one for Elijah.' 'He was still speaking when suddenly
8 a bright cloud covered them with shadow, and from the cloud there came a voice
9 which said, 'This is my Son, the Beloved; he enjoys my favour. Listen to him.'
10 When they heard this, the disciples fell on their faces, overcome with fear. 'But 11 Jesus came up and touched them. 'Stand up,' he said 'do not be afraid.' 'And 12 when they raised their eyes they saw no one but only Jesus.

The question about Elijah

- 9 As they came down from the mountain Jesus gave them this order, 'Tell 10 no one about the vision until the Son of Man has risen from the dead'. 'And the 11 disciples put this question to him, 'Why do the scribes say then that Elijah has 12 to come first?' 'True,' he replied 'Elijah is to come to see that everything is 13 once more as it should be; -however, I tell you that Elijah has come already and 14 they did not recognise him but treated him as they pleased; and the Son of Man 15 will suffer similarly at their hands.' 'The disciples understood then that he had 16 been speaking of John the Baptist.

The epileptic demoniac

- 14 As they were rejoicing the crowd a man came up to him and went down on 15 his knees before him. 'Lord,' he said 'take pity on my son: he is a lunatic and 16 in a wretched state; he is always falling into the fire or into the water. 'I took 17 him to your disciples and they were unable to cure him.' 'Faithless and perverse 18 generation!' Jesus said in reply 'How much longer must I be with you? How much 19 longer must I put up with you? Bring him here to me.' 'And when Jesus rebuked 20 it the devil came out of the boy who was cured from that moment.
21 Then the disciples came privately to Jesus. 'Why were we unable to cast it
22 out?' they asked. 'He answered, 'Because you have little faith. I tell you 23 solemnly, if your faith were the size of a mustard seed you could say to this 24 mountain, "Move from here to there", and it would move; nothing would be 25 impossible for you.'

Second prophecy of the Passion

- 22 One day when they were together in Galilee, Jesus said to them, 'The Son 23 of Man is going to be handed over into the power of men; they will put him to 24 death, and on the third day he will be raised to life again'. And a great sadness 25 came over them.

16 a. Yeast, here, is regarded as adulterating pure flour. b. Not, until now, a proper name: Greek petros (as in Engl. saltpetre) represents Aramaic kepha, rock. c. The gates symbolise the power of the underworld to hold captives. d. The keys have become the traditional insignia of Peter. e. In vv. 27-28, two different sayings have been combined because both refer to the coming of the kingdom; but the first is about Judgement day, and the second is about the destruction of Jerusalem, the sign of 'the last days'.

17 a. Representing the Law and the prophets.

The Temple tax paid by Jesus and Peter

When they reached Capernaum, the collectors of the half-shekel<sup>b</sup> came to 24
 Peter and said, 'Does your master not pay the half-shekel?' 'Oh yes' he replied, 25 and went into the house. But before he could speak, Jesus said, 'Simon, what is your opinion? From whom do the kings of the earth take toll or tribute? From their sons or from foreigners?' 'And when he replied, 'From foreigners', Jesus 26 said, 'Well then, the sons are exempt. 'However, so as not to offend these 27 people, go to the lake and cast a hook; take the first fish that bites, open its mouth and there you will find a shekel; take it and give it to them for me and for you.'

THE DISCOURSE ON THE CHURCH*Who is the greatest?

18 At this time the disciples came to Jesus and said, 'Who is the greatest in 1 the kingdom of heaven?' 'So he called a little child to him and set the child 2 in front of them. 'Then he said, 'I tell you solemnly, unless you change and become 3 like little children you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. 'And so, the 4 one who makes himself as little as this little child is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

On leading others astray

'Anyone who welcomes a little child like this in my name welcomes me. 5
 But anyone who is an obstacle to bring down one of these little ones who have 6 faith in me would be better drowned in the depths of the sea with a great millstone round his neck. 'Alas for the world that there should be such obstacles! 7 Obstacles indeed there must be, but alas for the man who provides them!

'If your hand or your foot should cause you to sin, cut it off and throw it 8 away: it is better for you to enter into life crippled or lame, than to have two hands or two feet and be thrown into eternal fire. 'And if your eye should cause 9 you to sin, tear it out and throw it away: it is better for you to enter into life with one eye, than to have two eyes and be thrown into the hell of fire.

'See that you never despise any of these little ones, for I tell you that their 10 angels in heaven are continually in the presence of my Father in heaven.'

The lost sheep

'Tell me. Suppose a man has a hundred sheep and one of them strays; will 12
 he not leave the ninety-nine on the hillside and go in search of the stray? 'I tell 13 you solemnly, if he finds it, it gives him more joy than do the ninety-nine that did not stray at all. 'Similarly, it is never the will of your Father in heaven that 14 one of these little ones should be lost.

Brotherly correction

'If your brother does something wrong, go and have it out with him alone, 15 between your two selves. If he listens to you, you have won back your brother.
 If he does not listen, take one or two others along with you: the evidence of two 16 or three witnesses is required to sustain any charge. 'But if he refuses to listen to 17 these, report it to the community;<sup>b</sup> and if he refuses to listen to the community, treat him like a pagan or a tax collector.

'I tell you solemnly, whatever you bind on earth shall be considered bound in 18 heaven; whatever you loose on earth shall be considered loosed in heaven.

Prayer in common

'I tell you solemnly once again, if two of you on earth agree to ask anything 19 at all, it will be granted to you by my Father in heaven. 'For where two or three 20 meet in my name, I shall be there with them.'

Forgiveness of injuries

21 Then Peter went up to him and said, 'Lord, how often must I forgive my 22 brother if he wrongs me? As often as seven times?' •Jesus answered, 'Not seven,
I tell you, but seventy-seven times.'

Parable of the unforgiving debtor

23 'And so the kingdom of heaven may be compared to a king who decided 24 to settle his accounts with his servants. •When the reckoning began, they 25 brought him a man who owed ten thousand talents;<sup>c</sup> •but he had no means of paying, so his master gave orders that he should be sold, together with his wife 26 and children and all his possessions, to meet the debt. •At this, the servant threw himself down at his master's feet. "Give me time" he said "and I will pay the 27 whole sum." •And the servant's master felt so sorry for him that he let him go 28 and cancelled the debt. •Now as this servant went out, he happened to meet a fellow servant who owed him one hundred denarii;<sup>d</sup> and he seized him by the throat 29 and began to throttle him. "Pay what you owe me" he said. •His fellow servant fell at his feet and implored him, saying, "Give me time and I will pay you".
30 But the other would not agree; on the contrary, he had him thrown into prison 31 till he should pay the debt. •His fellow servants were deeply distressed when they saw what had happened, and they went to their master and reported the 32 whole affair to him. •Then the master sent for him. "You wicked servant," he 33 said "I cancelled all that debt of yours when you appealed to me. •Were you not bound, then, to have pity on your fellow servant just as I had pity on you?"
34 And in his anger the master handed him over to the torturers till he should pay 35 all his debt. •And that is how my heavenly Father will deal with you unless you each forgive your brother from your heart.'

THE APPROACHING ADVENT OF THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN

NARRATIVE SECTION

The question about divorce

1 19 Jesus had now finished what he wanted to say, and he left Galilee and 2 came into the part of Judaea which is on the far side of the Jordan. •Large crowds followed him and he healed them there.

3 Some Pharisees approached him, and to test him they said, 'Is it against the 4 Law for a man to divorce his wife on any pretext whatever?' •He answered, 'Have 5 you not read that the creator from the beginning made them male and female •and that he said: This is why a man must leave father and mother, and cling to his wife, 6 and the two become one body? •They are no longer two, therefore, but one body.
So then, what God has united, man must not divide.'

7 They said to him, 'Then why did Moses command that a writ of dismissal
8 should be given in cases of divorce?' •'It was because you were so unteachable' he said 'that Moses allowed you to divorce your wives, but it was not like this 9 from the beginning. •Now I say this to you: the man who divorces his wife—
I am not speaking of fornication—and marries another, is guilty of adultery.'

17 b. A tax for the upkeep of the Temple.

18 a. V. 11, at the time when verse numbers were added, consisted of a sentence which is not now accepted as part of the original text.    b. The community of the brothers (the Church).
c. 'Millions of pounds'—about £3,000,000.    d. Under £5.

Contenance

The disciples said to him, 'If that is how things are between husband and wife, 10 it is not advisable to marry'. •But he replied, 'It is not everyone who can accept 11 what I have said, but only those to whom it is granted. •There are eunuchs born 12 that way from their mother's womb, there are eunuchs made so by men and there are eunuchs who have made themselves that way for the sake of the kingdom of heaven. Let anyone accept this who can.'

Jesus and the children

People brought little children to him, for him to lay his hands on them and 13 say a prayer. The disciples turned them away, •but Jesus said, 'Let the little 14 children alone, and do not stop them coming to me; for it is to such as these that the kingdom of heaven belongs'. •Then he laid his hands on them and went on 15 his way.

The rich young man

And there was a man who came to him and asked, 'Master, what good deed 16 must I do to possess eternal life?' •Jesus said to him, 'Why do you ask me about 17 what is good? There is one alone who is good. But if you wish to enter into life, keep the commandments.' •He said, 'Which?' 'These:' Jesus replied 'You 18 must not kill. You must not commit adultery. You must not steal. You must not bring false witness. •Honour your father and mother, and: you must love your 19 neighbour as yourself.'<sup>a</sup> •The young man said to him, 'I have kept all these. What more do I need to do?' •Jesus said, 'If you wish to be perfect, go and sell what you 20 own and give the money to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven;
then come, follow me'. •But when the young man heard these words he went 22 away sad, for he was a man of great wealth.

The danger of riches

Then Jesus said to his disciples, 'I tell you solemnly, it will be hard for a 23 rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven. •Yes, I tell you again, it is easier 24 for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven.' •When the disciples heard this they were astonished. 25
'Who can be saved, then?' they said. •Jesus gazed at them. 'For men' he told 26 them 'this is impossible; for God everything is possible.'

The reward of renunciation

Then Peter spoke. 'What about us?' he said to him 'We have left everything 27 and followed you. What are we to have, then?' •Jesus said to him, 'I tell you 28 solemnly, when all is made new and the Son of Man sits on his throne of glory, you will yourselves sit on twelve thrones to judge the twelve tribes of Israel.
And everyone who has left houses, brothers, sisters, father, mother, children 29 or land for the sake of my name will be repaid a hundred times over, and also inherit eternal life.

'Many who are first will be last, and the last, first. 30

Parable of the vineyard labourers

20 'Now the kingdom of heaven is like a landowner going out at daybreak 1 to hire workers for his vineyard. •He made an agreement with the workers 2 for one denarius a day, and sent them to his vineyard. •Going out at about the third hour he saw others standing idle in the market place •and said to them, 3
"You go to my vineyard too and I will give you a fair wage". •So they went. At 5 about the sixth hour and again at about the ninth hour, he went out and did the same. •Then at about the eleventh hour he went out and found more men standing 6 round, and he said to them, "Why have you been standing here idle all day?"
"Because no one has hired us" they answered. He said to them, "You go into 7 8 my vineyard too". •In the evening, the owner of the vineyard said to his bailiff, 9 "Call the workers and pay them their wages, starting with the last arrivals and 10 ending with the first". •So those who were hired at about the eleventh hour came 11 forward and received one denarius each. •When the first came, they expected to 12 get more, but they too received one denarius each. •They took it, but grumbled 13 at the landowner. •"The men who came last" they said "have done only one hour, 14 and you have treated them the same as us, though we have done a heavy day's 15 work in all the heat." •He answered one of them and said, "My friend, I am 16 not being unjust to you; did we not agree on one denarius? •Take your earnings

 17 and go. I choose to pay the last-comer as much as I pay you. •Have I no right 18 to do what I like with my own? Why be envious because I am generous?" •Thus 19 the last will be first, and the first, last.'

Third prophecy of the Passion

17 Jesus was going up to Jerusalem, and on the way he took the Twelve to one 18 side and said to them, •'Now we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man 19 is about to be handed over to the chief priests and scribes. They will condemn 20 him to death •and will hand him over to the pagans to be mocked and scourged 21 and crucified; and on the third day he will rise again.'

The mother of Zebedee's sons makes her request

20 Then the mother of Zebedee's sons came with her sons to make a request of 21 him, and bowed low; •and he said to her, 'What is it you want?' She said to 22 him, 'Promise that these two sons of mine may sit one at your right hand and the 23 other at your left in your kingdom'. •'You do not know what you are asking'
 24 Jesus answered. 'Can you drink the cup that I am going to drink?' They replied, 25 'We can'. •'Very well,' he said 'you shall drink my cup,'<sup>a</sup> but as for seats at 26 my right hand and my left, these are not mine to grant; they belong to those to 27 whom they have been allotted by my Father.'

Leadership with service

24 When the other ten heard this they were indignant with the two brothers.
 25 But Jesus called them to him and said, 'You know that among the pagans the 26 rulers lord it over them, and their great men make their authority felt. •This is 27 not to happen among you. No; anyone who wants to be great among you must 28 be your servant, •and anyone who wants to be first among you must be your 29 slave, •just as the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve, and to give his 30 life as a ransom for many.'

The two blind men of Jericho

29 As they left Jericho a large crowd followed him. •Now there were two blind 30 men sitting at the side of the road. When they heard that it was Jesus who was 31 passing by, they shouted, 'Lord! Have pity on us, Son of David.' •And the crowd 32 scolded them and told them to keep quiet, but they only shouted more loudly, 33 'Lord! Have pity on us, Son of David.' •Jesus stopped, called them over and 34 said, 'What do you want me to do for you?' •They said to him, 'Lord, let us
 35 have our sight back'. •Jesus felt pity for them and touched their eyes, and immed-36 iately their sight returned and they followed him.

The Messiah enters Jerusalem

1 21 When they were near Jerusalem and had come in sight of Bethphage on the 2 Mount of Olives, Jesus sent two disciples, •saying to them, 'Go to the village 3 facing you, and you will immediately find a tethered donkey and a colt with her.

19 a. Ex 20:12-16; Dt 5:16-20    b. I.e. to govern.

20 a. Perhaps a prophecy of the martyrdom of James and John; James was certainly put to death by Herod Agrippa about 44 A.D., Ac 12:2.

Untie them and bring them to me. •If anyone says anything to you, you are to say, "The Master needs them and will send them back directly". •This took place to fulfil the prophecy:

*Say to the daughter of Zion:
Look, your king comes to you;
he is humble, he rides on a donkey and on a colt, the foal of a beast of burden.<sup>a</sup>*

So the disciples went out and did as Jesus had told them. •They brought the donkey and the colt, then they laid their cloaks on their backs and he sat on them. •Great crowds of people spread their cloaks on the road, while others were cutting branches from the trees and spreading them in his path. •The crowds who went in front of him and those who followed were all shouting:

*'Hosanna<sup>b</sup> to the Son of David!
Blessings on him who comes in the name of the Lord!<sup>c</sup> Hosanna in the highest heavens!'*

And when he entered Jerusalem, the whole city was in turmoil. 'Who is this?' people asked, •and the crowds answered, 'This is the prophet Jesus from Nazareth in Galilee'.

The expulsion of the dealers from the Temple

Jesus then went into the Temple and drove out all those who were selling and buying there; he upset the tables of the money changers and the chairs of those who were selling pigeons.<sup>d</sup> •'According to scripture' he said 'my house will be called a house of prayer;<sup>e</sup> but you are turning it into a robbers' den.'<sup>f</sup> •There were also blind and lame people who came to him in the Temple, and he cured them. •At the sight of the wonderful things he did and of the children shouting, 'Hosanna to the Son of David' in the Temple, the chief priests and the scribes were indignant. •'Do you hear what they are saying?' they said to him. 'Yes,' Jesus answered 'have you never read this:

*By the mouths of children, babes in arms,
you have made sure of praise?<sup>g</sup>*

With that he left them and went out of the city to Bethany where he spent the night.

The barren fig tree withers. Faith and prayer

As he was returning to the city in the early morning, he felt hungry. •Seeing a fig tree by the road, he went up to it and found nothing on it but leaves. And he said to it, 'May you never bear fruit again'; and at that instant the fig tree withered. •The disciples were amazed when they saw it. 'What happened to the tree' they said 'that it withered there and then?' •Jesus answered, 'I tell you solemnly, if you have faith and do not doubt at all, not only will you do what I have done to the fig tree, but even if you say to this mountain, "Get up and throw yourself into the sea", it will be done. •And if you have faith, everything you ask for in prayer you will receive.'

The authority of Jesus is questioned

He had gone into the Temple and was teaching, when the chief priests and the elders of the people came to him and said, 'What authority have you for acting like this? And who gave you this authority?' •'And I' replied Jesus 'will ask you a question, only one; if you tell me the answer to it, I will then tell you my authority for acting like this. •John's baptism: where did it come from: heaven or man? And they argued it out this way among themselves, 'If we say from heaven, he will retort, "Then why did you refuse to believe him?"; •but if we say from man, we have the people to fear, for they all hold that John was a prophet'.

27 So their reply to Jesus was, 'We do not know'. And he retorted, 'Nor will I tell you my authority for acting like this.'

Parable of the two sons

28 'What is your opinion? A man had two sons. He went and said to the first,
29 "My boy, you go and work in the vineyard today". •He answered, "I will not go", 30 but afterwards thought better of it and went. •The man then went and said the 31 same thing to the second who answered, "Certainly, sir", but did not go. •Which of the two did the father's will?' 'The first' they said. Jesus said to them, 'I tell you solemnly, tax collectors and prostitutes are making their way into 32 the kingdom of God before you. •For John came to you, a pattern of true righteousness, but you did not believe him, and yet the tax collectors and prostitutes did. Even after seeing that, you refused to think better of it and believe in him.'

Parable of the wicked husbandmen

33 'Listen to another parable. There was a man, a landowner, who planted a vineyard; he fenced it round, dug a winepress in it and built a tower; then he 34 leased it to tenants and went abroad. •When vintage time drew near he sent his 35 servants to the tenants to collect his produce. •But the tenants seized his servants, 36 thrashed one, killed another and stoned a third. •Next he sent some more servants, 37 this time a larger number, and they dealt with them in the same way. •Finally 38 he sent his son to them. "They will respect my son" he said. •But when the tenants saw the son, they said to each other, "This is the heir. Come on, let us kill him and 39 take over his inheritance." •So they seized him and threw him out of the vineyard 40 and killed him. •Now when the owner of the vineyard comes, what will he do 41 to those tenants?' •They answered, 'He will bring those wretches to a wretched end and lease the vineyard to other tenants who will deliver the produce to him when 42 the season arrives'. •Jesus said to them, 'Have you never read in the scriptures:

*It was the stone rejected by the builders
that became the keystone.
This was the Lord's doing
and it is wonderful to see?'*

43 I tell you, then, that the kingdom of God will be taken from you and given to a people who will produce its fruit.'

45 When they heard his parables, the chief priests and the scribes realised he was 46 speaking about them, •but though they would have liked to arrest him they were afraid of the crowds, who looked on him as a prophet.

Parable of the wedding feast

<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> 22 Jesus began to speak to them in parables once again, •'The kingdom of heaven may be compared to a king who gave a feast for his son's wedding.
3 He sent his servants to call those who had been invited, but they would not come.
4 Next he sent some more servants. "Tell those who have been invited" he said "that I have my banquet all prepared, my oxen and fattened cattle have been 5 slaughtered, everything is ready. Come to the wedding." •But they were not 6 interested: one went off to his farm, another to his business, •and the rest seized 7 his servants, maltreated them and killed them. •The king was furious. He 8 despatched his troops, destroyed those murderers and burnt their town. •Then he said to his servants, "The wedding is ready; but as those who were invited 9 proved to be unworthy, •go to the crossroads in the town and invite everyone 10 you can find to the wedding". •So these servants went out on to the roads and collected together everyone they could find, bad and good alike; and the wedding hall was filled with guests. •When the king came in to look at the guests he noticed one man who was not wearing a wedding garment, •and said to him, “How did you get in here, my friend, without a wedding garment?” And the man was silent. Then the king said to the attendants, “Bind him hand and foot and throw him out into the dark, where there will be weeping and grinding of teeth”. •For many are called, but few are chosen.’

On tribute to Caesar

Then the Pharisees went away to work out between them how to trap him in what he said. •And they sent their disciples to him, together with the Herodians,<sup>a</sup> to say, ‘Master, we know that you are an honest man and teach the way of God in an honest way, and that you are not afraid of anyone, because a man’s rank means nothing to you. •Tell us your opinion, then. Is it permissible to pay taxes to Caesar or not?’ •But Jesus was aware of their malice and replied, ‘You hypocrites! Why do you set this trap for me? •Let me see the money you pay the tax with.’ They handed him a denarius, •and he said, ‘Whose head is this? Whose name?’ •‘Caesar’s’ they replied. He then said to them, ‘Very well, give back to Caesar what belongs to Caesar—and to God what belongs to God’. This reply took them by surprise, and they left him alone and went away.

The resurrection of the dead

That day some Sadducees—who deny that there is a resurrection—approached him and they put this question to him, •‘Master, Moses said that if a man dies childless, his brother is to marry the widow, his sister-in-law, to raise children for his brother. •Now we had a case involving seven brothers; the first married and then died without children, leaving his wife to his brother; •the same thing happened with the second and third and so on to the seventh, •and then last of all the woman herself died. •Now at the resurrection to which of those seven will she be wife, since she had been married to them all?’ •Jesus answered them, ‘You are wrong, because you understand neither the scriptures nor the power of God. •For at the resurrection men and women do not marry; no, they are like the angels in heaven. •And as for the resurrection of the dead, have you never read what God himself said to you: •I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob?<sup>b</sup> God is God, not of the dead, but of the living.’ And his teaching made a deep impression on the people who heard it.

The greatest commandment of all

But when the Pharisees heard that he had silenced the Sadducees they got together •and, to disconcert him, one of them put a question, •‘Master, which is the greatest commandment of the Law?’ •Jesus said, ‘You must love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind. •This is the greatest and the first commandment. •The second resembles it: You must love your neighbour as yourself. •On these two commandments hang the whole Law, and the Prophets also.’

Christ not only son but also Lord of David

While the Pharisees were gathered round, Jesus put to them this question, ‘What is your opinion about the Christ? Whose son is he?’ ‘David’s’ they told him. ‘Then how is it’ he said ‘that David, moved by the Spirit, calls him Lord, where he says:

*The Lord said to my Lord:
Sit at my right hand
and I will put your enemies
under your feet?'*

45 If David can call him Lord, then how can he be his son?' •Not one could think 46 of anything to say in reply, and from that day no one dared to ask him any further questions.

The scribes and Pharisees: their hypocrisy and vanity

2 23 Then addressing the people and his disciples Jesus said, •The scribes and 3 the Pharisees occupy the chair of Moses. •You must therefore do what they 4 tell you and listen to what they say; but do not be guided by what they do: since
5 they do not practise what they preach. •They tie up heavy burdens and lay them
6 on men's shoulders, but will they lift a finger to move them? Not they! •Everything
7 they do is done to attract attention, like wearing broader phylacteries and longer
8 tassels,<sup>a</sup> •like wanting to take the place of honour at banquet and the front 9 seats in the synagogues, •being greeted obsequiously in the market squares and 10 having people call them Rabbi.
11 •You, however, must not allow yourselves to be called Rabbi, since you have 12 only one Master, and you are all brothers. •You must call no one on earth your 13 father, since you have only one Father, and he is in heaven. •Nor must you allow 14 yourselves to be called teachers, for you have only one Teacher, the Christ.
15 The greatest among you must be your servant. •Anyone who exalts himself will 16 be humbled, and anyone who humbles himself will be exalted.

The sevenfold indictment of the scribes and Pharisees

17 •Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You who shut up the 18 kingdom of heaven in men's faces, neither going in yourselves nor allowing 19 others to go in<sup>b</sup> who want to.
20 •Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You who travel over 21 sea and land to make a single proselyte, and when you have him you make him 22 twice as fit for hell as you are.
23 •Alas for you, blind guides! You who say, "If a man swears by the Temple, 24 it has no force; but if a man swears by the gold of the Temple, he is bound".
25 Fools and blind! For which is of greater worth, the gold or the Temple that 26 makes the gold sacred? •Or else, "If a man swears by the altar it has no force;
27 but if a man swears by the offering that is on the altar, he is bound". •You blind 28 men! For which is of greater worth, the offering or the altar that makes the 29 offering sacred? •Therefore, when a man swears by the altar he is swearing by 30 that and by everything on it. •And when a man swears by the Temple he 31 is swearing by that and by the One who dwells in it. •And when a man swears
32 by heaven he is swearing by the throne of God and by the One who is seated 33 there.
34 •Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You who pay your tithe 35 of mint and dill and cummin<sup>c</sup> and have neglected the weightier matters of the 36 Law—justice, mercy, good faith! These you should have practised, without 37 neglecting the others. •You blind guides! Straining out gnats and swallowing 38 camels!
39 •Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You who clean the 40 outside of cup and dish and leave the inside full of extortion and intemperance.
41 Blind Pharisee! Clean the inside of cup and dish first so that the outside may 42 become clean as well.
43 •Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You who are like 44 whitewashed tombs that look handsome on the outside, but inside are full of dead

men's bones and every kind of corruption. •In the same way you appear to people 28 from the outside like good honest men, but inside you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness.

•Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You who build the 29 sepulchres of the prophets and decorate the tombs of holy men, •saying, "We 30 would never have joined in shedding the blood of the prophets, had we lived in our fathers' day". •So! Your own evidence tells against you! You are the sons of 31 those who murdered the prophets! •Very well then, finish off the work that your 32 fathers began.

Their crimes and approaching punishment

•Serpents, brood of vipers, how can you escape being condemned to hell? 33
This is why, in my turn, I am sending you prophets and wise men and scribes: 34 some you will slaughter and crucify, some you will scourge in your synagogues and hunt from town to town; •and so you will draw down on yourselves the blood 35 of every holy man that has been shed on earth, from the blood of Abel the Holy to the blood of Zechariah son of Barachiah<sup>d</sup> whom you murdered between the sanctuary and the altar. •I tell you solemnly, all of this will recoil on this 36 generation.

Jerusalem admonished

•Jerusalem, Jerusalem, you that kill the prophets and stone those who are 37 sent to you! How often have I longed to gather your children, as a hen gathers her chicks under her wings, and you refused! •So be it! Your house will be left 38 to you desolate, •for, I promise, you shall not see me any more until you say: 39

Blessings on him who comes in the name of the Lord!<sup>e</sup>

THE SERMON ON THE END

Introduction

24 Jesus left the Temple, and as he was going away his disciples came up to 1 draw his attention to the Temple buildings. •He said to them in reply, 2 •You see all these? I tell you solemnly, not a single stone here will be left on another; everything will be destroyed.' •And when he was sitting on the 3 Mount of Olives the disciples came and asked him privately, •Tell us, when is this going to happen, and what will be the sign of your coming and of the end of the world?

The beginning of sorrows

And Jesus answered them, •Take care that no one deceives you; •because 4 many will come using my name and saying, "I am the Christ", and they will 5 deceive many. •You will hear of wars and rumours of wars; do not be 6 alarmed, for this is something that must happen, but the end will not be yet.
For nation will fight against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will 7 be famines and earthquakes here and there. •All this is only the beginning of 8 the birthpangs.

•Then they will hand you over to be tortured and put to death; and you will 9 be hated by all the nations on account of my name. •And then many will fall 10 away; men will betray one another and hate one another. •Many false prophets 11 will arise; they will deceive many, •and with the increase of lawlessness, love in 12
most men will grow cold; •but the man who stands firm to the end will be saved. 13

•This Good News of the kingdom will be proclaimed to the whole world<sup>a</sup> as 14 a witness to all the nations. And then the end<sup>b</sup> will come.

The great tribulation of Jerusalem

15    'So when you see the disastrous abomination, of which the prophet Daniel 16 spoke, set up in the Holy Place (let the reader understand), •then those in 17 Judaea must escape to the mountains; •if a man is on the housetop, he must not 18 come down to collect his belongings; •if a man is in the fields, he must not 19 turn back to fetch his cloak. •Alas for those with child, or with babies at the 20 breast, when those days come! •Pray that you will not have to escape in winter 21 or on a sabbath. •For then there will be great distress such as, until now, since 22 the world began, there never has been, nor ever will be again. •And if that time had not been shortened, no one would have survived; but shortened that time shall be, for the sake of those who are chosen.

23    'If anyone says to you then, "Look, here is the Christ" or, "He is there", 24 do not believe it; •for false Christs and false prophets will arise and produce great signs and portents, enough to deceive even the chosen, if that were possible.
 25 There; I have forewarned you.

The coming of the Son of Man will be evident

26    'If, then, they say to you, "Look, he is in the desert", do not go there;
 27 "Look, he is in some hiding place", do not believe it; •because the coming of the Son of Man will be like lightning striking in the east and flashing far into the 28 west. •Wherever the corpse is, there will the vultures gather.

The universal significance of this coming

29    'Immediately after the distress of those days<sup>c</sup> the sun will be darkened, the moon will lose its brightness, the stars will fall from the sky and the powers of 30 heaven will be shaken. •And then the sign of the Son of Man will appear in heaven; then too all the peoples of the earth will beat their breasts; and they will see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great 31 glory.<sup>d</sup> •And he will send his angels with a loud trumpet to gather his chosen from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

The time of this coming

32    'Take the fig tree as a parable: as soon as its twigs grow supple and its leaves
 33 come out, you know that summer is near. •So with you when you see all these 34 things: know that he is near, at the very gates. •I tell you solemnly, before 35 this generation has passed away all these things will have taken place.<sup>e</sup> •Heaven
 36 and earth will pass away, but my words will never pass away. •But as for that day and hour, nobody knows it, neither the angels of heaven, nor the Son, no one but the Father only.

Be on the alert

37 38    'As it was in Noah's day, so will it be when the Son of Man comes. •For in those days before the Flood people were eating, drinking, taking wives, taking 39 husbands, right up to the day Noah went into the ark, •and they suspected nothing till the Flood came and swept all away. It will be like this when the Son of Man 40 comes. •Then of two men in the fields one is taken, one left; •of two women at 41 the millstone grinding, one is taken, one left.

42    'So stay awake, because you do not know the day when your master is coming.
 43 You may be quite sure of this that if the householder had known at what time of the night the burglar would come, he would have stayed awake and would not have allowed anyone to break through the wall of his house. •Therefore, you 44 too must stand ready because the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect.

Parable of the conscientious steward

‘What sort of servant, then, is faithful and wise enough for the master to 45 place him over his household to give them their food at the proper time?
Happy that servant if his master's arrival finds him at this employment. •I tell 46
you solemnly, he will place him over everything he owns. •But as for the 48 dishonest servant who says to himself, “My master is taking his time”, •and sets 49 about beating his fellow servants and eating and drinking with drunkards, •his 50 master will come on a day he does not expect and at an hour he does not know.
The master will cut him off and send him to the same fate as the hypocrites, where 51 there will be weeping and grinding of teeth.

Parable of the ten bridesmaids

25 ‘Then the kingdom of heaven will be like this: Ten bridesmaids took their 1 lamps and went to meet the bridegroom. •Five of them were foolish and five 2 were sensible: •the foolish ones did take their lamps, but they brought no oil, 3 whereas the sensible ones took flasks of oil as well as their lamps. •The bride- 4 groom was late, and they all grew drowsy and fell asleep. •But at midnight there 6 was a cry, “The bridegroom is here! Go out and meet him.” •At this, all those 7 bridesmaids woke up and trimmed their lamps, •and the foolish ones said to 8 the sensible ones, “Give us some of your oil: our lamps are going out”. •But 9 they replied, “ There may not be enough for us and for you; you had better go to those who sell it and buy some for yourselves”. •They had gone off to buy 10 it when the bridegroom arrived. Those who were ready went in with him to the wedding hall and the door was closed. •The other bridesmaids arrived later. 11 “Lord, Lord,” they said “open the door for us.” •But he replied, “I tell you 12 solemnly, I do not know you”. •So stay awake, because you do not know either 13 the day or the hour.

Parable of the talents

‘It is like a man on his way abroad who summoned his servants and entrusted 14 his property to them. •To one he gave five talents, to another two, to a third 15 one; each in proportion to his ability. Then he set out. •The man who had received 16 the five talents promptly went and traded with them and made five more. •The 17 man who had received two made two more in the same way. •But the man who 18 had received one went off and dug a hole in the ground and hid his master's money. •Now a long time after, the master of those servants came back and went 19 through his accounts with them. •The man who had received the five talents came 20 forward bringing five more. “Sir,” he said “you entrusted me with five talents;
here are five more that I have made.” •His master said to him, “Well done, good 21 and faithful servant; you have shown you can be faithful in small things, I will trust you with greater; come and join in your master's happiness”. •Next the man 22 with the two talents came forward. “ Sir,” he said “you entrusted me with two talents; here are two more that I have made.” •His master said to him, “Well 23 done, good and faithful servant; you have shown you can be faithful in small things, I will trust you with greater; come and join in your master's happiness”.
Last came forward the man who had the one talent. “Sir,” said he “I had heard 24 you were a hard man, reaping where you have not sown and gathering where you have not scattered; •so I was afraid, and I went off and hid your talent in 25 the ground. Here it is; it was yours, you have it back.” •But his master answered 26 him, “You wicked and lazy servant! So you knew that I reap where I have not sown and gather where I have not scattered? •Well then, you should have deposited 27 my money with the bankers, and on my return I would have recovered my capital

28 with interest. •So now, take the talent from him and give it to the man who has 29 the five talents. •For to everyone who has will be given more, and he will have more than enough; but from the man who has not, even what he has will be taken away.
 30 As for this good-for-nothing servant, throw him out into the dark, where there will be weeping and grinding of teeth.”

The Last Judgement

31 •When the Son of Man comes in his glory, escorted by all the angels, then 32 he will take his seat on his throne of glory. •All the nations will be assembled before him and he will separate men one from another as the shepherd separates 33 sheep from goats. •He will place the sheep on his right hand and the goats 34 on his left. •Then the King will say to those on his right hand, “Come, you whom my Father has blessed, take for your heritage the kingdom prepared for you 35 since the foundation of the world. •For I was hungry and you gave me food;
 I was thirsty and you gave me drink; I was a stranger and you made me welcome;
 36 naked and you clothed me, sick and you visited me, in prison and you came to 37 see me.” •Then the virtuous will say to him in reply, “Lord, when did we see 38 you hungry and feed you; or thirsty and give you drink? •When did we see you 39 a stranger and make you welcome; naked and clothe you; •sick or in prison and 40 go to see you?” •And the King will answer, “I tell you solemnly, in so far as you did this to one of the least of these brothers of mine, you did it to me”.
 41 Next he will say to those on his left hand, “Go away from me, with your curse 42 upon you, to the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels. •For I was hungry and you never gave me food; I was thirsty and you never gave me anything 43 to drink; •I was a stranger and you never made me welcome, naked and you 44 never clothed me, sick and in prison and you never visited me.” •Then it will be their turn to ask, “Lord, when did we see you hungry or thirsty, a stranger or 45 naked, sick or in prison, and did not come to your help?” •Then he will answer,
 “I tell you solemnly, in so far as you neglected to do this to one of the least 46 of these, you neglected to do it to me”. •And they will go away to eternal punishment, and the virtuous to eternal life.’

PASSION AND RESURRECTION

The conspiracy against Jesus

1 26 Jesus had now finished all he wanted to say, and he told his disciples,
 2 ‘It will be Passover, as you know, in two days’ time, and the Son of Man will be handed over to be crucified’.
 3 Then the chief priests and the elders of the people assembled in the palace of 4 the high priest, whose name was Caiaphas, •and made plans to arrest Jesus by 5 some trick and have him put to death. •They said, however, ‘It must not be during the festivities; there must be no disturbance among the people’.

The anointing at Bethany

6 Jesus was at Bethany in the house of Simon the leper, when •a woman came 7 to him with an alabaster jar of the most expensive ointment, and poured it on his 8 head as he was at table. •When they saw this, the disciples were indignant; ‘Why
 9 this waste?’ they said. •‘This could have been sold at a high price and the money 10 given to the poor.’ •Jesus noticed this. ‘Why are you upsetting the woman?’ he said to them. ‘What she has done for me is one of the good works<sup>a</sup> indeed!
 11 You have the poor with you always, but you will not always have me. •When she 12 poured this ointment on my body, she did it to prepare me for burial. •I tell you 13 solemnly, wherever in all the world this Good News is proclaimed, what she has done will be told also, in remembrance of her.’

26 a. As ‘good works’, charitable deeds were reckoned superior to almsgiving.

Judas betrays Jesus

Then one of the Twelve, the man called Judas Iscariot, went to the chief 14 priests and said, 'What are you prepared to give me if I hand him over to you?' 15
They paid him thirty silver pieces,<sup>b</sup> and from that moment he looked for an 16 opportunity to betray him.

Preparations for the Passover supper

Now on the first day of Unleavened Bread<sup>c</sup> the disciples came to Jesus to 17 say, 'Where do you want us to make the preparations for you to eat the 18 passover?' 'Go to so-and-so in the city' he replied 'and say to him, "The Master 19 says: My time is near. It is at your house that I am keeping Passover with my disciples."' 'The disciples did what Jesus told them and prepared the Passover.

The treachery of Judas foretold

When evening came he was at table with the twelve disciples. 'And while they 20 were eating he said, 'I tell you solemnly, one of you is about to betray 21 me'. 'They were greatly distressed and started asking him in turn, 'Not I, Lord, 22 surely?' 'He answered, 'Someone who has dipped his hand into the dish with me, 23 will betray me. 'The Son of Man is going to his fate, as the scriptures say he 24 will, but alas for that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed! Better for that man if he had never been born!' 'Judas, who was to betray him, asked in his 25 turn, 'Not I, Rabbi, surely?' 'They are your own words' answered Jesus.

The institution of the Eucharist

Now as they were eating,<sup>d</sup> Jesus took some bread, and when he had said the 26 blessing he broke it and gave it to the disciples. 'Take it and eat,' he said 'this is 27
my body.' 'Then he took a cup, and when he had returned thanks he gave it 28 to them. 'Drink all of you from this,' he said 'for this is my blood, the blood 29 of the covenant, which is to be poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins. 'From now on, I tell you, I shall not drink wine until the day I drink 30 the new wine with you in the kingdom of my Father.'

Peter's denial foretold

After psalms had been sung<sup>e</sup> they left for the Mount of Olives. 'Then Jesus said 30 to them, 'You will all lose faith in me this night,<sup>f</sup> for the scripture says: 31
I shall strike the shepherd and the sheep of the flock will be scattered,<sup>g</sup> but after my 32 resurrection I shall go before you to Galilee'. 'At this, Peter said, 'Though all 33 lose faith in you, I will never lose faith'. 'Jesus answered him, 'I tell you 34 solemnly, this very night, before the cock crows, you will have disowned me three times'. 'Peter said to him, 'Even if I have to die with you, I will never 35 disown you'. And all the disciples said the same.

Gethsemane

Then Jesus came with them to a small estate called Gethsemane; and he said 36 to his disciples, 'Stay here while I go over there to pray'. 'He took Peter and the 37 two sons of Zebedee with him. And sadness came over him, and great distress.
Then he said to them, 'My soul is sorrowful to the point of death. Wait here and 38 keep awake with me.' 'And going on a little further he fell on his face and prayed. 39
'My Father,' he said 'if it is possible, let this cup pass me by. Nevertheless, let it be as you, not I, would have it.' 'He came back to the disciples and found them 40 sleeping, and he said to Peter, 'So you had not the strength to keep awake with me one hour? 'You should be awake, and praying not to be put to the test. The 41 spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak.' 'Again, a second time, he went away and 42 prayed: 'My Father,' he said 'if this cup cannot pass by without my drinking it, your will be done!' 'And he came back again and found them sleeping, their eyes 43 were so heavy. 'Leaving them there, he went away again and prayed for the 44

45 third time, repeating the same words. •Then he came back to the disciples and said to them, 'You can sleep on now and take your rest. Now the hour has 46 come when the Son of Man is to be betrayed into the hands of sinners. •Get up!
 Let us go! My betrayer is already close at hand.'

The arrest

47 He was still speaking when Judas, one of the Twelve, appeared, and with him a large number of men armed with swords and clubs, sent by the chief priests and 48 elders of the people. •Now the traitor had arranged a sign with them. 'The one I kiss,' he had said 'he is the man. Take him in charge.' •So he went straight up to 50 Jesus and said, 'Greetings, Rabbi', and kissed him. •Jesus said to him, 'My friend, do what you are here for'. Then they came forward, seized Jesus and took him in 51 charge. •At that, one of the followers of Jesus grasped his sword and drew it; he 52 struck out at the high priest's servant, and cut off his ear. •Jesus then said, 'Put your 53 sword back, for all who draw the sword will die by the sword. •Or do you think that I cannot appeal to my Father who would promptly send more than twelve 54 legions of angels to my defence? •But then, how would the scriptures be fulfilled 55 that say this is the way it must be?' •It was at this time that Jesus said to the crowds, 'Am I a brigand, that you had to set out to capture me with swords and clubs? I sat teaching in the Temple day after day and you never laid hands 56 on me.' •Now all this happened to fulfil the prophecies in scripture. Then all the disciples deserted him and ran away.

Jesus before the Sanhedrin

57 The men who had arrested Jesus led him off to Caiaphas the high priest, 58 where the scribes and the elders were assembled. •Peter followed him at a distance, and when he reached the high priest's palace, he went in and sat down with the attendants to see what the end would be.
 59 The chief priests and the whole Sanhedrin were looking for evidence against 60 Jesus, however false, on which they might pass the death-sentence. •But they could not find any, though several lying witnesses came forward. Eventually two 61 stepped forward and made a statement, 'This man said, "I have power to 62 destroy the Temple of God and in three days build it up"'. •The high priest then stood up and said to him, 'Have you no answer to that? What is this evidence 63 these men are bringing against you?' •But Jesus was silent. And the high priest said to him, 'I put you on oath by the living God to tell us if you are the Christ, 64 the Son of God'. •'The words are your own' answered Jesus. 'Moreover, I tell you that from this time onward you will see the Son of Man seated at the right 65 hand of the Power and coming on the clouds of heaven.' •At this, the high priest tore his clothes and said, 'He has blasphemed. What need of witnesses have 66 we now? There! You have just heard the blasphemy. •What is your opinion?'
 They answered, 'He deserves to die'.
 67 Then they spat in his face and hit him with their fists; others said as they 68 struck him, •'Play the prophet, Christ! Who hit you then?'

Peter's denials

69 Meanwhile Peter was sitting outside in the courtyard, and a servant-girl came 70 up to him and said, 'You too were with Jesus the Galilean'. •But he denied it in 71 front of them all. 'I do not know what you are talking about' he said. •When he went out to the gateway another servant-girl saw him and said to the people there,

26 b. 30 shekels, the price fixed for a slave's life, Ex 21:32. c. Unleavened bread was normally to be eaten during the seven days which followed the Passover supper; here the writer appears to mean the first day of the whole Passover celebration. d. The Passover supper itself, for which exact rules for the blessing of bread and wine were laid down. The 'eating' of v. 21 is the first course, which came before the Passover itself. e. The psalms of praise which end the Passover supper. f. 'be brought down': the regular expression for the losing of faith through a difficulty or blow to it. g. Zc 13:7

'This man was with Jesus the Nazarene'. •And again, with an oath, he denied 72
it, 'I do not know the man'. •A little later the bystanders came up and said to 73 Peter, 'You are one of them for sure! Why, your accent gives you away.' •Then 74 he started calling down curses on himself and swearing, 'I do not know the man'.
At that moment the cock crew, •and Peter remembered what Jesus had said, 75
'Before the cock crows you will have disowned me three times'. And he went outside and wept bitterly.

Jesus is taken before Pilate

27 When morning came, all the chief priests and the elders of the people met 1 in council to bring about the death of Jesus. •They had him bound, and 2 led him away to hand him over to Pilate,<sup>a</sup> the governor.

The death of Judas

When he found that Jesus had been condemned, Judas his betrayer was filled 3 with remorse and took the thirty silver pieces back to the chief priests and elders.
'I have sinned,' he said 'I have betrayed innocent blood.' 'What is that to us?' 4
they replied 'that is your concern.' •And flinging down the silver pieces in the 5 sanctuary he made off, and went and hanged himself. •The chief priests picked 6 up the silver pieces and said, 'It is against the Law to put this into the treasury;
it is blood-money'. •So they discussed the matter and bought the potter's field 7 with it as a graveyard for foreigners, •and this is why the field is called the Field 8 of Blood today. •The words of the prophet Jeremiah<sup>b</sup> were then fulfilled: And 9
they took the thirty silver pieces, the sum at which the precious One was priced by children of Israel, •and they gave them for the potter's field, just as the Lord 10 directed me.

Jesus before Pilate

Jesus, then, was brought before the governor, and the governor put to him 11 this question, 'Are you the king of the Jews?' Jesus replied, 'It is you who say it'. •But when he was accused by the chief priests and the elders he refused to 12 answer at all. •Pilate then said to him, 'Do you not hear how many charges they have brought against you?' •But to the governor's complete amazement, he 14 offered no reply to any of the charges.

At festival time it was the governor's practice to release a prisoner for the 15 people, anyone they chose. •Now there was at that time a notorious prisoner 16 whose name was Barabbas. •So when the crowd gathered, Pilate said to them, 17
'Which do you want me to release for you: Barabbas, or Jesus who is called Christ?' •For Pilate knew it was out of jealousy that they had handed him over. 18

Now as he was seated in the chair of judgement, his wife sent him a message, 19
'Have nothing to do with that man; I have been upset all day by a dream I had about him'.

The chief priests and the elders, however, had persuaded the crowd to demand 20
the release of Barabbas and the execution of Jesus. •So when the governor spoke and asked them, 'Which of the two do you want me to release for you?' they 21 said, 'Barabbas'. •'But in that case,' Pilate said to them 'what am I to do with Jesus who is called Christ?' They all said, 'Let him be crucified!' •'Why?' he asked 'what 22 harm has he done?' But they shouted all the louder, 'Let him be crucified!'
Then Pilate saw that he was making no impression, that in fact a riot was 24 imminent. So he took some water, washed his hands in front of the crowd and said, 'I am innocent of this man's blood. It is your concern.' •And the people, 25 to a man, shouted back, 'His blood be on us and on our children!' •Then he 26 released Barabbas for them. He ordered Jesus to be first scourged<sup>c</sup> and then handed over to be crucified.

Jesus is crowned with thorns

27 The governor's soldiers took Jesus with them into the Praetorium and 28 collected the whole cohort round him. •Then they stripped him and made 29 him wear a scarlet cloak, •and having twisted some thorns into a crown they put this on his head and placed a reed in his right hand. To make fun of him they 30 knelt to him saying, 'Hail, king of the Jews!' •And they spat on him and took 31 the reed and struck him on the head with it. •And when they had finished making fun of him, they took off the cloak and dressed him in his own clothes and led him away to crucify him.

The crucifixion

32 On their way out, they came across a man from Cyrene, Simon by name, 33 and enlisted him to carry his cross. •When they had reached a place called 34 Golgotha,<sup>d</sup> that is, the place of the skull, •they gave him wine to drink mixed 35 with gall, which he tasted but refused to drink. •When they had finished 16 crucifying him they shared out his clothing by casting lots, •and then sat down and stayed there keeping guard over him.

37 Above his head was placed the charge against him; it read: 'This is Jesus, 38 the King of the Jews'. •At the same time two robbers were crucified with him, one on the right and one on the left.

The crucified Christ is mocked

39 The passers-by jeered at him; they shook their heads •and said, 'So you 40 would destroy the Temple and rebuild it in three days! Then save yourself! If 41 you are God's son, come down from the cross!' •The chief priests with the 42 scribes and elders mocked him in the same way. •'He saved others,' they said 'he cannot save himself. He is the king of Israel; let him come down from the 43 cross now, and we will believe in him. •He puts his trust in God; now let God 44 rescue him if he wants him. For he did say, "I am the son of God".' •Even the robbers who were crucified with him taunted him in the same way.

The death of Jesus

45 From the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land until the ninth hour.<sup>e</sup>
 46 And about the ninth hour, Jesus cried out in a loud voice, 'Eli, Eli, lama sabach-47 thani?' that is, 'My God, my God, why have you deserted me?'<sup>f</sup> • When some of those who stood there heard this, they said, 'The man is calling on Elijah', 48 and one of them quickly ran to get a sponge which he dipped in vinegar<sup>g</sup> and,
 49 putting it on a reed, gave it him to drink. •'Wait!' said the rest of them 'and 50 see if Elijah will come to save him.' •But Jesus, again crying out in a loud voice, yielded up his spirit.

51 At that, the veil of the Temple<sup>h</sup> was torn in two from top to bottom; the earth
 52 quaked; the rocks were split; •the tombs opened and the bodies of many holy men 53 rose from the dead, •and these, after his resurrection, came out of the tombs, 54 entered the Holy City and appeared to a number of people. •Meanwhile the centurion, together with the others guarding Jesus, had seen the earthquake and all that was taking place, and they were terrified and said, 'In truth this was a son of God'.
 55 And many women were there, watching from a distance, the same women who had followed Jesus from Galilee and looked after him. •Among 56 them were Mary of Magdala, Mary the mother of James and Joseph, and the mother of Zebedee's sons.

The burial

When it was evening, there came a rich man of Arimathaea, called Joseph, 57 who had himself become a disciple of Jesus. •This man went to Pilate and asked 58 for the body of Jesus. Pilate thereupon ordered it to be handed over. •So Joseph 59 took the body, wrapped it in a clean shroud •and put it in his own new tomb 60 which he had hewn out of the rock. He then rolled a large stone across the entrance of the tomb and went away. •Now Mary of Magdala and the other Mary were 61 there, sitting opposite the sepulchre.

The guard at the tomb

Next day, that is, when Preparation Day<sup>1</sup> was over, the chief priests and the 62
Pharisees went in a body to Pilate •and said to him, 'Your Excellency, we 63 recall that this impostor said, while he was still alive, "After three days I shall rise again". •Therefore give the order to have the sepulchre kept secure until the 64 third day, for fear his disciples come and steal him away and tell the people, "He has risen from the dead". This last piece of fraud would be worse than what went before.' •'You may have your guard' said Pilate to them. 'Go and make 65 all as secure as you know how.' •So they went and made the sepulchre secure, 66 putting seals on the stone and mounting a guard.

The empty tomb. The angel's message

28 After the sabbath, and towards dawn on the first day of the week, Mary of 1 Magdala and the other Mary went to visit the sepulchre. •And all at once 2 there was a violent earthquake, for the angel of the Lord, descending from heaven, came and rolled away the stone and sat on it. •His face was like lightning, 3 his robe white as snow. •The guards were so shaken, so frightened of him, that 4 they were like dead men. •But the angel spoke; and he said to the women, 5
'There is no need for you to be afraid. I know you are looking for Jesus, who was crucified. •He is not here, for he has risen, as he said he would. Come and see 6 the place where he lay, •then go quickly and tell his disciples, "He has risen 7 from the dead and now he is going before you to Galilee; it is there you will see him". Now I have told you.' •Filled with awe and great joy the women came 8 quickly away from the tomb and ran to tell the disciples.

Appearance to the women

And there, coming to meet them, was Jesus. 'Greetings' he said. And the 9 women came up to him and, falling down before him, clasped his feet. •Then 10
Jesus said to them, 'Do not be afraid; go and tell my brothers that they must leave for Galilee; they will see me there'.

Precautions taken by the leaders of the people

While they were on their way, some of the guard went off into the city to tell 11
the chief priests all that had happened. •These held a meeting with the elders 12 and, after some discussion, handed a considerable sum of money to the soldiers with these instructions, 'This is what you must say, "His disciples came during 13 the night and stole him away while we were asleep"'. •And should the governor 14 come to hear of this, we undertake to put things right with him ourselves and to see that you do not get into trouble.' •The soldiers took the money and carried 15 out their instructions, and to this day that is the story among the Jews.

Appearance in Galilee. The mission to the world

Meanwhile the eleven disciples set out for Galilee, to the mountain where 16
Jesus had arranged to meet them. •When they saw him they fell down before 17

- 18 him, though some hesitated. •Jesus came up and spoke to them. He said, 'All 19 authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. •Go, therefore, make disciples of all the nations; baptise them in the name of the Father and of the 20 Son and of the Holy Spirit,<sup>a</sup> •and teach them to observe all the commands I gave you. And know that I am with you always; yes, to the end of time.'

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO LUKE AND ACTS

The introductions to The Gospel according to Luke and to The Acts of the Apostles show that they were both written by the same man and should be considered as two volumes of one work. In it Luke traces the development of God's action amongst his people from the birth of Jesus Christ to the Crucifixion and Resurrection, and on to the point where Paul reached Rome in A.D. 61. Originally Luke may have planned a third volume, taking the story on from that point, but if so no trace of this has remained. There are no reasons to doubt that the author of this Gospel was the Luke who was often the companion of Paul during his journeys.

Like Matthew's Gospel, The Gospel according to Luke draws on Mark for its framework and for the narrative passages, although modifications are made to the Markan material in use. In addition to Mark, Luke used material which Matthew also had at his disposal, and there are sections which show that Luke had access to material which was used neither by Mark nor by Matthew. Emphasis is laid on the authenticity of material used, with reference to eye-witness reports of the events. The author was an educated man who wrote good Greek, and if he was the Luke who accompanied Paul on his journeys he would have had many opportunities of collecting information about Jesus from the various traditions which came into existence in the early Church. Using the same framework for the sayings and events in the life of Jesus as the one adopted by Mark, Luke inserts most of his new material into the journey section in the central part of the Gospel. But he lays stress on the appeal of Jesus to the Gentiles, and also on the place which the Holy Spirit occupies in the redemptive activity of Christ.

The activity of the Holy Spirit is even more conspicuous in The Acts of the Apostles. On the human side Acts emphasises the importance of the Apostles in the early Church, and shows how the Holy Spirit, working through the Apostles, overcame all opposition and caused the early Christian community to grow rapidly and spread into many areas outside Jerusalem. The first half of Acts from chapter 1 to 15, is concerned with the general growth of the Church, but from chapter 16 to the end all the emphasis is laid on the work of Paul, until the moment when he reached Rome.

There are many reports of the speeches and discourses of the Apostles in The Acts of the Apostles, and we must recognise that here Luke is possibly following an ancient literary custom by which an author put into the mouths of his characters the sentiments which he thought they would have expressed. There is no reason to doubt the general pattern of the sermons and discourses which Luke gives, but we are on more uncertain ground if we claim that they are verbatim reports.

The emphasis which the Gospel lays on the attitude of Jesus towards the Gentiles is further developed in The Acts of the Apostles, where the Council of Jerusalem in Acts 15, with its decree about the Gentiles, is the pivotal point about which the whole book turns. If Luke was himself a Gentile, and had accompanied Paul on the missionary journeys in which so many Gentiles were converted to Christianity, it is not surprising that this experience should show in the Gospel and the history of the early Church which he wrote. The genealogy which Luke gives for Jesus in chapter 3 of his Gospel, unlike the genealogy at the beginning of Matthew, traces the descent of Jesus Christ from Adam, the father both of Gentiles and of Jews.

Contemporary Writing

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO SAINT LUKE

Prologue

1 I Seeing that many others have undertaken to draw up accounts of the events
2 that have taken place among us, exactly as these were handed down to us by 3 those who from the outset were eyewitnesses and ministers of the word, I in my 4 turn, after carefully going over the whole story from the beginning, have decided 5 to write an ordered account for you, Theophilus, so that your Excellency may 6 learn how well founded the teaching is that you have received.

THE BIRTH AND HIDDEN LIFE OF JOHN THE BAPTIST AND OF JESUS

The birth of John the Baptist foretold

5 In the days of King Herod of Judaea there lived a priest called Zechariah
6 who belonged to the Abijah section of the priesthood, and he had a wife, 7 Elizabeth by name, who was a descendant of Aaron. Both were worthy in the 8 sight of God, and scrupulously observed all the commandments and observances 9 of the Lord. But they were childless: Elizabeth was barren and they were 10 both getting on in years.

11 Now it was the turn of Zechariah's section to serve, and he was exercising
12 his priestly office before God when it fell to him by lot, as the ritual custom 13 was, to enter the Lord's sanctuary and burn incense there.<sup>b</sup> And at the hour of 14 incense the whole congregation was outside, praying.

15 Then there appeared to him the angel of the Lord, standing on the right 16 of the altar of incense. The sight disturbed Zechariah and he was overcome with 17 fear. But the angel said to him, 'Zechariah, do not be afraid, your prayer
18 has been heard. Your wife Elizabeth is to bear you a son and you must name 19 him John.'<sup>c</sup> He will be your joy and delight and many will rejoice at his birth, 20 for he will be great in the sight of the Lord; he must drink no wine, no strong 21 drink.<sup>d</sup> Even from his mother's womb he will be filled with the Holy Spirit, and 22 he will bring back many of the sons of Israel to the Lord their God. With the 23 spirit and power of Elijah, he will go before him to turn the hearts of fathers 24 towards their children<sup>e</sup> and the disobedient back to the wisdom that the virtuous have, preparing for the Lord a people fit for him.' •Zechariah said to the angel, 18

 'How can I be sure of this?' I am an old man and my wife is getting on in years.' 19
 The angel replied, 'I am Gabriel who stand in God's presence, and I have been 20 sent to speak to you and bring you this good news. •Listen! Since you have not 21 believed my words, which will come true at their appointed time, you will be 22 silenced and have no power of speech until this has happened.' •Meanwhile 23 the people were waiting for Zechariah and were surprised that he stayed in the 24 sanctuary so long. •When he came out he could not speak to them, and they 25 realised that he had received a vision in the sanctuary. But he could only make 26 signs to them, and remained dumb.

When his time of service came to an end he returned home. •Some time later 23 his wife Elizabeth conceived, and for five months she kept to herself. •'The Lord 24 has done this for me' she said 'now that it has pleased him to take away the 25 humiliation I suffered among men.'

The annunciation

In the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent by God to a town in Galilee 26 called Nazareth, •to a virgin betrothed to a man named Joseph, of the House 27 of David; and the virgin's name was Mary. •He went in and said to her, 'Rejoice, 28 so highly favoured! The Lord is with you.' •She was deeply disturbed by these 29 words and asked herself what this greeting could mean, •but the angel said 30 to her, 'Mary, do not be afraid; you have won God's favour. •Listen! You are 31 to conceive and bear a son, and you must name him Jesus. •He will be great and 32 will be called Son of the Most High. The Lord God will give him the throne 33 of his ancestor David; •he will rule over the House of Jacob for ever and his reign 34 will have no end.' •Mary said to the angel, 'But how can this come about, since 35
 I am a virgin?' •'The Holy Spirit will come upon you' the angel answered 'and 36 the power of the Most High will cover you with its shadow. And so the child 37 will be holy and will be called Son of God. •Know this too: your kinswoman 38
 Elizabeth has, in her old age, herself conceived a son, and she whom people called 39 barren is now in her sixth month, •for nothing is impossible to God.'<sup>h</sup> •'I am the 40
 handmaid of the Lord,' said Mary 'let what you have said be done to me.' 41
 And the angel left her.

The visitation

Mary set out at that time and went as quickly as she could to a town in the 39 hill country of Judah. •She went into Zechariah's house and greeted Elizabeth. 40
 Now as soon as Elizabeth heard Mary's greeting, the child leapt in her womb 41 and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit. •She gave a loud cry and said, 42
 'Of all women you are the most blessed, and blessed is the fruit of your womb. 43
 Why should I be honoured with a visit from the mother of my Lord? •For the 44 moment your greeting reached my ears, the child in my womb leapt for joy. 45
 Yes, blessed is she who believed that the promise made her by the Lord would 46 be fulfilled.'

The Magnificat

And Mary' said: 46

'My soul proclaims the greatness of the Lord 47
 and my spirit exults in God my saviour; 48 because he has looked upon his lowly handmaid. 49
 Yes, from this day forward all generations will call me blessed, for the Almighty has done great things for me. 50
Holy is his name,
 and his mercy reaches from age to age for those who fear him. 51
 He has shown the power of his arm,
 he has routed the proud of heart.

52 He has pulled down princes from their thrones and exalted the lowly.
 53 The hungry he has filled with good things, the rich sent empty away.
 54 He has come to the help of Israel his servant, mindful of his mercy
 55 —according to the promise he made to our ancestors— of his mercy to Abraham and to his descendants for ever.’

56 Mary stayed with Elizabeth about three months and then went back home.

The birth of John the Baptist and visit of the neighbours

57 Meanwhile the time came for Elizabeth to have her child, and she gave birth 58 to a son; and when her neighbours and relations heard that the Lord had shown her so great a kindness, they shared her joy.

The circumcision of John the Baptist

59 Now on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child; they were going 60 to call him Zechariah after his father, but his mother spoke up. ‘No,’ she 61 said ‘he is to be called John.’ They said to her, ‘But no one in your family has 62 that name’, and made signs to his father to find out what he wanted him called.
 63 The father asked for a writing-tablet and wrote, ‘His name is John’. And they 64 were all astonished. At that instant his power of speech returned and he spoke 65 and praised God. All their neighbours were filled with awe and the whole affair 66 was talked about throughout the hill country of Judaea. All those who heard of it treasured it in their hearts. ‘What will this child turn out to be?’
 they wondered. And indeed the hand of the Lord was with him.

The Benedictus

67 His father Zechariah was filled with the Holy Spirit and spoke this prophecy:

68 ‘Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel,’ for he has visited his people, he has come to their rescue 69 and he has raised up for us a power for salvation in the House of his servant David, 70 even as he proclaimed,
 by the mouth of his holy prophets from ancient times, 71 that he would save us from our enemies and from the hands of all who hate us.
 72 Thus he shows mercy to our ancestors, thus he remembers his holy covenant,<sup>1</sup> 73 the oath he swore to our father Abraham 74 that he would grant us, free from fear, to be delivered from the hands of our enemies, 75 to serve him in holiness and virtue in his presence, all our days.
 76 And you, little child,
 you shall be called Prophet of the Most High,
 for you will go before the Lord to prepare the way for him.
 77 To give his people knowledge of salvation through the forgiveness of their sins; 78 this by the tender mercy of our God who from on high will bring the rising Sun to visit us, 79 to give light to those who live

The hidden life of John the Baptist

Meanwhile the child grew up and his spirit matured. And he lived out in 80 the wilderness until the day he appeared openly to Israel.

The birth of Jesus and visit of the shepherds

2 Now at this time Caesar Augustus<sup>a</sup> issued a decree for a census of the whole 1 world to be taken. •This census—the first<sup>b</sup>—took place while Quirinius was 2 governor of Syria, •and everyone went to his own town to be registered. •So Joseph 3 set out from the town of Nazareth in Galilee and travelled up to Judaea, to the 4 town of David called Bethlehem, since he was of David's House and line, •in 5 order to be registered together with Mary, his betrothed, who was with child. 6 While they were there the time came for her to have her child, •and she gave birth 7 to a son, her first-born. •She wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a 8 manger because there was no room for them at the inn. •In the countryside 8 close by there were shepherds who lived in the fields and took it in turns to watch 9 their flocks during the night. •The angel of the Lord appeared to them and 10 the glory of the Lord shone round them. They were terrified, •but the angel 11 said, 'Do not be afraid. Listen, I bring you news of great joy, a joy to be shared 12 by the whole people. •Today in the town of David a saviour has been born to 13 you; he is Christ the Lord. •And here is a sign for you: you will find a baby 14 wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger.' •And suddenly with the 15 angel there was a great throng of the heavenly host, praising God and singing:

'Glory to God in the highest heaven, 14 and peace to men who enjoy his favour'.

Now when the angels had gone from them into heaven, the shepherds said 15 to one another, 'Let us go to Bethlehem and see this thing that has happened 16 which the Lord has made known to us'. •So they hurried away and found 17
Mary and Joseph, and the baby lying in the manger. •When they saw the child 18 they repeated what they had been told about him, •and everyone who heard 19 it was astonished at what the shepherds had to say. •As for Mary, she treasured 20 all these things and pondered them in her heart. •And the shepherds went back glorifying and praising God for all they had heard and seen; it was exactly as they had been told.

The circumcision of Jesus

When the eighth day came and the child was to be circumcised, they gave 21 him the name Jesus, the name the angel had given him before his conception.

Jesus is presented in the Temple

And when the day came for them to be purified<sup>d</sup> as laid down by the Law 22 of Moses, they took him up to Jerusalem to present him to the Lord —•observing 23 what stands written in the Law of the Lord: Every first-born male must be con- secrated to the Lord<sup>e</sup>—•and also to offer in sacrifice, in accordance with what 24 is said in the Law of the Lord, a pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons.<sup>f</sup> •Now 25 in Jerusalem there was a man named Simeon. He was an upright and devout man; he looked forward to Israel's comforting and the Holy Spirit rested on him. •It had been revealed to him by the Holy Spirit that he would not see death 26 until he had set eyes on the Christ of the Lord.<sup>g</sup> •Prompted by the Spirit he 27 came to the Temple; and when the parents brought in the child Jesus to do for 28 him what the Law required, •he took him into his arms and blessed God; and he said:

The Nunc Dimittis

29 'Now, Master, you can let your servant go in peace, just as you promised;
30 because my eyes have seen the salvation
31 which you have prepared for all the nations to see,
32 a light to enlighten the pagans
and the glory of your people Israel'.

The prophecy of Simeon

33 As the child's father and mother stood there wondering at the things that 34 were being said about him, •Simeon blessed them and said to Mary his mother,
'You see this child: he is destined for the fall and for the rising of many in Israel, 35 destined to be a sign that is rejected—•and a sword will pierce your own soul too—so that the secret thoughts of many may be laid bare'.

The prophecy of Anna

36 There was a prophetess also, Anna the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher. She was well on in years. Her days of girlhood over, she had been 37 married for seven years •before becoming a widow. She was now eighty-four years old and never left the Temple, serving God night and day with fasting 38 and prayer. •She came by just at that moment and began to praise God; and she spoke of the child to all who looked forward to the deliverance of Jerusalem.<sup>a</sup>

The hidden life of Jesus at Nazareth

39 When they had done everything the Law of the Lord required, they went back 40 to Galilee, to their own town of Nazareth. •Meanwhile the child grew to maturity, and he was filled with wisdom; and God's favour was with him.

Jesus among the doctors of the Law

41 Every year his parents used to go to Jerusalem for the feast of the Passover.
42 When he was twelve years old, they went up for the feast as usual. •When they 43 were on their way home after the feast, the boy Jesus stayed behind in Jerusalem 44 without his parents knowing it. •They assumed he was with the caravan, and it was •only after a day's journey that they went to look for him among their 45 relations and acquaintances. •When they failed to find him they went back to Jerusalem looking for him everywhere.

46 Three days later, they found him in the Temple, sitting among the doctors, 47 listening to them, and asking them questions; •and all those who heard him
48 were astounded at his intelligence and his replies. •They were overcome when they saw him, and his mother said to him, 'My child, why have you done this to us? See how worried your father and I have been, looking for 49 you.' •'Why were you looking for me?' he replied 'Did you not know that I must 50 be busy with my Father's affairs?' •But they did not understand what he meant.

The hidden life at Nazareth resumed

51 He then went down with them and came to Nazareth and lived under their 52 authority. His mother stored up all these things in her heart. •And Jesus increased in wisdom, in stature, and in favour with God and men.

PRELUDE TO THE PUBLIC MINISTRY OF JESUS

The preaching of John the Baptist

3 In the fifteenth year of Tiberius Caesar's reign,<sup>a</sup> when Pontius Pilate<sup>b</sup> was 1 governor of Judaea, Herod<sup>c</sup> tetrarch of Galilee, his brother Philip<sup>d</sup> tetrarch 2 of the lands of Ituraea and Trachonitis, Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene, •during 2 the pontificate of Annas and Caiaphas,<sup>e</sup> the word of God came to John son of 3 Zechariah, in the wilderness. •He went through the whole Jordan district pro- 3 claiming a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins, •as it is written 4 in the book of the sayings of the prophet Isaiah:

A voice cries in the wilderness:

Prepare a way for the Lord,

make his paths straight.

Every valley will be filled in,

every mountain and hill be laid low,

winding ways will be straightened and rough roads made smooth.

And all mankind shall see the salvation of God. f

He said, therefore, to the crowds who came to be baptised by him, 'Brood of 7 vipers, who warned you to fly from the retribution that is coming? •But if you are 8 repentant, produce the appropriate fruits, and do not think of telling yourselves,
"We have Abraham for our father" because, I tell you, God can raise children for 9
Abraham from these stones. •Yes, even now the axe is laid to the roots of the 9 trees, so that any tree which fails to produce good fruit will be cut down and thrown on the fire.'

When all the people asked him, 'What must we do, then?' •he answered, 10
'If anyone has two tunics he must share with the man who has none, and the 11
one with something to eat must do the same'. •There were tax collectors too 12 who came for baptism, and these said to him, 'Master, what must we do?' •He 13 said to them, 'Exact no more than your rate'. •Some soldiers asked him in their 14 turn, 'What about us? What must we do?' He said to them, 'No intimidation!
No extortion! Be content with your pay!'

A feeling of expectancy had grown among the people, who were beginning 15 to think that John might be the Christ, •so John declared before them all, 'I 16 baptise you with water, but someone is coming, someone who is more powerful than I am, and I am not fit to undo the strap of his sandals; he will baptise 17 you with the Holy Spirit and fire. •His winnowing-fan is in his hand to clear his threshing-floor and to gather the wheat into his barn; but the chaff he will 18 burn in a fire that will never go out.' •As well as this, there were many other things he said to exhort the people and to announce the Good News to them.

John the Baptist imprisoned

But Herod the tetrarch, whom he criticised for his relations with his brother's 19 wife Herodias and for all the other crimes Herod had committed, •added a further 20 crime to all the rest by shutting John up in prison.

Jesus is baptised

Now when all the people had been baptised and while Jesus after his own 21 baptism was at prayer, heaven opened •and the Holy Spirit descended on him 22 in bodily shape, like a dove. And a voice came from heaven, 'You are my Son, the Beloved; my favour rests on you'.

The ancestry of Jesus

When he started to teach, Jesus was about thirty years old, being the son, 23 as it was thought, of Joseph son of Heli, •son of Matthat, son of Levi, son 24 of Melchi, son of Jannai, son of Joseph, •son of Mattathias, son of Amos, son 25

26 of Nahum, son of Esli, son of Naggai, •son of Maath, son of Mattathias, son 27 of Semein, son of Josech, son of Joda, •son of Joanan, son of Rhesa, son of 28 Zerubbabel, son of Shealtiel, son of Neri, •son of Melchi, son of Addi, son of 29 Cosam, son of Elmadam, son of Er, •son of Joshua, son of Eliezer, son of Jorim, 30 son of Matthat, son of Levi, •son of Symeon, son of Judah, son of Joseph, son
 31 of Jonam, son of Eliakim, •son of Melea, son of Menna, son of Mattatha, son 32 of Nathan, son of David, •son of Jesse, son of Obed, son of Boaz, son of Sala, 33 son of Nahshon, •son of Amminadab, son of Admin, son of Arni, son of Hezron, 34 son of Perez, son of Judah, •son of Jacob, son of Isaac, son of Abraham, son 35 of Terah, son of Nahor, •son of Serug, son of Reu, son of Peleg, son of Eber, 36 son of Shelah, •son of Cainan, son of Arphaxad, son of Shem, son of Noah, 37 son of Lamech, •son of Methuselah, son of Enoch, son of Jared, son of Mahalaleel, 38 son of Cainan, •son of Enos, son of Seth, son of Adam, son of God.

Temptation in the wilderness

1 4 Filled with the Holy Spirit, Jesus left the Jordan and was led by the Spirit
 2 through the wilderness, •being tempted there by the devil for forty days.
 3 During that time he ate nothing and at the end he was hungry. •Then the devil
 4 said to him, 'If you are the Son of God, tell this stone to turn into a loaf'. •But Jesus replied, 'Scripture says: Man does not live on bread alone'.<sup>a</sup>
 5 Then leading him to a height, the devil showed him in a moment of time all 6 the kingdoms of the world •and said to him, 'I will give you all this power and the glory of these kingdoms, for it has been committed to me and I give it to 7 anyone I choose. •Worship me, then, and it shall all be yours.' •But Jesus
 8 answered him, 'Scripture says:

*You must worship the Lord your God,
 and serve him alone*'.<sup>b</sup>

9 Then he led him to Jerusalem and made him stand on the parapet of the Temple. 'If you are the Son of God,' he said to him 'throw yourself down from 10 here, •for scripture says:

He will put his angels in charge of you to guard you,

and again:

They will hold you up on their hands in case you hurt your foot against a stone.<sup>c</sup>

11 But Jesus answered him, 'It has been said:

You must not put the Lord your God to the test'.<sup>d</sup>

12 Having exhausted all these ways of tempting him, the devil left him, to return 13 at the appointed time.

THE GALILEAN MINISTRY

Jesus begins to preach

14 Jesus, with the power of the Spirit in him, returned to Galilee; and his 15 reputation spread throughout the countryside. •He taught in their synagogues and everyone praised him.

3 a. By Roman dating, the 15th year of Tiberius Caesar's reign was August 28 A.D. to August 29 A.D.; by the Syrian method, it was Sept.-Oct. 27 A.D. to Sept.-Oct. 28 A.D. At that time, Jesus was between 33 and 36 years old. The mistake in calculating 'the Christian era' results from taking Lk 3:23 as an exact statement. b. Procurator of Judaea 26-36 A.D. c. Herod Antipas, tetrarch of Galilee and Peraea 4 B.C. to 39 A.D. d. Tetrarch from 4 B.C. to 34 A.D. e. Caiaphas was high priest from 18 to 36 A.D. His father-in-law, Annas, is associated with him here and elsewhere; he had been high priest earlier and presumably still had great influence. f. Is 40:3-5

4 a. Dt 8:3 b. Dt 6:13 c. Ps 91:11-12 d. Dt 6:16

Jesus at Nazareth

He came to Nazara, where he had been brought up, and went into the 16 synagogue on the sabbath day as he usually did. He stood up to read,<sup>6</sup> and they 17 handed him the scroll of the prophet Isaiah. Unrolling the scroll he found the place where it is written:

The spirit of the Lord has been given to me, 18
for he has anointed me.

He has sent me to bring the good news to the poor,
to proclaim liberty to captives
and to the blind new sight,
to set the downtrodden free,
to proclaim the Lord's year of favour.' 19

He then rolled up the scroll, gave it back to the assistant and sat down. And all 20 eyes in the synagogue were fixed on him. •Then he began to speak to them, 'This 21 text is being fulfilled today even as you listen'. •And he won the approval of all, 22 and they were astonished by the gracious words that came from his lips.

They said, 'This is Joseph's son, surely?' •But he replied, 'No doubt you will 23 quote me the saying, "Physician, heal yourself" and tell me, "We have heard all that happened in Capernaum, do the same here in your own countryside" '. 24
And he went on, 'I tell you solemnly, no prophet is ever accepted in his own country.

'There were many widows in Israel, I can assure you, in Elijah's day, when 25 heaven remained shut for three years and six months and a great famine raged throughout the land, •but Elijah was not sent to any one of these: he was sent 26 to a widow at Zarephath, a Sidonian town.' •And in the prophet Elisha's time 27 there were many lepers in Israel, but none of these was cured, except the Syrian, Naaman.'

When they heard this everyone in the synagogue was enraged. •They sprang 28 to their feet and hustled him out of the town; and they took him up to the brow 29 of the hill their town was built on, intending to throw him down the cliff, •but 30 he slipped through the crowd and walked away.

Jesus teaches in Capernaum and cures a demoniac

He went down to Capernaum, a town in Galilee, and taught them on the 31 sabbath. •And his teaching made a deep impression on them because he spoke 32 with authority.

In the synagogue there was a man who was possessed by the spirit of an 33 unclean devil, and it shouted at the top of its voice, •'Ha! What do you want 34 with us, Jesus of Nazareth? Have you come to destroy us? I know who you are:
the Holy One of God.' •But Jesus said sharply, 'Be quiet! Come out of him!' 35
And the devil, throwing the man down in front of everyone, went out of him without hurting him at all. •Astonishment seized them and they were all saying 36 to one another, 'What teaching! He gives orders to unclean spirits with authority and power and they come out.' •And reports of him went all through the 37 surrounding countryside.

Cure of Simon's mother-in-law

Leaving the synagogue he went to Simon's house. Now Simon's mother-in-law 38 was suffering from a high fever and they asked him to do something for her.
Leaning over her he rebuked the fever and it left her. And she immediately got 39 up and began to wait on them.

A number of cures

At sunset all those who had friends suffering from diseases of one kind or 40 another brought them to him, and laying his hands on each he cured them. •Devils 41 too came out of many people, howling, 'You are the Son of God'. But he rebuked them and would not allow them to speak because they knew that he was the Christ.

Jesus quietly leaves Capernaum and travels through Judaea

- 42 When daylight came he left the house and made his way to a lonely place. The crowds went to look for him, and when they had caught up with him they 43 wanted to prevent him leaving them, •but he answered, 'I must proclaim the Good News of the kingdom of God to the other towns too, because that is what 44 I was sent to do'. •And he continued his preaching in the synagogues of Judaea.

The first four disciples are called

- 1 5 Now he was standing one day by the Lake of Gennesaret, with the crowd
2 pressing round him listening to the word of God, •when he caught sight of two boats close to the bank. The fishermen had gone out of them and were washing 3 their nets. •He got into one of the boats—it was Simon's—and asked him to put out a little from the shore. Then he sat down and taught the crowds from the boat.
4 When he had finished speaking he said to Simon, 'Put out into deep water
5 and pay out your nets for a catch'. •'Master,' Simon replied 'we worked hard all 6 night long and caught nothing, but if you say so, I will pay out the nets.' •And when they had done this they netted such a huge number of fish that their nets 7 began to tear, •so they signalled to their companions in the other boat to come and help them; when these came, they filled the two boats to sinking point.
8 When Simon Peter saw this he fell at the knees of Jesus saying, 'Leave me, 9 Lord; I am a sinful man'. •For he and all his companions were completely 10 overcome by the catch they had made; •so also were James and John, sons of Zebedee, who were Simon's partners. But Jesus said to Simon, 'Do not be afraid; 11 from now on it is men you will catch'. •Then, bringing their boats back to land, they left everything and followed him.

Cure of a leper

- 12 Now Jesus was in one of the towns when a man appeared, covered with leprosy. Seeing Jesus he fell on his face and implored him. 'Sir,' he said 'if you 13 want to, you can cure me.' •Jesus stretched out his hand, touched him and said, 14 'Of course I want to! Be cured!' And the leprosy left him at once. •He ordered him to tell no one, 'But go and show yourself to the priest and make the offering for your healing as Moses prescribed it, as evidence for them'.
15 •His reputation continued to grow, and large crowds would gather to hear him 16 and to have their sickness cured, •but he would always go off to some place where he could be alone and pray.

Cure of a paralytic

- 17 Now he was teaching one day, and among the audience there were Pharisees and doctors of the Law who had come from every village in Galilee, from Judaea and from Jerusalem. And the Power of the Lord was behind his works of 18 healing. •Then some men appeared, carrying on a bed a paralysed man whom 19 they were trying to bring in and lay down in front of him. •But as the crowd made it impossible to find a way of getting him in, they went up on to the flat roof and lowered him and his stretcher down through the tiles into the middle of 20 the gathering, in front of Jesus. •Seeing their faith he said, 'My friend, your sins 21 are forgiven you'. •The scribes and the Pharisees began to think this over. 'Who is 22 this man talking blasphemy? Who can forgive sins but God alone?' •But Jesus, aware of their thoughts, made them this reply, 'What are these thoughts you have 23 in your hearts? •Which of these is easier: to say, "Your sins are forgiven you"

4 e. Any adult man could be permitted by the president to read the scriptures. f. Is 61:1-2
g. 1K 17:9

or to say, "Get up and walk"? •But to prove to you that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins,'—he said to the paralysed man—'I order you: get up, and pick up your stretcher and go home.' •And immediately before their very eyes he got up, picked up what he had been lying on and went home praising God.

They were all astounded and praised God, and were filled with awe, saying, 'We have seen strange things today'.

The call of Levi

When he went out after this, he noticed a tax collector, Levi by name, sitting by the customs house, and said to him, 'Follow me'. •And leaving everything he got up and followed him.

Eating with sinners in Levi's house

In his honour Levi held a great reception in his house, and with them at table was a large gathering of tax collectors and others. •The Pharisees and their scribes complained to his disciples and said, 'Why do you eat and drink with tax collectors and sinners?' •Jesus said to them in reply, 'It is not those who are well who need the doctor, but the sick. •I have not come to call the virtuous, but sinners to repentance.'

Discussion on fasting

They then said to him, 'John's disciples are always fasting and saying prayers, and the disciples of the Pharisees too, but yours go on eating and drinking'. Jesus replied, 'Surely you cannot make the bridegroom's attendants fast while the bridegroom is still with them? •But the time will come, the time for the bridegroom to be taken away from them; that will be the time when they will fast.'

He also told them this parable, 'No one tears a piece from a new cloak to put it on an old cloak; if he does, not only will he have torn the new one, but the piece taken from the new will not match the old.

'And nobody puts new wine into old skins; if he does, the new wine will burst the skins and then run out, and the skins will be lost. •No; new wine must be put into fresh skins. •And nobody who has been drinking old wine wants new. "The old is good" he says.'

Picking corn on the sabbath

6 Now one sabbath he happened to be taking a walk through the cornfields, and his disciples were picking ears of corn, rubbing them in their hands and eating them. •Some of the Pharisees said, 'Why are you doing something that is forbidden on the sabbath day?' •Jesus answered them, 'So you have not read what David did when he and his followers were hungry—•how he went into the house of God, took the loaves of offering and ate them and gave them to his followers, loaves which only the priests are allowed to eat?' •And he said to them, 'The Son of Man is master of the sabbath'.

Cure of the man with a withered hand

Now on another sabbath he went into the synagogue and began to teach, and a man was there whose right hand was withered. •The scribes and the Pharisees were watching him to see if he would cure a man on the sabbath, hoping to find something to use against him. •But he knew their thoughts; and he said to the man with the withered hand, 'Stand up! Come out into the middle.' And he came out and stood there. •Then Jesus said to them, 'I put it to you: is it against the law on the sabbath to do good, or to do evil; to save life, or to destroy it?' •Then he looked round at them all and said to the man, 'Stretch out your hand'. He did so, and his hand was better. •But they were furious, and began to discuss the best way of dealing with Jesus.

The choice of the Twelve

12 Now it was about this time that he went out into the hills to pray; and he spent 13 the whole night in prayer to God. •When day came he summoned his disciples 14 and picked out twelve of them; he called them 'apostles': •Simon whom he called Peter, and his brother Andrew; James, John, Philip, Bartholomew, 15 Matthew, Thomas, James son of Alphaeus, Simon called the Zealot, •Judas son 16 of James," and Judas Iscariot who became a traitor.

The crowds follow Jesus

17 He then came down with them and stopped at a piece of level ground where there was a large gathering of his disciples with a great crowd of people from all parts of Judaea and from Jerusalem and from the coastal region of Tyre and Sidon 18 who had come to hear him and to be cured of their diseases. •People tormented 19 by unclean spirits were also cured, •and everyone in the crowd was trying to touch him because power came out of him that cured them all.

The inaugural discourse. The Beatitudes

20 Then fixing his eyes on his disciples he said:

'How happy are you who are poor: yours is the kingdom of God.

21 Happy you who are hungry now: you shall be satisfied.

Happy you who weep now: you shall laugh.

22 'Happy are you when people hate you, drive you out, abuse you, denounce 23 your name as criminal, on account of the Son of Man. •Rejoice when that day comes and dance for joy, for then your reward will be great in heaven. This was the way their ancestors treated the prophets.

The curses

24 'But alas for you who are rich: you are having your consolation now.

25 Alas for you who have your fill now: you shall go hungry.

Alas for you who laugh now: you shall mourn and weep.

26 'Alas for you when the world speaks well of you! This was the way their ancestors treated the false prophets.

Love of enemies

27 'But I say this to you who are listening: Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, •bless those who curse you, pray for those who treat you badly.
 28 To the man who slaps you on one cheek, present the other cheek too; to the man 29 who takes your cloak from you, do not refuse your tunic. •Give to everyone who 30 asks you, and do not ask for your property back from the man who robs you.
 31 Treat others as you would like them to treat you. •If you love those who love 32 you, what thanks can you expect? Even sinners love those who love them. •And if 33 you do good to those who do good to you, what thanks can you expect? For even 14 sinners do that much. •And if you lend to those from whom you hope to receive, what thanks can you expect? Even sinners lend to sinners to get back the same 35 amount. •Instead, love your enemies and do good, and lend without any hope of return. You will have a great reward, and you will be sons of the Most High, for he himself is kind to the ungrateful and the wicked.

Compassion and generosity

36 'Be compassionate as your Father is compassionate. •Do not judge, and you 37 will not be judged yourselves; do not condemn, and you will not be condemned 38 yourselves; grant pardon, and you will be pardoned. •Give, and there will be gifts for you: a full measure, pressed down, shaken together, and running over, will be poured into your lap; because the amount you measure-out is the amount you will be given back.'

6 a. Or possibly 'brother of James'.

Integrity

He also told a parable to them, 'Can one blind man guide another? Surely 39 both will fall into a pit? •The disciple is not superior to his teacher; the fully 40 trained disciple will always be like his teacher. •Why do you observe the splinter 41 in your brother's eye and never notice the plank in your own? •How can you say 42 to your brother, "Brother, let me take out the splinter that is in your eye", when you cannot see the plank in your own? Hypocrite! Take the plank out of your own eye first, and then you will see clearly enough to take out the splinter that is in your brother's eye.

'There is no sound tree that produces rotten fruit, nor again a rotten tree that 43 produces sound fruit. •For every tree can be told by its own fruit: people do not 44 pick figs from thorns, nor gather grapes from brambles. •A good man draws what 45 is good from the store of goodness in his heart; a bad man draws what is bad from the store of badness. For a man's words flow out of what fills his heart.

The true disciple

'Why do you call me, "Lord, Lord" and not do what I say? 46
'Everyone who comes to me and listens to my words and acts on them—I will 47 show you what he is like. •He is like the man who when he built his house dug, 48 and dug deep, and laid the foundations on rock; when the river was in flood it bore down on that house but could not shake it, it was so well built. •But the one 49 who listens and does nothing is like the man who built his house on soil, with no foundations; as soon as the river bore down on it, it collapsed; and what a ruin that house became!'

Cure of the centurion's servant

7 When he had come to the end of all he wanted the people to hear, he went into 1 Capernaum. •A centurion there had a servant, a favourite of his, who was 2 sick and near death. •Having heard about Jesus he sent some Jewish elders 3 to him to ask him to come and heal his servant. •When they came to Jesus they 4 pleaded earnestly with him. 'He deserves this of you' they said •'because he is 5 friendly towards our people; in fact, he is the one who built the synagogue.'
So Jesus went with them, and was not very far from the house when the centurion 6 sent word to him by some friends: 'Sir,' he said 'do not put yourself to trouble;
because I am not worthy to have you under my roof; •and for this same reason 7
I did not presume to come to you myself; but give the word and let my servant be cured. •For I am under authority myself, and have soldiers under me; and I say 8 to one man: Go, and he goes; to another: Come here, and he comes; to my servant: Do this, and he does it.' •When Jesus heard these words he was 9 astonished at him and, turning round, said to the crowd following him, 'I tell you, not even in Israel have I found faith like this'. •And when the messengers 10 got back to the house they found the servant in perfect health.

The son of the widow of Nain restored to life

Now soon afterwards he went to a town called Nain, accompanied by his 11 disciples and a great number of people. •When he was near the gate of the town 12 it happened that a dead man was being carried out for burial, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow. And a considerable number of the townspeople were with her. •When the Lord<sup>a</sup> saw her he felt sorry for her. 'Do not cry' he 13 said. •Then he went up and put his hand on the bier and the bearers stood still, 14 and he said, 'Young man, I tell you to get up'. •And the dead man sat up and 15 began to talk, and Jesus gave him to his mother.<sup>b</sup> •Everyone was filled with awe 16 and praised God saying, 'A great prophet has appeared among us; God has visited his people'. •And this opinion of him spread throughout Judaea and all 17 over the countryside.

The Baptist's question. Jesus commends him

18 The disciples of John gave him all this news, and John, summoning two of his 19 disciples, •sent them to the Lord to ask, 'Are you the one who is to come, or must 20 we wait for someone else?' •When the men reached Jesus they said, 'John the Baptist has sent us to you, to ask, "Are you the one who is to come or have we 21 to wait for someone else?" ' •It was just then that he cured many people of diseases and afflictions and of evil spirits, and gave the gift of sight to many who 22 were blind. •Then he gave the messengers their answer, 'Go back and tell John what you have seen and heard: the blind see again, the lame walk, lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised to life, the Good News is pro-23 claimed to the poor •and happy is the man who does not lose faith in me'.

24 When John's messengers had gone he began to talk to the people about John,
 25 'What did you go out into the wilderness to see? A reed swaying in the breeze?
 No? Then what did you go out to see? A man dressed in fine clothes?
 Oh no, those who go in for fine clothes and live luxuriously are to be found at 26 court! •Then what did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, I tell you, and much 27 more than a prophet: •he is the one of whom scripture says:

*See, I am going to send my messenger before you;
 he will prepare the way before you.'*

28 'I tell you, of all the children born of women, there is no one greater than John;
 29 yet the least in the kingdom of God is greater than he is.' •All the people who heard him, and the tax collectors too, acknowledged God's plan by accepting 30 baptism from John; •but by refusing baptism from him the Pharisees and the lawyers had thwarted what God had in mind for them.

Jesus condemns his contemporaries

31 'What description, then, can I find for the men of this generation? What are 32 they like? •They are like children shouting to one another while they sit in the market place:

"We played the pipes for you,
 and you wouldn't dance;
 we sang dirges,
 and you wouldn't cry".

33 'For John the Baptist comes, not eating bread, not drinking wine, and you 34 say, "He is possessed". •The Son of Man comes, eating and drinking, and you say, "Look, a glutton and a drunkard, a friend of tax collectors and sinners".
 35 Yet Wisdom has been proved right by all her children.'

The woman who was a sinner

36 One of the Pharisees invited him to a meal. When he arrived at the Pharisee's 37 house and took his place at table, •a woman came in, who had a bad name in the town. She had heard he was dining with the Pharisee and had brought with her 38 an alabaster jar of ointment. •She waited behind him at his feet, weeping, and her tears fell on his feet, and she wiped them away with her hair; then she covered his feet with kisses and anointed them with the ointment.

39 When the Pharisee who had invited him saw this, he said to himself, 'If this man were a prophet, he would know who this woman is that is touching him and 40 what a bad name she has'. •Then Jesus took him up and said, 'Simon, I have 41 something to say to you'. 'Speak, Master' was the reply. •'There was once a creditor who had two men in his debt; one owed him five hundred denarii, the 42 other fifty. •They were unable to pay, so he pardoned them both. Which of them

7 a. For the first time in the gospel narrative Jesus is given the title hitherto reserved for God.
 b. 1 K 17:23 c. Mt 3:1

will love him more?' •The one who was pardoned more, I suppose' answered 43 Simon. Jesus said, 'You are right'.

Then he turned to the woman. 'Simon,' he said 'you see this woman? I came 44 into your house, and you poured no water over my feet, but she has poured out her tears over my feet and wiped them away with her hair. •You gave me no kiss, but 45 she has been covering my feet with kisses ever since I came in. •You did not anoint my head with oil, but she has anointed my feet with ointment. •For this 47 reason I tell you that her sins, her many sins, must have been forgiven her, or she would not have shown such great love. It is the man who is forgiven little who shows little love.' •Then he said to her, 'Your sins are forgiven'. •Those who 48 were with him at table began to say to themselves, 'Who is this man, that he even 49 forgives sins?' •But he said to the woman, 'Your faith has saved you; go in peace'. 50

The women accompanying Jesus

8 Now after this he made his way through towns and villages preaching, and 1 proclaiming the Good News of the kingdom of God. With him went the Twelve, •as well as certain women who had been cured of evil spirits and ailments: 2
Mary surnamed the Magdalene, from whom seven demons had gone out, Joanna the wife of Herod's steward Chuza, Susanna, and several others who 3 provided for them out of their own resources.

Parable of the sower

With a large crowd gathering and people from every town finding their way 4 to him, he used this parable:

'A sower went out to sow his seed. As he sowed, some fell on the edge of the 5 path and was trampled on; and the birds of the air ate it up. •Some seed fell on 6 rock, and when it came up it withered away, having no moisture. •Some seed fell 7 amongst thorns and the thorns grew with it and choked it. •And some seed fell 8 into rich soil and grew and produced its crop a hundredfold.' Saying this he cried, 'Listen, anyone who has ears to hear!'

Why Jesus speaks in parables

His disciples asked him what this parable might mean, •and he said, 'The 9 mysteries of the kingdom of God are revealed to you; for the rest there are only 10 parables, so that they may see but not perceive, listen but not understand.<sup>a</sup>

The parable of the sower explained

'This, then, is what the parable means: the seed is the word of God. •Those 11 on the edge of the path are people who have heard it, and then the devil comes 12 and carries away the word from their hearts in case they should believe and be saved. •Those on the rock are people who, when they first hear it, welcome the 13 word with joy. But these have no root; they believe for a while, and in time of trial they give up. •As for the part that fell into thorns, this is people who have 14 heard, but as they go on their way they are choked by the worries and riches and pleasures of life and do not reach maturity. •As for the part in the rich soil, this 15 is people with a noble and generous heart who have heard the word and take it to themselves and yield a harvest through their perseverance.

Parable of the lamp

'No one lights a lamp to cover it with a bowl or to put it under a bed. No, he 16 puts it on a lamp-stand so that people may see the light when they come in.
For nothing is hidden but it will be made clear, nothing secret but it will be 17 known and brought to light. •So take care how you hear; for anyone who has 18 will be given more; from anyone who has not, even what he thinks he has will be taken away.'

The true kinsmen of Jesus

19 His mother and his brothers came looking for him, but they could not get to 20 him because of the crowd. •He was told, 'Your mother and brothers are standing 21 outside and want to see you'. •But he said in answer, 'My mother and my brothers are those who hear the word of God and put it into practice'.

The calming of the storm

22 One day, he got into a boat with his disciples and said to them, 'Let us cross 23 over to the other side of the lake'. So they put to sea, •and as they sailed he fell asleep. When a squall came down on the lake the boat started taking in water and 24 they found themselves in danger. •So they went to rouse him saying, 'Master!
Master! We are going down!' Then he woke up and rebuked the wind and the 25 rough water; and they subsided and it was calm again. •He said to them, 'Where is your faith?' They were awestruck and astonished and said to one another,
'Who can this be, that gives orders even to winds and waves and they obey him?'

The Gerasene demoniac

26 They came to land in the country of the Gerasenes,<sup>b</sup> which is opposite Galilee.
27 He was stepping ashore when a man from the town who was possessed by devils came towards him; for a long time the man had worn no clothes, nor did he live in a house, but in the tombs.

28 Catching sight of Jesus he gave a shout, fell at his feet and cried out at the top of his voice, 'What do you want with me, Jesus, son of the Most High God?
29 I implore you, do not torture me.'—For Jesus had been telling the unclean spirit to come out of the man. It was a devil that had seized on him a great many times, and then they used to secure him with chains and fetters to restrain him, but he would always break the fastenings, and the devil would drive him out into 30 the wilds. •'What is your name?' Jesus asked. 'Legion' he said—because 31 many devils had gone into him. •And these pleaded with him not to order them to depart into the Abyss.<sup>c</sup>

32 Now there was a large herd of pigs feeding there on the mountain, and the 33 devils pleaded with him to let them go into these. So he gave them leave. •The devils came out of the man and went into the pigs, and the herd charged down the cliff into the lake and were drowned.

34 When the swineherds saw what had happened they ran off and told their story 35 in the town and in the country round about; •and the people went out to see what had happened. When they came to Jesus they found the man from whom the devils had gone out sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed and in his full 36 senses; and they were afraid. •Those who had witnessed it told them how the 37 man who had been possessed came to be healed. •The entire population of the Gerasene territory was in a state of panic and asked Jesus to leave them. So he got into the boat and went back.

38 The man from whom the devils had gone out asked to be allowed to stay with 39 him, but he sent him away. •'Go back home,' he said 'and report all that God has done for you.' So the man went off and spread throughout the town all that Jesus had done for him.

Cure of the woman with a haemorrhage. Jairus' daughter raised to life

40 On his return Jesus was welcomed by the crowd, for they were all there waiting 41 for him. •And now there came a man named Jairus, who was an official of the synagogue. He fell at Jesus' feet and pleaded with him to come to his house, 42 because he had an only daughter about twelve years old, who was dying. And the crowds were almost stifling Jesus as he went.

8 a. Is 6:9 b. 'Gadarenes' in some versions. c. The underworld.

Now there was a woman suffering from a haemorrhage for twelve years, 43 whom no one had been able to cure. •She came up behind him and touched 44
the fringe of his cloak; and the haemorrhage stopped at that instant. •Jesus said, 45
'Who touched me?' When they all denied that they had, Peter and his companions said, 'Master, it is the crowds round you, pushing'. •But Jesus said, 'Somebody 46 touched me. I felt that power had gone out from me.' •Seeing herself discovered, the 47 woman came forward trembling, and falling at his feet explained in front of all the people why she had touched him and how she had been cured at that very moment.
'My daughter,' he said 'your faith has restored you to health; go in peace.' 48

While he was still speaking, someone arrived from the house of the synagogue 49 official to say, 'Your daughter has died. Do not trouble the Master any further.'
But Jesus had heard this, and he spoke to the man, 'Do not be afraid, only have 50 faith and she will be safe'. •When he came to the house he allowed no one to go 51 in with him except Peter and John and James, and the child's father and mother.
They were all weeping and mourning for her, but Jesus said, 'Stop crying; she is 52 not dead, but asleep'. •But they laughed at him, knowing she was dead. •But 53 taking her by the hand he called to her, 'Child, get up'. •And her spirit returned and 54 she got up at once. Then he told them to give her something to eat. •Her parents 55 were astonished, but he ordered them not to tell anyone what had happened. 56

The mission of the Twelve

9 He called the Twelve together and gave them power and authority over all 1 devils and to cure diseases, •and he sent them out to proclaim the kingdom of 2
God and to heal. •He said to them, 'Take nothing for the journey: neither staff, 3 nor haversack, nor bread, nor money; and let none of you take a spare tunic.
Whatever house you enter, stay there; and when you leave, let it be from there. 4
As for those who do not welcome you, when you leave their town shake the 5 dust from your feet as a sign to them.' •So they set out and went from village 6 to village proclaiming the Good News and healing everywhere.

Herod and Jesus

Meanwhile Herod the tetrarch had heard about all that was going on; and 7 he was puzzled, because some people were saying that John had risen from the dead, •others that Elijah had reappeared, still others that one of the ancient 8 prophets had come back to life. •But Herod said, 'John? I beheaded him. So who 9 is this I hear such reports about?' And he was anxious to see him.

The return of the apostles. Miracle of the loaves

On their return the apostles gave him an account of all they had done. Then 10 he took them with him and withdrew to a town called Bethsaida where they could be by themselves. •But the crowds got to know and they went after him. 11
He made them welcome and talked to them about the kingdom of God; and he cured those who were in need of healing.

It was late afternoon when the Twelve came to him and said, 'Send the 12 people away, and they can go to the villages and farms round about to find lodging and food; for we are in a lonely place here'. •He replied, 'Give them some- 13 thing to eat yourselves'. But they said, 'We have no more than five loaves and two fish, unless we are to go ourselves and buy food for all these people'. •For there 14 were about five thousand men. But he said to his disciples, 'Get them to sit down in parties of about fifty'. •They did so and made them all sit down. •Then he took 15 the five loaves and the two fish, raised his eyes to heaven, and said the blessing 16 over them; then he broke them and handed them to his disciples to distribute among the crowd. •They all ate as much as they wanted, and when the scraps 17 remaining were collected they filled twelve baskets.

Peter's profession of faith

Now one day when he was praying alone in the presence of his disciples he 18

- 19 put this question to them, 'Who do the crowds say I am?' •And they answered, 20 'John the Baptist; others Elijah; and others say one of the ancient prophets come back to life'. •'But you,' he said 'who do you say I am?' It was Peter who spoke 21 up. 'The Christ of God' he said. •But he gave them strict orders not to tell anyone anything about this.

First prophecy of the Passion

- 22 'The Son of Man' he said 'is destined to suffer grievously, to be rejected by the elders and chief priests and scribes and to be put to death, and to be raised up on the third day.'

The condition of following Christ

- 23 Then to all he said, 'If anyone wants to be a follower of mine, let him renounce 24 himself and take up his cross every day and follow me. •For anyone who wants to save his life will lose it; but anyone who loses his life for my sake, that man 25 will save it. •What gain, then, is it for a man to have won the whole world and to 26 have lost or ruined his very self? •For if anyone is ashamed of me and of my words, of him the Son of Man will be ashamed when he comes in his own glory and in the glory of the Father and the holy angels.

The kingdom will come soon

- 27 'I tell you truly, there are some standing here who will not taste death before they see the kingdom of God.'

The transfiguration

- 28 Now about eight days after this had been said, he took with him Peter and 29 John and James and went up the mountain to pray. •As he prayed, the aspect of 30 his face was changed and his clothing became brilliant as lightning. •Suddenly 31 there were two men there talking to him; they were Moses and Elijah •appearing in glory, and they were speaking of his passing which he was to accomplish in 32 Jerusalem. •Peter and his companions were heavy with sleep, but they kept awake 33 and saw his glory and the two men standing with him. •As these were leaving him, Peter said to Jesus, 'Master, it is wonderful for us to be here; so let us make 34 three tents, one for you, one for Moses and one for Elijah'.—He did not know 35 what he was saying. •As he spoke, a cloud came and covered them with shadow; 36 and when they went into the cloud the disciples were afraid. •And a voice came from the cloud saying, 'This is my Son, the Chosen One. Listen to him.' •And after the voice had spoken, Jesus was found alone. The disciples kept silence and, at that time, told no one what they had seen.

The epileptic demoniac

- 37 Now on the following day when they were coming down from the mountain 38 a large crowd came to meet him. •Suddenly a man in the crowd cried out. 'Master,' 39 he said 'I implore you to look at my son: he is my only child. •All at once a spirit will take hold of him, and give a sudden cry and throw the boy into convulsions with foaming at the mouth; it is slow to leave him, but when it does it leaves the 40 boy worn out. •I begged your disciples to cast it out, and they could not.'
41 'Faithless and perverse generation!' Jesus said in reply 'How much longer must I be 42 among you and put up with you? Bring your son here.' •The boy was still moving towards Jesus when the devil threw him to the ground in convulsions. But Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit and cured the boy and gave him back to his father, 43 and everyone was awestruck by the greatness of God.

Second prophecy of the Passion

- At a time when everyone was full of admiration for all he did, he said to 44 his disciples, •'For your part, you must have these words constantly in your mind: The Son of Man is going to be handed over into the power of men'.

 But they did not understand him when he said this; it was hidden from them 45 so that they should not see the meaning of it, and they were afraid to ask him about what he had just said.

Who is the greatest?

An argument started between them about which of them was the greatest. 46
 Jesus knew what thoughts were going through their minds, and he took a 47 little child and set him by his side and then said to them, 'Anyone who 48 welcomes this little child in my name welcomes me; and anyone who welcomes me welcomes the one who sent me. For the least among you all, that is the one who is great.'

On using the name of Jesus

John spoke up. 'Master,' he said 'we saw a man casting out devils in your 49 name, and because he is not with us we tried to stop him.' But Jesus said 50 to him, 'You must not stop him: anyone who is not against you is for you'.

THE JOURNEY TO JERUSALEM

A Samaritan village is inhospitable

Now as the time drew near for him to be taken up to heaven, he resolutely 51 took the road for Jerusalem and sent messengers ahead of him. These set out, 52 and they went into a Samaritan village to make preparations for him, but the 53 people would not receive him because he was making for Jerusalem.<sup>a</sup> Seeing 54 this, the disciples James and John said, 'Lord, do you want us to call down fire from heaven to burn them up?' But he turned and rebuked them, and they 55 went off to another village. 56

Hardships of the apostolic calling

As they travelled along they met a man on the road who said to him, 'I will 57 follow you wherever you go'. Jesus answered, 'Foxes have holes and the birds 58 of the air have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head'.

Another to whom he said, 'Follow me', replied, 'Let me go and bury my 59 father first'. But he answered, 'Leave the dead to bury their dead; your duty 60 is to go and spread the news of the kingdom of God'.

Another said, 'I will follow you, sir, but first let me go and say good-bye 61 to my people at home'. Jesus said to him, 'Once the hand is laid on the plough, 62 no one who looks back is fit for the kingdom of God'.

The mission of the seventy-two disciples

10 After this the Lord appointed seventy-two others and sent them out ahead 1 of him, in pairs, to all the towns and places he himself was to visit.
 He said to them, 'The harvest is rich but the labourers are few, so ask the Lord 2 of the harvest to send labourers to his harvest. Start off now, but remember, 3
 I am sending you out like lambs among wolves. Carry no purse, no haversack, 4 no sandals. Salute no one on the road. Whatever house you go into, let your 5 first words be, "Peace to this house!" And if a man of peace lives there, your 6 peace will go and rest on him; if not, it will come back to you. Stay in the same 7 house, taking what food and drink they have to offer, for the labourer deserves 8 his wages; do not move from house to house. Whenever you go into a town where 9 they make you welcome, eat what is set before you. Cure those in it who are 9 sick, and say, "The kingdom of God is very near to you". But whenever you enter 10 a town and they do not make you welcome, go out into its streets and say, "We 11 wipe off the very dust of your town that clings to our feet, and leave it with you.

- 12 Yet be sure of this: the kingdom of God is very near." •I tell you, on that day it will not go as hard with Sodom as with that town.
- 13 'Alas for you, Chorazin! Alas for you, Bethsaida! For if the miracles done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes. •And still, it will not go as hard with Tyre and Sidon at the
- 14 Judgement as with you. •And as for you, Capernaum, did you want to be exalted high as heaven? You shall be thrown down to hell.<sup>a</sup>
- 16 'Anyone who listens to you listens to me; anyone who rejects you rejects me, and those who reject me reject the one who sent me.'

True cause for the apostles to rejoice

- 17 The seventy-two came back rejoicing. 'Lord,' they said 'even the devils submit to us when we use your name.' •He said to them, 'I watched Satan fall like lightning from heaven. •Yes, I have given you power to tread underfoot serpents and scorpions and the whole strength of the enemy; nothing shall ever hurt you. •Yet do not rejoice that the spirits submit to you; rejoice rather that your names are written in heaven.'

The Good News revealed to the simple. The Father and the Son

- 21 It was then that, filled with joy by the Holy Spirit, he said, 'I bless you, Father, Lord of heaven and of earth, for hiding these things from the learned and the clever and revealing them to mere children. Yes, Father, for that is what
- 22 it pleased you to do. • Everything has been entrusted to me by my Father; and no one knows who the Son is except the Father, and who the Father is except the Son and those to whom the Son chooses to reveal him.'

The privilege of the disciples

- 23 Then turning to his disciples he spoke to them in private, 'Happy the eyes that see what you see, •for I tell you that many prophets and kings wanted to see what you see, and never saw it; to hear what you hear, and never heard it'.

The great commandment

- 25 There was a lawyer who, to disconcert him, stood up and said to him, 'Master, what must I do to inherit eternal life?' •He said to him, 'What is written in the
- 27 Law? What do you read there?' •He replied, 'You must love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, with all your strength, and with all your mind, and your neighbour as yourself'.<sup>b</sup> •'You have answered right,' said Jesus 'do this and life is yours.'

Parable of the good Samaritan

- 29 But the man was anxious to justify himself and said to Jesus, 'And who is my neighbour?' •Jesus replied, 'A man was once on his way down from Jerusalem to Jericho and fell into the hands of brigands; they took all he had, beat him
- 31 and then made off, leaving him half dead. •Now a priest happened to be travelling down the same road, but when he saw the man, he passed by on the other side.
- 32 In the same way a Levite who came to the place saw him, and passed by on the
- 33 other side. •But a Samaritan traveller who came upon him was moved with compassion when he saw him. •He went up and bandaged his wounds, pouring oil and wine on them. He then lifted him on to his own mount, carried him to the
- 35 inn and looked after him. •Next day, he took out two denarii and handed them to the innkeeper. "Look after him," he said "and on my way back I will make
- 36 good any extra expense you have." •Which of these three, do you think, proved himself a neighbour to the man who fell into the brigands' hands?' •'The one who took pity on him' he replied. Jesus said to him, 'Go, and do the same yourself'.

9 a. The hatred of Samaritans for Jews would show itself particularly towards those who were on pilgrimage to Jerusalem.

10 a. See Is 14:13,15. b. Dt 6:5 and Lv 19:18

Martha and Mary

In the course of their journey he came to a village, and a woman named Martha welcomed him into her house. She had a sister called Mary, who sat down at the Lord's feet and listened to him speaking. Now Martha who was distracted with all the serving said, 'Lord, do you not care that my sister is leaving me to do the serving all by myself? Please tell her to help me.' But the Lord answered: 'Martha, Martha,' he said 'you worry and fret about so many things, and yet few are needed, indeed only one. It is Mary who has chosen the better part; it is not to be taken from her.'

The Lord's prayer

1 Now once he was in a certain place praying, and when he had finished one of his disciples said, 'Lord, teach us to pray, just as John taught his disciples'. He said to them, 'Say this when you pray:

"Father, may your name be held holy,
your kingdom come;
give us each day our daily bread,
and forgive us our sins,
for we ourselves forgive each one who is in debt to us.
And do not put us to the test."

The importunate friend

He also said to them, 'Suppose one of you has a friend and goes to him in the middle of the night to say, "My friend, lend me three loaves, because a friend of mine on his travels has just arrived at my house and I have nothing to offer him"; and the man answers from inside the house, "Do not bother me. The door is bolted now, and my children and I are in bed; I cannot get up to give it you." I tell you, if the man does not get up and give it him for friendship's sake, persistence will be enough to make him get up and give his friend all he wants.

Effective prayer

'So I say to you: Ask, and it will be given to you; search, and you will find; knock, and the door will be opened to you. For the one who asks always receives; the one who searches always finds; the one who knocks will always have the door opened to him. What father among you would hand his son a stone when he asked for bread? Or hand him a snake instead of a fish? Or hand him a scorpion if he asked for an egg? If you then, who are evil, know how to give your children what is good, how much more will the heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask him!'

Jesus and Beelzebul

He was casting out a devil and it was dumb; but when the devil had gone out the dumb man spoke, and the people were amazed. But some of them said, 'It is through Beelzebul, the prince of devils, that he casts out devils'. Others asked him, as a test, for a sign from heaven; but, knowing what they were thinking, he said to them, 'Every kingdom divided against itself is heading for ruin, and a household divided against itself collapses. So too with Satan: if he is divided against himself, how can his kingdom stand?—Since you assert that it is through Beelzebul that I cast out devils. Now if it is through Beelzebul that I cast out devils, through whom do your own experts cast them out? Let them be your judges, then. But if it is through the finger of God that I cast out devils, then know that the kingdom of God has overtaken you. So long as a strong man fully armed guards his own palace, his goods are undisturbed; but when someone stronger than he is attacks and defeats him, the stronger man takes away all the weapons he relied on and shares out his spoil.

No compromise

- 23 'He who is not with me is against me; and he who does not gather with me scatters.

Return of the unclean spirit

- 24 'When an unclean spirit goes out of a man it wanders through waterless country looking for a place to rest, and not finding one it says, "I will go back to the home I came from". •But on arrival, finding it swept and tidied, •it then goes off and brings seven other spirits more wicked than itself, and they go in and set up house there, so that the man ends up by being worse than he was before.'

The truly happy

- 25 Now as he was speaking, a woman in the crowd raised her voice and said, 26 'Happy the womb that bore you and the breasts you sucked!' •But he replied, 'Still happier those who hear the word of God and keep it!'

The sign of Jonah

- 29 The crowds got even bigger and he addressed them, 'This is a wicked generation; it is asking for a sign. The only sign it will be given is the sign of Jonah.
30 For just as Jonah became a sign to the Ninevites, so will the Son of Man be to this 31 generation. •On Judgement day the Queen of the South will rise up with the men of this generation and condemn them, because she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and there is something greater than 32 Solomon here. •On Judgement day the men of Nineveh will stand up with this generation and condemn it, because when Jonah preached they repented; and there is something greater than Jonah here.

The parable of the lamp repeated

- 33 'No one lights a lamp and puts it in some hidden place or under a tub, but 34 on the lamp-stand so that people may see the light when they come in. •The lamp of your body is your eye. When your eye is sound, your whole body too is filled with 35 light; but when it is diseased your body too will be all darkness. •See to it then that 36 the light inside you is not darkness. •If, therefore, your whole body is filled with light, and no trace of darkness, it will be light entirely, as when the lamp shines on you with its rays.'

The Pharisees and the lawyers attacked

- 37 He had just finished speaking when a Pharisee invited him to dine at his 38 house. He went in and sat down at the table. •The Pharisee saw this and was 39 surprised that he had not first washed before the meal. •But the Lord said to him, 'Oh, you Pharisees! You clean the outside of cup and plate, while inside yourselves 40 you are filled with extortion and wickedness. •Fools! Did not he who made the 41 outside make the inside too? •Instead, give alms from what you have and then 42 indeed everything will be clean for you. •But alas for you Pharisees! You who pay your tithe of mint and rue and all sorts of garden herbs and overlook justice and the love of God! These you should have practised, without leaving the others 43 undone. •Alas for you Pharisees who like taking the seats of honour in the 44 synagogues and being greeted obsequiously in the market squares! •Alas for you, because you are like the unmarked tombs that men walk on without knowing it!'
45 A lawyer then spoke up. 'Master,' he said 'when you speak like this you 46 insult us too.' •'Alas for you lawyers also,' he replied 'because you load on men burdens that are unendurable, burdens that you yourselves do not move a finger to lift.'

'Alas for you who build the tombs of the prophets, the men your ancestors 47 killed! •In this way you both witness what your ancestors did and approve it; they 48 did the killing, you do the building.

'And that is why the Wisdom of God said, "I will send them prophets and 49 apostles; some they will slaughter and persecute, •so that this generation will have 50 to answer for every prophet's blood that has been shed since the foundation of the world, •from the blood of Abel to the blood of Zechariah, who was 51 murdered between the altar and the sanctuary". Yes, I tell you, this generation will have to answer for it all.

'Alas for you lawyers who have taken away the key of knowledge! You have 52 not gone in yourselves, and have prevented others going in who wanted to.'

When he left the house, the scribes and the Pharisees began a furious attack 53 on him and tried to force answers from him on innumerable questions, •setting 54 traps to catch him out in something he might say.

Open and fearless speech

12 Meanwhile the people had gathered in their thousands so that they were 1 treading on one another. And he began to speak, first of all to his disciples.
'Be on your guard against the yeast of the Pharisees—that is, their hypocrisy. 2
Everything that is now covered will be uncovered, and everything now hidden 2 will be made clear. •For this reason, whatever you have said in the dark will 3 be heard in the daylight, and what you have whispered in hidden places will 3 be proclaimed on the housetops.

'To you my friends I say: Do not be afraid of those who kill the body and 4 after that can do no more. •I will tell you whom to fear: fear him who, after he 5 has killed, has the power to cast into hell. Yes, I tell you, fear him. •Can you 6 not buy five sparrows for two pennies? And yet not one is forgotten in God's 6 sight. •Why, every hair on your head has been counted. There is no need to be 7 afraid: you are worth more than hundreds of sparrows.

'I tell you, if anyone openly declares himself for me in the presence of men, the 8
Son of Man will declare himself for him in the presence of God's angels. •But 9 the man who disowns me in the presence of men will be disowned in the 9 presence of God's angels.

'Everyone who says a word against the Son of Man will be forgiven, but he 10 who blasphemes against the Holy Spirit will not be forgiven.

'When they take you before synagogues and magistrates and authorities, 11 do not worry about how to defend yourselves or what to say, •because when the 12 time comes, the Holy Spirit will teach you what you must say.'

On hoarding possessions

A man in the crowd said to him, 'Master, tell my brother to give me a share 13 of our inheritance'. •'My friend,' he replied 'who appointed me your judge, or 14 the arbitrator of your claims?' •Then he said to them, 'Watch, and be on your 15 guard against avarice of any kind, for a man's life is not made secure by what he owns, even when he has more than he needs'.

Then he told them a parable: 'There was once a rich man who, having had 16 a good harvest from his land, •thought to himself, "What am I to do? I have 17 not enough room to store my crops." •Then he said, "This is what I will do: 18
I will pull down my barns and build bigger ones, and store all my grain and my 18 goods in them, •and I will say to my soul: My soul, you have plenty of good 19 things laid by for many years to come; take things easy, eat, drink, have a good 19 time". •But God said to him, "Fool! This very night the demand will be made 20 for your soul; and this hoard of yours, whose will it be then?" •So it is when 21 a man stores up treasure for himself in place of making himself rich in the sight of God.'

Trust in Providence

22 Then he said to his disciples, 'That is why I am telling you not to worry 23 about your life and what you are to eat, nor about your body and how you are 24 to clothe it. •For life means more than food, and the body more than clothing.
 25 Think of the ravens. They do not sow or reap; they have no storehouses and 26 no barns; yet God feeds them. And how much more are you worth than the 27 birds! •Can any of you, for all his worrying, add a single cubit to his span of 28 life? •If the smallest things, therefore, are outside your control, why worry 29 about the rest? •Think of the flowers; they never have to spin or weave; yet, 30 I assure you, not even Solomon in all his regalia was robed like one of these.
 31 Now if that is how God clothes the grass in the field which is there today and 32 thrown into the furnace tomorrow, how much more will he look after you, you 29 men of little faith! •But you, you must not set your hearts on things to eat and 30 things to drink; nor must you worry. •It is the pagans of this world who set their 31 hearts on all these things. Your Father well knows you need them. •No; set your hearts on his kingdom, and these other things will be given you as well.
 32 'There is no need to be afraid, little flock, for it has pleased your Father to give you the kingdom.

On almsgiving

33 'Sell your possessions and give alms. Get yourselves purses that do not wear out, treasure that will not fail you, in heaven where no thief can reach it and 34 no moth destroy it. •For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

On being ready for the Master's return

35 'See that you are dressed for action and have your lamps lit. •Be like men 36 waiting for their master to return from the wedding feast, ready to open the 37 door as soon as he comes and knocks. •Happy those servants whom the master finds awake when he comes. I tell you solemnly, he will put on an apron, sit 38 them down at table and wait on them. •It may be in the second watch he comes, 39 or in the third, but happy those servants if he finds them ready. •You may be quite sure of this, that if the householder had known at what hour the burglar would come, he would not have let anyone break through the wall of his house.
 40 You too must stand ready, because the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect.'

41 Peter said, 'Lord, do you mean this parable for us, or for everyone?' •The 42 Lord replied, 'What sort of steward,<sup>a</sup> then, is faithful and wise enough for the master to place him over his household to give them their allowance of food at 43 the proper time? •Happy that servant if his master's arrival finds him at this 44 employment. •I tell you truly, he will place him over everything he owns. •But 45 as for the servant who says to himself, "My master is taking his time coming", and sets about beating the menservants and the maids, and eating and drinking 46 and getting drunk, •his master will come on a day he does not expect and at an hour he does not know. The master will cut him off and send him to the same fate as the unfaithful.

47 'The servant who knows what his master wants, but has not even started to 48 carry out those wishes, will receive very many strokes of the lash. •The one who did not know, but deserves to be beaten for what he has done, will receive fewer strokes. When a man has had a great deal given him, a great deal will be demanded of him; when a man has had a great deal given him on trust, even more will be expected of him.

Jesus and his Passion

49 'I have come to bring fire to the earth, and how I wish it were blazing 12 a. i.e. a servant or employee with authority to act as his master's deputy in his absence.

already! •There is a baptism I must still receive, and how great is my distress till 50 it is over!

Jesus the cause of dissension

'Do you suppose that I am here to bring peace on earth? No, I tell you, but 51 rather division. •For from now on a household of five will be divided: three 52 against two and two against three; •the father divided against the son, son 53 against father, mother against daughter, daughter against mother, mother-in-law against daughter-in-law, daughter-in-law against mother-in-law.'

On reading the signs of the times

He said again to the crowds, 'When you see a cloud looming up in the west 54 you say at once that rain is coming, and so it does. •And when the wind is from 55 the south you say it will be hot, and it is. •Hypocrites! You know how to 56 interpret the face of the earth and the sky. How is it you do not know how to interpret these times?

'Why not judge for yourselves what is right? •For example: when you go 57 to court with your opponent, try to settle with him on the way, or he may drag 58 you before the judge and the judge hand you over to the bailiff and the bailiff have you thrown into prison. •I tell you, you will not get out till you have paid 59 the very last penny.'

Examples inviting repentance

13 It was just about this time that some people arrived and told him about 1
the Galileans whose blood Pilate had mingled with that of their sacrifices. •
At this he said to them, 'Do you suppose these Galileans who suffered like that 2 were greater sinners than any other Galileans? •They were not, I tell you. No; 3 but unless you repent you will all perish as they did. •Or those eighteen on whom 4 the tower at Siloam fell and killed them? Do you suppose that they were more guilty than all the other people living in Jerusalem? •They were not, I tell you. 5
No; but unless you repent you will all perish as they did.'

Parable of the barren fig tree

He told this parable: 'A man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he 6 came looking for fruit on it but found none. •He said to the man who looked 7 after the vineyard, "Look here, for three years now I have been coming to look for fruit on this fig tree and finding none. Cut it down: why should it be taking 8 up the ground?" •"Sir," the man replied "leave it one more year and give me 8 time to dig round it and manure it: it may bear fruit next year; if not, then 9 you can cut it down."'

Healing of the crippled woman on a sabbath

One sabbath day he was teaching in one of the synagogues, •and a woman 10 was there who for eighteen years had been possessed by a spirit that left her enfeebled; she was bent double and quite unable to stand upright. •When Jesus 12 saw her he called her over and said, 'Woman, you are rid of your infirmity' and he laid his hands on her. And at once she straightened up, and she glorified 13 God.

But the synagogue official was indignant because Jesus had healed on the 14 sabbath, and he addressed the people present. 'There are six days' he said 'when work is to be done. Come and be healed on one of those days and not on the sabbath.' •But the Lord answered him. 'Hypocrites!' he said 'Is there one of 15 you who does not untie his ox or his donkey from the manger on the sabbath and take it out for watering? •And this woman, a daughter of Abraham whom 16 Satan has held bound these eighteen years—was it not right to untie her bonds on the sabbath day?' •When he said this, all his adversaries were covered with 17 confusion, and all the people were overjoyed at all the wonders he worked.

Parable of the mustard seed

- 18 He went on to say, 'What is the kingdom of God like? What shall I compare 19 it with? -It is like a mustard seed which a man took and threw into his garden:
it grew and became a tree, and the birds of the air sheltered in its branches.'

Parable of the yeast

- 20 Another thing he said, 'What shall I compare the kingdom of God with?
21 It is like the yeast a woman took and mixed in with three measures of flour till it was leavened all through.'

The narrow door; rejection of the Jews, call of the gentiles

- 22 Through towns and villages he went teaching, making his way to Jerusalem.
23 Someone said to him, 'Sir, will there be only a few saved?' He said to them, 24 'Try your best to enter by the narrow door, because, I tell you, many will try to enter and will not succeed.
25 'Once the master of the house has got up and locked the door, you may find yourself knocking on the door, saying, "Lord, open to us" but he will answer, 26 "I do not know where you come from". •Then you will find yourself saying, 27 "We once ate and drank in your company; you taught in our streets" •but he will reply, "I do not know where you come from. Away from me, all you wicked men!"<sup>b</sup> 28 'Then there will be weeping and grinding of teeth, when you see Abraham and Isaac and Jacob and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, and yourselves 29 turned outside. •And men from east and west, from north and south, will come to take their places at the feast in the kingdom of God.
30 'Yes, there are those now last who will be first, and those now first who will be last.'

Herod the fox

- 31 Just at this time some Pharisees came up. 'Go away' they said. 'Leave this 32 place, because Herod means to kill you.' •He replied, 'You may go and give that fox this message: Learn that today and tomorrow I cast out devils and on 33 the third day<sup>c</sup> attain my end. •But for today and tomorrow and the next day
I must go on, since it would not be right for a prophet to die outside Jerusalem.'

Jerusalem admonished

- 34 'Jerusalem, Jerusalem, you that kill the prophets and stone those who are sent to you! How often have I longed to gather your children, as a hen gathers 35 her brood under her wings, and you refused! •So be it! Your house will be left to you. Yes, I promise you, you shall not see me till the time comes when you say:

Blessings on him who comes in the name of the Lord!<sup>d</sup>

Healing of a dropsical man on the sabbath

- 1 14 Now on a sabbath day he had gone for a meal to the house of one of the 2 leading Pharisees; and they watched him closely. •There in front of him was 3 a man with dropsy, •and Jesus addressed the lawyers and Pharisees. 'Is it
4 against the law' he asked 'to cure a man on the sabbath, or not?' •But they 5 remained silent, so he took the man and cured him and sent him away. •Then he said to them, 'Which of you here, if his son falls into a well, or his ox, will 6 not pull him out on a sabbath day without hesitation?' •And to this they could find no answer.

13 a. The author expects this incident, and that mentioned in v.4, to be known to his readers;
no other evidence of them remains. b. Ps 6:8 c. 'after a short time'. d. Ps 118:26

On choosing places at table

He then told the guests a parable, because he had noticed how they 7 picked the places of honour. He said this, "When someone invites you to a 8 wedding feast, do not take your seat in the place of honour. A more distinguished 9 person than you may have been invited, and the person who invited you both 9 may come and say, "Give up your place to this man". And then, to your embarrassment, you would have to go and take the lowest place. "No; when you 10 are a guest, make your way to the lowest place and sit there, so that, when your host comes, he may say, "My friend, move up higher". In that way, everyone 11 with you at the table will see you honoured. "For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and the man who humbles himself will be exalted."

On choosing guests to be invited

Then he said to his host, "When you give a lunch or a dinner, do not ask 12 your friends, brothers, relations or rich neighbours, for fear they repay your courtesy by inviting you in return. "No; when you have a party, invite the poor, 13 the crippled, the lame, the blind; "that they cannot pay you back means that 14 you are fortunate, because repayment will be made to you when the virtuous rise again."

The invited guests who made excuses

On hearing this, one of those gathered round the table said to him, "Happy 15 the man who will be at the feast in the kingdom of God!" "But he said to him, 16
 "There was a man who gave a great banquet, and he invited a large number of people. "When the time for the banquet came, he sent his servant to say to those 17 who had been invited, "Come along: everything is ready now". "But all alike started to make excuses. The first said, "I have bought a piece of land and must go and see it. Please accept my apologies." "Another said, "I have bought five 19 yoke of oxen and am on my way to try them out. Please accept my apologies."
 Yet another said, "I have just got married and so am unable to come". 20

"The servant returned and reported this to his master. Then the householder, 21 in a rage, said to his servant, "Go out quickly into the streets and alleys of the town and bring in here the poor, the crippled, the blind and the lame". "Sir," 22 said the servant "your orders have been carried out and there is still room."
 Then the master said to his servant, "Go to the open roads and the hedgerows 23 and force people to come in to make sure my house is full; "because, I tell you, 24 not one of those who were invited shall have a taste of my banquet".

Renouncing all that one holds dear

Great crowds accompanied him on his way and he turned and spoke to 25 them. "If any man comes to me without hating" his father, mother, wife, children, 26 brothers, sisters, yes and his own life too, he cannot be my disciple. "Anyone 27 who does not carry his cross and come after me cannot be my disciple."

Renouncing possessions

"And indeed, which of you here, intending to build a tower, would not first 28 sit down and work out the cost to see if he had enough to complete it? "Otherwise, 29 if he laid the foundation and then found himself unable to finish the work, the onlookers would all start making fun of him and saying, "Here is a man who 30 started to build and was unable to finish". "Or again, what king marching to 31 war against another king would not first sit down and consider whether with ten thousand men he could stand up to the other who advanced against him with twenty thousand? "If not, then while the other king was still a long way off, he 32 would send envoys to sue for peace. "So in the same way, none of you can be 33 my disciple unless he gives up all his possessions."

On loss of enthusiasm in a disciple

34 'Salt is a useful thing. But if the salt itself loses its taste, how can it be 35 seasoned again? •It is good for neither soil nor manure heap. People throw it out. Listen, anyone who has ears to hear!'

The three parables of God's mercy

1 15 The tax collectors and the sinners, meanwhile, were all seeking his company
2 to hear what he had to say, •and the Pharisees and the scribes complained.
3 'This man' they said 'welcomes sinners and eats with them.' •So he spoke this parable to them:

The lost sheep

4 'What man among you with a hundred sheep, losing one, would not leave the ninety-nine in the wilderness and go after the missing one till he found it?
5 And when he found it, would he not joyfully take it on his shoulders •and then,
6 when he got home, call together his friends and neighbours? "Rejoice with me," 7 he would say "I have found my sheep that was lost." •In the same way, I tell you, there will be more rejoicing in heaven over one repentant sinner than over ninety-nine virtuous men who have no need of repentance.

The lost drachma

8 'Or again, what woman with ten drachmas would not, if she lost one, light 9 a lamp and sweep out the house and search thoroughly till she found it? •And then, when she had found it, call together her friends and neighbours? "Rejoice 10 with me," she would say "I have found the drachma I lost." •In the same way,
I tell you, there is rejoicing among the angels of God over one repentant sinner.'

The lost son (the 'prodigal') and the dutiful son

11 He also said, 'A man had two sons. •The younger said to his father, "Father, 12 let me have the share of the estate that would come to me". So the father divided 13 the property between them. •A few days later, the younger son got together everything he had and left for a distant country where he squandered his money on a life of debauchery.

14 'When he had spent it all, that country experienced a severe famine, and now
15 he began to feel the pinch, •so he hired himself out to one of the local inhabitants 16 who put him on his farm to feed the pigs. •And he would willingly have filled his belly with the husks the pigs were eating but no one offered him anything.
17 Then he came to his senses and said, "How many of my father's paid servants
18 have more food than they want, and here am I dying of hunger! •I will leave this place and go to my father and say: Father, I have sinned against heaven and 19 against you; •I no longer deserve to be called your son; treat me as one of your 20 paid servants." •So he left the place and went back to his father.

'While he was still a long way off, his father saw him and was moved with pity.
21 He ran to the boy, clasped him in his arms and kissed him tenderly. •Then his son said, "Father, I have sinned against heaven and against you. I no longer 22 deserve to be called your son." •But the father said to his servants, "Quick!
Bring out the best robe and put it on him; put a ring on his finger and sandals 23 on his feet. •Bring the calf we have been fattening, and kill it; we are going to 24 have a feast, a celebration, •because this son of mine was dead and has come back to life; he was lost and is found." And they began to celebrate.

25 'Now the elder son was out in the fields, and on his way back, as he drew 26 near the house, he could hear music and dancing. •Calling one of the servants
27 he asked what it was all about. •"Your brother has come" replied the servant

14 a. Hebraism: an emphatic way of expressing a total detachment.

"and your father has killed the calf we had fattened because he has got him back safe and sound." •He was angry then and refused to go in, and his father came out to plead with him; •but he answered his father, "Look, all these years I have slaved for you and never once disobeyed your orders, yet you never offered me so much as a kid for me to celebrate with my friends. •But, for this son of yours, when he comes back after swallowing up your property—he and his women—you kill the calf we had been fattening."

'The father said, "My son, you are with me always and all I have is yours. But it was only right we should celebrate and rejoice, because your brother here was dead and has come to life; he was lost and is found.'"

The crafty steward

16 He also said to his disciples, 'There was a rich man and he had a steward who was denounced to him for being wasteful with his property. •He called for the man and said, "What is this I hear about you? Draw me up an account of your stewardship because you are not to be my steward any longer." •Then the steward said to himself, "Now that my master is taking the stewardship from me, what am I to do? Dig? I am not strong enough. Go begging? I should be too ashamed. •Ah, I know what I will do to make sure that when I am dismissed from office there will be some to welcome me into their homes."

'Then he called his master's debtors one by one. To the first he said, "How much do you owe my master?" •"One hundred measures of oil" was the reply. The steward said, "Here, take your bond; sit down straight away and write fifty". To another he said, "And you, sir, how much do you owe?" "One hundred measures of wheat" was the reply. The steward said, "Here, take your bond and write eighty".

'The master praised the dishonest steward for his astuteness.<sup>d</sup> For the children of this world are more astute in dealing with their own kind than are the children of light.

The right use of money

'And so I tell you this: use money, tainted as it is, to win you friends, and thus make sure that when it fails you, they will welcome you into the tents of eternity. •The man who can be trusted in little things can be trusted in great; the man who is dishonest in little things will be dishonest in great. •If then you cannot be trusted with money, that tainted thing, who will trust you with genuine riches? •And if you cannot be trusted with what is not yours, who will give you what is your very own?

'No servant can be the slave of two masters: he will either hate the first and love the second, or treat the first with respect and the second with scorn. You cannot be the slave both of God and of money.'

Against the Pharisees and their love of money

The Pharisees, who loved money, heard all this and laughed at him. •He said to them, 'You are the very ones who pass yourselves off as virtuous in people's sight, but God knows your hearts. For what is thought highly of by men is loathsome in the sight of God.

The kingdom stormed

'Up to the time of John it was the Law and the Prophets; since then, the kingdom of God has been preached, and by violence everyone is getting in.

The Law remains

'It is easier for heaven and earth to disappear than for one little stroke to drop out of the Law.

Marriage indissoluble

- 18 'Everyone who divorces his wife and marries another is guilty of adultery, and the man who marries a woman divorced by her husband commits adultery.'

The rich man and Lazarus

- 19 'There was a rich man who used to dress in purple and fine linen and feast 20 magnificently every day. •And at his gate there lay a poor man called Lazarus, 21 covered with sores, •who longed to fill himself with the scraps that fell from 22 the rich man's table. Dogs even came and licked his sores. •Now the poor man died and was carried away by the angels to the bosom of Abraham. The rich man also died and was buried.

- 23 'In his torment in Hades he looked up and saw Abraham a long way off 24 with Lazarus in his bosom. •So he cried out, "Father Abraham, pity me and send Lazarus to dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue, for I am 25 in agony in these flames". •"My son," Abraham replied "remember that during your life good things came your way, just as bad things came the way of Lazarus.
26 Now he is being comforted here while you are in agony. •But that is not all:
between us and you a great gulf has been fixed, to stop anyone, if he wanted to, crossing from our side to yours, and to stop any crossing from your side to ours."

- 27 'The rich man replied, "Father, I beg you then to send Lazarus to my father's 28 house, •since I have five brothers, to give them warning so that they do not 29 come to this place of torment too". •"They have Moses and the prophets," 30 said Abraham "let them listen to them." •"Ah no, father Abraham," said the 31 rich man "but if someone comes to them from the dead, they will repent." •Then Abraham said to him, "If they will not listen either to Moses or to the prophets, they will not be convinced even if someone should rise from the dead".'

On leading others astray

- 1 17 He said to his disciples, 'Obstacles are sure to come, but alas for the one 2 who provides them! •It would be better for him to be thrown into the sea with a millstone put round his neck than that he should lead astray a single 3 one of these little ones. •Watch yourselves!'

Brotherly correction

- 'If your brother does something wrong, reprove him and, if he is sorry, 4 forgive him. •And if he wrongs you seven times a day and seven times comes back to you and says, "I am sorry", you must forgive him.'

The power of faith

- 5 The apostles said to the Lord, 'Increase our faith'. •The Lord replied, 'Were 6 your faith the size of a mustard seed you could say to this mulberry tree, "Be uprooted and planted in the sea". and it would obey you.'

Humble service

- 7 'Which of you, with a servant ploughing or minding sheep, would say to him when he returned from the fields, "Come and have your meal immediately"?
8 Would he not be more likely to say, "Get my supper laid; make yourself tidy and wait on me while I eat and drink. You can eat and drink yourself afterwards"?
9 Must he be grateful to the servant for doing what he was told? •So with you:
10 when you have done all you have been told to do, say, "We are merely servants:
we have done no more than our duty".'

16 a. Not for his dishonesty.

The ten lepers

Now on the way to Jerusalem he travelled along the border between Samaria 11 and Galilee. "As he entered one of the villages, ten lepers came to meet him. 12
They stood some way off and called to him, 'Jesus! Master! Take pity on us.' 13
When he saw them he said, 'Go and show yourselves to the priests'. Now as they 14 were going away they were cleansed. Finding himself cured, one of them 15 turned back praising God at the top of his voice and threw himself at the feet 16 of Jesus and thanked him. The man was a Samaritan. This made Jesus say, 17 'Were not all ten made clean? The other nine, where are they? It seems that no 18 one has come back to give praise to God, except this foreigner.' And he said to 19 the man, 'Stand up and go on your way. Your faith has saved you.'

The coming of the kingdom of God

Asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of God was to come, he gave them 20 this answer, 'The coming of the kingdom of God does not admit of observation and there will be no one to say, "Look here! Look there!" For, you must know, 21 the kingdom of God is among you.'

The day of the Son of Man

He said to the disciples, 'A time will come when you will long to see one of 22 the days of the Son of Man and will not see it. They will say to you, "Look 23 there!" or, "Look here!" Make no move; do not set off in pursuit; for as the 24 lightning flashing from one part of heaven lights up the other, so will be the Son of Man when his day comes. But first he must suffer grievously and be rejected 25 by this generation.

'As it was in Noah's day, so will it also be in the days of the Son of Man. 26
People were eating and drinking, marrying wives and husbands, right up to the 27 day Noah went into the ark, and the Flood came and destroyed them all. It 28 will be the same as it was in Lot's day: people were eating and drinking, buying and selling, planting and building, but the day Lot left Sodom, God rained fire 29 and brimstone from heaven and it destroyed them all. It will be the same when 30 the day comes for the Son of Man to be revealed.

'When that day comes, anyone on the housetop, with his possessions in the 31 house, must not come down to collect them, nor must anyone in the fields turn back either. Remember Lot's wife. Anyone who tries to preserve his life will lose 32 it; and anyone who loses it will keep it safe. I tell you, on that night two will be 33 in one bed: one will be taken, the other left; two women will be grinding corn 34 together: one will be taken, the other left.' The disciples interrupted. 'Where, 35
Lord?' they asked. He said, 'Where the body is, there too will the vultures gather'. 37

The unscrupulous judge and the importunate widow

18 Then he told them a parable about the need to pray continually and never 1 lose heart. 'There was a judge in a certain town' he said, 'who had neither 2 fear of God nor respect for man. In the same town there was a widow who kept 3 on coming to him and saying, "I want justice from you against my enemy!"
For a long time he refused, but at last he said to himself, "Maybe I have neither 4 fear of God nor respect for man, but since she keeps pestering me I must give 5 this widow her just rights, or she will persist in coming and worry me to death".'

And the Lord said, 'You notice what the unjust judge has to say? Now will 6 not God see justice done to his chosen who cry to him day and night even when 7 he delays to help them? I promise you, he will see justice done to them, and 8 done speedily. But when the Son of Man comes, will he find any faith on earth?'

The Pharisee and the publican

He spoke the following parable to some people who prided themselves on being 9 virtuous and despised everyone else, 'Two men went up to the Temple to pray, 10

11 one a Pharisee, the other a tax collector. •The Pharisee stood there and said this prayer to himself, "I thank you, God, that I am not grasping, unjust, adulterous like the rest of mankind, and particularly that I am not like this tax collector here.
 12 I fast twice a week; I pay tithes on all I get." •The tax collector stood some 13 distance away, not daring even to raise his eyes to heaven; but he beat his breast and said, "God, be merciful to me, a sinner". •This man, I tell you, went home again at rights with God; the other did not. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the man who humbles himself will be exalted.'

Jesus and the children

15 People even brought little children to him, for him to touch them; but 16 when the disciples saw this they turned them away. •But Jesus called the children to him and said, 'Let the little children come to me, and do not stop them; for it
 17 is to such as these that the kingdom of God belongs. •I tell you solemnly, anyone who does not welcome the kingdom of God like a little child will never enter it.'

The rich aristocrat

18 A member of one of the leading families put this question to him, 'Good 19 Master, what have I to do to inherit eternal life?' •Jesus said to him, 'Why do you call me good? No one is good but God alone. •You know the commandments:
 20 You must not commit adultery; You must not kill; You must not steal; You must not bring false witness; Honour your father and mother.' •He replied, 'I have kept
 21 all these from my earliest days till now'. •And when Jesus heard this he said, 'There is still one thing you lack. Sell all that you own and distribute the money 22 to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; then come, follow me.' •But when he heard this he was filled with sadness, for he was very rich.

The danger of riches

24 Jesus looked at him and said, 'How hard it is for those who have riches to 25 make their way into the kingdom of God! •Yes, it is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God.'
 26 'In that case' said the listeners 'who can be saved?' •'Things that are impossible
 27 for men' he replied 'are possible for God.'

The reward of renunciation

28 Then Peter said, 'What about us? We left all we had to follow you.' •He said
 29 to them, 'I tell you solemnly, there is no one who has left house, wife, brothers, parents or children for the sake of the kingdom of God •who will not be given 30 repayment many times over in this present time and, in the world to come, eternal life'.

Third prophecy of the Passion

31 Then taking the Twelve aside he said to them, now we are going up to Jerusalem, and everything that is written by the prophets about the Son of Man 32 is to come true. •For he will be handed over to the pagans and will be mocked, maltreated and spat on, •and when they have scourged him they will put him
 33 to death; and on the third day he will rise again.' •But they could make nothing of this; what he said was quite obscure to them, they had no idea what it meant.

Entering Jericho: the blind man

35 Now as he drew near to Jericho there was a blind man sitting at the side of the 36 road begging. •When he heard the crowd going past he asked what it was all about, 37 and they told him that Jesus the Nazarene was passing by. •So he called out, 38

17 a. Making for the Jordan valley and Jericho; from there he goes up to Jerusalem.

'Jesus, Son of David, have pity on me'. •The people in front scolded him and told him to keep quiet, but he shouted all the louder, 'Son of David, have pity on me'. Jesus stopped and ordered them to bring the man to him, and when he came up, asked him, •'What do you want me to do for you?' 'Sir,' he replied 'let me see again.' •Jesus said to him, 'Receive your sight. Your faith has saved you.' And instantly his sight returned and he followed him praising God, and all the people who saw it gave praise to God for what had happened.

Zacchaeus

19 He entered Jericho and was going through the town •when a man whose name was Zacchaeus made his appearance; he was one of the senior tax collectors and a wealthy man. •He was anxious to see what kind of man Jesus was, but he was too short and could not see him for the crowd; •so he ran ahead and climbed a sycamore tree to catch a glimpse of Jesus who was to pass that way. •When Jesus reached the spot he looked up and spoke to him: 'Zacchaeus, come down. Hurry, because I must stay at your house today.' •And he hurried down and welcomed him joyfully. •They all complained when they saw what was happening. 'He has gone to stay at a sinner's house' they said. •But Zacchaeus stood his ground and said to the Lord, 'Look, sir, I am going to give half my property to the poor, and if I have cheated anybody I will pay him back four times the amount'.<sup>a</sup> •And Jesus said to him, 'Today salvation has come to this house, because this man too is a son of Abraham; <sup>b</sup> •for the Son of Man has come to seek out and save what was lost'.

Parable of the pounds

While the people were listening to this he went on to tell a parable, because he was near Jerusalem and they imagined that the kingdom of God was going to show itself then and there. •Accordingly he said, 'A man of noble birth went to a distant country to be appointed king and afterwards return. <sup>c</sup> •He summoned ten of his servants and gave them ten pounds. "Do business with these" he told them "until I get back." •But his compatriots detested him and sent a delegation to follow him with this message, "We do not want this man to be our king".

'Now on his return, having received his appointment as king, he sent for those servants to whom he had given the money, to find out what profit each had made. The first came in and said, "Sir, your one pound has brought in ten". •"Well done, my good servant!" he replied "Since you have proved yourself faithful in a very small thing, you shall have the government of ten cities." •Then came the second and said, "Sir, your one pound has made five". •To this one also he said, "And you shall be in charge of five cities". •Next came the other and said, "Sir, here is your pound. I put it away safely in a piece of linen •because I was afraid of you; for you are an exacting man: you pick up what you have not put down and reap what you have not sown." •"You wicked servant!" he said. "Out of your own mouth I condemn you. So you knew I was an exacting man, picking up what I have not put down and reaping what I have not sown? •Then why did you not put my money in the bank? On my return I could have drawn it out with interest." •And he said to those standing by, "Take the pound from him and give it to the man who has ten pounds". •And they said to him, "But, sir, he has ten pounds . . ." •"I tell you, to everyone who has will be given more; but from the man who has not, even what he has will be taken away.

"But as for my enemies who did not want me for their king, bring them here and execute them in my presence."

THE JERUSALEM MINISTRY

The Messiah enters Jerusalem

When he had said this he went on ahead, going up to Jerusalem. •Now when he was near Bethphage and Bethany, close by the Mount of Olives as it is called,

30 he sent two of the disciples, telling them, "Go off to the village opposite, and 31 as you enter it you will find a tethered colt that no one has yet ridden. Untie it 32 and bring it here. If anyone asks you, "Why are you untying it?" you are to say 33 this, "The Master needs it". The messengers went off and found everything just 34 as he had told them. As they were untying the colt, its owner said, "Why are 35 you untying that colt?" and they answered, "The Master needs it".
 36 So they took the colt to Jesus, and throwing their garments over its back they 37 helped Jesus on to it. As he moved off, people spread their cloaks in the road, 38 and now, as he was approaching the downward slope of the Mount of Olives, the whole group of disciples joyfully began to praise God at the top of their voices for all the miracles they had seen. They cried out:

*'Blessings on the King who comes,
 in the name of the Lord!
 Peace in heaven
 and glory in the highest heavens!'*

Jesus defends his disciples for acclaiming him

39 Some Pharisees in the crowd said to him, "Master, check your disciples", 40 but he answered, "I tell you, if these keep silence the stones will cry out".

Lament for Jerusalem

41 As he drew near and came in sight of the city he shed tears over it and said, 42 "If you in your turn had only understood on this day the message of peace!
 43 But, alas, it is hidden from your eyes! Yes, a time is coming when your enemies will raise fortifications all round you, when they will encircle you and hem you 44 in on every side; they will dash you and the children inside your walls to the ground; they will leave not one stone standing on another within you—and all because you did not recognise your opportunity when God offered it!"

The expulsion of the dealers from the Temple

45 Then he went into the Temple and began driving out those who were selling.
 46 "According to scripture," he said "my house will be a house of prayer.<sup>d</sup> But you have turned it into a robbers' den.<sup>e</sup>"

Jesus teaches in the Temple

47 He taught in the Temple every day. The chief priests and the scribes, with 48 the support of the leading citizens, tried to do away with him, but they did not see how they could carry this out because the people as a whole hung on his words.

The Jews question the authority of Jesus

1 20 Now one day while he was teaching the people in the Temple and 2 proclaiming the Good News, the chief priests and the scribes came up, together with the elders, and spoke to him. "Tell us" they said "what authority 3 have you for acting like this? Or who is it that gave you this authority?" "And 4 I" replied Jesus "will ask you a question. Tell me: John's baptism: did it come 5 from heaven, or from man?" And they argued it out this way among themselves, 6 "If we say from heaven, he will say, "Why did you refuse to believe him?"; and if we say from man, the people will all stone us, for they are convinced that John 7 was a prophet". So their reply was that they did not know where it came from.
 8 And Jesus said to them, "Nor will I tell you my authority for acting like this".

Parable of the wicked husbandmen

And he went on to tell the people this parable: 'A man planted a vineyard and leased it to tenants, and went abroad for a long while. •When the time came, he sent a servant to the tenants to get his share of the produce of the vineyard from them. But the tenants thrashed him, and sent him away empty-handed. •But he persevered and sent a second servant; they thrashed him too and treated him shamefully and sent him away empty-handed. •He still persevered and sent a third; they wounded this one also, and threw him out. Then the owner of the vineyard said, "What am I to do? I will send them my dear son. Perhaps they will respect him." •But when the tenants saw him they put their heads together. "This is the heir," they said "let us kill him so that the inheritance will be ours." •So they threw him out of the vineyard and killed him.

'Now what will the owner of the vineyard do to them? •He will come and make an end of these tenants and give the vineyard to others.' Hearing this they said, 'God forbid!' •But he looked hard at them and said, 'Then what does this text in the scriptures mean:

*It was the stone rejected by the builders
that became the keystone?<sup>a</sup>*

Anyone who falls on that stone will be dashed to pieces; anyone it falls on will be crushed.'

But for their fear of the people, the scribes and the chief priests would have liked to lay hands on him that very moment, because they realised that this parable was aimed at them.

On tribute to Caesar

So they waited their opportunity and sent agents to pose as men devoted to the Law, and to fasten on something he might say and so enable them to hand him over to the jurisdiction and authority of the governor. •They put to him this question, 'Master, we know that you say and teach what is right; you favour no one, but teach the way of God in all honesty. •Is it permissible for us to pay taxes to Caesar or not?' •But he was aware of their cunning and said, '•Show me a denarius. Whose head and name are on it?' 'Caesar's' they said. •'Well then,' he said to them 'give back to Caesar what belongs to Caesar—and to God what belongs to God.'

As a result, they were unable to find fault with anything he had to say in public; his answer took them by surprise and they were silenced.

Some Sadducees—those who say that there is no resurrection—approached him and they put this question to him, •'Master, we have it from Moses in writing, that if a man's married brother dies childless, the man must marry the widow to raise up children for his brother. •Well then, there were seven brothers. The first, having married a wife, died childless. •The second •and then the third married the widow. And the same with all seven, they died leaving no children. Finally the woman herself died. •Now, at the resurrection, to which of them will she be wife since she had been married to all seven?'

Jesus replied, 'The children of this world take wives and husbands, •but those who are judged worthy of a place in the other world and in the resurrection from the dead do not marry •because they can no longer die, for they are the same as the angels, and being children of the resurrection they are sons of God. •And Moses himself implies that the dead rise again, in the passage about the bush where he calls the Lord the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob.<sup>b</sup> •Now he is God, not of the dead, but of the living; for to him all men are in fact alive.'

<sup>40</sup> would not dare to ask him any more questions.

Christ, not only son but also Lord of David

<sup>41</sup> He then said to them, 'How can people maintain that the Christ is son of <sup>42</sup> David? •Why, David himself says in the Book of Psalms:

*The Lord said to my Lord:
 Sit at my right hand
 and I will make your enemies
 a footstool for you.<sup>d</sup>*

The scribes condemned by Jesus

<sup>45</sup> While all the people were listening he said to the disciples, •'Beware of the <sup>46</sup> scribes who like to walk about in long robes and love to be greeted obsequiously in the market squares, to take the front seats in the synagogues and the places <sup>47</sup> of honour at banquets, •who swallow the property of widows, while making a show of lengthy prayers. The more severe will be the sentence they receive.'

The widow's mite

<sup>2</sup> treasury; •then he happened to notice a poverty-stricken widow putting <sup>3</sup> in two small coins, •and he said, 'I tell you truly, this poor widow has put in <sup>4</sup> more than any of them; •for these have all contributed money they had over, but she from the little she had has put in all she had to live on'.

Discourse on the destruction of Jerusalem:<sup>a</sup> Introduction

<sup>5</sup> When some were talking about the Temple, remarking how it was adorned <sup>6</sup> with fine stonework and votive offerings, he said, •'All these things you are staring at now—the time will come when not a single stone will be left on another:
<sup>7</sup> everything will be destroyed'. •And they put to him this question: 'Master,' they said 'when will this happen, then, and what sign will there be that this is about to take place?'

The warning signs

<sup>8</sup> 'Take care not to be deceived,' he said 'because many will come using my name and saying, "I am he" and, "The time is near at hand". Refuse to join them.
<sup>9</sup> And when you hear of wars and revolutions, do not be frightened, for this is some-
<sup>10</sup> thing that must happen but the end is not so soon.' •Then he said to them, 'Nation <sup>11</sup> will fight against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. •There will be great earthquakes and plagues and famines here and there; there will be fearful sights and great signs from heaven.
<sup>12</sup> 'But before all this happens, men will seize you and persecute you; they will hand you over to the synagogues and to imprisonment, and bring you before <sup>13</sup> kings and governors because of my name•—and that will be your opportunity <sup>14</sup> to bear witness. •Keep this carefully in mind: you are not to prepare your defence, <sup>15</sup> because I myself shall give you an eloquence and a wisdom that none of your <sup>16</sup> opponents will be able to resist or contradict. •You will be betrayed even by parents and brothers, relations and friends; and some of you will be put to death.
<sup>17</sup> You will be hated by all men on account of my name, •but not a hair of your <sup>18</sup> head will be lost. •Your endurance will win you your lives.
<sup>19</sup>

 rection of the dead. d. Ps 110:1

<sup>21</sup> a. This passage on the End Time also includes some elements of a prophecy of the destruction of Jerusalem.

The siege

'When you see Jerusalem surrounded by armies, you must realise that she will soon be laid desolate. •Then those in Judaea must escape to the mountains, those inside the city must leave it, and those in country districts must not take refuge in it. •For this is the time of vengeance when all that scripture says<sup>b</sup> must be fulfilled. •Alas for those with child, or with babies at the breast, when those days come!

The disaster and the age of the pagans

'For great misery will descend on the land and wrath on this people. •They will fall by the edge of the sword and be led captive to every pagan country; and Jerusalem will be trampled down by the pagans until the age of the pagans is completely over.

Cosmic disasters and the coming of the Son of Man

'There will be signs in the sun and moon and stars; on earth nations in agony, bewildered by the clamour of the ocean and its waves; •men dying of fear as they await what menaces the world, for the powers of heaven will be shaken. •And then they will see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. When these things begin to take place, stand erect, hold your heads high, because your liberation<sup>c</sup> is near at hand.'

The time of this coming

And he told them a parable, 'Think of the fig tree and indeed every tree. •As soon as you see them bud, you know that summer is now near. •So with you when you see these things happening: know that the kingdom of God is near. I tell you solemnly, before this generation has passed away all will have taken place. •Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will never pass away.

Be on the alert

'Watch yourselves, or your hearts will be coarsened with debauchery and drunkenness and the cares of life, and that day will be sprung on you suddenly, like a trap. For it will come down on every living man on the face of the earth. Stay awake, praying at all times for the strength to survive all that is going to happen, and to stand with confidence before the Son of Man.'

The last days of Jesus

In the daytime he would be in the Temple teaching, but would spend the night on the hill called the Mount of Olives. •And from early morning the people would gather round him in the Temple to listen to him.

THE PASSION*The conspiracy against Jesus: Judas betrays him

22 The feast of Unleavened Bread, called the Passover, was now drawing near, and the chief priests and the scribes were looking for some way of doing away with him, because they mistrusted the people.

Then Satan entered into Judas, surnamed Iscariot, who was numbered among the Twelve. •He went to the chief priests and the officers of the guard<sup>a</sup> to discuss a scheme for handing Jesus over to them. •They were delighted and agreed to give him money. •He accepted, and looked for an opportunity to betray him to them without the people knowing.

Preparation for the Passover supper

7 The day of Unleavened Bread came round, the day on which the passover 8 had to be sacrificed, and he sent Peter and John, saying, 'Go and make the 9 preparations for us to eat the passover'. 'Where do you want us to prepare it?'
 10 they asked. 'Listen,' he said 'as you go into the city you will meet a man 11 carrying a pitcher of water. Follow him into the house he enters and tell the 12 owner of the house, "The Master has this to say to you: Where is the dining room 13 in which I can eat the passover with my disciples?" The man will show you a large 14 upper room furnished with couches. Make the preparations there.' They set off 15 and found everything as he had told them, and prepared the Passover.

The supper

14 When the hour came he took his place at table, and the apostles with him.
 15 And he said to them, 'I have longed to eat this passover with you before I suffer; 16 because, I tell you, I shall not eat it again until it is fulfilled in the kingdom of 17 God'.
 18 Then, taking a cup,<sup>a</sup> he gave thanks and said, 'Take this and share it among 19 you, because from now on, I tell you, I shall not drink wine until the king-20 dom of God comes'.

The institution of the Eucharist

19 Then he took some bread, and when he had given thanks, broke it and gave it
 20 to them, saying, 'This is my body which will be given for you; do this as a memorial 21 of me'. He did the same with the cup after supper, and said, 'This cup is the new 22 covenant in my blood which will be poured out for you.'

The treachery of Judas foretold

21 'And yet, here with me on the table is the hand of the man who betrays me.
 22 The Son of Man does indeed go to his fate even as it has been decreed, but alas for 23 that man by whom he is betrayed!' And they began to ask one another which of 24 them it could be who was to do this thing.

Who is the greatest?

24 A dispute arose also between them about which should be reckoned the 25 greatest, but he said to them, 'Among pagans it is the kings who lord it over them, 26 and those who have authority over them are given the title Benefactor. This must 27 not happen with you. No; the greatest among you must behave as if he were the 28 youngest, the leader as if he were the one who serves. For who is the greater:
 29 the one at table or the one who serves? The one at table, surely? Yet here am I 30 among you as one who serves!'

The reward promised to the apostles

28 'You are the men who have stood by me faithfully in my trials; and now 29 I confer a kingdom on you, just as my Father conferred one on me: you will 30 eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, and you will sit on thrones to judge the 31 twelve tribes of Israel.'

Peter's denial and repentance foretold

31 'Simon, Simon! Satan, you must know, has got his wish to sift you all like 32 wheat; but I have prayed for you, Simon, that your faith may not fail, and once 33 you have recovered, you in your turn must strengthen your brothers.' 'Lord,'

he answered 'I would be ready to go to prison with you, and to death.' •Jesus 34 replied, 'I tell you, Peter, by the time the cock crows today you will have denied three times that you know me'.

A time of crisis

He said to them, 'When I sent you out without purse or haversack or sandals, 35 were you short of anything?' 'No' they said. •He said to them, 'But now if you have 36 a purse, take it; if you have a haversack, do the same; if you have no sword, sell your cloak and buy one, •because I tell you these words of scripture have to 37 be fulfilled in me: He let himself be taken for a criminal.' Yes, what scripture says about me is even now reaching its fulfilment.' •'Lord,' they said 'there are two 38 swords here now.' He said to them, 'That is enough!'

The Mount of Olives

He then left to make his way as usual to the Mount of Olives, with the 39 disciples following. •When they reached the place he said to them, 'Pray not to be 40 put to the test.'

Then he withdrew from them, about a stone's throw away, and knelt down 41 and prayed. •'Father,' he said 'if you are willing, take this cup away from me. 42 Nevertheless, let your will be done, not mine.' •Then an angel appeared to 43 him, coming from heaven to give him strength. •In his anguish he prayed even 44 more earnestly, and his sweat fell to the ground like great drops of blood.

When he rose from prayer he went to the disciples and found them sleeping 45 for sheer grief. •'Why are you asleep?' he said to them. 'Get up and pray not to 46 be put to the test.'

The arrest

He was still speaking when a number of men appeared, and at the head of 47 them the man called Judas, one of the Twelve, who went up to Jesus to kiss him.
Jesus said, 'Judas, are you betraying the Son of Man with a kiss?' •His followers, 48 seeing what was happening, said, 'Lord, shall we use our swords?' •And one of 49 them struck out at the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. •But at 50 this Jesus spoke. 'Leave off!' he said 'That will do!' And touching the man's ear he healed him. 51

Then Jesus spoke to the chief priests and captains of the Temple guard and 52 elders who had come for him. 'Am I a brigand' he said 'that you had to set out with swords and clubs? •When I was among you in the Temple day after day 53 you never moved to lay hands on me. But this is your hour; this is the reign of darkness.'

Peter's denials

They seized him then and led him away, and they took him to the high 54 priest's house. Peter followed at a distance. •They had lit a fire in the middle of 55 the courtyard and Peter sat down among them, •and as he was sitting there by 56
the blaze a servant-girl saw him, peered at him, and said, 'This person was with him too'. •But he denied it. 'Woman,' he said 'I do not know him.' •Shortly 57 afterwards someone else saw him and said, 'You are another of them'. But Peter 58 replied, 'I am not, my friend'. •About an hour later another man insisted, 59 saying, 'This fellow was certainly with him. Why, he is a Galilean.' •'My 60 friend,' said Peter 'I do not know what you are talking about.' At that instant, while he was still speaking, the cock crew, •and the Lord turned and looked 61 straight at Peter, and Peter remembered what the Lord had said to him, 'Before the cock crows today, you will have disowned me three times'. •And he went 62 outside and wept bitterly.

Jesus mocked by the guards

Meanwhile the men who guarded Jesus were mocking and beating him. 63

64 They blindfolded him and questioned him. 'Play the prophet' they said. 'Who 65 hit you then?' •And they continued heaping insults on him.

Jesus before the Sanhedrin

66 When day broke there was a meeting of the elders of the people, attended 67 by the chief priests and scribes. He was brought before their council, •and they said to him, 'If you are the Christ, tell us'. 'If I tell you,' he replied 'you will not 68 believe me, •and if I question you, you will not answer. •But from now on, the 69 Son of Man will be seated at the right hand of the Power of God.'<sup>d</sup> •Then they 70 all said, 'So you are the Son of God then?' He answered, 'It is you who say I am'.
71 'What need of witnesses have we now?' they said. 'We have heard it for ourselves
1 from his own lips.' 23 The whole assembly then rose, and they brought him before Pilate.

Jesus before Pilate

2 They began their accusation by saying, 'We found this man inciting our people to revolt, opposing payment of the tribute to Caesar, and claiming to be 3 Christ, a king'. •Pilate put to him this question, 'Are you the king of the Jews?'
4 'It is you who say it' he replied. •Pilate then said to the chief priests and the crowd, 5 'I find no case against this man'. •But they persisted, 'He is inflaming the people with his teaching all over Judaea; it has come all the way from Galilee, where he 6 started, down to here'. •When Pilate heard this, he asked if the man were a 7 Galilean; •and finding that he came under Herod's jurisdiction he passed him over to Herod who was also in Jerusalem at that time.

Jesus before Herod

8 Herod was delighted to see Jesus; he had heard about him and had been wanting for a long time to set eyes on him; moreover, he was hoping to see 9 some miracle worked by him. •So he questioned him at some length; but without 10 getting any reply. •Meanwhile the chief priests and the scribes were there, violently 11 pressing their accusations. •Then Herod, together with his guards, treated him with contempt and made fun of him; he put a rich cloak<sup>a</sup> on him and sent him 12 back to Pilate. •And though Herod and Pilate had been enemies before, they were reconciled that same day.

Jesus before Pilate again

13 Pilate then summoned the chief priests and the leading men and the people.
14 'You brought this man before me' he said 'as a political agitator. Now I have gone into the matter myself in your presence and found no case against the man 15 in respect of all the charges you bring against him. •Nor has Herod either, since he has sent him back to us. As you can see, the man has done nothing that 16 deserves death, •so I shall have him flogged and then let him go.' •But as one 17 man they howled, 'Away with him! Give us Barabbas!' •(This man had been 18 thrown into prison for causing a riot in the city and for murder.)

20 Pilate was anxious to set Jesus free and addressed them again, •but they 21 shouted back, 'Crucify him! Crucify him!' •And for the third time he spoke to them, 'Why? What harm has this man done? I have found no case against 23 him that deserves death, so I shall have him punished and then let him go.' •But they kept on shouting at the top of their voices, demanding that he should be crucified. And their shouts were growing louder.

24 Pilate then gave his verdict: their demand was to be granted. •He released 25 the man they asked for, who had been imprisoned for rioting and murder, and handed Jesus over to them to deal with as they pleased.

The way to Calvary

As they were leading him away they seized on a man, Simon from Cyrene, 26 who was coming in from the country, and made him shoulder the cross and carry it behind Jesus. •Large numbers of people followed him, and of women 27 too,<sup>b</sup> who mourned and lamented for him. •But Jesus turned to them and said, 28 ‘Daughters of Jerusalem, do not weep for me; weep rather for yourselves and for your children. •For the days will surely come when people will say, “Happy are 29 those who are barren, the wombs that have never borne, the breasts that have never suckled!” •Then they will begin to say to the mountains, “Fall on us!”; to the 30 hills, “Cover us!”<sup>c</sup> •For if men use the green wood like this, what will happen when it is dry?’ •Now with him they were also leading out two other criminals 32 to be executed.

The crucifixion

When they reached the place called The Skull, they crucified him there and the 33 two criminals also, one on the right, the other on the left. • Jesus said, ‘Father, 34 forgive them; they do not know what they are doing’. Then they cast lots to share out his clothing.

The crucified Christ is mocked

The people stayed there watching him. As for the leaders, they jeered at him. 35 ‘He saved others,’ they said ‘let him save himself if he is the Christ of God, the Chosen One.’ •The soldiers mocked him too, and when they approached to offer 36 him vinegar •they said, ‘If you are the king of the Jews, save yourself’. •Above 37 him there was an inscription: ‘This is the King of the Jews’. 38

The good thief

One of the criminals hanging there abused him. ‘Are you not the Christ?’ 39 he said. ‘Save yourself and us as well.’ •But the other spoke up and rebuked him. 40 ‘Have you no fear of God at all?’ he said. ‘You got the same sentence as he did, but in our case we deserved it: we are paying for what we did. But this man has 41 done nothing wrong. •Jesus,’ he said ‘remember me when you come into your kingdom.’ •‘Indeed, I promise you,’ he replied ‘today you will be with me in 42 paradise.’ 43

The death of Jesus

It was now about the sixth hour and, with the sun eclipsed, a darkness came 44 over the whole land until the ninth hour. •The veil of the Temple was torn right 45 down the middle; •and when Jesus had cried out in a loud voice, he said, ‘Father, 46 into your hands I commit my spirit!’<sup>d</sup> With these words he breathed his last.

After the death

When the centurion saw what had taken place, he gave praise to God and 47 said, ‘This was a great and good man’. •And when all the people who had gathered 48 for the spectacle saw what had happened, they went home beating their breasts.

All his friends stood at a distance; so also did the women who had accompanied 49 him from Galilee, and they saw all this happen.

The burial

Then a member of the council arrived, an upright and virtuous man named 50 Joseph. •He had not consented to what the others had planned and carried out. 51 He came from Arimathaea, a Jewish town, and he lived in the hope of seeing the kingdom of God. •This man went to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus. 52 He then took it down, wrapped it in a shroud and put him in a tomb which was 53 hewn in stone in which no one had yet been laid. •It was Preparation Day and 54 the sabbath was imminent.

55 Meanwhile the women who had come from Galilee with Jesus were following behind. They took note of the tomb and of the position of the body.

56 Then they returned and prepared spices and ointments. And on the sabbath day they rested, as the Law required.

AFTER THE RESURRECTION

The empty tomb. The angel's message

1 24 On the first day of the week, at the first sign of dawn, they went to the 2 tomb with the spices they had prepared. •They found that the stone had 3 been rolled away from the tomb, •but on entering discovered that the body of the 4 Lord Jesus was not there. •As they stood there not knowing what to think, two 5 men in brilliant clothes suddenly appeared at their side. •Terrified, the women
6 lowered their eyes. But the two men said to them, 'Why look among the dead
7 for someone who is alive? •He is not here; he has risen. Remember what he told 8 you when he was still in Galilee: •that the Son of Man had to be handed over 9 into the power of sinful men and be crucified, and rise again on the third day.'
10 And they remembered his words.

The apostles refuse to believe the women

9 When the women returned from the tomb they told all this to the Eleven and 10 to all the others. •The women were Mary of Magdala, Joanna, and Mary the 11 mother of James. The other women with them also told the apostles, •but this 12 story of theirs seemed pure nonsense, and they did not believe them.

Peter at the tomb

12 Peter, however, went running to the tomb. He bent down and saw the binding 13 cloths but nothing else; he then went back home, amazed at what had happened.

The road to Emmaus

13 That very same day, two of them were on their way to a village called Emmaus, 14 seven miles<sup>a</sup> from Jerusalem, •and they were talking together about all that had 15 happened. •Now as they talked this over, Jesus himself came up and walked by 16 their side; •but something prevented them from recognising him. •He said to 17 them, 'What matters are you discussing as you walk along?' They stopped short, 18 their faces downcast.

18 Then one of them, called Cleopas, answered him, 'You must be the only 19 person staying in Jerusalem who does not know the things that have been 20 happening there these last few days'. •'What things?' he asked. 'All about Jesus
21 of Nazareth' they answered 'who proved he was a great prophet by the things
22 he said and did in the sight of God and of the whole people; •and how our chief 23 priests and our leaders handed him over to be sentenced to death, and had him
24 crucified. •Our own hope had been that he would be the one to set Israel free.
25 And this is not all: two whole days have gone by since it all happened; •and some 26 women from our group have astounded us: they went to the tomb in the early 27 morning, •and when they did not find the body, they came back to tell us they 28 had seen a vision of angels who declared he was alive. •Some of our friends 29 went to the tomb and found everything exactly as the women had reported, but 30 of him they saw nothing.'

25 Then he said to them, 'You foolish men! So slow to believe the full message 26 of the prophets! •Was it not ordained that the Christ should suffer and so enter into his glory?' •Then, starting with Moses and going through all the prophets, 27 he explained to them the passages throughout the scriptures that were about himself.

When they drew near to the village to which they were going, he made as if 28 to go on; •but they pressed him to stay with them. 'It is nearly evening' they said 29
'and the day is almost over.' So he went in to stay with them. •Now while he was 30 with them at table, he took the bread and said the blessing; then he broke it and handed it to them. •And their eyes were opened and they recognised him; but he 31 had vanished from their sight. •Then they said to each other, 'Did not our hearts 32 burn within us as he talked to us on the road and explained the scriptures to us?'

They set out that instant and returned to Jerusalem. There they found the 33
Eleven assembled together with their companions, •who said to them, 'Yes, it is 34 true. The Lord has risen and has appeared to Simon.' •Then they told their 35 story of what had happened on the road and how they had recognised him at the breaking of bread.

Jesus appears to the apostles

They were still talking about all this when he himself stood among them 36 and said to them, 'Peace be with you!' •In a state of alarm and fright, they thought 37 they were seeing a ghost. •But he said, 'Why are you so agitated, and why are 38
these doubts rising in your hearts?' •Look at my hands and feet; yes, it is I indeed. 39
Touch me and see for yourselves; a ghost has no flesh and bones as you can see
I have.' •And as he said this he showed them his hands and feet. •Their joy 40 was so great that they still could not believe it, and they stood there dumbfounded; 41
so he said to them, 'Have you anything here to eat?' •And they offered him a piece 42 of grilled fish, •which he took and ate before their eyes. 43

Last instructions to the apostles

Then he told them, 'This is what I meant when I said, while I was still with 44 you, that everything written about me in the Law of Moses, in the Prophets and in the Psalms, has to be fulfilled'. •He then opened their minds to understand the 45 scriptures, •and he said to them, 'So you see how it is written that the Christ would 46 suffer and on the third day rise from the dead, •and that, in his name, repentance 47 for the forgiveness of sins would be preached to all the nations, beginning from Jerusalem. •You are witnesses to this. 48

'And now I am sending down to you what the Father has promised. Stay in the 49 city then, until you are clothed with the power from on high.'

The ascension

Then he took them out as far as the outskirts of Bethany, and lifting up his 50 hands he blessed them. •Now as he blessed them, he withdrew from them and 51 was carried up to heaven. •They worshipped him and then went back to 52
Jerusalem full of joy; •and they were continually in the Temple praising God. 53

THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES

Prologue

1 In my earlier work,<sup>a</sup> Theophilus, I dealt with everything Jesus had done and 1 taught from the beginning •until the day he gave his instructions to the 2 apostles he had chosen through the Holy Spirit, and was taken up to heaven.

3 He had shown himself alive to them after his Passion by many demonstrations:
 4 for forty days he had continued to appear to them and tell them about the 5 kingdom of God. •When he had been at table with them, he had told them not 6 to leave Jerusalem, but to wait there for what the Father had promised. 'It is'
 7 he had said 'what you have heard me speak about: •John baptised with water but 8 you, not many days from now, will be baptised with the Holy Spirit.'

The ascension

9 Now having met together,<sup>b</sup> they asked him, 'Lord, has the time come? Are 10 you going to restore the kingdom to Israel?' •He replied, 'It is not for you to 11 know times or dates that the Father has decided by his own authority, •but 12 you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes on you, and then you will be 13 my witnesses not only in Jerusalem but throughout Judaea and Samaria, and 14 indeed to the ends of the earth'.

15 As he said this he was lifted up while they looked on, and a cloud took him
 16 from their sight. •They were still staring into the sky when suddenly two men 17 in white were standing near them •and they said, 'Why are you men from Galilee 18 standing here looking into the sky? Jesus who has been taken up from you into 19 heaven, this same Jesus will come back in the same way as you have seen him 20 go there.'

THE JERUSALEM CHURCH

The group of apostles

12 So from the Mount of Olives, as it is called, they went back to Jerusalem, 13 a short distance away, no more than a sabbath walk; •and when they reached 14 the city they went to the upper room where they were staying; there were Peter 15 and John, James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, 16 James son of Alphaeus and Simon the Zealot, and Jude son of James.<sup>c</sup> •All 17 these joined in continuous prayer, together with several women, including 18 Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brothers.<sup>d</sup>

The election of Matthias

19 One day Peter stood up to speak to the brothers<sup>e</sup>—there were about a 20 hundred and twenty persons in the congregation: •'Brothers, the passage of 21 scripture had to be fulfilled in which the Holy Spirit, speaking through David, 22 foretells the fate of Judas, who offered himself as a guide to the men who 23 arrested Jesus—after having been one of our number and actually sharing this 24 ministry of ours. •As you know, he bought a field with the money he was paid 25 for his crime. He fell headlong and burst open, and all his entrails poured out.
 26 Everybody in Jerusalem heard about it and the field came to be called the Bloody 27 Acre, in their language Hakeldama. •Now in the Book of Psalms it says:

*Let his camp be reduced to ruin,
 Let there be no one to live in it.<sup>f</sup>*

And again:

Let someone else take his office.<sup>g</sup>

21 'We must therefore choose someone who has been with us the whole time that 22 the Lord Jesus was travelling round with us, •someone who was with us right 23 from the time when John was baptising until the day when he was taken up from 24 us—and he can act with us as a witness to his resurrection.'

1 a. The gospel according to Luke. b. This verse takes up the narrative broken off in Lk 24:49. c. 'Son' (of Alphaeus, of James) is not in the Greek. This Jude is not the Jude 'brother' of Jesus, Mt 13:55 and Mk 6:3, and brother of James (Jude 1). Nor is it likely that 'James of Alphaeus' was James brother of the Lord. d. Cousins, as in the gospels. e. The term for Christians, usually the laity as distinct from apostles and elders. f. Ps 69:25 g. Ps 109:8

Having nominated two candidates, Joseph known as Barsabbas, whose surname was Justus, and Matthias, they prayed, 'Lord, you can read everyone's heart; show us therefore which of these two you have chosen to take over this ministry and apostolate, which Judas abandoned to go to his proper place'. They then drew lots for them, and as the lot fell to Matthias, he was listed as one of the twelve apostles.

Pentecost

2 When Pentecost day came round, they had all met in one room, when suddenly they heard what sounded like a powerful wind from heaven, the noise of which filled the entire house in which they were sitting; and something appeared to them that seemed like tongues of fire; these separated and came to rest on the head of each of them. They were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak foreign languages as the Spirit gave them the gift of speech.

Now there were devout men living in Jerusalem from every nation under heaven, and at this sound they all assembled, each one bewildered to hear these men speaking his own language. They were amazed and astonished. 'Surely' they said 'all these men speaking are Galileans? How does it happen that each of us hears them in his own native language? Parthians, Medes and Elamites; people from Mesopotamia, Judaea and Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia, Phrygia and Pamphylia, Egypt and the parts of Libya round Cyrene; as well as visitors from Rome—Jews and proselytes alike—Cretans and Arabs; we hear them preaching in our own language about the marvels of God.' Everyone was amazed and unable to explain it; they asked one another what it all meant. Some, however, laughed it off. 'They have been drinking too much new wine' they said.

Peter's address to the crowd

Then Peter stood up with the Eleven and addressed them in a loud voice: 'Men of Judaea, and all you who live in Jerusalem, make no mistake about this, but listen carefully to what I say. These men are not drunk, as you imagine; why, it is only the third hour of the day.<sup>b</sup> On the contrary, this is what the prophet<sup>c</sup> spoke of:

In the days to come —it is the Lord who speaks—
I will pour out my spirit on all mankind.
Their sons and daughters shall prophesy,
your young men shall see visions,
your old men shall dream dreams.
Even on my slaves, men and women,
in those days, I will pour out my spirit.
I will display portents in heaven above
and signs on earth below.
The sun will be turned into darkness
and the moon into blood
before the great Day of the Lord dawns.
All who call on the name of the Lord will be saved.

'Men of Israel, listen to what I am going to say: Jesus the Nazarene was a man commended to you by God by the miracles and portents and signs that God worked through him when he was among you, as you all know. This man, who was put into your power by the deliberate intention and foreknowledge of God, you took and had crucified by men outside the Law.<sup>d</sup> You killed him, but God raised him to life, freeing him from the pangs of Hades; for it was impossible for him to be held in its power since, as David says of him:

*I saw the Lord before me always,
for with him at my right hand nothing can shake me.
So my heart was glad*

and my tongue cried out with joy;
 my body, too, will rest in the hope
 27 that you will not abandon my soul to Hades
 nor allow your holy one to experience corruption.
 28 You have made known the way of life to me,
 you will fill me with gladness through your presence.<sup>f</sup> 29 'Brothers, no one can deny that the patriarch David himself is dead and 30 buried: his tomb is still with us. •But since he was a prophet, and knew that God had sworn him an oath to make one of his descendants succeed him on the 31 throne,<sup>f</sup> •what he foresaw and spoke about was the resurrection of the Christ:
 he is the one who was not abandoned to Hades, and whose body did not experience 32 corruption. •God raised this man Jesus to life, and all of us are witnesses to that.
 33 Now raised to the heights by God's right hand, he has received from the Father the Holy Spirit, who was promised, and what you see and hear is the outpouring 34 of that Spirit. •For David himself never went up to heaven; and yet these words are his.

The Lord said to my Lord:
 Sit at my right hand
 35 until I make your enemies
 a footstool for you.<sup>g</sup>

36 'For this reason the whole House of Israel can be certain that God has made this Jesus whom you crucified both Lord and Christ.'

The first conversions

37 Hearing this, they were cut to the heart and said to Peter and the apostles, 38 'What must we do, brothers?' •'You must repent,' Peter answered 'and every one of you must be baptised in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of 39 your sins, and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. •The promise that was made is for you and your children, and for all those who are far away, for all 40 those whom the Lord our God will call to himself.'<sup>h</sup> •He spoke to them for a long time using many arguments, and he urged them, 'Save yourselves from this 41 perverse generation'. •They were convinced by his arguments, and they accepted what he said and were baptised. That very day about three thousand were added to their number.

The early Christian community

42 These remained faithful to the teaching of the apostles, to the brotherhood, to the breaking of bread and to the prayers.
 43 The many miracles and signs worked through the apostles made a deep impression on everyone.
 44 The faithful all lived together and owned everything in common; •they sold 45 their goods and possessions and shared out the proceeds among themselves according to what each one needed.
 46 They went as a body to the Temple every day but met in their houses for the 47 breaking of bread; they shared their food gladly and generously; •they praised God and were looked up to by everyone. Day by day the Lord added to their community those destined to be saved.

The cure of a lame man

1 3 Once, when Peter and John were going up to the Temple for the prayers at 2 the ninth hour,<sup>a</sup> •it happened that there was a man being carried past. He was a cripple from birth; and they used to put him down every day near the Temple entrance called the Beautiful Gate so that he could beg from the people going in. •When this man saw Peter and John on their way into the Temple he begged from them. •Both Peter and John looked straight at him and said, 'Look at us'. •He turned to them expectantly, hoping to get something from them, but Peter said, 'I have neither silver nor gold, but I will give you what I have: in the name of Jesus Christ the Nazarene, walk!' •Peter then took him by the hand and helped him to stand up. Instantly his feet and ankles became firm, he jumped up, stood, and began to walk, and he went with them into the Temple, walking and jumping and praising God. •Everyone could see him walking and praising God, •and they recognised him as the man who used to sit begging at the Beautiful Gate of the Temple. They were all astonished and unable to explain what had happened to him.

Peter's address to the people

Everyone came running towards them in great excitement, to the Portico of Solomon, as it is called, where the man was still clinging to Peter and John. When Peter saw the people he addressed them, 'Why are you so surprised at this? Why are you staring at us as though we had made this man walk by our own power or holiness? •You are Israelites, and it is the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, the God of our ancestors, who has glorified his servant<sup>b</sup> Jesus, the same Jesus you handed over and then disowned in the presence of Pilate after Pilate had decided to release him. •It was you who accused the Holy One, the Just One, you who demanded the reprieve of a murderer •while you killed the prince of life. God, however, raised him from the dead, and to that fact we are the witnesses; •and it is the name of Jesus which, through our faith in it, has brought back the strength of this man whom you see here and who is well known to you. It is faith in that name that has restored this man to health, as you can all see.

'Now I know, brothers, that neither you nor your leaders had any idea what you were really doing; •this was the way God carried out what he had foretold, when he said through all his prophets that his Christ would suffer. •Now you must repent and turn to God, so that your sins may be wiped out, •and so that the Lord may send the time of comfort. Then he will send you the Christ he has predestined, that is Jesus, •whom heaven must keep till the universal restoration comes which God proclaimed, speaking through his holy prophets. Moses, for example, said: The Lord God will raise up a prophet like myself for you, from among your own brothers; you must listen to whatever he tells you. •The man who does not listen to that prophet is to be cut off from the people.' •In fact, all the prophets that have ever spoken, from Samuel onwards, have predicted these days.

'You are the heirs of the prophets, the heirs of the covenant God made with our ancestors when he told Abraham: in your offspring all the families of the earth will be blessed.' •It was for you in the first place that God raised up his servant and sent him to bless you by turning every one of you from your wicked ways.'

Peter and John before the Sanhedrin

4 While they were still talking to the people the priests came up to them, accompanied by the captain of the Temple and the Sadducees.<sup>a</sup> •They were extremely annoyed at their teaching the people the doctrine of the resurrection from the dead by proclaiming the resurrection of Jesus. •They arrested them, but as it was already late, they held them till the next day. •But many of those who had listened to their message became believers, the total number of whom had now risen to something like five thousand.

The next day the rulers, elders and scribes<sup>b</sup> had a meeting in Jerusalem •with Annas the high priest, Caiaphas, Jonathan, Alexander and all the members

7 of the high-priestly families. •They made the prisoners stand in the middle and began to interrogate them, 'By what power, and by whose name have you men
8 done this?' •Then Peter, filled with the Holy Spirit, addressed them, 'Rulers of 9 the people, and elders! •If you are questioning us today about an act of kindness 10 to a cripple, and asking us how he was healed, •then I am glad to tell you all, and would indeed be glad to tell the whole people of Israel, that it was by the name of Jesus Christ the Nazarene, the one you crucified, whom God raised from the dead, by this name and by no other that this man is able to stand up 11 perfectly healthy, here in your presence, today. •This is the stone rejected by you 12 the builders, but which has proved to be the keystone.' •For of all the names in the world given to men, this is the only one by which we can be saved.'

13 They were astonished at the assurance shown by Peter and John, considering they were uneducated laymen; and they recognised them as associates of Jesus; 14 but when they saw the man who had been cured standing by their side, they could 15 find no answer. •So they ordered them to stand outside while the Sanhedrin had 16 a private discussion. •'What are we going to do with these men?' they asked.
'It is obvious to everybody in Jerusalem that a miracle has been worked through 17 them in public, and we cannot deny it. •But to stop the whole thing spreading any further among the people, let us caution them never to speak to anyone in this name again.'

18 So they called them in and gave them a warning on no account to make 19 statements or to teach in the name of Jesus. •But Peter and John retorted, 'You 20 must judge whether in God's eyes it is right to listen to you and not to God. •We 21 cannot promise to stop proclaiming what we have seen and heard.' •The court repeated the warnings and then released them; they could not think of any way to punish them, since all the people were giving glory to God for what 22 had happened. •The man who had been miraculously cured was over forty years old.

The apostles' prayer under persecution

23 As soon as they were released they went to the community and told them 24 everything the chief priests and elders had said to them. •When they heard it they lifted up their voice to God all together. 'Master,' they prayed 'it is you 25 who made heaven and earth and sea, and everything in them; •you it is who said through the Holy Spirit and speaking through our ancestor David, your servant :

*Why this arrogance among the nations,
these futile plots among the peoples?*

26 *Kings on earth setting out to war,
princes making an alliance,
against the Lord and against his Anointed.<sup>d</sup>*

27 'This is what has come true: in this very city Herod and Pontius Pilate made an alliance with the pagan nations and the peoples of Israel, against your holy 28 servant Jesus whom you anointed,<sup>c</sup> •but only to bring about the very thing that you 29 in your strength and your wisdom had predetermined should happen. •And now, Lord, take note of their threats and help your servants to proclaim your 30 message with all boldness, •by stretching out your hand to heal and to work 31 miracles and marvels through the name of your holy servant Jesus.' •As they prayed, the house where they were assembled rocked; they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to proclaim the word of God boldly.

The early Christian community

his own use anything that he had, as everything they owned was held in common.

The apostles continued to testify to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus with great power, and they were all given great respect. 33

None of their members was ever in want, as all those who owned land or houses would sell them, and bring the money from them, to present it to the apostles; it was then distributed to any members who might be in need. 34 35

The generosity of Barnabas

There was a Levite of Cypriot origin called Joseph whom the apostles surnamed Barnabas (which means 'son of encouragement'). He owned a piece of land and he sold it and brought the money, and presented it to the apostles. 36 37

The fraud of Ananias and Sapphira

5 There was another man, however, called Ananias. He and his wife, Sapphira, 1 agreed to sell a property; but with his wife's connivance he kept back part of 2 the proceeds, and brought the rest and presented it to the apostles. 'Ananias,' Peter 3 said 'how can Satan have so possessed you that you should lie to the Holy Spirit and keep back part of the money from the land? While you still owned the land, 4 wasn't it yours to keep, and after you had sold it wasn't the money yours to do with as you liked? What put this scheme into your mind? It is not to men that you have lied, but to God.' When he heard this Ananias fell down dead. This 5 made a profound impression on everyone present. The younger men got up, 6 wrapped the body in a sheet, carried it out and buried it.

About three hours later his wife came in, not knowing what had taken place. 7
Peter challenged her, 'Tell me, was this the price you sold the land for?' 'Yes,' 8 she said 'that was the price.' Peter then said, 'So you and your husband have 9 agreed to put the Spirit of the Lord to the test! What made you do it? You hear those footsteps? They have just been to bury your husband; they will carry you out, too.' Instantly she dropped dead at his feet. When the young men came in they 10 found she was dead, and they carried her out and buried her by the side of her husband. This made a profound impression on the whole Church and on all 11 who heard it.

The general situation

They all used to meet by common consent in the Portico of Solomon. No one 12b else ever dared to join them, but the people were loud in their praise and the 13 numbers of men and women who came to believe in the Lord increased steadily. 14
So many signs and wonders were worked among the people at the hands of the 12a apostles that the sick were even taken out into the streets and laid on beds and 15 sleeping-mats in the hope that at least the shadow of Peter might fall across some of them as he went past. People even came crowding in from the towns round 16 about Jerusalem, bringing with them their sick and those tormented by unclean spirits, and all of them were cured.

The apostles' arrest and miraculous deliverance

Then the high priest intervened with all his supporters from the party of the 17
Sadducees. Prompted by jealousy, they arrested the apostles and had them put 18 in the common gaol.

But at night the angel of the Lord opened the prison gates and said as he led 19 them out, 'Go and stand in the Temple, and tell the people all about this new 20 Life'. They did as they were told; they went into the Temple at dawn and 21 began to preach.

A summons to appear before the Sanhedrin

When the high priest arrived, he and his supporters convened the Sanhedrin
—this was the full Senate of Israel—and sent to the gaol for them to be brought.
But when the officials arrived at the prison they found they were not inside, so 22

- 23 they went back and reported, 'We found the gaol securely locked and the warders on duty at the gates, but when we unlocked the door we found no one inside'.
 24 When the captain of the Temple and the chief priests heard this news they 25 wondered what this could mean. 'Then a man arrived with fresh news.
 'At this very moment' he said 'the men you imprisoned are in the Temple.
 26 They are standing there preaching to the people.' 'The captain went with his men and fetched them. They were afraid to use force in case the people stoned them.
 27 When they had brought them in to face the Sanhedrin, the high priest
 28 demanded an explanation. 'We gave you a formal warning' he said 'not to preach in this name, and what have you done? You have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and seem determined to fix the guilt of this man's death on us.'
 29 In reply Peter and the apostles said, 'Obedience to God comes before obedience to men; 'it was the God of our ancestors who raised up Jesus, but it was you
 31 who had him executed by hanging on a tree.'<sup>a</sup> 'By his own right hand God has now raised him up to be leader and saviour, to give repentance and forgiveness 11 of sins through him to Israel. 'We are witnesses to all this, we and the Holy 33 Spirit whom God has given to those who obey him.' 'This so infuriated them that they wanted to put them to death.

Gamaliel's intervention

- 34 One member of the Sanhedrin, however, a Pharisee called Gamaliel, who was a doctor of the Law and respected by the whole people,<sup>b</sup> stood up and asked 35 to have the men taken outside for a time. 'Then he addressed the Sanhedrin, 36 'Men of Israel, be careful how you deal with these people. 'There was Theudas who became notorious not so long ago. He claimed to be someone important, and he even collected about four hundred followers; but when he was killed,
 37 all his followers scattered and that was the end of them. 'And then there was Judas the Galilean, at the time of the census, who attracted crowds of supporters;
 38 but he got killed too, and all his followers dispersed. 'What I suggest, therefore, is that you leave these men alone and let them go. If this enterprise, this movement
 39 of theirs, is of human origin it will break up of its own accord; 'but if it does in fact come from God you will not only be unable to destroy them, but you might find yourselves fighting against God.'
 40 His advice was accepted; 'and they had the apostles called in, gave orders for them to be flogged, warned them not to speak in the name of Jesus and 41 released them. 'And so they left the presence of the Sanhedrin glad to have had the honour of suffering humiliation for the sake of the name.
 42 They preached every day both in the Temple and in private houses, and their proclamation of the Good News of Christ Jesus was never interrupted.

THE EARLIEST MISSIONS

The institution of the Seven

- 1 6 About this time, when the number of disciples was increasing, the Hellenists
 2 made a complaint against the Hebrews:<sup>a</sup> in the daily distribution their own
 3 widows were being overlooked. 'So the Twelve called a full meeting of the disciples and addressed them, 'It would not be right for us to neglect the word of God so as to give out food; 'you, brothers, must select from among yourselves seven men of good reputation, filled with the Spirit and with wisdom; we will hand over this duty to them, and continue to devote ourselves to prayer and to the service of the word'. The whole assembly approved of this proposal and elected Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit, together with Philip, Prochorus, Nicanor, Timon, Parmenas, and Nicolaus of Antioch, a convert to Judaism. They presented these to the apostles, who prayed and laid their hands on them.<sup>b</sup>

The word of the Lord continued to spread: the number of disciples in Jerusalem was greatly increased, and a large group of priests made their submission to the faith.

Stephen's arrest

Stephen was filled with grace and power and began to work miracles and great signs among the people. But then certain people came forward to debate with Stephen, some from Cyrene and Alexandria who were members of the synagogue called the Synagogue of Freedmen,<sup>c</sup> and others from Cilicia and Asia. They found they could not get the better of him because of his wisdom, and because it was the Spirit that prompted what he said. So they procured some men to say, 'We heard him using blasphemous language against Moses and against God'. Having in this way turned the people against him as well as the elders and scribes, they took Stephen by surprise, and arrested him and brought him before the Sanhedrin. There they put up false witnesses to say, 'This man is always making speeches against this Holy Place and the Law. We have heard him say that Jesus the Nazarene is going to destroy this Place and alter the traditions that Moses handed down to us.' The members of the Sanhedrin all looked intently at Stephen, and his face appeared to them like the face of an angel.

Stephen's speech

The high priest asked, 'Is this true?' He replied, 'My brothers, my fathers, listen to what I have to say. The God of glory appeared to our ancestor Abraham, while he was in Mesopotamia before settling in Haran, and said to him, "Leave your country and your family and go to the land I will show you".' So he left Chaldaea and settled in Haran; and after his father died God made him leave Haran and come to this land where you are living today. God did not give him a single square foot of this land to call his own, yet he promised to give it to him and after him to his descendants, childless<sup>b</sup> though he was. The actual words God used when he spoke to him are that his descendants would be exiles in a foreign land, where they would be slaves and oppressed for four hundred years. "But I will pass judgement on the nation that enslaves them" God said "and after this they will leave, and worship me in this place."<sup>c</sup> Then he made the covenant of circumcision: so when his son Isaac was born he circumcised him on the eighth day. Isaac did the same for Jacob, and Jacob for the twelve patriarchs.

The patriarchs were jealous of Joseph and sold him into slavery in Egypt.<sup>d</sup> But God was with him,<sup>e</sup> and rescued him from all his miseries by making him wise enough to attract the attention of Pharaoh king of Egypt, who made him governor of Egypt<sup>f</sup> and put him in charge of the royal household. Then a famine came that caused much suffering throughout Egypt and Canaan, and our ancestors could find nothing to eat. When Jacob heard that there was grain for sale in Egypt, he sent our ancestors there on a first visit, but it was on the second that Joseph made himself known to his brothers, and told Pharaoh about his family. Joseph then sent for his father Jacob and his whole family, a total of seventy-five people. Jacob went down into Egypt and after he and our ancestors had died there, their bodies were brought back to Shechem and buried in the tomb that Abraham had bought and paid for from the sons of Hamor, the father of Shechem.

As the time drew near for God to fulfil the promise he had solemnly made to Abraham, our nation in Egypt grew larger and larger, until a new king came

19 to power in Egypt who knew nothing of<sup>a</sup> Joseph. •He exploited our race, and ill-20 treated our ancestors, forcing them to expose their babies to prevent their 21 surviving. •It was at this period that Moses was born, a fine child and favoured 22 by God. He was looked after for three months in his father's house, •and after 23 he had been exposed, Pharaoh's daughter adopted him and brought him up 24 as her own son. •So Moses was taught all the wisdom of the Egyptians and became a man with power both in his speech and his actions.

23 'At the age of forty he decided to visit his countrymen, the sons of Israel. •When 24 he saw one of them being ill-treated he went to his defence and rescued the man by 25 killing the Egyptian. •He thought his brothers realised that through him God 26 would liberate them, but they did not. •The next day, when he came across some of them fighting, he tried to reconcile them. 'Friends,' he said 'you are 27 brothers; why are you hurting each other?' •But the man who was attacking his fellow countryman pushed him aside. 'And who appointed you?' he said 'to be our 28 leader and judge?' •Do you intend to kill me as you killed the Egyptian yesterday?'
 29 Moses fled when he heard this<sup>b</sup> and he went to stay in the land of Midian, where he became the father of two sons.

30 'Forty years later, in the wilderness near Mount Sinai, an angel appeared to him
 31 in the flames of a bush that was on fire. •Moses was amazed by what he saw.
 32 As he went nearer to look at it the voice of the Lord was heard, •"I am the God of your ancestors, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob". Moses trembled and did not 33 dare to look any more. •The Lord said to him, "Take off your shoes; the place where 34 you are standing is holy ground. •I have seen the way my people are ill-treated in Egypt, I have heard their groans, and I have come down to liberate them. So come here and let me send you into Egypt."

35 'It was the same Moses that they had disowned when they said, "Who appointed you to be our leader and judge?" who was now sent to be both leader 36 and redeemer through the angel who had appeared to him in the bush. •It was Moses who, after performing miracles and signs in Egypt, led them out across the 37 Red Sea and through the wilderness for forty years.<sup>i</sup> •It was Moses who told the sons of Israel, "God will raise up a prophet like myself for you from among 38 your own brothers".<sup>j</sup> •When they held the assembly in the wilderness it was only through Moses that our ancestors could communicate with the angel who had spoken to him on Mount Sinai; it was he who was entrusted with words of life 39 to hand on to us. •This is the man that our ancestors refused to listen to: they 40 pushed him aside, turned back to Egypt in their thoughts, •and said to Aaron,
 "Make some gods to be our leaders: we do not understand what has come over this 41 Moses who led us out of Egypt".<sup>k</sup> •It was then that they made a bull calf and offered sacrifice to the idol. They were perfectly happy with something they had made 42 for themselves. •God turned away from them and abandoned them to the worship of the army of heaven,<sup>l</sup> as scripture says in the book of the prophets:

*Did you bring me victims and sacrifices in the wilderness
 for all those forty years, you House of Israel?*

43 *No, you carried the tent of Moloch on your shoulders
 and the star of the god Rephan,
 those idols that you had made to adore.*

So now I will exile you even further than Babylon.<sup>m</sup>

Here it stayed until the time of David. •He won God's favour and asked permission to have a temple built for the House of Jacob, •though it was Solomon who actually built God's house" for him. •Even so the Most High does not live in a house that human hands have built: for as the prophet says:

what place could you make for my rest?
Was not all this made by my hand?*<sup>p</sup>

'You stubborn people, with your pagan hearts and pagan ears. You are always resisting the Holy Spirit, just as your ancestors used to do. •Can you name a single prophet your ancestors never persecuted? In the past they killed those who foretold the coming of the Just One, and now you have become his betrayers, his murderers. •You who had the Law brought to you by angels are the very ones who have not kept it.'

They were infuriated when they heard this, and ground their teeth at him.

The stoning of Stephen. Saul as persecutor

But Stephen, filled with the Holy Spirit, gazed into heaven and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing at God's right hand. •'I can see heaven thrown open' he said 'and the Son of Man standing at the right hand of God.' •At this all the members of the council shouted out and stopped their ears with their hands; then they all rushed at him, •sent him out of the city and stoned him. The witnesses<sup>q</sup> put down their clothes at the feet of a young man called Saul. •As they were stoning him, Stephen said in invocation, 'Lord Jesus, receive my spirit'. Then he knelt down and said aloud, 'Lord, do not hold this sin against them'; and with these words he fell asleep. 8 Saul entirely approved of the killing.

That day a bitter persecution started against the church in Jerusalem, and everyone<sup>q</sup> except the apostles fled to the country districts of Judaea and Samaria.

There were some devout people, however, who buried Stephen and made great mourning for him.

Saul then worked for the total destruction of the Church; he went from house to house arresting both men and women and sending them to prison.

Philip in Samaria

Those who had escaped went from place to place preaching the Good News. One of them was Philip who went to a Samaritan town and proclaimed the Christ to them. •The people united in welcoming the message Philip preached, either because they had heard of the miracles he worked or because they saw them for themselves. •There were, for example, unclean spirits that came shrieking out of many who were possessed, and several paralytics and cripples were cured. As a result there was great rejoicing in that town.

Simon the magician

Now a man called Simon had already practised magic arts in the town and astounded the Samaritan people. He had given it out that he was someone momentous, •and everyone believed what he said; eminent citizens and ordinary people alike had declared, 'He is the divine power that is called Great'. •They had only been won over to him because of the long time he had spent working on them with his magic. •But when they believed Philip's preaching of the Good News about the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, they were

- 13 baptised, both men and women, and even Simon himself became a believer. After his baptism Simon, who went round constantly with Philip, was astonished when he saw the wonders and great miracles that took place.
- 14 When the apostles in Jerusalem heard that Samaria had accepted the word 15 of God, they sent Peter and John to them, and they went down there, and 16 prayed for the Samaritans to receive the Holy Spirit, for as yet he had not come down on any of them: they had only been baptised in the name of the Lord Jesus.
17 Then they laid hands on them, and they received the Holy Spirit.
- 18 When Simon saw that the Spirit was given through the imposition of hands 19 by the apostles, he offered them some money. 'Give me the same power' he said 20 'so that anyone I lay my hands on will receive the Holy Spirit.' Peter answered, 21 'May your silver be lost forever, and you with it, for thinking that money could 22 buy what God has given for nothing! You have no share, no rights, in this:
23 God can see how your heart is warped. Repent of this wickedness of yours, and 24 pray to the Lord; you may still be forgiven for thinking as you did; it is plain to me that you are trapped in the bitterness of gall and the chains of sin.'
- 24 'Pray to the Lord for me yourselves' Simon replied 'so that none of the things you have spoken about may happen to me.'
- 25 Having given their testimony and proclaimed the word of the Lord, they went back to Jerusalem, preaching the Good News to a number of Samaritan villages.

Philip baptises a eunuch

- 26 The angel of the Lord spoke to Philip saying, 'Be ready to set out at noon 27 along the road that goes from Jerusalem down to Gaza, the desert road'. So he set off on his journey. Now it happened that an Ethiopian had been on pilgrimage to Jerusalem; he was a eunuch and an officer at the court of the kandake, or 28 queen, of Ethiopia, and was in fact her chief treasurer. He was now on his way 29 home; and as he sat in his chariot he was reading the prophet Isaiah. The 30 Spirit said to Philip, 'Go up and meet that chariot'. When Philip ran up, he heard him reading Isaiah the prophet and asked, 'Do you understand what you 31 are reading?' 'How can I' he replied 'unless I have someone to guide me?' So 32 he invited Philip to get in and sit by his side. Now the passage of scripture he was reading was this:

*Like a sheep that is led to the slaughter-house,
like a lamb that is dumb in front of its shearers,
like these he never opens his mouth.*

- 33 *He has been humiliated and has no one to defend him.
Who will ever talk about his descendants,
since his life on earth has been cut short! <sup>b</sup>*

- 34 The eunuch turned to Philip and said, 'Tell me, is the prophet referring to 35 himself or someone else?' Starting, therefore, with this text of scripture Philip proceeded to explain the Good News of Jesus to him.

- 36 Further along the road they came to some water, and the eunuch said, 'Look, 37 there is some water here; is there anything to stop me being baptised?' <sup>c</sup> He ordered the chariot to stop, then Philip and the eunuch both went down into 38 the water and Philip baptised him. But after they had come up out of the water again Philip was taken away by the Spirit of the Lord, and the eunuch never 39 saw him again but went on his way rejoicing. Philip found that he had reached 40 Azotus and continued his journey proclaiming the Good News in every town as far as Caesarea.

The conversion of Saul

9 Meanwhile Saul was still breathing threats to slaughter the Lord's disciples. 1
He had gone to the high priest and asked for letters addressed to the 2 synagogues in Damascus, that would authorise him to arrest and take to Jerusalem any followers of the Way, men or women, that he could find.

Suddenly, while he was travelling to Damascus and just before he reached 3 the city, there came a light from heaven all round him. He fell to the ground, 4 and then he heard a voice saying, 'Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me?'
'Who are you, Lord?' he asked, and the voice answered, 'I am Jesus, and you 5 are persecuting me. Get up now and go into the city, and you will be told what 6 you have to do.' The men travelling with Saul stood there speechless, for 7 though they heard the voice they could see no one. Saul got up from the ground, 8 but even with his eyes wide open he could see nothing at all, and they had to lead him into Damascus by the hand. For three days he was without his sight, and 9 took neither food nor drink.

A disciple called Ananias who lived in Damascus had a vision in which he 10 heard the Lord say to him, 'Ananias!' When he replied, 'Here I am, Lord', the 11 Lord said, 'You must go to Straight Street and ask at the house of Judas for someone called Saul, who comes from Tarsus. At this moment he is praying, having had a vision of a man called Ananias coming in and laying hands on him 12 to give him back his sight.'

When he heard that, Ananias said, 'Lord, several people have told me about 13 this man and all the harm he has been doing to your saints in Jerusalem. He has 14 only come here because he holds a warrant from the chief priests to arrest everybody who invokes your name.' The Lord replied, 'You must go all the 15 same, because this man is my chosen instrument to bring my name before pagans and pagan kings and before the people of Israel; I myself will show him how 16 much he himself must suffer for my name'. Then Ananias went. He entered 17 the house, and at once laid his hands on Saul and said, 'Brother Saul, I have been sent by the Lord Jesus who appeared to you on your way here so that you may 18 recover your sight and be filled with the Holy Spirit'. Immediately it was as 19 though scales fell away from Saul's eyes and he could see again. So he was baptised there and then, and after taking some food he regained his strength.

Saul's preaching at Damascus

After he had spent only a few days with the disciples in Damascus, he began 20 preaching in the synagogues, 'Jesus is the Son of God'. All his hearers were 21 amazed. 'Surely' they said 'this is the man who organised the attack in Jerusalem against the people who invoke this name, and who came here for the sole purpose of arresting them to have them tried by the chief priests?' Saul's power 22 increased steadily, and he was able to throw the Jewish colony at Damascus into complete confusion by the way he demonstrated that Jesus was the Christ.

Some time passed,<sup>a</sup> and the Jews worked out a plot to kill him, but news of 23 it reached Saul. To make sure of killing him they kept watch on the gates day 24 and night, but when it was dark the disciples took him and let him down from 25 the top of the wall, lowering him in a basket.

Saul's visit to Jerusalem

When he got to Jerusalem he tried to join the disciples, but they were all 26 afraid of him: they could not believe he was really a disciple. Barnabas, 27 however, took charge of him, introduced him to the apostles, and explained how the Lord had appeared to Saul and spoken to him on his journey, and how he had preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus. Saul now started to go 28 round with them in Jerusalem, preaching fearlessly in the name of the Lord.
But after he had spoken to the Hellenists, and argued with them, they became 29

30 determined to kill him. •When the brothers knew, they took him to Caesarea, and sent him off from there to Tarsus.

A lull

31 The churches throughout Judaea, Galilee and Samaria were now left in peace, building themselves up, living in the fear of the Lord, and filled with the consolation of the Holy Spirit.

Peter cures a paralytic at Lydda

32 Peter visited one place after another and eventually came to the saints living 33 down in Lydda. •There he found a man called Aeneas, a paralytic who had been 34 bedridden for eight years. •Peter said to him, 'Aeneas, Jesus Christ cures you:
35 get up and fold up your sleeping mat'. Aeneas got up immediately; •everybody who lived in Lydda and Sharon saw him, and they were all converted to the Lord.

Peter raises a woman to life at Jaffa

36 At Jaffa there was a woman disciple called Tabitha, or Dorcas in Greek,<sup>b</sup> 37 who never tired of doing good or giving in charity. •But the time came when she 38 got ill and died, and they washed her and laid her out in a room upstairs. •Lydda is not far from Jaffa, so when the disciples heard that Peter was there, they sent two men with an urgent message for him, 'Come and visit us as soon as possible'.

39 Peter went back with them straightaway, and on his arrival they took him to the upstairs room, where all the widows stood round him in tears, showing 40 him tunics and other clothes Dorcas had made when she was with them. •Peter sent them all out of the room and knelt down and prayed. Then he turned to the dead woman and said, 'Tabitha, stand up'. She opened her eyes, looked at 41 Peter and sat up. •Peter helped her to her feet, then he called in the saints and 42 widows and showed them she was alive. •The whole of Jaffa heard about it and many believed in the Lord.

43 Peter stayed on some time in Jaffa, lodging with a leather-tanner called Simon.

Peter visits a Roman centurion

1 10 One of the centurions of the Italica cohort stationed in Caesarea was 2 called Cornelius. •He and the whole of his household were devout and God-fearing, and he gave generously to Jewish causes and prayed constantly to God.

3 One day at about the ninth hour he had a vision in which he distinctly saw 4 the angel of God come into his house and call out to him, 'Cornelius!' •He stared at the vision in terror and exclaimed, 'What is it, Lord?' 'Your offering of prayers 5 and alms' the angel answered 'has been accepted by God. •Now you must send 6 someone to Jaffa and fetch a man called Simon, known as Peter, •who is lodging 7 with Simon the tanner whose house is by the sea.' •When the angel who said this had gone, Cornelius called two of the slaves and a devout soldier of his staff, 8 told them what had happened, and sent them off to Jaffa.

9 Next day, while they were still on their journey and had only a short distance to go before reaching Jaffa, Peter went to the housetop at about the sixth hour 10 to pray. •He felt hungry and was looking forward to his meal, but before it was 11 ready he fell into a trance •and saw heaven thrown open and something like a big 12 sheet being let down to earth by its four corners; •it contained every possible
13 sort of animal and bird, walking, crawling or flying ones. •A voice then said
14 to him, 'Now, Peter; kill and eat!' •But Peter answered, 'Certainly not, Lord; 15 I have never yet eaten anything profane or unclean'. •Again, a second time, the voice spoke to him, 'What God has made clean, you have no right to call 16 profane'. •This was repeated three times, and then suddenly the container was drawn up to heaven again.

9 a. Three years, according to Ga 1:17-18. b. I.e. 'Gazelle'.

Peter was still worrying over the meaning of the vision he had seen, when the men sent by Cornelius arrived. They had asked where Simon's house was and they were now standing at the door, •calling out to know if the Simon known as Peter was lodging there. •Peter's mind was still on the vision and the Spirit had to tell him, 'Some men have come to see you. •Hurry down, and do not hesitate about going back with them; it was I who told them to come.' •Peter went down and said to them, 'I am the man you are looking for; why have you come?' •They said, 'The centurion Cornelius, who is an upright and God-fearing man, highly regarded by the entire Jewish people, was directed by a holy angel to send for you and bring you to his house and to listen to what you have to say'. •So Peter asked them in and gave them lodging.

Next day, he was ready to go off with them, accompanied by some of the brothers from Jaffa. •They reached Caesarea the following day, and Cornelius was waiting for them. He had asked his relations and close friends to be there, and as Peter reached the house Cornelius went out to meet him, knelt at his feet and prostrated himself. •But Peter helped him up. 'Stand up,' he said 'I am only a man after all!' •Talking together they went in to meet all the people assembled there, •and Peter said to them, 'You know it is forbidden for Jews to mix with people of another race and visit them, but God has made it clear to me that I must not call anyone profane or unclean. •That is why I made no objection to coming when I was sent for; but I should like to know exactly why you sent for me.' •Cornelius replied, 'Three days ago I was praying in my house at the ninth hour, when I suddenly saw a man in front of me in shining robes. He said, "Cornelius, your prayer has been heard and your alms have been accepted as a sacrifice in the sight of God; •so now you must send to Jaffa and fetch Simon known as Peter who is lodging in the house of Simon the tanner, by the sea". •So I sent for you at once, and you have been kind enough to come. Here we all are, assembled in front of you to hear what message God has given you for us.'

Peter's address in the house of Cornelius

Then Peter addressed them: 'The truth I have now come to realise' he said 'is that God does not have favourites, •but that anybody of any nationality who fears God and does what is right is acceptable to him.

'It is true, God sent his word to the people of Israel, and it was to them that the good news of peace was brought<sup>a</sup> by Jesus Christ—but Jesus Christ is Lord of all men. •You must have heard about the recent happenings in Judaea; about Jesus of Nazareth and how he began in Galilee, after John had been preaching baptism. •God had anointed him with the Holy Spirit<sup>b</sup> and with power, and because God was with him, Jesus went about doing good and curing all who had fallen into the power of the devil. •Now I, and those with me, can witness to everything he did throughout the countryside of Judaea and in Jerusalem itself: and also to the fact that they killed him by hanging him on a tree, •yet three days afterwards God raised him to life and allowed him to be seen, •not by the whole people but only by certain witnesses God had chosen beforehand. Now we are those witnesses—we have eaten and drunk with him after his resurrection from the dead—•and he has ordered us to proclaim this to his people and to tell them that God has appointed him to judge everyone, alive or dead. •It is to him that all the prophets bear this witness: that all who believe in Jesus will have their sins forgiven through his name.'

Baptism of the first pagans

While Peter was still speaking the Holy Spirit came down on all the listeners. Jewish believers who had accompanied Peter were all astonished that the gift of the Holy Spirit should be poured out on the pagans too, •since they could hear them speaking strange languages and proclaiming the greatness of God.

47 Peter himself then said, 'Could anyone refuse the water of baptism to these 48 people, now they have received the Holy Spirit just as much as we have?' •He then gave orders for them to be baptised in the name of Jesus Christ. Afterwards they begged him to stay on for some days.

Jerusalem: Peter justifies his conduct

1 11 The apostles and the brothers in Judaea heard that the pagans too had 2 accepted the word of God, •and when Peter came up to Jerusalem the 3 Jews criticised him •and said, 'So you have been visiting the uncircumcised
4 and eating with them, have you?' •Peter in reply gave them the details point by 5 point: 'One day, when I was in the town of Jaffa,' he began 'I fell into a trance as I was praying and had a vision of something like a big sheet being let down from 6 heaven by its four corners. This sheet reached the ground quite close to me.
7 I watched it intently and saw all sorts of animals and wild beasts—everything
8 possible that could walk, crawl or fly. •Then I heard a voice that said to me, "Now, 9 Peter; kill and eat!" •But I answered: Certainly not, Lord; nothing profane or 10 unclean has ever crossed my lips. •And a second time the voice spoke from 11 heaven, "What God has made clean, you have no right to call profane". •This 12 was repeated three times, before the whole of it was drawn up to heaven again.
13 'Just at that moment, three men stopped outside the house where we were 14 staying; they had been sent from Caesarea to fetch me, •and the Spirit told me 15 to have no hesitation about going back with them. The six brothers here came 16 with me as well, and we entered the man's house. •He told us he had seen an angel 17 standing in his house who said, "Send to Jaffa and fetch Simon known as Peter;
18 he has a message for you that will save you and your entire household".
19 'I had scarcely begun to speak when the Holy Spirit came down on them 20 in the same way as it came on us at the beginning, •and I remembered that the 21 Lord had said, "John baptised with water, but you will be baptised with the Holy 22 Spirit". •I realised then that God was giving them the identical thing he gave to us
23 when we believed in the Lord Jesus Christ; and who was I to stand in God's way?'
24 This account satisfied them, and they gave glory to God. 'God' they said 'can 25 evidently grant even the pagans the repentance that leads to life.'

Foundation of the church of Antioch

19 Those who had escaped during the persecution that happened because of Stephen travelled as far as Phoenicia and Cyprus and Antioch,<sup>a</sup> but they usually 20 proclaimed the message only to Jews. •Some of them, however, who came from Cyprus and Cyrene, went to Antioch where they started preaching to the Greeks, 21 proclaiming the Good News of the Lord Jesus to them as well. •The Lord helped them, and a great number believed and were converted to the Lord.
22 The church in Jerusalem heard about this and they sent Barnabas to Antioch.
23 There he could see for himself that God had given grace, and this pleased him, and he urged them all to remain faithful to the Lord with heartfelt devotion; 24 for he was a good man, filled with the Holy Spirit and with faith. And a large number of people were won over to the Lord.
25 Barnabas then left for Tarsus to look for Saul, •and when he found him he 26 brought him to Antioch. As things turned out they were to live together in that church a whole year, instructing a large number of people. It was at Antioch that the disciples were first called 'Christians'.

Barnabas and Saul sent as deputies to Jerusalem

27 While they were there some prophets<sup>b</sup> came down to Antioch from Jerusalem, 28 and one of them whose name was Agabus, seized by the Spirit, stood up and predicted that a famine would spread over the whole empire. This in fact happened before the reign of Claudius came to an end.<sup>c</sup> The disciples decided to send relief, each to contribute what he could afford, to the brothers living in Judaea. They did this and delivered their contributions to the elders in the care of Barnabas and Saul.

Peter's arrest and miraculous deliverance<sup>a</sup>

12 It was about this time that King Herod started persecuting certain members of the Church. He beheaded James the brother of John, and when he saw that this pleased the Jews he decided to arrest Peter as well. This was during the days of Unleavened Bread, and he put Peter in prison, assigning four squads of four soldiers each to guard him in turns. Herod meant to try Peter in public after the end of Passover week. All the time Peter was under guard the Church prayed to God for him unremittingly.

On the night before Herod was to try him, Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, fastened with double chains, while guards kept watch at the main entrance to the prison. Then suddenly the angel of the Lord stood there, and the cell was filled with light. He tapped Peter on the side and woke him. 'Get up!' he said 'Hurry!'—and the chains fell from his hands. The angel then said, 'Put on your belt and sandals'. After he had done this, the angel next said, 'Wrap your cloak round you and follow me'. Peter followed him, but had no idea that what the angel did was all happening in reality; he thought he was seeing a vision. They passed through two guard posts one after the other, and reached the iron gate leading to the city. This opened of its own accord; they went through it and had walked the whole length of one street when suddenly the angel left him. It was only then that Peter came to himself. 'Now I know it is all true' he said. 'The Lord really did send his angel and has saved me from Herod and from all that the Jewish people were so certain would happen to me.'

As soon as he realised this he went straight to the house of Mary the mother of John Mark,<sup>b</sup> where a number of people had assembled and were praying. He knocked at the outside door and a servant called Rhoda came to answer it. She recognised Peter's voice and was so overcome with joy that, instead of opening the door, she ran inside with the news that Peter was standing at the main entrance. They said to her, 'You are out of your mind', but she insisted that it was true. Then they said, 'It must be his angel!' Peter, meanwhile, was still knocking, so they opened the door and were amazed to see that it really was Peter himself. With a gesture of his hand he stopped them talking, and described to them how the Lord had led him out of prison. He added, 'Tell James and the brothers'. Then he left and went to another place.

When daylight came there was a great commotion among the soldiers, who could not imagine what had become of Peter. Herod put out an unsuccessful search for him; he had the guards questioned, and before leaving Judaea to take up residence in Caesarea he gave orders for their execution.

The death of the persecutor

Now Herod was on bad terms with the Tyrians and Sidonians. However, they sent a joint deputation which managed to enlist the support of Blastus, the king's chamberlain, and through him negotiated a treaty, since their country depended for its food supply on King Herod's territory. A day was fixed, and Herod, wearing his robes of state and enthroned on a dais, made a speech to them. The people acclaimed him with, 'It is a god speaking, not a man!', and at that moment the angel of the Lord struck him down, because he had not given the glory to God. He was eaten away with worms and died.

Barnabas and Saul return to Antioch

The word of God continued to spread and to gain followers. Barnabas and Saul completed their task and came back from Jerusalem, bringing John Mark with them.

THE MISSION OF BARNABAS AND PAUL

THE COUNCIL OF JERUSALEM

The mission sent out

1 13 In the church at Antioch the following were prophets and teachers: Bar-2 nabas, Simeon called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, Manaen, who had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. •One day while they were offering worship to the Lord and keeping a fast, the Holy Spirit said, 'I want 3 Barnabas and Saul set apart for the work to which I have called them'. •So it was that after fasting and prayer they laid their hands on them and sent them off.

Cyprus: the magician Elymas

4 So these two, sent on their mission by the Holy Spirit, went down to Seleucia 5 and from there sailed to Cyprus. •They landed at Salamis and proclaimed the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews; John acted as their assistant.
 6 They travelled the whole length of the island, and at Paphos they came in 7 contact with a Jewish magician called Bar-jesus. •This false prophet was one of the attendants of the proconsul Sergius Paulus who was an extremely intelligent man. The proconsul summoned Barnabas and Saul and asked to hear the word 8 of God, •but Elymas Magos—as he was called in Greek—tried to stop them 9 so as to prevent the proconsul's conversion to the faith. •Then Saul, whose other name is Paul, looked him full in the face •and said, 'You utter fraud, you impostor, you son of the devil, you enemy of all true religion, why don't you 11 stop twisting the straightforward ways of the Lord? •Now watch how the hand of the Lord will strike you: you will be blind, and for a time you will not see the sun.' That instant, everything went misty and dark for him, and he groped about 12 to find someone to lead him by the hand. •The proconsul, who had watched everything, became a believer, being astonished by what he had learnt about the Lord.

They arrive at Antioch in Pisidia

13 Paul and his friends went by sea from Paphos to Perga in Pamphylia where 14 John left them to go back to Jerusalem. •The others carried on from Perga till they reached Antioch in Pisidia. Here they went to synagogue on the sabbath and took 15 their seats. •After the lessons from the Law and the Prophets had been read, the presidents of the synagogue sent them a message: 'Brothers, if you would like to address some words of encouragement to the congregation, please do so'.
 16 Paul stood up, held up a hand for silence and began to speak:

Paul's preaching before the Jews

17 'Men of Israel, and fearers of God, listen! •The God of our nation Israel chose our ancestors, and made our people great when they were living as foreigners 18 in Egypt; then by divine power he led them out, •and for about forty years took 19 care of them in the wilderness. •When he had destroyed seven nations in Canaan, 20 he put them in possession<sup>a</sup> of their land •for about four hundred and fifty years.
 21 After this he gave them judges, down to the prophet Samuel. •Then they demanded a king, and God gave them Saul son of Kish, a man of the tribe of whom he approved in these words, "I have selected David son of Jesse, a man after 23

my own heart, who will carry out my whole purpose".<sup>b</sup> •To keep his promise, God 24 has raised up for Israel one of David's descendants, Jesus, as Saviour, •whose 24 coming was heralded by John when he proclaimed a baptism of repentance for the 25 whole people of Israel. •Before John ended his career he said, "I am not the one 25 you imagine me to be; that one is coming after me and I am not fit to undo his 25 sandal".

'My brothers, sons of Abraham's race, and all you who fear God, this message 26 of salvation is meant for you. •What the people of Jerusalem and their rulers 27 did, though they did not realise it, was in fact to fulfil the prophecies read on every 27 sabbath. •Though they found nothing to justify his death, they condemned him 28 and asked Pilate to have him executed. •When they had carried out everything 29 that scripture foretells about him they took him down from the tree and buried 29 him in a tomb. •But God raised him from the dead, •and for many days he 30 appeared to those who had accompanied him from Galilee to Jerusalem: and 31 it is these same companions of his who are now his witnesses before our people.

'We have come here to tell you the Good News. It was to our ancestors that 32
God made the promise but •it is to us, their children, that he has fulfilled it, 33 by raising Jesus from the dead. As scripture says in the first psalm: You are my 34 son: today I have become your father. •The fact that God raised him from the 34 dead, never to return to corruption, is no more than what he had declared: To 35
you I shall give the sure and holy things promised to David.<sup>c</sup> •This is explained by 35 another text: You will not allow your holy one to experience corruption.<sup>d</sup> •Now when 36
David in his own time had served God's purposes he died; he was buried with 36 his ancestors and has certainly experienced corruption. •The one whom God has 37 raised up, however, has not experienced corruption.

'My brothers, I want you to realise that it is through him that forgiveness of 38 your sins is proclaimed. Through him justification from all sins which the Law 38 of Moses was unable to justify •is offered to every believer. 39

'So be careful—or what the prophets say will happen to you. 40

Cast your eyes around you, mockers; 41
be amazed, and perish!

For I am doing something in your own days
that you would not believe if you were to be told of it.<sup>e</sup>

As they left they were asked to preach on the same theme the following 42 sabbath. •When the meeting broke up many Jews and devout converts joined 43
Paul and Barnabas, and in their talks with them Paul and Barnabas urged 43 them to remain faithful to the grace God had given them.

Paul and Barnabas preach to the pagans

The next sabbath almost the whole town assembled to hear the word of God. 44
When they saw the crowds, the Jews, prompted by jealousy, used blasphemies 45 and contradicted everything Paul said. •Then Paul and Barnabas spoke out 46 boldly. 'We had to proclaim the word of God to you first, but since you have 46 rejected it, since you do not think yourselves worthy of eternal life, we must turn 47 to the pagans. •For this is what the Lord commanded us to do when he said: 47

I have made you a light for the nations,
so that my salvation may reach the ends of the earth.<sup>f</sup>

It made the pagans very happy to hear this and they thanked the Lord for his 48 message; all who were destined for eternal life became believers. •Thus the 49 word of the Lord spread through the whole countryside.

But the Jews worked upon some of the devout women of the upper 50 classes and the leading men of the city and persuaded them to turn against Paul

51 and Barnabas and expel them from their territory. •So they shook the dust 52 from their feet in defiance and went off to Iconium; •but the disciples were filled with joy and the Holy Spirit.

Iconium evangelised

1 14 At Iconium they went to the Jewish synagogue, as they had at Antioch, and they spoke so effectively that a great many Jews and Greeks became believers.

2 Some of the Jews, however, refused to believe, and they poisoned the minds of the pagans against the brothers.<sup>a</sup>

3 Accordingly Paul and Barnabas stayed on for some time, preaching fearlessly for the Lord; and the Lord supported all they said about his gift of grace, allowing signs and wonders to be performed by them.

4 The people in the city were divided, some supported the Jews, others the 5 apostles, •but eventually with the connivance of the authorities a move was made by pagans as well as Jews to make attacks on them and to stone them.

6 When the apostles came to hear of this, they went off for safety to Lycaonia where,
7 in the towns of Lystra and Derbe and in the surrounding country, •they preached the Good News.

Healing of a cripple

8 A man sat there<sup>b</sup> who had never walked in his life, because his feet were 9 crippled from birth; •and as he listened to Paul preaching, he managed to catch 10 his eye. Seeing that the man had the faith to be cured, •Paul said in a loud voice, 'Get to your feet—stand up', and the cripple jumped up and began to walk.

11 When the crowd saw what Paul had done they shouted in the language of Lycaonia, 'These people are gods who have come down to us disguised as men'.

12 They addressed Barnabas as Zeus, and since Paul was the principal speaker they 13 called him Hermes.<sup>c</sup> •The priests of Zeus-outside-the-Gate, proposing that all the people should offer sacrifice with them, brought garlanded oxen to the gates.

14 When the apostles Barnabas and Paul heard what was happening they tore their 15 clothes,<sup>d</sup> and rushed into the crowd, shouting, •'Friends, what do you think you are doing? We are only human beings like you. We have come with good news to make you turn from these empty idols to the living God who made heaven 16 and earth and the sea and all that these hold. •In the past he allowed each nation

17 to go its own way; •but even then he did not leave you without evidence of himself in the good things he does for you: he sends you rain from heaven, he makes your

18 crops grow when they should, he gives you food and makes you happy.' •Even this speech, however, was scarcely enough to stop the crowd offering them sacrifice.

The mission is disrupted

19 Then some Jews arrived from Antioch and Iconium, and turned the people against the apostles. They stoned Paul and dragged him outside the town, 20 thinking he was dead. •The disciples came crowding round him but, as they did so, he stood up and went back to the town. The next day he and Barnabas went off to Derbe.

21 Having preached the Good News in that town and made a considerable number 22 of disciples, they went back through Lystra and Iconium to Antioch. •They put fresh heart into the disciples, encouraging them to persevere in the faith. 'We all have to experience many hardships' they said 'before we enter the kingdom of God.' •In each of these churches they appointed elders, and with prayer and 23 fasting they commended them to the Lord in whom they had come to believe.

They passed through Pisidia and reached Pamphylia. •Then after proclaiming the word at Perga they went down to Attalia •and from there sailed for Antioch, where they had originally been commended to the grace of God for the work they had now completed. 24
26

On their arrival they assembled the church and gave an account of all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith to the pagans. They stayed there with the disciples for some time. 27 28

Controversy at Antioch

15 Then some men came down from Judaea<sup>a</sup> and taught the brothers, 'Unless you have yourselves circumcised in the tradition of Moses you cannot be saved'. •This led to disagreement, and after Paul and Barnabas had had a long argument with these men it was arranged that Paul and Barnabas and others of the church should go up to Jerusalem and discuss the problem with the apostles and elders. 1
2

All the members of the church saw them off, and as they passed through Phoenicia and Samaria they told how the pagans had been converted, and this news was received with the greatest satisfaction by the brothers. •When they arrived in Jerusalem they were welcomed by the church and by the apostles and elders, and gave an account of all that God had done with them. 3

Controversy at Jerusalem

But certain members of the Pharisees' party who had become believers objected, insisting that the pagans should be circumcised and instructed to keep the Law of Moses. •The apostles and elders met to look into the matter, and after the discussion had gone on a long time, Peter stood up and addressed them. 5

Peter's speech

'My brothers,' he said 'you know perfectly well that in the early days God made his choice among you: the pagans were to learn the Good News from me and so become believers. •In fact God, who can read everyone's heart, showed his approval of them by giving the Holy Spirit to them just as he had to us. •God made no distinction between them and us, since he purified their hearts by faith. It would only provoke God's anger now, surely, if you imposed on the disciples the very burden that neither we nor our ancestors were strong enough to support? Remember, we believe that we are saved in the same way as they are: through the grace of the Lord Jesus.' 8
11

This silenced the entire assembly, and they listened to Barnabas and Paul describing all the signs and wonders God had worked through them among the pagans. 12

James' speech

When they had finished it was James who spoke. 'My brothers,' he said 'listen to me. •Simeon<sup>b</sup> has described how God first arranged to enlist a people for his name out of the pagans. •This is entirely in harmony with the words of the prophets, since the scriptures say: 13 14
15

*After that I shall return
and rebuild the fallen House of David;
I shall rebuild it from its ruins
and restore it.* 16

*Then the rest of mankind,
all the pagans who are consecrated to my name,
will look for the Lord,* 17

says the Lord who made this •known so long ago.<sup>c</sup> 18

'I rule, then, that instead of making things more difficult for pagans who 19

20 turn to God, •we send them a letter telling them merely to abstain from anything polluted by idols,<sup>d</sup> from fornication,<sup>e</sup> from the meat of strangled animals and 21 from blood. •For Moses has always had his preachers in every town, and is read aloud in the synagogues every sabbath.'

The apostolic letter

22 Then the apostles and elders decided to choose delegates to send to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas; the whole church concurred with this. They chose Judas known as Barsabbas and Silas,<sup>f</sup> both leading men in the brotherhood, 23 and gave them this letter to take with them:

'The apostles and elders, your brothers, send greetings to the brothers of pagan 24 birth in Antioch, Syria and Cilicia. •We hear that some of our members have disturbed you with their demands and have unsettled your minds. They acted 25 without any authority from us, •and so we have decided unanimously to elect delegates and to send them to you with Barnabas and Paul, men we highly respect 26 who have dedicated their lives to the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. •Accord-27 ingly we are sending you Judas and Silas, who will confirm by word of mouth 28 what we have written in this letter. •It has been decided by the Holy Spirit and by 29 ourselves not to saddle you with any burden beyond these essentials: •you are to abstain from food sacrificed to idols, from blood, from the meat of strangled animals and from fornication. Avoid these, and you will do what is right. Farewell.'

The delegates at Antioch

30 The party left and went down to Antioch, where they summoned the whole
31 community and delivered the letter. •The community read it and were delighted 32 with the encouragement it gave them. •Judas and Silas, being themselves prophets, 33 spoke for a long time, encouraging and strengthening the brothers. •These two spent some time there, and then the brothers wished them peace and they went 35 back to those who had sent them. •Paul and Barnabas, however, stayed on in Antioch, and there with many others they taught and proclaimed the Good News, the word of the Lord.

PAUL'S MISSIONS

Paul separates from Barnabas and recruits Silas

36 On a later occasion Paul said to Barnabas, 'Let us go back and visit all the towns where we preached the word of the Lord, so that we can see how 37 the brothers are doing'. •Barnabas suggested taking John Mark, •but Paul was not 38 in favour of taking along the very man who had deserted them in Pamphylia and had refused to share in their work.

39 After a violent quarrel they parted company, and Barnabas sailed off with 40 Mark to Cyprus. •Before Paul left, he chose Silas to accompany him and was commended by the brothers to the grace of God.

Lycania: Paul recruits Timothy

41 He travelled through Syria and Cilicia, consolidating the churches.

1 16 From there he went to Derbe, and then on to Lystra. Here there was a disciple called Timothy, whose mother was a Jewess who had become a 2 believer; but his father was a Greek. •The brothers at Lystra and Iconium spoke 3 well of Timothy, •and Paul, who wanted to have him as a travelling companion, had him circumcised. This was on account of the Jews in the locality where everyone knew his father was a Greek.

As they visited one town after another, they passed on the decisions reached 4 by the apostles and elders in Jerusalem, with instructions to respect them.

So the churches grew strong in the faith, as well as growing daily in numbers. 5

The crossing into Asia Minor

They travelled through Phrygia and the Galatian country, having been told 6 by the Holy Spirit not to preach the word in Asia. •When they reached the frontier 7 of Mysia they thought to cross it into Bithynia, but as the Spirit of Jesus would not allow them, •they went through Mysia and came down to Troas. 8

One night Paul had a vision: a Macedonian appeared and appealed to him 9 in these words, 'Come across to Macedonia and help us'. •Once he had seen this 10 vision we lost no time in arranging a passage to Macedonia, convinced that God had called us to bring them the Good News.

Arrival at Philippi

Sailing from Troas we made a straight run for Samothrace; the next day for 11
Neapolis, •and from there for Philippi, a Roman colony and the principal city 12 of that particular district of Macedonia. After a few days in this city •we went 13 along the river outside the gates as it was the sabbath and this was a customary place for prayer.<sup>a</sup> We sat down and preached to the women who had come to the meeting. •One of these women was called Lydia, a devout woman from the town 14 of Thyatira who was in the purple-dye trade. She listened to us, and the Lord opened her heart to accept what Paul was saying. •After she and her household 15 had been baptised she sent us an invitation: 'If you really think me a true believer in the Lord,' she said 'come and stay with us'; and she would take no refusal.

Imprisonment of Paul and Silas

One day as we were going to prayer, we met a slave-girl who was a soothsayer 16 and made a lot of money for her masters by telling fortunes. •This girl started 17 following Paul and the rest of us and shouting, 'Here are the servants of the Most High God; they have come to tell you how to be saved!' •She did this every day 18 afterwards until Paul lost his temper one day and turned round and said to the spirit, 'I order you in the name of Jesus Christ to leave that woman'. The spirit went out of her then and there.

When her masters saw that there was no hope of making any more money 19 out of her, they seized Paul and Silas and dragged them to the law courts in the market place •where they charged them before the magistrates and said, 'These 20 people are causing a disturbance in our city. They are Jews •and are advocating practices which it is unlawful for us as Romans to accept or follow.'<sup>b</sup> •The crowd 22 joined in and showed its hostility to them, so the magistrates had them stripped and ordered them to be flogged. •They were given many lashes and then thrown 23 into prison, and the gaoler was told to keep a close watch on them. •So, following 24 his instructions, he threw them into the inner prison and fastened their feet in the stocks.

The miraculous deliverance of Paul and Silas

Late that night Paul and Silas were praying and singing God's praises, while 25 the other prisoners listened. •Suddenly there was an earthquake that shook the 26 prison to its foundations. All the doors flew open and the chains fell from all the prisoners. •When the gaoler woke and saw the doors wide open he drew his sword 27 and was about to commit suicide, presuming that the prisoners had escaped. •But 28
Paul shouted at the top of his voice, 'Don't do yourself any harm; we are all here'.

The gaoler called for lights, then rushed in, threw himself trembling at the 29 feet of Paul and Silas, •and escorted them out, saying, 'Sirs, what must I do to be 30 saved?' •They told him, 'Become a believer in the Lord Jesus, and you will be 31 saved, and your household too'. •Then they preached the word of the Lord to 32

33 him and to all his family. •Late as it was, he took them to wash their wounds, 34 and was baptised then and there with all his household. •Afterwards he took them home and gave them a meal, and the whole family celebrated their conversion to belief in God.

35 When it was daylight the magistrates sent the officers with the order: 'Release 36 those men'. •The gaoler reported the message to Paul, 'The magistrates have 37 sent an order for your release; you can go now and be on your way'. •'What!'
Paul replied. 'They flog Roman citizens in public and without trial and throw us into prison, and then think they can push us out on the quiet! Oh no! They must come and escort us out themselves.'

38 The officers reported this to the magistrates, who were horrified to hear the 39 men were Roman citizens. •They came and begged them to leave the town.
40 From the prison they went to Lydia's house where they saw all the brothers and gave them some encouragement; then they left.

Thessalonika: difficulties with the Jews

1 17 Passing through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they eventually reached 2 Thessalonika, where there was a Jewish synagogue. •Paul as usual introduced himself and for three consecutive sabbaths developed the arguments from 3 scripture for them, •explaining and proving how it was ordained that the Christ should suffer and rise from the dead. 'And the Christ' he said 'is this Jesus whom 4 I am proclaiming to you.' •Some of them were convinced and joined Paul and Silas, and so did a great many God-fearing people and Greeks, as well as a number of rich women.

5 The Jews, full of resentment, enlisted the help of a gang from the market place, stirred up a crowd, and soon had the whole city in an uproar. They made for Jason's house, hoping to find them there and drag them off to the People's 6 Assembly; •however, they only found Jason and some of the brothers, and these they dragged before the city council, shouting, 'The people who have been 7 turning the whole world upside down have come here now; •they have been staying at Jason's. They have broken every one of Caesar's edicts by claiming 8 that there is another emperor, Jesus.' •This accusation alarmed the citizens 9 and the city councillors •and they made Jason and the rest give security before setting them free.

Fresh difficulties at Beroea

10 When it was dark the brothers immediately sent Paul and Silas away to Beroea, 11 where they visited the Jewish synagogue as soon as they arrived. •Here the Jews were more open-minded than those in Thessalonika, and they welcomed the word very readily; every day they studied the scriptures to check whether it was true.
12 Many Jews became believers, and so did many Greek women from the upper classes and a number of the men.

13 When the Jews of Thessalonika heard that the word of God was being preached by Paul in Beroea as well, they went there to make trouble and stir up the people.
14 So the brothers arranged for Paul to go immediately as far as the coast, leaving 15 Silas and Timothy behind. •Paul's escort took him as far as Athens, and went back with instructions for Silas and Timothy to rejoin Paul as soon as they could.

Paul in Athens

16 Paul waited for them in Athens and there his whole soul was revolted at the 17 sight of a city given over to idolatry. •In the synagogue he held debates with the Jews and the God-fearing, but in the market place he had debates every day with 18 anyone who would face him. •Even a few Epicurean and Stoic philosophers

16 a. There was no synagogue in this Latin city; the Jews met by the river for ritual ablutions.
b. The Jews had no right to proselytise Romans.

argued with him. Some said, 'Does this parrot know what he's talking about?' And, because he was preaching about Jesus and the resurrection, others said, 'He sounds like a propagandist for some outlandish gods'.<sup>a</sup>

They invited him to accompany them to the Council of the Areopagus, where they said to him, 'How much of this new teaching you were speaking about are we allowed to know? •Some of the things you said seemed startling to us and we would like to find out what they mean.' •The one amusement the Athenians and the foreigners living there seem to have, apart from discussing the latest ideas, is listening to lectures about them.

Paul's speech before the Council of the Areopagus

'Men of Athens, I have seen for myself how extremely scrupulous you are in all religious matters, •because I noticed, as I strolled round admiring your sacred monuments, that you had an altar inscribed: To An Unknown God. Well, the God whom I proclaim is in fact the one whom you already worship without knowing it.

'Since the God who made the world and everything in it is himself Lord of heaven and earth, he does not make his home in shrines made by human hands. Nor is he dependent on anything that human hands can do for him, since he can never be in need of anything; on the contrary, it is he who gives everything—including life and breath—to everyone. •From one single stock he not only created the whole human race so that they could occupy the entire earth, but he decreed how long each nation should flourish and what the boundaries of its territory should be. •And he did this so that all nations might seek the deity and, by feeling their way towards him, succeed in finding him. Yet in fact he is not far from any of us, •since it is in him that we live, and move, and exist,<sup>b</sup> as indeed some of your own writers have said:

"We are all his children".<sup>c</sup>

'Since we are the children of God, we have no excuse for thinking that the deity looks like anything in gold, silver or stone that has been carved and designed by a man.

'God overlooked that sort of thing when men were ignorant, but now he is telling everyone everywhere that they must repent, •because he has fixed a day when the whole world will be judged, and judged in righteousness, and he has appointed a man to be the judge. And God has publicly proved this by raising this man from the dead.'

At this mention of rising from the dead, some of them burst out laughing; others said, 'We would like to hear you talk about this again'. •After that Paul left them, •but there were some who attached themselves to him and became believers, among them Dionysius the Areopagite and a woman called Damaris, and others besides.

Foundation of the church of Corinth

18 After this Paul left Athens and went to Corinth, •where he met a Jew <sup>1</sup>
<sup>2</sup> called Aquila whose family came from Pontus. He and his wife Priscilla<sup>a</sup> had recently left Italy because an edict of Claudius had expelled all the Jews from Rome.<sup>b</sup> Paul went to visit them, •and when he found they were tentmakers, of the same trade as himself, he lodged with them, and they worked together. <sup>3</sup>
<sup>4</sup> •Every sabbath he used to hold debates in the synagogues, trying to convert Jews as well as Greeks.

After Silas and Timothy had arrived from Macedonia, Paul devoted all his time to preaching, declaring to the Jews that Jesus was the Christ. •When they turned against him and started to insult him, he took his cloak and shook it out <sup>5</sup>

in front of them, saying, 'Your blood be on your own heads; from now on I can 7 go to the pagans with a clear conscience'. •Then he left the synagogue and moved to the house next door that belonged to a worshipper of God called Justus.
 8 Crispus, president of the synagogue, and his whole household, all became believers in the Lord. A great many Corinthians who had heard him became believers and 9 were baptised. •One night the Lord spoke to Paul in a vision, 'Do not be afraid 10 to speak out, nor allow yourself to be silenced: •I am with you. I have so many 11 people on my side in this city that no one will even attempt to hurt you.' •So Paul stayed there preaching the word of God among them for eighteen months.

The Jews take Paul to court

12 But while Gallio was proconsul of Achaia,<sup>1</sup> the Jews made a concerted attack
 13 on Paul and brought him before the tribunal. •'We accuse this man' they said
 14 'of persuading people to worship God in a way that breaks the Law.' •Before Paul could open his mouth, Gallio said to the Jews, 'Listen, you Jews. If this were 15 a misdemeanour or a crime, I would not hesitate to attend to you; •but if it is only quibbles about words and names, and about your own Law, then you must deal with it yourselves—I have no intention of making legal decisions about things 16 like that.' •Then he sent them out of the court, •and at once they all turned on 17 Sosthenes, the synagogue president, and beat him in front of the court house.
 Gallio refused to take any notice at all.

Return to Antioch and departure for the third journey

18 After staying on for some time, Paul took leave of the brothers and sailed for Syria,<sup>2</sup> accompanied by Priscilla and Aquila. At Cenchreae he had his hair cut off, because of a vow he had made.
 19 When they reached Ephesus, he left them, but first he went alone to the 20 synagogue to debate with the Jews. •They asked him to stay longer but he declined, 21 though when he left he said, 'I will come back another time, God willing'. Then he sailed from Ephesus.
 22 He landed at Caesarea, and went up to greet the church. Then he came down 23 to Antioch •where he spent a short time before continuing his journey through the Galatian country and then through Phrygia, encouraging all the followers.

Apollos

24 An Alexandrian Jew named Apollos now arrived in Ephesus. He was an 25 eloquent man, with a sound knowledge of the scriptures, and yet, •though he had been given instruction in the Way of the Lord and preached with great spiritual earnestness and was accurate in all the details he taught about Jesus, he had only 26 experienced the baptism of John. •When Priscilla and Aquila heard him speak boldly in the synagogue, they took an interest in him and gave him further instruction about the Way.
 27 When Apollos thought of crossing over to Achaia, the brothers encouraged him and wrote asking the disciples to welcome him. When he arrived there he was 28 able by God's grace to help the believers considerably •by the energetic way he refuted the Jews in public and demonstrated from the scriptures that Jesus was the Christ.

The disciples of John at Ephesus

1 19 While Apollos was in Corinth, Paul made his way overland as far as 2 Ephesus, where he found a number of disciples. •When he asked, 'Did you receive the Holy Spirit when you became believers?' they answered, 'No,

17 a. They assumed that Anastasis ('Resurrection') was the name of a goddess. b. Expression suggested by the poet Epimenides. c. From the Phainomena of Aratus.

18 a. Also called Prisca, Rm 16:3; 1 Co 16:19; 2 Tm 4:19. b. This edict was issued in 49 or 50. c. In 52, according to an inscription from Delphi. d. To Antioch.

we were never even told there was such a thing as a Holy Spirit'. •'Then how 3 were you baptised?' he asked. 'With John's baptism' they replied. 'John's 4 baptism' said Paul 'was a baptism of repentance; but he insisted that the people should believe in the one who was to come after him—in other words Jesus.' 5
 When they heard this, they were baptised in the name of the Lord Jesus, •and 6
 the moment Paul had laid hands on them the Holy Spirit came down on them, and they began to speak with tongues and to prophesy. •There were about twelve 7 of these men.

Foundation of the church of Ephesus

He began by going to the synagogue, where he spoke out boldly and argued 8 persuasively about the kingdom of God. He did this for three months, •till the 9 attitude of some of the congregation hardened into unbelief. As soon as they began attacking the Way in front of the others, he broke with them and took his disciples apart to hold daily discussions in the lecture room of Tyrannus. •This 10 went on for two years, with the result that people from all over Asia,<sup>a</sup> both Jews and Greeks, were able to hear the word of the Lord.

The Jewish exorcists

So remarkable were the miracles worked by God at Paul's hands •that 11 handkerchiefs or aprons which had touched him were taken to the sick, and they were cured of their illnesses, and the evil spirits came out of them. 12

But some itinerant Jewish exorcists tried pronouncing the name of the Lord 13
 Jesus over people who were possessed by evil spirits; they used to say, 'I command you by the Jesus whose spokesman is Paul'. •Among those who did this were 14 seven sons of Sceva, a Jewish chief priest. •The evil spirit replied, 'Jesus 15
 I recognise, and I know who Paul is, but who are you?' •and the man with the 16 evil spirit hurled himself at them and overpowered first one and then another, and handled them so violently that they fled from that house naked and badly mauled. •Everybody in Ephesus, both Jews and Greeks, heard about this episode; 17 they were all greatly impressed, and the name of the Lord Jesus came to be held in great honour.

Some believers, too, came forward to admit in detail how they had used spells 18 and a number of them who had practised magic collected their books and made 19 a bonfire of them in public. The value of these was calculated to be fifty thousand silver pieces.

In this impressive way the word of the Lord spread more and more widely 20 and successfully.

A PRISONER FOR CHRIST

Paul's plans

When all this was over Paul made up his mind to go back to Jerusalem through 21 Macedonia and Achaia. 'After I have been there' he said 'I must go on to see Rome as well.' •So he sent two of his helpers, Timothy and Erastus, ahead of 22 him to Macedonia, while he remained for a time in Asia.

Ephesus: the silversmiths' riot

It was during this time that a rather serious disturbance broke out in connection 23 with the Way. •A silversmith called Demetrius, who employed a large number 24 of craftsmen making silver shrines of Diana, •called a general meeting of his own 25 men with others in the same trade. 'As you men know,' he said 'it is on this industry that we depend for our prosperity. •Now you must have seen and heard 26 how, not just in Ephesus but nearly everywhere in Asia, this man Paul has per-

27 persuaded and converted a great number of people with his argument that gods made by hand are not gods at all. •This threatens not only to discredit our trade, but also to reduce the sanctuary of the great goddess Diana to unimportance. It could end up by taking away all the prestige of a goddess venerated all over Asia, yes, 28 and everywhere in the civilised world.' •This speech roused them to fury, and they 29 started to shout, 'Great is Diana of the Ephesians!' •The whole town was in an uproar and the mob rushed to the theatre dragging along two of Paul's 30 Macedonian travelling companions, Gaius and Aristarchus. •Paul wanted to 31 make an appeal to the people, but the disciples refused to let him; •in fact, some of the Asiarchs,<sup>b</sup> who were friends of his, sent messages imploring him not to take the risk of going into the theatre.

32 By now everybody was shouting different things till the assembly itself had no idea what was going on; most of them did not even know why they had been 33 summoned. •The Jews pushed Alexander to the front, and when some of the crowd shouted encouragement he raised his hand for silence in the hope of being 34 able to explain things to the people. •When they realised he was a Jew, they all started shouting in unison, 'Great is Diana of the Ephesians!' and they kept this 35 up for two hours. •When the town clerk eventually succeeded in calming the crowd, he said, 'Citizens of Ephesus! Is there anybody alive who does not know 36 that the city of the Ephesians is the guardian of the temple of great Diana and of her statue that fell from heaven? •Nobody can contradict this and there is no 37 need for you to get excited or do anything rash. •These men you have brought 38 here are not guilty of any sacrilege or blasphemy against our goddess. •If Demetrius and the craftsmen he has with him want to complain about anyone, there are 39 the assizes and the proconsuls; let them take the case to court. •And if you want 40 to ask any more questions you must raise them in the regular assembly. •We could easily be charged with rioting for today's happenings: there was no ground for it 41 all, and we can give no reason for this gathering.' •When he had finished this speech he dismissed the assembly.

Paul leaves Ephesus

1 20 When the disturbance was over, Paul sent for the disciples and, after speaking words of encouragement to them, said good-bye and set out for 2 Macedonia. •On his way through those areas he said many words of encourage-
 3 ment to them and then made his way into Greece, •where he spent three months.
 He was leaving by ship for Syria<sup>a</sup> when a plot organised against him by the Jews
 4 made him decide to go back by way of Macedonia. •He was accompanied by Sopater, son of Pyrrhus, who came from Beroea; Aristarchus and Secundus who came from Thessalonika; Gaius from Doberus, and Timothy, as well as Tychicus 5 and Trophimus who were from Asia. •They all went on to Troas where they 6 waited for us. •We ourselves left Philippi by ship after the days of Unleavened Bread and met them five days later at Troas, where we stopped for a week.

Troas: Paul raises a dead man to life

7 On the first day of the week<sup>b</sup> we met to break bread. Paul was due to leave the next day, and he preached a sermon that went on till the middle of the night.
 8 A number of lamps were lit in the upstairs room where we were assembled, •and 9 as Paul went on and on, a young man called Eutychus who was sitting on the window-sill grew drowsy and was overcome by sleep and fell to the ground three 10 floors below. He was picked up dead. •Paul went down and stooped to clasp the 11 boy to him. 'There is no need to worry,' he said 'there is still life in him.' •Then he went back upstairs where he broke bread and ate and carried on talking till he left at daybreak. •They took the boy away alive, and were greatly 12 encouraged.

From Troas to Miletus

We were now to go on ahead by sea, so we set sail for Assos, where we were 13 to take Paul on board; this was what he had arranged, for he wanted to go by road. When he rejoined us at Assos we took him aboard and went on to Mitylene. •The 14 15 next day we sailed from there and arrived opposite Chios. The second day we touched at Samos and, after stopping at Trogyllium, made Miletus the next day. Paul had decided to pass wide of Ephesus so as to avoid spending time in Asia, 16 since he was anxious to be in Jerusalem, if possible, for the day of Pentecost.

Farewell to the elders of Ephesus

From Miletus he sent for the elders of the church of Ephesus. •When they 17 18 arrived he addressed these words to them:

‘You know what my way of life has been ever since the first day I set foot among you in Asia, •how I have served the Lord in all humility, with all the 19 sorrows and trials that came to me through the plots of the Jews. •I have not 20 hesitated to do anything that would be helpful to you; I have preached to you, and instructed you both in public and in your homes, •urging both Jews and 21 Greeks to turn to God and to believe in our Lord Jesus.

‘And now you see me a prisoner already in spirit; I am on my way to Jeru- 22 salem, but have no idea what will happen to me there, •except that the Holy Spirit, 23 in town after town, has made it clear enough that imprisonment and persecution await me. •But life to me is not a thing to waste words on, provided that when 24 I finish my race I have carried out the mission the Lord Jesus gave me—and that was to bear witness to the Good News of God’s grace.

‘I now feel sure that none of you among whom I have gone about proclaiming 25 the kingdom will ever see my face again. •And so here and now I swear that my 26 conscience is clear as far as all of you are concerned, •for I have without faltering put before you the whole of God’s purpose. 27

‘Be on your guard for yourselves and for all the flock of which the Holy Spirit 28 has made you the overseers, to feed the Church of God which he bought with his own blood. •I know quite well that when I have gone fierce wolves will invade 29 you and will have no mercy on the flock. •Even from your own ranks there will be men coming forward with a travesty of the truth on their lips to induce the 30 disciples to follow them. •So be on your guard, remembering how night and day for three years I never failed to keep you right, shedding tears over each one of 31 you. •And now I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace that has power to build you up and to give you your inheritance among all the sanctified. 32

‘I have never asked anyone for money or clothes; •you know for yourselves 33 34 that the work I did earned enough to meet my needs and those of my companions. •I did this to show you that this is how we must exert ourselves to support 35 the weak, remembering the words of the Lord Jesus, who himself said, “There is more happiness in giving than in receiving”.’

When he had finished speaking he knelt down with them all and prayed. •By 36 37 now they were all in tears; they put their arms round Paul’s neck and kissed him; what saddened them most was his saying they would never see his face again. 38 Then they escorted him to the ship.

The journey to Jerusalem

21 When we had at last torn ourselves away from them and put to sea, we set 1 a straight course and arrived at Cos; the next day we reached Rhodes, and from there went on to Patara. •Here we found a ship bound for Phoenicia, so we 2 went on board and sailed in her. •After sighting Cyprus and leaving it to port, 3

we sailed to Syria and put in at Tyre, since the ship was to unload her cargo there.
 4 We sought out the disciples and stayed there a week. Speaking in the Spirit, 5 they kept telling Paul not to go on to Jerusalem, •but when our time was up we set off. Together with the women and children they all escorted us on our way till we were out of the town. When we reached the beach, we knelt down and prayed; 6 then, after saying good-bye to each other, we went aboard and they returned home.

7 The end of our voyage from Tyre came when we landed at Ptolemais, where 8 we greeted the brothers and stayed one day with them. •The next day we left and came to Caesarea. Here we called on Philip the evangelist, one of the Seven, and 9 stayed with him. •He had four virgin daughters who were prophets. •When we 10 had been there several days a prophet called Agabus arrived from Judaea •to see 11 us. He took Paul's girdle, and tied up his own feet and hands, and said, 'This 12 is what the Holy Spirit says, "The man this girdle belongs to will be bound like 13 this by the Jews in Jerusalem, and handed over to the pagans"'. •When we heard 14 this, we and everybody there implored Paul not to go on to Jerusalem. •To this he replied, 'What are you trying to do—weaken my resolution by your tears?
 For my part, I am ready not only to be tied up but even to die in Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.' •And so, as he would not be persuaded, we gave up the attempt, saying, 'The Lord's will be done'.

Paul's arrival in Jerusalem

15 After this we packed and went on up to Jerusalem. •Some of the disciples 16 from Caesarea accompanied us and took us to the house of a Cypriot with whom we were to lodge; he was called Mnason and had been one of the earliest disciples.

17 On our arrival in Jerusalem the brothers gave us a very warm welcome. •The 18 next day Paul went with us to visit James, and all the elders were present. •After 19 greeting them he gave a detailed account of all that God had done among the 20 pagans through his ministry. •They gave glory to God when they heard this.
 'But you see, brother,' they said 'how thousands of Jews have now become 21 believers, all of them staunch upholders of the Law, and •they have heard that you instruct all Jews living among the pagans to break away from Moses, 22 authorising them not to circumcise their children or to follow the customary 23 practices. •What is to be done? Inevitably there will be a meeting of the whole 24 body, since they are bound to hear that you have come. •So do as we suggest.
 We have four men here who are under a vow; •take these men along and be purified with them and pay all the expenses connected with the shaving of their heads." This will let everyone know there is no truth in the reports they have heard 25 about you and that you still regularly observe the Law. •The pagans who have become believers, as we wrote when we told them our decisions, must abstain from things sacrificed to idols, from blood, from the meat of strangled animals and from fornication.'

26 So the next day Paul took the men along and was purified with them, and he visited the Temple to give notice of the time when the period of purification would be over and the offering would have to be presented on behalf of each of them.

Paul's arrest

27 The seven days were nearly over when some Jews from Asia caught sight of 28 him in the Temple and stirred up the crowd and seized him, •shouting, 'Men of Israel, help! This is the man who preaches to everyone everywhere against our people, against the Law and against this place. Now he has profaned this Holy 29 Place by bringing Greeks into the Temple.' •They had, in fact, previously seen Trophimus the Ephesian in the city with him, and thought that Paul had brought him into the Temple.

21 a. For the duration of a nazirite vow, the hair was not to be cut. Discharge from the vow, on fulfilment, had to be celebrated with expensive sacrifices.

This roused the whole city; people came running from all sides; they seized Paul and dragged him out of the Temple, and the gates were closed behind them. They would have killed him if a report had not reached the tribune of the cohort that there was rioting all over Jerusalem. He immediately called out soldiers and centurions, and charged down on the crowd, who stopped beating Paul when they saw the tribune and the soldiers. When the tribune came up he arrested Paul, had him bound with two chains and enquired who he was and what he had done. People in the crowd called out different things, and since the noise made it impossible for him to get any positive information, the tribune ordered Paul to be taken into the fortress. When Paul reached the steps, the crowd became so violent that he had to be carried by the soldiers; and indeed the whole mob was after them, shouting, 'Kill him!'

Just as Paul was being taken into the fortress, he asked the tribune if he could have a word with him. The tribune said, 'You speak Greek, then? So you are not the Egyptian who started the recent revolt and led those four thousand cut-throats out into the desert?' 'I?' said Paul 'I am a Jew and a citizen of the well-known city of Tarsus in Cilicia. Please give me permission to speak to the people.' The man gave his consent and Paul, standing at the top of the steps, gestured to the people with his hand. When all was quiet again he spoke to them in Hebrew.

Paul's address to the Jews of Jerusalem

22 'My brothers, my fathers, listen to what I have to say to you in my defence.' When they realised he was speaking in Hebrew, the silence was even greater than before. 'I am a Jew,' Paul said 'and was born at Tarsus in Cilicia. I was brought up here in this city. I studied under Gamaliel and was taught the exact observance of the Law of our ancestors. In fact, I was as full of duty towards God as you are today. I even persecuted this Way to the death, and sent women as well as men to prison in chains as the high priest and the whole council of elders can testify, since they even sent me with letters to their brothers in Damascus. When I set off it was with the intention of bringing prisoners back from there to Jerusalem for punishment.

'I was on that journey and nearly at Damascus when about midday a bright light from heaven suddenly shone round me. I fell to the ground and heard a voice saying, "Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me?" I answered: Who are you, Lord? and he said to me, "I am Jesus the Nazarene, and you are persecuting me". The people with me saw the light but did not hear his voice as he spoke to me. I said: What am I to do, Lord? The Lord answered, "Stand up and go into Damascus, and there you will be told what you have been appointed to do". The light had been so dazzling that I was blind and my companions had to take me by the hand; and so I came to Damascus.

'Someone called Ananias, a devout follower of the Law and highly thought of by all the Jews living there, came to see me; he stood beside me and said, "Brother Saul, receive your sight". Instantly my sight came back and I was able to see him. Then he said, "The God of our ancestors has chosen you to know his will, to see the Just One and hear his own voice speaking, because you are to be his witness before all mankind, testifying to what you have seen and heard. And now why delay? It is time you were baptised and had your sins washed away while invoking his name."

'Once, after I had got back to Jerusalem, when I was praying in the Temple, I fell into a trance and then I saw him. "Hurry," he said "leave Jerusalem at once; they will not accept the testimony you are giving about me." Lord, I answered, it is because they know that I used to go from synagogue to synagogue, imprisoning and flogging those who believed in you; and that when the blood of your witness Stephen was being shed, I was standing by in full agreement with his murderers, and minding their clothes. Then he said to me, "Go! I am sending you out to the pagans far away."

Paul the Roman citizen

12 So far they had listened to him, but at these words they began to shout, 'Rid 23 the earth of the man! He is not fit to live!' •They were yelling, waving their 24 cloaks and throwing dust into the air, •and so the tribune had him brought into the fortress and ordered him to be examined under the lash, to find out the reason 25 for the outcry against him. •But when they had strapped him down Paul said to the centurion on duty, 'Is it legal for you to flog a man who is a Roman citizen 26 and has not been brought to trial?' •When he heard this the centurion went and told the tribune; 'Do you realise what you are doing?' he said. 'This man 27 is a Roman citizen'. •So the tribune came and asked him, 'Tell me, are you a 28 Roman citizen?' 'I am' Paul said. •The tribune replied, 'It cost me a large sum to 29 acquire this citizenship'. 'But I was born to it' said Paul. •Then those who were about to examine him hurriedly withdrew, and the tribune himself was alarmed when he realised that he had put a Roman citizen in chains.

His appearance before the Sanhedrin

30 The next day, since he wanted to know what precise charge the Jews were bringing, he freed Paul and gave orders for a meeting of the chief priests and the entire Sanhedrin; then he brought Paul down and stood him in front of them.

1 23 Paul looked steadily at the Sanhedrin and began to speak, 'My brothers, 2 to this day I have conducted myself before God with a perfectly clear conscience'. •At this the high priest Ananias ordered his attendants to strike him 3 on the mouth. •Then Paul said to him, 'God will surely strike you, you whitewashed wall! How can you sit there to judge me according to the Law, and 4 then break the Law by ordering a man to strike me?' •The attendants said, 'It is 5 God's high priest you are insulting!' •Paul answered, 'Brothers, I did not realise it was the high priest, for scripture says: You must not curse a ruler of your people'.<sup>a</sup>

6 Now Paul was well aware that one section was made up of Sadducees and the other of Pharisees, so he called out in the Sanhedrin, 'Brothers, I am a Pharisee and the son of Pharisees. It is for our hope in the resurrection of the dead that 7 I am on trial.' •As soon as he said this a dispute broke out between the Pharisees 8 and Sadducees, and the assembly was split between the two parties. •For the Sadducees say there is neither resurrection, nor angel, nor spirit, while the 9 Pharisees accept all three. •The shouting grew louder, and some of the scribes from the Pharisees' party stood up and protested strongly, 'We find nothing wrong 10 with this man. Suppose a spirit has spoken to him, or an angel?' •Feeling was running high, and the tribune, afraid that they would tear Paul to pieces, ordered his troops to go down and haul him out and bring him into the fortress.

11 Next night, the Lord appeared to him and said, 'Courage! You have borne witness for me in Jerusalem, now you must do the same in Rome.'

The conspiracy of the Jews against Paul

12 When it was day, the Jews held a secret meeting at which they made a vow 13 not to eat or drink until they had killed Paul. •There were more than forty who 14 took part in this conspiracy, •and they went to the chief priests and elders, and told them, 'We have made a solemn vow to let nothing pass our lips until we have 15 killed Paul. •Now it is up to you and the Sanhedrin together to apply to the tribune to bring him down to you, as though you meant to examine his case more closely; we, on our side, are prepared to dispose of him before he reaches you.'

16 But the son of Paul's sister heard of the ambush they were laying and made 17 his way into the fortress and told Paul, •who called one of the centurions and said, 'Take this young man to the tribune; he has something to tell him'. •So the man took him to the tribune, and reported, 'The prisoner Paul summoned me and requested me to bring this young man to you; he has something to tell you'. •Then the tribune took him by the hand and drew him aside and asked, 'What is it you have to tell me?' •He replied, 'The Jews have made a plan to ask you to take Paul down to the Sanhedrin tomorrow, as though they meant to inquire more closely into his case. •Do not let them persuade you. There are more than forty of them lying in wait for him, and they have vowed not to eat or drink until they have got rid of him. They are ready now and only waiting for your order to be given.' The tribune let the young man go with this caution, 'Tell no one that you have given me this information'.

23 a. Ex 22:27

Paul transferred to Caesarea

Then he summoned two of the centurions and said, 'Get two hundred soldiers ready to leave for Caesarea by the third hour of the night with seventy cavalry and two hundred auxiliaries; •provide horses for Paul, and deliver him unharmed to Felix the governor'.<sup>b</sup> •He also wrote a letter in these terms: •'Claudius Lysias to his Excellency the governor Felix, greetings. •This man had been seized by the Jews and would have been murdered by them but I came on the scene with my troops and got him away, having discovered that he was a Roman citizen. Wanting to find out what charge they were making against him, I brought him before their Sanhedrin. •I found that the accusation concerned disputed points of their Law, but that there was no charge deserving death or imprisonment. My information is that there is a conspiracy against the man, so I hasten to send him to you, and have notified his accusers that they must state their case against him in your presence.'

The soldiers carried out their orders; they took Paul and escorted him by night to Antipatris. •Next day they left the mounted escort to go on with him and returned to the fortress. •On arriving at Caesarea the escort delivered the letter to the governor and handed Paul over to him. •The governor read the letter and asked him what province he came from. Learning that he was from Cilicia he said, •'I will hear your case as soon as your accusers are here too'. Then he ordered him to be held in Herod's praetorium.

The case before Felix

24 Five days later the high priest Ananias came down with some of the elders and an advocate named Tertullus, and they laid information against Paul before the governor. •Paul was called, and Tertullus opened for the prosecution, 'Your Excellency, Felix, the unbroken peace we enjoy and the reforms this nation owes to your foresight •are matters we accept, always and everywhere, with all gratitude. •I do not want to take up too much of your time, but I beg you to give us a brief hearing. •The plain truth is that we find this man a perfect pest; he stirs up trouble among Jews the world over, and is a ringleader of the Nazarene sect. •He has even attempted to profane the Temple. We placed him under arrest, intending to judge him according to our Law, •but the tribune Lysias intervened and took him out of our hands by force, •ordering his accusers to appear before you; if you ask him<sup>a</sup> you can find out for yourself the truth of all our accusations against this man.' •The Jews supported him, asserting that these were the facts.

When the governor motioned him to speak, Paul answered:

Paul's speech before the Roman governor

'I know that you have administered justice over this nation for many years, and I can therefore speak with confidence in my defence. •As you can verify for yourself, it is no more than twelve days since I went up to Jerusalem on pilgrimage, •and it is not true that they ever found me arguing with anyone or stirring up the mob, either in the Temple, in the synagogues, or about the town;

13 neither can they prove any of the accusations they are making against me now.
 14 'What I do admit to you is this: it is according to the Way which they describe as a sect that I worship the God of my ancestors, retaining my belief in all points 15 of the Law and in what is written in the prophets; and I hold the same hope in God as they do that there will be a resurrection of good men, and bad men 16 alike. In these things, I, as much as they, do my best to keep a clear conscience at all times before God and man.
 17 'After several years I came to bring alms to my nation and to make offerings;
 18 it was in connection with these that they found me in the Temple; I had been 19 purified, and there was no crowd involved, and no disturbance. But some Jews from Asia...—these are the ones who should have appeared before you and 20 accused me of whatever they had against me. At least let those who are present 21 say what crime they found me guilty of when I stood before the Sanhedrin, unless it were to do with this single outburst, when I stood up among them and called out: It is about the resurrection of the dead that I am on trial before you today.'

Paul's captivity at Caesarea

22 At this, Felix, who knew more about the Way than most people, adjourned the case, saying, 'When Lysias the tribune has come down I will go into your 23 case'. He then gave orders to the centurion that Paul should be kept under arrest but free from restriction, and that none of his own people should be prevented from seeing to his needs.
 24 Some days later Felix came with his wife Drusilla who was a Jewess.<sup>b</sup> He sent 25 for Paul and gave him a hearing on the subject of faith in Christ Jesus. But when he began to treat of righteousness, self-control and the coming Judgement, Felix took fright and said, 'You may go for the present; I will send for you when I find 26 it convenient'. At the same time he had hopes of receiving money from Paul, and for this reason he sent for him frequently and had talks with him.
 27 When the two years<sup>c</sup> came to an end, Felix was succeeded by Porcius Festus and, being anxious to gain favour with the Jews, Felix left Paul in custody.

Paul appeals to Caesar

1 25 Three days after his arrival in the province, Festus went up to Jerusalem
 2 from Caesarea. The chief priests and leaders of the Jews informed him of 3 the case against Paul, urgently asking him to support them rather than Paul, and to have him transferred to Jerusalem. They were, in fact, preparing an ambush 4 to murder him on the way. But Festus replied that Paul would remain in custody 5 in Caesarea, and that he would be going back there shortly himself. 'Let your authorities come down with me' he said 'and if there is anything wrong about the man, they can bring a charge against him.'
 6 After staying with them for eight or ten days at the most, he went down to Caesarea and the next day he took his seat on the tribunal and had Paul brought 7 in. As soon as Paul appeared, the Jews who had come down from Jerusalem surrounded him, making many serious accusations which they were unable to 8 substantiate. Paul's defence was this, 'I have committed no offence whatever 9 against either Jewish law, or the Temple, or Caesar'. Festus was anxious to gain favour with the Jews, so he said to Paul, 'Are you willing to go up to Jerusalem 10 and be tried on these charges before me there?' But Paul replied, 'I am standing before the tribunal of Caesar and this is where I should be tried. I have done the 11 Jews no wrong, as you very well know. If I am guilty of committing any capital crime, I do not ask to be spared the death penalty. But if there is no substance in the accusations these persons bring against me, no one has a right to surrender 12 me to them. I appeal to Caesar.' Then Festus conferred with his advisers and replied, 'You have appealed to Caesar; to Caesar you shall go'.

Paul appears before King Agrippa

Some days later King Agrippa and Bernice<sup>a</sup> arrived in Caesarea and paid 13 their respects to Festus. •Their visit lasted several days, and Festus put Paul's 14 case before the king. 'There is a man here' he said 'whom Felix left behind in custody, •and while I was in Jerusalem the chief priests and elders of the Jews 15 laid information against him, demanding his condemnation. •But I told them 16 that Romans are not in the habit of surrendering any man, until the accused confronts his accusers and is given an opportunity to defend himself against the charge. •So they came here with me, and I wasted no time but took my seat on 17 the tribunal the very next day and had the man brought in. •When confronted 18 with him, his accusers did not charge him with any of the crimes I had expected; but they had some argument or other with him about their own religion and about 19 a dead man called Jesus whom Paul alleged to be alive. •Not feeling qualified 20 to deal with questions of this sort, I asked him if he would be willing to go to Jerusalem to be tried there on this issue. •But Paul put in an appeal for his case 21 to be reserved for the judgement of the august emperor, so I ordered him to be remanded until I could send him to Caesar.' •Agrippa said to Festus, 'I should 22 like to hear the man myself'. 'Tomorrow' he answered 'you shall hear him.'

So the next day Agrippa and Bernice arrived in great state and entered the 23 audience chamber attended by the tribunes and the city notables; and Festus ordered Paul to be brought in. •Then Festus said, 'King Agrippa, and all here 24 present with us, you see before you the man about whom the whole Jewish community has petitioned me, both in Jerusalem and here, loudly protesting that he ought not to be allowed to remain alive. •For my own part I am satisfied 25 that he has committed no capital crime, but when he himself appealed to the august emperor I decided to send him. •But I have nothing definite that I can 26 write to his Imperial Majesty about him; that is why I have produced him before you all, and before you in particular, King Agrippa, so that after the examination
 I may have something to write. •It seems to me pointless to send a prisoner 27 without indicating the charges against him.'

26 Then Agrippa said to Paul, 'You have leave to speak on your own behalf'. 1
 And Paul held up his hand and began his defence:

Paul's speech before King Agrippa

'I consider myself fortunate, King Agrippa, in that it is before you I am to 2 answer today all the charges made against me by the Jews, •the more so because 3 you are an expert in matters of custom and controversy among the Jews. So I beg you to listen to me patiently.

'My manner of life from my youth, a life spent from the beginning among 4
 my own people and in Jerusalem, is common knowledge among the Jews. •They 5 have known me for a long time and could testify, if they would, that I followed the strictest party in our religion and lived as a Pharisee. •And now it is for my 6 hope in the promise made by God to our ancestors that I am on trial, •the promise 7 that our twelve tribes, constant in worship night and day, hope to attain. For that hope, Sire, I am actually put on trial by Jews! •Why does it seem incredible 8 to you that God should raise the dead?

'As for me, I once thought it was my duty to use every means to oppose the 9 name of Jesus the Nazarene. •This I did in Jerusalem; I myself threw many of the 10 saints into prison, acting on authority from the chief priests, and when they were sentenced to death I cast my vote against them. •I often went round the 11 synagogues inflicting penalties, trying in this way to force them to renounce their faith; my fury against them was so extreme that I even pursued them into foreign cities.

'On one such expedition I was going to Damascus, armed with full powers 12 and a commission from the chief priests, •and at midday as I was on my way, 13 your Majesty, I saw a light brighter than the sun come down from heaven. It 14 shone brilliantly round me and my fellow travellers. •We all fell to the ground, 15 and I heard a voice saying to me in Hebrew, "Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me? It is hard for you, kicking like this against the goad."<sup>a</sup> •Then I said: Who 16 are you, Lord? And the Lord answered, "I am Jesus, and you are persecuting me. •But get up and stand on your feet, for I have appeared to you for this 17 reason: to appoint you as my servant and as witness of this vision in which you have seen me, and of others in which I shall appear to you. •I shall deliver you 18 from the people and from the pagans, to whom I am sending you •to open their eyes, so that they may turn from darkness to light,<sup>b</sup> from the dominion of Satan to God, and receive, through faith in me, forgiveness of their sins and a share in the inheritance of the sanctified."

 20 •After that, King Agrippa, I could not disobey the heavenly vision. •On the contrary I started preaching, first to the people of Damascus, then to those of Jerusalem and all the countryside of Judaea, and also to the pagans, urging them 21 to repent and turn to God, proving their change of heart by their deeds. •This was why the Jews laid hands on me in the Temple and tried to do away with me.
 22 But I was blessed with God's help, and so I have stood firm to this day, testifying to great and small alike, saying nothing more than what the prophets and Moses 23 himself said would happen: •that the Christ was to suffer and that, as the first to rise from the dead, he was to proclaim that light now shone for our people and for the pagans too.'

His hearers' reactions

24 He had reached this point in his defence when Festus shouted out, 'Paul, you 25 are out of your mind; all that learning of yours is driving you mad'. •'Festus, your Excellency,' answered Paul 'I am not mad: I am speaking nothing but the 26 sober truth. •The king understands these matters, and to him I now speak with assurance, confident that nothing of all this is lost on him; after all, these things 27 were not done in a corner. •King Agrippa, do you believe in the prophets? I know 28 you do.' •At this Agrippa said to Paul, 'A little more, and your arguments would 29 make a Christian of me'. •'Little or more,' Paul replied 'I wish before God that not only you but all who have heard me today would come to be as I am —except for these chains.'

30 At this the king rose to his feet, with the governor and Bernice and those who 31 sat there with them. •When they had retired they talked together and agreed, 32 'This man is doing nothing that deserves death or imprisonment'. •And Agrippa remarked to Festus, 'The man could have been set free if he had not appealed to Caesar'.

The departure for Rome

1 27 When it had been decided that we should sail for Italy, Paul and some other prisoners were handed over to a centurion called Julius, of the 2 Augustan cohort. •We boarded a vessel from Adramyttium bound for ports on the Asiatic coast, and put to sea; we had Aristarchus with us, a Macedonian of 3 Thessalonika. •Next day we put in at Sidon, and Julius was considerate enough to allow Paul to go to his friends to be looked after.

4 From there we put to sea again, but as the winds were against us we sailed
 5 under the lee of Cyprus, •then across the open sea off Cilicia and Pamphylia, 6 taking a fortnight to reach Myra in Lycia. •There the centurion found an Alexandrian ship leaving for Italy and put us aboard.

7 For some days we made little headway, and we had difficulty in making Cnidus. The wind would not allow us to touch there, so we sailed under the lee 8 of Crete off Cape Salmone •and struggled along the coast until we came to a place called Fair Havens, near the town of Lasea.

Storm and shipwreck

A great deal of time had been lost, and navigation was already hazardous 9 since it was now well after the time of the Fast,<sup>a</sup> so Paul gave them this warning, 10 'Friends, I can see this voyage will be dangerous and that we run the risk of losing 11 not only the cargo and the ship but also our lives as well'. •But the centurion 12 took more notice of the captain and the ship's owner than of what Paul was 13 saying; •and since the harbour was unsuitable for wintering, the majority were 14 for putting out from there in the hope of wintering at Phoenix—a harbour in 15 Crete, facing south-west and north-west.

A southerly breeze sprang up and, thinking their objective as good as reached, 13 they weighed anchor and began to sail past Crete, close inshore. •But it was not 14 long before a hurricane, the 'north-easter' as they call it, burst on them from across 15 the island. •The ship was caught and could not be turned head-on to the wind, 16 so we had to give way to it and let ourselves be driven. •We ran under the lee of 17 a small island called Cauda and managed with some difficulty to bring the ship's 18 boat under control. •They hoisted it aboard and with the help of tackle bound 19 cables round the ship; then, afraid of running aground on the Syrtis banks, they 20 floated out the sea-anchor and so let themselves drift. •As we were making very 21 heavy weather of it, the next day they began to jettison the cargo, •and the third 22 day they threw the ship's gear overboard with their own hands. •For a number 23 of days both the sun and the stars were invisible and the storm raged unabated 24 until at last we gave up all hope of surviving.

Then, when they had been without food for a long time, Paul stood up among 21 the men. 'Friends,' he said 'if you had listened to me and not put out from Crete, 22 you would have spared yourselves all this damage and loss. •But now I ask you 23 not to give way to despair. There will be no loss of life at all, only of the ship. 24 Last night there was standing beside me an angel of the God to whom I belong 25 and whom I serve, •and he said, "Do not be afraid, Paul. You are destined to 26 appear before Caesar, and for this reason God grants you the safety of all who 27 are sailing with you." •So take courage, friends; I trust in God that things will 28 turn out just as I was told; •but we are to be stranded on some island.'

On the fourteenth night we were being driven one way and another in the 27 Adriatic,<sup>b</sup> when about midnight the crew sensed that land of some sort was near. 28 They took soundings and found twenty fathoms; after a short interval they 29 sounded again and found fifteen fathoms. •Then, afraid that we might run 30 aground somewhere on a reef, they dropped four anchors from the stern and 31 prayed for daylight. •When some of the crew tried to escape from the ship and 32 lowered the ship's boat into the sea as though to lay out anchors from the bows, 33 Paul said to the centurion and his men, 'Unless those men stay on board you 34 cannot hope to be saved'. •So the soldiers cut the boat's ropes and let it drop 35 away.

Just before daybreak Paul urged them all to have something to eat. 'For 33 fourteen days' he said 'you have been in suspense, going hungry and eating 34 nothing. •Let me persuade you to have something to eat; your safety is not in 35 doubt. Not a hair of your heads will be lost.' •With these words he took some 36 bread, gave thanks to God in front of them all, broke it and began to eat. •Then 37 they all plucked up courage and took something to eat themselves. •We were 38 in all two hundred and seventy-six souls on board that ship. •When they had 39 eaten what they wanted they lightened the ship by throwing the corn overboard 40 into the sea.

When day came they did not recognise the land, but they could make out 39 a kind of bay with a beach; they planned to run the ship aground on this if they 40 could. •They slipped the anchors and left them to the sea, and at the same time 41 loosened the lashings of the rudders; then, hoisting the foresail to the wind, they 42 headed for the beach. •But the cross-currents carried them into a shoal and the 43 vessel ran aground. The bows were wedged in and stuck fast, while the stern began 44 to break up with the pounding of the waves.

42 The soldiers planned to kill the prisoners for fear that any should swim off 43 and escape. •But the centurion was determined to bring Paul safely through, and would not let them do what they intended. He gave orders that those who could 44 swim should jump overboard first and so get ashore, •and the rest follow either on planks or on pieces of wreckage. In this way all came safe and sound to land.

Waiting in Malta

1 28 Once we had come safely through, we discovered that the island was 2 called Malta. •The inhabitants treated us with unusual kindness. They made us all welcome, and they lit a huge fire because it had started to rain and 3 the weather was cold. •Paul had collected a bundle of sticks and was putting them on the fire when a viper brought out by the heat attached itself to his hand.
4 When the natives saw the creature hanging from his hand they said to one another, 'That man must be a murderer; he may have escaped the sea, but divine 5 vengeance would not let him live'. •However, he shook the creature off into the 6 fire and came to no harm, •although they were expecting him at any moment to swell up or drop dead on the spot. After they had waited a long time without seeing anything out of the ordinary happen to him, they changed their minds and began to say he was a god.

7 In that neighbourhood there were estates belonging to the prefect of the island, whose name was Publius. He received us and entertained us hospitably 8 for three days. •It so happened that Publius' father was in bed, suffering from feverish attacks and dysentery. Paul went in to see him, and after a prayer he laid 9 his hands on the man and healed him. •When this happened, the other sick 10 people on the island came as well and were cured; •they honoured us with many marks of respect, and when we sailed they put on board the provisions we needed.

From Malta to Rome

11 At the end of three months we set sail in a ship that had wintered in the 12 island; she came from Alexandria and her figurehead was the Twins. •We put in 13 at Syracuse and spent three days there; •from there we followed the coast up to Rhegium. After one day there a south wind sprang up and on the second day we 14 made Puteoli, •where we found some brothers and were much rewarded by staying a week with them. And so we came to Rome.

15 When the brothers there heard of our arrival they came to meet us, as far as the Forum of Appius and the Three Taverns. When Paul saw them he thanked 16 God and took courage. •On our arrival in Rome Paul was allowed to stay in lodgings of his own with the soldier who guarded him.

Paul makes contact with the Roman Jews

17 After three days he called together the leading Jews. When they had assembled, he said to them, 'Brothers, although I have done nothing against our people or the customs of our ancestors, I was arrested in Jerusalem and handed over to 18 the Romans. •They examined me and would have set me free, since they found 19 me guilty of nothing involving the death penalty; •but the Jews lodged an objection, and I was forced to appeal to Caesar, not that I had any accusation to make 20 against my own nation. •That is why I have asked to see you and talk to you, for it is on account of the hope of Israel that I wear this chain.'

21 They answered, 'We have received no letters from Judaea about you, nor has any countryman of yours arrived here with any report or story of anything to 22 your discredit. •We think it would be as well to hear your own account of your position; all we know about this sect is that opinion everywhere condemns it.'

27 a. 'the Fast', the feast of Atonement, was kept about the time of the autumn equinox; winter was coming on. b. The term includes the seas between Greece, Italy and Africa.

28 a. Pozzuoli, on the Gulf of Naples.

Paul's declaration to the Roman Jews

So they arranged a day with him and a large number of them visited him at his lodgings. He put his case to them, testifying to the kingdom of God and trying to persuade them about Jesus, arguing from the Law of Moses and the prophets. This went on from early morning until evening, and some were convinced by what he said, while the rest were sceptical. So they disagreed among themselves and, as they went away, Paul had one last thing to say to them, 'How aptly the Holy Spirit spoke when he told your ancestors through the prophet Isaiah:

Go to this nation and say: 26
You will hear and hear again but not understand,
see and see again, but not perceive.
For the heart of this nation has grown coarse, 27
their ears are dull of hearing and they have shut their eyes,
for fear they should see with their eyes,
hear with their ears,
understand with their heart,
and be converted
and be healed by me.<sup>b</sup>

'Understand, then, that this salvation of God has been sent to the pagans; they will listen to it.'

Epilogue

Paul spent the whole of the two years<sup>c</sup> in his own rented lodging. He welcomed all who came to visit him, proclaiming the kingdom of God and teaching the truth about the Lord Jesus Christ with complete freedom and without hindrance from anyone.

Q

THE LETTERS OF JOHN THE ELDER

The three Letters of John are all close in style and in ideas to The Gospel according to John. The First Letter, with its emphasis on the visible and tangible reality of Jesus Christ as the Son of God during his life on earth, is the longest and most important of the letters. Those who have faith in Jesus are able to share in the union which he has with the Father and in the love which binds them together.

The Second Letter is probably addressed to a particular church referred to as the Lady, and warns the members of that congregation against teachers who try to teach them a different form of Christianity from the one which they have received from John.

The Third Letter is addressed to Gaius, but there is nothing to show to which church he belonged. There is a dispute about jurisdiction which this letter is meant to solve, for it appoints Gaius to be leader of the local church in place of the man who is unlawfully exercising authority there.

One curious feature of the Second and Third Letters is that the author refers to himself as the Elder; this has raised doubts about the identity of the author, for it has been urged that if he were the Apostle John he would have referred to himself as the Apostle, as is the case in letters by other apostles in the New Testament. If the author of these letters was not the Apostle John, but John the Elder, then it is very probable that the Gospel, which is so similar to these letters in style and in ideas, was not written by the Apostle John.

THE FIRST LETTER OF JOHN

INTRODUCTION

The incarnate Word

1        Something which has existed since the beginning, 1 that we have heard,
and we have seen with our own eyes;
that we have watched and touched with our hands:
the Word, who is life—
this is our subject.
That life was made visible: 2
we saw it and we are giving our testimony, telling you of the eternal life which was with the Father and has been made visible to us.
What we have seen and heard 3
we are telling you
so that you too may be in union with us, as we are in union with the Father and with his Son Jesus Christ.
We are writing this to you to make our own joy complete. 4

WALK IN THE LIGHT

This is what we have heard from him, 5
and the message that we are announcing to you:
God is light; there is no darkness in him at all.
If we say that we are in union with God<sup>a</sup> 6 while we are living in darkness,
we are lying because we are not living the truth.
But if we live our lives in the light, 7
as he is in the light,
we are in union with one another,
and the blood of Jesus, his Son,
purifies us from all sin.

First condition: break with sin

If we say we have no sin in us, 8
we are deceiving ourselves and refusing to admit the truth;
but if we acknowledge our sins, 9

then God who is faithful and just will forgive our sins and purify us from everything that is wrong.

10 To say that we have never sinned is to call God a liar
and to show that his word is not in us.

1 2

I am writing this, my children, to stop you sinning;
but if anyone should sin,
we have our advocate with the Father,
Jesus Christ, who is just;
2 he is the sacrifice that takes our sins away,
and not only ours,
but the whole world's.

Second condition: keep the commandments, especially the law of love

3 We can be sure that we know God only by keeping his commandments.
4 Anyone who says, 'I know him', and does not keep his commandments,
is a liar,
refusing to admit the truth.
5 But when anyone does obey what he has said,
God's love comes to perfection in him.
We can be sure that we are in God
6 only when the one who claims to be living in him is living the same kind of life as Christ lived.
7 My dear people,
this is not a new commandment that I am writing to tell you,
but an old commandment
that you were given from the beginning, the original commandment which was the message brought to you.
8 Yet in another way, what I am writing to you, and what is being carried out in your lives as it was in his,
is a new commandment;
because the night is over and the real light is already shining.
9 Anyone who claims to be in the light but hates his brother is still in the dark.
10 But anyone who loves his brother is living in the light and need not be afraid of stumbling; 11 unlike the man who hates his brother and is in the darkness, not knowing where he is going,
because it is too dark to see.

Third condition: detachment from the world

12 I am writing to you, my own children, whose sins have already been forgiven through his name; 13 I am writing to you, fathers, who have come to know the one who has existed since the beginning;

1 a. In the translation, 'God' or 'Christ' has been used in several places, where the Greek has a simple pronoun, in order to make the writer's meaning clear.

I am writing to you, young men, who have already overcome the Evil One;
 I have written to you, children, 14
 because you already know the Father;
 I have written to you, fathers, because you have come to know the one who has existed since the beginning;
 I have written to you, young men, because you are strong and God's word has made its home in you,
 and you have overcome the Evil One.
 You must not love this passing world 15 or anything that is in the world.
 The love of the Father cannot be in any man who loves the world, because nothing the world has to offer 16
 —the sensual body,
 the lustful eye,
 pride in possessions—
 could ever come from the Father
 but only from the world;
 and the world, with all it craves for, 17
 is coming to an end;
 but anyone who does the will of God remains for ever.

Fourth condition: be on guard against the enemies of Christ

Children, these are the last days; 18
 you were told that an Antichrist must come,
 and now several antichrists have already appeared;
 we know from this that these are the last days.
 Those rivals of Christ came out of our own number, but they had 19 never really belonged;
 if they had belonged, they would have stayed with us;
 but they left us, to prove that not one of them ever belonged to us.
 But you have been anointed by the Holy One, 20
 and have all received the knowledge.
 It is not because you do not know the truth that I am writing to you 21
 but rather because you know it already and know that no lie can come from the truth.
 The man who denies that Jesus is the Christ— 22
 he is the liar,
 he is Antichrist;
 and he is denying the Father as well as the Son, because no one who has the Father can deny the Son, and to acknowledge the Son is to have the Father as well. 23
 Keep alive in yourselves what you were taught in the beginning: 24 as long as what you were taught in the beginning is alive in you, you will live in the Son and in the Father;
 and what is promised to you by his own promise 25
 is eternal life.
 This is all that I am writing to you about the people who are 26 trying to lead you astray.
 But you have not lost the anointing that he gave you, 27
 and you do not need anyone to teach you;

the anointing he gave teaches you everything;
 you are anointed with truth, not with a lie,
 and as it has taught you, so you must stay in him.
 28 Live in Christ, then, my children, so that if he appears, we may have full confidence, and not turn from him in shame
 at his coming.
 29 You know that God is righteous—then you must recognise that everyone whose life is righteous has been begotten by him.

LIVE AS GOD'S CHILDREN

1 3 Think of the love that the Father has lavished on us, by letting us be called God's children;
 and that is what we are.
 Because the world refused to acknowledge him,
 therefore it does not acknowledge us.
 2 My dear people, we are already the children of God but what we are to be in the future has not yet been revealed;
 all we know is, that when it is revealed
 we shall be like him because we shall see him as he really is.

First condition: break with sin

3 Surely everyone who entertains this hope must purify himself, must try to be as pure as Christ.
 4 Anyone who sins at all breaks the law,
 because to sin is to break the law.
 5 Now you know that he appeared in order to abolish sin,
 and that in him there is no sin;
 6 anyone who lives in God does not sin, and anyone who sins
 has never seen him or known him.
 7 My children, do not let anyone lead you astray:
 to live a holy life
 is to be holy just as he is holy;
 8 to lead a sinful life is to belong to the devil,
 since the devil was a sinner from the beginning.
 It was to undo all that the devil has done that the Son of God appeared.
 9 No one who has been begotten by God sins;
 because God's seed remains inside him,
 he cannot sin when he has been begotten by God.

Second condition: keep the commandments, especially the law of love

10 In this way we distinguish the children of God from the children of the devil:
 anybody not living a holy life and not loving his brother is no child of God's.
 11 This is the message
 as you heard it from the beginning:
 that we are to love one another;

not to be like Cain, who belonged to the Evil One and cut his brother's throat; 12 cut his brother's throat simply for this reason, that his own life was evil and his brother lived a good life.
 You must not be surprised, brothers, when the world hates you; 13
 we have passed out of death and into life, 14
 and of this we can be sure because we love our brothers.
 If you refuse to love, you must remain dead;
 to hate your brother is to be a murderer, 15
 and murderers, as you know, do not have eternal life in them.
 This has taught us love— 16
 that he gave up his life for us;
 and we, too, ought to give up our lives for our brothers.
 If a man who was rich enough in this world's goods 17 saw that one of his brothers was in need,
 but closed his heart to him,
 how could the love of God be living in him?
 My children, 18
 our love is not to be just words or mere talk,
 but something real and active;
 only by this can we be certain 19
 that we are children of the truth and be able to quieten our conscience in his presence, whatever accusations it may raise against us, 20
 because God is greater than our conscience and he knows everything.
 My dear people, 21
 if we cannot be condemned by our own conscience, we need not be afraid in God's presence, and whatever we ask him, 22
 we shall receive,
 because we keep his commandments
 and live the kind of life that he wants.
 His commandments are these: 23 that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ and that we love one another as he told us to.
 Whoever keeps his commandments 24 lives in God and God lives in him.
 We know that he lives in us
 by the Spirit that he has given us.

Third condition: be on guard against the enemies of Christ and against the world

It is not every spirit, my dear people, that you can trust; 1 test them, to see if they come from God;
 there are many false prophets, now, in the world.
 You can tell the spirits that come from God by this: 2 every spirit which acknowledges that Jesus the Christ has come in the flesh
 is from God;
 but any spirit which will not say this of Jesus 3
 is not from God,
 but is the spirit of Antichrist, whose coming you were warned about.
 Well, now he is here, in the world.

4 Children,
 you have already overcome these false prophets, because you are from God and you have in you one who is greater than anyone in this world;
 5 as for them, they are of the world, and so they speak the language of the world and the world listens to them.
 6 But we are children of God, and those who know God listen to us;
 those who are not of God refuse to listen to us.
 This is how we can tell the spirit of truth from the spirit of falsehood.

LOVE AND FAITH

Love

7 My dear people,
 let us love one another since love comes from God and everyone who loves is begotten by God and knows God.
 8 Anyone who fails to love can never have known God, because God is love.
 9 God's love for us was revealed when God sent into the world his only Son so that we could have life through him; 10 this is the love I mean:
 not our love for God,
 but God's love for us when he sent his Son to be the sacrifice that takes our sins away.
 11 My dear people,
 since God has loved us so much,
 we too should love one another.
 12 No one has ever seen God;
 but as long as we love one another God will live in us and his love will be complete in us.
 13 We can know that we are living in him and he is living in us because he lets us share his Spirit.
 14 We ourselves saw and we testify that the Father sent his Son
 as saviour of the world.
 15 If anyone acknowledges that Jesus is the Son of God,
 God lives in him, and he in God.
 16 We ourselves have known and put our faith in God's love towards ourselves.
 God is love
 and anyone who lives in love lives in God, and God lives in him.
 17 Love will come to its perfection in us when we can face the day of Judgement without fear;
 because even in this world
 we have become as he is.
 18 In love there can be no fear,
 but fear is driven out by perfect love:

because to fear is to expect punishment,
 and anyone who is afraid is still imperfect in love.
 We are to love, then, 19
 because he loved us first.
 Anyone who says, 'I love God', 20 and hates his brother,
 is a liar,
 since a man who does not love the brother that he can see cannot love God, whom he has never seen.
 So this is the commandment that he has given us, 21
 that anyone who loves God must also love his brother.

5

Whoever believes that Jesus is the Christ 1
 has been begotten by God;
 and whoever loves the Father that begot him loves the child whom he begets.
 We can be sure that we love God's children 2
 if we love God himself and do what he has commanded us; this is what loving God is— 3 keeping his commandments;
 and his commandments are not difficult, because anyone who has been begotten by God 4 has already overcome the world;
 this is the victory over the world—
 our faith.

Faith

Who can overcome the world? 5
 Only the man who believes that Jesus is the Son of God:
 Jesus Christ who came by water and blood,<sup>a</sup> 6 not with water only,
 but with water and blood;
 with the Spirit as another witness—since the Spirit is the truth—so that there are three witnesses, 7 the Spirit, the water and the blood, 8
 and all three of them agree.
 We accept the testimony of human witnesses, 9 but God's testimony is much greater, and this is God's testimony,
 given as evidence for his Son.
 Everybody who believes in the Son of God 10 has this testimony inside him;
 and anyone who will not believe God is making God out to be a liar, because he has not trusted
 the testimony God has given about his Son.
 This is the testimony: 11
 God has given us eternal life and this life is in his Son;
 anyone who has the Son has life, 12
 anyone who does not have the Son does not have life.

Conclusion

I have written all this to you 13
 so that you who believe in the name of the Son of God may be sure that you have eternal life.

ENDING

Prayer for sinners

- 14 We are quite confident that if we ask him for anything, and it is in accordance with his will,
he will hear us;
- 15 and, knowing that whatever we may ask, he hears us, we know that we have already been granted what we asked of him.
- 16 If anybody sees his brother commit a sin
that is not a deadly sin, he has only to pray, and God will give life to the sinner
—not those who commit a deadly sin;
for there is a sin that is death,
and I will not say that you must pray about that.
- 17 Every kind of wrong-doing is sin, but not all sin is deadly.

Summary of the letter

- 18 We know that anyone who has been begotten by God does not sin,
because the begotten Son of God protects him, and the Evil One does not touch him.
- 19 We know that we belong to God,
but the whole world lies in the power of the Evil One.
- 20 We know, too, that the Son of God has come,
and has given us the power to know the true God.
We are in the true God,
as we are in his Son, Jesus Christ.
This is the true God,
this is eternal life.
- 21 Children, be on your guard against false gods.

THE SECOND LETTER OF JOHN

- 1 From the Elder: my greetings to the Lady, the chosen one,<sup>e</sup> and to her children, she whom I love in the truth—and I am not the only one, for so do all 2 who have come to know the truth—because of the truth that lives in us and will 3 be with us for ever. •In our life of truth and love, we shall have grace, mercy and peace from God the Father and from Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father.

The law of love

- 4 It has given me great joy to find that your children have been living the life of 5 truth as we were commanded by the Father. •I am writing now, dear lady, not to give you any new commandment, but the one which we were given at the beginning, and to plead: let us love one another.
- 6 To love is to live according to his commandments: this is the commandment which you have heard since the beginning, to live a life of love.

5 a. The water and the blood from the side of Jesus, Jn 19:34, are here used as figures of his 'coming' to all Christians, through the water of baptism and through his sacrificial death.

1 a. The local church to which the letter is addressed.

The enemies of Christ

There are many deceivers about in the world, refusing to admit that Jesus 7
 Christ has come in the flesh. They are the Deceiver; they are the Antichrist. 8
 Watch yourselves, or all our work will be lost and not get the reward it deserves. 8
 If anybody does not keep within the teaching of Christ but goes beyond it, he 9 cannot have God with him: only those who keep to what he taught can have the 9
 Father and the Son with them. •If anyone comes to you bringing a different 10 doctrine, you must not receive him in your house or even give him a greeting. 10
 To greet him would make you a partner in his wicked work. 11

There are several things I have to tell you, but I have thought it best not to 12 trust them to paper and ink. I hope instead to visit you and talk to you personally, 12 so that our joy may be complete.

Greetings to you from the children of your sister,<sup>b</sup> the chosen one. 13

THE THIRD LETTER OF JOHN

From the Elder: greetings to my dear friend Gaius, whom I love in the truth. 1
 My dear friend, I hope everything is going happily with you and that you are as 2 well physically as you are spiritually. •It was a great joy to me when some brothers 3 came and told of your faithfulness to the truth, and of your life in the truth. 3
 It is always my greatest joy to hear that my children are living according to 4
 the truth. 4

My friend, you have done faithful work in looking after these brothers, even 5 though they were complete strangers to you. •They are a proof to the whole 6 Church of your charity and it would be a very good thing if you could help them 6 on their journey in a way that God would approve. •It was entirely for the sake 7 of the name that they set out, without depending on the pagans for anything; 7 it is our duty to welcome men of this sort and contribute our share to their work 8 for the truth. 8

Beware of the example of Diotrephes

I have written a note for the members of the church, but Diotrephes, who 9 seems to enjoy being in charge of it, refuses to accept us. •So if I come I shall 10 tell everyone how he has behaved, and about the wicked accusations he has been 10 circulating against us. As if that were not enough, he not only refuses to welcome 10 our brothers, but prevents the other people who would have liked to from doing 10 it, and expels them from the church. •My dear friend, never follow such a bad 11 example, but keep following the good one; anyone who does what is right is a 11 child of God, but the person who does what is wrong has never seen God. 11

Commendation of Demetrius

Demetrius has been approved by everyone, and indeed by the truth itself. 12
 We too will vouch for him and you know that our testimony is true. 12

Epilogue

There were several things I had to tell you but I would rather not trust them 13 to pen and ink. •However, I hope to see you soon and talk to you personally. 14
 Peace be with you; greetings from your friends; greet each of our friends by name. 15

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO JOHN

There has been very considerable discussion about the authorship, the background and the date of The Gospel according to John. Very early traditions connect it with Ephesus near the end of the first century A.D., and the discovery of fragments of the Gospel which date from the middle of the second century show that the Gospel is not as late as some once thought it to be. Because of the close similarity in language and thought to The Letters of John in the New Testament, it has been suggested that the author of this Gospel was not John the Apostle but John the Elder, who wrote The Letters of John. Against this are the emphatic statements in the Gospel itself about its authenticity as an eye-witness account by someone very close to Jesus. It is also possible that the titles 'Apostle' and 'Elder' could refer to the same person. The structure of the thought and the language used suggests a background in Christian Gnosticism, which would place it at least at the end of the first century A.D., and in a predominantly Greek background. Since the discovery of the Dead Sea Scrolls, however, it has been realised that the ideas used in this Gospel were also to be found in Jewish thinking, and the Greek background for the Gospel is now by no means so certain. All this tends to support the traditional view that the author was the John who was the beloved disciple of Jesus.

Even more explicitly than in the other three Gospels, the incidents and sayings of Jesus are arranged in this Gospel for a definite theological purpose, to present Jesus as the cosmic Christ who became flesh in order to save mankind. Frequently it is difficult to know where the words of Jesus end and where the author's own thoughts and comments begin, and the picture of Jesus which is presented here may be seen as the result of a lifetime of meditation on the significance of his acts and sayings, and a lifetime of responsibility for a Christian community.

The prologue, chapter 1:1-18, gives a context for all that is to follow, and also shows the pattern of thought which the author uses. The person of Jesus Christ is presented in terms of contrasting themes: light and darkness, life and death, truth and falsehood, and grace and law. This opening passage is a deliberate echo of the opening chapter of The Book of Genesis, for it sets Jesus Christ in the context of the creative activity of God, with which he is intimately involved. Jesus Christ is God, and shares in the intimate life of God the Father. Those who accept him are brought by Jesus to the Father, and are given a share in his glory.

It is clear that there is a careful and subtle pattern running throughout this Gospel, but it is by no means clear what this pattern is. Part of it is certainly a pattern of signs, the miracles which Jesus performed and which gave a glimpse of his glory. The Gospel records seven of these miracles. These are: turning the water into wine at Cana, 2:1-12; curing a nobleman's son, 4:43-54; the cure of a sick man at the Pool of Bethzatha, 5:1-15; the miracle of the loaves, 6:1-15; walking on water, 6:16-21; the cure of the man who was born blind, 9:1-34; and the raising of Lazarus, 11:1-44. The discourses in this first part of the Gospel are closely associated with the signs. After the final entry into Jerusalem, the long discourse in the upper room shows how the theme of glorification, which dominates the whole Gospel, is to be fulfilled in the trials and Crucifixion of Jesus. The Resurrection is closely associated with the gift of the Holy Spirit, and with the commissioning of the Apostles. A passage at the end of chapter 20 explicitly states that these signs are recorded for a purpose, 'so that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing this you may have life through his name' (20:31).

The arrangement of incidents in the Gospel seems also to be connected with the liturgical feasts of the Jewish year. Jewish feasts figure prominently in the Gospel, and some of the most important acts of Jesus take place at them. There are, for example, the first Passover, 2:12-4:54; a Sabbath, 5:1-47; a second Passover, 6:1-71; a Feast of Tabernacles, 7:1-10:21; a Feast of the Dedication, 10:22-11:54; and a third Passover, 11:55-19:42. If these feasts are significant for the author of this Gospel, he may be using them to teach that Jesus is the fulfilment of the Law and that all Jewish worship has reached its climax and its end with him.

As with the other three Gospels, this Gospel should not be viewed outside the context of the early Church. It reflects the experience of an apostolic, worship-centred community, which had explored the truth about Jesus in its everyday life. This Gospel bears the imprint of an individual mind more strongly than the other three do, but it is a mind which was formed within a Christian community, and the ultimate safeguard of the truth which it presents is to be found in its practical verification in the Christian life.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO SAINT JOHN

PROLOGUE

1	In the beginning was the Word:	1
	the Word was with God and the Word was God.
	He was with God in the beginning.	2
	Through him all things came to be,	3
	not one thing had its being but through him.
	All that came to be had life in him	4
	and that life was the light of men,
	a light that shines in the dark,	5
	a light that darkness could not overpower. <sup>a</sup>
	A man came, sent by God.	6
	His name was John.
	He came as a witness,	7
	as a witness to speak for the light,
	so that everyone might believe through him.
	He was not the light,	8
	only a witness to speak for the light.
	The Word was the true light	9
	that enlightens all men;
	and he was coming into the world.
	He was in the world	10
	that had its being through him, and the world did not know him.
	He came to his own domain	11
	and his own people did not accept him.
	But to all who did accept him	12
	he gave power to become children of God, to all who believe in the name of him who was born not out of human stock	13 or urge of the flesh or will of man
	but of God himself.
	The Word was made flesh,	14
	he lived among us, <sup>b</sup>
	and we saw his glory,
	the glory that is his as the only Son of the Father,
	full of grace and truth.

- 15 John appears as his witness. He proclaims:
 'This is the one of whom I said:
 He who comes after me ranks before me
 because he existed before me'.
- 16 Indeed, from his fulness we have, all of us, received—yes, grace in return for grace, 17 since, though the Law was given through Moses, grace and truth have come through Jesus Christ.
- 18 No one has ever seen God;
 it is the only Son, who is nearest to the Father's heart,
 who has made him known.

THE FIRST PASSOVER

THE OPENING WEEK

The witness of John

- 19 This is how John appeared as a witness. When the Jews<sup>c</sup> sent priests and 20 Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, 'Who are you?' •he not only declared, but 21 he declared quite openly, 'I am not the Christ'. •'Well then,' they asked 'are you 22 Elijah?'<sup>d</sup> 'I am not' he said. 'Are you the Prophet?'<sup>e</sup> He answered, 'No'. •So they said to him, 'Who are you? We must take back an answer to those who sent us.
 23 What have you to say about yourself?' •So John said, 'I am, as Isaiah prophesied:

*a voice that cries in the wilderness:
 Make a straight way for the Lord'.<sup>f</sup>*

- 24 Now these men had been sent by the Pharisees, •and they put this further 25 question to him, 'Why are you baptising if you are not the Christ, and not Elijah, 26 and not the prophet?' •John replied, 'I baptise with water; but there stands
 27 among you—unknown to you—•the one who is coming after me; and I am 28 not fit to undo his sandal-strap'. •This happened at Bethany, on the far side of the Jordan, where John was baptising.

- 29 The next day, seeing Jesus coming towards him, John said, 'Look, there is 30 the lamb of God that takes away the sin of the world. •This is the one I spoke of when I said: A man is coming after me who ranks before me because he 31 existed before me. •I did not know him myself, and yet it was to reveal him to 32 Israel that I came baptising with water.' •John also declared, 'I saw the Spirit 33 coming down on him from heaven like a dove and resting on him. •I did not know him myself, but he who sent me to baptise with water had said to me,
 "The man on whom you see the Spirit come down and rest is the one who is 34 going to baptise with the Holy Spirit". •Yes, I have seen and I am the witness that he is the Chosen One of God.'

The first disciples

- 35 On the following day as John stood there again with two of his disciples, 36 Jesus passed, and John stared hard at him and said, 'Look, there is the lamb of 37 God'. •Hearing this, the two disciples followed Jesus. •Jesus turned round, saw 38 them following and said, 'What do you want?' They answered, 'Rabbi,'—which 39 means Teacher—'where do you live?' •'Come and see' he replied; so they went and saw where he lived, and stayed with him the rest of that day. It was about the tenth hour.<sup>f</sup>

One of these two who became followers of Jesus after hearing what John had said was Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter. Early next morning, Andrew met his brother and said to him, 'We have found the Messiah'—which means the Christ—and he took Simon to Jesus. Jesus looked hard at him and said, 'You are Simon son of John; you are to be called Cephas'—meaning Rock.

The next day, after Jesus had decided to leave for Galilee, he met Philip and said, 'Follow me'. Philip came from the same town, Bethsaida, as Andrew and Peter. Philip found Nathanael<sup>h</sup> and said to him, 'We have found the one Moses wrote about in the Law, the one about whom the prophets wrote: he is Jesus son of Joseph, from Nazareth'. 'From Nazareth?' said Nathanael 'Can anything good come from that place?' 'Come and see' replied Philip. When Jesus saw Nathanael coming he said of him, 'There is an Israelite who deserves the name, incapable of deceit'. 'How do you know me?' said Nathanael. 'Before Philip came to call you,' said Jesus 'I saw you under the fig tree.' Nathanael answered, 'Rabbi, you are the Son of God, you are the King of Israel'. Jesus replied, 'You believe that just because I said: I saw you under the fig tree. You will see greater things than that.' And then he added, 'I tell you most solemnly, you will see heaven laid open and, above the Son of Man, the angels of God ascending and descending'.

The wedding at Cana

2 Three days later there was a wedding at Cana in Galilee. The mother of 1 Jesus was there, and Jesus and his disciples had also been invited. When 2 they ran out of wine, since the wine provided for the wedding was all finished, 3 the mother of Jesus said to him, 'They have no wine'. Jesus said, 'Woman, why 4 turn to me? My hour has not come yet.' His mother said to the servants, 5
'Do whatever he tells you'.<sup>a</sup> There were six stone water jars standing there, meant 6 for the ablutions that are customary among the Jews: each could hold twenty or 7 thirty gallons. Jesus said to the servants, 'Fill the jars with water', and they 8 filled them to the brim. 'Draw some out now' he told them 'and take it to the 9 steward.' They did this; the steward tasted the water, and it had turned into 10 wine. Having no idea where it came from—only the servants who had drawn 11 the water knew—the steward called the bridegroom and said, 'People generally 12 serve the best wine first, and keep the cheaper sort till the guests have had plenty 13 to drink; but you have kept the best wine till now'.

This was the first of the signs given by Jesus: it was given at Cana in Galilee. He let his glory be seen, and his disciples believed in him. After this he went down to Capernaum with his mother and the brothers, but they stayed there only a few days.

THE PASSOVER

The cleansing of the Temple

Just before the Jewish Passover Jesus went up to Jerusalem, and in the Temple he found people selling cattle and sheep and pigeons, and the money changers sitting at their counters there. Making a whip out of some cord, he drove them all out of the Temple, cattle and sheep as well, scattered the money changers' coins, knocked their tables over and said to the pigeon-sellers, 'Take all this out of here and stop turning my Father's house into a market'. Then his disciples remembered the words of scripture: Zeal for your house will devour me.<sup>b</sup> The Jews intervened and said, 'What sign can you show us to justify what you have done?' Jesus answered, 'Destroy this sanctuary, and in three days I will raise it up'. The Jews replied, 'It has taken forty-six years to build this

- 21 sanctuary: 'are you going to raise it up in three days?' •But he was speaking of 22 the sanctuary that was his body, •and when Jesus rose from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this, and they believed the scripture and the words he had said.
 23 During his stay in Jerusalem for the Passover many believed in his name
 24 when they saw the signs that he gave, •but Jesus knew them all and did not trust 25 himself to them; •he never needed evidence about any man; he could tell what a man had in him.

THE MYSTERY OF THE SPIRIT REVEALED TO A MASTER IN ISRAEL

The conversation with Nicodemus

- <sup>1</sup>
<sup>2</sup> 3 There was one of the Pharisees called Nicodemus, a leading Jew, •who came to Jesus by night and said, 'Rabbi, we know that you are a teacher who comes from God; for no one could perform the signs that you do unless God were with <sup>3</sup> him'. •Jesus answered:

'I tell you most solemnly,
 unless a man is born from above,
 he cannot see the kingdom of God'.

- <sup>4</sup> Nicodemus said, 'How can a grown man be born? Can he go back into his <sup>5</sup> mother's womb and be born again?' •Jesus replied:

'I tell you most solemnly,
 unless a man is born through water and the Spirit,
 he cannot enter the kingdom of God:
<sup>6</sup> what is born of the flesh is flesh;
 what is born of the Spirit is spirit.
<sup>7</sup> Do not be surprised when I say:
 You must be born from above.
<sup>8</sup> The wind blows wherever it pleases;
 you hear its sound,
 but you cannot tell where it comes from or where it is going.
 That is how it is with all who are born of the Spirit.'

- <sup>9</sup>
<sup>10</sup> 'How can that be possible?' asked Nicodemus. •'You, a teacher in Israel, and you do not know these things!' replied Jesus.

- <sup>11</sup> 'I tell you most solemnly,
 we speak only about what we know and witness only to what we have seen and yet you people reject our evidence.
<sup>12</sup> If you do not believe me when I speak about things in this world, how are you going to believe me when I speak to you about heavenly things?
<sup>13</sup> No one has gone up to heaven except the one who came down from heaven, the Son of Man who is in heaven;
 and the Son of Man must be lifted up <sup>14</sup> as Moses lifted up the serpent in the desert,

<sup>2</sup> a. Gn 41:55 b. Ps 69:9 c. Reconstruction work on the Temple began in 19 a.c. This is therefore the Passover of 28 A.D.

so that everyone who believes may have eternal life in him. 15
 Yes, God loved the world so much 16
 that he gave his only Son, so that everyone who believes in him may not be lost
 but may have eternal life.
 For God sent his Son into the world 17
 not to condemn the world,
 but so that through him the world might be saved.
 No one who believes in him will be condemned; 18
 but whoever refuses to believe is condemned already, because he has refused to believe in the name of God's only Son.
 On these grounds is sentence pronounced: 19 that though the light has come into the world men have shown they prefer darkness to the light
 because their deeds were evil.
 And indeed, everybody who does wrong 20
 hates the light and avoids it, for fear his actions should be exposed;
 but the man who lives by the truth 21
 comes out into the light, so that it may be plainly seen that what he does is done in God.'

JOURNEYS IN SAMARIA AND GALILEE

John bears witness for the last time

After this, Jesus went with his disciples into the Judaeon countryside and 22 stayed with them there and baptised. •At the same time John was baptising at 23 Aenon<sup>a</sup> near Salim, where there was plenty of water, and people were going there to be baptised. •This was before John had been put in prison. 24
 Now some of John's disciples had opened a discussion with a Jew about 25 purification, •so they went to John and said, 'Rabbi, the man who was with 26 you on the far side of the Jordan, the man to whom you bore witness, is baptising now; and everyone is going to him'. •John replied: 27

'A man can lay claim only to what is given him from heaven.

'You yourselves can bear me out: I said: I myself am not the Christ; I am 28
 the one who has been sent in front of him.

'The bride is only for the bridegroom; 29
 and yet the bridegroom's friend, who stands there and listens,
 is glad when he hears the bridegroom's voice.
 This same joy I feel, and now it is complete.
 He must grow greater, 30
 I must grow smaller.
 He who comes from above 31
 is above all others;
 he who is born of the earth is earthly himself and speaks in an earthly way.
 He who comes from heaven
 bears witness to the things he has seen and heard, 32
 even if his testimony is not accepted;
 though all who do accept his testimony 33

are attesting the truthfulness of God, 34 since he whom God has sent speaks God's own words:
 God gives him the Spirit without reserve.
 35 The Father loves the Son and has entrusted everything to him.
 36 Anyone who believes in the Son has eternal life, but anyone who refuses to believe in the Son will never see life:
 the anger of God stays on him.'

The saviour of the world revealed to the Samaritans

1 4 When Jesus heard that the Pharisees had found out that he was making
 2 and baptising more disciples than John—though in fact it was his disciples
 3 who baptised, not Jesus himself—he left Judaea and went back to Galilee.
 4 This meant that he had to cross Samaria.

5 On the way he came to the Samaritan town called Sychar,<sup>a</sup> near the land
 6 that Jacob gave to his son Joseph. 'Jacob's well is there and Jesus, tired by the 7 journey, sat straight down by the well. It was about the sixth hour.'<sup>b</sup> 'When a Samaritan woman came to draw water, Jesus said to her, 'Give me a drink'.
 8 His disciples had gone into the town to buy food. 'The Samaritan woman said
 9 to him, 'What? You are a Jew and you ask me, a Samaritan, for a drink?'—Jews, 10 in fact, do not associate with Samaritans. 'Jesus replied:

'If you only knew what God is offering and who it is that is saying to you:
 Give me a drink,
 you would have been the one to ask,
 and he would have given you living water'.

11 'You have no bucket, sir,' she answered 'and the well is deep: how could 12 you get this living water? 'Are you a greater man than our father Jacob who 13 gave us this well and drank from it himself with his sons and his cattle?' 'Jesus replied:

14 'Whoever drinks this water will get thirsty again;
 but anyone who drinks the water that I shall give will never be thirsty again:
 the water that I shall give will turn into a spring inside him, welling up to eternal life'.

15 'Sir,' said the woman 'give me some of that water, so that I may never get 16 thirsty and never have to come here again to draw water.' 'Go and call your 17 husband' said Jesus to her 'and come back here.' 'The woman answered, 'I have 18 no husband'. He said to her, 'You are right to say, "I have no husband"; 'for although you have had five, the one you have now is not your husband. You 19 spoke the truth there.' 'I see you are a prophet, sir' said the woman. 'Our 20 fathers worshipped on this mountain,' while you say that Jerusalem is the place
 21 where one ought to worship.' 'Jesus said:

22 'Believe me, woman, the hour is coming when you will worship the Father neither on this mountain nor in Jerusalem.
 You worship what you do not know;
 we worship what we do know;

3 a. A tradition locates Aenon ('Springs') in the Jordan valley 7 m. from Scythopolis.

4 a. Either Shechem (Aramaic: Sichara), or Askar at the foot of Mt Ebal. 'Jacob's Well' is not mentioned in Gn. b. Noon. c. Gerizim, the mountain on which the Samaritans built a rival to the Jerusalem Temple: it was destroyed by Hyrcanus, 129 B.C.

for salvation comes from the Jews.

But the hour will come—in fact it is here already— 23 when true worshippers will worship the Father in spirit and truth:
 that is the kind of worshipper
 the Father wants.
 God is spirit, 24
 and those who worship
 must worship in spirit and truth.'

The woman said to him, 'I know that Messiah—that is, Christ—is coming; 25 and when he comes he will tell us everything'. •'I who am speaking to you,' 26 said Jesus 'I am he.'

At this point his disciples returned, and were surprised to find him speaking 27 to a woman, though none of them asked, 'What do you want from her?' or,
 'Why are you talking to her?' •The woman put down her water jar and hurried 28 back to the town to tell the people. •'Come and see a man who has told me 29 everything I ever did; I wonder if he is the Christ?' •This brought people out of 30 the town and they started walking towards him.

Meanwhile, the disciples were urging him, 'Rabbi, do have something to 31 eat'; •but he said, 'I have food to eat that you do not know about'. •So the 32 disciples asked one another, 'Has someone been bringing him food?' •But Jesus 33 said: 34

'My food
 is to do the will of the one who sent me,
 and to complete his work.
 Have you not got a saying: 35
 Four months and then the harvest?
 Well, I tell you:
 Look around you, look at the fields;
 already they are white, ready for harvest!
 Already •the reaper is being paid his wages, 36 already he is bringing in the grain for eternal life, and thus sower and reaper rejoice together.
 For here the proverb holds good: 37
 one sows, another reaps;
 I sent you to reap 38
 a harvest you had not worked for.
 Others worked for it;
 and you have come into the rewards of their trouble.'

Many Samaritans of that town had believed in him on the strength of the 39 woman's testimony when she said, 'He told me all I have ever done', •so, when 40 the Samaritans came up to him, they begged him to stay with them. He stayed for two days, and •when he spoke to them many more came to believe; •and 41 they said to the woman, 'Now we no longer believe because of what you told us;
 we have heard him ourselves and we know that he really is the saviour of the 42 world'.

The cure of the nobleman's son

When the two days were over Jesus left for Galilee. •He himself had declared 43 that there is no respect for a prophet in his own country, •but on his arrival the 44 Galileans received him well, having seen all that he had done at Jerusalem during the festival which they too had attended.

He went again to Cana in Galilee, where he had changed the water into wine. 46
 Now there was a court official there whose son was ill at Capernaum •and, 47 hearing that Jesus had arrived in Galilee from Judaea, he went and asked him to come and cure his son as he was at the point of death. •Jesus said, 'So you will 48

49 not believe unless you see signs and portents!' •'Sir,' answered the official 'come 50 down before my child dies.' •'Go home,' said Jesus 'your son will live.' The man 51 believed what Jesus had said and started on his way; •and while he was still on 52 the journey back his servants met him with the news that his boy was alive. •He 53 asked them when the boy had begun to recover. 'The fever left him yesterday'
54 they said 'at the seventh hour.' •The father realised that this was exactly the time when Jesus had said, 'Your son will live'; and he and all his household believed.
54 This was the second sign given by Jesus, on his return from Judaea to Galilee.

THE SECOND FEAST AT JERUSALEM

The cure of a sick man at the Pool of Bethzatha

1 Some time after this there was a Jewish festival, and Jesus went up to Jeru-2 salem. •Now at the Sheep Pool in Jerusalem there is a building, called Beth-3 zatha in Hebrew, consisting of five porticos; •and under these were crowds of 4 sick people—blind, lame, paralysed—waiting for the water to move; •for at intervals the angel of the Lord came down into the pool, and the water was 5 disturbed, and the first person to enter the water after this disturbance was cured
6 of any ailment he suffered from. •One man there had an illness which had lasted 7 thirty-eight years, •and when Jesus saw him lying there and knew he had been in 8 this condition for a long time, he said, 'Do you want to be well again?' •'Sir,' 9 replied the sick man 'I have no one to put me into the pool when the water is disturbed; and while I am still on the way, someone else gets there before me.' 10 Jesus said, 'Get up, pick up your sleeping-mat and walk'. •The man was cured at once, and he picked up his mat and walked away.
10 Now that day happened to be the sabbath, •so the Jews said to the man who had been cured, 'It is the sabbath; you are not allowed to carry your sleeping-11 mat'. •He replied, 'But the man who cured me told me, "Pick up your mat and 12 walk"'. •They asked, 'Who is the man who said to you, "Pick up your mat and 13 walk"?' •The man had no idea who it was, since Jesus had disappeared into the 14 crowd that filled the place. •After a while Jesus met him in the Temple and said,
'Now you are well again, be sure not to sin any more, or something worse may 15 happen to you'. •The man went back and told the Jews that it was Jesus who 16 had cured him. •It was because he did things like this on the sabbath that the 17 Jews began to persecute Jesus. •His answer to them was, 'My Father goes on 18 working, and so do I'. •But that only made the Jews even more intent on killing him, because, not content with breaking the sabbath, he spoke of God as his own Father, and so made himself God's equal.
19 To this accusation Jesus replied:

20 'I tell you most solemnly,
the Son can do nothing by himself;
he can do only what he sees the Father doing;
and whatever the Father does the Son does too.
20 For the Father loves the Son and shows him everything he does himself, and he will show him even greater things than these,
works that will astonish you.
21 Thus, as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, so the Son gives life to anyone he chooses;
22 for the Father judges no one;
he has entrusted all judgement to the Son, 23 so that all may honour the Son
as they honour the Father.
Whoever refuses honour to the Son refuses honour to the Father who sent him.

I tell you most solemnly, whoever listens to my words, and believes in the one who sent me, has eternal life; without being brought to judgement he has passed from death to life.	24
I tell you most solemnly, the hour will come—in fact it is here already— when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and all who hear it will live.	25
For the Father, who is the source of life, has made the Son the source of life; and, because he is the Son of Man, has appointed him supreme judge.	26
Do not be surprised at this, for the hour is coming when the dead will leave their graves at the sound of his voice:	27
those who did good will rise again to life; and those who did evil, to condemnation.	28
I can do nothing by myself; I can only judge as I am told to judge, and my judging is just, because my aim is to do not my own will, but the will of him who sent me.	29
‘Were I to testify on my own behalf, my testimony would not be valid; but there is another witness who can speak on my behalf, and I know that his testimony is valid.	30
You sent messengers to John, and he gave his testimony to the truth: not that I depend on human testimony; no, it is for your salvation that I speak of this.	31
John was a lamp alight and shining and for a time you were content to enjoy the light that he gave. But my testimony is greater than John’s: the works my Father has given me to carry out, these same works of mine testify that the Father has sent me.	32
Besides, the Father who sent me bears witness to me himself. You have never heard his voice, you have never seen his shape, and his word finds no home in you because you do not believe in the one he has sent.	33
‘You study the scriptures, believing that in them you have eternal life; now these same scriptures testify to me, and yet you refuse to come to me for life!	34
As for human approval, this means nothing to me. Besides, I know you too well: you have no love of God in you. I have come in the name of my Father	35
	36

and you refuse to accept me;
if someone else comes in his own name
you will accept him.

- 44 How can you believe,
since you look to one another for approval and are not concerned with the approval that comes from the one God?
- 45 Do not imagine that I am going to accuse you before the Father:
you place your hopes on Moses,
and Moses will be your accuser.
- 46 If you really believed him
you would believe me too, since it was I that he was writing about;
- 47 but if you refuse to believe what he wrote,
how can you believe what I say?'

ANOTHER PASSOVER, THE BREAD OF LIFE

The miracle of the loaves

- 1 6 Some time after this, Jesus went off to the other side of the Sea of Galilee—
2 or of Tiberias—and a large crowd followed him, impressed by the signs he 3 gave by curing the sick. •Jesus climbed the hillside, and sat down there with his 4 disciples. •It was shortly before the Jewish feast of Passover.
- 5 Looking up, Jesus saw the crowds approaching and said to Philip, 'Where 6 can we buy some bread for these people to eat?' •He only said this to test Philip;
7 he himself knew exactly what he was going to do. •Philip answered, 'Two hundred 8 denarii would only buy enough to give them a small piece each'. •One of his 9 disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, said, •'There is a small boy here
10 with five barley loaves and two fish; but what is that between so many?' •Jesus 11 said to them, 'Make the people sit down'. There was plenty of grass there, and 12 as many as five thousand men sat down. •Then Jesus took the loaves, gave 13 thanks, and gave them out to all who were sitting ready; he then did the same with 14 the fish, giving out as much as was wanted. •When they had eaten enough he 15 said to the disciples, 'Pick up the pieces left over, so that nothing gets wasted'.
16 So they picked them up, and filled twelve hampers with scraps left over from the 17 meal of five barley loaves. •The people, seeing this sign that he had given, said, 18 'This really is the prophet who is to come into the world'. •Jesus, who could see 19 they were about to come and take him by force and make him king, escaped 20 back to the hills by himself.

Jesus walks on the waters

- 16 That evening the disciples went down to the shore of the lake and •got into 17 a boat to make for Capernaum on the other side of the lake. It was getting 18 dark by now and Jesus had still not rejoined them. •The wind was strong, and 19 the sea was getting rough. •They had rowed three or four miles when they saw 20 Jesus walking on the lake and coming towards the boat. This frightened them, 21 but he said, 'It is I. Do not be afraid.' •They were for taking him into the boat, but in no time it reached the shore at the place they were making for.

The discourse in the synagogue at Capernaum

- 22 Next day, the crowd that had stayed on the other side saw that only one boat 23 had been there, and that Jesus had not got into the boat with his disciples, but 24 that the disciples had set off by themselves. •Other boats, however, had put in from Tiberias, near the place where the bread had been eaten. •When the people saw that neither Jesus nor his disciples were there, they got into those boats and crossed to Capernaum to look for Jesus. •When they found him on the other side, they said to him, 'Rabbi, when did you come here?' •Jesus answered:

'I tell you most solemnly,
 you are not looking for me because you have seen the signs
 but because you had all the bread you wanted to eat.
 Do not work for food that cannot last, 27
 but work for food that endures to eternal life, the kind of food the Son of Man is offering you, for on him the Father, God himself, has set his seal.'

Then they said to him, 'What must we do if we are to do the works that God wants?' •Jesus gave them this answer, 'This is working for God: you must believe in the one he has sent'. •So they said, 'What sign will you give to show us that we should believe in you? What work will you do?' •Our fathers had manna to eat in the desert; as scripture says: He gave them bread from heaven to eat.'<sup>a</sup>

Jesus answered: 32

'I tell you most solemnly,
 it was not Moses who gave you bread from heaven,
 it is my Father who gives you the bread from heaven,
 the true bread;
 for the bread of God 33
 is that which comes down from heaven and gives life to the world'.

'Sir,' they said 'give us that bread always.' •Jesus answered: 34

'I am the bread of life.
 He who comes to me will never be hungry;
 he who believes in me will never thirst.
 But, as I have told you, 36
 you can see me and still you do not believe.
 All that the Father gives me will come to me, 37
 and whoever comes to me
 I shall not turn him away;
 because I have come from heaven, 38
 not to do my own will,
 but to do the will of the one who sent me.
 Now the will of him who sent me 39 is that I should lose nothing of all that he has given to me, and that I should raise it up on the last day.
 Yes, it is my Father's will 40 that whoever sees the Son and believes in him shall have eternal life, and that I shall raise him up on the last day.'

Meanwhile the Jews were complaining to each other about him, because he had said, 'I am the bread that came down from heaven'. •'Surely this is Jesus son of Joseph' they said. 'We know his father and mother. How can he now say, "I have come down from heaven"?' •Jesus said in reply, 'Stop complaining to each other. 41

'No one can come to me 44
 unless he is drawn by the Father who sent me, and I will raise him up at the last day.'

- 45 It is written in the prophets:
They will all be taught by God,<sup>b</sup>
 and to hear the teaching of the Father, and learn from it,
 is to come to me.
- 46 Not that anybody has seen the Father, except the one who comes from God:
 he has seen the Father.
- 47 I tell you most solemnly,
 everybody who believes has eternal life.
- 48 I am the bread of life.
- 49 Your fathers ate the manna in the desert and they are dead;
 50 but this is the bread that comes down from heaven,
 so that a man may eat it and not die.
- 51 I am the living bread which has come down from heaven.
 Anyone who eats this bread will live for ever;
 and the bread that I shall give is my flesh, for the life of the world.'
- 52 Then the Jews started arguing with one another: 'How can this man give 53 us his flesh to eat?' they said. •Jesus replied:
- 'I tell you most solemnly,
 if you do not eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood,
 you will not have life in you.
- 54 Anyone who does eat my flesh and drink my blood has eternal life,
 and I shall raise him up on the last day.
- 55 For my flesh is real food and my blood is real drink.
- 56 He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood lives in me and I live in him.
- 57 As I, who am sent by the living Father, myself draw life from the Father,
 so whoever eats me will draw life from me.
- 58 This is the bread come down from heaven;
 not like the bread our ancestors ate:
 they are dead,
 but anyone who eats this bread will live for ever.'
- 59 He taught this doctrine at Capernaum, in the synagogue. •After hearing it, 60 many of his followers said, 'This is intolerable language. How could anyone 61 accept it?' •Jesus was aware that his followers were complaining about it and 62 said, 'Does this upset you? •What if you should see the Son of Man ascend to where he was before?
- 63 'It is the spirit that gives life,
 the flesh has nothing to offer.
 The words I have spoken to you are spirit and they are life.
- 64 'But there are some of you who do not believe.' For Jesus knew from the outset 65 those who did not believe, and who it was that would betray him. •He went on,

'This is why I told you that no one could come to me unless the Father allows him'. •After this, many of his disciples left him and stopped going with him. 66

Peter's profession of faith

Then Jesus said to the Twelve, 'What about you, do you want to go away too?' 67 Simon Peter answered, 'Lord, who shall we go to? You have the message of 68 eternal life, • and we believe; we know that you are the Holy One of God.' 69
 Jesus replied, 'Have I not chosen you, you Twelve? Yet one of you is a devil.' 70
 He meant Judas son of Simon Iscariot, since this was the man, one of the Twelve, 71 who was going to betray him.

THE FEAST OF TABERNACLES

Jesus goes up to Jerusalem for the feast and teaches there

7 After this Jesus stayed in Galilee; he could not stay in Judaea, because the 1
 Jews were out to kill him.

As the Jewish feast of Tabernacles drew near, •his brothers<sup>a</sup> said to him, 2
 'Why not leave this place and go to Judaea, and let your disciples<sup>b</sup> see the works 3
 you are doing; •if a man wants to be known he does not do things in secret; since 4 you are doing all this, you should let the whole world see'. •Not even his brothers, 5 in fact, had faith in him. •Jesus answered, 'The right time for me has not come yet, 6 but any time is the right time for you. •The world cannot hate you, but it does 7 hate me, because I give evidence that its ways are evil. •Go up to the festival 8 yourselves: I am not going to this festival, because for me the time is not ripe 9 yet.' • Having said that, he stayed behind in Galilee.

However, after his brothers had left for the festival, he went up as well, but 10 quite privately, without drawing attention to himself. •At the festival the Jews 11 were on the look-out for him: 'Where is he?' they said. •People stood in groups 12 whispering<sup>c</sup> about him. Some said, 'He is a good man'; others, 'No, he is leading 13 the people astray'. •Yet no one spoke about him openly, for fear of the Jews.

When the festival was half over, Jesus went to the Temple and began to 14 teach. •The Jews were astonished and said, 'How did he learn to read? He has 15 not been taught.' •Jesus answered them: 16

'My teaching is not from myself:
 it comes from the one who sent me;
 and if anyone is prepared to do his will, 17
 he will know whether my teaching is from God or whether my doctrine is my own.
 When a man's doctrine is his own 18
 he is hoping to get honour for himself;
 but when he is working for the honour of one who sent him, then he is sincere
 and by no means an impostor.
 Did not Moses give you the Law? 19
 And yet not one of you keeps the Law!

'Why do you want to kill me?' •The crowd replied, 'You are mad! Who wants 20 to kill you?' •Jesus answered, 'One work I did, and you are all surprised by it. 21
 Moses ordered you to practise circumcision—not that it began with him, it goes 22 back to the patriarchs—and you circumcise on the sabbath. •Now if a man 23 can be circumcised on the sabbath so that the Law of Moses is not broken, why are you angry with me for making a man whole and complete on a sabbath?
 Do not keep judging according to appearances; let your judgement be according 24 to what is right.'

The people discuss the origin of the Messiah

25 Meanwhile some of the people of Jerusalem were saying, 'Isn't this the man 26 they want to kill? •And here he is, speaking freely, and they have nothing to say to him! Can it be true the authorities have made up their minds that he is 27 the Christ? •Yet we all know where he comes from, but when the Christ appears no one will know where he comes from.'<sup>d</sup>

28 Then, as Jesus taught in the Temple, he cried out:

'Yes, you know me and you know where I came from.
Yet I have not come of myself:
no, there is one who sent me and I really come from him,
and you do not know him, 29 but I know him
because I have come from him and it was he who sent me.'

30 They would have arrested him then, but because his time had not yet come no one laid a hand on him.

Jesus foretells his approaching departure

31 There were many people in the crowds, however, who believed in him; they were saying, 'When the Christ comes, will he give more signs than this man?' 32 Hearing that rumours like this about him were spreading among the people, the Pharisees sent the Temple police to arrest him.

33 Then Jesus said:

'I shall remain with you for only a short time now;
then I shall go back to the one who sent me.
34 You will look for me and will not find me:
where I am
you cannot come.'

35 The Jews then said to one another, 'Where is he going that we shan't be able to find him? Is he going abroad to the people who are dispersed among 36 the Greeks and will he teach the Greeks? •What does he mean when he says:

"You will look for me and will not find me:
where I am,
you cannot come"?)'

The promise of living water

37 On the last day and greatest day of the festival, Jesus stood there and cried out:

'If any man is thirsty, let him come to me!
38 Let the man come and drink •who believes in me!'

As scripture says, From his breast shall flow fountains of living water.<sup>e</sup>

39 He was speaking of the Spirit which those who believed in him were to receive; for there was no Spirit as yet because Jesus had not yet been glorified.

Fresh discussions on the origin of the Messiah

40 Several people who had been listening said, 'Surely he must be the prophet', 41 and some said, 'He is the Christ', but others said, 'Would the Christ be from

Although the prophecy that the Messiah would be born in Bethlehem was well known, it was commonly believed that he would appear suddenly from some secret place. e. Life-giving water for Zion was a theme of the readings from scripture on the feast of Tabernacles (Zc 14:8, Ezk 47:1f); the liturgy included prayers for rain and the commemoration of the miracle of Moses and the water, Ex 17.

Galilee? •Does not scripture say that the Christ must be descended from David 42 and come from the town of Bethlehem? •So the people could not agree about 43 him. •Some would have liked to arrest him, but no one actually laid hands on 44
him.

The police went back to the chief priests and Pharisees who said to them, 45
‘Why haven’t you brought him?’ •The police replied, ‘There has never been 46 anybody who has spoken like him’. •‘So’ the Pharisees answered ‘you have been 47 led astray as well? •Have any of the authorities believed in him? Any of the 48
Pharisees? •This rabble knows nothing about the Law—they are damned.’ 49
One of them, Nicodemus—the same man who had come to Jesus earlier—said to 50 them, •‘But surely the Law does not allow us to pass judgement on a man without 51 giving him a hearing and discovering what he is about?’ •To this they answered, 52 ‘Are you a Galilean too? Go into the matter, and see for yourself: prophets do not come out of Galilee.’

The adulterous woman<sup>1</sup>

They all went home, 8 and Jesus went to the Mount of Olives. 53

At daybreak he appeared in the Temple again; and as all the people came 1 to him, he sat down and began to teach them. 2

The scribes and Pharisees brought a woman along who had been caught 3 committing adultery; and making her stand there in full view of everybody, they said to Jesus, ‘Master, this woman was caught in the very act of committing 4 adultery, •and Moses has ordered us in the Law to condemn women like this to 5 death by stoning. What have you to say?’ •They asked him this as a test, looking 6 for something to use against him. But Jesus bent down and started writing on the ground with his finger. •As they persisted with their question, he looked 7 up and said, ‘If there is one of you who has not sinned, let him be the first to throw a stone at her’. •Then he bent down and wrote on the ground again. 8
When they heard this they went away one by one, beginning with the eldest, 9 until Jesus was left alone with the woman, who remained standing there. •He 10 looked up and said, ‘Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you?’
‘No one, sir’ she replied. ‘Neither do I condemn you,’ said Jesus ‘go away, and 11 don’t sin any more.’

Jesus, the light of the world

When Jesus spoke to the people again, he said: 12

‘I am the light of the world;
anyone who follows me will not be walking in the dark;
he will have the light of life’.

A discussion on the testimony of Jesus to himself

At this the Pharisees said to him, ‘You are testifying on your own behalf; 13 your testimony is not valid’. •Jesus replied: 14

‘It is true that I am testifying on my own behalf, but my testimony is still valid,
because I know
where I came from and where I am going;
but you do not know where I come from or where I am going.
You judge by human standards; 15
I judge no one,
but if I judge, 16
my judgement will be sound,
because I am not alone:
the one who sent me is with me;
and in your Law it is written 17

that the testimony of two witnesses is valid.

18 I may be testifying on my own behalf,
but the Father who sent me is my witness too.'

19 They asked him, 'Where is your Father?' Jesus answered:

'You do not know me, nor do you know my Father;
if you did know me, you would know my Father as well'.

20 He spoke these words in the Treasury, while teaching in the Temple. No one arrested him, because his time had not yet come.

The unbelieving Jews warned

21 Again he said to them:

'I am going away; you will look for me and you will die in your sin.
Where I am going, you cannot come.'

22 The Jews said to one another, 'Will he kill himself? Is that what he means by 23 saying, "Where I am going, you cannot come"?' •Jesus went on:

'You are from below;
I am from above.
You are of this world;
I am not of this world.

24 I have told you already: You will die in your sins.
Yes, if you do not believe that I am He,
you will die in your sins.'

25 So they said to him, 'Who are you?' Jesus answered:

'What I have told you from the outset.
26 About you I have much to say and much to condemn;
but the one who sent me is truthful,
and what I have learnt from him
I declare to the world.'

27 They failed to understand that he was talking to them about the Father.
28 So Jesus said:

'When you have lifted up the Son of Man, then you will know that I am He and that I do nothing of myself:
what the Father has taught me is what I preach;
29 he who sent me is with me,
and has not left me to myself,
for I always do what pleases him'.

30 As he was saying this, many came to believe in him.

Jesus and Abraham

31 To the Jews who believed in him Jesus said:

'If you make my word your home
you will indeed be my disciples, 32 you will learn the truth
and the truth will make you free'.

7 f. The author of this passage is not John; the oldest MSS do not include it or place it elsewhere. The style is that of the Synoptics.

They answered, 'We are descended from Abraham and we have never been the slaves of anyone; what do you mean, "You will be made free"?' •Jesus replied:

'I tell you most solemnly,
everyone who commits sin is a slave.
Now the slave's place in the house is not assured,
but the son's place is assured.
So if the Son makes you free,
you will be free indeed.
I know that you are descended from Abraham;
but in spite of that you want to kill me because nothing I say has penetrated into you.
What I, for my part, speak of is what I have seen with my Father;
but you, you put into action
the lessons learnt from your father.'

They repeated, 'Our father is Abraham'. Jesus said to them:

'If you were Abraham's children,
you would do as Abraham did.
As it is, you want to kill me when I tell you the truth as I have learnt it from God;
that is not what Abraham did.
What you are doing is what your father does.'

'We were not born of prostitution,' they went on 'we have one father: God.'
Jesus answered:

'If God were your father, you would love me,
since I have come here from God; yes, I have come from him;
not that I came because I chose,
no, I was sent, and by him.
Do you know why you cannot take in what I say?
It is because you are unable to understand my language.
The devil is your father,
and you prefer to do
what your father wants.
He was a murderer from the start;
he was never grounded in the truth;
there is no truth in him at all:
when he lies
he is drawing on his own store,
because he is a liar, and the father of lies.
But as for me, I speak the truth and for that very reason,
you do not believe me.
Can one of you convict me of sin?
If I speak the truth, why do you not believe me?
A child of God listens to the words of God;
if you refuse to listen,
it is because you are not God's children.'

The Jews replied, 'Are we not right in saying that you are a Samaritan and possessed by a devil?' •Jesus answered:

'I am not possessed;
no, I honour my Father,
but you want to dishonour me.'

50 Not that I care for my own glory, there is someone who takes care of that and is the judge of it.
51 I tell you most solemnly, whoever keeps my word
will never see death.'

52 The Jews said, 'Now we know for certain that you are possessed. Abraham is dead, and the prophets are dead, and yet you say, "Whoever keeps my word 53 will never know the taste of death". Are you greater than our father Abraham, 54 who is dead? The prophets are dead too. Who are you claiming to be?' Jesus answered:

'If I were to seek my own glory that would be no glory at all;
my glory is conferred by the Father,
by the one of whom you say, "He is our God" 55 although you do not know him.
But I know him,
and if I were to say: I do not know him,
I should be a liar, as you are liars yourselves.
But I do know him, and I faithfully keep his word.
56 Your father Abraham rejoiced to think that he would see my Day;
he saw it and was glad.'

57 The Jews then said, 'You are not fifty yet, and you have seen Abraham!'
58 Jesus replied:

'I tell you most solemnly,
before Abraham ever was,
I Am'.

59 At this they picked up stones to throw at him;<sup>b</sup> but Jesus hid himself and left the Temple.

The cure of the man born blind

<sup>1</sup> 9 As he went along, he saw a man who had been blind from birth. His disciples asked him, 'Rabbi, who sinned, this man or his parents, for him to have been 3 born blind?' 'Neither he nor his parents sinned,' Jesus answered 'he was born blind so that the works of God might be displayed in him.

4 'As long as the day lasts
I must carry out the work of the one who sent me;
the night will soon be here when no one can work.
5 As long as I am in the world
I am the light of the world.'

6 Having said this, he spat on the ground, made a paste with the spittle, put 7 this over the eyes of the blind man. and said to him, 'Go and wash in the Pool of Siloam' (a name that means 'sent'). So the blind man went off and washed himself, and came away with his sight restored.

8 His neighbours and people who earlier had seen him begging said, 'Isn't 9 this the man who used to sit and beg?' 'Some said, 'Yes, it is the same one'.
Others said, 'No, he only looks like him'. The man himself said, 'I am the man'.
10 So they said to him, 'Then how do your eyes come to be open?' 'The man called 11 Jesus' he answered 'made a paste, daubed my eyes with it and said to me, "Go

<sup>8</sup> a. By 'prostitution' the prophets often mean religious infidelity, cf. Ho 1:2. b. Stoning was the penalty for blasphemy. Cf. 10:33.

blessing.

and wash at Siloam"; so I went, and when I washed I could see.' •They asked, 12
 'Where is he?' 'I don't know' he answered.

They brought the man who had been blind to the Pharisees. •It had been a 13 sabbath day when Jesus made the paste and opened the man's eyes, •so when 14
 the Pharisees asked him how he had come to see, he said, 'He put a paste on 15 my eyes, and I washed, and I can see'. •Then some of the Pharisees said, 'This 16 man cannot be from God: he does not keep the sabbath'. Others said, 'How 17 could a sinner produce signs like this?' And there was disagreement among them.
 So they spoke to the blind man again, 'What have you to say about him yourself, 17 now that he has opened your eyes?' 'He is a prophet' replied the man.

However, the Jews would not believe that the man had been blind and had 18 gained his sight, without first sending for his parents and •asking them, 'Is this 19 man really your son who you say was born blind? If so, how is it that he is now 20 able to see?' •His parents answered, 'We know he is our son and we know he 21 was born blind, •but we don't know how it is that he can see now, or who 22 opened his eyes. He is old enough: let him speak for himself.' •His parents 23 spoke like this out of fear of the Jews, who had already agreed to expel from the synagogue anyone who should acknowledge Jesus as the Christ. •This was why 23 his parents said, 'He is old enough; ask him'.

So the Jews again sent for the man and said to him, 'Give glory to God!' 24
 For our part, we know that this man is a sinner.' •The man answered, 'I don't 25 know if he is a sinner; I only know that I was blind and now I can see'. •They 26 said to him, 'What did he do to you? How did he open your eyes?' •He replied, 27
 'I have told you once and you wouldn't listen. Why do you want to hear it all again? Do you want to become his disciples too?' •At this they hurled abuse 28 at him: 'You can be his disciple,' they said 'we are disciples of Moses: •we 29 know that God spoke to Moses, but as for this man, we don't know where he comes from'. •The man replied, 'Now here is an astonishing thing! He has 30 opened my eyes, and you don't know where he comes from! •We know that God 31 doesn't listen to sinners, but God does listen to men who are devout and do his will. •Ever since the world began it is unheard of for anyone to open the eyes 32 of a man who was born blind; •if this man were not from God, he couldn't do 33 a thing.' •'Are you trying to teach us,' they replied 'and you a sinner through 34 and through, since you were born!' And they drove him away.

Jesus heard they had driven him away, and when he found him he said to 35 him, 'Do you believe in the Son of Man?' •'Sir,' the man replied 'tell me who 36
 he is so that I may believe in him.' •Jesus said, 'You are looking at him; he is 37 speaking to you'. • The man said, 'Lord, I believe', and worshipped him. 38

Jesus said: 39

'It is for judgement
 that I have come into this world, so that those without sight may see and those with sight turn blind'.

Hearing this, some Pharisees who were present said to him, 'We are not blind, 40 surely?' •Jesus replied: 41

'Blind? If you were,
 you would not be guilty,
 but since you say, "We see",
 your guilt remains.

The good shepherd

10 'I tell you most solemnly, anyone who does not enter the sheepfold 1 through the gate, but gets in some other way is a thief and a brigand. 2
 The one who enters through the gate is the shepherd of the flock; •the 3 gatekeeper lets him in, the sheep hear his voice, one by one he calls his 3

4 own sheep and leads them out. •When he has brought out his flock, he goes 5 ahead of them, and the sheep follow because they know his voice. •They never follow a stranger but run away from him: they do not recognise the voice of strangers.’

6 Jesus told them<sup>a</sup> this parable but they failed to understand what he meant by telling it to them.

7 So Jesus spoke to them again:

‘I tell you most solemnly,
I am the gate of the sheepfold.

8 All others who have come are thieves and brigands;
but the sheep took no notice of them.

9 I am the gate.

Anyone who enters through me will be safe:
he will go freely in and out and be sure of finding pasture.

10 The thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy.

I have come
so that they may have life and have it to the full.

11 I am the good shepherd:

the good shepherd is one who lays down his life for his sheep.

12 The hired man, since he is not the shepherd and the sheep do not belong to him, abandons the sheep and runs away
as soon as he sees a wolf coming,
and then the wolf attacks and scatters the sheep;
13 this is because he is only a hired man and has no concern for the sheep.

14 I am the good shepherd;

I know my own
and my own know me,
just as the Father knows me and I know the Father;
and I lay down my life for my sheep.

16 And there are other sheep I have that are not of this fold,
and these I have to lead as well.
They too will listen to my voice,
and there will be only one flock,
and one shepherd.

17 The Father loves me, because I lay down my life
in order to take it up again.

18 No one takes it from me;
I lay it down of my own free will,
and as it is in my power to lay it down,
so it is in my power to take it up again;
and this is the command I have been given by my Father.’

19 These words caused disagreement among the Jews. •Many said, ‘He is 20 possessed, he is raving; why bother to listen to him?’ •Others said, ‘These are 21 not the words of a man possessed by a devil: could a devil open the eyes of the blind?’

THE FEAST OF DEDICATION

Jesus claims to be the Son of God

It was the time when the feast of Dedication was being celebrated in Jerusalem. 22
 It was winter, and Jesus was in the Temple walking up and down in the Portico 23 of Solomon. The Jews gathered round him and said, 'How much longer are 24 you going to keep us in suspense? If you are the Christ, tell us plainly.' Jesus 25 replied:

'I have told you, but you do not believe.
 The works I do in my Father's name are my witness;
 but you do not believe, 26
 because you are no sheep of mine.
 The sheep that belong to me listen to my voice; 27
 I know them and they follow me.
 I give them eternal life; 28
 they will never be lost
 and no one will ever steal them from me.
 The Father who gave them to me is greater than anyone, 29
 and no one can steal from the Father.
 The Father and I are one.' 30

The Jews fetched stones to stone him, so Jesus said to them, 'I have done 31 many good works for you to see, works from my Father; for which of these 32 are you stoning me?' The Jews answered him, 'We are not stoning you for doing 33 a good work but for blasphemy: you are only a man and you claim to be God'.
 Jesus answered: 34

'Is it not written in your Law:
I said, you are gods?<sup>b</sup>
 So the Law uses the word gods 35 of those to whom the word of God was addressed, and scripture cannot be rejected.
 Yet you say to someone the Father has consecrated and sent 36 into the world,
 "You are blaspheming",
 because he says, "I am the Son of God".
 If I am not doing my Father's work, 37
 there is no need to believe me;
 but if I am doing it, 38
 then even if you refuse to believe in me, at least believe in the work I do;
 then you will know for sure that the Father is in me and I am in the Father.'

They wanted to arrest him then, but he eluded them. 39

Jesus withdraws to the other side of the Jordan

He went back again to the far side of the Jordan to stay in the district where 40
 John had once been baptising. Many people who came to him there said, 'John 41 gave no signs, but all he said about this man was true'; and many of them 42 believed in him.

The resurrection of Lazarus

1 There was a man named Lazarus who lived in the village of Bethany with 1 the two sisters, Mary and Martha, and he was ill.—It was the same 2 Mary, the sister of the sick man Lazarus, who anointed the Lord with 3 ointment and wiped his feet with her hair. The sisters sent this message to 3

4 Jesus, 'Lord, the man you love is ill'. •On receiving the message, Jesus said, 'This sickness will end not in death but in God's glory, and through it the Son of God will be glorified'.

5 Jesus loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus, •yet when he heard that 6 Lazarus was ill he stayed where he was for two more days •before saying to the 7 disciples, 'Let us go to Judaea'. •The disciples said, 'Rabbi, it is not long since 8 the Jews wanted to stone you; are you going back again?' •Jesus replied:

'Are there not twelve hours in the day?

A man can walk in the daytime without stumbling because he has the light of this world to see by;

10 but if he walks at night he stumbles, because there is no light to guide him.'

11 He said that and then added, 'Our friend Lazarus is resting, I am going to 12 wake him'. •The disciples said to him, 'Lord, if he is able to rest he is sure to get 13 better'. •The phrase Jesus used referred to the death of Lazarus, but they thought 14 that by 'rest' he meant 'sleep', so •Jesus put it plainly, 'Lazarus is dead; •and 15 for your sake I am glad I was not there because now you will believe. But let 16 us go to him.' •Then Thomas—known as the Twin—said to the other disciples,
'Let us go too, and die with him'.

17 On arriving, Jesus found that Lazarus had been in the tomb for four days 18 already. •Bethany is only about two miles from Jerusalem, •and many Jews had 19 come to Martha and Mary to sympathise with them over their brother. •When 20 Martha heard that Jesus had come she went to meet him. Mary remained sitting 21 in the house. •Martha said to Jesus, 'If you had been here, my brother would 22 not have died, •but I know that, even now, whatever you ask of God, he will 23 grant you'. •'Your brother' said Jesus to her 'will rise again.' •Martha said, 24 'I know he will rise again at the resurrection on the last day'. •Jesus said:

'I am the resurrection.

If anyone believes in me, even though he dies he will live, and whoever lives and believes in me will never die.

26 Do you believe this?

27 'Yes, Lord,' she said 'I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, the one who was to come into this world.'

28 When she had said this, she went and called her sister Mary, saying in a low
29 voice, 'The Master is here and wants to see you'. •Hearing this, Mary got up 30 quickly and went to him. •Jesus had not yet come into the village; he was still 31 at the place where Martha had met him. •When the Jews who were in the house sympathising with Mary saw her get up so quickly and go out, they followed her, thinking that she was going to the tomb to weep there.

32 Mary went to Jesus, and as soon as she saw him she threw herself at his 33 feet, saying, 'Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died'. •At the sight of her tears, and those of the Jews who followed her, Jesus said in great 34 distress, with a sigh that came straight from the heart, •'Where have you put 35 him?' They said, 'Lord, come and see'. •Jesus wept; •and the Jews said, 'See 36 how much he loved him!' •But there were some who remarked, 'He opened the 37 eyes of the blind man, could he not have prevented this man's death?' •Still 38 sighing, Jesus reached the tomb: it was a cave with a stone to close the opening.
39 Jesus said, 'Take the stone away'. Martha said to him, 'Lord, by now he will 40 smell; this is the fourth day'. •Jesus replied, 'Have I not told you that if you 41 believe you will see the glory of God?' •So they took away the stone. Then Jesus lifted up his eyes and said:

'Father, I thank you for hearing my prayer.
I knew indeed that you always hear me,
but I speak
for the sake of all these who stand round me, so that they may believe it was you who sent me.'

42

When he had said this, he cried in a loud voice, 'Lazarus, here! Come out!' 43
The dead man came out, his feet and hands bound with bands of stuff and a 44 cloth round his face. Jesus said to them, 'Unbind him, let him go free'.

The Jewish leaders decide on the death of Jesus

Many of the Jews who had come to visit Mary and had seen what he did 45 believed in him, •but some of them went to tell the Pharisees what Jesus had 46 done. •Then the chief priests and Pharisees called a meeting. 'Here is this man 47 working all these signs' they said 'and what action are we taking?' •If we let 48 him go on in this way everybody will believe in him, and the Romans will come and destroy the Holy Place and our nation.' •One of them, Caiaphas, the 49 high priest that year, said, 'You don't seem to have grasped the situation at all;
you fail to see that it is better for one man to die for the people, than for the 50 whole nation to be destroyed'. •He did not speak in his own person, it was as 51 high priest that he made this prophecy that Jesus was to die for the nation—and not for the nation only, but to gather together in unity the scattered children 52 of God. •From that day they were determined to kill him. •So Jesus no longer 53 went about openly among the Jews, but left the district for a town called 54 Ephraim, in the country bordering on the desert, and stayed there with his disciples,

THE LAST PASSOVER

BEFORE THE PASSION

The Passover draws near

The Jewish Passover drew near, and many of the country people who had 55 gone up to Jerusalem to purify themselves •looked out for Jesus, saying to one 56 another as they stood about in the Temple, 'What do you think? Will he come to the festival or not?' •The chief priests and Pharisees had by now given their 57 orders: anyone who knew where he was must inform them so that they could arrest him.

The anointing at Bethany

12 Six days before the Passover, Jesus went to Bethany, where Lazarus 1 was, whom he had raised from the dead. •They gave a dinner for him 2 there; Martha waited on them and Lazarus was among those at table. •Mary 3 brought in a pound of very costly ointment, pure nard, and with it anointed the feet of Jesus, wiping them with her hair; the house was full of the scent of the ointment. •Then Judas Iscariot—one of his disciples, the man who was to betray 4 him—said, •'Why wasn't this ointment sold for three hundred denarii, and the 5 money given to the poor?' •He said this, not because he cared about the poor, 6 but because he was a thief; he was in charge of the common fund and used to help himself to the contributions. •So Jesus said, 'Leave her alone; she had to 7 keep this scent for the day of my burial. •You have the poor with you always, 8 you will not always have me.'

Meanwhile a large number of Jews heard that he was there and came not 9 only on account of Jesus but also to see Lazarus whom he had raised from the dead. •Then the chief priests decided to kill Lazarus as well, •since it was on his 10 account that many of the Jews were leaving them and believing in Jesus. 11

The Messiah enters Jerusalem

12 The next day the crowds who had come up for the festival heard that Jesus 13 was on his way to Jerusalem. •They took branches of palm and went out to 14 meet him, shouting, ‘Hosanna! Blessings on the King of Israel, who comes in the 15 name of the Lord.’<sup>a</sup> •Jesus found a young donkey and mounted it—as scripture 16 says: •Do not be afraid, daughter of Zion; see, your king is coming, mounted on 17 the colt of a donkey.<sup>b</sup> •At the time his disciples did not understand this, but later, 18 after Jesus had been glorified, they remembered that this had been written 19 about him and that this was in fact how they had received him. •All who had 20 been with him when he called Lazarus out of the tomb and raised him from the 21 dead were telling how they had witnessed it; •it was because of this, too, that 22 the crowd came out to meet him: they had heard that he had given this sign.
 23 Then the Pharisees said to one another, ‘You see, there is nothing you can do;
 look, the whole world is running after him!’

Jesus foretells his death and subsequent glorification

20 Among those who went up to worship at the festival were some Greeks.<sup>c</sup>
 21 These approached Philip, who came from Bethsaida in Galilee, and put this 22 request to him, ‘Sir, we should like to see Jesus’. •Philip went to tell Andrew, and Andrew and Philip together went to tell Jesus.
 23 Jesus replied to them:

‘Now the hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified.
 24 I tell you, most solemnly,
 unless a wheat grain falls on the ground and dies,
 it remains only a single grain;
 but if it dies,
 it yields a rich harvest.
 25 Anyone who loves his life loses it;
 anyone who hates his life in this world will keep it for the eternal life.
 26 If a man serves me, he must follow me, wherever I am, my servant will be there too.
 If anyone serves me, my Father will honour him.
 27 Now my soul is troubled.
 What shall I say:
 Father, save me from this hour?
 But it was for this very reason that I have come to this hour.
 28 Father, glorify your name!’

A voice came from heaven, ‘I have glorified it, and I will glorify it again’.

29 People standing by, who heard this, said it was a clap of thunder; others 30 said, ‘It was an angel speaking to him’. •Jesus answered, ‘It was not for my sake that this voice came, but for yours.

31 ‘Now sentence is being passed on this world;
 now the prince of this world is to be overthrown.<sup>d</sup> 32 And when I am lifted up from the earth,
 I shall draw all men to myself.’

33 By these words he indicated the kind of death he would die. •The crowd 34 answered, ‘The Law has taught us that the Christ will remain for ever. How can 35 you say, “The Son of Man must be lifted up”? Who is this Son of Man?’ •Jesus then said:

12 a. Ps 118:26 b. Zc 9:9f c. The ‘God-fearing men’ of Ac 10:2: converts who observed certain specific Mosaic observances. d. Satan.

'The light will be with you only a little longer now.
 Walk while you have the light,
 or the dark will overtake you;
 he who walks in the dark does not know where he is going.
 While you still have the light, believe in the light and you will become sons of light.'

Having said this, Jesus left them and kept himself hidden.

Conclusion: the unbelief of the Jews

Though they had been present when he gave so many signs, they did not believe in him; •this was to fulfil the words of the prophet Isaiah: Lord, who could believe what we have heard said, and to whom has the power of the Lord been revealed? •Indeed, they were unable to believe because, as Isaiah says again: •He has blinded their eyes, he has hardened their heart, for fear they should see with their eyes and understand with their heart, and turn to me for healing.<sup>1</sup>

Isaiah said this when he saw his glory,<sup>2</sup> and his words referred to Jesus.

And yet there were many who did believe in him, even among the leading men, but they did not admit it, through fear of the Pharisees and fear of being expelled from the synagogue: •they put honour from men before the honour that comes from God.

Jesus declared publicly:

'Whoever believes in me
 believes not in me
 but in the one who sent me,
 and whoever sees me,
 sees the one who sent me.
 I, the light, have come into the world,
 so that whoever believes in me need not stay in the dark any more.
 If anyone hears my words and does not keep them faithfully,
 it is not I who shall condemn him, since I have come not to condemn the world,
 but to save the world:
 he who rejects me and refuses my words
 has his judge already:
 the word itself that I have spoken will be his judge on the last day.
 For what I have spoken does not come from myself;
 no, what I was to say, what I had to speak,
 was commanded by the Father who sent me,
 and I know that his commands mean eternal life.
 And therefore what the Father has told me is what I speak.'

THE LAST SUPPER

Jesus washes his disciples' feet

13 It was before the festival of the Passover, and Jesus knew that the hour had come for him to pass from this world to the Father. He had always loved those who were his in the world, but now he showed how perfect his love was.

They were at supper, and the devil had already put it into the mind of Judas Iscariot son of Simon, to betray him. •Jesus knew that the Father had put everything into his hands, and that he had come from God and was returning

4 to God, and he got up from table, removed his outer garment and, taking a 5 towel, wrapped it round his waist; and he then poured water into a basin and began to wash the disciples' feet and to wipe them with the towel he was wearing.

6 He came to Simon Peter, who said to him, 'Lord, are you going to wash my 7 feet?' Jesus answered, 'At the moment you do not know what I am doing, but 8 later you will understand.' 'Never!' said Peter. 'You shall never wash my feet.'

Jesus replied, 'If I do not wash you, you can have nothing in common with me'.
9 'Then, Lord,' said Simon Peter 'not only my feet, but my hands and my head
10 as well!' Jesus said, 'No one who has taken a bath needs washing, he is clean 11 all over. You too are clean, though not all of you are.' He knew who was going to betray him, that was why he said, 'though not all of you are'.

12 When he had washed their feet and put on his clothes again he went back 13 to the table. 'Do you understand' he said 'what I have done to you? You call 14 me Master and Lord, and rightly; so I am. If I, then, the Lord and Master, 15 have washed your feet, you should wash each other's feet. I have given you an example so that you may copy what I have done to you.

16 'I tell you most solemnly,
no servant is greater than his master,
no messenger is greater than the man who sent him.

17 'Now that you know this, happiness will be yours if you behave accordingly.
18 I am not speaking about all of you: I know the ones I have chosen; but what scripture says must be fulfilled: Someone who shares my table rebels against me.<sup>b</sup>

19 'I tell you this now, before it happens, so that when it does happen
you may believe that I am He.
20 I tell you most solemnly,
whoever welcomes the one I send welcomes me,
and whoever welcomes me welcomes the one who sent me.'

The treachery of Judas foretold

21 Having said this, Jesus was troubled in spirit and declared, 'I tell you most 22 solemnly, one of you will betray me'. The disciples looked at one another, 23 wondering which he meant. The disciple Jesus loved was reclining next 24 to Jesus; Simon Peter signed to him and said, 'Ask who it is he means', so 25 leaning back on Jesus' breast he said, 'Who is it, Lord?' 'It is the one' replied 26 Jesus 'to whom I give the piece of bread that I shall dip in the dish.' He dipped 27 the piece of bread and gave it to Judas son of Simon Iscariot. At that instant, after Judas had taken the bread, Satan entered him. Jesus then said, 'What you 28 are going to do, do quickly'. None of the others at table understood the reason 29 he said this. Since Judas had charge of the common fund, some of them thought Jesus was telling him, 'Buy what we need for the festival', or telling him to give 30 something to the poor. As soon as Judas had taken the piece of bread he went out. Night had fallen.

31 When he had gone Jesus said:

32 'Now has the Son of Man been glorified, and in him God has been glorified.
If God has been glorified in him,
God will in turn glorify him in himself,<sup>c</sup>
and will glorify him very soon.

Farewell discourses

'My little children,
I shall not be with you much longer. 33
You will look for me,
and, as I told the Jews,
where I am going,
you cannot come.
I give you a new commandment: 34
love one another;
just as I have loved you,
you also must love one another.
By this love you have for one another, 35 everyone will know that you are my disciples.'

Simon Peter said, 'Lord, where are you going?' Jesus replied, 'Where I am 36 going you cannot follow me now; you will follow me later'. •Peter said to him, 37
'Why can't I follow you now? I will lay down my life for you.' •'Lay down your 38 life for me?' answered Jesus. 'I tell you most solemnly, before the cock crows you will have disowned me three times.

14 'Do not let your hearts be troubled. 1
Trust in God still, and trust in me.
There are many rooms in my Father's house; 2
if there were not, I should have told you.
I am going now to prepare a place for you, and after I have gone and prepared you a place, 3
I shall return to take you with me;
so that where I am
you may be too.
You know the way to the place where I am going.' 4

Thomas said, 'Lord, we do not know where you are going, so how can we 5 know the way?' •Jesus said: 6

'I am the Way, the Truth and the Life.
No one can come to the Father except through me.
If you know me, you know my Father too. 7
From this moment you know him and have seen him.'

Philip said, 'Lord, let us see the Father and then we shall be satisfied'. 8
'Have I been with you all this time, Philip,' said Jesus to him 'and you still do 9 not know me?

'To have seen me is to have seen the Father, so how can you say, "Let us see the Father"?'
Do you not believe 10
that I am in the Father and the Father is in me?
The words I say to you I do not speak as from myself:
it is the Father, living in me, who is doing this work.
You must believe me when I say 11
that I am in the Father and the Father is in me;
believe it on the evidence of this work, if for no other reason.
I tell you most solemnly, 12
whoever believes in me
will perform the same works as I do myself,
he will perform even greater works,
because I am going to the Father.
Whatever you ask for in my name I will do, 13
so that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

- 14 If you ask for anything in my name,
I will do it.
- 15 If you love me you will keep my commandments.
- 16 I shall ask the Father, and he will give you another Advocate<sup>a</sup>
to be with you for ever, 17 that Spirit of truth whom the world can never receive since it neither sees nor knows him;
but you know him,
because he is with you, he is in you.
- 18 I will not leave you orphans;
I will come back to you.
- 19 In a short time the world will no longer see me;
but you will see me,
because I live and you will live.
- 20 On that day
you will understand that I am in my Father and you in me and I in you.
- 21 Anybody who receives my commandments and keeps them will be one who loves me;
and anybody who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I shall love him and show myself to him.<sup>7</sup>
- 22 Judas<sup>b</sup>—this was not Judas Iscariot—said to him, ‘Lord, what is all this 23 about? Do you intend to show yourself to us and not to the world?’ •Jesus replied:
- ‘If anyone loves me he will keep my word,
and my Father will love him,
and we shall come to him
and make our home with him.
- 24 Those who do not love me do not keep my words.
And my word is not my own:
it is the word of the one who sent me.
- 25 I have said these things to you while still with you;
26 but the Advocate, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name,
will teach you everything and remind you of all I have said to you.
- 27 Peace<sup>c</sup> I bequeath to you,
my own peace I give you,
a peace the world cannot give, this is my gift to you.
Do not let your hearts be troubled or afraid.
- 28 You heard me say:
I am going away, and shall return.
If you loved me you would have been glad to know that I am going to the Father,
for the Father is greater than I.
- 29 I have told you this now before it happens,
so that when it does happen you may believe.
- 30 I shall not talk with you any longer,
because the prince of this world is on his way.

The true vine

15

'I am the true vine, and my Father is the vinedresser. 1
 Every branch in me that bears no fruit 2
 he cuts away,
 and every branch that does bear fruit he prunes
 to make it bear even more.
 You are pruned already, 3
 by means of the word that I have spoken to you.
 Make your home in me, as I make mine in you. 4
 As a branch cannot bear fruit all by itself, but must remain part of the vine,
 neither can you unless you remain in me.
 I am the vine, 5
 you are the branches.
 Whoever remains in me, with me in him,
 bears fruit in plenty;
 for cut off from me you can do nothing.
 Anyone who does not remain in me 6 is like a branch that has been thrown away
 —he withers;
 these branches are collected and thrown on the fire,
 and they are burnt.
 If you remain in me 7
 and my words remain in you,
 you may ask what you will and you shall get it.
 It is to the glory of my Father that you should bear much fruit, and then you will be my disciples. 8
 As the Father has loved me, 9
 so I have loved you.
 Remain in my love.
 If you keep my commandments 10
 you will remain in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and remain in his love.
 I have told you this 11
 so that my own joy may be in you and your joy be complete.
 This is my commandment: 12
 love one another,
 as I have loved you.
 A man can have no greater love 13
 than to lay down his life for his friends.
 You are my friends, 14
 if you do what I command you.
 I shall not call you servants any more, 15 because a servant does not know his master's business;
 I call you friends,
 because I have made known to you everything I have learnt from my Father.

- 16 You did not choose me,
no, I chose you;
and I commissioned you to go out and to bear fruit, fruit that will last;
and then the Father will give you anything you ask him in my name.
- 17 What I command you
is to love one another.

The hostile world

- 18 'If the world hates you, remember that it hated me before you.
- 19 If you belonged to the world,
the world would love you as its own;
but because you do not belong to the world,
because my choice withdrew you from the world,
therefore the world hates you.
- 20 Remember the words I said to you:
A servant is not greater than his master.
If they persecuted me,
they will persecute you too;
if they kept my word,
they will keep yours as well.
- 21 But it will be on my account that they will do all this,
because they do not know the one who sent me.
- 22 If I had not come,
if I had not spoken to them,
they would have been blameless;
but as it is they have no excuse for their sin.
- 23 Anyone who hates me hates my Father.
- 24 If I had not performed such works among them
as no one else has ever done,
they would be blameless;
but as it is, they have seen all this,
and still they hate both me and my Father.
- 25 But all this was only to fulfil the words written in their Law:
They hated me for no reason.<sup>a</sup>
- 26 When the Advocate comes,
whom I shall send to you from the Father,
the Spirit of truth who issues from the Father,
he will be my witness.
- 27 And you too will be witnesses,
because you have been with me from the outset.

- 1 16 'I have told you all this so that your faith may not be shaken.
- 2 They will expel you from the synagogues, and indeed the hour is coming when anyone who kills you will think he is doing a holy duty for God.
- 3 They will do these things because they have never known either the Father or myself.
- 4 But I have told you all this,
so that when the time for it comes you may remember that I told you.

The coming of the Advocate

'I did not tell you this from the outset, because I was with you;
 but now I am going to the one who sent me. 5
 Not one of you has asked, "Where are you going?"
 Yet you are sad at heart because I have told you this. 6
 Still, I must tell you the truth: 7 it is for your own good that I am going because unless I go,
 the Advocate will not come to you;
 but if I do go,
 I will send him to you.
 And when he comes, 8
 he will show the world how wrong it was,
 about sin,
 and about who was in the right,
 and about judgement:
 about sin: 9
 proved by their refusal to believe in me;
 about who was in the right: 10 proved by my going to the Father and your seeing me no more;
 about judgement: 11
 proved by the prince of this world being already condemned.
 I still have many things to say to you 12
 but they would be too much for you now.
 But when the Spirit of truth comes 13
 he will lead you to the complete truth, since he will not be speaking as from himself
 but will say only what he has learnt;
 and he will tell you of the things to come.
 He will glorify me, 14
 since all he tells you will be taken from what is mine.
 Everything the Father has is mine; 15
 that is why I said:
 All he tells you will be taken from what is mine.

Jesus to return very soon

'In a short time you will no longer see me, 16 and then a short time later you will see me again.'

Then some of his disciples said to one another, 'What does he mean, "In a 17 short time you will no longer see me, and then a short time later you will see me again" and, "I am going to the Father"?' •What is this "short time"? We don't 18 know what he means.' •Jesus knew that they wanted to question him, so he 19 said, 'You are asking one another what I meant by saying: In a short time you will no longer see me, and then a short time later you will see me again.

'I tell you most solemnly, 20
 you will be weeping and wailing while the world will rejoice;
 you will be sorrowful,
 but your sorrow will turn to joy.
 A woman in childbirth suffers, 21
 because her time has come;

but when she has given birth to the child she forgets the suffering in her joy that a man has been born into the world.

22 So it is with you: you are sad now, but I shall see you again, and your hearts will be full of joy,
and that joy no one shall take from you.

23 When that day comes,
you will not ask me any questions.
I tell you most solemnly,
anything you ask for from the Father

24 he will grant in my name.
Until now you have not asked for anything in my name.
Ask and you will receive,
and so your joy will be complete.

25 I have been telling you all this in metaphors, the hour is coming
when I shall no longer speak to you in metaphors;
but tell you about the Father in plain words.

26 When that day comes
you will ask in my name;
and I do not say that I shall pray to the Father for you, 27 because the Father himself loves you for loving me
and believing that I came from God.

28 I came from the Father and have come into the world and now I leave the world to go to the Father.'

29 His disciples said, 'Now you are speaking plainly and not using metaphors!
30 Now we see that you know everything, and do not have to wait for questions to 31 be put into words; because of this we believe that you came from God.' •Jesus answered them:

'Do you believe at last?
32 Listen; the time will come—in fact it has come already—when you will be scattered, each going his own way and leaving me alone.
And yet I am not alone,
because the Father is with me.
33 I have told you all this
so that you may find peace in me.
In the world you will have trouble,
but be brave:
I have conquered the world.'

The priestly prayer of Christ

1 17 After saying this, Jesus raised his eyes to heaven and said:

'Father, the hour has come:
glorify your Son
so that your Son may glorify you;
2 and, through the power over all mankind<sup>a</sup> that you have given him, let him give eternal life to all those you have entrusted to him.
3 And eternal life is this:
to know you,
the only true God,
and Jesus Christ whom you have sent.

17 a. Lit. 'all flesh'.

I have glorified you on earth 4 and finished the work that you gave me to do.
 Now, Father, it is time for you to glorify me 5 with that glory I had with you before ever the world was.
 I have made your name known 6
 to the men you took from the world to give me.
 They were yours and you gave them to me,
 and they have kept your word.
 Now at last they know 7
 that all you have given me comes indeed from you;
 for I have given them 8
 the teaching you gave to me, and they have truly accepted this, that I came from you,
 and have believed that it was you who sent me.
 I pray for them; 9
 I am not praying for the world but for those you have given me, because they belong to you:
 all I have is yours 10
 and all you have is mine,
 and in them I am glorified.
 I am not in the world any longer, 11
 but they are in the world, and I am coming to you.
 Holy Father,
 keep those you have given me true to your name,
 so that they may be one like us.
 While I was with them, 12
 I kept those you had given me true to your name.
 I have watched over them and not one is lost except the one who chose to be lost,<sup>b</sup>
 and this was to fulfil the scriptures.
 But now I am coming to you 13 and while still in the world I say these things to share my joy with them to the full.
 I passed your word on to them, 14
 and the world hated them, because they belong to the world
 no more than I belong to the world.
 I am not asking you to remove them from the world, 15
 but to protect them from the evil one.
 They do not belong to the world 16
 any more than I belong to the world.
 Consecrate them in the truth; 17
 your word is truth.
 As you sent me into the world, 18
 I have sent them into the world, and for their sake I consecrate myself 19
 so that they too may be consecrated in truth.
 I pray not only for these, 20 but for those also who through their words will believe in me.
 May they all be one. 21
 Father, may they be one in us,

as you are in me and I am in you,
 so that the world may believe it was you who sent me.
 22 I have given them the glory you gave to me, that they may be one as we are one.
 23 With me in them and you in me, may they be so completely one that the world will realise that it was you who sent me and that I have loved them as much as you loved me.
 24 Father,
 I want those you have given me to be with me where I am, so that they may always see the glory
 you have given me because you loved me
 before the foundation of the world.
 25 Father, Righteous One,
 the world has not known you,
 but I have known you,
 and these have known
 that you have sent me.
 26 I have made your name known to them and will continue to make it known, so that the love with which you loved me may be in them,
 and so that I may be in them.'

THE PASSION

The arrest of Jesus

1 18 After he had said all this Jesus left with his disciples and crossed the 2 Kedron valley. There was a garden there, and he went into it with his 3 disciples. •Judas the traitor knew the place well, since Jesus had often met his 4 disciples there, •and he brought the cohort<sup>a</sup> to this place together with a detach-5 ment of guards sent by the chief priests and the Pharisees, all with lanterns and 6 torches and weapons. •Knowing everything that was going to happen to him,
 7 Jesus then came forward and said, 'Who are you looking for?' •They answered,
 8 'Jesus the Nazarene'. He said, 'I am he'. Now Judas the traitor was standing 9 among them. •When Jesus said, 'I am he', they moved back and fell to the ground.
 10 He asked them a second time, 'Who are you looking for?' They said, 'Jesus the 11 Nazarene'. •'I have told you that I am he' replied Jesus. 'If I am the one you 12 are looking for, let these others go.' •This was to fulfil the words he had spoken, 13 'Not one of those you gave me have I lost'.
 14 Simon Peter, who carried a sword, drew it and wounded the high priest's serv-15 vant, cutting off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus. •Jesus said to 16 Peter, 'Put your sword back in its scabbard; am I not to drink the cup that the Father has given me?'

Jesus before Annas and Caiaphas. Peter disowns him

12 The cohort and its captain and the Jewish guards seized Jesus and bound 13 him. •They took him first to Annas, because Annas was the father-in-law of 14 Caiaphas, who was high priest that year. •It was Caiaphas who had suggested to the Jews, 'It is better for one man to die for the people'.
 15 Simon Peter, with another disciple, followed Jesus. This disciple, who was 16 known to the high priest, went with Jesus into the high priest's palace, •but 17 b. Lit. 'the son of perdition'.

18 a. A detachment from the Roman garrison in Jerusalem.

Peter stayed outside the door. So the other disciple, the one known to the high priest, went out, spoke to the woman who was keeping the door and brought Peter in. •The maid on duty at the door said to Peter, 'Aren't you another of that man's disciples?' He answered, 'I am not'. •Now it was cold, and the servants and guards had lit a charcoal fire and were standing there warming themselves; so Peter stood there too, warming himself with the others.

The high priest questioned Jesus about his disciples and his teaching. •Jesus answered, 'I have spoken openly for all the world to hear; I have always taught in the synagogue and in the Temple where all the Jews meet together: I have said nothing in secret. •But why ask me? Ask my hearers what I taught: they know what I said.' •At these words, one of the guards standing by gave Jesus a slap in the face, saying, 'Is that the way to answer the high priest?' •Jesus replied, 'If there is something wrong in what I said, point it out; but if there is no offence in it, why do you strike me?' •Then Annas sent him, still bound, to Caiaphas the high priest.

As Simon Peter stood there warming himself, someone said to him, 'Aren't you another of his disciples?' He denied it saying, 'I am not'. •One of the high priest's servants, a relation of the man whose ear Peter had cut off, said, 'Didn't I see you in the garden with him?' •Again Peter denied it; and at once a cock crew.

Jesus before Pilate

They then led Jesus from the house of Caiaphas to the Praetorium.<sup>b</sup> It was now morning. They did not go into the Praetorium themselves or they would be defiled<sup>c</sup> and unable to eat the passover. •So Pilate came outside to them and said, 'What charge do you bring against this man?' •They replied, 'If he were not a criminal, we should not be handing him over to you'. •Pilate said, 'Take him yourselves, and try him by your own Law'. The Jews answered, 'We are not allowed to put a man to death'. •This was to fulfil the words Jesus had spoken indicating the way he was going to die.

So Pilate went back into the Praetorium and called Jesus to him, 'Are you the king of the Jews?' he asked. •Jesus replied, 'Do you ask this of your own accord, or have others spoken to you about me?' •Pilate answered, 'Am I a Jew? It is your own people and the chief priests who have handed you over to me: what have you done?' •Jesus replied, 'Mine is not a kingdom of this world; if my kingdom were of this world, my men would have fought to prevent my being surrendered to the Jews. But my kingdom is not of this kind.' •'So you are a king then?' said Pilate. 'It is you who say it' answered Jesus. 'Yes, I am a king. I was born for this, I came into the world for this: to bear witness to the truth; and all who are on the side of truth listen to my voice.' •'Truth?' said Pilate. 'What is that?'; and with that he went out again to the Jews and said, 'I find no case against him. •But according to a custom of yours I should release one prisoner at the Passover; would you like me, then, to release the king of the Jews?' •At this they shouted: 'Not this man,' they said 'but Barabbas'. Barabbas was a brigand.

19 Pilate then had Jesus taken away and scourged; •and after this, the soldiers twisted some thorns into a crown and put it on his head, and dressed him in a purple robe. •They kept coming up to him and saying, 'Hail, king of the Jews!'; and they slapped him in the face.

Pilate came outside again and said to them, 'Look, I am going to bring him out to you to let you see that I find no case'. •Jesus then came out wearing the crown of thorns and the purple robe. Pilate said, 'Here is the man'. •When they saw him the chief priests and the guards shouted, 'Crucify him! Crucify him!' Pilate said, 'Take him yourselves and crucify him: I can find no case against him'. 'We have a Law,' the Jews replied 'and according to that Law he ought to die, because he has claimed to be the Son of God.'

8 When Pilate heard them say this his fears increased. • Re-entering the Praetorium, he said to Jesus, 'Where do you come from?' But Jesus made no answer.
 10 Pilate then said to him, 'Are you refusing to speak to me? Surely you know I 11 have power to release you and I have power to crucify you?' • 'You would have no power over me' replied Jesus 'if it had not been given you from above; that is why the one who handed me over to you has the greater guilt.'

Jesus is condemned to death

12 From that moment Pilate was anxious to set him free, but the Jews shouted,
 'If you set him free you are no friend of Caesar's'; anyone who makes himself 13 king is defying Caesar'. • Hearing these words, Pilate had Jesus brought out, and seated himself on the chair of judgement at a place called the Pavement, in 14 Hebrew Gabbatha. • It was Passover Preparation Day, about the sixth hour.<sup>a</sup> 15 'Here is your king' said Pilate to the Jews. • 'Take him away, take him away!'
 they said. 'Crucify him!' 'Do you want me to crucify your king?' said Pilate.
 16 The chief priests answered, 'We have no king except Caesar'. • So in the end Pilate handed him over to them to be crucified.

The crucifixion

17 They then took charge of Jesus, • and carrying his own cross he went out of the city to the place of the skull or, as it was called in Hebrew, Golgotha, 18 where they crucified him with two others, one on either side with Jesus in the 19 middle. • Pilate wrote out a notice and had it fixed to the cross; it ran: 'Jesus 20 the Nazarene, King of the Jews'. • This notice was read by many of the Jews, because the place where Jesus was crucified was not far from the city, and the 21 writing was in Hebrew, Latin and Greek. • So the Jewish chief priests said to Pilate, 'You should not write "King of the Jews", but "This man said: I am King 22 of the Jews"'. • Pilate answered, 'What I have written, I have written'.

Christ's garments divided

23 When the soldiers had finished crucifying Jesus they took his clothing and divided it into four shares, one for each soldier. His undergarment was seamless, 24 woven in one piece from neck to hem; • so they said to one another, 'Instead of tearing it, let's throw dice to decide who is to have it'. In this way the words of scripture were fulfilled:

*They shared out my clothing among them.
 They cast lots for my clothes.<sup>b</sup>*

This is exactly what the soldiers did.

Jesus and his mother

25 Near the cross of Jesus stood his mother and his mother's sister, Mary the 26 wife of Clopas, and Mary of Magdala. • Seeing his mother and the disciple he loved standing near her, Jesus said to his mother, 'Woman, this is your son'.
 27 Then to the disciple he said, 'This is your mother'. And from that moment the disciple made a place for her in his home.

The death of Jesus

28 After this, Jesus knew that everything had now been completed, and to fulfil the scripture perfectly he said:

'I am thirsty'.<sup>c</sup>

18 b. The judicial court of the Roman procurator. c. By entering the house of a pagan.
 Cf. Lk 7:6.

19 a. On Preparation Day, the Passover supper was made ready for eating after sunset. The sixth hour is midday, by which time all leaven had to be removed from the house; during the feast only unleavened bread was eaten. b. Ps 22:18 c. Ps 22:15

A jar full of vinegar stood there, so putting a sponge soaked in the vinegar on 29 a hyssop stick they held it up to his mouth. •After Jesus had taken the vinegar 30 he said, 'It is accomplished'; and bowing his head he gave up his spirit.

The pierced Christ

It was Preparation Day, and to prevent the bodies remaining on the cross 31 during the sabbath—since that sabbath was a day of special solemnity—the Jews asked Pilate to have the legs broken<sup>d</sup> and the bodies taken away. •Consequently 32 the soldiers came and broke the legs of the first man who had been crucified with him and then of the other. •When they came to Jesus, they found he was already 33 dead, and so instead of breaking his legs •one of the soldiers pierced his side 34 with a lance; and immediately there came out blood and water. •This is the 35 evidence of one who saw it—trustworthy evidence. and he knows he speaks the truth—and he gives it so that you may believe as well. •Because all this happened 36 to fulfil the words of scripture:

Not one bone of his will be broken;<sup>e</sup>

and again, in another place scripture says: 37

They will look on the one whom they have pierced.<sup>f</sup>

The burial

After this, Joseph of Arimathaea, who was a disciple of Jesus—though a 38 secret one because he was afraid of the Jews—asked Pilate to let him remove the body of Jesus. Pilate gave permission, so they came and took it away.
Nicodemus came as well—the same one who had first come to Jesus at night-time 39 —and he brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, weighing about a hundred pounds. •They took the body of Jesus and wrapped it with the spices in linen 40 cloths, following the Jewish burial custom. •At the place where he had been 41 crucified there was a garden, and in this garden a new tomb in which no one had yet been buried. •Since it was the Jewish Day of Preparation and the tomb 42 was near at hand, they laid Jesus there.

THE DAY OF CHRIST'S RESURRECTION

The empty tomb

20 It was very early on the first day of the week and still dark, when Mary 1 of Magdala came to the tomb. She saw that the stone had been moved away from the tomb •and came running to Simon Peter and the other disciple, 2 the one Jesus loved. 'They have taken the Lord out of the tomb' she said 'and we don't know where they have put him.'

So Peter set out with the other disciple to go to the tomb. •They ran together, 3 but the other disciple, running faster than Peter, reached the tomb first; •he bent 4 down and saw the linen cloths lying on the ground, but did not go in. •Simon 5
Peter who was following now came up, went right into the tomb, saw the linen 6 cloths on the ground, •and also the cloth that had been over his head; this was 7 not with the linen cloths but rolled up in a place by itself. •Then the other disciple 8 who had reached the tomb first also went in; he saw and he believed. •Till this 9 moment they had failed to understand the teaching of scripture, that he must 10 rise from the dead. •The disciples then went home again.

The appearance to Mary of Magdala

Meanwhile Mary stayed outside near the tomb, weeping. Then, still weeping, 11 she stooped to look inside, •and saw two angels in white sitting where the body 12 of Jesus had been, one at the head, the other at the feet. •They said, 'Woman, 13

why are you weeping?" 'They have taken my Lord away' she replied 'and I 14 don't know where they have put him.' •As she said this she turned round and 15 saw Jesus standing there, though she did not recognise him. •Jesus said, 'Woman, why are you weeping? Who are you looking for?' Supposing him to be the gardener, she said, 'Sir, if you have taken him away, tell me where you have put 16 him, and I will go and remove him'. •Jesus said, 'Mary!' She knew him then 17 and said to him in Hebrew, 'Rabbuni!'—which means Master. •Jesus said to her, 'Do not cling to me, because I have not yet ascended to the Father. But go and find the brothers, and tell them: I am ascending to my Father and your 18 Father, to my God and your God.' •So Mary of Magdala went and told the disciples that she had seen the Lord and that he had said these things to her.

Appearances to the disciples

19 In the evening of that same day, the first day of the week, the doors were closed in the room where the disciples were, for fear of the Jews. Jesus came 20 and stood among them. He said to them, 'Peace be with you', •and showed them his hands and his side. The disciples were filled with joy when they saw 21 the Lord, •and he said to them again, 'Peace be with you.'

'As the Father sent me,
 so am I sending you.'

22 After saying this he breathed on them and said:

23 'Receive the Holy Spirit.
 For those whose sins you forgive,
 they are forgiven;
 for those whose sins you retain,
 they are retained.'

24 Thomas, called the Twin, who was one of the Twelve, was not with them
 25 when Jesus came. •When the disciples said, 'We have seen the Lord', he answered, 'Unless I see the holes that the nails made in his hands and can put my finger into the holes they made, and unless I can put my hand into his side, 26 I refuse to believe'. •Eight days later the disciples were in the house again and Thomas was with them. The doors were closed, but Jesus came in and stood 27 among them. 'Peace be with you' he said. •Then he spoke to Thomas, 'Put your finger here; look, here are my hands. Give me your hand; put it into my 28 side. Doubt no longer but believe.' •Thomas replied, 'My Lord and my God!'
 29 Jesus said to him:

'You believe because you can see me.
 Happy are those who have not seen and yet believe.'

CONCLUSION

30 There were many other signs that Jesus worked and the disciples saw, but 31 they are not recorded in this book. •These are recorded so that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing this you may have life through his name.

19 d. To hasten death. e. Two texts are here combined: Ps 34:20 and Ex 12:46. The allusion is both to God protecting the good man, and to the ritual for preparing the Passover lamb.

APPENDIX*

The appearance on the shore of Tiberias

21 Later on, Jesus showed himself again to the disciples. It was by the Sea 1 of Tiberias, and it happened like this: •Simon Peter, Thomas called the 2 Twin, Nathanael from Cana in Galilee, the sons of Zebedee and two more of his disciples were together. •Simon Peter said, 'I'm going fishing'. They replied, 3
'We'll come with you'. They went out and got into the boat but caught nothing that night.

It was light by now and there stood Jesus on the shore, though the disciples 4 did not realise that it was Jesus. •Jesus called out, 'Have you caught anything, 5 friends?' And when they answered, 'No', •he said, 'Throw the net out to starboard 6 and you'll find something'. So they dropped the net, and there were so many fish that they could not haul it in. •The disciple Jesus loved said to Peter, 'It is 7 the Lord'. At these words 'It is the Lord', Simon Peter, who had practically nothing on, wrapped his cloak round him and jumped into the water. •The 8 other disciples came on in the boat, towing the net and the fish; they were only about a hundred yards from land.

As soon as they came ashore they saw that there was some bread there, and 9 a charcoal fire with fish cooking on it. •Jesus said, 'Bring some of the fish you 10 have just caught'. •Simon Peter went aboard and dragged the net to the shore, 11 full of big fish, one hundred and fifty-three of them; and in spite of there being so many the net was not broken. •Jesus said to them, 'Come and have breakfast'. 12 None of the disciples was bold enough to ask, 'Who are you?'; they knew quite well it was the Lord. •Jesus then stepped forward, took the bread and gave it 13 to them, and the same with the fish. •This was the third time that Jesus showed 14 himself to the disciples after rising from the dead.

After the meal Jesus said to Simon Peter, 'Simon son of John, do you love 15 me more than these others do?' He answered, 'Yes Lord, you know I love you'.
Jesus said to him, 'Feed my lambs'. •A second time he said to him, 'Simon son 16 of John, do you love me?' He replied, 'Yes, Lord, you know I love you'. Jesus said to him, 'Look after my sheep'. •Then he said to him a third time, 'Simon 17 son of John, do you love me?' Peter was upset that he asked him the third time,
'Do you love me?' and said, 'Lord, you know everything; you know I love you'.
Jesus said to him, 'Feed my sheep.'

'I tell you most solemnly, 18
when you were young you put on your own belt
and walked where you liked;
but when you grow old
you will stretch out your hands, and somebody else will put a belt round you and take you where you would rather not go.'

In these words he indicated the kind of death by which Peter would give glory 19 to God. After this he said, 'Follow me'.

Peter turned and saw the disciple Jesus loved following them—the one who 20 had leaned on his breast at the supper and had said to him, 'Lord, who is it that will betray you?' •Seeing him, Peter said to Jesus, 'What about him, Lord?' 21 Jesus answered, 'If I want him to stay behind till I come, what does it matter 22 to you? You are to follow me.' •The rumour then went out among the brothers 23 that this disciple would not die. Yet Jesus had not said to Peter, 'He will not die', but, 'If I want him to stay behind till I come'.

Conclusion

- 24 This disciple is the one who vouches for these things and has written them down, and we know that his testimony is true.
- 25 There were many other things that Jesus did; if all were written down, the world itself, I suppose, would not hold all the books that would have to be written.

THE BOOK OF REVELATION

Apart from a chapter in each of the first three Gospels, The Book of Revelation is the only example of apocalyptic in the New Testament. 'Apocalypse' is the Greek word for 'revelation', but the language used to describe the revelation in apocalyptic literature is so obscure, and the symbolism is so complex, that a wide range of interpretation is possible. As with similar literature in the Old Testament, the detailed intentions of the author of The Book of Revelation could only be known with certainty if there was precise information about the circumstances in which the book was written. All that the book itself tells us is that his name was John, that he and the people for whom the book was written were suffering and that John was confined to the prison on Patmos in the Aegean Sea, where the Romans kept political prisoners at the end of the first century A.D.

The author has taken incidents and language from many parts of the Old Testament, but mainly from the book of Ezekiel, and used them symbolically to encourage the people for whom he was writing. These people were members of Christian congregations in certain towns of western Asia Minor, for whom the author had pastoral responsibility. The people were under persecution, but it is impossible to be sure to which particular persecution the author is referring.

From the earliest times it was believed that the John referred to in the book was John the Apostle, but this was soon contested, and although the attribution of the book to John the Apostle has continued, it must be held to be at least doubtful. Both the language and the ideas are so different from The Letters of John and The Gospel according to John that it is very difficult to think that the same man wrote all three. On the other hand, apocalyptic was a deliberately obscure form of writing, in which the people for whom it was written were the only ones who could be expected to make sense of it, and it is possible that an author might deliberately disguise his style for this purpose. There were serious persecutions of Christians under Nero, A.D. 54-68, Vespasian, A.D. 69-79, and Domitian, A.D. 81-96, The majority of scholars place The Book of Revelation in the context of the Domitian persecutions.

THE BOOK OF REVELATION

Prologue

- 1 I This is the revelation given by God to Jesus Christ so that he could tell his servants about the things which are now to take place<sup>a</sup> very soon; he sent his 2 angel to make it known to his servant John, •and John has written down everything he saw and swears it is the word of God guaranteed by Jesus Christ.
3 Happy the man who reads this prophecy, and happy those who listen to him, if they treasure all that it says, because the Time is close.

THE LETTERS TO THE CHURCHES OF ASIA

Address and greeting<sup>b</sup>

- 4 From John, to the seven churches of Asia: grace and peace to you from him who is, who was, and who is to come, from the seven spirits in his presence before 5 his throne, •and from Jesus Christ, the faithful witness, the First-born from the dead, the Ruler of the kings of the earth. He loves us and has washed away our 6 sins with his blood, •and made us a line of kings, priests to serve his God and 7 Father; to him, then, be glory and power for ever and ever. Amen. •It is he who is coming on the clouds; everyone will see him, even those who pierced him, and all the races of the earth will mourn over him. This is the truth. Amen.
8 'I am the Alpha and the Omega' says the Lord God, who is, who was, and who is to come, the Almighty.

The beginning of the vision

- 9 My name is John, and through our union in Jesus I am your brother and share your sufferings, your kingdom, and all you endure. I was on the island of Patmos 10 for having preached God's word and witnessed for Jesus; •it was the Lord's day and the Spirit possessed me, and I heard a voice behind me, shouting like 11 a trumpet, •'Write down all that you see in a book, and send it to the seven churches of Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergamum, Thyatira, Sardis, Philadelphia and 12 Laodicea'. •I turned round to see who had spoken to me, and when I turned 13 I saw seven golden lamp-stands •and, surrounded by them, a figure like a Son 14 of man,<sup>d</sup> dressed in a long robe tied at the waist with a golden girdle. •His head and his hair were white as white wool or as snow, his eyes like a burning flame, 15 his feet like burnished bronze when it has been refined in a furnace, and his voice like the sound of the ocean.<sup>c</sup> •In his right hand he was holding seven stars, out of 16 his mouth came a sharp sword, double-edged, and his face was like the sun shining with all its force.

When I saw him, I fell in a dead faint at his feet, but he touched me with his 17 right hand and said, 'Do not be afraid; it is I, the First and the Last; I am the Living One, •I was dead and now I am to live for ever and ever, and I hold the 18 keys of death and of the underworld. •Now write down all that you see of present 19 happenings and things that are still to come.<sup>f</sup> •The secret of the seven stars you 20 have seen in my right hand, and of the seven golden lamp-stands is this: the seven stars are the angels of the seven churches, and the seven lamp-stands are the seven churches themselves.

Ephesus

2 'Write to the angel of the church in Ephesus and say, "Here is the message 1 of the one who holds the seven stars in his right hand and who lives surrounded by the seven golden lamp-stands: •I know all about you: how hard 2 you work and how much you put up with. I know you cannot stand wicked men, and how you tested the impostors who called themselves apostles and proved they were liars. •I know, too, that you have patience, and have suffered for my 3 name without growing tired. •Nevertheless, I have this complaint to make; 4 you have less love now than you used to. •Think where you were before you fell; 5 repent, and do as you used to at first, or else, if you will not repent, I shall come to you and take your lamp-stand from its place. •It is in your favour, nevertheless, 6 that you loathe as I do what the Nicolaitans are doing. •If anyone has ears 7 to hear, let him listen to what the Spirit is saying to the churches: those who prove victorious I will feed from the tree of life set in God's paradise."<sup>a</sup>

Smyrna

'Write to the angel of the church in Smyrna and say, "Here is the message of 8
the First and the Last, who was dead and has come to life again: •I know the trials 9 you have had, and how poor you are—though you are rich—and the slanderous accusations that have been made by the people who profess to be Jews but are really members of the synagogue of Satan. •Do not be afraid of the sufferings 10 that are coming to you: I tell you, the devil is going to send some of you to prison to test you, and you must face an ordeal for ten days.<sup>b</sup> Even if you have to die, keep faithful, and I will give you the crown of life for your prize. •If anyone has 11 ears to hear, let him listen to what the Spirit is saying to the churches: for those who prove victorious there is nothing to be afraid of in the second death."

Pergamum

'Write to the angel of the church in Pergamum and say, "Here is the message 12 of the one who has the sharp sword, double-edged: •I know where you live, 13 in the place where Satan is enthroned, and that you still hold firmly to my name, and did not disown your faith in me even when my faithful witness, Antipas, was killed in your own town, where Satan lives.<sup>c</sup>

Nevertheless, I have one or two complaints to make: some of you are 14 followers of Balaam, who taught Balak to set a trap for the Israelites so that they committed adultery by eating food that had been sacrificed to idols; •and 15 among you, too, there are some as bad who accept what the Nicolaitans teach.
You must repent, or I shall soon come to you and attack these people with the 16 sword out of my mouth. •If anyone has ears to hear, let him listen to what the 17 Spirit is saying to the churches: to those who prove victorious I will give the hidden manna and a white stone<sup>d</sup>—a stone with a new name written on it, known only to the man who receives it."

Thyatira

'Write to the angel of the church in Thyatira and say, "Here is the message 18 of the Son of God who has eyes like a burning flame and feet like burnished

19 bronze: •I know all about you and how charitable you are; I know your faith and devotion and how much you put up with, and I know how you are still making
 20 progress. •Nevertheless, I have a complaint to make: you are encouraging the woman Jezebel<sup>c</sup> who claims to be a prophetess, and by her teaching she is luring my servants away to commit the adultery of eating food which has been sacrificed
 21 to idols. •I have given her time to reform but she is not willing to change her 22 adulterous life. •Now I am consigning her to bed, and all her partners in adultery to troubles that will test them severely, unless they repent of their practices;
 23 and I will see that her children die, so that all the churches realise that it is I who search heart and loins and give each one of you what your behaviour deserves.<sup>f</sup>
 24 But on the rest of you in Thyatira, all of you who have not accepted this teaching or learnt the secrets of Satan, as they are called, I am not laying any special 25 duty; •but hold firmly on to what you already have until I come. •To those who
 26 prove victorious, and keep working for me until the end, I will give the authority over the pagans<sup>e</sup> •which I myself have been given by my Father, to rule them with an iron sceptre and shatter them like earthenware. And I will give him
 27 the Morning Star.<sup>h</sup> •If anyone has ears to hear, let him listen to what the Spirit 28 is saying to the churches.”

Sardis

3 3 Write to the angel of the church in Sardis and say, “Here is the message of the one who holds the seven spirits of God and the seven stars: I know all about you: how you are reputed to be alive and yet are dead. •Wake up; revive what little you have left: it is dying fast. So far I have failed to notice anything in 3 the way you live that my God could possibly call perfect, •and yet do you remember how eager you were when you first heard the message? Hold on to that. Repent. If you do not wake up, I shall come to you like a thief, without telling
 4 you at what hour to expect me. •There are a few in Sardis, it is true, who have kept their robes from being dirtied, and they are fit to come with me, dressed
 5 in white. •Those who prove victorious will be dressed, like these, in white robes; I shall not blot their names out of the book of life, but acknowledge their names
 6 in the presence of my Father and his angels. •If anyone has ears to hear, let him listen to what the Spirit is saying to the churches.”

Philadelphia

7 Write to the angel of the church in Philadelphia and say, “Here is the message of the holy and faithful one who has the key of David, so that when he opens, nobody can close, and when he closes, nobody can open:<sup>a</sup> •I know all about you; and now I have opened in front of you a door that nobody will be able to close—and I know that though you are not very strong, you have kept my commandments
 9 and not disowned my name. •Now I am going to make the synagogue of Satan—those who profess to be Jews, but are liars, because they are no such thing—I will make them come and fall at your feet<sup>b</sup> and admit that you are the people that I love.<sup>c</sup> •Because you have kept my commandment to endure trials, I will keep you safe in the time of trial which is going to come for the whole world, 11 to test the people of the world. •Soon I shall be with you: hold firmly to what you already have, and let nobody take your prize away from you. •Those who prove victorious I will make into pillars in the sanctuary of my God, and they will stay there for ever; I will inscribe on them the name of my God and the

Laodicea

•Write to the angel of the church in Laodicea and say, “Here is the message of the Amen, the faithful, the true witness, the ultimate source of God’s creation: I know all about you: how you are neither cold nor hot. I wish you were one or the other, •but since you are neither, but only lukewarm, I will spit you out of my mouth. •You say to yourself, ‘I am rich, I have made a fortune, and have everything I want’, never realising that you are wretchedly and pitifully poor, and blind and naked too. •I warn you, buy from me the gold that has been tested in the fire to make you really rich, and white robes to clothe you and cover your shameful nakedness, and eye ointment to put on your eyes so that you are able to see. •I am the one who reproves and disciplines all those he loves:<sup>a</sup> so repent in real earnest. •Look, I am standing at the door, knocking. ## THE PROPHETIC VISIONS

THE PRELUDE TO THE GREAT DAY

God entrusts the future of the world to the Lamb

4 Then, in my vision, I saw a door open in heaven and heard the same voice 1 speaking to me, the voice like a trumpet, saying, ‘Come up here: I will show you what is to come in the future’. •With that, the Spirit possessed me and I saw 2 a throne standing in heaven, and the One who was sitting on the throne, •and 3 the Person sitting there looked like a diamond and a ruby. There was a rainbow encircling the throne, and this looked like an emerald.” •Round the throne in a 4 circle were twenty-four thrones, and on them I saw twenty-four elders sitting, dressed in white robes with golden crowns on their heads. •Flashes of lightning 5 were coming from the throne, and the sound of peals of thunder, and in front of the throne there were seven flaming lamps burning, the seven Spirits of God. •Between the throne and myself was a sea that seemed to be made of glass, 6 like crystal. In the centre, grouped round the throne itself, were four animals<sup>b</sup> with many eyes, in front and behind. •The first animal was like a lion, the second 7 like a bull, the third animal had a human face, and the fourth animal was like a flying eagle. •Each of the four animals had six wings and had eyes all the way 8 round as well as inside; and day and night they never stopped singing:

‘Holy, Holy, Holy
is the Lord God, the Almighty;
he was, he is and he is to come’.

Every time the animals glorified and honoured and gave thanks to the One sitting 9 on the throne, who lives for ever and ever, •the twenty-four elders prostrated 10 themselves before him to worship the One who lives for ever and ever, and threw down their crowns in front of the throne, saying, •‘You are our Lord and our 11 God, you are worthy of glory and honour and power, because you made all the universe and it was only by your will that everything was made and exists’.

5 I saw that in the right hand of the One sitting on the throne there was a scroll 1 that had writing on back and front<sup>c</sup> and was sealed with seven seals. •Then 2 I saw a powerful angel who called with a loud voice, ‘Is there anyone worthy

- 3 to open the scroll and break the seals of it?' •But there was no one, in heaven or on the earth or under the earth, who was able to open the scroll and read it.
4 I wept bitterly because there was nobody fit to open the scroll and read it, •but one of the elders said to me, 'There is no need to cry: the Lion of the tribe of Judah, the Root<sup>b</sup> of David, has triumphed, and he will open the scroll and the seven seals of it'.
6 Then I saw, standing between the throne with its four animals and the circle of the elders, a Lamb that seemed to have been sacrificed: it had seven horns, and it had seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits God has sent out all over the 7 world.<sup>c</sup> •The Lamb came forward to take the scroll from the right hand of the 8 One sitting on the throne, •and when he took it, the four animals prostrated themselves before him and with them the twenty-four elders; each one of them was holding a harp and had a golden bowl full of incense made of the prayers 9 of the saints. •They sang a new hymn:

'You are worthy to take the scroll and break the seals of it, because you were sacrificed, and with your blood you bought men for God
of every race, language, people and nation 10 and made them a line of kings and priests,<sup>d</sup> to serve our God and to rule the world'.

- 11 In my vision, I heard the sound of an immense number of angels gathered round the throne and the animals and the elders; there were ten thousand times 12 ten thousand of them<sup>e</sup> and thousands upon thousands, •shouting, 'The Lamb that was sacrificed is worthy to be given power, riches, wisdom, strength, honour, 13 glory and blessing'. •Then I heard all the living things in creation—everything that lives in the air, and on the ground, and under the ground, and in the sea, crying, 'To the One who is sitting on the throne and to the Lamb, be all praise, 14 honour, glory and power, for ever and ever'. •And the four animals said, 'Amen';
and the elders prostrated themselves to worship.

The Lamb breaks the seven seals

- 1 6 Then I saw the Lamb break one of the seven seals, and I heard one of the 2 four animals shout in a voice like thunder, 'Come'. •Immediately a white horse appeared, and the rider on it was holding a bow; he was given the victor's crown and he went away, to go from victory to victory.
3 When he broke the second seal, I heard the second animal shout, 'Come'.
4 And out came another horse, bright red, and its rider was given this duty: to take away peace from the earth and set people killing each other. He was given a huge sword.
5 When he broke the third seal, I heard the third animal shout, 'Come'.
Immediately a black horse appeared, and its rider was holding a pair of scales;
6 and I seemed to hear a voice shout from among the four animals and say, 'A ration of corn for a day's wages, and three rations of barley for a day's wages, but do not tamper with the oil or the wine'.
7 When he broke the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth animal shout, 8 'Come'. •Immediately another horse appeared, deathly pale, and its rider was called Plague, and Hades followed at his heels.

They were given authority over a quarter of the earth, to kill by the sword, by famine, by plague and wild beasts.<sup>a</sup>

6 a. Ezk 14:21

When he broke the fifth seal, I saw underneath the altar the souls of all the 9 people who had been killed on account of the word of God, for witnessing to it.
 They shouted aloud, 'Holy, faithful Master, how much longer will you wait 10 before you pass sentence and take vengeance for our death on the inhabitants of the earth?' •Each of them was given a white robe, and they were told to be 11 patient a little longer, until the roll was complete and their fellow servants and brothers had been killed just as they had been.

In my vision, when he broke the sixth seal, there was a violent earthquake 12 and the sun went as black as coarse sackcloth; the moon turned red as blood all over, •and the stars of the sky fell<sup>b</sup> on to the earth like figs dropping from a fig 13 tree when a high wind shakes it; •the sky disappeared like a scroll rolling up and all 14
 the mountains and islands were shaken from their places. •Then all the earthly 15 rulers, the governors and the commanders, the rich people and the men of influence, the whole population, slaves and citizens, took to the mountains to hide in caves and among the rocks.<sup>c</sup> •They said to the mountains<sup>d</sup> and the rocks, 'Fall on us 16 and hide us away from the One who sits on the throne and from the anger of the Lamb. •For the Great Day of his anger has come, and who can survive it?'<sup>e</sup> 17

God's servants will be preserved

7 Next I saw four angels, standing at the four corners of the earth,<sup>a</sup> holding the 1 four winds of the world back to keep them from blowing over the land or the sea or in the trees. •Then I saw another angel rising where the sun rises, carrying 2 the seal of the living God; he called in a powerful voice to the four angels whose duty was to devastate land and sea, •'Wait before you do any damage on 3 land or at sea or to the trees, until we have put the seal on the foreheads<sup>b</sup> of the servants of our God'. •Then I heard how many were sealed: a hundred and forty- 4 four thousand,<sup>c</sup> out of all the tribes of Israel.

From the tribe of Judah, twelve thousand had been sealed; from the tribe of 5
 Reuben, twelve thousand; from the tribe of Gad, twelve thousand; •from the 6 tribe of Asher, twelve thousand; from the tribe of Naphtali, twelve thousand; from the tribe of Manasseh, twelve thousand; •from the tribe of Simeon, twelve 7 thousand; from the tribe of Levi, twelve thousand; from the tribe of Issachar, twelve thousand; •from the tribe of Zebulun, twelve thousand; from the tribe of 8 Joseph, twelve thousand; and from the tribe of Benjamin, twelve thousand were sealed.

The rewarding of the saints

After that I saw a huge number, impossible to count, of people from every 9 nation, race, tribe and language; they were standing in front of the throne and in front of the Lamb, dressed in white robes and holding palms in their hands.
 They shouted aloud, 'Victory to our God, who sits on the throne, and to the 10
 Lamb!' •And all the angels who were standing in a circle round the throne, 11 surrounding the elders and the four animals, prostrated themselves before the throne, and touched the ground with their foreheads, worshipping God with these words, 'Amen. Praise and glory and wisdom and thanksgiving and 12 honour and power and strength to our God for ever and ever. Amen.'

One of the elders then spoke, and asked me, 'Do you know who these people 13 are, dressed in white robes, and where they have come from?' •I answered him, 14
 'You can tell me, my lord'. Then he said, 'These are the people who have been through the great persecution,<sup>d</sup> and because they have washed their robes white again in the blood of the Lamb, •they now stand in front of God's throne and 15 serve him day and night in his sanctuary; and the One who sits on the throne will spread his tent over them. •They will never hunger or thirst again; neither the sun nor scorching wind will ever plague them, •because the Lamb who is at the 16 throne will be their shepherd and will lead them to springs of living water;<sup>e</sup> and God 17 will wipe away all tears from their eyes.'<sup>f</sup>

The seventh seal

- 1 8 The Lamb then broke the seventh seal, and there was silence in heaven for about half an hour.<sup>a</sup>

The prayers of the saints bring the coming of the Great Day nearer

- 2 Next I saw seven trumpets being given to the seven angels who stand in the 3 presence of God. •Another angel, who had a golden censer,<sup>b</sup> came and stood
4 at the altar.<sup>c</sup> A large quantity of incense was given to him to offer with the prayers
5 of all the saints on the golden altar that stood in front of the throne; •and so
6 from the angel's hand the smoke of the incense went up in the presence of God
7 and with it the prayers of the saints. •Then the angel took the censer and filled
8 it with the fire from the altar, which he then threw down on to the earth;
9 immediately there came peals of thunder and flashes of lightning, and the earth 10 shook.

The first four trumpets

- 6 The seven angels that had the seven trumpets now made ready to sound them.
7 The first blew his trumpet and, with that, hail and fire, mixed with blood, were 8 dropped on the earth; a third of the earth was burnt up, and a third of all trees, 9 and every blade of grass was burnt. •The second angel blew his trumpet, and it
10 was as though a great mountain, all on fire, had been dropped into the sea: a third 11 of the sea turned into blood, •a third of all the living things in the sea were 12 killed, and a third of all ships were destroyed. •The third angel blew his trumpet, 13 and a huge star fell from the sky, burning like a ball of fire, and it fell on a third 14 of all rivers and springs; •this was the star called Wormwood, and a third of all 15 water turned to bitter wormwood, so that many people died from drinking it.
16 The fourth angel blew his trumpet, and a third of the sun and a third of the moon
17 and a third of the stars were blasted, so that the light went out of a third of them
18 and for a third of the day there was no illumination, and the same with the night.
19 In my vision, I heard an eagle, calling aloud as it flew high overhead, 'Trouble, 20 trouble, trouble, for all the people on earth at the sound of the other three 21 trumpets which the three angels are going to blow'.

The fifth trumpet

- 1 9 Then the fifth angel blew his trumpet, and I saw a star<sup>a</sup> that had fallen from 2 heaven on to the earth, and he was given the key to the shaft leading down
3 to the Abyss.<sup>b</sup> •When he unlocked the shaft of the Abyss, smoke poured up out of 4 the Abyss like the smoke from a huge furnace<sup>c</sup> so that the sun and the sky were 5 darkened by it, •and out of the smoke dropped locusts which were given the 6 powers that scorpions have on the earth: •they were forbidden to harm any 7 fields or crops or trees and told only to attack any men who were without God's 8 seal on their foreheads. •They were not to kill them, but to give them pain for 9 five months, and the pain was to be the pain of a scorpion's sting. •When this 10 happens, men will long for death and not find it anywhere;<sup>d</sup> they will want to die 11 and death will evade them.
12 To look at, these locusts were like horses armoured for battle;<sup>e</sup> they had things 13 that looked like gold crowns on their heads, and faces that seemed human, •and hair like women's hair, and teeth like lions' teeth. •They had body-armour like 9 iron breastplates, and the noise of their wings sounded like a great charge of horses and chariots into battle. •Their tails were like scorpions', with stings, 10 and it was with them that they were able to injure people for five months. •As 11 their leader they had their emperor, the angel of the Abyss, whose name in Hebrew is Abaddon, or Apollyon' in Greek.

That was the first of the troubles; there are still two more to come. 12

The sixth trumpet

The sixth angel blew his trumpet, and I heard a voice come out of the four 13 horns of the golden altar in front of God. •It spoke to the sixth angel with the trumpet, and said, 'Release the four angels that are chained up at the great river Euphrates'. •These four angels had been put there ready for this hour of this 15 day of this month of this year, and now they were released to destroy a third of the human race. •I learnt how many there were in their army: twice ten thousand 16 times ten thousand mounted men. •In my vision I saw the horses, and the riders 17 with their breastplates of flame colour, hyacinth-blue and sulphur-yellow; the horses had lions' heads, and fire, smoke and sulphur were coming out of their mouths. •It was by these three plagues, the fire, the smoke and the sulphur coming 18 out of their mouths, that the one third of the human race was killed. •All the 19 horses' power was in their mouths and their tails: their tails were like snakes, and had heads that were able to wound. •But the rest of the human race, who 20 escaped these plagues, refused either to abandon the things they had made with their own hands<sup>c</sup>—the idols made of gold, silver, bronze, stone and wood<sup>d</sup> that can neither see nor hear nor move—or to stop worshipping devils. •Nor did they give 21 up their murdering, or witchcraft, or fornication or stealing.

The imminence of the last punishment

10 Then I saw another powerful angel coming down from heaven, wrapped in 1 a cloud, with a rainbow over his head; his face was like the sun, and his legs were pillars of fire. •In his hand he had a small scroll, unrolled; he put his right foot 2 in the sea and his left foot on the land •and he shouted so loud, it was like a lion 3 roaring. At this, seven claps of thunder made themselves heard •and when the 4 seven thunderclaps had spoken, I was preparing to write, when I heard a voice from heaven say to me, 'Keep the words of the seven thunderclaps secret and do not write them down'. •Then the angel that I had seen, standing on the sea 5 and the land, raised his right hand to heaven,<sup>a</sup> •and swore by the One who lives 6 for ever and ever, and made heaven and all that is in it, and earth and all it bears, and the sea and all it holds,<sup>b</sup> 'The time of waiting is over; •at the time when the 7 seventh angel is heard sounding his trumpet, God's secret intention will be fulfilled, just as he announced in the Good News told to his servants the prophets'.

The seer eats the small scroll

Then I heard the voice I had heard from heaven speaking to me again. 'Go,' 8 it said 'and take that open scroll out of the hand of the angel standing on sea and land.' •I went to the angel and asked him to give me the small scroll, and 9
 he said, 'Take it and eat it; it will turn your stomach sour, but in your mouth it will taste as sweet as honey'. •So I took it out of the angel's hand, and swallowed 10 it; it was as sweet as honey in my mouth, but when I had eaten it my stomach turned sour. •Then I was told, 'You are to prophesy again, this time about 11 many different nations and countries and languages and emperors'.

The two witnesses

11 Then I was given a long cane as a measuring rod, and I was told, 'Go and 1 measure God's sanctuary, and the altar, and the people who worship there; but leave out the outer court and do not measure it, because it has been handed 2

- 3 over to pagans—they will trample on the holy city for forty-two months.<sup>a</sup> •But I shall send my two witnesses to prophesy for those twelve hundred and sixty days, 4 wearing sackcloth. •These are the two olive trees<sup>b</sup> and the two lamps that stand
 5 before the Lord of the world.<sup>c</sup> •Fire can come from their mouths and consume their enemies if anyone tries to harm them; and if anybody does try to harm 6 them he will certainly be killed in this way. •They are able to lock up the sky so that it does not rain as long as they are prophesying; they are able to turn water into blood and strike the whole world with any plague as often as they like.
 7 When they have completed their witnessing, the beast that comes out of the 8 Abyss is going to make war on them and overcome them<sup>d</sup> and kill them. •Their corpses will lie in the main street of the Great City known by the symbolic 9 names Sodom and Egypt, in which their Lord was crucified.<sup>e</sup> •Men out of every people, race, language and nation will stare at their corpses, for three-and-a-half 10 days, not letting them be buried, •and the people of the world will be glad about it and celebrate the event by giving presents to each other, because these two prophets have been a plague to the people of the world.’
 11 After the three-and-a-half days, God breathed life into them and they stood up,<sup>f</sup> 12 and everybody who saw it happen was terrified; •then they heard a loud voice from heaven say to them, ‘Come up here’, and while their enemies were watching, 13 they went up to heaven in a cloud. •Immediately, there was a violent earthquake, and a tenth of the city collapsed; seven thousand persons<sup>g</sup> were killed in the earthquake, and the survivors, overcome with fear, could only praise the God of heaven.

The seventh trumpet

- 14 That was the second of the troubles; the third is to come quickly after it.
 15 Then the seventh angel blew his trumpet, and voices could be heard shouting in heaven, calling, ‘The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our 16 Lord and his Christ, and he will reign for ever and ever’. •The twenty-four elders, enthroned in the presence of God, prostrated themselves and touched the ground 17 with their foreheads worshipping God •with these words, ‘We give thanks to you, Almighty Lord God, He-Is-and-He-Was, for using your great power and 18 beginning your reign. •The nations were seething with rage<sup>h</sup> and now the time has come for your own anger, and for the dead to be judged, and for your servants the prophets, for the saints and for all who worship you, small or great, to be rewarded. The time has come to destroy those who are destroying the earth.’ 19 Then the sanctuary of God in heaven opened, and the ark of the covenant could be seen inside it. Then came flashes of lightning, peals of thunder and an earthquake, and violent hail.

The vision of the woman and the dragon

- 1 12 Now a great sign appeared in heaven: a woman, adorned with the sun, standing on the moon, and with the twelve stars on her head for a crown.
 2 She was pregnant, and in labour, crying aloud in the pangs of childbirth. •Then
 3 a second sign appeared in the sky, a huge red dragon which had seven heads
 4 and ten horns, and each of the seven heads crowned with a coronet. •Its tail dragged a third of the stars from the sky and dropped them to the earth,<sup>a</sup> and the dragon stopped in front of the woman as she was having the child, so that he could eat it as soon as it was born from its mother. •The woman brought a male child 5 into the world, the son who was to rule all the nations with an iron sceptre,<sup>b</sup> and the child was taken straight up to God and to his throne, •while the woman escaped 6 into the desert, where God had made a place of safety ready, for her to be looked after in the twelve hundred and sixty days.

And now war broke out in heaven, when Michael with his angels attacked the 7 dragon. The dragon fought back with his angels, •but they were defeated and 8 driven out of heaven. •The great dragon, the primeval serpent, known as the 9 devil or Satan, who had deceived all the world, was hurled down to the earth and his angels were hurled down with him. •Then I heard a voice shout from 10 heaven, 'Victory and power and empire for ever have been won by our God, and all authority for his Christ, now that the persecutor, who accused our brothers 11 day and night before our God, has been brought down. •They have triumphed 11 over him by the blood of the Lamb and by the witness of their martyrdom, because even in the face of death they would not cling to life. •Let the heavens 12 rejoice and all who live there; but for you, earth and sea, trouble is coming— because the devil has gone down to you in a rage, knowing that his days are numbered.'

As soon as the devil found himself thrown down to the earth, he sprang 13 in pursuit of the woman, the mother of the male child, •but she was given a huge 14 pair of eagle's wings to fly away from the serpent into the desert, to the place where she was to be looked after for a year and twice a year and half a year.<sup>c</sup> So the serpent vomited water from his mouth, like a river, after the woman, 15 to sweep her away in the current, •but the earth came to her rescue; it opened 16 its mouth and swallowed the river thrown up by the dragon's jaws. •Then the 17 dragon was enraged with the woman and went away to make war on the rest of her children, that is, all who obey God's commandments and bear witness for Jesus.

The dragon delegates his power to the beast

I was standing on the seashore. 13 Then I saw a beast emerge from the sea:<sup>a</sup> 18 1 it had seven heads and ten horns, with a coronet on each of its ten horns, and its heads were marked with blasphemous titles.<sup>b</sup> •I saw that the beast was like 2 a leopard, with paws like a bear and a mouth like a lion; the dragon had handed over to it his own power and his throne and his worldwide authority. •I saw that 3 one of its heads seemed to have had a fatal wound but that this deadly injury had healed and, after that, the whole world had marvelled and followed the beast. They prostrated themselves in front of the dragon because he had given the beast 4 his authority; and they prostrated themselves in front of the beast, saying, 'Who can compare with the beast?<sup>d</sup> How could anybody defeat him?' •For forty-two 5 months the beast was allowed to mouth its boasts<sup>e</sup> and blasphemies and to do whatever it wanted; •and it mouthed its blasphemies against God, against his 6 name, his heavenly Tent and all those who are sheltered there. •It was allowed 7 to make war against the saints and conquer them, and given power over every race, people, language and nation; •and all people of the world will worship it, that 8 is, everybody whose name has not been written down since the foundation of the world in the book of life of the sacrificial Lamb. •If anyone has ears to hear, 9 let him listen: •Captivity for those who are destined for captivity; the sword for those who are to die by the sword.<sup>f</sup> This is why the saints must have constancy and faith.

The false prophet as the slave of the beast

Then I saw a second beast;<sup>g</sup> it emerged from the ground; it had two horns 11 like a lamb, but made a noise like a dragon. •This second beast was servant to 12 the first beast, and extended its authority everywhere, making the world and all its people worship the first beast, which had had the fatal wound and had 13 been healed. •And it worked great miracles, even to calling down fire from 14 heaven on to the earth while people watched. •Through the miracles which it was allowed to do on behalf of the first beast, it was able to win over the people of the world and persuade them to put up a statue in honour of the beast that 15 had been wounded by the sword and still lived. •It was allowed to breathe life into this statue, so that the statue of the beast was able to speak, and to have 16 anyone who refused to worship the statue of the beast<sup>a</sup> put to death. •He compelled everyone—small and great, rich and poor, slave and citizen—to be branded on 17 the right hand or on the forehead, •and made it illegal for anyone to buy or sell anything unless he had been branded with the name of the beast or with the

 the number of its name.

18 There is need for shrewdness here: if anyone is clever enough he may interpret the number of the beast: it is the number of a man, the number 666.<sup>i</sup>

The companions of the Lamb

1 14 Next in my vision I saw Mount Zion, and standing on it a Lamb who 2 had with him a hundred and forty-four thousand people, all with his name and his Father's name written on their foreheads. •I heard a sound coming out of the sky like the sound of the ocean or the roar of thunder; it seemed to be 3 the sound of harpists playing their harps. •There in front of the throne they were singing a new hymn in the presence of the four animals and the elders, a hymn that could only be learnt by the hundred and forty-four thousand who had been 4 redeemed from the world. •These are the ones who have kept their virginity<sup>a</sup> and not been defiled with women; they follow the Lamb wherever he goes;
 they have been redeemed from amongst men to be the first-fruits for God<sup>b</sup> and 5 for the Lamb. •They never allowed a lie to pass their lips<sup>c</sup> and no fault can be found in them.

Angels announce the day of Judgement

6 Then I saw another angel, flying high overhead, sent to announce the Good News of eternity to all who live on the earth, every nation, race, language and 7 tribe. •He was calling, 'Fear God and praise him, because the time has come for him to sit in judgement; worship the maker of heaven and earth and sea<sup>d</sup> and every water-spring'.

8 A second angel followed him, calling, 'Babylon has fallen, Babylon the Great has fallen,' Babylon which gave the whole world the wine of God's anger to drink'.

9 A third angel followed, shouting aloud, 'All those who worship the beast and 10 his statue, or have had themselves branded on the hand or forehead, •will be made to drink the wine of God's fury which is ready, undiluted, in his cup of anger; in fire and brimstone' they will be tortured in the presence of the holy angels and 11 the Lamb •and the smoke of their torture will go up for ever<sup>e</sup> and ever. There will be no respite, night or day, for those who worshipped the beast or its statue 12 or accepted branding with its name.' •This is why there must be constancy in the 13 saints who keep the commandments of God and faith in Jesus. •Then I heard a voice from heaven say to me, 'Write down: Happy are those who die in the Lord! Happy indeed, the Spirit says; now they can rest for ever after their work, since their good deeds go with them.'

The harvest and vintage of the pagans

Now in my vision I saw a white cloud and, sitting on it, one like a son of man 14 with a gold crown on his head and a sharp sickle in his hand. •Then another angel 15 came out of the sanctuary, and shouted aloud to the one sitting on the cloud, 'Put your sickle in and reap: harvest time has come and the harvest of the earth is ripe'.<sup>a</sup> •Then the one sitting on the cloud set his sickle to work on the earth, and 16 the earth's harvest was reaped.

Another angel, who also carried a sharp sickle, came out of the temple in 17 heaven, •and the angel in charge of the fire left the altar and shouted aloud to 18 the one with the sharp sickle, 'Put your sickle in and cut all the bunches off the vine of the earth; all its grapes are ripe'. •So the angel set his sickle to work on 19 the earth and harvested the whole vintage of the earth and put it into a huge winepress, the winepress of God's anger, •outside the city, where it was trodden 20 until the blood that came out of the winepress was up to the horses' bridles as far away as sixteen hundred furlongs.

The hymn of Moses and the Lamb

15 What I saw next, in heaven, was a great and wonderful sign: seven angels 1 were bringing the seven plagues that are the last of all, because they exhaust the anger of God. •I seemed to see a glass lake suffused with fire, and 2 standing by the lake of glass, those who had fought against the beast and won, and against his statue and the number which is his name. They all had harps from God, •and they were singing the hymn of Moses, the servant of God, 3 and of the Lamb:

'How great and wonderful are all your works,
Lord God Almighty;
just and true are all your ways,
King of nations.
Who would not revere and praise your name, O Lord? 4
You alone are holy,
and all the pagans will come and adore you for the many acts of justice you have shown.'<sup>a</sup>

The seven bowls of plagues

After this, in my vision, the sanctuary, the Tent of the Testimony, opened 5 in heaven, •and out came the seven angels with the seven plagues, wearing pure 6 white linen, fastened round their waists with golden girdles. •One of the four 7 animals gave the seven angels seven golden bowls filled with the anger of God who lives for ever and ever. •The smoke from the glory and the power of God 8 filled the temple so that no one could go into it<sup>b</sup> until the seven plagues of the seven angels were completed.

16 Then I heard a voice from the sanctuary shouting to the seven angels, 1
'Go, and empty the seven bowls of God's anger over the earth'.

The first angel went and emptied his bowl over the earth; at once, on all the 2 people who had been branded with the mark of the beast and had worshipped its statue, there came disgusting and virulent sores.

The second angel emptied his bowl over the sea, and it turned to blood, like 3 the blood of a corpse, and every living creature in the sea died.

The third angel emptied his bowl into the rivers and water-springs and they 4 turned into blood. •Then I heard the angel of water say, 'You are the holy 5
He-Is-and-He-Was, the Just One, and this is a just punishment: •they spilt the 6 blood of the saints and the prophets, and blood is what you have given them to drink; it is what they deserve'. •And I heard the altar itself say, 'Truly, Lord 7 God Almighty, the punishments you give are true and just'.

- 8 The fourth angel emptied his bowl over the sun and it was made to scorch 9 people with its flames; •but though people were scorched by the fierce heat of it, they cursed the name of God who had the power to cause such plagues, and they would not repent and praise him.
- 10 The fifth angel emptied his bowl over the throne of the beast and its whole empire was plunged into darkness. Men were biting their tongues for pain, 11 but instead of repenting for what they had done, they cursed the God of heaven because of their pains and sores.
- 12 The sixth angel emptied his bowl over the great river Euphrates; all the water 13 dried up so that a way was made for the kings of the East<sup>a</sup> to come in. •Then from the jaws of dragon and beast and false prophet I saw three foul spirits come; 14 they looked like frogs •and in fact were demon spirits, able to work miracles, going out to all the kings of the world to call them together for the war of the 15 Great Day of God the Almighty.—•This is how it will be: I shall come like a thief. Happy is the man who has stayed awake and not taken off his clothes 16 so that he does not go out naked and expose his shame.—•They called the kings together at the place called, in Hebrew, Armageddon.<sup>b</sup>
- 17 The seventh angel emptied his bowl into the air, and a voice shouted from 18 the sanctuary, 'The end has come'. •Then there were flashes of lightning and peals of thunder and the most violent earthquake that anyone has ever seen since 19 there have been men on the earth.<sup>c</sup> •The Great City was split into three parts and the cities of the world collapsed; Babylon the Great was not forgotten:
20 God made her drink the full winecup of his anger. •Every island vanished and 21 the mountains disappeared; •and hail, with great hailstones weighing a talent each, fell from the sky on the people. They cursed God for sending a plague of hail; it was the most terrible plague.

THE PUNISHMENT OF BABYLON

The famous prostitute

- 1 17 One of the seven angels that had the seven bowls came to speak to me, and said, 'Come here and I will show you the punishment given to the 2 famous prostitute<sup>a</sup> who rules enthroned beside abundant waters,<sup>b</sup> •the one with whom all the kings of the earth have committed fornication, and who has made 3 all the population of the world drunk with the wine of her adultery'.<sup>c</sup> •He took me in spirit to a desert, and there I saw a woman riding a scarlet beast which had seven heads and ten horns and had blasphemous titles written all over it.
4 The woman was dressed in purple and scarlet, and glittered with gold and jewels and pearls, and she was holding a gold winecup filled with the disgusting filth 5 of her fornication; •on her forehead was written a name, a cryptic name:
'Babylon the Great, the mother of all the prostitutes and all the filthy practices 6 on the earth'. •I saw that she was drunk, drunk with the blood of the saints, and the blood of the martyrs of Jesus; and when I saw her, I was completely 7 mystified. •The angel said to me, 'Don't you understand? Now I will tell you the meaning of this woman, and of the beast she is riding, with the seven heads and the ten horns.

The symbolism of the beast and the prostitute

'The beast you have seen once was and now is not;<sup>d</sup> he is yet to come up 8 from the Abyss, but only to go to his destruction. And the people of the world, whose names have not been written since the beginning of the world in the book of life, will think it miraculous when they see how the beast once was and now is not and is still to come. •Here there is need for cleverness, for a shrewd mind; 9 the seven heads are the seven hills, and the woman is sitting on them.

'The seven heads are also seven emperors. •Five of them have already gone, 10 one is here now, and one is yet to come; once here, he must stay for a short while. The beast, who once was and now is not, is at the same time the eighth and one of 11 the seven, and he is going to his destruction.

'The ten horns are ten kings<sup>e</sup> who have not yet been given their royal power 12 but will have royal authority only for a single hour and in association with the beast. •They are all of one mind in putting their strength and their powers at the 13 beast's disposal, •and they will go to war against the Lamb; but the Lamb is 14 the Lord of lords and the King of kings,<sup>f</sup> and he will defeat them and they will be defeated by his followers, the called, the chosen, the faithful.'

The angel continued, 'The waters you saw, beside which the prostitute was 15 sitting, are all the peoples, the populations, the nations and the languages. •But 16 the time will come when the ten horns and the beast will turn against the prostitute, and strip off her clothes and leave her naked;<sup>g</sup> then they will eat her 17 flesh and burn the remains in the fire. •In fact, God influenced their minds to do 18 what he intended, to agree together to put their royal powers at the beast's disposal until the time when God's words should be fulfilled. •The woman you saw is the great city which has authority over all the rulers on earth.'

An angel announces the fall of Babylon

18 After this, I saw another angel come down from heaven, with great 1 authority given to him; the earth was lit up with his glory.<sup>h</sup> •At the top of 2 his voice he shouted, 'Babylon has fallen, Babylon the Great has fallen, and has become the haunt of devils<sup>i</sup> and a lodging for every foul spirit and dirty, loath- 3 some bird. •All the nations have been intoxicated by the wine of her prostitution; every king in the earth has committed fornication with her, and every merchant 4 grown rich through her debauchery.'

The people of God summoned away

A new voice spoke from heaven; I heard it say, 'Come out, my people, away 4 from her, so that you do not share in her crimes and have the same plagues to bear. •Her sins have reached up to heaven,<sup>j</sup> and God has her crimes in mind: 5 she is to be paid in her own coin.<sup>k</sup> She must be paid double the amount she exacted. 6 She is to have a doubly strong cup of her own mixture. •Every one of her shows 7 and orgies is to be matched by a torture or a grief. I am the queen on my throne, she says to herself,<sup>l</sup> and I am no widow and shall never be in mourning. •For that, 8 within a single day, the plagues will fall on her: disease and mourning and famine. She will be burnt right up. The Lord God has condemned her, and he has great 9 power.'

The people of the world mourn for Babylon

There will be mourning and weeping for her by the kings of the earth who 9 have fornicated with her and lived with her in luxury. They see the smoke as she burns, •while they keep at a safe distance from fear of her agony. They will 10 say:

'Mourn, mourn for this great city,
Babylon, so powerful a city, doomed as you are within a single hour'.

- 11 There will be weeping and distress over her among all the traders of the earth 12 when there is nobody left to buy their cargoes of goods; •their stocks of gold and silver, jewels and pearls, linen and purple and silks and scarlet; all the 13 sandalwood, every piece in ivory or fine wood, in bronze or iron or marble; •the cinnamon and spices, the myrrh and ointment and incense; wine, oil, flour and corn; their stocks of cattle, sheep, horses and chariots, their slaves, their human cargo.
 14 'All the fruits you had set your hearts on have failed you; gone for ever, never to return, is your life of magnificence and ease.' 15 The traders who had made a fortune out of her will be standing at 16 a safe distance from fear of her agony, mourning and weeping. •They will be saying:

'Mourn, mourn for this great city;
 for all the linen and purple and scarlet that you wore,
 for all your finery of gold and jewels and pearls;
 17 your riches are all destroyed within a single hour'.

- All the captains and seafaring men, sailors and all those who make a living 18 from the sea will be keeping a safe distance, •watching the smoke as she burns, 19 and crying out, 'Has there ever been a city as great as this!' •They will throw dust on their heads and say, with tears and groans:

'Mourn, mourn for this great city whose lavish living has made a fortune for every owner of a sea-going ship;
 ruined within a single hour.

- 20 'Now heaven, celebrate her downfall, and all you saints, apostles and prophets:
 God has given judgement for you against her.' 21 Then a powerful angel picked up a boulder like a great millstone, and as he hurled it into the sea, he said, 'That is how the great city of Babylon is going to be hurled down, never to be seen again.
 22 'Never again in you, Babylon, will be heard the song of harpists and minstrels,
 the music of flute and trumpet;
 never again will craftsmen of every skill be found or the sound of the mill' be heard; 23 never again will shine the light of the lamp, never again will be heard
the voices of bridegroom and bride.
 Your traders were the princes of the earth,
 all the nations were under your spell.
 24 In her you will find the blood of prophets and saints, and all the blood that was ever shed on earth.'

Songs of victory in heaven

- 1 19 After this I seemed to hear the great sound of a huge crowd in heaven, 2 singing, 'Alleluia! Victory and glory and power to our God! •He judges fairly, he punishes justly, and he has condemned the famous prostitute who corrupted the earth with her fornication; he has avenged his servants that she 3 killed'. •They sang again, 'Alleluia! The smoke of her will go up for ever and 4 ever'. •Then the twenty-four elders and the four animals prostrated themselves and worshipped God seated there on his throne, and they cried, 'Amen, Alleluia'.

Then a voice came from the throne; it said, 'Praise our God, you servants 5 of his and all who, great or small, revere him'. •And I seemed to hear the voices 6 of a huge crowd, like the sound of the ocean or the great roar of thunder, answering, 'Alleluia! The reign of the Lord our God Almighty has begun; •let us 7 be glad and joyful and give praise to God, because this is the time for the marriage of the Lamb. His bride is ready, •and she has been able to dress herself in dazzling 8 white linen, because her linen is made of the good deeds of the saints.' •The 9 angel said, 'Write this: Happy are those who are invited to the wedding feast of the Lamb', and he added, 'All the things you have written are true messages from God'. •Then I knelt at his feet to worship him, but he said to me, 'Don't 10 do that: I am a servant just like you and all your brothers who are witnesses to Jesus. It is God that you must worship.' The witness Jesus gave is the same as the spirit of prophecy.

THE DESTRUCTION OF THE PAGAN NATIONS

The first battle of the End

And now I saw heaven open, and a white horse appear; its rider was called 11
Faithful and True; he is a judge with integrity,<sup>a</sup> a warrior for justice. •His eyes 12 were flames of fire, and his head was crowned with many coronets; the name written on him was known only to himself, •his cloak was soaked in blood.<sup>b</sup> He 13 is known by the name, The Word of God. •Behind him, dressed in linen of dazzling 14 white, rode the armies of heaven on white horses. •From his mouth came a sharp 15 sword to strike the pagans with; he is the one who will rule them with an iron sceptre,<sup>c</sup> and tread out the wine of Almighty God's fierce anger. •On his cloak and 16 on his thigh<sup>d</sup> there was a name written: The King of kings and the Lord of lords.

I saw an angel standing in the sun, and he shouted aloud to all the birds that 17 were flying high overhead in the sky, 'Come here. Gather together at the great feast' that God is giving. •There will be the flesh of kings for you, and the flesh of 18 great generals and heroes, the flesh of horses and their riders and of all kinds of citizens and slaves, small and great.'

Then I saw the beast, with all the kings of the earth and their armies, gathered 19 together to fight the rider and his army. •But the beast was taken prisoner, 20 together with the false prophet who had worked miracles on the beast's behalf and by them had deceived all who had been branded with the mark of the beast and worshipped his statue. These two were thrown alive into the fiery lake of burning sulphur. •All the rest were killed by the sword of the rider, which 21 came out of his mouth, and all the birds were gorged with their flesh.

The reign of a thousand years

20 Then I saw an angel come down from heaven with the key of the Abyss 1 in his hand and an enormous chain. •He overpowered the dragon, that 2 primeval serpent which is the devil and Satan, and chained him up for a thousand years. •He threw him into the Abyss, and shut the entrance and sealed it over him, 3 to make sure he would not deceive the nations again until the thousand years had passed. At the end of that time he must be released, but only for a short while.

Then I saw some thrones, and I saw those who are given the power to be judges<sup>a</sup> 4 take their seats on them. I saw the souls of all who had been beheaded for having witnessed for Jesus and for having preached God's word, and those who refused to worship the beast or his statue and would not have the brand-mark on their foreheads or hands; they came to life, and reigned with Christ for a thousand years. •This is the first resurrection; the rest of the dead did not come to life 5 until the thousand years were over. •Happy and blessed are those who share 6 in the first resurrection; the second death cannot affect them but they will be priests of God and of Christ and reign with him for a thousand years.

The second battle of the End

7 When the thousand years are over, Satan will be released from his prison
8 and will come out to deceive all the nations in the four quarters of the earth, Gog and Magog,<sup>b</sup> and mobilise them for war. His armies will be as many as the 9 sands of the sea; •they will come swarming over the entire country and besiege the camp of the saints, which is the city that God loves. But fire will come down 10 on them from heaven and consume them. •Then the devil, who misled them, will be thrown into the lake of fire and sulphur, where the beast and the false prophet are, and their torture will not stop, day or night, for ever and ever.

The punishment of the pagans

11 Then I saw a great white throne and the One who was sitting on it. In his 12 presence, earth and sky vanished, leaving no trace. •I saw the dead, both great and small, standing in front of his throne, while the book of life was opened, and other books opened which were the record of what they had done in their lives, by which the dead were judged.

13 The sea gave up all the dead who were in it; •Death and Hades were emptied 14 of the dead that were in them; and every one was judged according to the way in which he had lived. Then Death and Hades were thrown into the burning 15 lake. This burning lake is the second death; •and anybody whose name could not be found written in the book of life was thrown into the burning lake.

THE JERUSALEM OF THE FUTURE

The heavenly Jerusalem

1 21 Then I saw a new heaven and a new earth;<sup>a</sup> the first heaven and the first 2 earth had disappeared now, and there was no longer any sea. •I saw the holy city, and the new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, as 3 beautiful as a bride all dressed for her husband. •Then I heard a loud voice call from the throne, 'You see this city? Here God lives among men. He will make his home among them; they shall be his people,<sup>b</sup> and he will be their God; his name 4 is God-with-them. •He will wipe away all tears from their eyes;<sup>c</sup> there will be no more death, and no more mourning or sadness. The world of the past has gone.'

5 Then the One sitting on the throne spoke: 'Now I am making the whole of creation new' he said. 'Write this: that what I am saying is sure and will come 6 true.' •And then he said, 'It is already done. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End. I will give water from the well of life free to anybody 7 who is thirsty; •it is the rightful inheritance of the one who proves victorious;
8 and I will be his God and he a son to me.<sup>d</sup> •But the legacy for cowards, for those who break their word, or worship obscenities, for murderers and fornicators, and for fortune-tellers, idolaters or any other sort of liars, is the second death in the burning lake of sulphur.'

The messianic Jerusalem

9 One of the seven angels that had the seven bowls full of the seven last plagues came to speak to me, and said, 'Come here and I will show you the bride that the 10 Lamb has married'. •In the spirit, he took me to the top of an enormous high mountain and showed me Jerusalem, the holy city, coming down from God out 11 of heaven. •It had all the radiant glory of God<sup>e</sup> and glittered like some precious jewel of crystal-clear diamond. •The walls of it were of a great height, and had 12 twelve gates; at each of the twelve gates there was an angel, and over the gates 13 were written the names of the twelve tribes of Israel; •on the east there were three 13 gates, on the north three gates, on the south three gates, and on the west three gates.<sup>a</sup>

 The city walls stood on twelve foundation stones, each one of which bore the 14 name of one of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

The angel that was speaking to me was carrying a gold measuring rod 15 to measure the city and its gates and wall. •The plan of the city is perfectly 16 square, its length the same as its breadth. He measured the city with his rod and it was twelve thousand furlongs in length and in breadth, and equal in height.
 He measured its wall, and this was a hundred and forty-four cubits high—the 17 angel was using the ordinary cubit. •The wall was built of diamond, and the city 18 of pure gold, like polished glass. •The foundations of the city wall were faced 19 with all kinds of precious stone: the first with diamond, the second lapis lazuli, the third turquoise, the fourth crystal, •the fifth agate, the sixth ruby, the seventh 20 gold quartz, the eighth malachite, the ninth topaz, the tenth emerald, the eleventh sapphire and the twelfth amethyst. •The twelve gates were twelve pearls, each 21 gate being made of a single pearl, and the main street of the city was pure gold, transparent as glass. •I saw that there was no temple in the city since the Lord 22 God Almighty and the Lamb were themselves the temple, •and the city did not 23 need the sun or the moon for light, since it was lit by the radiant glory of God and the Lamb was a lighted torch for it. •The pagan nations will live by its light<sup>a</sup> 24 and the kings of the earth will bring it their treasures. •The gates of it will never 25 be shut by day—and there will be no night there—•and the nations will come, 26 bringing their treasure and their wealth. •Nothing unclean may come into it: no 27 one who does what is loathsome or false, but only those who are listed in the Lamb's book of life.

22 Then the angel showed me the river of life, rising from the throne of God 1 and of the Lamb and flowing crystal-clear •down the middle of the city 2 street. On either side of the river were the trees of life, which bear twelve crops of fruit in a year, one in each month, and the leaves of which are the cure for the pagans.<sup>a</sup>

The ban will be lifted.<sup>b</sup> The throne of God and of the Lamb will be in its place 3 in the city; his servants will worship him, •they will see him face to face, and his 4 name will be written on their foreheads. •It will never be night again and they 5 will not need lamplight or sunlight, because the Lord God will be shining on them.
 They will reign for ever and ever.

The angel said to me, 'All that you have written is sure and will come true: 6 the Lord God who gives the spirit to the prophets has sent his angel to reveal to his servants what is soon to take place. •Very soon now, I shall be with you 7 again.' Happy are those who treasure the prophetic message of this book.

I, John, am the one who heard and saw these things. When I had heard 8 and seen them all, I knelt at the feet of the angel who had shown them to me, to worship him; •but he said, 'Don't do that: I am a servant just like you and 9 like your brothers the prophets and like those who treasure what you have written in this book. It is God that you must worship.'

This, too, he said to me, 'Do not keep the prophecies in this book a secret, 10 because the Time is close. •Meanwhile let the sinner go on sinning, and 11 the unclean continue to be unclean; let those who do good go on doing good, and those who are holy continue to be holy. •Very soon now, I shall be with you 12 again, bringing the reward to be given to every man according to what he deserves.<sup>c</sup> •I am the Alpha and the Omega, the First and the Last, the Beginning 13 and the End. •Happy are those who will have washed their robes clean, so that 14 they will have the right to feed on the tree of life and can come through the gates into the city. •These others must stay outside: dogs, fortune-tellers, and formi- 15 cators, and murderers, and idolaters, and everyone of false speech and false life.'

EPILOGUE

- 16 I, Jesus, have sent my angel to make these revelations to you for the sake of the churches. I am of David's line, the root of David and the bright star of the morning.
- 17 The Spirit and the Bride say, 'Come'. Let everyone who listens answer, 'Come'. Then let all who are thirsty come:<sup>d</sup> all who want it may have the water of life, and have it free.
- 18 This is my solemn warning to all who hear the prophecies in this book: if anyone adds anything to them, God will add to him every plague mentioned in the book; •if anyone cuts anything out of the prophecies in this book, God will cut off his share of the tree of life and of the holy city, which are described in the book.
- 20 The one who guarantees these revelations repeats his promise: I shall indeed be with you soon. Amen; come, Lord Jesus.
- 21 May the grace of the Lord Jesus be with you all. Amen.

CHRONOLOGICAL TABLE

The columns to the right of the date column deal with Palestinian and biblical history; those to the left deal with general history. This distinction is, however, less strict from the Christian era onwards. In the right-hand column, extra-biblical writings are in italics, and extra-biblical facts (before the Roman period) or those not taken from Josephus are also in italics.

The names of rulers, kings, governors and high priests are in SMALL CAPITALS or CAPITALS according to their importance. In the list of the kings of Judah the succession is from father to son unless anything different is indicated. The names of prophets, and of biblical books placed according to the time of their composition, are in bold type; and the most important of other items are also in bold type.
